

Kracker Krumb's

Odd Bits Salvaged
By The Editor

You could have "drifted along with the tumbling tumbleweeds" Monday morning after the wind switched back from the north.

k-k

We had occasion to make a rush trip over to Knox City, and the weeds were tumbling across the highway in places. A good, strong norther would certainly cause them to drift to the south. And as they congregate on fence rows and against fences, they become quite a fire hazard.

k-k

The Knox City trip, like we made Monday, always places us in an unpleasant frame of mind. We had received a card about a week before that we had an express package in the Knox City express office. We finally decided there was no convenient time to go after it and we'd better chase over and get it before it was returned.

k-k

It reminds us of how we lost our express service, practically without knowing it, and we are frequently forgetting to notify our supply houses not to ship by express. Each time such a shipment is made, it necessitates a special trip in order to get the supplies in Munday stores.

k-k

"I hit the jack pot the other day," said our fishing friend, Tuggles Coffman, last Monday, and we hunkered behind a windbreak to listen to a big fishing yarn — but none was forthcoming.

k-k

It seems Tuggles had gone for a visit with his son-in-law and daughter, the Everton Hosea family at Sterling City, and the men decided to go deer hunting. "I got a 10-point buck, and Everton got a 6-pointer," he said as he showed me one prong of the antlers he had shot away.

k-k

During the conversation, there came from Coffman a half-way promise of a mess of venison. And half-way promises, when made in our behalf, are just as binding as full-fledged ones — so we're looking forward to such a treat.

k-k

A mail box, painted in a bright barn red, was erected on the city hall lawn one day last week. Attached to the back of the box is a sign: "Santa's Mail Box," and children have already begun to use it to deposit their mail to be dispatched to Santa Claus at his toyland factory. Our guess is that quite a few letters will be pushed through that slit in the mail box door.

k-k

Quite a number of people braved the chilly weather last Saturday afternoon to be here in case their names were drawn for that 100 bucks which local merchants were giving away, but some whose names were called were not present. Those in charge had to draw some seven or eight times before they awarded the first prize of $20. The fifty bucks were not called for, and that went back into the pot to make up $100 for next Saturday.

k-k

Two more drawings will be held — next Saturday, and again on Saturday, December 20. And if you have a car registered in Knox County, your name is in the pot and may be drawn out on one of these dates.

k-k

As is the case in most give-away programs, people headed homeward right after the drawing — but, shucks, we don't blame them. After standing in the cold for some thirty minutes, or more, it was time to hunt a warm place. If it's cold next Saturday, dress warmly and come on out!

Kiddoes' Letters Placed In Santa's Mail Box To Be Published In Christmas Issue

For the first time in history, Santa Claus has a special mail box in Munday. It's the large, red rural mail box that has been erected on the city hall lawn, bearing the sign: "Santa's Mail Box."

It's there to receive Santa's letters from all the children of this area who desire to place them in Santa's special mail. A number of children have been placing them there since the mail box was erected one day last week.

By special permission of Santa Claus and the Munday Chamber of Commerce, who sponsored the box, The Munday Times will also receive these letters to be published in our special Christmas issue. These letters will be published and then sent on by special messenger to Santa Claus to reach his toyland workshop in plenty of time to fill all orders.

Kiddoes who place their letters in Santa's mail box should not mail the Times another letter because the Times will receive the one placed in Santa's special box. Two letters would cause duplication in the paper — and might tend to confuse Santa, too.

So if you want to use Santa's special box, place your letter there — and that's all you need to do to have it published. Do this before December 20, however.

Mr. and Mrs. Bun Stark of Kress visited her sister, Mrs. Lola Cartwright, at the Knox County Hospital one day last week.

addition, a set of four heat-proof coffee mugs will be given away with each purchase of $2.00 or more of Fina Supreme or Fina Gasoline.

USE PAPER NAPKINS AS WORK-STAIN SAVERS

Help your guests avoid staining their holiday finery during wassail bowl festivities by placing a box of paper napkins near the refreshments.

Having a supply of paper napkins in a handy spot will be a work-saver for you, too. Among the latest advancements in paper napkin containers is a self-service dispenser box new from the makers of Kleenex table napkins. The perforated box converts into two "servers" which look attractive on a party table.

Born Dec. 17, 1941, in Breckenridge, Crosson had lived most of his life in the Rule area.

