Odd Bits Salvaged

"The reservoir on Miller Creek is going to be built."

k-k

Thus said a local official at a recent meeting which was held ahead of last Saturday's election. He pointed out that if the four towns of the Authority didn't build the reservoir, it would be built by some other town or towns. He pointed out the fact that the reservoir was a feasible project for even Wichita Falls, which is still looking for additional sources of water.

k-k

"Water from Miller Creek reservoir would not have to be piped very far until it would hit a natural flow into Lake Kickapoo, which supplies water to Wichita Falls," he said, "and the lake is a very feasible one for that city."

k-k

But we guess the lake will be built by the Authority consisting of Munday, Haskell, Rule and Goree. Anyway, that's the way people voted last Saturday. We reckon it's a good thing all four towns stayed in the Authority this time, since it appears that each election draws a lighter vote and more for the opposition. If another election had been ordered, it might not have gone over at all.

k-k

When the directors meet tonight, guess they'll start working out some of the angles toward getting things started. And there possibly will be lots of angles to be worked out, such as acquiring the land, issuing the bonds, letting contracts, etc., so perhaps sometime in 1960 or 61 there will be a lake out on Miller Creek.

k-k

We took our annual trip, accompanied by the H. F. Jungmans, to Dallas last week end, thus completing our annual three-day vacation. Some local people, such as J. C. Borden, who even got as far away as California on his vacation, have razed us about having so much money that we could take a trip to Dallas for a three-day stay. What he (or they) didn't know is that we started saving last April for this October trip.

k-k

The purpose of our trip, mainly, was to see Texas beat Oklahoma in their annual football classic. Of course we've made several trips in recent years for that purpose, only to see the Sooners whip the daylights out of the Steers again.

k-k

We remember when, back in 1951 we believe, Oklahoma won after a drought of seven years, and one hilarious Ookie remarked "I've been coming here seven years for this." So that's what we did this year.

k-k

Some other Munday people saw the game, but we didn't see them. When that Cotton Bowl is packed to capacity it's just a matter of accident if you see anyone from home, unless it's prearranged. Only persons we recognized were Verne Sanford, secretary of the Texas Press Association, and his wife, who were up there from Austin. Verne came to TPA from Oklahoma, but from the happy expression on his face, he is now a dyed-in-the-wool Texan so far as that game is concerned.

k-k

Those Friday night pep rallies got too rough for Dallas, so officials eliminated them this year. Commerce and Akard were almost overflowing with policemen, but tension was so high that one could tell it wouldn't take much to set off a pep rally and free for all. We heard via radio next morning that one got started around 3 a. m., with several students being hauled off to jail, but we didn't witness anything like that. That's too late an hour for one of our age to be out sight-seeing!

Gilliland 4-H Girls In Meeting

The Gilliland 4-H Club girls assembled on Wednesday, October 9, in the lunch room of Gilliland school for their regular meeting. Officers for the coming year were elected as follows: Lynda Navratil, president; Norma Jo Navratil, vice president; Kay Cook, secretary and treasurer; Linda Welch and Norma Jo Navratil, song leaders; Mary Nell Miller, reporter, and Paula Horne, council delegate. Miss Kinsey gave a talk on food to the 16 members and their adult leader.

Victory Dinner For Methodists Slated Monday

The Roy Farrow plan of every member canvass moved into its final stages at the First Methodist Church last Monday night with the kick-off dinner.

The dinner, served by ladies of the church, was for solicitors and their wives. Ray H. Nichols of Vernon, an outstanding layman in Methodism, was the principal speaker and brought an inspirational message on the joy of giving to the church and its many services throughout the world.

Solicitors are at work this week, calling in the homes of the membership. By October 20, they expect to have completed the solicitation.

A "Victory Dinner" celebration is planned for Monday night, October 20, and the entire church membership is being invited to attend this dinner.

A climax of the evening will be announcement of the grand total by the audit committee. The overall goal of $20,000 is hoped to be obtained at this time. The goal represents an increase of some $3,500 over last year's church budget.

Solicitors at work are: O. O. Putnam, W. R. Moore, Sr., J. W. Massey, W. O. Ratliff, Jerry Kane, Paul Pendleton, Oscar Spann, W. R. Moore, Jr., M. L. Wiggins, J. C. Harpham, H. H. Partridge, Wendell Partridge, Oscar Cybert, R. L. Ratliff, Charles Baker, Oates Golden, H. H. Cowan, Carl Booe, L. A. Bowden, Earl McNeill, Joe Morrow, Jay Baker, V. E. Moore, E. W. Harrell, Bill Hulise, J. B. Scott, Ernest L. Horton, Dr. D. E. Alexander, Travis Lee, R. D. Atkinson, Charles McCauley, Joe B. King, Troy McKnight, Kenneth Baker, George Beatty, Joe B. Roberts, Bill Wright, Dwight Key, J. C. Borden, Lee Haymes, Worth Gafford, Wesley Kirschner, C. P. Baker, Robert Patterson and Aaron Edgar.

New Ford Cars Now On Display

Open house is slated for Friday, October 17, at Key Motor Co., when Dwight C. Key, local Ford dealer, places the new 1959 Fords on display.

Mr. Key invites the public to come in and see these new cars, pickups and trucks which will be on display in his showrooms. Free coffee and doughnuts will be served to all visitors during the day.

Styled, powered and priced for today's driving, the new Fords are termed "the world's most beautifully proportioned cars. Its classic new design was awarded the gold medal of the Comite Francais de l'Elegance at the Brussels Worlds Fair. It's said to be "altogether new in everything you can see, feel or touch."

A large crowd is expected to visit the showrooms of Key Motor Co. on Friday to see the new cars, and Mr. Key welcomes you all.

Vegetable Growers To Meet On Monday

An important meeting of vegetable growers of this area will be held on Monday night, October 20, in the P. C. A. office, it was announced Wednesday by members of the Munday Vegetable Growers Coop.

The purpose of this meeting is for potato growers to subscribe the acreage they desire to plant in potatoes next year. It is very important that all interested parties attend this meeting.

County Girls Are Dormitory Officers At Hardin-Simmons

Barbara Carver, a senior from Munday, has been named president of Hunter Hall, upper class dormitory for women at Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene, while Mona Mobley, a junior from Goree, has been named to the social committee.

Miss Carver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Carver of route one, Munday, is a member of the Cowgirls, a social service organization, and a physical education major.

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER is given the first of 40 million civil defense emergency handbooks at the White House by 12-year-old Boy Scout Robert J. Neu, of Falls Church, Va. Copies of this booklet will be distributed by Scouts to every home in America October 11 as part of a National Safety Good Turn program.

Newly Remodeled Department Store Announces Grand Opening Thursday

The newly remodeled Munday Department Store successors to Cobb's Department Store, is holding its formal grand opening this week end to give customers of this area a greater insight to the new modern store.

