Odd Bits Salvaged
By The Editor

As we took our usual Monday jaunts around town, we were reminded by several of what we missed here on Friday night by not attending the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet.

k-k

The speaker was surprising. Some said that first glance at Dr. Taylor made them wonder just what they were into, if not a dull evening. But when the man started speaking, there was laughter throughout the audience — and this continued during all of his talk. "I've kept you over time," the speaker concluded, "but you were laughing so much I just couldn't quit." And the word goes out of Munday, as it came into town prior to the banquet, that Dr. Taylor is tops as an after-dinner entertainer.

k-k

"The food was the best we've ever had." It seems that the Jetton bunch performed in preparing and serving the dinner just to everyone's liking, and that contributed to the success of the banquet.

k-k

And a last-minute change in the program came out to everybody's pleasant surprise. Mr. Norsworthy, who was to perform on the organ got an emergency appearance elsewhere and had to cancel his Munday engagement, which threw the officers in general, and Sue Bowden in particular, into a dither.

k-k

But a very gracious Munday lady came to the rescue and pulled the kettle out of the fire. Mrs. G. N. Allison, who has a lovely and well-trained voice, sang a medley of songs from Broadway shows, and her performance was perfection in entertainment. When she was contacted and told of the predicament they were in for a program, Mrs. Allison kindly consented to sing with one condition — that her piano accompanist be Lou Milstead, who is attending Hardin-Simmons University. She explained that she and Lou had worked together enough that they could perform without practice, and time would not permit practice. So everyone is grateful to these two ladies for excellent entertainment.

k-k

Our absence was caused by our annual trip to Amarillo for the Panhandle Press Association's annual convention. So while you were banqueting here, we were doing the same thing in Amarillo.

k-k

It was the golden anniversary convention for the association, and all living past presidents who were able to attend were honored at Friday night's banquet, with TV cameras going, etc. The main feature of our vocal entertainment was a medley of old songs by a well-known barbershop quartet, "The Four Hearsemens."

k-k

We kinda consider ourself in "the fringe area" of the Panhandle Press Association, but we like to attend their meetings. Our very first press convention was the Panhandle, back in 1928, when we were pretty young and unsophisticated in newspapering. We like to hob-nob with those still alive whom we met at this convention.

k-k

They kinda rolled out the red carpet and did things up brown for this golden anniversary deal, and we enjoyed it all. Others from down in the "fringe area" to attend were Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Welch of Aspermont and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Klepper of Crowell. The absence of the Roy Craigs of Stamford was rather conspicuous, as they attend most all of them.

k-k

Saturday is the day you vote on the burr burning ordinance. Regardless of your position in this matter, you are urged to vote. Either way the vote goes, we imagine those involved would like for it to be representative of the city's voting strength.

k-k

In case you're in a dither about the trees being uprooted on the city hall lawn, officials tell us they're taking out only the dead and diseased trees. They'll be replaced — well, maybe not all of them — with new trees pretty soon. There'll be some pecans and others, and the services of a nurseryman will be used to do the job up right.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Combs of Plainview visited their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Don Combs and LuAnn, over the week end.

Fun, Food And Facts Are Mixed For Annual C. of C. Banquet On Friday

Dr. Howard C. Taylor, dean emeritus of the Oklahoma College for Women at Chickasha, kicked around the "sacred cows" in religion, education and life in general, during the annual membership banquet of the Munday Chamber of Commerce Friday night.

Dr. Taylor told the 250 persons at the banquet that mental disease has become a big problem in the nation. He cited figures showing that 1 out of 12 persons go to a mental hospital and that 1 out of 10 have nervous breakdowns.

Dr. Taylor blamed the present state of mental diseases in the nation partly on the public school system. He said vocational guidance programs in the schools are responsible in many cases.

He said many school officials felt that if you fail a student, you frustrate him. Following this line of thinking, they have followed a philosophy to "guide them to do this — guide them to do that — but don't fail them in school," he said.

