Odd Bits Salvaged
By The Editor

"How long is temporary?"

k-k

The article we received recently asking this question had reference to our present federal excise tax on passenger traffic. This tax, we understand, was imposed on passenger traffic on airlines, busses and railroads, mainly to discourage unnecessary travel. It was 10 per cent. Sixteen years later the tax remains on the books, and every person who travel via public conveyance pays the government $1 for every $10 spent for tickets.

k-k

So temporary can mean a good long time.

k-k

When we rented the little house just north of the Church of Christ properties which belongs to Mrs. Carl Mahan, but which we still refer to as "our house," Mr. Mahan told us: "Aaron, it's yours as long as you want it." About ten years later, when we had built our present home, we gave up the little house and wrote Mrs. Mahan: "We hope you can find a more permanent renter." She hasn't done it to this day!

k-k

Looks like we considered ourself a temporary renter just like this federal excise tax is temporary.

k-k

Another slant on the subject comes to us like this: When you have an unbearable pain and take a pill for temporary relief, it's a lot more temporary than being temporarily out of funds. In our lifetime, we've heard of people who were "temporarily on the financial rocks" who remained that way.

k-k

So it seems to us that temporary can mean almost any length of time, and that temporary excise tax will remain on the books until the big wigs up at Washington decide just how long they want temporary to be.

k-k

The good rain Sunday night temporarily halted the potato harvest, which was believed to be just past the half-way mark, and some believe too much moisture at this time would damage the spuds yet in the fields. The rain, however, temporarily put row-crop farmers in good shape, but some of them were not quite ready for rain as they still had some fields not hoed out. All in all, though, crop prospects are on the up and up, temporarily speaking.

k-k

Damon Lewis of Houston, who used to live in these parts, was here during the week end to visit Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bevers. He remarked Monday about how good crop prospects looked in this particular area and said he used to hear people say: "Give us a good rain in June, a shower in July and a few heavy dews and our crop is assured." Looks like we're well on the way.

k-k

Postmaster Lee Haymes was telling folks Tuesday that the flooded conditions that caused a train wreck between Fort Worth and Wichita Falls caused us to Miss our Tuesday's mail from the Fort Worth-Dallas area. "That mail won't be here until twelve o'clock tonight," he said, "and we'll give you a double dose tomorrow!"

k-k

The First National Bank of Munday is soon making an important gift to the community, according to W. E. Braly, President. It's one that can be seen from four directions and from some distance and will be of inestimable service to the community. Watch for it soon.

"Any man with the strength to dress himself and walk out of the house unassisted is physically able and young enough to go fishing," says Vern Sanford, secretary of the Texas Press Association in a recent article in West Texas Publisher. And he adds further: "Just remember, fishing is the one prescription doctors not only give their patients, but enjoy themselves. The number of MD's you will find week-ending on the lakes and rivers attest to that. So do as the doctors do — go fishing!" We love those kind of prescriptions, "Dr." Sanford!

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Foshee and daughters of Midland and her father, H. N. Lawing of Arlington, were guests in the home of Ronald's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Foshee, over the week end.

Munday Woman, Pastor Husband, Named As Missionaries To Ecuador

Rev. and Mrs. Gerald W. Doyle of Gould, Okla., were appointed missionaries to Ecuador recently at Ridgecrest (N. C.) Baptist Assembly. They were among 18 new missionaries commissioned by the Southern Baptist Foreign Mission Board at a special meeting opening the week-long Foreign Missions Conference.

Mrs. Doyle, the former Maurice Patterson and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Patterson, grew up on a farm near Munday. She was born in Fisher County, but lived there only a few years.

Mrs. Doyle received the bachelor of arts degree from Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, Texas, and attended Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth, Texas. She taught first grade in the public schools of Fort Worth for two years.

Mr. Doyle is pastor of First Baptist Church, Gould, where he has served since October, 1956. He said that while ministering to Latin-American migrant laborers in the Gould community he discovered that he had the ability to work with people of a different cultural background from his own and that he loved that kind of work. He and his wife felt led to contact the Foreign Mission Board concerning missionary appointment.

Before coming to the Gould church, Mr. Doyle pastored Southside Baptist Church, Toll, Tex., First Baptist Church, Mingus, Tex., El Paso Baptist Church, Roby, Tex., and Union Hill Baptist Church, Breckenridge, Tex.

A native of Montague County, Texas, he grew up in Wilbarger County, near the town of Vernon, Tex. His boyhood was spent in farming communities. He received the bachelor of arts degree from Hardin-Simmons University and the bachelor of divinity degree from Southwestern Seminary.

The Doyles have two children, Maria Francine, nearly two and a half, and Chad Patterson, eight months.

The June appointments bring the total number of active Southern Baptist foreign missionaries to 1,343.

County Students Enrolled In H-SU Summer School

ABILENE — Four students from the Munday area are enrolled in summer school at Hardin-Simmons University.

Those attending H-SU are Margaret Ann Tidwell of Munday and Ward M. Cooksey, Mickey Lee Land, and Long Wayne Beatty, all of Goree.

Summer school includes two six-week terms and four three-week sessions. Enrollment for the first six weeks, including the initial three-week term, totals 496 students, an increase of six per cent over the same period a year ago. The summer session will end with commencement exercises on Aug. 21.

Forty-seven regular Hardin-Simmons faculty members and five visiting teachers are on the summer staff. The guest lecturers are L. Wayne Campbell and Richard J. Glesse, both of the staff of the Abilene State School; Edward Vann Tapscott, assistant principal of Abilene's South Junior High; Dr. Lloyd D. Huff, chairman of the English Department at McMurry College; and Floyd W. Parsons, superintendent of Big Spring schools.

Among objectives of the workshop is the improvement of school and community health leadership and programs. Members have the services of a number of medical men, public health workers, and other specialists as consultants.

BALL GAME SUNDAY

A baseball game between the Red Devils, consisting of Spanish and colored boys of Munday, and the Black Eagles, the colored team of Haskell, will be played Sunday afternoon, June 28, at 3 o'clock at the Wallace field on the Knox City highway.

Elliott Rites Held At Goree

Sam Elliott, life-long resident of Knox County, passed away on Sunday, June 14, at his home near Goree. He has been suffering from lung cancer for several months.