The store, owned by Cecil Haygood of Floydada, was purchased from Cobb's in March of last year, and several weeks were taken to close out the Cobb's stock. Since that time, the store has been completely remodeled and new stock purchased for the grand opening.

Workers spent some three weeks in remodeling the store, both inside and outside, with new fixtures being added. New features of the store are three "self service bars," which are the most modern in customer service.

Hal Weigel, formerly of Littlefield, came to Munday some two months ago as manager of the store. "We have made quite a few special purchases for our grand opening," he said, "and we have some exceptional values to offer our customers during this grand event. We invite you to visit our store during the eight exciting days of our formal grand opening."

An added feature to the opening is the free gifts which will be made opening day and each day during the sale.

Mr. Weigel is assisted in the operation of Munday Department Store by Royce Hanna, formerly manager of Cobb's; Mrs. M. L. Barnard and Mrs. Erin McGraw. Extra salespeople will be added during the grand opening sale.

Last Rites For S. L. Favor, 89 Held On Tuesday

Funeral services for Sam L. Favor, 89, who died Sunday night in the Knox County Hospital, were held at 3 p. m. Tuesday from the First Christian Church in Knox City.

Mr. Favor was born in Sedalia, Mo., on September 6, 1869, and moved to Texas when a small boy. He came to Knox City in 1907 and was the first city marshal there after the town was incorporated in 1908.

He was later town constable and justice of the peace and a deputy sheriff. He was in the ice business for a number of years.

Rev. John Waddell, pastor of the church, officiated at the funeral and burial was in Knox City Cemetery.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Sallie Favor; a son, Vance Favor, with the highway department at Quanah; three daughters, Mrs. E. R. Carpenter and Mrs. Alma Culwell, both of Knox City, and Mrs. Vivian Ferguson of Amarillo; four grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

Munday Boy In Horned Frog Band

FORT WORTH — Charles Walker, Texas Christian University sophomore from Munday, is a member of the university's famed Horned Frog Band this season and assistant equipment manager for the organization.

One hundred and thirteen strong, the band is under the guidance of Director Jim Jacobson. It is being put through its marching paces by Drum Major Joel Yeakley of Fort Worth and his assistant John Tatum of Wichita Falls.

Labeled the "Show Window of TCU," the band is now in its 53rd year at the university. Band members this season come from 11 states, including Texas, Florida, Arkansas, California, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Mississippi, Missouri, Louisiana, Kansas and Colorado.

Walker, a music education major at TCU, holds a Champlin Oil and Refining Co. scholarship at the university. He is a member of Kappa Kappa Psi national fraternity for men band members; the Baptist Student Union; and the Music Educators National Conference. He is the son of H. E. Walker of Munday.

The following teachers of the Munday-Knox City area will attend an English workshop in Seymour next Saturday: Mmes. W. O. Ratliff and Lee Haymes of Munday, Otis Cash, E. F. Branton and Alice Wynn of Knox City.

Four Towns Give Approval To Miller Creek Reservoir

IN FINALS — Lovely Marilyn Foster of Wichita County will represent 17 counties in this area at the state finals of the Texas Farm Bureau queen in Corpus Christi on November 10. Miss Foster, 19, was selected District 3 queen over seven other winners in a contest September 4 in Vernon. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Foster, Jr., of Electra, she is a graduate of the Electra schools and junior at T. C. U., majoring in elementary education.

Voters in the four member towns remaining in the North Central Texas Municipal Water Authority gave their "okay" to the Miller Creek reservoir last Saturday to provide an adequate supply of water for the four towns.

Munday, Haskell, Rule and Goree approved the $3,800,000 bond issue which will finance development of the 25,000 acre-foot reservoir on the Portwood Ranch some 15 miles east of Munday.

W. R. Johnson of Haskell, president of the Authority, said directors will meet in Munday tonight (Thursday) to canvass results of the election and kick off plans for active work toward the reservoir.

The vote last Saturday, according to an unofficial canvass, went this way: Haskell — 339 for to 75 against; Rule — 90 for to 83 against; Munday — 135 for to 20 against; and Goree — 59 for to 25 against.

Many Visitors To Opening Of Cotton Office

Many interested people were visitors to the new cotton classing office in Munday last Sunday, when open house was held. The Munday Chamber of Commerce co-operated in the opening by serving refreshments to all who attended. Hours for visitation were from 3 to 5 p. m.

Farmers, buyers and townspeople attending represented all three counties which the classing office will serve, being Knox, Haskell and Baylor.

P. K. Barry, member of the Dallas classing office who is serving as officer-in-charge, gave demonstrations on cotton classing, and Kermit E. Voelkel, Galveston, who is with the classing office in Abilene, assisted in the demonstrations. Also visiting was J. J. Brooks of Farmersville, who is also with the Abilene office.

Rains Slacken Cotton Harvest

No damaging rains have come recently to severely damage the hundreds of acres of open cotton, but just enough has been falling to slacken the harvest. Very little activity has been seen in the fields this week.

A total of .64 of an inch has been reported by H. P. Hill, local U. S. weather observer, during the week. Munday received .40 of an inch Sunday morning, while 24 of an inch fell during Tuesday night.

CHARLES YOSTS ARE PARENTS OF DAUGHTER

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Yost of Haskell are announcing the arrival of a daughter on Wednesday, October 8, 1958, at 9:05 p. m. She weighed 5 pounds and 14 ounces and was 18 inches long. Her name is Tracee Lin. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Boggs — and this is their first grandchild — and Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Yost. Mother and baby are staying with Boggs at the present time.

PLANS SALE OF BULBS

In the regular Quarterback Club meeting held last Tuesday night it was decided to have a "Bag of Bulbs" sale. The sale will start next Tuesday and all members are urged to be at the meeting next Tuesday night.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Winchester for Mr. Winchester's birthday dinner last Sunday were Dr. and Mrs. T. W. Williams and son, Fitz, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Hunter and Mr. and Mrs. Myron Biard, all of Haskell; Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Winchester and Nancy of Roanoke, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Melton and Mr. and Mrs. Tolbie Winchester.

Some residents of Seymour, although the town turned down the proposal, continued active opposition to the plan and circulars were distributed in the area towns ahead of the election. The opposition drive from Seymour was not as spirited as expected, however.

Mr. Johnson said the reservoir will require the building of a dam, with pumping and filtering plants, plus a pipeline system required to carry water to the member towns.

It is estimated that about 70 per cent of the more than three million dollars will be paid by water revenue. Other towns will likely be furnished water from the reservoir through water purchase contracts with the Authority.

Consulting engineers for the project are Freese and Nichols of Fort Worth.