Dr. Taylor said this has led to a major weakness in the nation's mental condition because when those protected students get into life, it crushes them.

He said he was impressed with Munday's slogan of "We Work Together." Then he stopped in his speech, looked out over the audience and inquired in one of his many humorous departures: "Is there anyone from Munday here?"

"After the introduction of all those bankers from Abilene and Wichita Falls, I don't see how anyone from your own town could be here," he said.

Officers installed at the banquet were Dr. D. E. Alexander, president; Goodson Sellers, vice president; Tommie B. Harper, treasurer; W. E. Braly, West Texas Chamber of Commerce director; and Sue Bowden, secretary.

Directors installed were Travis Lee, Harper, Sellers, Hugh A. Beatty, Lee Roy Leflar, Dr. W. H. Stewart, Dwight C. Key, Ernest Horton and Dr. Alexander.

Outgoing officers were Beatty, president and Sellers, treasurer. Braly will serve as West Texas Chamber of Commerce director and Sue Bowden as secretary.

Guests from Abilene were Ralph Duncan of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce; Don Ellis of the First State Bank and his wife; John C. Wistl of the Citizens National Bank and his wife; and E. J. Vernon of the Citizens National Bank and his wife.

Other out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. George Nix of Goree, Mrs. Sue Bumpas, Mrs. Rosella Glenn and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Barker of Benjamin, Ernest Williams, Leroy Denton and Jim Norman of Rule, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Reese and Mr. and Mrs. John Smith of Knox City; Mr. and Mrs. George E. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ferguson, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Burdick, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Rabenstein, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Spreen and Mr. and Mrs. Sam W. Jones of Seymour; Mr. and Mrs. Royce Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Conner, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Frazier, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Hester, and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Johnson of Haskell.

T. W. Bullington acted as master of ceremonies.

Mrs. G. N. Allison of Munday sang a medley of songs from Broadway shows. She was accompanied by Miss Lourelle Milstead, Hardin-Simmons University student from Munday.

FARMERS CO-OP GINS Munday, Texas

As I strolled along the streets of Tucson in the morning (after arrival late the night before), my ears were greeted by a tune. And, of all things, out here in the real West, it was "The Sidewalks of New York". After walking two blocks, I discovered the source: a hand-organ, even including a monkey. It was the first hurdy-gurdy outfit I'd seen, and heard, in years. Little children flocked around in fascination.

The Santa Rita Hotel in Tucson has a private club called "the Mountain Oyster."

And there is a "Chattanooga Shoe Shine Parlor." A rival establishment has a sign, "World's Finest Spit Shine."

I didn't know what a spit shine was and I didn't try to find out. "The Vikings" is a superpicture that had its premiere on Broadway only a few weeks before, but in Tucson it had to share billing with a picture having an Arizona theme, "Meanest Gun in Tombstone."

For the information of the Indians, Latin Americans and other inhabitants of Tucson, there are traffic signs, "3-phase signal" and "split phase". If intended also for the information of tourists, the signs over-estimate our vocabulary.

Tucson's business district of bright, new buildings; the twin-towered cathedral; the Grecian temple which is the public library; the central park with its many palms — royal and date — with families picnicking on the grass and informally attired men sitting on the benches; the dry, invigorating air; the mountains which encircle the city — yes, Tucson, is a place of beauty, with balm for weary bodies and wearier minds.

And when they tell you that Tucson has sunshine, especially in July, they're not lying.

Under the Texas Constitution, each family is entitled to claim one piece of real property as their homestead. This claim must be established by an affidavit filed with the county tax assessor on or before April 30, each and every year. This affidavit must be filed by the owner himself. A lending agency cannot do so, even though it may actually pay the annual taxes thereon from a fund created by the owner's monthly installments.

When the homestead affidavit is properly filed, the owner becomes entitled to an exemption of State taxes up to the value of $3,000 or 200-acres in the case of farm lands. This is an exemption from payment, not a complete exemption from rendition and assessment. There is no similar exemption with reference to city taxes, or to county taxes, except in certain counties levying a special 30 cent farm-to-market and lateral road tax.

