Odd Bits Salvaged
By The Editor

One of the highlights of our annual trip to the West Texas Press Association each August has been our visit with "Uncle Billy" Aiken, veteran editor of the Crockett Courier. Although in his eighties, "Uncle Billy" was an active figure in the association, and it was a pleasure to spend some time with him and hear of his experiences as an editor. He was widely known and respected throughout Texas newspaperdom.

k-k

We don't see "Uncle Billy" this August, for we learned last Sunday that he, probably the oldest active newspaperman in Texas, was killed last Friday in a traffic accident. He had seldom missed a press convention.

k-k

According to the news story, "Uncle Billy" was enjoying a cold drink at a drug store in Crockett just before bedtime Friday with friends. It was raining. He decided to call it a night and go home to bed. Somewhere between the drug store and his room, two blocks away, a motor vehicle struck him down. He was in his 86th year.

k-k

We remember at a convention several years ago, a photographer took a picture of "Uncle Billy" as the oldest person present dancing with a very young girl as the youngest one present. The picture never got into print because the little girl became upset when the flash bulb went off.

k-k

Mr. Aiken owned and operated the Crockett Courier for many years until recently when it was bought by the Lufkin paper and consolidated with the Crockett Democrat. He continued as editor for merit for the paper, and was active to the end. He was loved and respected among W. T. P. A.ers for his years of experience and storehouse to knowledge in the newspaper field.

k-k

An orchid is blooming in Munday. It's not unusual for an orchid to bloom, otherwise we wouldn't have those expensive orchid corsages, etc., but it is unusual for one to bloom in Munday. It's in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Keel, but all Keel has done about it is tell us!

k-k

An orchid was given the Keels' daughter at Baytown when she was ill. She in turn gave the plant to Mrs. Keel, who nurtured it through the fall and winter, and now it's rewarding her with lovely blooms. It has two blooms now, and appears to have two more in production.

k-k

Friends know that Mrs. Keel doesn't have to wear green thumb gloves to have a green thumb. Her husband tells her she can stick a stick in the ground and it will grow. So we reckon with her green thumb it isn't too unusual for even an orchid to bloom for her. A number of local people have dropped by to see this lovely flower.

k-k

And out north of town something else rather unusual will be found at the Walter Jungman home. They have a century plant that will be in full bloom in about a week. We plan a trip out there at that time. Walter said Monday when he told us about the plant that he would notify us when it gets in full bloom.

k-k

Senator George Moffett didn't get the nickname of "Cotton" for no reason at all. It came about, we understand, through his promotion of many and different ways for greater use of cotton, one of which is a cotton polish cloth.

k-k

We had a letter from Sen. Moffett on Tuesday, stating that he was sending us a small package of these cloths with the hope that "you will find them useful in many ways." We know of no one in Texas, or anywhere else for that matter, who has done more to promote the use of cotton than Cotton Moffett.

EASTERN STAR TO INSTALL OFFICERS

New officers for the Munday chapter, Order of Eastern Star, will be installed at the regular meeting on Tuesday night, June 2, at eight o'clock.

This will be a closed installation, and all members are urged to be present.

Future Highway Construction Totalling $753,100 Is Scheduled For Knox County

AUSTIN — The State Highway Department has released a highway status report on Knox County. State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer stated that the state is now maintaining 159 miles of highway in Knox County.

"The need for better highways is increasing each year with the increase in the number of motor vehicles all over the state. From 1948 to 1958 the number of vehicles in Knox County rose from 3,477 to 4,502, an increase of 29 per cent."

This increase in vehicles is reflected in the fact that the Highway Department spent $109,288 maintaining Knox County Highways in 1958 as compared to $68,202 in 1948.

Last year's completed construction total was 6.3 miles at a cost of $497,703.

There is one highway project currently under construction which extends from the Fourth County line, southwest 0.4 of a mile. The job calls for the construction of a bridge and approaches at an estimated cost of $12,093. The contractor is Strain Bros., Inc.

Two future highway projects are programmed for the county involving 25.4 miles of construction at an estimated contract cost of $753,100. These projects are as follows:

1. On U. S. 82 from Benjamin to Baylor County line, a distance of 19.2 miles; widening, reconditioning and resurfacing at an estimated cost of $613,000. The state and county will share in the financing of this project on a 50-50 basis.