He is survived by his parents; four brothers, Paul, Richard, Randy, and Tommy, all of Rule; and five sisters, Mrs. Jay Trammell of Old Glory, Miss Lorene Crosson of Abilene, and Jenny, Pat, and Brenda, all of Rule.

Highway Patrolman Bill Jones said young Crosson was killed when the car in which he was riding with Raymond Boyce Harley, about 23, left the road, jumped off a drainage ditch and careened up the north bank.

Jones said the car was traveling north on U. S. Highway 277 within the city limits of Munday when the accident occurred. Harley's 1951 Pontiac was reported a total loss.

Harley was rushed to the Knox County Hospital by an ambulance from McCauley Funeral Home. He remained in a critical condition several days, suffering from serious head injuries, but was slightly improved according to latest reports.

Preacher Indicted On Morals Charge

HASKELL — A 30th District Court grand jury Tuesday indicted Robert L. Dodson, former pastor of the First Baptist Church of Knox City, on a morals offense.

Dodson, 37, until last week pastor of the church was charged in Justice of the Peace Court of George Pland with fondling his only daughter who became 13 years old Monday. He is being held in Haskell County jail under $10,000 bond.

Witnesses who appeared before the grand jury included Dodson's wife, the daughter, Sheriff Homer T. Melton of Knox County and Sheriff Bill Pennington of Haskell County.

The offense against the girl is alleged to have occurred in a signed complaint the afternoon of Nov. 29 on a country road near the south side of Lake Stamford, 12 miles southeast of Haskell.

Dist. Atty. Royce Adkins said Dodson, if convicted, could receive a maximum sentence of 25 years in the state penitentiary.

Date of Dodson's arraignment in district court had not been set late Tuesday.

The board of deacons of the First Baptist Church at Knox City has no immediate plans to call either another pastor or a supply pastor, H. E. Wall, board chairman, said. Dr. Clyde J. Hurst of the Hardin-Simmons University Bible department at Abilene preached both sermons at the church Sunday.

CART AND HORSE

Back in 1946, Congress passed an Employment Act. It laid down three economic goals for the nation — "maximum employment, production and purchasing power."

Now, writes Sylvia Porter, the well-known business and financial commentator, the next Congress will seriously consider adding a fourth goal — "reasonable price stability."

In order to achieve this new goal, Miss Porter continues, a number of schemes and plans of action are being weighed and debated. One is that perennial — a revival of stand-by controls over prices, wages and rents, plus revival of controls over installment credit.

If this policy is adopted, it will mark an outstanding example of putting the cart before the horse. It will be an attack on symptoms of inflation, instead of the disease itself. As such, it inevitably will be doomed to failure. The main force behind further inflation now is government deficit spending. Until something drastic is done about that, the spectre of inflation will remain strong, no matter how many laws are passed.

Finally, it would be well to remember our past unhappy experience with such controls in peacetime. Scarcities were common. Black markets flourished. Evasion of law was commonplace. The normal processes of producing and selling goods were disrupted.

It could happen again — and on a far bigger and more chaotic scale.

LONDON, KY., SENTINEL-ECHO: "There is no disgrace when one becomes mentally ill. The only difference in this form of sickness and other forms is that science has only just begun its studies into cures for mental illness, and therefore, it is widely misunderstood. But about half the cases of mental illness can be cured, and the people afflicted restored to completely normal life again, if proper treatment is provided. And no stigma should be attached to the treatment."

National Review reports on government in business: "While one military service was buying sun glasses for $5 a pair, another was selling them as surplus at less than $1.00. One agency of the government is revealed to have sold rice, for export, at $40 a ton to a firm which promptly resold it to another government agency for $60 a ton."

NEW RECORD

When the Christmas sales are totted up, retailing's total sales for the year will be the highest in history, and last year's whopping $200 billion of volume will have to step aside for a new summit.

That prediction comes from Chain Store Age. It is based on reports from leading chains in all categories — grocery, drug, variety, general merchandise, mail-order and so on. The great majority of these chains have been showing marked increases over equivalent periods last year — in some cases more than 20 per cent.

This is good news of a high order. The volume of retail trade, needless to say, is one of the most potent forces in determining whether general business conditions are good or bad. Our magnificent production system would falter and ultimately halt unless the goods were moved in sufficient quantity into the hands of consumers.

Chain Store Age also points out another significant fact. Despite the record-breaking increases registered in sales, net profits have not been keeping pace. In many instances there have been declines, some substantial. Rising operating costs are one of the causes of that. A mighty small part of the consumer dollars stay in the hands of retailers after all the bills are paid.