New Chevrolets Now On Display

A complete styling transformation, along with more safety, comfort and performance, was announced today for the 1959 Chevrolet passenger car line.

The cars, which went on display at Frost Chevrolet Co. on Thursday, October 16, represent one of the most imaginative designs ever to come from the automobile industry.

In shape, and in detail, the new styling reflects the influence of a space-conscious age. Lines sweep rearward in a virtually level plane. Tops are flatter and visibility is dramatically increased.

Appreciably lower, the overall appearance of fleetness is further conveyed by an adroitly sculptured frontal area. At the rear, horizontal wings branch out from the center of the deck in a simulation of mobility that might have been conceived on the sands of Cape Canaveral.

While the unusual appearance will draw instant admiration, Chevrolet has not neglected other phases of engineering in its bid to continue the sales popularity registered by the company in 1958. The public is invited to come in today and see the new 1959 models.

Funeral services will be held at 3:30 p. m. Thursday (today) for Leslie Polson, 45, at the Baptist Church in Goree. Burial will be in the Goree Cemetery under directions of Lanningham Funeral Home.

Mr. Polson, who lived in San Diego, Calif., suffered a heart attack Monday evening in his car while on the way home from work. His body was brought from California by plane on Wednesday.

Survivors include two sons Stanley Polson of San Diego, Calif., and Dale Polson of Fort Worth, his father, J. W. Polson of Goree and five sisters, Mrs. Grace Smith, Mrs. Esther Weber and Mrs. Helen Patterson all of Goree, Mrs. Audie Menges of Dallas and Mrs. Cleo Melton of Garner.

Each town had to approve the plan for it to be put into action.

The vote last Saturday was somewhat lighter than in the first bond election on September 6, when Seymour voted down the proposal, and in every town there were more opposition votes.

Some residents of Seymour, although the town turned down the proposal, continued active opposition to the plan and circulars were distributed in the area towns ahead of the election. The opposition drive from Seymour was not as spirited as expected, however.

Mr. Johnson said the reservoir will require the building of a dam, with pumping and filtering plants, plus a pipeline system required to carry water to the member towns.

Mrs. Anderson Died On Monday At Knox City

Mrs. Sam Anderson, 93, resident of Knox City for over 50 years, passed away at 3 p. m. Monday at her Knox City home after a long illness.

Born in Caldwell County on September 26, 1865, she moved with her parents to Mississippi and later returned to Lockhart, Texas, to live. She was the former Nancy Coopwood.

After her marriage to Sam Anderson, they moved to Haskell County in 1901, and the next year to a farm four miles west of Knox City. They then moved to Knox City in 1905.

Mr. Anderson, a former postmaster of Knox City, preceded her in death in 1926.

Survivors include one son, Benton Anderson of Knox City; two daughters, Mrs. J. C. Reeder of Knox City and Mrs. Mary Adams of Mineola; four grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held from the First Christian Church in Knox City at 10 a. m. Wednesday with Rev. John Waddell, pastor, officiating. Burial was in the Knox City Cemetery under direction of Pinkard-Smith Funeral Home.

Munday Men In Navy Exercises

SAN DIEGO — Maynard P. Brown and Robert W. Brown, airmen U. S. N., sons of Mr. and Mrs. John Brown of route two, Munday, aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Bon Homme Richard, are taking part in a first fleet striking force exercise, nicknamed "Barnstorm", this week off the coast of Southern California.

"Blue" offensive forces will train in launching carrier air attacks against a large land mass. Opposing "Orange" defenders will counter the attacks using submarines, aircraft and other modern weapons.

The exercise will include training in the use of guided missiles — the surface to surface "Regulus I", surface to air "Terriers" and air to air "Sidewinders" and "Sparrows" — representing the operational missiles in the Navy today.

Operations such as "Barnstorm" serve to keep ships of the First Fleet in a high state of combat readiness preparatory to deployment to the Seventh Fleet in the Western Pacific.

Feed, Flour Bags Used For Clothing

Bitten by the sewing bug?

If you'd like some new clothes and household accessories easy on the eyes and the pocketbook, why not use those empty cotton bags on your pantry shelf? These versatile sacks will provide you with material for everything from dresses to dolls, at a minimum of cost.

What's more, the people who make feed and flour bags keep the ladies in mind when choosing their fabrics. This season's bag prints are featuring fashion's favorite designs and colors — paisleys, bold pinks, rich stained-glass hues of emerald, burgandy and violet autumn-leaf tones of gold, green and bronze.

You'll find it easy to prepare a sack for sewing. Just rip the chain-stitched seam, remove the printed brand name or paper label with warm, soapy water, then dry and press. Three or four 100 lb. print bags will provide enough fabric for a dress, and the smaller containers can be used for toys, children's clothes and kitchen accessories.

New ideas for making gifts and apparel from cotton bags now are available in a free, illustrated booklet of Simplicity pattern suggestions. You may obtain it by writing the National Cotton Council, Dept. S, Box 9906, Memphis 12, Tennessee.

Mrs. Dee Mullican and her aunt, Mrs. J. M. Robertson of Vera, visited Mrs. Mullican's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Tuggle, in Wayside and with her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Roberts and children in Tulla. They were met in Wayside for a delayed family reunion by another brother, J. D. Roberts, and Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Roberts and Mrs. Gladys Jones of Sullivan, Mo., over the week end.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Don Boyles from Sunday until Tuesday were her sister, Mrs. Mary Simpson, and father, F. J. Callahan, of Wichita, Kans. Mr. Callahan remained for a longer visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Mitchell, Bill, Sue and Connie visited Mr. and Mrs. Lamoine Blacklock and children in Sulphur Springs over the week end.

Mrs. Athalene Morton of Amarillo and M. T. Chamberlain visited D. G. Chamberlain and family in Austin last week.

Juvenile Delinquency Is Given New Angle In Article By Local Minister

by Harold O. Paden
 A great deal is being said these days about juvenile delinquency crimes in this country have increased and teen-age crime, indicating that something is radically wrong with the coming generation. According to the latest figures released by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, major crimes in this country have increased 56.2% since 1950, where as the population has increased only 13% during that period. But the bad part about it is that 46% of all those crimes were charged against persons under 18 years of age. That is almost half, and the proportion of young criminals is steadily mounting. This is also proof that there are still more crimes among the adult generation than among the teenagers . . . some 54% adult crimes . . . the teenagers are still a minority. The problem of crime is not therefore, a problem of just the coming generation, but rather of the whole society.

Add to these figures the many cases that are never reported, or never arrested. Add still the persons who are suffering from the same moral and spiritual problem but who never quite express it so viciously. Then add to that number the adult crimes committed but never discovered because they have become so proficient in keeping it hidden.