He was born October 15, 1909, in Knox County, and spent most of his life here.

Funeral services were held at 10 a.m. Tuesday, June 16, from the First Methodist Church in Goree with the pastor, Rev. H. Clayton Adair, officiating. Burial was in Goree cemetery.

Palbearers were Lloyd Bradley, Woody Roberts, Buster Coffman, Charlie Haynie, Paul Pruitt and John Broach.

Survivors include his mother, Mrs. J. W. Elliott of Goree, and six brothers, Bob and Jack Elliott of Goree, Ray Elliott of Kermitt, Nick Elliott of Wink, J. C. Elliott of Lorenzo and Glen Elliott of Oklahoma.

Munday Teacher In Graduate Workshop

DENTON — Mrs. Dennis T. Bryant Jr. of Munday is one of 29 public school teachers enrolled in a graduate workshop in health education at North Texas State College this summer.

Mrs. Bryant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Howell, Route 2, Munday, is working toward the master of education degree. She teaches the second grade at Buckner Orphan Home in Dallas.

Among objectives of the workshop is the improvement of school and community health leadership and programs. Members have the services of a number of medical men, public health workers, and other specialists as consultants.

Oil Activities

McMahon - Bullington Drilling Co. No. 1 H. M. Michels, three miles northeast of Munday, is a new wildcat location. Drilling will go to 2200 feet.

W. M. Null No. 1 J. B. Reneau, 2 1/2 miles southwest of Munday will be drilled to 2500 feet.

Null has reported a daily pumping potential of 92 barrels of 38 gravity crude, plus 5 per cent water, for No. A-6 Sybilla Andres in the L.M. (Tannehill) Field, six miles north of Munday. Pay was perforated at 1890-96 feet, and total depth was 1922 feet.

Mrs. Bill Ripptoe and sons, Pat and Rusty, of Lubbock visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Dean, last Monday and Tuesday.

Knox Area Is Soaked By Week-end Rains

This old country is wet again—and a more welcomed situation could not be experienced in general.

Although the rains halted harvesting of the area's potato crops and hit some farmers with their row crops not completely cleared out, and rains have brought crop prospects to the highest peak for this time of year.

Heavy rain and some winds hit this area at around ten o'clock Sunday night, bringing the welcomed moisture that caused streams to flow and lakes and farm ponds to be filled. Much of Knox County reported from two to three inches or better Sunday night. Gilliland, Vera, Goree and Munday had better than two inches, but the rainfall seemed lighter in the Knox City area.

High winds which accompanied the rain snapped four electric poles at "Midway" between Munday and Goree, leaving Goree with out electric or telephone service and without water for a time, since the town is supplied by means of electric pumps.

Electric service was restored Monday morning by a West Texas Utilities Co. mobile sub-station which was brought in from Childress and placed into service while crews were putting up new poles and working on lines to get the 6,900 volt line from the Munday station back to normal.

Winds leveled a frame garage and tore off tree limbs in Goree. A number of tree limbs were also torn off in Munday, and roof damage was reported to farm homes in the storm area.

No heavy crop damage was reported, as farmers of this area have their crops well under way. When the ground dries, farmers will again be busy plowing and cleaning out their crops with high hopes of a good yield this fall.

RESIGNS—Rev. G. L. Allison, above, has tendered his resignation as pastor of the First Baptist Church of Munday to become pastor of the Wooster Baptist Church in Baytown. The family will leave early in July.

Coming here from Hereford, Rev. Allison has pastored the local church since April, 1957, and the family has been an import of the community since that time. The Baytown church has about twice the membership of the local church.

Rev. Allison will close his pastorate here with the evening service Sunday, July 5.

Social Security Steps Up Payments To Retired Workers

Workers planning to retire should file their claims for Social Security benefits from 60 to 90 days before that date. This will enable the Social Security Administration to make more prompt payments to people in this area; said Jess Fowler, Field Representative, out of the Wichita Falls Social Security Office.

Those retiring now should bring some old records to show their age, and their 1958 W-2 form if salaried, or their 1958 income tax return if self-employed. For proving their age, any record over ten years old showing the person's date of birth would be helpful.

In the past, most workers have delayed filing their claims until they had retired. Under the new plan, Fowler said that most workers will get their Social Security benefits promptly after retiring. Fowler is in Munday, Tex., at the City Hall once each month. His next scheduled visit here is on Tuesday, July 28 at 10:00 a.m.

Tax-Man Sam Sez:

The Internal Revenue Service is trying mighty hard to make the American system of voluntary compliance better. They are trying to help more people know when and where to volunteer insofar as their taxes are concerned.

The tax men are also seriously concerned about people who pay tax they don't owe. One of the best parts of the Tax Education Program is the high school income tax course. Any teacher can take the materials furnished by Internal Revenue and in a few class sessions have the students preparing correct tax returns. At least the returns prepared by these students have only 25% of the errors found in adults' returns.

Internal Revenue is also dead serious about teaching a few new tricks to us old timers. Their advice is simple — read the tax instructions, keep good records throughout the year, and see what the tax will be before, not after the sale.

Mrs. Hamilton's Rites Are Held At Haskell Tuesday

Mrs. L. M. Hamilton, 84, passed away in the Haskell hospital at 3 p.m. Monday. She had been in failing health for several years and hospitalized about two days.

Born Mary Ann Lee on July 15, 1874 in Coryell County, she married L. M. Hamilton on September 27, 1893, in Erath County. The couple moved to Haskell County in 1900 and settled near Rule, where her husband farmed. They later moved to Haskell and a few years later bought a farm west of Haskell, where Mr. Hamilton farmed until his death in 1937.

Mrs. Hamilton was a member of the Church of Christ.

Funeral services were held at 3 p.m. Tuesday from the Church of Christ in Haskell, with Otto Johnson, Eastland minister, officiating. He was assisted by Rev. Joel V. Grimes, retired Baptist minister of Avoca. Burial was in Willow Cemetery in Haskell.

