Odd Bits Salvaged
By The Editor

In case you take a notion you'd like to leave this area when a sandstorm is blowing out its fury, a day like last Monday is the kind that fixes your determination to stay in this wonderful country.

k-k

It was a bright sunny day that followed a period of good rains which were needed in this area. The cool breeze was blowing out of a northerly direction that morning, but switched southeasterly in the afternoon. A lovely spring day, not too cool or too warm, and all vegetation had that lovely green and fresh washed appearance from the recent rains.

k-k

The wind and sunshine was drying the ground so planting could be resumed — and there wasn't fear of lack of moisture to bring up the crops this time.

k-k

Sunday was a wonderful day, too, for many people who wanted the rain and wanted nothing better than to stay inside and enjoy the showers. Of course, it hampered activities somewhat. It was raining at church-going time, and those who frequented favorite fishing places found their activities limited.

k-k

Some farmers have found replanting necessary because of the rains, but not many have fussed because the rains came. During our stay in Knox County, we don't believe we've experienced a year in which rains did not come at planting time, making it necessary to replant. Some years this procedure has taken place four and five times.

Graduation time is here again, with final exercises beginning at Goree next Sunday night with the baccalaureate service. Seniors will be receiving some potent advice from speakers in the baccalaureate and commencement services, like perhaps, "Catch a falling star and put it in your pocket," or the one we received when a prominent Wellington attorney made our commencement address: "Hitch your wagon to a star!"

k-k

We'd like to put in our piece to graduates everywhere. Success is rarely ever handed down on a silver platter. People who attain success in life do so by hard work, ingenuity, right thinking, sticking to the job, the ability to get up and try again when flattened by adversities, service to mankind, etc. And that brings us to another little item we've stolen:

k-k

MAN WANTED

Wanted: A man for hard work and rapid promotion; a man who can find things to be done without the help of a manager and three assistants.

A man who gets to work on time in the morning and does not imperil the lives of others in an attempt to be first out of the office at night.

A man who listens carefully when he is spoken to and asks only enough questions to insure the accurate carrying out of instructions.

A man who moves quickly and makes as little noise as possible about it.

A man who looks you straight in the eye and tells the truth every time.

A man who does not pity himself for having to work.

A man who is neat in appearance.

A man who does not sulk for an hour's overtime in emergencies.

A man who is cheerful, courteous to everyone, and determined to make good.

This man is wanted every where. Age or lack of experience does not count. There isn't any limit, except his own ambition, to the number or size of the jobs he can get. He is wanted in every business.

The students of St. Joseph school, Rhineland, held their annual outing in the Seymour park Thursday, May 7, accompanied by Sr. Claudia and Sr. Martina, teachers of the school. After a picnic lunch prepared by the mothers, the children played games during the afternoon. A wiener roast concluded the day.

Crash Victim Identified As Motel Bandit

J. J. Boyce, killed in an auto accident at about 4:30 Friday morning eight miles east of Guthrie, was identified by Wichita Falls police Sunday as one of two men who hijacked the Catalina Motel, on Henrietta Highway, only four hours before the accident.

Police said the victim's partner, Gene Smith, 23, of Dallas, who escaped injury in the crash, confessed the robbery and implicated the dead man.

Relatives Sunday morning identified the dead man as Jack Jean Boyce, 25, of Artesia, N. M., and a night clerk at the motel identified Smith Sunday morning as one of the two who took $330 at gunpoint from him at 1 a. m. Friday.

The victim was at first mistakenly identified as Gene Russell Harper of Dallas, from papers found on his body. However, Harper later called his wife and reported, "Someone must have gotten hold of an old driver's license of mine."

Smith, who was asleep in the death car at the time of the crash, was arrested by Sheriff H. T. Melton of Benjamin when he discovered the car was stolen from a Dallas parking lot. Melton became suspicious when several hundred dollars in small bills were found scattered about the wreckage, and notified Wichita Falls police.

The crash occurred, authorities said, when the vehicle driven by Boyce went out of control and overturned.

Detective H. C. Shubert and J. E. Hammond, night clerk at the motel, went to Benjamin early Sunday to make identification of Smith. In his statement, Smith said he met Boyce in a Wichita Falls tavern Thursday night and left with him in the stolen car.

Sheriff Melton's office said Smith had a police record of minor charges in Dallas. Smith was taken to Wichita Falls jail from Benjamin on Sunday.

Only 14 minutes later, at 4:44 a. m., Leslie Almony Jr., 27, of Heflin, Ala., an airman attached to Fort Sill, Okla., died in another unrelated accident near the same spot. A 1956 Chevrolet convertible driven by Almony ran under the trailer of a truck, which King County sheriff's department said was across the highway.

Another Fort Sill man, Donald McConnell, 24, of Gastonburg, Ala., was asleep in the back seat and was not injured.

Notaries Public To Be Re-appointed

Secretary of State Zollie Steakley has announced that he will reappoint persons now holding notary public commissions but that such persons must re-qualify by the filing of new oath and bond with the County Clerk of his residence between June 1, 1959, and June 10, 1959.

Steakley emphasized that notaries public should not send requests for reappointment or for commissions directly to the Secretary of State. The law specifically requires the County Clerk to approve notary bonds.