American medical colleges had a record enrollment of 29,473 students in the 1957-58 academic year. Sixty of the 85 operating medical schools reported major construction projects, costing $47 million, in the planning, beginning, or completion stages.

Pope John XXIII poses this question: "Why must the resources of human ingenuity and the wealth of peoples be turned more to producing arms, pernicious instruments of death and destruction, than in increasing the common welfare?"

The Citizen's Committee for Reorganization of the Executive Branch of the Government has disbanded. In its final report it says that 63.9 per cent of the second Hoover Commission's recommendations have been adopted and are being put into effect. Mr. Hoover estimates the eventual economies resulting from these recommendations at upwards of $3 billion a year. He adds that economies totaling $7 billion can be traced to the first Commission's report.

People are always doing nice things for me — things that I don't deserve, but sure do appreciate. For example, Joe, Henry and Homer — or, to be more definite, Joe Forbis, Henry Waldauer and Homer Gentry. They were schoolmates of mine in Central High School in Memphis, Tenn.

Homer was a gifted musician — either a flutist or a clarinetist — I can never remember which instrument it was. He was especially good with the flute solo — that's it, he was a flutist — from "Wilhelm Tell."

Joe, Henry and I belonged to the same debating society; we were Philomatheans, united in undying war against the Websterians.

Several years ago, I returned to Memphis after a long absence — and, to my surprise, Joe and Henry arranged a dinner at the Peabody, Memphis' finest hotel, with several schoolmates and five of our teachers attending.

Next time I visited, a year later, Henry and his charming wife arranged a barbecue in their yard. And a year or so after that, Joe and Henry again were dinner hosts at the Peabody. Reminiscences were rife and time turned back to 1914-1916.

And the latest such act was performed by Homer Gentry. He is a member of the Exchange Club and he invited me to be the speaker. As I entered, there was a long table in the middle of the hall and seated at this table were 16 former schoolmates, 14 of them I hadn't seen since graduation night.

This sentimental old duffer almost choked up but the inspiration of their presence and of the introduction by my debating coach, James L. Highsaw, inspired me to what, I hope, was as good a speech as is within my power.

Yes, people are always doing nice things for me. Wheat capable of protecting the soil, resisting insects and diseases, yielding a forage crop after normal grain harvest, producing high-protein grain, and having high drought tolerance is the goal in prospect of a long-term hybridization program being conducted by USDA agronomists.

Study Of Mental Health Given For Munday Study Club

Mrs. Helen McClure, director of the program on mental health, introduced the speakers, Dr. D. C. Eiland and Harold Paden, to the members of the Munday Study Club at their regular meeting on December 4.

Both speakers gave a particularly enlightening insight into what mental health really means. They indicated that every church and every school could use a full time clinical psychologist or some one trained in child guidance and family relations.

Mrs. R. D. Atkinson gave an interesting report on Federation news. Mrs. R. M. Almanrode, president, presided at the business meeting.

The resignation of Mrs. Tommy Harper was accepted and Mrs. J. C. Borden was appointed by the executive committee to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. Harper as treasurer of the club. Club members brought gifts which were given to Mrs. G. E. Rodgers, public welfare chairman, to be sent to Wichita State Hospital.

Mrs. Don Combs was hostess for the afternoon.

Mrs. W. B. Neill and her daughter, Mrs. John Gunn, and children visited friends in San Antonio several days last week.

Mrs. Oscar Cyfert and Mrs. Truman Cyfert were visitors in Wichita Falls last Monday.

Paul Pendleton and Hunter Jones of Wichita Falls attended the Abilene and Wichita Falls football game in Abilene last Saturday afternoon.

Yuletide Settings Highlight Dinner For Guild Members

Essence of the approaching yuletide holiday permeated the Fellowship Hall of the First Methodist Church Monday evening when members of the Wesleyan Service Guild held their annual Christmas dinner and program attended by 23 members and one guest for the affair.

The decorated Christmas tree and the Nativity scene predominated the decorations. The tables were garlanded with greenery, flanked by red candles and red and green balls.

The highlight of the evening was the review of "Raphael, the Herald Angel" by Mrs. Rex Mauldin.

Mr. and Mrs. Walton Williamson and son, Walton, Jr., of Lubbock spent last Saturday night with her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Tidwell.

The home during the Christmas season is usually loaded with fire hazards and unless safety precautions are taken a fire can be changed to grief and sorrow in seconds, warns the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council.