Survivors include four daughters, Mrs. E. H. Coates and Mrs. L. M. Williams, both of Knox City; Mrs. Russell Rainey of Wetnet and Mrs. L. D. Wilson of Abilene; two sons, John M. Hamilton of Lyford and Willis Hamilton of Taft; one sister, Mrs. Laura Reed of Rochester; 22 grandchildren and 18 great-grandchildren.

Forty-Two Churches Are Represented At Baptist Encampment

Mrs. N. I. Williams of Leuders Baptist Encampment reports 230 Intermediate girls registered for the first camp of the season, which began June 22 and will close June 25.

Forty-two churches in District 117 are represented from Abilene, Cisco, Callahan, Fisher, Jones, Haskell, Knox, Sweetwater, and Stonewall - Kent associations. Also two churches from District 8 are registered.

Rev. Davis Harrell of First Baptist Church, Baird is the camp pastor. Mrs. Ralph Perkins of Ranger is director of recreation; Miss Ann Raney of Ranger is pianist and Glenda Kelly of Stamford is chorister.

Misses Sue Southerland and Lanora Fatliff of Stamford are serving as life guards. Dixie Petty of Hendrick Memorial Hospital in Abilene is the camp nurse.

Mrs. Alvin Hatton, missionary to Brazil is camp missionary, and Mrs. Donald Baird of Cross Plains is the camp director.

COUSIN OF LOCAL MAN DROWNS TUESDAY

Hershall L. Miller of Fort Worth, a cousin of M. H. Dean of Munday, and his wife were found drowned Tuesday afternoon in the waters of Benbrook Lake near Fort Worth. The couple were believed to have drowned Saturday night or early Sunday, while on a fishing trip.

Mr. Miller was associated with his father, E. H. Miller, and a brother, Charlie, in the funeral business.

One of your friends may enact a scene like this when the Munday Jaycees and Knox City Lions Club engage in their donkey ball game contest next Tuesday night on the Pony League baseball field.

KNOW YOUR FRIENDS

"It is a strange American political phenomenon that, although most of the vocal protest against more Government spending and higher taxes comes from the well-to-do, it is actually the small and middle-income people who pay the taxes. This is true simply because there are so many more people with low incomes . . ."

Thus writes L. Robert Driver, in a brief article appearing on the editorial page of The Saturday Evening Post of June 6. And Mr. Driver does not merely make a statement—he supports it with irrefutable facts.

One example: If the tax on all taxable incomes, after exemptions and deductions, of over $5,000 a year were raised to 100% "the extra revenue would not pay the annual interest on the Federal debt, much less take care of the new demands of the spenders."

A second example: Almost three-quarters—73%—of all the revenue from the Federal income tax comes from people in the $4,000 a year and under brackets.

Mr. Driver provides many another fact and argument concerning the "soak the rich" fallacy. Soaking them doesn't produce much money, comparatively speaking, but it does stand in the way of investment and industrial expansion that would work in the great and lasting benefit of the masses of the people.

Mr. Driver's point, in conclusion: "It is a paradox that those who urge reduction of Government expenditures, which would help the tax-ridden 'little fellow' are denounced as 'reactionaries,' while the spenders, whose policies are leading to his ruin, are embraced as his friends."

A slowdown in the advance toward higher compression automobile engines and higher octane gasolines was forecast by four oil scientists at the Fifth World Petroleum Congress. Further improvements are likely, they said, "but the pace of the past cannot be presumed to be the future."

American railroads have just been given a Certificate of Merit from the American Foundation for the Blind. The award was for assistance which the roads give blind travelers, such as the privilege whereby a blind person may travel with a sighted traveler for a single fare, and permission is given for trained guide dogs to accompany their blind masters free of charge.

SHOULD WE ABOLISH THE STATES?

The proposal that the federal minimum wage law be extended to cover groups of workers—such as those in retail trade—who have been exempt ever since the law's inception is an appealing one to many people, on humanitarian grounds. But, understandable as that is, the arguments against the proposed extension are powerful, and based on principle.

The question is not whether wage legislation is needed to cover retailing and the other service industries. If it is, the states are perfectly capable of taking care of that, and many have. The question is whether strictly local businesses, which must compete on the purely local level, and must deal with local conditions and needs, should be governed by an arbitrary federal law which would treat the enterprises of little country towns as it would treat the biggest interstate businesses.

A little past history should be recalled. President Franklin Roosevelt, a staunch friend of labor, in proposing a federal minimum wage law in 1937, said: "There are many purely local pursuits and services which no federal legislation can effectively cover."

The sponsor of this original act in the Senate was another staunch friend of labor—Senator Black, now Mr. Justice Black of the Supreme Court. He said: "Businesses of a purely local type which serve a particular local community, and which do not send their products into the streams of interstate commerce, can be better regulated by the laws of the communities in which the business units operate."

This principle is as valid today as it ever was. It is strictly in accord with the divisions of governmental power in this country. If federal law is to be extended into every area of local life, we might as well abolish the states.

An Omaha psychiatrist, speaking during a symposium on the aging at the American Medical Association's 108th annual meeting, said that a man spends his first 65 years preparing for the last 15. He suggested a positive health program for older persons. Some of its items: A balanced diet including more protein, vitamins and fluids, and less fats and calories; adequate rest of mind and body; pursuit of interesting and specific recreational activities; a sense of humor; participation in community affairs; continued expansion of knowledge, wisdom and experience.

CROP DAMAGE FROM WEED KILLERS RUNNING HIGH

Early season reports of crop damage by careless handling or misuse of weed killing chemicals have already surpassed the number of complaints received in 1958.

Texas Department of Agriculture inspectors are working overtime checking out herbicide damage reports in Central and East Texas fields adjacent to sprayed areas. Most complaints thus far are on cotton damaged by hormone-type herbicides in Leon, Houston, Hayes, Caldwell, Travis, Bastrop, Dimmit and other counties.

No estimates of actual losses are available but the number of cases are higher than in any recent year.

Farmers using 2, 4-D or 2, 4,5-T hormone-type herbicides for weed and brush control should use extreme caution, and especially in areas where highly-susceptible broad-leaved crop plants such as cotton are grown. These types of chemicals are beneficial to farmers when handled properly but they can be as destructive as dynamite without necessary precautions.