Any person not now a notary public who desires appointment should apply to his County Clerk between April 1, 1959 and May 20, 1959. Application during this period will assure prompt attention before the rush procedure of reappointing present notaries.

Secretary of State Steakley further pointed out that each person applying for a commission as a notary public must be at least 21 years of age and a resident of the county for which he is appointed. The exact name and permanent address of the applicant must be furnished the County Clerk.

Death came Tuesday for Dr. E. F. Heard, 81, pioneer physician and surgeon of Goree at whose hands more than 2,000 people have entered life.

The pioneer doctor, whose services extended over half a century, passed away at about 4:25 p. m. Tuesday in Doctors Memorial Hospital in Dallas. Complications had set in after surgery in General Hospital at Wichita Falls about two months ago, according to his son, Charles P. Heard, who is assistant manager for Service Parts Co. in Abilene.

Dr. Heard had practiced in Goree since coming to Knox County from Marietta, Ga., about 56 years ago. None in need of his services were turned away, regardless of race or station in life.

In a newspaper interview about 10 years ago, Dr. Heard estimated that he had delivered some 2,000 babies since beginning his practice in Goree in March, 1903. Although failing in health, he continued to practice on a limited basis until about six months ago.

On July 4, 1953, Dr. Heard and Dr. W. M. Taylor were jointly

If you have any toys to donate to the Jaycees please turn your porch light on so that they may collect them.

More Moisture Comes This Week

Additional moisture received here during the past week has been a further boost to farming operations, placing the lands in excellent condition for planting. As the ground dries, farmers are becoming busier in the fields getting their row crops in the ground.

As is the case when rain comes, replanting will be done in some instances; however, this has been cut down to some extent by the moisture coming at different times.

According to the records of H. P. Hill, local weather observer, rains since last Thursday have been in the following amounts: .17 of an inch on Thursday night; .60 of an inch Friday night; and .35 on Sunday, making the week's total 1.12 inches.

EASTERN STAR TO MEET ON TUESDAY

The Munday Eastern Star Chapter will meet Tuesday night, May 19, at 7:30 for the purpose of initiation. This is also a stated meeting and every member is urged to attend.

honored at a Goree community celebration, when their portraits were unveiled at the community building. At that time they had served the people of Goree a total of 100 years.

Dr. Heard was born at Marietta, Ga., on April 21, 1878. He married the former Sidney Parks in 1904.

The two Goree physicians were partners for many years after Dr. Taylor's arrival in Goree in 1907. The two were graduated from Georgia Medical College in Atlanta in 1902.

His practice began during the time when hospitals were few and far between. Dr. Heard recalled that the nearest one was at Fort Worth. Those were the days, too, when emergency operations were often performed by the dim light of a kerosene lamp, and doctors traveled by horse, or horse and buggy, over rough roads and trails to reach their patients.

The body was transferred to Goree by Laningham Funeral Home for funeral arrangements.

Survivors include his wife of Goree; the son, Charles P. Heard of Abilene; two daughters, Mrs. Temple Dickson of Sweetwater and Mrs. W. S. Richter of Dallas; and five grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held from the Goree Methodist Church at 3 p. m. Thursday with the pastor, Rev. H. C. Adair, officiating. He will be assisted by Rev. J. W. Baughman, retired Methodist minister, and Rev. C. R. Mathis, pastor of the Goree Baptist Church. Burial will be in Goree Cemetery.

The body will lie in state at the church from 10 a. m. until 3 p. m.

Miss McElroy was awarded the trip by Midwestern University for her exhibit on "The Effect of Fusarium on Terra Cotta Clay." Her work was judged on scientific knowledge, craftsmanship, etc., and she was named one of the best young scientific minds of an eleven county area.

Miss McElroy is a student of Kelton Tidwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Buck Tidwell of Munday, who teaches in the Knox City schools.

Mrs. Alexander Of Mattson Dies; Rites Thursday

Mrs. Henry Alexander, 48, of the Mattson community in Haskell County and relative of local residents, died at 6:40 p. m. Monday in a Houston hospital. She had been in failing health for two years.

She was born Johnnie Mae Logsdon on February 21, 1911, in Oklahoma and moved to Haskell County in 1921 with her parents. She married Henry Alexander on December 14, 1929, at Weinert.

Funeral services were scheduled for 2:30 p. m. Thursday from the Mattson Baptist Church with the pastor, Rev. William T. Pridy, Rev. Hubert Sgeo, retired pastor, and Rev. Lavoid Robertson, of Brownwood officiating. Burial will be in Johnson Memorial Cemetery at Munday under direction of Holden Funeral Home of Haskell.

Survivors include her husband; four daughters, Mrs. T. E. Reeves of Weinert, Mrs. Edgar Wilson of Washington, D. WHERE EDUCATION BEGINS

In these days of super governments and growing centralized authority over our lives, it is good to be reminded that in a few areas there still remains real old-fashioned local control. A good example of this is the local school board. Dr. Paul Woodring, a consultant for the Fund for the Advancement of Education, says that: "Voters ought to study the candidates for school boards just as carefully as they do candidates for Congress."

The board holds the legal responsibility for public education, it hires the superintendent, is responsible in the broad sense for school policy and has the final say on the budget within the limit of state laws.