Keep Christmas Trees Free Of All Booby Trap Hazards

CHICAGO — Christmas suggestion for the house that has everything — a built-in brain to detect booby traps in Christmas trees and toys.

The tip comes from the National Safety Council, which says every household already has this wonder gadget, but most don't realize it.

"It's the collective brainpower of the family," the Council said. And it operates on a few basic principles:

1. The Christmas tree is one of the most combustible objects known and once on fire it burns so fiercely, fed by natural pitch and resin, that it's almost impossible to douse the flames by ordinary means.

2. Children's toys must be bought not only with age, interest and physical capabilities of the child in mind, but also with the intention of teaching the child how to use the toys.

"Trees should be taken down when the needles start to fall, even if the holidays aren't over, and disposed of out-of-doors in fire-safe areas," the Council said.

"Never dispose of the tree in a fireplace, furnace or stove where the fire might get too hot to control."

Other Christmas tree safety tips:
Keep tree in a cold place until ready to set it up, then saw off diagonally about an inch of the trunk, put it in a water-containing holder and keep container filled.

Don't put the tree near a fireplace, radiator, television set, powerful electric light or other heat source. Don't run an electric train around its base.

Use electric lights which bear Underwriters' Laboratories label, check wires for defects and don't overload house wiring. Turn out tree lights when not in the room for a long time.

Make sure ends of metallic icicles and other ornaments don't dangle in light sockets. Don't use flammable decorations.

Use a step ladder when trimming the upper branches.

"Toys should stir the imagination, encourage creative ability and train the child for better living," the Council said. "But many times parents order things which turn out to be dangerous."

When shopping for children's toys:
Choose toys which aren't too

Social Security Cards Needed By Part-Time Workers

Many school students and housewives plan to work in jobs covered by Social Security during the holidays. These part-time workers will need social security cards, according to Mr. Tate, District Manager of the Wichita Falls, Texas Social Security Office.

Mr. Tate urges all persons who plan to work during the holidays and who do not already have social security cards to apply for them immediately. Those who have lost their cards should ask for duplicates. Persons having social security cards at the time they file their applications for jobs will secure employment quicker, declared Mr. Tate. Many employers will not hire employees unless they have in their possession social security cards issued in their correct names.

Persons who live in Wichita Falls, Texas, may visit the Social Security Office located at 432 Federal Building and apply for their numbers. Those residing in or near other towns may go to their local post offices, secure and complete an application, Form SS-5, and mail it to their nearest Social Security Office.

The amount of benefits to which a wage earner or his survivors may be entitled will depend upon the amount of wages posted to his old-age and survivors insurance account. A social security account cannot be set up for an individual without first securing a social security card, declared Mr. Tate.

DEFENSE FOR THE GUILTY

How can a lawyer justify defending a guilty person?

The right of an accused to have counsel is one of the safeguards necessary to insure fundamental human rights of life and liberty. The Sixth Amendment to the U. S. Constitution (a part of our "Bill of Rights") provides:

"In all criminal prosecutions, the accused shall enjoy the right to a speedy and public trial by jury — and to have the assistance of counsel for his defense."

Amendment V to the Constitution provides:

"... no person is to be deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of law."

Whether by retainer or by appointment, with or without fee, a lawyer is duty-bound under his oath, to assert and wage a vigorous, honest, legal defense for his client, regardless of guilt.

Under law, every person accused of a criminal offense is presumed innocent until his guilt is established beyond reasonable doubt at a trial in open court. Guilt is not to be determined by public opinion or by lawyers, but by proper procedure under law in a trial or judicial inquiry.

How can a person accused be assured a fair trial regardless of guilt or innocence? How can a person so accused defend himself and enjoy his constitutional right to have his guilt legally determined, except he be represented by competent counsel trained in law?

The practice of criminal law and the proper and able defense of those accused is a vital part of the great heritage of the legal profession. The public must understand the duty of the lawyer to society and to the people accused, sometimes unjustly, sometimes justly, of crime. Remember, even you may someday be unjustly accused of a crime.