Use of herbicides is contributed by law in many Texas counties, although other counties are specially exempted by the Legislature. The law forbids spraying of land within certain distances of susceptible broad-leaved plants, and wind and other weather conditions must be within definite limitations due to the high drift factor of the plant killers.

In regulated areas, permits are required from the Texas Department of Agriculture and in some counties an inspector must be present for the protection of surrounding crops. Mechanical spraying devices must also meet safety standards.

Much of the recent damage can be attributed to the anxiety of landowners to keep down weeds on idle or soil-banked land and to rid valuable rangeland of unwanted brush. Importance of cautious and skilled use of the chemical herbicides cannot be over-emphasized, both for their effective benefits and for their potential danger.

Nozzle Type On Spray Rig Effect Insect Control

Convention low-gallonage, boom-type nozzles that most farmers are now using will probably give better insect control and higher yield of seed cotton than the new types of wide-swath or boomless nozzles which will cover 6 to 12 rows per nozzle.

These findings come from experiments conducted in 1958 on the A&M Plantation near College Station. The tests were conducted by the Departments of Agricultural Engineering and Entomology to determine the effectiveness of spray nozzles. Two arrangements of boom-type nozzles producing a cone pattern and three boomless nozzles were used on irrigated cotton with an average height of 5.5 feet.

The same amount of active ingredient was applied at rates of 6 and 10 gallons of spray material per acre with the boomless nozzles and 6 gallons per acre with the conventional boom-type nozzles. The effectiveness of insect control was measured by yields and insect infestation records.

This information comes from a Progress Report released by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station entitled, "Effect of Spray Nozzle Types on Cotton Insect Control."

The insect infestation records obtained during the test period are given in the report along with total yields, expressed in pounds of seed per acre, obtained from the nozzle tests. The report also gives the kinds of chemicals used for insect control.

For a copy of the report, write the Agricultural Information Office, College Station. Ask for PR-2078.

Hot weather poses hazards for the hen flock, says Ben Wormeli, extension poultry husbandman. Keep them as comfortable as possible and this means plenty of clean, cool drinking water, properly ventilated houses and in cases of extreme high temperatures artificial cooling is advised.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our thanks to our friends, relatives, pastor, nurses and doctors for the many kindnesses extended us while in the hospital and in the recent loss of our dear husband, father and grandfather. We deeply appreciated the many cards, messages, flowers, food and other acts of kindness shown us. Especially do we want to thank those who cared for our grandchildren during the services and during our stay in the hospital, so the girls could give more of their time helping care for their father. May the Lord's blessings rest on each of you.

Mrs. W. L. Thornton and children, and grandchildren. May I add an extra note of thanks to all of you who have visited and cared for my grandparents and give them so much attention while I've been away in college. I'll always remember you for it.

Reba Tynes of Medical Center Hospital, Tyler, Texas. 11c

MRS. JAMES E. STYLES

Miss Henrietta Hertel, James Styles Married In Church Rites At Seymour

The marriage of Miss Henrietta Hertel daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hertel, and James Styles, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Styles was solemnized by a double ring ceremony followed by a nuptial high mass in Sacred Heart Catholic Church of Seymour last Saturday, at four o'clock in the afternoon.

Reverend Anthony E. Schroeder, pastor of St. Joseph's Church in Rineland officiated before the high altar decked by arrangements of white gladioli and chrysanthemums. The altar was flanked by tall baskets of similar flowers. Pews were marked with white satin bows and white chrysanthemum.

Dwight Albus, Ricky Michels, Urban Bellinghousen Jr., Duane Herring and Gregory Kuehler assisted in serving the high mass.

Mrs. Carl Edwards served as organist. Misses Patricia Frances and Lois Martini were featured as soloists. A choir composed of the bride's former Academy classmates sang.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a formal length gown fashioned of traditional imported French Chantilly lace. The deep basque bodice featured a wide decollete neckline edged in dainty appliques of lace forming a scalloped edge to frame the shoulders. Tiny seed pearls traced the floral design of the lace. Long fitted sleeves of lace sprinkled with tiny seed pearls tapered to form petal points over the hands. The bouffant skirt of lace billowed from the deep pointed waistline over multiple layers of tulle and taffeta. The back was dramatized with a deep scalloped down the entire back skirt to form a sweeping Cotillion train. A veil of hand-rolled illusion was attached to a lace cap trimmed with sequins and pearls and held to the cap in back by a small white organdy rose. A colonial bouquet of cascading white roses, centered with a white orchid was carried by the bride.

Mrs. William Hertel of Munday, sister-in-law of the bride, served as matron of honor. Miss Kathleen Michels of Munday, cousin of the bride was the maid-of honor Bridesmaids were Mrs. Kenneth Benson of Wichita Falls, Kenneth Benson of Wichita Falls; Mrs. Ralph Adams of Vernon, and Miss Shirley Kaye Riley of Iowa Park. They were attired in dresses shaded from pastel pink into deepest rose, designed on colonial lines. They were made of heavy silk taffeta and draped with chiffon in traditional Martha Washington effect. The headbands were of organza bows fastened to circular net skirts which were featured in colors matching the dresses. To complete the traditional effect, colonial nosegays of white carnations scattered with pink rose buds were carried.

Miss Sharon Kaye Benson, and Miss Gayle Marak, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Marak were flower girl and train bearer respectively. They were attired in pink organdy frocks trimmed with white lace.

Mark Hertel and Richard Herring both of Munday, were ring bearer and train bearer.

Buster Styles of Seymour and Gerald Styles of Fort Worth, brothers of the groom, attended him as best men. Groomsmen were William Hertel of Munday, Wesley Styles of Seymour, and A. C. Styles of Fort Worth. Ushers for the occasion were Ralph Don Adams of Vernon and Kenneth Benson of Wichita Falls. Junior Ushers were Mike Jungman of Vernon and Clifton Styles of Seymour.

The reception was held in the home of the bride's parents. The bridal table, attended by Misses Lois Martini and Diana Davis was covered with a nylon net tiered cloth over satin and edged with white carnations. White chrysanthemums and carnations cascaded from a silver candelabra which centered the table. A ring of carnations enriched the cake.

The guest register table was covered with a white cutwork cloth and decorated by a single candle enhanced by white carnations. Mrs. Buster Styles, sister-in-law of the groom, presided at the bride's book.