Everybody knows the coming generation is only the product of the one that precedes it. That means that the germ in this crime epidemic is to be found in the parents. The past generation has failed the coming generation in that our homes and our society has not taught the right precepts or have they been the right examples. It isn't so much then that "our young people are going to the dogs," but that the "dogs are going to our young people!"

Parents! Adults! Look at the world we have left for our younger generation to inherit. We are not proud of it and the younger set are not proud to inherit it. No wonder they rebel. In the past generation we have had three terrible wars: World War I, World War II, the Korean War, and live in constant dread of another. What about these examples? Think of their consequences — of all the asylums for the mentally disturbed caused by man's hate, greed and strife. Look at "white crosses" which testify of a Christian symbol, but also at the same time that man has bathed the soil in the blood of his fellowman.

mentally disturbed caused by man's hate, greed and strife. Look at "white crosses" which testify of a Christian symbol, but also at the same time that man has bathed the soil in the blood of his fellowman.

Take a look at our present government with its Labor Union racketeers, its graft, selfishness, criminal organizers and our inability to cope with it. Is that the fault of the younger set? Alcoholism is becoming a national problem and according to specialists it will increase with the increase of the "cold" war tensions. Our divorce rate is one out of four marriages. There are 52 reasons throughout the various states for divorce grounds. Add to these crimes materialism which characterizes our nation as a whole . . . having everything we feel that we need yet two-thirds of the world goes to bed hungry each night and live in floorless hovels while we consider wall-to-wall carpeting a necessity. This certainly is not all but enough to suggest where the problems really lie . . . Juvenile delinquency is not a teenage problem so much as it is a crisis of the whole generation!

A newspaper editor in one of our western cities recently published the letter of a 17 year old senior in high school, who had something very pointed to say on this subject:

"The apathy of the . . . public toward graft and corruption which runs so rampant is passed on to my generation; . . . the resentment which we feel when we are castigated for doing the very things our elders do; . . . and, most of all, the feeling of complete worthlessness which comes over us when we realize that our life span may be determined by the overall political picture. . . ."

Boyhood memories — My grandmother (my father's mother) died when I was quite small. I remember that she had ear-lobes that had been pierced for ear-rings and when not wearing the ear-rings, she kept a bit of straw in the holes.

My grandfather's mother (actually my stepgrandfather's mother) was a little woman, who sat very quietly in a corner of the farmhouse and smoked a clay pipe.

Aunt Ida (my father's sister) baked the best cookies I ever ate. She kept a 10-gallon lard-can filled with them — or, rather, she tried to; but her two children, Karl and Lucille, plus my sister Vivian and I made terrific in-roads each afternoon after school. The cookies were large and flat, a yellow hue with slightly-browned edges, and they were at once firm and yielding.

When I was small, I can remember that my favorite songs were "Throw Out The Life-Line"; "Let the lower lights be burning, send a gleam across the wave" and "We shall come rejoicing, bringing in the sheaves." (I had no idea what a "sheave" was.)

Each season, a few days before a game — say Siwash versus Clementine — you will read that Siwash's coach moans, "We haven't got a chance. We used Clementine's plays in scrimmage with Zilks, third-string quarterback as the key man, and he was unstoppable."

What I would like to know is, that being the case — why doesn't Siwash's coach use the third-string quarterback in Saturday's game and, discarding his own plays, use Clementine's?

A man who had been a college professor lost his place because of drink. He became a teacher in a country school where he inspired one of his students with a love for literature, oratory and statesmanship. The student was William E. Borah, "the Lion of Idaho," for years one of the great members of the United States Senate. "God moves in mysterious ways—"

Mrs. Muriel Mitchell accompanied her aunt, Mrs. Veda Emmons of Abilene, to Dallas for a week end visit with Mrs. Emmons' daughter, Mrs. M. E. Murray, and family. They also attended the fair and Texas and Oklahoma football game.

Despite increased competition for people's time, newspaper circulation in the U. S. has reached a new all-time high of 58 million newspapers purchased daily. With Canada added, the figure is over 61 million newspapers purchased daily.

Practically every sale of every product manufactured in the U. S. will be purchased by one of the 100 million people who read a newspaper on an average day.

For decades, newspaper circulation has kept pace with the increasing number of U. S. households. Since 1920, the number of U. S. households has more than doubled; newspaper circulation also has more than doubled.

Thompson and children in Dallas and attended the fair and the Texas and Oklahoma football game over the week end.

Bill Dingus of Pampa visited relatives here the first of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Herring and son and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Paul Coody of Abilene and Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Coody of Wichita Falls were guests to their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Coody, over the week end.

Now . . . all America sees the one that's truly new!

Like all '59 Chevs, the Impala Sport Sedan has Safety Plate Glass all around.

what America wants, America gets in a Chevy!

'59 CHEVROLET

It's shaped to the new American taste with a lean, clean silhouette, crisp new contours, beautifully restrained accents. It brings you more spaciousness and comfort with a new Body by Fisher. It has a bright new sheen—a new kind of finish that keeps its luster without waxing for up to three years. New bigger brakes. Fast new areas of visibility. New Hi-Thrift 6. New handling ease and road steadiness. It's new right down to the tires!

Never before has an automobile manufacturer made such sweeping changes two years in a row. And never before has any car been new like this one.

The 1959 Chevrolet is more than a restyled car—more, even, than a completely new car. It's your kind of car. Shaped to reward your new taste in style with a fresh Slimline design that brings entirely new poise and proportion to automobile styling. Inside the new and roomier Body by Fisher you'll find truly tasteful elegance. And you'll have clear seeing from every seat. The new Vista-Panoramic windshield curves overhead—and there are new bigger windows, too.

When you take the wheel, you find Chevy's newness goes down deep. A new steering ratio makes handling easier. New suspension engineering gives you a more stable ride. There's a sweet new edition of Turboglide*. A new Hi-Thrift 6 that goes and goes on a gallon. Vim-packed V8's. New and bigger brakes. Even tougher, safer Tyrex cord tires.

There's still more! A new finish that keeps its shine without waxing or polishing for up to three years. New Impala models. New wagons—including one with a rear-facing rear seat. And, with all that's new, you'll find those fine Chevrolet virtues of economy and practicality. Stop in now and see the '59 Chevrolet.

FEWER PEOPLE FEED MORE PEOPLE

A farm equipment manufacturer announces that it is approaching the end of the best year in its history. Two reasons are given — improved conditions in agriculture, and the increasing use of modern machinery to do the work on the farm.

The first of those reasons is certainly important. When farm income runs at high levels, as it has this year, farmers are naturally going to spend more freely on machinery as on everything else they want or need. But in the long pull, and aside from ups and downs in the farm economy, the second reason is infinitely more important.