2. On FM 2570 from State 283 one mile south of the Brazos River, east to the road intersection, a distance of 6.2 miles; grading, structures, and surfacing at an estimated cost of $140,100.

All these projects are under the direct supervision of District Highway Engineer Palmer Massey, chief of Childress and Herbert T. Cunningham, senior resident engineer, of Munday.

Methodist Board Members Elected In Conference

Dr. Marshall Rhew, district superintendent, held his last quarterly conference at the First Methodist Church in Munday on May 18. The rule of the church requires that a district superintendent must go back into the pastorate after six years.

At this conference, a motion was made that the local church adopt the "rotation plan" in the official board. This means that every year six members of the board will retire automatically. The board will consist of 16 men, with 14 ex-officio members.

Farm Bureau In Drive For Blue Cross, Blue Shield

J. Omar Cure, President of the Knox County Farm Bureau, has announced a "Presidents' Drive" for more Blue Cross-Blue Shield members. All applications for the Drive must be in the hands of the Dallas office of Blue Cross-Blue Shield by June 13.

The Presidents' Drive is being carried out in the form of a statewide contest with prizes available for winning County Presidents and winning State Directors. In addition, the County Farm Bureau treasury will receive an extra bonus if the County meets its quota of 1/3 increase in their Blue Cross-Blue Shield membership as of April 1, 1959, or a minimum of thirty (30) applications, whichever is greater.

Details of the contest prizes and rules are available at the local County Farm Bureau office located at Munday, Texas, Phone 2711. The Texas Farm Bureau, working with Blue Cross and Blue Shield, has offered a program of prepaid hospital and medical-surgical care since June 1, 1944. This program was, and still is, based on a deep conviction that farm families have as great a need for prepaid health care as anyone. The present program offers to its Farm Bureau members the finest prepaid health protection that has ever been made available to them.

In participating in this program the Farm Bureau is joining with over 56 million other people who have chosen Blue Cross as the most satisfactory prepaid hospital care available. Hospital costs have been steadily increasing, along with other living expenses, and more than most other services for reasons that are peculiar to the special job that the hospital does. The hospital is open 24 hours a day, every day, offering to its patients the most modern of equipment and all of the newest drugs and techniques that have become available.

Even though the commercial office will be closed all day Saturday, Mr. Gates emphasized that the company will continue to render the same service on customers' premises that has been the custom in the past. This service can be initiated by telephone.

The Saturday closing policy is being put into effect throughout the Lone Star distribution system.

Tax-Man Sam Sez:

After April 15 every year thousands of Texans heave a sigh of relief at having the income tax business out of the way for another year.

Of course, you don't ever complete your income tax business. The things you do throughout the year will earn your taxes. Everyday you earn money or you buy or sell something. All of these day by day dealings add up to determine the amount of income tax you will owe for the year.

If you are one of those people who have recently bought a few shares of stock in the stock market the date of buying or selling can make a big difference. May 1 sing the same song and the same verse, "Read your tax instructions before, not afterwards."

Philip Homers Have Adopted Baby Girl

After a long, long wait and lots of red tape, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Homer are now the parents of a baby girl. The little Italian girl is theirs by adoption.

She was born May 5, 1958 in Florence, Italy, and her new parents picked her up last Saturday at Carter Airport in Fort Worth.

Filing their application with Catholic Charities in Dallas over four years ago, the Homers have waited this time for their baby girl. They are very proud parents, and Phil was passing out cigars Monday in celebration of the event.

Mac's Food Store Sold To Abilene Man; Personnel To Remain The Same

J. H. McNabb of Quannah, who has operated Mac's Food Store here since purchasing the Atkinson Food Store several years ago, made public last Monday that he has sold the store to Glenn W. Barber of Abilene. The change in ownership became effective at the close of business last Saturday.

Mr. Barber is experienced in the grocery business, having followed it for several years. He was formerly associated with Super Duper Food Stores, operating in Midland and Odessa, serving as secretary and treasurer of the firm.

"All policies of service and quality which have been practices by the store will be carried out under the new ownership," Mr. Barber stated, "and your grocery and market needs will be supplied at the lowest possible prices and with that friendly service you have been accustomed to."

The new owner will operate under the firm name of Lucky Dollar Food Market.