Mrs. Herman Jungman aunt of the bride, welcomed the guests and presented them to the receiving line. Mrs. Carl Jungman, aunt of the bride, escorted the guests to the patio where Mrs. John Henry Styles and her brother entertained by performing a variety of dances.

Assisting in the house party were Misses Patricia Frances, Lois Martini, Beth Martini, Lucille Parker, Dolores Jacobi, Theresa Jacobi.

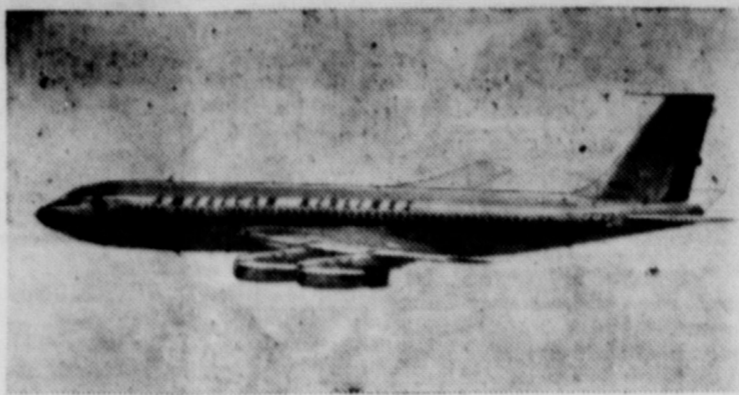

The bride is a spring graduate of the Academy Mary Immaculate of Wichita Falls where she attained honors of Academy Oil Progress Princess of 1957-58, Mardi Gras Princess of 1955-1956, Annual staff member and president of the graduating class.

The groom is a former graduate of Seymour High School where he was a member of the Seymour Panther team. He attended Midwestern University during the past year and is now engaged in farming.

A rehearsal dinner was given by the parents of the groom at the Rock Inn Cafe, Friday evening. The tables were covered with white linen and arranged in banquet style. The decorations of carnations were in the bride's chosen colors of pink and white.

It will pay Texas dairymen to raise their own herd replacements, says A. M. Meekma, extension dairy husbandman. Herd replacements, he adds, are a mighty important part of the herd improvement program and they deserve the best possible "bringing-up."

Surprise Party Honors Jetton On His Birthday

Relatives gathered in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Jetton in Azle last Sunday and surprised him with a birthday celebration. Since Mrs. Jetton's people had gathered in the home Saturday night for their fathers' day event this was truly a surprise for Mr. Jetton.

A wonderful dinner was spread, and all enjoyed visiting together. The afternoon was spent in making movie pictures of the group.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. V. G. Lambeth, Douglas and Rhonda Kay; Mr. and Mrs. Dave Jetton, Jerry and Garon, and Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Jetton and Lynell, all of Goree, and Myrtle Jetton of Munday.

YWA Retreat To Begin June 26 At Camp Lueders

Mrs. O. B. Woodrum of Abilene, District 17 YWA director will direct the YWA Retreat, which is slated for June 26-27 at Lueders Baptist Encampment.

Miss Sandra Pitts of Sweetwater, the District YWA Council president, will bring greetings to the group on Friday evening. Other camp personnel include Mrs. Alvin Hatton, missionary to Brazil, who will serve as camp missionary; Mrs. Roger Duck, the former Lovonia Redden, missionary appointee to Columbia; Miss or for the state WMU department, representing the Home Mission Board; Pat Nomura, a student from Hawaii, attending Hardin-Simmons University; Rev. James Flaming, of Westland, camp pastor; and Miss Judy Hunt, student nurse at Hendrick Memorial Hospital, Abilene.

Featured in the activities will be a Staff Tea Friday afternoon at 3:30, and all of the YWA girls will meet the program personalities.

Vespers by the river will be held Friday night. Following this will be fellowship around the camp fire.

Swimming and recreation has been planned to make this a well-rounded camp program. Price for the camp is $3.00 each.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Barnard last Friday night and Saturday were his sister, Mrs. Elma McMillan, of Fort Smith, Ark., and her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Watson and children of Arlington.

308 Pay Fines In State For Fishing Without Licenses

Fishing violations topped the list of arrests made by game wardens during the month of May, according to the report of the director of law enforcement of the Game and Fish Commission.

There were nearly 400 fishing arrests made by the wardens, with 308 of them for failure to have a license. The Texas license costs $2.15 and is good for both fresh and salt water and for residents and non-residents alike.

Although all legal game hunting has been closed for several months, there were several violations for killing quail, doves, ducks and even killing deer in the closed season.

The 448 persons arrested in May paid fines of $7,596.45 plus court costs of $852.

Eight persons served time in Jail for their violations.

"We do everything we can to publicize license requirements for the fishermen," the director said. "Despite the warnings, however, people still take a chance on getting caught and many of them do. If you plan to fish outside your home county, or with a rod and reel anywhere and are over 16 and under 65 you'll need a license."

IT'S THE LAW
in Texas

EVIDENCE

A trial aims to settle a dispute when the parties fail to do it themselves. For this the court needs facts.

Simple? Well, no. For if the parties could agree on the facts, a settlement out of court would be easy. But as a rule each side has its own story, and the trial judge or jury must hear witnesses and view physical evidence to decide what took place. In doing this the court applies the rules of evidence.

It took centuries for the court to work out rules by which a judge can say what is proper or improper evidence.

1. In "hearsay" for example, someone who did not see the event reports what someone told him about it. Courts seldom allow such evidence, except in rare cases such as where the dying words, say, of a murdered person may be vital.

For one thing, courts frown upon hearsay because no one in court can cross-examine the eye-witness to find out what actually took place, or to judge whether his story merits belief.

2. Irrelevant testimony will also be barred by the judge. It is testimony which has no bearing on the case, even though it may be true enough.

Suppose in a battery case the jury has to find out whether Jones knocked Smith down or not. The judge would have to rule out any evidence that Jones, say, was rich and Smith poor. Such a fact, even if true, has nothing to do with the "issue." Moreover, such irrelevancies often confuse jurors or arouse their prejudices.