A good board member has definite ideas on the subject of education. He knows the difference between policy making and administration. He doesn't try to tell the principal how to run the school.

Everyone should occasionally attend a school board meeting. Local control of the nation's schools is as vital as freedom of the press or any other freedom. Fancy school buildings do not make educated citizens. Education begins with qualified teachers, backed up by an able school board, elected by the people of each community. You owe it to yourself and your community to exercise your privilege of helping to elect the right people to run your local school system. No one else can do it.

OSWEGO, KANSAS INDEPENDENT: "History tells us that every nation and people who look for security instead of opportunity decays and rots. All advancement comes through discovery of new ideals and ideas. In a half century we have discovered and developed thousands of ideas in flying and other ideas of transportation to nuclear energy and over-coming of space by atomic power. Let us pray that we never become a nation of drones or victims of socialism."

SCOTLAND NECK, NORTH CAROLINA COMMONWEALTH: "The great trouble with the political system of the United States is that too many folks are too lazy or too uninformed, or too selfish to acquaint themselves with political procedures, the needs of their cities, counties, states and nation to do something about it. They had rather sit on the sidelines and sneer, but they in effect are exhibiting themselves as perfect examples of poor citizenship . . ."

"ARBITRARY, DISCRIMINATORY, UNREASONABLE AND UNFAIR"

Some time ago the Internal Revenue Service ruled that the cost of institutional advertising placed by utility companies in opposition to socialization of this industry was not deductible in computing federal income taxes. It thus ruled in effect, that the advertising was not a legitimate business expense.

This attitude, it is important to note, did not meet with the favor of the National Association of Railroads and Utilities Commissioners—the organization which represents the state regulatory bodies. In a formal resolution, it denounced the ruling as "arbitrary, discriminatory, unreasonable and unfair," adding that it "represents a serious disservice to the state and federal agencies engaged in regulating the charges of such companies . . ." It then resolved that the ruling should immediately be rescinded and annulled.

Various individual state commissions have also protested. For instance, the Delaware commission, in a letter to the Federal Power Commission, defended, among other things, the right of utilities to use advertising "to seek support for the preservation and maintenance of the private enterprise system . . ."

Internal Revenue seeks censorship of opinion on pain of heavy tax penalties. It is heartening that defenders of the right to speak one's mind are rallying to the cause.

FED UP

"The U. S. public is fed up with bureaucrats." That is the finding of a Trendex News Poll, made in mid-April.

Those polled were asked whether, based on their experience, they preferred dealing with the employes of government or of private business. The result: private employes, 65.5%; government employes, 12.5%; about the same, 18.4%; no opinion, 3.6%.

The critics of government employes, the poll adds, used such words as "nasty", "uncooperative", "unqualified", and so on.

There are, of course, many excellent and dedicated workers in government. But, that aside, bureaucracies tend to develop an attitude of indifference and outright contempt toward the citizens who foot the payrolls. That good old term, "public servant" seems to have pretty largely lost its significance.

AN "INDESTRUCTIBLE" COTTON FABRIC

In the constant battle of "cotton vs. synthetics", Texas' major crop has been given a boost with the development of a preservative which should give cotton fabric a better advantage on the market.

Cotton has always suffered a serious disadvantage because of its low rot resistant qualities. Each year, synthetics have grabbed more and more of the fabric market, partially due to superior lasting qualities under extreme weather conditions. Now that picture may change as a result of a practical method for "weatherizing" cotton materials.

The improved properties imparted to cotton give it outstanding rot resistance as well as improving its chances for longer survival under ordinary weather hazards. This research development should open up even more markets for cottons in awnings, tents, tarpaulins and other outdoor fabric items.

The preservative method is based on the use of a water soluble acid colloid of methylolmelamine, a chemical well known for its resin-forming qualities. The resin, which penetrates the outer portion of the fiber cell wall, becomes a part of the fiber rather than just a coating. This makes cotton virtually immune to rot and mildew.

Proof of this success was determined by burying pieces of treated and untreated cloth in various types of soil. Swatches of cotton were covered with soil containing heavy amounts of fabric-destroying bacteria.

Untreated cotton was in shreds after one week. But treated cotton fabric still retained 100 percent of its breaking strength after FIVE MONTHS.

The preservative not only helps cloth withstand the ravages of outdoor weather but, in some cases, will aid in keeping colors bright after long exposure to the sun.

Cost of the fabric treatment is expected to be relatively low, according to research specialists. The method can be utilized with conventional textile finishing equipment. The end result should give cotton a long-deserved break in its struggle to keep abreast of the synthetic market.

On the occasion of my visit to the grave of Sam Bass, the old-time outlaw, some years ago, J. H. Kavanaugh, then the editor of the Round Rock Leader, contributed an intriguing "might-have-been" to the lore in our conversation.

Sam had planned the holdup of the Round Rock bank (which was to have been executed the day after the unexpected battle took place, in which Bass was mortally wounded), and this bank holdup was to have been his final exploit in Texas. (This is in the books.) With the funds the bandits hoped to obtain, they planned to go to Mexico and live in ease.

The day chosen for the bank holdup — (and now we come to the lore contributed by Mr. Kavanaugh) — on that same day, there was another event scheduled; the arrival in Round Rock of the railroad pay train with a big amount aboard, the money being not just for the rather large force employed in that town but for the workers at the points all along the line.