When lawyers refuse, hesitate or fear to represent any person accused of any offense and the accused person is therefore unable to secure proper representation, then indeed is our entire judicial system in danger.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

"GIVING"

Giving does not impoverish us in the service of our Maker, neither does withholding enrich us. — Mary Baker Eddy

No person was ever honored for what he received. Honor has been the reward for what he gave. — Calvin Coolidge

The only gift is a portion of thyself. — Ralph Waldo Emerson

Give what you have. To some one, it may be better than you dare to think. — Henry Wadsworth Longfellow

In giving, a man receives more than he gives, and the more is in proportion to the worth of the thing given. — George Macdonald

Gonzales Warm Springs Drive Is Gaining Headway

Money raised during the emergency campaign for the Texas Rehabilitation Center of the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation now totals $115,823 according to an official statement released November 21.

Walter Richter, executive director of the Foundation said, "The emergency drive has been moderately successful and has enabled us to keep our doors open. We have been able to meet our payrolls, pay operating expenses and continue to offer our services to physically disabled Texans."

"Even though our situation is still critical, we have been heartened by a fine response from individuals, companies, churches, private organizations and, of course, organized labor. We hope for their continuing support as we enter the second phase of our campaign... the development of a long-range, state-wide organization which will provide the funds necessary to operate," Richter commented.

The Center, first rehabilitation hospital in Texas to be accredited by the Committee on Accreditation of the United States and Canada, specializes in comprehensive treatment for arthritis, strokes, spinal cord injuries, cerebral palsy, muscular dystrophy, multiple sclerosis, polio, brain damage and other physically handicapping diseases and injuries. It is non-profit and non-sectarian and treats both adults and children regardless of their ability to pay.

Mrs. George Conwell visited in Fort Worth over the week end with her husband who is employed there.

CATTLE DEMAND CONTINUES EXTREMELY HIGH IN TEXAS

Fort Worth, Dec. 8 — Offerings of cattle around the nation's major livestock markets Monday was about ten percent higher than a week ago and at Fort Worth, the increase was nearer thirty percent. Both slaughter interest and the buyers of stockers and feeders moved in early and cleaned up the supplies at Fort Worth before the noon hour.

Veterans in the trade still find reason to wonder at the continuing demand for stocker and feeder cattle this late in the season. The answer, of course lies in the abundant feed supplies both in the pastures and in the barns.

Cattle and calf prices Monday reflected the strength of the market as fed steers and yearlings of the good or choice variety sold from $25 to $28.50, the top figure for some club steers from Graham (Young County). Commercially fattened cattle reached $27 to $28 without difficulty, and heavyweight baby beef calves again soared to $30.

Some weeks ago in the column we reported the trade here speculating calves this winter. The $30 fat calves this winner. The $30 and better level was reached at least a month prior to those "educated guesses" of last month.

Feeder steers weighing 660 pounds from the Double L Ranch, Hood County, scored $28.75 and some 573-pound stocker yearlings drew $31. Light heifer calves scored $33 and some steer calves ranged from $34 down. This sort of stocker demand this late in the season reflects the strong undertone of the cattle trade in the Southwest.

Comparative prices included: Good and choice slaughter steers and yearlings sold from $25 to $28, a package of over 700-pound yearlings at $28. Three loads of 1,080 pound steers from Castro County drew $27, and some eight other load lots of fed steers were reported from $25 to $27. Medium and plain butcher steers and yearlings drew $18 to $24.

Fat cows sold mostly from $18.50 to $20, a few young butcher cows to $21 and above. Cannerns and cutters drew mostly $13 to $19, some emaciated cannerns of doubtful health down to $12 and below. Bulls were reported from $18 to $23, some stocker bulls up to $25.

Good and choice stocker steer calves cashed at $29 to $34 and some bull calves reached $32.50. Stocker heifer calves ranged from $33 downward. Stocker steer yearlings ranged from $24 to $31, some 573-pound yearlings at $31, and some feeder yearlings scaling 660 pounds cashed at $28.75. A few stocker cows drew $18 to $21.

Good and choice slaughter calves sold from $25 to $30, the top figure usually for heavyweights of the baby beef type. Plain and medium slaughter calves cleared at $21 to $24.50 and lower grade killers ranged from $17 to $21.

SHEEP AND GOATS SELL WELL, HEAVY LAMBS INCLUDED

Slaughter classes of sheep and lambs were very strong, quality of much of the offering considered. Good and choice slaughter lambs cashed at $20 to $21, the higher figure for 94-pound lambs with mostly No. 1 pelts, but a sprinkling of No. 2 skins were included. Some woolled lambs sold at $20, including some around 120-pound wether lambs, and some 110-pound buck lambs scored $20. A package of very heavy, over 150-pound lambs cashed at $17. Feeders sold mostly at $18 to $19, some bucks, longtails, etc., down to $15 to $16.