No change in personnel is planned at this time. Bob Brown will continue to serve as manager of the store until the new owner arrives in Munday a few weeks later, then will have charge of the market. All other employees will also remain with their jobs.

In announcing the sale of his business, Mr. McNabb expressed his appreciation to the people of this area for their friendship and patronage. He asked their continued patronage for the new owner.

"We had not anticipated selling the Munday store," he said, "and its sale was almost as much a surprise to us as to the public. Just recently, Mrs. McNabb and I had considered returning to Munday to make our home. We like the town, and we know of no friendlier people anywhere."

"We deeply appreciate the patronage given us and the confidence you have shown in us while in business here. As we say 'goodbye,' we sincerely hope you will give Mr. Barber and his family the same friendly reception you gave us when we first came to Munday."

Claude Larry Hill, above son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude W. Hill, will graduate from Texas Tech in Lubbock on Monday, June 1, majoring in agronomy. After graduation, he, his wife and son will make their home near Roswell, N. M., where he will be employed with a chemical company.

This newly-organized group of young men will hold their banquet at 8 p.m. Friday, June 5, at the school auditorium.

THOSE GOOD OLD DAYS

Just about all of us periodically yearn for the alleged "good old days" when, for example, you could buy a pound of meat for a mere 40c. We look at present prices and shake our heads somberly.

But the truth is that these "good old days" weren't as rose-colored, financially speaking, as fallible memory would have it. It's true that the dollar-and-cents price of meat is much higher than in past times. But when you apply the most accurate measuring stick—the amount of time we have to work to earn enough money to buy something—it's actually far lower.

Here's the simple statistical story. The average breadwinner of 40 years ago had to work more than 51 minutes to make enough money to buy a pound of pork. Now he has to work only about one-third as long.

The same thing's true of the most popular meat, beef. Back in 1919, the average worker toiled 42½ minutes to buy a pound of it. Now he can earn the necessary wherewithal in less than 23 minutes.

What this means is that despite inflation, the cost of meat has not risen nearly as rapidly as the average family purchasing power. That can be chalked up to constantly improving methods of production, marketing, and retailing. These keep meat prices, measured in terms of purchasing power, at a bargain level.

HARTFORD, WISCONSIN, TIMES-PRESS: "Communism, in one century, has gained sway over more people than Christianity in twenty centuries! With socialism, its 'younger brother in short pants', Communism is mopping up the world! Can we stop it? Nobody else can and WE can only if we get our own snowball rolling, pushed by dedicated men who believe in freedom, have the integrity to stand up for it, the intelligence to recognize the enemy in its disguised forms, and the moral faith by which alone freedom can survive."

Expenditures by the states increased more than three times between 1946 and 1957—from about $7.1 billion to about $24.2 billion. In the same period, state debt multiplied more than six times—from $2.4 billion to $13.7 billion.

TIMES CERTAINLY HAVE CHANGED!

One of the motheaten arguments used against large business is that it exploits the many for the benefit of the few. If that were ever true, times certainly have changed!

Take, for instance, the 1958 financial statement of a great American oil company which operates on a world-wide scale.

This company paid income taxes of $400,000,000, plus production, property, franchise and other operating taxes of $405,700,000, and import duties of $1,000,900,000. On top of that, in its role as a collector of consumer gas taxes for governments, it collected another $548,600,000. So, the grand total of this company's payments to governments came to $2,355,200,000.

That works out to the equivalent of $11.40 a share on the company's stock. And it was more than five times the dividend payments to the actual share holders and more than double the employe payrolls and benefit costs.

One way or another, the public gets the lion's share of the profits made by typical industry today—the weight of taxation sees to that. The owners, with few exceptions, get only a fraction as much as the tax collectors.

IF THERE WERE NO ADVERTISING

Some people still think that advertising represents needless economic waste. Anyone who feels this way would do well to ponder an editorial observation made by the Portland, Oregon, Journal during the recently observed Advertising Recognition Week: "Without advertisements, the cost of a single copy of a newspaper would be so high nobody could afford to buy it. And without advertising, the public would be denied the tremendous variety of entertainment, news and cultural programs offered on radio and television. It is true that the public pays for advertising through the price of the article sold, but the mass production which advertising makes possible reduces the unit price far below what it would be without this stimulus, and advertising cost per unit is often inconsequential. For instance, advertising expenditure on a loaf of bread is less than the cost of the wrapper."