The homestead claimed for tax purposes need not be the property which is actually occupied by the owner as his residence.

When the homestead affidavit is not filed by April 30, the taxpayer loses his right to the $3,000 or 200-acre exemption, and consequently becomes liable for more taxes than he would otherwise be required to pay.

Property taxes are assessed against the person who is the record owner of each piece of real and personal property on the first day of January of each year. Individuals purchasing property during the year should make sure that the taxes for all previous years have been paid. Otherwise, the purchaser may be forced to pay hundreds of dollars in delinquent taxes to protect his property. Unpaid taxes create a lien against the property which can be enforced regardless of change of ownership.

One should also keep in mind to make some arrangement for the previous owner to pay his pro-rata share of taxes for the current year. Otherwise, the buyer may find it necessary to pay the entire taxes for that year.

When taxes are not paid by the 30th day of January for the current year, the county tax unit (city, county, state or district), mandatory penalties and interest are added from month to month. In addition, the property becomes subject to seizure and sale to satisfy the tax lien. This lien applies to all property, whether homestead or not. HOMESTEAD MAY BE SOLD FOR TAXES

Many Texans have the mistaken impression that their homestead cannot be seized and sold for delinquent taxes. In many cases, this idea has led to considerable grief and monetary loss which could have been avoided. A homestead should be rendered to tax assessors like any other property, and taxes assessed against it should be paid as faithfully as those on any other taxable property.

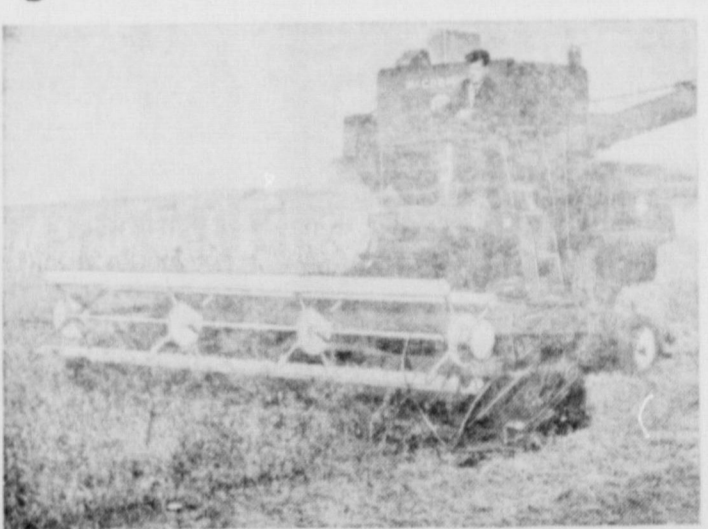

The deadline for rendering property for taxation is April 1, so far as most city taxing agencies are concerned. The last date for rendering real and personal property for state and county taxes is April 30. State taxes are collected by the County Tax Col-

Home Town Laundromat Installation Is Equal Of Any Unit In The State

A REMINDER — Each day you fail to use the Westinghouse Laundromat to do your wash and dry is a loss in money, leisure time, convenience, saving on your back (or straining organs) — to those who have had surgery it is a life-saver and you are refusing yourself this big lift and real treat!

BIG PROJECT UNDERWAY FOR BETTER WATER SUPPLY FOR THE TOWN! True but its been true for several months that 20 cents, two dimes, in a Westinghouse Laundromat will give you 26 gallons of the softest water this side of the rain clouds to wash your clothes in. Look how you can save on soap: 1 to 1½ even more cups of soap has to be used in the regular Munday water because it is so hard. But ½ cup of soap to the washer is all that the soft water you wash in at the Laundromat needs. Using more causes excess suds that foam over. Well, isn't that quite a saving? Do you like a ring around your bath tub? That is what has accumulated in your clothes during the prolonged washing that you have done in this hard water. If you need a test to prove this to you, believe me, we can make it for you if you will just ask us.