Bass had never held up a bank but he was thoroughly experienced at holding up trains; in fact, he and his men had stuck up four trains in a matter of weeks within a short radius of Dallas; and there was also the holdup of the Union Pacific train (prior to the Texas robberies), in which Sam had participated. In the Union Pacific holdup, $68,000 in gold had been obtained and it was these gold pieces that Bass spent so freely and with which he had built his reputation for aiding the needy.

So much for the background. The Round Rock editor posed these interesting questions: Did Bass know about the pay-train? If so, did he plan to hold up the train in case the bank situation looked unfavorable? Or did he plan to tackle the bank and, if that went smoothly, hold up the train, too — and thereby become the only outlaw ever to rob a bank and a train the same day? Probably, we will never know.

a new home this year? Whether you buy a completed house or simply a lot to build on, how will you know whether you are receiving a good title to the property you purchase? The safest method is to have a title examination made — that is, a careful study of the abstract and other title evidence.

Here are a few of the common sources of trouble in real estate transactions to show why the minor expense of a title examination is justified.

Many persons sign "earnest money contracts" believing that they are mere receipts with no serious implications. In reality they may specify, among other things, the kind of title you must accept.

A "warranty deed" from a responsible seller is comforting to have but it is a poor substitute for a careful title examination. A warranty deed does not guarantee a marketable title.

Moreover, serious title defects may not come to light until long after the seller on a warranty deed is dead, has moved to an unknown address, or is bankrupt. Even if he is available a good title is much better than a law suit. The fact that the seller has possession of an "abstract" does not mean that he owns the property. An abstract is only a history of a title. Possession of an abstract no more indicates ownership of land than possession of the history of Texas means that you own the state.

Some purchasers of land feel safe because the title is being examined at the time of purchase by an attorney for the mortgage lenders. This seems logical but is a dangerous theory. Mortgage lenders are sometimes willing to accept less than good record title as security. This is sound business for them because, among other reasons, the chances are that the mortgage will be paid off so that no expense in perfecting the title would ever need be incurred. It is risky business for you when you are putting your life savings into the purchase.

These are a few of the reasons why a title examination is an important safeguard to you. When it is completed, the attorney gives you a written opinion stating his conclusions as to who owns the land, the defects in or charges against such ownership, and the requirements to be met of any, to make good record title.

Off-hand this may seem a simple operation. In fact it is not. It requires the interpretation of numerous deeds, mortgages, wills, court decrees and other instruments; the consideration of the order in which transactions and events affecting the title occurred; and the application of statutes and court decisions to the various situations disclosed in the abstract.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved.)

Map Reading Can Tell You Where To Go

By Martha Johnson
Dodge Safety Consultant

THE NAVIGATOR for the family car probably has the same trouble I used to have. How to read complicated road maps!

Map reading isn't difficult. Those squiggly lines, abstract little symbols and the numbers in circles, squares, boxes and shields mean something and make reading a map fun.

The map "legend" will explain the various symbols. United States highways are indicated by shields with the highway numbers in them, state highways by circled numbers and country roads by boxes with route numbers in them.

The more important the road the thicker the line on the map. Different kinds of lines indicate the type of road.

Here's a special helpful trick I find useful. I turn the map so the highway I am traveling is pointing the same way as the road on the map. Although the names may be sideways or upside down, it makes it easier to know if a right or left turn is coming up.

While on the highway I keep in mind that several routes may share the same section of the road, so I look for signs indicating where the route turns or changes.

As I found out, a little concentration and practice are all that is needed to become a first-class navigator.

Congress passed a law which was designed to tighten up the restrictions and make it possible to better prosecute those who ply this vicious trade. However, even with this new law, the Post Office Department is still having difficulty in cleaning up this mess, and a move is now on foot here to pass even stricter laws controlling the movement of this material through the mail.

With almost 60% of our budgeted funds being spent in the defense program, it is of the utmost importance that those who furnish military items to the Government on a negotiated contract basis do not make excessive profits. While a profit motive is most desirable and is essential to keep our Nation strong, there is a difference between fair profit derived in the free enterprise system on the open market as against a non-competitive negotiated contract entered into with one of the procurement agencies of the Defense Department. At the present time the Committee on Ways and Means is considering the extension of the Renegotiation Act which has been the safeguard against excessive profiteering on this type of defense business. The re-enactment and extension of this Law is essential.

Even though few of us realize that control of traffic in the air is now probably one of the most skilled arts in the world, the increasing number of aircraft throw an almost unbelievable burden on the air traffic control centers. For instance, in 1938, there were almost 29,000 airplanes in the United States. In 1958, this number had grown to 109,000 aircraft. Despite this spectacular growth, air travel is much safer today than it has ever been. Aircraft use for agricultural purposes such as crop dusting, mosquito eradication, etc. represents over 800,000 hours of flying each year.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Henry A. Holle,
M. D., State Health Officer

This is Texas Nurse Week. Nursing has played a vital role in the ministry of the sick, and today there are 12,000 active registered nurses in Texas plus thousands more vocational and practical nurses.

The force keeps growing. There are now about 2,155 student nurses in training in three dozen nursing schools scattered about the State.