Successful farming today is virtually impossible without tractors and the other mechanical aids. The cost of hand labor has reached the out-of-the-question point. The modern history of farming has been one of revolutionary technological changes in which fewer and fewer people have become capable of larger and larger production. In 1910, one out of every three persons lived on a farm—this year the ratio is one out of every eight. In April of this year about 20,827,000 people lived on farms—and that marked a decline of 4,231,000 from as recent a date as April, 1950.

We have a vexatious farm surplus problem. But our increasing population, along with, one hopes, a wiser and more far-sighted government farm policy, ultimately will take care of that. Indeed, a future problem may be the need to avoid scarcity. Fewer people must feed more people and that means that farmers will require the best mechanized equipment the manufacturers can devise.

RIGHT-TO-WORK AND LIBERALISM

Proponents of a right-to-work law in California have been accused of falsely giving the impression that the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt favored the right-to-work idea.

This particular law was not an issue in his time. But it seems only reasonable that so strong a liberal as Mr. Roosevelt would favor giving any man the right to join or not join any organization, as he wished. After all, freedom of choice and freedom from compulsion are cornerstones of liberalism.

A new directory of U. S. chain-store organizations, covering chains with four or more stores, lists 4,657 systems with a total of 90,179 outlets.

HALF A CENTURY BEHIND

In at least one respect, most families abroad are more than half a century behind the typical American family. They spend about 50 per cent of their income for food—which is the same proportion Americans spent at the turn of the century. Now the U. S. figure is about half as much.

This is pointed out by Lansing P. Shield, president of the Grand Union food chain, in an article appearing in The Exchange magazine. Then he tells what is being done in other lands to reduce the family food bills. Supermarkets, American-style, are beginning to revolutionize European food merchandising.

In 1956, a supermarket was set up in Rome by an American retail association. It was studied by some 5,000 food distributors from 25 nations. Now such markets are a familiar sight in Rome, Cologne, Brussels and Zagreb, and new ones are springing up throughout the world. According to Mr. Shields, these markets can be expected to reduce the amount of the average family's budget that now goes for food by 15 to 25 per cent. The effect of that on national economies and the living standards of peoples will be enormous.

The supermarket is an outstanding example of the virtues of mass distribution. But it is not the only one by any means. In every field of retailing, mass distribution gives maximum return for each dollar spent, at an extremely small unit profit. There is little doubt that the retail revolution the supermarkets are bringing about abroad will be broadened to include wares of every kind.

EAST ROCHESTER, N. Y., HERALD: "It seems barely credible that in the United States in 1958, the largest trade union, with a membership of more than a million, has become a sheltered preserve for criminals to work their will on the rank-and-file membership, and on the public at large . . . We wonder what's become of the average citizen's capacity for righteous indignation. A century ago the pulpits and the public platforms would have thundered forth demands that this evil be obliterated."

Today, says the American Petroleum Institute, a gallon of gasoline moves a ton of automobile 18 miles further than in 1930—and a gallon of gas (excluding taxes) is 18 per cent cheaper for the work it does than it was in 1930.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS AFFECT LOCAL OFFICIALS

Some of the proposed amendments to the Texas Constitution, to be voted upon at the General Election on November 4, will, if adopted, affect officers and employees of cities, counties and precincts. The changes will mainly involve length of terms of office and retirement, disability and death benefits.

Proposed Amendment Number Two authorizes each county to establish, following a majority vote of its voters, a retirement, disability and death compensation fund for appointive officers and employees of county or precinct. Elective officers may also be covered if the voters approve.

The fund would be made up of contributions from the income of each officer and employee, plus contributions made by the county. The county's part must at least equal the amount paid in by the individual, but cannot exceed 7 1/2% of the individual's salary. Accumulated money in the fund would have to be invested in federal, state, county or municipal bonds. Those receiving benefits from the fund would not be eligible for any other pension retirement funds or direct aid from the state, unless the entire fund is first released to the state.

Proposed Amendment Number Three would in many instances change the length of time for which the county commissioners court can appoint persons to fill vacancies in the offices of County Judge and Justice of the Peace. Now such appointments can be made "until the next general election for such offices." If the amendment is approved, such appointments may hereafter be made only "until the next succeeding General Election," as is already the case in appointments made by the Governor to fill vacancies in district and appellate courts.

Proposed Amendment Number Four provides an "automatic resignation" for any district, county or precinct official serving a four year term who announces his candidacy for a different office while he still has more than one year of his term to serve. The provisions cover announced or actual candidacy for "any office of profit or trust under the laws of this State or the United States other than the office then held."

Vacancies created by such "automatic resignations" are to be filled in the same manner as other vacancies for the particular office are filled.

Proposed Amendment Number Five would allow Home Rule Cities to amend their city charters to set up longer terms of office, not to exceed four years, for their elective or appointive officers, or both. Other cities, operating under the general laws rather than the Home Rule provisions, could do the same thing by majority vote of their qualified voters.

This amendment also contains a provision for "automatic resignation" where the holder of one office announces for or becomes a candidate for another office while he still has more than one year to serve of a term originally longer than two years.

There is one restriction on cities setting up the longer terms for their non-civil service officers. All members of their governing bodies must be elected by the voters, and vacancies in such governing bodies must be filled by special election rather than by appointment.

Other proposed Constitutional Amendment will be discussed next week.

Ducks And Geese Arriving Early On Texas Coast

AUSTIN — Ducks and geese are arriving on the Texas coast now in great numbers, according to the director of law enforcement of the Game & Fish Commission.

"Wardens all along the coast are reporting heavy night movements," the director said. "They expect about Oct. 20, the heaviest movement will be over and the ducks and geese will settle down to living in their winter home."

Many South Texans have reported flights of geese over their houses during the night hours. Although some Canadas and Whitefronts have arrived, most of the geese now on the coast are snows and blues. The early duck movement consisted mostly of teal, pintails, and spoon bills. Mallards, canvas backs and red heads are now beginning to move in, however.

Food conditions are excellent on the coast, according to Harold Irby, waterfowl biologist. He plans to make an aerial check of the total coastal population in the near future. In the meantime, J. R. Singleton, another waterfowl biologist, is making plans for the development of the marshland recently bought near Port Arthur. This area will be thrown open to hunters this year, pending plans for full utilization of the area as a management unit.

More than 44 million of the 50 million U. S. households will receive a newspaper today.

Misses Bera Faye Spann and Mardell Moore of Lubbock were Sunday guests of Miss Spann's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Spann.

Everton B. Hosea of Sterling City visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Hosea, over the week end. His wife and son, who spent last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elbridge Coffman, in Goree returned home with him.

HERE TOMORROW!

Ford brings Thunderbird elegance to the low-price field with

THE WORLD'S MOST BEAUTIFULLY PROPORTIONED CARS

These Fords you've got to try! Far left is the new Thunderbird... center, the new Custom 300 Tudor Sedan... and above, the 9-passenger Country Sedan.