The Journal concludes that without advertising ". . . the nation's economy would stutter and stop." The ads create demand — and it's from the demand for goods and services that we get our living.

LONG STAR Agriculture

Released by The Texas Department of Agriculture

By John C. White, Commissioner

THE TEXAS LAND BOOM!—HOW LONG WILL IT LAST?

Texas farm land prices have been booming for 10 years, and the six percent dollar-value increase shown from 1957 to 1958 indicates that the peak has not yet been reached.

What are the factors forcing a continued inflation of Texas land prices? A 25-county study to determine some of these factors was made last year, and the result was an interesting picture of what generally is happening in the Texas agricultural land market today.

The first and most obvious strengthening factor in the market both in Texas and elsewhere is the increasing population as opposed to the fixed amount of land available. This is a simple supply-demand situation which is intensified in our state because of its above-normal population increase.

Another major price-determining factor for land has to do with land characteristics, such as its fertility, soil texture, water supply, cover, wildlife and subsurface minerals — such as oil. Most of these are agricultural characteristics, however, and the present market price of farm land generally is higher than can be justified by its value for crop or livestock production. For the answer as to why farm land prices are out of reason for farming purposes, most people concerned have named mineral activity. Mineral value of land for sale, however, is mostly speculative, because once minerals are found on a parcel of land, production begins and the land involved is practically frozen in ownership and is removed from the land market.

Next to being mineral-rich, perhaps the most fetching quality of land on today's market has to do with its location. During the past two decades, improved urban working conditions and reduced working hours have made it possible for city and townsfolk to enter the farm land business. More than a few town dwellers have gone to the country in search of acreage and a profitable sideline in farming. And, the closer in the land is and the better the roads getting to it are, the more the newcomer is willing to pay for it.

Also on the location value side of the picture is the tremendous conversion of agricultural land into a real estate gold mine. This has been especially true in Texas where every city of any size has sprawled its housing developments and industries over pastures or cotton patches.

All these market improvement factors combine to make one other total factor: more and more land is becoming tightly held and taken off the market altogether, ever lessening the amount of land available to a greater number of people. So long as our economy is sound, it seems inevitable that the value of useful or potentially useful land has only one way to go—up.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

BUILDING YOUR HOME

When you are ready to build, you will find that the law helps in many ways to make your home enjoyable and secure.

Have you decided on the type house you want and the amount you want to spend? If so, then let's go into details!

1. Your lot: Junior's school or your church may be nearby, but find out:

(a) Whether they are planning to run a highway through the area or nearby, or make any improvements for which you can be assessed.

(b) What "covenants" or restrictions run with the land? To protect residents, the plats or basic deeds of some neighborhoods call on you to build a certain size or type of house. Do you want to and can you afford to?

(c) Easements. Either you or your neighbors may need to run pipes, or string wires over each other's land or to share a driveway. Have the abstract checked carefully to disclose any easements.

2. Zoning Ordinances: For your protection the local government frequently zones some areas, for example, for single houses only, for multiple dwellings; for retail stores, for manufacturing, etc.

Unless the local governing body changes its zoning ordinance, no filling station, for instance, can get up next to you in a residential area. Neither could you turn your home into a store. In any case, you should find out what your neighborhood zoning rules are.

3. Building Code: Be certain that the plans and construction will meet the requirements of the local building code as to size, location and structure. Municipal ordinances usually impose strict standards for the building, the plumbing and the electrical wiring. In many cases only licensed building tradesmen are permitted to make the installations.

4. Financing: Financing contracts protect both you and the lender. Unless you pay cash, you will use credit to pay for your house, most likely a deed of trust or a land contract. Your installments often include principal, interest, insurance and taxes. Under a land contract the lender holds title to your house until you pay for it. If you fall behind, the holder can take the house back. With a deed of trust, the lender has a lien which he can foreclose if you default. You may get some of your money back on the principal, but you may also have to make up any loss the lender makes in reselling the house.

Well worked-out contracts can help make your dream house come true. A construction contract or a so-called "earnest-money" agreement or receipt is no job for an amateur. Too many legal details are involved. Your lawyer is trained by education and experience to protect your best interests in contracting and

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Henry A. Hille, M. D., State Health Officer

Falling is one of the commonest but most unnecessary hazards faced by older persons according to the Texas State Department of Health.