In all, there are 30,000 registered professional nurses in Texas, but not all are active and many more work in other states.

A major problem facing nursing is encouraging new recruits. Towards this end there are now many Future Nursing Associations dispersed among Texas high schools. In public health the need is complicated because of its specialized nature.

The Division of Public Health Nursing in the Texas State Department of Health was created in July, 1943 and is shouldered with the responsibility for general nursing leadership and consultation within the Department.

The Nursing Division conducts a constant program of studying and surveying health nursing accomplishments, needs and facilities throughout the State.

They also help to improve the quality of public health nursing through consultation and training directed towards qualifications and requirements for public health nurses, standards, techniques and procedures in the field.

In certain areas, the blue-uniformed public health nurse is the major factor in bringing a higher level of health into blighted neighborhoods.

How many new mothers have been shown how to bathe and feed baby, and how many invalids and chronic disease sufferers rest easier because of the routine rounds of the public health nurse in anybody's mess.

But certainly it is an immense figure. And it grows with every passing day as these compassionate ladies make their regular rounds into homes where their special skills are so desperately

UNION 4-3260 Haskell, Texas

— An Editorial —

Who Makes The Laws Here, Anyway?

Does Congress make the laws that govern this country, based on the needs of the majority of citizens who live therein, or are we governed by a small — but fantastically powerful — dictatorship of men who run certain unions? Judging by the news, it would seem that the unions are in charge of the governing.

Just look at the record. The McClellan Committee uncovered endless abuses in unions — acid throwing, blackmailing, picketing, violation of democratic rights, vicious evils . . . Laws to reform these evils were obviously necessary.

Senator Kennedy introduced a bill supposed to correct these abuses. It is not an effective bill, not by any means, and it has since been even further watered-down from its original state because of "sweetening" concessions to unions.

But there has to be an end to it somewhere. When a man like George Meany, President of the AFL-CIO, comes right out and says that the Federation will not support the Kennedy-Ervin bill if certain concessions he wants included are not in it . . . well, the time has come for some kind of concrete action.

Are we going to sit by and just watch powerful labor bosses threaten and dictate to the Congress, just the way they do to their own members?

Are we going to allow people in Congress who want to put through worthwhile laws to be intimidated by the support or non-support of the Meany and the Reuthers and the Hoffas? And they are not the only ones . . . this growth of fascist unionism has got to stop. What are we building here? How far are we going to allow this tyranny of unions to grow?

Unfortunately, though it started out with the best intentions in the world, the current Kennedy-Ervin bill is not the way to stop union abuses! It is worse than a weak bill. It is simply ineffective. Instead of setting-up laws that make unions behave, it "requests" that they act like gentlemen.

Instead of a bill with the "teeth" to correct abuses, it asks the union only to report their constitution (many unions don't even have a constitution) and the names and addresses of their officers. Instead of protecting small business so that the cult of unionism-at-any price will not coerce people into joining unions, it allows them to continue what they now do — and hog-ties an employer's efforts to bring his case to his workers.

Are we to settle for a Kennedy-Ervin bill and piddling reform . . . when this country needs a strong measure to root out evil? Mr. Kennedy knew what was needed — punishment that fits the crime! How did it get bogged down?

And who makes the laws in this country, anyway?

Instead of telling-off a man like Meany: "This country is governed by the people, represented in Congress! . . . it allows his unions to directly or indirectly own stock in the very companies he is unfairly picketing . . . allows him to tell Congress he will 'not support this bill unless!'"

The kind of law Mr. Meany and his pals are insisting upon will only extend his power . . . make unions more tyrannical . . . make unions more pressure-powerful.

If this continues, what can the individual worker or the small business man do? How can he maintain his rights against unions allowed to spend millions of dollars to propagandize . . . while the employer must report anything that can be construed as an "influence" on his employees' right to unionize — even as small an item as a coffee break.

Are we to sit back and let men like Mr. Meany and their pressure groups make the laws?

Are we to settle for a Kennedy-Ervin bill and piddling reform . . . when this country needs a strong measure to root out evil? Mr. Kennedy knew what was needed — punishment that fits the crime! How did it get bogged down?

And who makes the laws in this country, anyway?

Keep Your Head After Accident

By Martha Johnson
Dodge Safety Consultant

REMEMBER these important rules if you're ever involved in a traffic mishap:

Notify police or highway patrol.

Don't panic. Keep calm. It will help set the pattern for others involved.

Give first aid to the injured. Don't move them.

If your car can be moved, drive it off the highway, but don't leave the scene.

Exchange name and address, license number and name of insurance company with the other driver.

Get names and addresses of witnesses.

Make notes of pertinent details that may be useful later.

Don't admit liability to anyone. Don't sign anything. Leave it to the legal authorities to decide who is at fault.

When released by the police, have your car towed to a garage if repairs are necessary.

Call your insurance company and give them the facts.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Almanrode spent Sunday night in Bowie with Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Partridge.

"The Dress Doctor" New Library Book

The Dress Doctor is the autobiography of a sensitive woman who has achieved astounding success, not only professionally, but as a friend and confidante of some of the most fascinating personalities of our time. Born in Los Angeles, Edith Head became not only the first ranking woman designer in Hollywood, but the first designer who has been trained in Paris. Her story is a heart-warming one of personal success as well, for when the Dress Doctor shuts up her office and goes home, it is as Mrs. Bill Inhnen, one of the most happily married women in Hollywood.