A few slaughter ewes drew $7 to $8 and a few goats sold at $8 to $8.50. Slaughter aged bucks sold from $7 to $7.50. Yearlings sold at $18.

BUTCHER HOGS STRONG, SOW UNCHANGED, RUNS LIGHTER

Monday's offering of hogs around the nation's major terminals Monday was about 13,000 under a week ago. This lent some strength to the trade on hogs at Fort Worth and other points.

Hogs were steady to stronger, mostly steady with late last week. Choice butchers scored $18.25 to $18.75, the higher figure sparingly on closely sorted meat type hogs. Medium to good hogs sold from $17.50 to $18. Sows were steady with last week's low close at mostly $14 to $17. Stags drew $8 to $13 and boars sold at $5 to $8.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Henry A. Holle, M. D., State Health Officer

About this time last year, Texas and most of the United States was swamped with the so-called Asiatic flu.

In fact the inroads of the Asian strains of influenza were so widespread that its effects were felt all over the world with varying intensity.

There is no doubt that influenza was a contributing factor in the slight rise of death rates during the winter months. Influenza may weaken an individual's resistance so that he is subject to more serious illness such as pneumonia which may result in death.

The two most studied outbreaks were the highly fatal pandemics of 1889 and 1918 when hundreds of thousands were killed as a result of the disease. Since then attention has been directed to the epidemic of mild disease that have been yearly occurrences with varying intensity.

Fortunately, although there was a large number of cases, the severity of the Asian influenza epidemic was not great. The epidemic as measured by excess influenza pneumonia mortality was only slightly more severe than the influenza "A prime" epidemic of 1953.

Although there are no indications at the present time of another epidemic of the Asian strain of influenza, there undoubtedly will be some influenza.

For this reason the U. S. Public Health Service and the Texas State Department of Health recommend consideration of vaccination against influenza for certain groups and individuals.

Influenza vaccine is indicated for groups wishing to guard against absenteeism in their professions or occupations, and among those to whom the disease might be an added health risk.

There are now ample supplies of influenza vaccine of the polyvalent type, containing immunizing material against the important strains of influenza, including the Asian strains.

Groups which should be considered for vaccination include hospital staffs whose services are necessary to the care of the sick; groups subject to exposure and quick spread such as in institutions; and individual patients who have a special risk because of chronic illness, pregnancy and age.

Practicing physicians should be the judges of whether or not to vaccinate individuals. (A weekly feature of the Public Health Education Division of the Texas State Department of Health.)

Quail Shooters Take To Fields For Big Season

Quail kills throughout Texas on opening day seem to bear out the forecast of the heaviest quail crop in the state for many years, according to the director of law enforcement of the Game and Fish Commission.

Because of favorable weather conditions, combined with cover and food restoration programs, quail have been abundant in practically every area of the state.

"Wardens have reported for the last several months there would be a good quail crop," the director said. "Kills during the first few days of the season indicated these reports were correct. Hunters with good dogs had no trouble getting their limit, while many hunters without dogs found shooting to be tops.

"There has been so much cover, however, shooting and finding the birds in many areas has been difficult. Some places the cover is so heavy it is almost impossible for even the dogs to work good. The slight freeze during the Thanksgiving weekend improved conditions some. Another good freeze will reduce this weedy cover and make hunting easier."

The director also reminded hunters to send in any aluminum bands found on the birds they kill. These bands can be turned over to the local wardens, or sent directly to the Austin office. He also requested reporting the killing any Coturnix quail, whether banded or not, to the wardens. This is in an effort to find if there is any wild reproduction of these transplanted birds in Texas.

Mrs. Agnes Mayes of Amarillo was a week end guest of her mother, Mrs. Emma Mayo.

Supt. W. C. Cox attended a meeting of school administrators in Abilene on Wednesday.

New Hospital For Southwest Is Announced

Designed as the nation's most modern combined diagnostic clinic and hospital, this $10,000,000 building project has been announced by the board of the Scott and White Memorial Hospital of Temple, Texas. It will provide 279 beds and facilities for 50,000 clinic and hospital patients annually. An innovation for care of the critically ill will be a special observation unit on each hospital floor. A nursing station will be surrounded by a circle of 12 private rooms, where all patients will be under constant observation within a few steps of the nurses. This, it was said, will improve service for many of the critically ill.