PLEASE FOLLOW ME IN THESE NEXT FEW LINES:

No other machine in your town is as safe and sanitary for public use as a Westinghouse Laundromat. The reason: A Westinghouse Laundromat machine is NOT a home washer taken and set in rows in a public wash house. It is a commercial machine made for public use (and abuse) solely. It is so constructed that when you have washed in it it automatically cleans itself and is sanitary for the next user. No human hands have to go around and clean out the grit and residue that remains at the bottom after each wash in every up-right-type washing machine. Now, whose machine is safest, cleanest, most sanitary and would have the fewest bacterial count if a smear were taken from both types of machines placed on a slide, given a count at a laboratory? After every wash every machine is free of any grimy lint, etc. Do you want to see a demonstration of a Westinghouse Laundromat washing machine washing clothes and have us add a cup of sand and a cup of grease to the wash? See it finish up the wash free of all this and the machine unharmed and clothes cleaned? Give it a try on any other washers and examine the clothes, also the machine!

NATO'S ANNIVERSARY

This April marks the 10th anniversary of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, known the world around as NATO. And the grave problems and events of the present heavily underline the organization's significance and importance.

NATO established a new precedent for this country—we had never entered into a peacetime foreign alliance. But, 10 years ago, it became apparent that the Soviets intended world domination, beginning with Europe, and that the only hope of preventing this lay in a grand alliance, representing not only the strength but the will of the free world. So we joined with 11 nations—subsequently increased to 14—and NATO was born.

Certain things should be universally known about NATO. As the American Council on NATO points out, it is purely defensive in nature. It exists to resist attack if it comes. It is under civilian control, and a civilian heads the guiding body. It in no way conflicts with the United Nations, nor is it a rival. Both organizations are designed to serve the cause of peace. It is more than a military alliance, and the hope is that the NATO nations will strengthen their common heritage of freedom—the root source of power.

It speaks well for NATO that it is reviled in the most extreme terms by the Soviets. That is only logical—for NATO is a closed door between them and world domination. If NATO should collapse, Europe, the Middle East, and Africa would be wide open to the domination. Then, ultimately, the United States would be isolated—an island in a communist sea.

MEDIA, PA., DELAWARE COUNTY PRESS:

"The newspaper reporter is the representative of the public. The average citizen does not have time to attend meetings of those officials empowered to spend his money, or to prow around police stations to make sure the men whose salaries he pays are doing their jobs. He counts on the newspaper reporter to do this for him. When public officials begin to withhold information from this representative of the people, the very foundation of our democratic system is threatened."

According to the Department of Commerce, the average size of families, statistically, is 3.65 persons. Rural farm families were the largest, with an average of 4.08. The total number of families as of last March was 43,700,000.

HORIZONS IN RURAL HEALTH

A short time ago the 14th National Conference on Rural Health was held in Wichita. Sponsored by the American Medical Association's Council on Rural Health, and attended by 700 representatives of medicine, farm organizations, governmental agencies and other lay groups, its apt and important theme was "Horizons in Rural Health".

As speakers made abundantly plain, these horizons have been vastly broadened over the years. Through the work of the council and farm groups, communities previously without physicians have obtained them, health insurance programs for rural people have been established, and the general health situation of rural communities has improved.

The job, of course, is far from done. The chairman of the council, at the recent conference, called for a "wholesale approach and a mass appeal" in health education for rural people. He urged a closer union of state medical committees on rural health with like committees in the agricultural extension service, the Farm Bureau, the Grange, and other groups. He noted that "health education, to be effective, has to be promoted in the home. It must become part of the daily life experience." It includes realizing and stressing the advantages of having a family doctor, of maintaining careful health records over long spans of time, and of having periodic physical examinations and immunizations.

The rural health movement has come a long way. And now is the time to keep on pushing it ahead with increased vigor and enthusiasm.