3. Only an expert like a doctor, an appraiser, a chemist, a pharmacist, an engineer can give opinions as evidence, and he must show his qualifications as an expert before the judge will let him express his views.

Lawyers keep inadmissible evidence out of court by making "objections." When the judge "sustains" an objection, the jury may not hear the evidence. Or if he does, the judge may "instruct" the jury to ignore it. Should the judge "overrule" the objection, the jury may hear the evidence.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised son may be vital.

2. Irrelevant testimony will also be barred by the judge. It is testimony which has no bearing on the case, even though it may be true enough.

Suppose in a battery case the jury has to find out whether Jones knocked Smith down or not. The judge would have to rule out any evidence that Jones, say, was rich and Smith poor. Such a fact, even if true, has nothing to do with the "issue." Moreover, such irrelevancies often confuse jurors or arouse their prejudices.

3. Only an expert like a doctor, an appraiser, a chemist, a pharmacist, an engineer can give opinions as evidence, and he must show his qualifications as an expert before the judge will let him express his views.

Lawyers keep inadmissible evidence out of court by making "objections." When the judge "sustains" an objection, the jury may not hear the evidence. Or if he does, the judge may "instruct" the jury to ignore it. Should the judge "overrule" the objection, the jury may hear the evidence.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Henry A. Holle, M. D., State Health Officer

Call them red bugs. Call them harvest mites. Call them chiggers. By whatever name, they mean sleepless nights and ceaseless spasms of itching misery.

This is their season. It will last from now until cold weather cuts into their ranks. A few people have an apparent immunity to chigger attacks, but the vast majority of us are oh-so-susceptible.

They—the chiggers—have a special affinity for low, damp places covered with vegetation. Bermuda grass harbors them well, but for some unexplainable reason they are not usually found in carpet grass.

Just for the record, it's the larvae which do the damage, attacking themselves with their mouthparts and sucking blood until they become engorged and fall off. The fiery itching is caused by an anti-coagulant material they inject into their host.

Although adult chiggers—large, red and velvety—are probably harmless to humans, their wayward offspring can be serious as well as annoying. Not that they spread any specific disease—but their bites demand scratching which frequently causes secondary infections in the form of sores and boils.

To learn where chiggers are harboring, stand a piece of black cardboard on end where you suspect their presence. If after a few moments you see tiny yellowish mites accumulating on the upper edge, you know it's time to check your supply of insecticide.

Chiggers attack lizards, snakes, birds, and rodents with the same vigor and resourcefulness they display in attacking humans. No distinction is drawn between man and lesser animal species, which is hardly complimentary to us Home sapiens.

Light applications of sulphur dust on lawns and low branches of shrubs have been used successfully for years to control chiggers. Nowadays, the new insecticides such as chlorodane and lindane give better results. Just follow the directions on the label.

A quick word of caution: Be sure to avoid unnecessary exposure to the insecticide. If you spill the concentrated material on your skin, wash it off immediately. And be sure to keep children and pets out of the yard until the spray dries.

"Guff" Lagoon, of Jayton, old time cowboy past 80, who was going to ride a horse down the Old MacKenzie Trail to Stamford who states:

My doctor says 82 years and 85 miles of horse ride won't mix, so I can't ride down to the Cowboy Reunion. I will be in Stamford for all three days, however, and doctor or not, I intend to ride in the parade the afternoon of July 2 and in the grand entry in the afternoon performance of July 4. This is sort of the last meeting place for old cowmen, and I sure wouldn't want to miss it.

concerning facts involved because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

The hotel in Cotulla where I spent the winter of 1920-21 to build up my health was operated on an informal basis. Traveling salesmen who were regular patrons sometimes arrived on a train after midnight and so they would find an unoccupied room for themselves. Occasionally, the traveler discovered a door unlocked, entered the room, switched on the light and found there was a tenant and this suddenly-awakened individual was startled. When ready to check out, a guest usually had to hunt for someone to pay his bill to.

The cook was a withered old Mexican woman; the waitress was a little Mexican girl, who spoke English and Spanish equally well, and the maid also was a Mexican who sang hymns in Spanish. She explained, "Soy Metodista" ("I am a Methodist").

The Wideners—who owned the hotel—treated me almost like a member of the family. On Christmas Eve, only the family and the telegraph operator and I were at the hotel. It was the first Christmas I had ever spent away from home. There was a tree in the parlor and the chief figure in the celebration was the Wideners' granddaughter—but there were presents for the two guests.

Incidentally the telegrapher was a remarkable fellow. He knew over a thousand songs as he played the piano in a picture show—this of course was some years before sound movies had been developed. All one had to do was name a tune and he would immediately start playing it on the piano in the parlor.

Also in the parlor was a phonograph. The most popular records were "Swanee", "Dardanella", "Margie", "Japanese Sandman" and "Love Nest." When I hear one of these tunes today, the thought of the Cotulla hotel comes to mind.

The hotel had its own light plant and, in the late afternoon, the machinery would be turned on and the throbbing of the engine was a lonesome sound in the quietness of approaching twilight.

I remained in Cotulla about five months. On arriving, I weighed 102 (my height was five feet, 10 1/2 inches). At the end of the first month, I gained 12 pounds and, when I left, I had gained 25 pounds. The Travelers Hotel was torn down long years ago but Cotulla and the vanished hotel are recalled with gratitude.

Ten Ideas For Storage Offered For Home Owners

If there's a muss, there'll be a fuss. With ample storage space, there will be neither. An orderly home is the one in which there is a place for everything, and everything is in place. Most important, of course, is having a place for things.