Four hospital bed floors in the shape of a cross (A) and two clinic floors (B) rise above the first two floors and basement, which contain diagnostic and research laboratories, surgical and X-ray departments, rehabilitation therapies and other jointly used facilities. A Nurses Residence (C) will help meet the shortage of nurses in the Southwest by increasing student nurse enrollment from 60 to 85. The structure marked (D) is a future building for educational purposes.

The consulting architects, Ellerbe and Company of St. Paul, Minnesota, designed the new Mayo Clinic and specialize in planning combined diagnostic clinic and hospital facilities. Architectural working plans will be prepared by Wyatt C. Hedrick of Fort Worth.

Jay A. Phillips, of Houston, Chairman of the Scott and White Board of Trustees, said that the target date for starting construction is June 1, 1960. "We already have upward of $1,000,000 and are aiming at raising the balance over the next year and a half. As a non-profit institution Scott and White serves patients from all parts of the Southwest. This new center will be of tremendous benefit in providing people of moderate means throughout our region with a high quality of diagnosis and treatment at a reasonable cost."

OUR CHANGING AGRICULTURE

By Wayne Clift,
Vocational Agriculture Teacher,
Goree High School

Vocational Agriculture and Scientific Farming
High school vocational agriculture programs are making a valuable contribution toward developing scientific farmers. Modern farming demands that farmers have a scientific knowledge of such things as insect and disease control of crops and livestock, fertilization of crops, operation of motors, etc. In high school vocational agriculture programs, training in these scientific aspects of farming is provided for youths preparing to become farmers. Too, such training is available to adult farmers.

Each high school student enrolled in vocational agriculture at Goree High School receives approximately seven hours of instruction each week in various agricultural subjects. These subjects pertain to the science of producing crops and livestock, developing farm mechanics skills in welding, electrification, shop, farm buildings, conservation of soil and natural resources, and farm machinery. Too, instruction for young and adult farmers is provided for those people who are now engaged in farming.

Such scientific training in agriculture is no doubt largely responsible for the high degree of perfection we have reached in Texas and the United States in producing farm commodities. This perfection also is making a very important contribution to our national economy and to the national leadership the United States is able to demonstrate among world powers. History has demonstrated that for a country to be world leader, she must have a strong program of agriculture. Consequently, it is important that we train an adequate number of scientific farmers to produce the food and fiber needed by our people. And even though we will need fewer farmers in the future, these farmers that are needed must be highly trained in the science of agriculture.

(Next week Mr. Clift will discuss "Vocational Agriculture and the Adult Farmer")

A grant-in-aid from the National Science Foundation to the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station for $15,000 will be used to finance a three-year intensive study of sideoats grama grass. Dr. Frank W. Gould, Department of Range and Forestry, Texas A&M College, will direct the studies.

COMMUNISM:

Communism, like crime, injects its poison at the roots of Christian civilization. The Communists deny God. The Communist is the enemy of all the world's religions because no philosophy or creed to the Communist can be higher than Communist itself. They say there is no God. They are proudly, unashamedly atheistic in theory and in practice. When they deny God, they simultaneously deny every virtue and every value that originates with God. They deny moral law. They deny absolute standards of truth and righteousness. An entire civilized code of moral and ethical value is destroyed so that they are free to erect in their place new moral and ethical standards as the occasion demands.

The ideology of Communism is applied godless materialism. The problem that perplexes many people is the overwhelming appeal that communism apparently exercises for the student mind. The nature of that appeal is the promise that the student can achieve two things by association with the Communist party.

First, he can participate in the Conquest of the World. Following the conquest of the world, He Can Then Participate in a Program to Change Human Nature, perfect human character, and populate the entire earth with a new quality of personality infinitely superior to any that history has ever known. The appeal that attracts the young student is almost a religious appeal, that his life can be utilized for the regeneration of all mankind.

Not many months ago the present dictator of Russia predicted that our grandchildren would be living under the heel of Communists.

God is Truth. Communists hate the truth. Therefore, they hate the Church. They hate our form of government and our way of life. Their object is to destroy both and set up one of their selfish design.

Either the faith of our fathers will triumph or Communism will engulf us. In this land of ours the two cannot live side by side.

CONCLUSION:

In this great land of ours for our youth, we must:

- Have more extensive youth programs.
- Coordinate our youth programs with a strong educational system.
- Teach them that life in America is what one makes of it.
- Teach our youth that they cannot get the finer things of life wrapped up in a dollar bill.
- Teach them to do just a little more than is required of them in their work (that is our way of life).

f. Give them the spiritual background and teaching of the Ten Commandments, and

g. With the above, administer when needed that old time word shed remedy in sufficient quantities to put father back at the head of the family.