The elegant new Fairlane 500 Town Victoria

AWARDED THE GOLD MEDAL for beautiful proportions... by the Comité Français de l'Élégance at the Brussels World's Fair

Styled, powered and priced for today's driving! There never was a Ford like this before! Its classic new design was awarded the Gold Medal of the Comité Français de l'Élégance at the Brussels World's Fair! With new Thunderbird flavor in each lively line and tastefully new interiors, these '59 Fords are beautifully proportioned for elegant driving.

Power, performance and economy are served up in new proportions, too. All standard Ford engines—Six or Thunderbird V-8—thrive on regular gasoline at regular prices. You save up to 5 cents on each gallon! There's a new aluminum muffler that normally will last twice as long as conventional mufflers used on other cars... full-flow oil filtration that lets you change oil at 4000 miles instead of the 1000 often recommended... new Tyrex cord tires for greater economy and safety... a brilliant new Diamond Lustre Baked Enamel Finish that's so durable you won't have to wax it ever... and two new economy power-transmission teams that will bring you savings automatically. That's why we say, for '59, Ford is truly a masterpiece of underpricing!

NEW economy team Number One! Get all the high performance of a completely new Fordomatic Drive teamed with a Six or Thunderbird V-8—at a price that puts automatic driving within everyone's car budget. It's a simplified Fordomatic with nearly 1/3 fewer parts. NEW economy team Number Two! Take Ford's versatile new Cruise-O-Matic Drive, add the responsiveness of Thunderbird Special V-8 power and you have the last word in automatic driving plus the "built-in" overdrive savings of an economy geared axle.

Altogether NEW in everything you can see, feel or touch!

59 FORDS

Come in and get that NEW FORD FEELING in the cars with Thunderbird elegance

Achievement Tour Made Of Knox Co. Homes; Members List Accomplishments

Guests attending the achievement tour of the Knox County Home Demonstration Clubs on October 10 were Miss Gladys Martin, State Home Demonstration Agent and Miss Fern Hodge, District Agent. Members from all five clubs also attended. The accomplishments of 12 club members and two non-members were seen during the day at six homes.

The first stop was in Benjamin at the home of Mrs. W. A. Glenn. She had made two hassocks from oil cans and then upholstered them, furnished a bedroom with antique furniture which she refinished, refurnished 3 picture frames and prepared dry material for two arrangements. Mrs. L. A. Parker also displayed an arrangement of dry bells of Ireland and tansy heads which had been sprayed with white paint and sprinkled with glitter.

At Truscott, Mrs. Marion Chowning, Sr., showed her well landscaped yard with foundation and screen planting, large well-sodded lawn, separate areas for annuals and perennials. All of this is watered from a near-by reservoir, using two pressure pumps to deliver the water to the yard and provided the needed pressure. When the yard work is done, Mrs. Chowning still finds time to work on a cut-work tablecloth.

Mrs. H. P. Gillispie, also of Truscott, has upholstered four chairs and finished three of these. She also removed the old finish from a folding bed and kitchen safe, refinishing the bed with oil and the safe with varnish. She added a magazine rack in which an old bread tray makes the holder and also a plant stand on wheels so it can be moved about easily. At this same stop, a chair upholstered by Mrs. Marion Chowning, Jr., was displayed as were pictures made by Mrs. Jack Hickman and dry arrangements by Mrs. J. G. Adecock and Mrs. Homer Black. Mrs. Adecock also exhibited a doll bride which she had dressed.

Mrs. Chowning, Sr., told of the Charm School which was conducted at Truscott in July.

Doing most of the work themselves, the Homer Martins of Gililand have added three rooms and a bath to their home and improved their storm cellar. The cellar has been furnished and stocked with emergency food and water. In the large den which is one of the rooms added this year the group assembled to hear short talks by Miss Martin and Miss Hodge and to review some of the accomplishments not on display, such as the home nursing course taught by Mrs. H. A. Smith, the recreation school conducted by leaders who were trained by Miss Lucille Moore, State Recreation Specialist, preparation of a cookbook, and assistance given 4-H clubs. Miss Martin asked that club members who were wearing dresses they had made model for the group and the following responded:

Mrs. J. R. Brown, Mrs. Adecock, Mrs. Clyde Beck, Mrs. Arnold Navratil, Miss Hodge, Mrs. Parker, also Deanne Dodd and Kathy Roberson, who were wearing dresses made by their mothers.

At Vera, the group visited the J. W. Trainhams home where they saw another well landscaped yard with garden and orchard adjoining. Remodeling done in this home recently included the removal of a door and wall between the kitchen to provide open construction and make each room seem larger and more liveable. Storage between the kitchen and utility room has been opened into each room to simplify work. Also a gun closet had been added to the den.

The fall garden raised by Mrs. J. O. Archer, Vera, was the last

Distinction and Beauty in COMPLETELY RESTYLED CHEVY

Chevrolet again offers the popular Bel Air series in 1959. This model maintains its reputation for stylish interiors and appointments, with increased passenger room and additional visibility in new compound-curved windshields and larger rear windows. New grille and lowered headlamps accent the front end. Both two-door and four-door sedans incorporate the venture-some new design features, plus improved brakes, suspension system and handling advancements. All 1959 Chevrolets feature a new acrylic lacquer finish said to retain brightness for years.

New Chevrolets To Be Displayed On October 16

DETROIT — The 1959 Chevrolets, dramatically restyled and boasting an array of mechanical improvements, will go on public display at the showroom of Frost Chevrolet Co. here Thursday morning, October 16.

As is customary with the company, the presentation here against a festive background of decorations will be held simultaneously with the introductions at other retail locations across the country.

The new models have been veiled in secrecy. Advance word from Detroit, however, describes them as "the most unusual in company experience." The passenger body carries a unique design and the cars will reportedly incorporate equally as progressive refinements in the chassis.

Representative models of the entire passenger car line and the 1959 lineup of 139 commercial vehicles are slated for the exhibition here. The "formal" announcement period will continue through the remainder of the week.

According to Chevrolet, a revision in series identification is planned for the passenger cars. The Impalas, introduced with meteoric sales results as part of the Bel Air family a year ago, have been expanded into a complete series. Other models making their debuts will be new Bel Airs, Biscaynes and Station Wagons.

Chevrolet will bring out its new models in the wake of an extensive promotion and advertising campaign. The newspaper schedule alone covers 7,500 dailies and weeklies.

Miss Lorene Armstrong of Brownwood visited her mother, Mrs. Fannie Armstrong, over the week end.

Rules For Right Of Way

By Jeanne Smith, Dodge Safety Consultant

"WHO HAS the right of way in traffic" is settled by a list of rules of the road compiled by the Inter-Industry Highway Safety Committee.