She tells not only what she has taught the stars, but what she learned from them; from Mae West "I like 'em tight girls", all there was to know from Clara Bow (she wore high heels for tennis), Flaming Youth; from Carol Lombard, how important a designer is not only to an actress, but to women.

And it is for women, everywhere, that Edith Head has written the last and all-important section of The Dress Doctor. From her work on the Art Link letter Show and the letters that pour in to her by the thousands, as well as from her work with the stars, she has created a complete glamour guide for do-it-yourself dress doctors. She tells you what clothes can do for you — and what you can do for clothes. She helps you analyze your figure type, and the potential of your clothes personality. Finally, she has set down a complete guide on what to wear for every occasion, from amusement parks to weddings.

This and many others on the Best Seller List you will find on the rent shelf in the Munday Public Library.

Oliver J. Floyds To Observe Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver J. Floyd, 209 Shoreline Dr., Castle Hills Addition, Azle, Texas, will hold open house at their home from 2 to 5 p. m. Sunday, May 17, for relatives and friends in celebration of their golden wedding anniversary.

All friends, former neighbors and relatives are invited to help them celebrate the occasion.

Present for the occasion will be their children and families, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Floyd, Muleshoe; Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Jackson, Hereford; Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Floyd, Fort Worth, and their grandchildren.

With summer just around the corner, poultrymen are reminded that management practices will require some changing to cope with the heat. Ventilation will be needed and plans should be made now to take care of cooling the poultry houses during the hottest days of summer. Hens, like other farm livestock, must have a plentiful supply of cool, clean water available at all times. Production drops when hens don't get the water they need.

BIG INCREASE IN OWNERSHIP OF CARS FILED

The percentage of automobile-owning families in this country has shown an impressive increase in the years since World War II, according to the American Finance Conference, national association of independent sales finance companies.

In 1948, there were 23,000,000 families, or 51 percent, who owned automobiles. Today an estimated 39,000,000 families, or 75 percent, are car owners.

The years between also reflected the upward trend. By 1951, 65 percent of all families had cars. Although total ownership continued to rise for the next three years, the percentage stayed about the same until 1954, when it jumped to 70.

Most car-owning families, the sales finance group explains, bought with the aid of installment credit, largely obtained from auto dealers who sell their customers' time sales contracts to finance companies.

New '59 Texas Highway Maps, "Travel" Encyclopedia Of Texas" Available

AUSTIN — The new 1959 Official Highway Travel Map became available for distribution Monday, May 10, by the Texas Highway Department. Copies of the "travel encyclopedia" of Texas, as it has been called, may be obtained by writing the Texas Highway Department, Austin 14, or at the highway district offices and travel information bureaus. County tax offices have map cards available for requesting copies of the map.

The new map is the answer to today's demand for more and more travel information. The steady growth of Texas from a state with a population of slightly over seven million just ten years ago to its present estimated population of more than nine million is reflected by the information appearing on the 1959 map.

Nine more cities and towns are shown than on last year's map, making a total of 1,182. The increased mileage in U. S. state, and farm-to-market roads is much in evidence. The map reflects some 1,600 miles of multi-lane divided highway now completed in Texas, including the completed sections of the National System of Interstate and Defense highways located in the state.

The map now shows approximately 51 major lakes and reservoirs, and includes countless rivers, creeks, and streams. Road side parks, long cherished as rest stops and picnic areas by Texans and tourists alike, now number 1,046 as compared to the 1,026 shown on last year's map.

City route maps are provided of the state's 12 largest cities — Amarillo, Austin, Beaumont, Corpus Christi, Dallas, El Paso, Fort Worth, Houston, Lubbock, San Antonio, Waco, and Wichita Falls.

The reverse side of the map, with a theme of "Texas Land of Contrasts," reflects, in 20 full-color pictures, some of the outstanding scenic, historical, and recreational attractions in Texas. A section entitled "Facts About Texas" gives facts and figures on Texas' natural resources, recreational opportunities, state and national parks, historic points of interest, flora, farming and ranching, terrain features, and climate.

The Official Highway Travel Map is used by all state and governmental agencies in the state for determining highway distances, mileages, zones, and like information. The same map is equally as useful to tourists seeking roads leading to good times in Texas.

A lot of blade—and a low, low price!

Here's a utility blade priced within the reach of anyone who owns a light tractor. We state flatly, this will be the largest selling light blade in the country, because it is the greatest value. All welded, sturdy, 240 lb. construction. 13" mouldboard plus 6" replaceable cutting edge of 1/2" grader-blade steel. 8 adjustments for angling and reversing.

If you need a larger, more versatile blade for specialized ditching and terracing work, Serris makes big tough ones that tilt, angle, and pitch in more directions than the average man can think of. But for simple utility work, this Lone Star blade is it!

Austin Highlights

(By George Moffett)

Texas is faced with one of the most serious financial problems in its history. Many other states have the same problem. In the past ten years the population of our state has increased by nearly two million people. Enrollment in our public schools and colleges is increasing by 100,000 each year. Since the State pays 80 per cent of the cost of operation of the public schools and state-supported colleges, it follows that about 40 million dollars of additional revenue must be raised each year just to take care of the normal growth of the school system.