Hundreds of thousands of old people are injured every year from falls, and more people die after 65 from falls and their complications than from auto accident injuries.

One of the major factors in falls is that as persons age their balance-recovery machinery fails. If a person starts to "teeter," certain muscles in his body instantly go into action to keep him on his feet. But in the older years, these muscles get lazy and don't function as rapidly.

One of the most common causes of falls and their preventions are:

Stairways. When an older person goes up or down stairs, he should not take one step with each foot, but should put both feet on a step before proceeding to the next one.

Sufficient light. Older persons don't see as well as they once did. Stairways especially should be lighted. A night light in the bathroom is recommended. In addition, a person should keep a flashlight by his bed to use if he gets up in the night.

Bedrooms. The most dangerous room in the house is not the kitchen, but the bedroom. This is where most elderly persons fall, often because they get up too quickly and become dizzy. When a person gets up, he should sit on the edge of the bed for a few minutes.

Taking a step backwards. If a person feels uncertain about his footing he should never step backwards unless he can see where he is going.

Not lifting feet high enough. As a person ages his muscles and ligaments are less lively and he doesn't lift his feet as high, with the result that he trips over all sorts of things — rug corners, toys, thresholds and doormats. Other dangers are bathrooms and climbing on chairs (A weekly feature of the Division of Public Health Education, Texas State Department of Health).

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Warren

Probably very few of the readers of this column have ever heard of Bill Arp. He deserves a kinder fate. He was a Confederate veteran and became a widely-known humorist after the Civil War. His humor was homespun, human, genuine. He referred to one man as "a sorter of a self-edicated fool." All of us have known such an individual.

On one occasion (so Bill relates) he had a man arrested for shooting Arp's hog. The defense was that it was a wild hog. The jury came in with a verdict, "Because of the scarcity of provisions after the war and the hard time that some men are having in maintaining their families, we find the defendant not guilty but we recommend that he not do so any more."

Bill summed up, "The motto of his case is that a man ortn't to keep hogs in a poor naberhood."

Bill had another experience. A man had agreed to sell him wheat at $1 a bushel, "if he (the seller) couldn't do better." If the man found that he could get a higher price, he was to come back and give Bill the preference. The man sold the wheat to someone else for $1.05.

The parties agreed to let an arbitrator decide. The arbitrator studied the matter for three days and decided that the third man, who had bought the wheat, should have the wheat and that Bill should have the preference.

Such was the course of justice in Georgia in those days — allowing for the comical touches that Bill Arp may have added to the facts.

Out near Big Spring, years ago, the sheriff called on a rancher with a foreclosure in his pocket. The cowman told him that a test for oil was about to hit the formation, if there was any formation to hit. So they walked over to the well, the ranchman mournfully humming, "I'm Headin' for the Last Roundup." Hardly had they reached the derrick floor when a column of liquid gold went roaring a hundred feet into the air. The sheriff didn't twirl a long, black mustache (he didn't have one, for one thing) nor did he hiss "Curses"; instead, he flung a thirty-dollar Stetson into the slush pit in his enthusiasm.

Time To Spray For Pecan Casebearers

The pecan nut casebearer is one of the more serious threats to pecan production. This insect can be controlled, however, if you apply the correct insecticide at the right time.

The casebearer deposits its tiny eggs on the tip end of the pecan after the nuts have pollinated. This stage is easy to recognize as the tips turn brown after pollination. If the casebearer is present a close examination will show the tiny greenish-white egg attached to the tip end of the nuts.

It takes about four days for the eggs to hatch into small worms which leave the nuts to feed on the first two or three buds below the nut cluster. This feeding period lasts from four to five days, after which the worms return to the nut cluster to feed on the nuts.

During the period between the laying of the eggs and the time when the worms return to the nut cluster is the time to apply control measures.

Sprays that are effective in controlling the pecan nut casebearers are:

- 3 Lbs. of 50% wettable DDT.
  - OR
  - 2 Lbs. of 15% wettable parathion.
  - OR
  - 3 Lbs. of 25% wettable malathion.
  - OR
  - 5 Lbs. of 40% wettable toxaphane.
  - OR
  - 1 Pt. of 40% nicotine sulfate plus 2 qts. summer oil.
- The above recommendations make 100 gallons of mixture. Sprays are ineffective after worms enter nuts.

deavor to assist the teachers in the furtherance of their educational pursuits. We believe that this contest has developed an increased awareness of the importance of school seating and proper posture, which will improve student performance."