Based on the road code of most states, the rules are:

At a crossroad the driver approaching last should yield the right of way. If two drivers approach at once, the driver on the left should yield.

If there's a stop sign, cars on the side street should yield the right of way.

The driver making a left turn should yield to the driver going straight ahead, if close enough to be a traffic hazard.

Drivers pulling into the street from driveways should yield the right of way to drivers on the street.

Pedestrians at corners or crosswalks have the right of way, as does a pedestrian who starts on a green light, if the light changes.

Police cars, fire engines and ambulances have the right of way, and other vehicles should pull to the side of the road when the siren sounds.

When crossing a street, a blind person always has the right of way, and vehicles must stop until he is safely across the street.

Cars behind a school bus yield their right to pass, and must stop when the bus stops to pick up or discharge children.

Tax-Man Sam Sez:

During the past few weeks thousands of boys and girls again took up the battle with books here in Texas. So many learned men have come up with so many good ideas about what the boys and girls should learn in this era of space travel and rock 'n' roll sputniks that it is sort of dangerous to even mention the word education.

However, it's pretty safe to predict that the thousands of high school and college students who study the income tax course will get a chance to use what they have learned. The sputniks may keep on rockin' 'n' rollin' or they may get sacked, but unfortunately, not only this generation but the next one will be working on this tax business.

Maybe Junior can learn enough to prepare correct tax returns and pay no more than his proper tax.

Miss Gayle Littlefield of Kilgore Junior College in Kilgore spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Littlefield, and Eddie.

Mr. and Mrs. Wylie B. Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Jim J. Johnson went to Lamesa Saturday afternoon, the Wylie Johnsons visited in the J. L. Reid home and the J. J. Johnson visited in the home of her nephew, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Flennizan. Two of her nieces and their children from Dimmitt met them there for a visit. It was the first time Mrs. Johnson had seen her nieces since 1949. The Johnsons all spent Sunday night with the boys nephew, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Rogers and family in Big Spring where the J. J. Johnsons boarded the train for California for a visit with relatives. From there they will return to their home in Auburn, Wash.

Mrs. Bill Wright of Goree and Mrs. Bill Orsak visited with Mrs. Orsak's daughter, Jean, who is a student in West Texas State College in Canyon; with Johnny Orsak, who is also a student at WTSC, and with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Decker and family in Amarillo over the week end.

Walter Medley of Santa Rosa, N. M., visited his sister, Mrs. A. B. Warren, last Monday afternoon.

TO BOOK REVIEW

Mimes, J. S. Shannon, W. E. Braly and Lee Haymes attended a book review in Haskell last Sunday afternoon, given by Mrs. L. E. Dudley of Abilene. The book review was sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Club of Haskell.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Figures Out A Plan Which He Claims Will Save U. S. Millions In Foreign Aid

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek has an odd idea for cutting down on foreign aid, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editor:
Every once in awhile I read in the papers where some visiting delegation from a foreign country is coming to this country to inspect farms and ranches, and I have discovered right there is where this country makes a big mistake.

That is, there's nothing wrong in having the delegations visit over here, but where this country slips up is in showing them the wrong farms.

What happens? Somebody in Washington lines up the best farms in the country, hires an air-conditioned bus, and whisks the visitors from one good farm to another, the kinds of farms where all the machinery is brand new, the livestock all rolling fat, the fences painted white, lawns mowed like a country estate, etc.

Well, there are a lot of good farms in this country, but psychologically we couldn't do worse than to show them off to visitors from foreign countries. It gives the wrong impression.

What happens is that they see all these fine farmsteads, find out what new tractors cost, etc., and they go back home and report America is so prosperous it ought to be good for twice the size of the loan they got from us last year.

I believe I could save this country millions of dollars in foreign aid if I'd send a few foreign delegations by my Johnson grass farm out here on Miller Creek. After a trip over my place, trying to open and shut my sagging gates, looking at my equipment and checking up on my yields, most delegations would shake their heads, pull themselves together, and flee back home before this country started asking theirs for foreign aid.

I guess it's all right to put your best foot forward, but once in awhile it doesn't hurt to let visitors in on the fact you've got another foot too.

The next time a foreign delegation shows up in this country, send em out here. It'll save the country money.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

TEXAS JAYCEES SEARCH FOR OUTSTANDING YOUNG FARMER

The Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce's annual search for the year's "outstanding young farmer" is now underway, and Jaycees over the state are urging communities to nominate local farmers between 21 and 35 years of age who they feel deserve special recognition.

Any Texas farmer within the proper age limit is eligible for the "outstanding young farmer" title, and any community group can sponsor any young man of their choice for the honor. Basis of judging in the state-wide contest will be progress in farming, soil and natural resources conservation practices and personal efforts toward community betterment.

From community nominees, a panel of judges will select the Outstanding Young Farmer next February. The winner will be guest of honor at a state Jaycee-sponsored banquet and will receive an all-expense trip to the National Awards Program in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, next April, where the nation's four top young farmers of 1958 will be selected. The national program is sponsored by the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce and the American Petroleum Institute Committee on Agriculture.

Outstanding Young Texas

Farmer for 1957 was Johnnie E. Stefka of Caldwell, a cattle, dairy, cotton and grain farmer.

Further information on the young farmer contest can be obtained by contacting any local Junior Chamber of Commerce office or by writing to Mr. Joe Smetana, Chairman, Agriculture Committee, Junior Chamber of Commerce, Perry-Brooks Building, Austin, Texas.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Henry A. Holle, M. D., State Health Officer

Almost 12 million meals will be served in 15,000 Texas restaurants this week. If you're average you'll eat at least two of them.

You could go into the vast majority of those restaurants and be assured of getting a wholesome meal — totally oblivious of the fact that you're eating food cooked and served by complete strangers.

How can this be, especially since some 26 different diseases can be spread by improperly handled food? Included in the list are such scourges as trichinosis, the deadly botulism, strep infection, and salmonellosis (food poisoning).

There are many reasons of course, but among the main ones are the four-day short courses in sanitation conducted by the State Department of Health for persons engaged in food preparation and service. In the past five years, according to official records, some 30,000 persons have taken the instruction.

The subject matter, presented in a non-technical, easy-to-understand style with films and demonstration, covers such essential points as basic bacteriology, insect control and personal hygiene.

Two public health instructors from the department's division of public health education, assisted by local health officials, will put on a course anywhere in the State on request. Attendance is open to anyone, but usually those who come to the two-hour daily sessions are cafe and cafeteria personnel.

In four Texas cities — Abilene, Big Springs, Midland and El Paso — attendance is mandatory for all food service persons by city ordinance. It's a moot question as to which is preferable — mandatory or voluntary attendance.