The fellow who insists upon what he thinks are his rights in traffic, rates high as a social menace. The Portland, Oregon, Traffic Safety Commission points out that in the operation of a motor vehicle, each individual driver is exercising a privilege granted by the state. The difference between a good driver and a highway misfit is often the difference between a driver who appreciates his privilege and one who demands a non-existent right.

In 1957, average family income in this country was $5,000. About one-tenth of our 44 million families had incomes of $10,000 or more, while two-fifths were in the $5,000-$10,000 range.

TEXAS — STILL FIRST RATE!

Texas may have been eclipsed in size by Alaska and we don't have the coconut palms and hula dancers of Hawaii — but we can still boast a vast number of notable "firsts" in farm production.

Despite droughts, boll weevils, pink bollworms, a host of other insects — and not even to mention governmental order plagues — the Lone Star State is unchallenged as the leading producer of cotton, raising nearly 38% of the nation's supply; in grain sorghums, with a whopping 44% of all grown in the country; in mohair production clipping 95% of the nation's goats, to mention a few.

Neither do Texas farmers hang back in vegetables for the fresh market. In 1958, Texas led the nation in production of beets, winter cabbage, winter carrots, early fall carrots, winter cauliflower, spring honey dew melons, early spring onions, summer onions, spinach and watermelons.

If that isn't enough, we also rank first in producing in cattle, rice, sorghum forage, hay and wool.

So the next time some damyankee tries to needle us Texans about "being cut down to size," here are a few figures to confound him with: Just tell him Texas with 4,350,000 bales of cotton produced last year is ahead of its nearest competitor (California) by 2,750,000 bales. Point out that our 1958 crop of 273,065,000 bushels of sorghum grain more than doubles Kansas' 128,934,000 bushels, and Kansas was far the second producer. Tell him Texas is also ahead with 11,938,000 cwt. of rice, 1,499,000 tons of sorghum forage and 15 million tons of other hays. You might also mention that Alaskan reindeer and other strange forms of livestock just can't compete when one out of every eight head of cattle makes its home on a Texas range. Just for good measure, we've also got more sheep, lambs, horses and mules than any of the other 49 states.

These are just a few more of the things that make Texas what it always has been and always will be — the undisputed champ among states. So if anyone ever asks you what we're going to do about Alaska, the answer is "Nothing — it won't be necessary".

Plans For Annual Cotton School At A&M Announced

Each summer for the past 50 years a cotton school has been held at Texas A&M College. The 1959 school will again be conducted by the Department of Agricultural Economics and Sociology during the six weeks between June 8 and July 17.

Professor J. M. Ward says the purpose of the school is to provide training for persons who expect to enter the cotton trade; to growers who desire to learn how to market their cotton more profitably and to buyers who wish to review grade and staple standards or become more familiar with the elements of quality in cotton.

Instruction will be given on cotton grading, stapling, determination of cotton properties and cotton trade procedures. Most of the time, points out Ward, will be devoted to actual practice work and discussions. A few lectures by visiting specialists will cover various phases of production, marketing and processing of cotton.

Ward says that an announcement booklet is now available on the school and that copies may be obtained by writing to him, J. M. Ward, Agricultural Economics and Sociology Department, A&M College, College Station, Texas.

Richard Whitworth, who is in the Army and stationed at Carrozo, N. M., spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Whitworth.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Henry A. Holle, M. D., State Health Officer

Five Texas babies — all less than one year old — smothered in their sleep last year in freakish accidents involving disposable sheets of plastic material.

The thin, adhesive plastic is in common use today for purposes ranging from packaging laundry and cleaning to making back yard hothouses.

The deaths grimly accentuate the growing danger of using the lightweight material to protect bedding on a baby's crib.

An eight month old boy died in Irving on June 7 during his morning nap. He was discovered with his head covered by a makeshift plastic crib sheet. The immediate cause of death was said to be suffocation.

In Victoria on September 28 a five month old boy smothered under similar circumstances when he pulled a plastic sheet over his face.

A four month old Freeport girl suffocated on July 12 when she rolled over in her crib into a plastic bag.