These programs must be based upon a fundamental recognition of God and our responsibility to our fellow man.

A civilization to endure must be rooted in the highest ethics, and in worship of the Supreme Being.

A nation so rooted, one so dedicated, can certainly defeat our Twin Enemies of Freedom.

Mrs. W. R. Moore returned home last Saturday from Lubbock where she had been visiting with her daughter, Mrs. Ralph Bernard, and family. She reports that Mr. Bernard, who has been very ill, is some improved.

Plan To Enjoy Your Party, Too

Enjoying your own holiday party is an art just as much as seeing that your guests have a good time.

So make your arrangements early enough so that you'll have plenty of time to plan the menu, the decorations, even your table setting.

Depend upon made-ahead casserole dishes and the like with buffet service so that most of the preparation work can be done beforehand.

Plan to use all of the work-savers you can, especially if you're hosting with little or no help.

For instance, set boxes of paper napkins on the table. Disposable napkins solve a lot of clean-up problems for you, not to mention the sensible protection they give guests' party garb. Available this season is a new box of Kleenex table napkins which will in no way detract from the appearance of your table. The box converts into two attractive table servers each of which holds 25 prefolded napkins.

Use an inexpensive but colorful tablecloth so that food and beverage stains won't worry you.

Finally, do your housecleaning the day before, so that you can relax and enjoy the party.

Mrs. Chas. Moorhouse left last Thursday for Galveston where she entered the St. Mary's Hospital and remained until Sunday for medical treatment. She was released Sunday and is staying in the home of her daughter, Mrs. B. F. Hood, and family for further observation.

Week end guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Snyder and Paula were Mr. Snyder's mother, Mrs. Bill Waters of Chatanooga, Okla., and his sister, Mrs. Bud Pearson of Walters, Okla.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Isn't Worried About The Big Population Increase And Just How To Feed It

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek reviews the world population situation this week. We can't tell what his conclusions are.

Dear editor:
Most towns in the United States naturally would like to get bigger. I don't know why, most of them don't have enough money to take care of the area they've already got. In fact, there aren't over fifteen or twenty people in the world and no cities and towns at all that have all the money they want to spend, but it's the truth, growth is what most cities are after.

Well, it looks like they're going to get it. I was reading last night in a magazine that the world's population is increasing by 47 million people a year. The world's population is now two and two-thirds billion, and at the rate it's increasing will be twice that in 50 years.

Clearly, if practically any town can hang on for 50 years, it's bound to grow, they've got to put all these people somewhere and there's no room for them out here on my farm. It looks like about all a chamber of commerce or civic booster club has to do to succeed is to hang on for a while longer.

However, what interested me about these figures was an answer an expert gave on whether there'd be enough food to feed

all these people.
He said not to worry, there will be, the farmers of the world will do it, and the reason they will, he said, is "that if you offer enough money for the food, the food will be produced."

Now I don't know what sort of farmers this expert is acquainted with, but we don't know the same group. The group I know, since I'm one of them, works in just the opposite fashion. We don't say, if you'll pay us enough, we'll produce this food for you. What we say is, here's all this food, how much can you let us have for it?
And I guess it's as good a system as any.

CARD OF THANKS
I want to thank all of you who were so nice to me when I suffered my eye injury. Thanks to those who visited me at the Wichita General Hospital and after I came home, for the many cards and letters and all of you who helped me in any way.

tem as any. It saves a lot of responsibility. When I start a farming year, I don't know what I'm going to get for my work, but on the other hand the consumers don't know what I'm going to produce to eat. This way nobody's responsible for anything. It's sort of like marriage. Parents don't know how their children are going to turn out, and children don't know how their parents are going to turn out.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.
Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Stark of Kress and Mrs. Gerald Green of Plainview visited with Mrs. Lola Cartwright in the Knox County Hospital last Sunday. While here they also visited Mr. and Mrs. Al Cartwright and children.

And if you could wear the Sanitone Dry Cleaned suit, you'd find that it holds its press and resists wrinkles amazingly. That's because only our Sanitone Dry Cleaning renews the fabric's original "body" with miracle SOFT-SET® Finish . . . restores both the look and feel of newness. Try it and see for yourself.