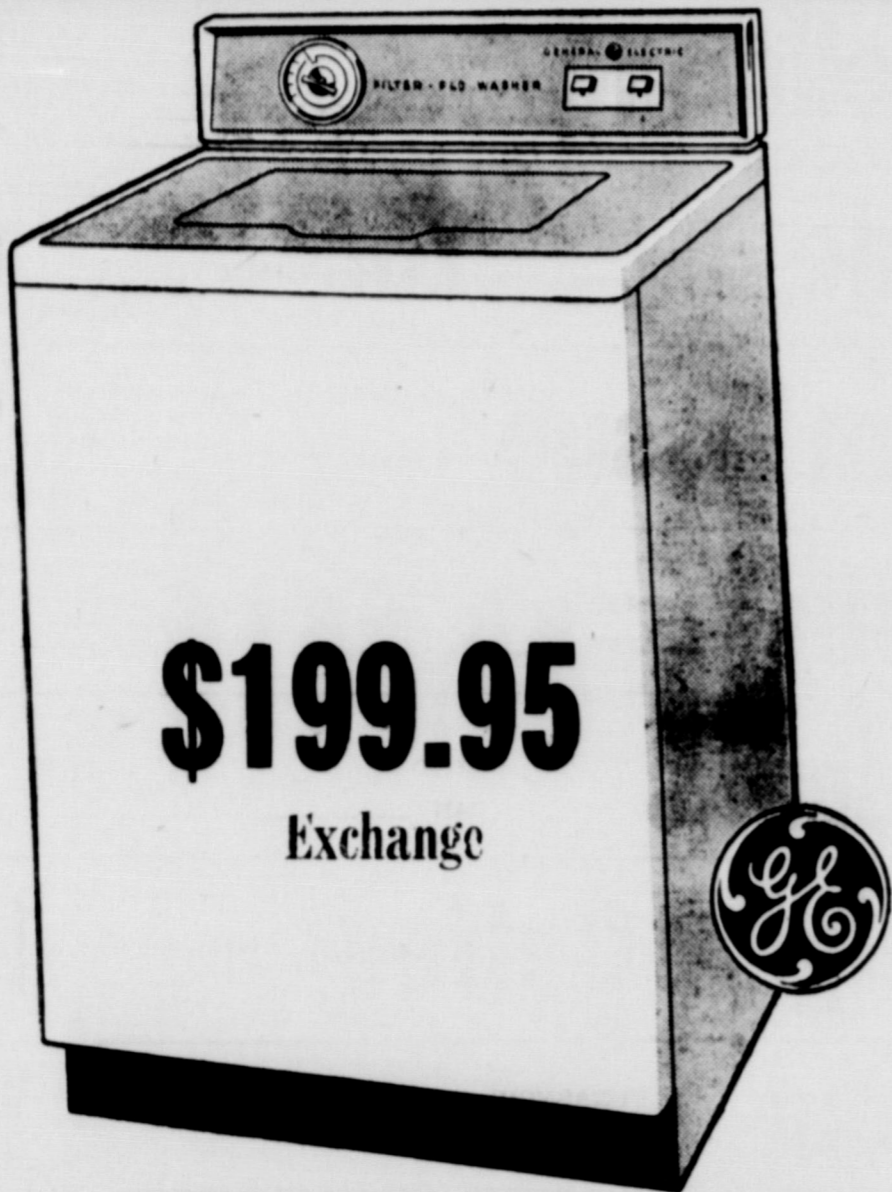

Here is a checklist of storage possibilities. See which fit into your home and needs, and then file your "order" with the handyman of your house. With ordinary lumber, some panels of Masonite Presdwood, and common carpentry tools, any of these projects can be built economically for lasting use.

1. An extra closet under the stairway.
2. A linen closet in a room corner.
3. A wardrobe in a bedroom or attic. The latter is excellent for storing out-of-season garments.
4. In the garage, a corner cabinet for garden tools.
5. In the garage or basement, next-to-wall places for snow shovels and ice choppers.
6. Any convenient place, a container for galoshes and rubbers.
7. A shed for bicycles. This could be a lean-to back of the garage.
8. At the summer cottage, a mouse-proof cabinet for bed linen and mattresses. Line it with metal screening.
9. For all those extra shoes which are worn only occasionally, a rack inside the closet wall or door.
10. For canning supplies and seldom-used dishes, a wall cabinet high and out of the way.

Any of these may be constructed by simply framing the available space with lumber of the proper size and covering it with tough, splinterless panels of Presdwood.

You get the BIG comfort dividends in your 59 FORD...

Some cars' door openings aren't shaped to fit people! So you have to squirm and wriggle . . . make your body conform to the car when getting in and out.

NO SQUIRM

Doors in 59 Fords are wider—up to six inches wider—and door openings are contoured to fit you! You get in and out of a Ford with greater ease and comfort. The girls really like Ford's doors . . . for more graceful entries and exits.

To gain a low roof line, some cars end up with higher floor "humps" and thinly padded rear seats . . . a combination that's mighty rough on the middleman.

NO SQUEEZE

Fords have useable seating space for six big people. The driveshaft tunnel is lower and rear seats are deeply cushioned all the way across. This means more comfort for all passengers . . . especially for the man in the middle.

The squeezed-down, skimpy roofs of some cars aren't comfortable even for bare-headed riders. And they don't keep out excessive sunlight and glare.

NO SQUASH

See how much more head room Ford has. Even big six-footers sit up straight without touching the roof. And Ford's big roof protects all passengers, in both front and rear seats, against the discomforts of excessive glare and heat from the sun.

News From The U. S. Congress

By Congressman Frank Beard

This week Congress was given called upon to increase the National debt limit which emphasizes the fact that our present fiscal situation is cause for deep concern. This increase in the debt limit was necessary in order to maintain the financial integrity of the Federal Government. In requesting the debt increase, the President described the measure as debt management legislation, and he emphasized the fact that proper management of the public debt is necessary to safeguard public credit and that the debt must be managed consistently with the economic growth and stability of the country. The situation is made more acute by the fact that we are facing our largest peacetime deficit this year. Unfortunately this whole issue has been and probably will continue to be a question of considerable highly partisan political debate with each branch of the Government making the charge that the other is to blame. It is important that the facts about the situation be made known and be kept clearly in mind. In the first place, between 60 and 70 percent of our debt was created in conducting World War II. But what happened to us in this fiscal year is another question. In January of 1958, the Bureau of the Budget estimated that the income for this year would be approximately 74.4 Billion Dollars. By January 1, 1959, with six months of actual figures to go on, this revenue figure was revised downward by over 6 Billion. Now, another 6 months later, we see that the actual receipts was primarily brought about by the slow down in our economy last year which is now recognized to have been a recession. Regardless of what the cause may be, however, the important thing is that no matter how much we try to blame others for our present fiscal difficulties, the problem will not go away, and we simply must face up to the fact that we will have to adopt some reasonable plan for the payment of our debt; otherwise, within a few short years, it will become unmanageable.