Mr. Ellinger will present Mrs. Palm with her winner's certificate and check on Thursday, May 28, at Dyess Elementary. A. E. Wells, superintendent of the Abilene Independent School District will preside.

Miss Hertel And James Styles To Marry June 20th

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hertel of Seymour officially announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Henrietta to Mr. James Styles, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Styles of Seymour.

The wedding will take place on the afternoon of June 20 in the Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Seymour. Father Anthony Schroeder, pastor of St. Joseph's Church in Rhineland, will officiate.

Miss Hertel is a spring graduate of the Academy of Mary Immaculate in Wichita Falls, receiving her diploma last Monday night.

Mr. Styles is a 1958 graduate of Seymour High School, where he was a member of the Seymour Panthers team which went to the regional playoff. He attended Midwestern University in Wichita Falls during the past year.

Vera H. D. Club Meets In Home Of Mrs. Tom Hardin

The Vera Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. Tom Hardin May 19 at 1:30 p.m. Seventeen members answered roll call with one guest being present, Mrs. Bill Doss of Vera.

President Aleitha Beck was in charge of the meeting. Mrs. Bobby Roberson gave the council report. The encampment will be held in Monday this year sometime in July.

Eight ladies from the club are to help with the "Last Men's Supper" in Benjamin the first day of June. Proceeds from this will go to council.

Cookies and punch were served by the hostess.

4-H Pantries To Be Stocked With Variety Of Foods

Pantry shelves in Texas 4-H homes will literally groan under the weight of all kinds of canned foods when club members complete their 4-H canning projects this summer.

Not only does the entire family benefit as young cooks perfect their canning skills, but club members themselves stand to gain substantially, contends the Extension Service which directs this work. Along with learning the basic steps of food preservation, the 4-Hers have opportunities to demonstrate, to exhibit best products at fairs, and last but not least, to compete for a variety of awards.

For the past 31 years, canning awards have been provided by Kerr Glass Manufacturing Corporation, Sand Springs, Oklahoma. Perhaps the most exciting award is the expense-paid trip to the National 4-H Club Congress held at the Conrad Hilton hotel in Chicago. There more than 1,300 champions boys and girls from every state have a chance to compare notes during the week-long event.

Up to four winners in each county will be in line for a handsome gold-filled canning medal, while the top award in national competition is a $4000 college scholarship. Winners are determined by the Extension staff.

The congress trip last year went to Miss Janice Hott, 17, of Weatherford, who completed a six-year canning project by winning top state honors. By actual count she had preserved 1,276 quarts of fruits, pickles jams and jellies. She serves as a junior leader of the County 4-H Club.

Miss Hertel Is Honored Saturday With Luncheon

Miss Henrietta Hertel, spring graduate of the Academy of Mary Immaculate in Wichita Falls, was honored with a luncheon at 12:30 p.m. Saturday, May 23, by her mother, Mrs. W. C. Hertel.

The luncheon was held in the banquet room of Underwood's Barbecue in Wichita Falls.

The head table was enhanced by an arrangement of white stalks and graced with a blue bow. The side tables were strewn with small white umbrellas with names of the graduates on them. Favors of the girl graduates, filled with mints, were placed at the head of each plate.

Miss Hertel is president of the graduating class.

Guest present includes Misses Nelda Fowler, Janice Pennartz, Lois Martini, Patricia Frances, Dolores Jacobi, Beth Martini, Lucille Parker, Marsha Ulrich, Fil Calland, Zita Bushu, Nancy Spieker, Martha Apple and Messrs. James Styles, David Jackson and Doyle Frost.