This same record-breaking population increase also over-crowds our state hospitals and penitentiary system, both of which have more inmates than they have ever had. These conditions, plus the rising cost of all supplies purchased by the State, create a need for an annual increase in state revenue of at least 60 million dollars.

Unfortunately on account of foreign oil imports, our state tax revenue on oil has been reduced 42 million dollars. In order to take care of the State's contribution to the schools and colleges, hospitals, penitentiary, etc., and also offset the loss in oil revenue, it is necessary to increase statewide taxes in the amount of about 100 million dollars per year to keep our State Government running as it is now.

In addition to this 100 million dollars, the Hale-Aiken program for expansion of school facilities and increased teacher salaries calls for another 100 million dollars in new state revenue annually. In the judgment of most members of the Legislature, the people of Texas cannot stand anywhere near a 200 million dollar increase in taxes at this time.

The tax bill considered in the Regular Session actually would have provided only about 30 million dollars in new revenue. It failed of passage. The Special Session is faced with the problem of how much additional tax money should be raised and where it should come from.

Most members of the Legislature, including myself, would appreciate statements from the people generally about this serious tax problem. To restate the matter as clearly as possible, it will take nearly 100 million dollars annually in new taxes to keep our State Government going on the present basis of operation for its schools, colleges, hospitals, highways, etc.

Do you think that more than 100 million dollars in new taxes should be levied by the Special Session of the Legislature; and Drive carefully. The life you save may be your own!

Gems Of Thought

"SINCERITY"

Sincerity is more successful than genius or talent. — Mary Baker Eddy

Sincerity, a deep, genuine, heart-felt sincerity is a trait of true and noble manhood. — Lawrence Sterne

The whole faculties of man must be exerted in order to call forth noble energies; and he who is not earnestly sincere lives in but half his being, self-mutilated, self-paralyzed. — Coleridge

Sincerity is to speak as we think, to do as we pretend and profess, to perform what we promise, and really to be what we would seem and appear to be. — John Tillotson

The sincere alone can recognize sincerity. — Carlyle

Sincerity is impossible unless it prevades the whole being, and the pretense of it saps the very foundation of character. — James Russell Lowell

National P.T.A. Honors The Eisenhowers

Washington, D.C.—Newly-honored Life Members of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers are President and Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The nation's first lady received special P.T.A. membership certificates for herself and President Eisenhower in a recent White House ceremony.

Mrs. James C. Parker, of Grand Rapids, Mich., president of the National Congress, said in presenting the honors to Mrs. Eisenhower that the life memberships "express recognition by more than eleven million members of the P.T.A. of the inspiring concern you have shown for the welfare of the nation's children."

She pointed out that naming of President and Mrs. Eisenhower "who are known for their deep interest in children and the home" as honorary P.T.A. members was particularly appropriate at this time, because:

"Our new action program, 'Strengthening the home, source of our nation's greatness,' will be launched at the National Congress convention in May.

Mrs. Eisenhower indicated that she plans to wear her membership pin "should I ever visit our grandchildren's school," and expressed for herself and the President "warmest appreciation to all the members" of the P.T.A.

Salvation Army Week Observance Set For May 17-24

Founded in London in 1865, the Salvation Army, for which National Salvation Army Week is slated for May 17-24, invaded the United States in 1880, and began its mission of service in Texas just eight years later.

Operating through established corps units in the larger cities and towns, each corps unit in command of uniformed officer personnel who direct all its many activities; and through Service Unit Committees in hundreds of smaller towns and communities throughout the country. The Salvation Army touches the life of practically every family and is within cable length of every person in distress or in need of assistance.

In Texas there are thirty-seven corps units and 187 service unit committees actively engaged in carrying forward the humanitarian and religious work of The Salvation Army.

Here are just a few of the services rendered by The Salvation Army in the United States last year:

The Homeless — Transient and homeless men and women were given 3,009,704 meals and provided with 938,523 lodgings.

The Troubled — 336,233 families on the verge of dissolution brought their problems to The Salvation Army and received either material assistance or constructive counselling to help them in finding a solution.

Unmarried Mothers — Expert medical and nursing care, provided in confidence, in 34 modern homes and hospitals (two hospitals in Texas) for 8,958 unmarried mothers and their babies, gave new hope to thousands who faced only disaster.

Youth Guidance — Attendance in Boys' Clubs and other youth organizations sponsored by The Salvation Army for boys and girls reached a total of 2,802,365. The Salvation Army is doing much to check juvenile delinquency.

The Sick — Seven general hospitals owned and operated by

The Salvation Army provided care for 20,000 patients; Army League of Mercy Women volunteers visited and cheered 2,765,522 patients in other hospitals.

Disaster Victims — Mobile canteens of The Salvation Army generally are the first vehicles of relief to reach any scene of disaster. Last year 294,145 victims of disaster were given meals, clothing, bedding, shelter, or served in whatever capacity needed to meet the emergency.

Prisoners — Last year 123,760 prisoners were visited and given counsel; 12,209 families of prisoners were given assistance; 2,864 men and women inmates of correctional institutions were paroled and given into the hands of

Knox Prairie Philosopher Finds He'd Have Very Little Enthusiasm For Living In A House In Russia

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek discusses the housing situation this week. We think that's what he's doing.