When a restaurant employee completes the instruction, he is given a certificate of attendance, signed by the state health commissioner and attesting the fact that he has been indoctrinated. And when 80 percent of the workers in a food service establishment completes the course, the restaurant is awarded a placard suitable for framing and display so customers can see the owner has an interest in health protection.

They're good things, these schools for foodhandlers, good in their implications of higher health standards for restaurant-goers. The food service business has grown to gargantuan size. Latest estimates put the number of meals served daily in the United States at 82 million, 1.7 million in Texas.

All of which accentuate the importance of the short courses — and of the placard awarded to cafes when they support them. The next time you eat out look for it. If you don't see it ask where it is. It is a pledge to you that the restaurant is interested in your welfare.

TEXAS AGGIES WILL JUDGE STOCKER FEEDER SHOW
Fort Worth — Beef Cattle Specialist J. K. Riggs of Texas A&M

College and coaches of the judging teams, will lead a group of young men from the cattle judging teams of the school to Fort Worth Oct. 16-17 to select top entries in the show and sale. It marks the first time a major college team, including students, has served in such a capacity at a major livestock fixture, such as the annual October stocker-feeder event at Fort Worth.

Dr. O. D. Butler, head of the Animal Husbandry Department at A&M, reported Monday the members of the team would be selected and announced Tuesday morning.

The team was invited to participate in the show and sale by the Fort Worth Livestock Market Institute, sponsors of the livestock event. Some 3,000 high grade stocker and feeder calves and yearlings will enter the all-breed affair, with a complete show and sale each day.

CATTLE AND CALVES FIND MIXED TREND AFTER BREAK

Slaughter classes of cattle and calves were slow and weak, except bulls which were fully steady. Very few fed cattle arrived and these were slow to clear in the face of weaker bids. Cows were also slow and weak, most sales fully in line with the low side of last week's low close. Slaughter calves ruled about steady with sales at the close last week.

Lightweight stocker cattle and calves were steady but heavier and fleshier stockers and feeders were again dull and weak and in line with last week's sharp declines on those types.

Good and choice slaughter steers and yearlings cashed at $23.50 to $27, the higher figure for some baby beef lightweight yearlings. Common and medium sorts sold from $17 to $23. Fat cows drew $18 to $21 and canners and cutters drew $12 to $18. Bulls sold from $18 to $22.50 one load at $23.

Good and choice slaughter calves cashed at $23.50 to $26.50, a few to $27 sparingly. Common and medium sorts sold from $17 to $23 and culls sold around $15 to $17. Good and choice lightweight calves sold from $27 to $33, those at $33 scaling about 250 pounds and some over 400-pound steer yearlings bulked at $28 downward and fleshy feeder steers bulked at $24.50 downward. A few stocker cows cashed in the $18 to $22 bracket.

HOG RUNS CONTINUE HEAVY AT NORTHERN MARKETS

Additional weakness in swine prices were recorded at the start of the week at major markets over the country as heavy offerings were again reported around the major marketing circle.

Butcher hogs and packing hogs were 25 to 50 cents lower at Fort Worth Monday and similar price declines were tabulated at most major terminals around the country. Choice butcher hogs topped at $19 and $19.25 while the medium to good sorts sold from $17.50 to $19. Packing hogs sold around $17 to $18.25.

SHEEP AND GOATS STEADY. FAT LAMBS TOP $22.00

Sheep and goats were steady at Fort Worth Monday. Good and choice slaughter lambs sold from $20 to $22 and stocker and feeder lambs cashed at $18 to 20 and good lightweights were scarce. Slaughter yearlings sold around $19 down and old wethers cashed at $14 downward. Slaughter ewes drew $7.50 to $8 and slaughter goats sold from $7 to $8. A few stocker goats sold for $10 and a few breeding ewes sold from $10 to $15.

MARKET EXPERTS TO APPEAR BEFORE COLLEGE CLASSES

It was announced in Fort Worth this week that a panel of livestock market experts including a salesman, a dealer-order buyer, and an official of the stockyards company will make two appearances with livestock and agricultural economics classes at Texas A&M College on November 13. The panel of livestock market experts will appear at the morning classes of Dr. Ike Dahlberg at 8:00 and then meet with the economics classes of Dr. Jarvis Miller at 11:00 A. M.

Dr. Miller and Dahlberg arranged the sessions in cooperation with the Fort Worth Livestock Market Institute for the young men who are studying marketing. Dr. Miller reported, "We feel that having men engaged in the various phases of livestock marketing come to the campus is going to enable these students to hear about terminal market operation first hand and ask questions about it. It will be a wonderful opportunity for them to study the operations of a major market." While at College Station, representatives of the Fort Worth, Houston and San Antonio markets will meet to make arrangements for the annual livestock marketing clinic to be held in cooperation with Texas A&M College early next year. The clinic is slated to be held at Fort Worth and representatives of livestock markets from all over the South-Central States will be invited.

PETROLEUM—basic to the needs of our time

Oil and natural gas have powered most of the great technological advances of modern times; petroleum hydrocarbons have transformed the dreams of inventors into the realities of engineers... Today, in the United States, oil and natural gas provide about 75% of the country's energy requirements; and large quantities of oil, available for production beyond immediate need, are necessary to the national security.

An obvious example is the gasoline that powers our automobiles; another is the diesel fuel burned by post-war railway engines. But do not overlook electric power plants, the airplane, whether jet or propeller driven, factory power plants, farm mechanization, and the revolution since World War II in home heating devices. Oil provides the energy that moves the trucks, airplanes, ships and tanks of our Armed Forces.

But petroleum as a source of energy is only part of the story. In the past two decades, the petrochemicals have supplied the country with a vigorous new industry; already most of our rubber is made from petrochemicals... the ubiquitous plastics derive from petroleum products... paraxylene, a petrochemical, is the raw material for one of the most useful of the new fabrics. In this area, wonders never cease; the petrochemicals contribute more each year to the efficiency, comfort, and convenience of modern living.

Thus, oil's progress has made other progress possible all along the front of American industry... Petroleum is the American resource that is basic to the needs of our time... that is essential to our national security.

The Humble Company, established in 1917, has developed with the industry.

Humble's exploration activities extend from Florida around the rim of the country to California, Oregon and Washington, and beyond to the new State of Alaska... The Company is a leader in the production of oil and gas in the United States... Humble Pipe Line Company is a public carrier transporting not only Humble's oil but that of many other companies and independent producers to Gulf Coast terminals... Baytown refinery is one of the nation's great manufacturing plants... And Humble is a marketer in the Southwest, supplying the needs of motorists in modern service stations.

The Humble Company believes strongly in research, maintains two outstanding research facilities, and annually budgets considerable sums for this activity... Humble research has made substantial contributions to the discovery, production, and utilization of petroleum.