News From The U. S. Congress

By Congressman Frank Ikard

Our Bill of Rights provides that "The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and effects against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated, and no warrants shall issue, but upon probable cause, supported by Oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched, and the persons or things to be seized. For a long time the Courts have held that this meant that a man's home could not be invaded or searched without good cause, and except in extremely unusual or critical circumstances an officer could not invade one's home in the absence of a lawful warrant. In the recent five-four decision, however, the Supreme Court has held that it is not always necessary to have a warrant to enter a person's home. This case arose out of the refusal of a Baltimore man to allow a health inspector into his home to inspect for rats. The home owner chose not to have his home invaded without due process of law, and in so doing, exercised his privileges under the Bill of Rights. Certainly the inspector could have gone to court and declared his reasons for needing to make the search and have returned a few hours later with a warrant and fulfilled what he considered to be his duty. The public interest or the public health standards in this case would not seem to have been harmed by the few hours delay necessary to go through the normal procedure to secure the search warrant. The whole intent of the Bill of Rights in this regard was to protect private citizens from harassment from the hordes of government agents regardless of who they are. It was written to protect the insignificant few as well as the many, not to make it easier for government agents to examine, probe, or inspect, but to afford liberty to the people, and issue sanctity of one's home. The Court went a long way in this decision, and while the facts may make it appear to be insignificant, the precedent is extremely dangerous, and even though the Court attempted to set down strict rules, in the end the power is given to the Government to violate the rights of individuals. The trend of this decision should be immediately stopped by legislation.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Andrews of Wichita Falls were Washington visitors this week.

Excessive Speed Responsible For Many Accidents

"More than half of all rural fatal accident, in 1958, were caused by driving too fast for conditions. This fact alone takes a major problem of traffic accident prevention from the realms of engineering, licensing or laws and marks excessive speed as basically a human problem."

J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety Association, made the above statement today as he sought community support for the statewide Slow Down and Live campaign which begins with Memorial Day and will end with Labor Day.

Musick said this period had been selected for the campaign.

Toot-Toot For Safety

By Martha Johnson
Dodge Safety Consultant

HAVE you ever been in a line of cars at a railroad crossing waiting for a train to pass when a driver somewhere behind you starts to lean on his horn?

And, while listening to the senseless, irritating blare of the horn, have you ever bragged to yourself how you never use your horn and therefore are a great driver?

If you have, you're just as wrong as the smarty-pants with the heavy hand.

Car horns have gotten a bad name because of the railroad crossing character, the teen-age boy who honks loud and long to announce his arrival at the girl friend's house, and others who mis-use the instrument.

Because of this, many drivers refrain from using the horn when they should, depriving themselves of an important safety device.

When a driver absent-mindedly starts to pull in front of you and could possibly cause a crash, there is no better way to alert him than a short, sharp blast of the horn.

The horn also is invaluable for warning youngsters playing in a street of a car's approach.

Proper use of the horn is all-important. There is a sense of urgency in a brief honk. One long, blaring note is just so much noise.

Remember, don't have a mute car. Toot-toot for safety.

accident prevention program, he said.

The annual Slow Down and Live campaign was initiated as a pilot operation in eleven north-eastern states in 1953 and has since expanded to include Canada, Puerto Rico and all of the U. S.

FARM FREEDOM

Eight out of ten farmers want greater freedom and less government in agriculture, Ezra Taft Benson, Secretary of Agriculture, told members of the Associated Retail Bakers of America at their annual meeting recently in Washington.

Benson quoted figures stemming from a poll made by a national farm magazine. They disclosed that 80 per cent of the farmers queried asked for "no supports, no controls, no floors, free market prices; get the government clear out." The remainder, for the most part, wanted a minimum of governmental restrictions and regulations. Farmers in the wheat states voted overwhelmingly for more freedom from controls.

Secretary Benson told the bakers that "your own industry with its enriched products has greatly improved the nation's nutritional standards. Bread is a bargain in nutrition. Sure, in terms of money, a loaf of bread costs more today than it did 25 years ago. But in terms of the labor required to earn the price of a loaf of bread, it costs a good deal less. What's more, the average loaf of bread today contributes to the diet over four times as much thiamine, three times as much riboflavin, and about twice as much calcium, iron and niacin as it did 25 years ago."

"That is why the low and moderate cost food plans suggested by the Department of Agriculture include enriched or whole grain bread at every meal."

Knox Prairie Philosopher Neglects His Farm While He Talks About, Of All Things, T. V. Shows For Children

Editor's Note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek discusses children's television programs this week. He probably should stick to farming.

According to an article I read in a newspaper last night which I brought home from town early, I had half-sole, the national P.T.A. is up in arms over the type of television programs the children of this country are watching.