Visitors in Washington this week were Miss Jean Morse, Miss Sharon Wolters, and Mr. Aubrey Polson, Jr., of Lewisville; Mr. and Mrs. Omer Oliver, and daughters, Shirley and Sharon, of Vernon.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Offers Some Pertinent Advice To Washington Officials Who Don't Have Time To Think

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek probably is misinterpreting the news again, or at least twisting it around to fit his own convenience, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor: President Eisenhower was making a speech in Washington the other day and he said one of the troubles many of the men in government have encountered is the lack of time to do enough thinking. "High officials of government tell me they don't have enough opportunity for contemplation," he said, and announced he was going to try to figure out some way to remedy this.

I am afraid though he is going to run into some snags. Take the high officials in the State Department, the ones concerned with foreign policy.

Now if I had the job of studying about the present state of the world and figuring out an answer, I believe I'd get too busy doing something else to think about it too. For six weeks now the foreign ministers of the leading nations of the world have been meeting in Geneva to try to figure out what the leaders of the world's governments could talk about at a summit meeting. So far they haven't gotten anywhere, every time they bring something up, Russia throws a monkey wrench in it, and it's at a time like that, if I was over there, I'd get too busy to think too.

When you stop and consider what would happen to the world if an atomic, hydrogen, chemical, bacteria war broke out, it's not hard to get so busy doing something else you don't have time to think about it.

I have hit on a system out here on my Johnson grass farm however which might come in handy to high government officials. When I have a knotty problem facing me, like going up one row and down another on my tractor, I find I'd rather think about it than do it. A lot of people think I'm lazy because I let my farm run down, but me and President Eisenhower know if the world needs anything it needs more thinking.

I guess there are some people who haven't got time to think, but frequently when a man doesn't think, it's not for lack of time. Thinking is hard work and you're not going to catch me taking the easy way out riding a tractor under a hot sun.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Donkey Ball Game

Laughs... Spills... Fun... Thrills

Better Than A Rodeo!—Funnier Than A Circus!

RULES:—All players except pitcher and catcher ride donkeys. When the batter gets a hit he must mount his donkey and ride around the bases in proper order—if he can. There are no strike-outs or walks. Fielders must ride to within a step of the ball before dismounting and must remount before throwing the ball. Soft ball is used. Nine players on each team. Game plays 5 to 7 innings—approximately one hour and a half.

Trained Donkeys furnished by Ralph E. Godfrey, Crescent, Okla.
THIS IS THE OLDEST DONKEY BALL CO. IN THE WORLD

Explanation and account of game will be broadcast over a loud speaker!

Laws, Regulations Control Livestock Movement In Texas

Though Texas has a law requiring that cattle, hogs, sheep and goats must be branded or marked and the brand or mark recorded, brand inspectors estimate that 25 percent or fewer of the cattle and less of the other animals are branded.

However branding is still a common practice in some areas and the branding laws are still in force. Some of these brand laws are obsolete and the enforcement machinery is inadequate.

This information comes from a new publication released by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station titled, "Analysis of Texas Laws and Regulations Controlling the Movement and Sale of Livestock."

The publication brings together many of the more important laws and regulations so that producers, selling agents, buyers and consumers may know the legal requirements to be observed and the protection provided.

The responsibility for prevention and control of livestock diseases in Texas rests with the Livestock Sanitary Commission. The steps being taken by the Commission and the U. S. Department of Agriculture to control and eradicate livestock diseases are discussed.

Auctioneers and how their profession is regulated and the testing of livestock scales at public auction markets and stockyards are among the other topics of discussion.

To obtain a copy of the bulletin, write the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas. Ask for MP-322.

ATTEND BANQUET

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Haymes and R. F. Horan attended a banquet for postal employees in Abilene last Saturday night. Approximately 80 people attended and the Abilene Reporter News picked up the check.

Accident Toll Always Bothers Game Wardens

A game warden's life has its excitement and dangers and he is sometimes a man to be envied. But, according to the Director of Law Enforcement, Game and Fish Commission, many times this man to be envied has his moments of sorrow, moments that no one would want to share.

Each year hundreds of persons, including many innocent children, are victims of one type of accident or another. "Our lakes, streams, rivers, bays, and beaches take their toll of sportsmen, swimmers, and boatmen every year," said the Director, "usually because of carelessness."

Wardens stationed at or near these lakes and other waters many times aid in rescuing victims of accidents and carelessness. They also help in the search for the less fortunate with grappling hooks. "The lifeless body of a small child, who only the day before played in the school yard, is not a pretty sight," continued the Director, "but this is a sight seen often by wardens."

Since its opening, Lake Houston has taken the lives of 37 persons, ten of these children, according to Warden Martin Peterson of Humble. "If these people had been wearing some sort of life preserver," said the Director, "many of them would be walking the streets and playing in the school yards today."

The Humble warden said, "It tears my heart out to see a drowned child without a preserver—a child that had faith in someone who was supposed to be looking after him."

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Keel and Leona returned home last Tuesday afternoon from a week's visit with relatives in Baytown.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Brown last week were Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Shockey and son and Mrs. W. C. Robertson

WHAT'S IN THE HUMP?

The protrusion atop the withers of Brahman cattle has given rise to some speculation by people unfamiliar with the breed. It is not, however, a deformity, rupture or water storage compartment as some have thought. The hump of the Brahman — aside from being a distinguishing trademark — is edible meat, well marbled with fat. There is no bone in the hump. It makes a delicious pot roast and is considered a favorite delicacy in many countries.

Humps vary in size and shape according to the sex and condition of the individual animal.

Great Britain covers an area smaller than the state of Oregon. But The World Book Encyclopedia says it has 34 times as many people as Oregon.

Molly Pitcher took her husband's place in the Battle of Monmouth, in 1778, as he lay dying beside his cannon.

Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Riley and Mr. and Mrs. Gus Brown attended the Koonce family reunion at Cisco last week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Ray Brade-ford of Snyder visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Coy Tuggle, last week.