On August 16 a seven month old Hamlin girl smothered when she became entangled in a plastic sheet thrown over her bed to protect the bedding.

A plastic crib cover inadvertently pulled over his head caused the suffocation death on November 26 of a four month old Tyler boy.

Disposable sheets of plastic have been boons to busy mothers of infants because of time saved in laundering bedding. But the only safe plastic bedding protector is the type made specifically for that purpose — one which can be stitched to the mattress or tucked under it.

Piecing flimsy laundry or cleaning bags together to make a sheet can be fatal for a baby.

To prove the point, examine one of the bags the laundry uses to package shirts. Although perfect for that use, note how it clings to human skin.

Hold it to your face. Notice how quickly and effectively it throttles your breath when you inhale. Imagine that happening to an infant lying helplessly in its crib.

The bags come in handy for a great many things around the

SPECIAL SALE CATTLE GROSSED $543,031.59

Fort Worth, April 13 — The Fort Worth Livestock Market Institute announced Monday that there would be weekly cattle auction sales at the market starting May 7. In the interim, there will be another special sale April 23. Sales will be Thursdays, and Friday and Saturday if needed.

"The success of the April 9 sale and the comment from the more than 1,500 farmers and ranchers who were present, convinced us that the public wants these sales at more frequent intervals," reported Manager Ted Gouldy. "We sold 3,838 cattle and calves in the special sale April 9 despite the rains falling 24 hours ahead of sale time which undoubtedly cut the numbers in half. Of these, 3,684 head sold at auction for a total of $543,031.59."

Good and choice stocker steer calves sold from $30 to $41.40 and good and choice stocker steer yearlings sold from $27.50 to $36.40. Medium and good feeder steers ranged from $24.50 to $28.85. Stocker cows and pairs ranged from $150 to $240.

The Market Institute reported there would be no more night selling and that in future sales the auctioning will halt at 5:00 p. m. Upsold cattle and fresh cattle brought in for the auction will be sold on the following day.

"We feel this arrangement safeguards the farmer and rancher since with most sales, much of the buying power quits the arena around 5 or 6 o'clock. Night selling frequently develops more "low" spots because of this. We think if we start selling at 9:00 a. m. and quit at 5:00 both the buyers and sellers will like it better. We went until 10:00 p. m. April 9 and the cattle sold after 7:00 p. m. would nearly all have been better off sold the next morning," Gouldy stated.

The new schedule will not interfere with the scheduled stocker and feeder shows and sales which are jointly sponsored by the Market Institute and the Texas Hereford and Texas Angus Associations. "These shows and sales are fixtures at Fort Worth and on those days, we will cancel our commercial cattle auctions in deference to them," Gouldy said.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Alarmed Over New Trends Among Politicians To Destroy The Science Of Government

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek may have his tongue in his cheek this week, although you can't tell. It may be his foot.

Dear editor:
A new fad is developing among politicians that has me worried and it ought to be worrying everybody else. If it keeps going, the science of government will be destroyed.

It works like this: a delegation of citizens, say school teachers wanting a raise, a Chamber of Commerce wanting a new project, etc., goes before Congress or a state legislature committee or the city government or some other government outfit and lays out its requests.

Then some official pops up and says all right, you want us to spend this money, we're willing, but where would you like us to raise it? Name the tax you'd like us to vote to cover this new expense.

As far as I'm concerned, this undermines the whole idea of How many politicians do you think would ever get elected if their campaign promise was, Vote for me and if elected I'll give you anything you want if you'll show me where to find the money for it?

It's sort of like telling a farmer he can have as high a price support as he wants for his crops if he'll deposit the money in the bank to pay for it. It's like telling an airline you'll subsidize it if it'll increase its income tax enough to pay for it. It's like telling your son you'll send him through college if he'll furnish the money. It's like going into a bank for $500 loan and having the banker tell you he'll let you have it just as soon as you put $500 in the bank. Better make that $530 to cover the interest.

The danger in this whole thing is that it strips an office-holder of all his magic. Government is