"It's high time we stopped talking about the 13-year-old mentality of the average American," a leader complained, saying television is making a mistake in assuming its programs have to be planned on that level. She added that the way to improve the programs is to have parents select their kids shows. Make em stop looking at the bad ones.

Now I'm no expert on television programs, but it's not clear to me how a parent is going to decide a program is all right until it's too late. I mean, unless you know in advance a program bad for children, then half way through the thing, right when the bullets are flying, is no time to shut it off. Maybe some parents can walk into a room in the middle of a blood thirsty TV show watched spell-bound by a bunch with it, but I don't know very many.

Understand, I don't have the answer. It's true most television programs I've watched are about as interesting as watching the clothes whirl around behind the glass door in an automatic washing machine, but I may have tuned in at the wrong time. When you're using a neighbor's TV set, you can't sit glued to it all the time.

Still, I believe if I was in the television business, I'd hate to have the P.T.A. after me.

On the whole, though, I have a notion that children will triumph over television, instead of the other way around. Some television programs may be bad for them, but so are some grown-ups.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Largest Motor Hotel Opens

The eyes of the hotel world turned toward New Orleans May 1, when the huge multimillion-dollar Fontainebleau Motor Hotel opened to the public. Credited with being one of the most luxurious and complete motor hotels in the country, the Fontainebleau aroused widespread interest in hotel circles, by being the first de luxe motor hotel to open its facilities in a series of successive steps, which will climax in a formal opening in the early summer.

Guests invited to participate

In this informal opening receive special scroll, guests cards and souvenirs commemorating this pioneering innovation in motor hotel operation.

By early summer the Fontainebleau will formally open its public rooms in addition to its 200 guest rooms. In the fall the management plans to increase the number of rooms from 200 to 400. When this is completed, the Fontainebleau will be the largest motor hotel operating in the United States.

Slow Down And Live Slogan Now In Seventh Year

AUSTIN. — For the seventh year, Texas is promoting the summertime traffic safety campaign under the Slow Down and Live slogan. The Texas Safety Association will coordinate the program throughout the Lone Star State.

The theme for 1959 is "Can YOU Stop in Time?"

As in previous years, the campaign starts with Memorial Day and will end with Labor Day. This period has been selected for the campaign, because it is during these months that vacation travel reaches its peak.

J. O. Musick, TSA's general manager, points out, the theme, "Can YOU Stop in Time," emphasizes four basic causes of every accident.

"A mechanically unsafe vehicle, a roadway hazardous in design or size, a driver inadequately equipped for his task or a driver whose mental and emotional attitude (often caused by traffic jams, drinking, fatigue, etc.) is such that it causes him to forget his normal safe driving habits."

In Texas, last year, there were 2,342 persons killed and 126,842 injured in 72,362 traffic accidents. Most of these occurred because Someone Could NOT Stop in Time.

Goree Graduates Return From Trip

The graduating class of Goree High School has returned from a trip to points in central and south Texas. On the morning following graduation, they left for Austin, where they toured the capitol, governor's mansion and signed the register in each. They also toured the University of Texas.

They journeyed to San Marcus where they rode in the glass-bottom boat and saw the underwater ballet. From San Marcus they went to San Antonio. They toured the Alamo and went through Brackenridge Park and the Chinese Sunken Gardens. They went to Corpus Christi from San Antonio. Here they made a coast drive and took the Gulf Clipper on a short sea voyage. They also went on a guided tour of the naval base at Corpus Christi. From here they went to Kerrville where they spent their last night.

Wild Animal Babies Need To Stay With Mothers

AUSTIN. — This is the time of year when young wildlife is on the prowl. A warning against capturing this wildlife has just been issued by the director of law enforcement of the Game and Fish Commission. He says it not only is illegal to confine wildlife without a permit, but it also is dangerous from the standpoint of personal safety.

He points out that there are a few instances where injured young can be saved by a temporary treatment, but that generally babies of the woods are far better off if left in their own environment.

He suggests if you know of a distress case you notify your game warden as soon as possible. He can make proper arrangements and see that the animals are cared for.

The director also warned against disturbing bird nests, or even the frightening of parent birds from their nests. He says that children should be instructed not to molest baby birds or eggs in any way.

Local county agents can supply information on how to control chiggers or red bugs on the home premises. Ask for a copy of L-311, Texas Guide for Controlling Household Insects.