Dear editor: Every time the Russians criticize us, it's not necessary to answer them, but I was especially interested in a criticism Premier Khrushchev made the other day about American houses, which he is an authority on since he has never been in one.

According to him, American houses look all right, but things don't always work out like the Russians claim. You don't notice Stalin's children living in the house Stalin used, do you? Khrushchev has a pretty good house at the moment, but I wouldn't bet on any of his children taking over when he's gone.

Also, I don't know how a Russian can leave his house to his children when he can't own it in the first place. As I understand the Russian position, if she built any houses, she'd build durable ones, but in the meantime the people can have one room per family in a state-owned apartment house.

And when it comes to building homes that last only 20 to 30 years, if Russia keeps brandishing its military power around, the average Russian house may not last that long, regardless of what it's built out of.

Now as to American houses. I don't know how long they'll last, but the one I'm living in has been here a lot longer than 30 years and will be here a lot longer, if I can ever get around to patching the roof and fixing the front porch.

Moreover, when a man builds one of these modern new fancy houses, he doesn't want to put too much permanence into it, he never knows when a new super-highway will come along and pass right through the middle of it.

But even so, I believe I'd rather live in a house of my own that's going to last only 30 years, than live in one that's going to last for 200 years, if it was owned by Mr. Khrushchev.

J. A.

Children, but also by our grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Well, maybe so, but things don't always work out like the Russians claim. You don't notice Stalin's children living in the house Stalin used, do you? Khrushchev has a pretty good house at the moment, but I wouldn't bet on any of his children taking over when he's gone.

Statistics covering farm accidents rise with the temperature, points out the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council. The reason — farm activities hit a seasonal peak and very often due to the rush required to keep up with farm jobs, some farmer or family members become careless. That is when another statistic goes into the record books, warns the Council.

Annual 4-H Roundup Set For June 9-10

"4-H Leads the Way" is the theme of the 1959 Texas 4-H Roundup to be held on the campus of Texas A&M College on June 9-10. An estimated 2,000 4-H members, adult leaders, county extension agents, friends of 4-H and others are expected to attend.

While major emphasis and activities of the Roundup will be devoted to determining state winners in 25 different judging and team demonstration contests, plans have been perfected for other features. The feature of the general assembly on the evening of June 9 will be an address by Dr. Kenneth McFarland, educational consultant and lecturer for General Motors, Topeka, Kansas.

Always a highlight of the Roundup, the Chuckwagon Barbecue sponsored by the Texas 4-H Club Recognition Committee, will be the opening feature of the second evening's program. A general assembly will follow the barbecue and will feature an address by President M. T. Harrington of the Texas A&M College System. Entertainment for the evening will be provided by 4-H members who selected acts from the Show-the-Fun program will be presented. Members of the State 4-H Council will participate in both general assembly sessions.

June 10 will be a day long remembered by the 4-H members. They will be competing for state honors, and in some cases, the right to represent Texas in national contests. All contestants won the opportunity to participate in the state contests by winning first place in their county and then by placing first or second in their respective district contests.

The youth phase of Agricultural Extension Service work in Texas is now in its 51st year. Last year 106,239 boys and girls were members of the State's 4,026 local clubs.

Mrs. Muriel Mitchell visited her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Sloan, Sandra and Susan, over the week end.

Win Top 4-H Project Awards

Darrell Bozell
Paula Obrecht

Young forester Darrell Bozell, 18, of Mount Pleasant, Titus County, won the 1958 state 4-H Forestry award of a fountain pen and pencil set given by the American Forest Products Industries.

He started his forestry project two years ago when he cleared a 10-acre plot. Since then, he has planted 2,000 pine trees furnished by the Texas Forestry Service. Over 75 per cent have survived, he reports, and now stand two to three feet tall.

Young Bozell hopes to improve the area until he has the 10-acre plot in commercial pines.

Miss Paula Joan Obrecht, 18, at Claude, state winner in 4-H Dress Revue, was awarded a trip to National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago by Simplicity Pattern Company.

There she modeled a rose-beige wool flannel modified chemise dress with a shirred overback, self belt in front, three-quarter sleeves, and a stand-up roll collar opening to a V in front.

A nine-year 4-H'er, she has won first in Armstrong County dress revue each year. For the past three years, she has been one of the top five girls in district event.

She makes most of her clothes and also western shirts for her brother. About $650 has been saved by her sewing project, she estimates.

Miss Obrecht is district representative at the State 4-H Council and president and junior leader of the Claude 4-H Club.

Now a home economics major at Harding College, Searcy, Arkansas, she hopes to become an Extension worker.

ENTERTAIN MOTHERS

The GA's entertained their mothers last Monday afternoon in the fellowship hall of the First Baptist Church.

The theme of the program was "Hawaii," the girls, wearing leis around their necks carrying out the Hawaiian motif, gave talks on the different islands, towns on the islands and of the missionaries who are working there.

Hawaiian punch and coconut cookies were served. Plate favors were miniature umbrellas.

Mrs. Dee Clough left last Tuesday for Rosedale for a visit with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Finch and son.
