Odd Bits Salvaged
By The Editor

Do we want a new high school building in Munday? Are we to make plans now for the education of our youth who will be coming into high school in increasing numbers in the next few years?

k-k

These questions were raised at a meeting last Thursday night, at which problems of repairing our schools, constructing a V. A. shop building, etc., in order to meet the requirements made by the state accreditation committee. These repairs, at least, must be done very soon if our school keeps its accredited rating with the State.

k-k

These repairs (estimated) as given by Mr. Cox at the meeting and are broken down elsewhere in this paper, run to almost $31,000, and this would just barely meet the present needs of the school, with other repairs being required in the future. So the question came up: "Why not build a new high school building that would take care of our present and future needs?"

k-k

In the discussion and proposals brought out at the meeting, the following suggestions were made: Build a new high school building, place our present high school building in tip-top shape and move Junior High into it, move the Dunbar school to the present junior high building at Sunset, move the Dunbar school gym to the Munday school grounds and convert it into a vocational ag. building.

k-k

Fact and figures regarding such a proposal will be presented by a capable and competent architect in the near future, as well as figures (not estimated) on suggested repairs to meet requirements of the state committee. When these are available, they will be presented to the public.

k-k

Understand, the perpetrator of this column is not pulling for a bond election to construct a new building; at least, not at the present time. We're trying to give you some of the facts so you can be thinking about it, and act accordingly. When figures are available, we may "take sides" one way or another.

k-k

But we do think that more people should be interested than that shown by attendance at the meeting Thursday night. Approximately 75 people were present, in spite of the fact that newspaper articles appeared, and letters were sent out by the board to all school patrons. We know there were conflicts with this meeting, but we believe twice the number present still would have been an inadequate number to show interest in our schools.

k-k

We believe, too, that our schools are the biggest "manufacturing plants" in our nation. They are manufacturing men and women out of our boys and girls. And to try to turn out finished material without facilities is sort of butting our heads against the wall, to our notion. So get your thinking caps on and study the situation with others who are interested. Pretty soon you will have a decision to make.

k-k

We thought for a time this week that Munday was going to be invaded by those little black bugs again. They began piling up on the sidewalk against the bank building, Horton's Equipment and a few other places. The annual visit of such pests as those bugs, crickets, and cotton rats like we had last year are nothing to look forward to.

k-k

Quite often when our telephone rings here at the office we find the party calling has hung up by the time we reach the phone to answer it; which is, perhaps, discouraging to us and the party calling. It is not often that we can have someone seated near the telephone, so allow at least four rings before hanging up. Give us time to get from the back shop to the front to answer your call.

k-k

Had you missed the chimes on the bank's new clock? Mr. Braly told us Wednesday they weren't chiming right so they have been cut off until they can be repaired. They will be chiming again within a few days.

An important meeting of the Munday Quarterback Club is scheduled for 8 p.m. Monday, August 3, in the elementary school.

Haskell Team Defeats Sheppard AFB Saturday To Win Area Little League

The Haskell Little League baseball team won the area district championship here last Saturday by pushing across a run in the first of the eighth inning to edge the Sheppard Air Force Base team by a score of 4 to 3.

Haskell had won the right for the playoff by whipping Iowa Park, 3 to 0, in one of the opening games last Thursday night. Seymour also downed Munday, 5 to 2, in the opening round.

Friday night saw Sheppard AFB get into the championship playoffs by defeating Seymour, winner over Munday, by a score of 7 to 2. In the other game Friday night, Munday defeated Iowa Park by a score of 10 to 3 to move into the losers' bracket finals against Seymour.

But the Seymour team downed Munday on Saturday night by a score of 12 to 0 to win the third place title, racking up two home runs against the local team.

The five teams, Munday, Seymour, Haskell, Iowa Park and Sheppard AFB, found the local Little League field in excellent condition for the district playoff, and local officials and fans had made elaborate plans for entertaining the visiting teams and fans.

All games were played before large and appreciative crowds of fans, thus bringing to a close the Little League activities for this year.

New Postage Stamp Honors Soil Dist.

Cooperators of the Wichita Brazos soil conservation district are among those honored by issuance of the world's first soil conservation stamp, Jack Idol, Board Chairman said today.

Mr. Idol said the stamp to be issued August 26 at Rapid City, S. D., is "a tribute to the nation's conservation farmers (and/or ranchers) including the Wichita-Brazos cooperators of the local district, which has been operating since July 1942.

"The 4-cent stamp is in recognition of the farmers (and/or ranchers) who are demonstrating good soil stewardship," Mr. Idol said. "It is a salute to their soil conservation districts, and to the professional workers of State and Federal government who help them."

The stamp will go on sale August 26 at Rapid City, S. D., at the annual meeting of the Soil Conservation Society of America, a professional organization, Mr. Idol said.

On the following day, the stamp will go on sale at other post offices throughout the country, including those in Knox County.

Mr. Idol said local observers of the issuance of the soil conservation stamp is being planned.

Turnpikes Are Safer To Travel

CHICAGO — The turnpikes were almost twice as safe in 1958 as other roads and highways, according to the National Safety Council.

The Council, in its recently published statistical yearbook, "Accident Facts," reports that the number of deaths per 100 million passenger miles was 1.3 on the turnpikes, 2.3 on other highways and roads.

A total of 270 deaths to auto passengers and drivers occurred on turnpikes in 1958. More than 24,000 such deaths occurred in cars and taxis elsewhere.

Talk Of New High School Building Started At Meeting Here Thursday

A number of school patrons expressed their belief that the best move for the Munday Public Schools was the construction of a new high school building in view of the increasing number of students to be entering high school in the next few years.

Their views were expressed at the meeting last Thursday night, which was called by the school board to give patrons first hand information regarding the many improvements needed to meet requirements of the accreditation committee. Around 75 persons attended the meeting.

A. A. Smith, Jr., president of the board, opened the meeting, then turned it over to Supt. W. C. Cox, who explained in detail the improvements required by the committee.

"This is my first experience of this kind," Mr. Cox said, "and I don't know just how long we can go without meeting the requirements and keep the accredited standing of our schools. I know of schools that have been warned and visited by the committee for three consecutive years, at which time the requirements were met."

Mr. Cox gave an estimate of costs of $30,000 on the improvements needed, which were broken down as follows:

School furniture, $6,000; shades $1,200; library books, $1,500; laboratory equipment, $1,500; laboratory room at Dunbar school, $1,200; repair roof at Dunbar school, $500; repair high school library, $500; vocational ag. shop building, $16,500; shop equipment, $2,000.

"Munday is spending far less per student than other schools of the area, and is far below the national and state average," he said, giving the following figures:

Current cost per pupil: National average, $340; state average, $308; Munday average, $279.56.

Most of those present who expressed themselves favored construction of a new building rather than making repairs which would likely be inadequate within two or three years.

The board decided to have the architectural firm of Wilson and Patterson of Fort Worth give figures on "peace-meal" repairs to the existing plant, and figures on cost of construction of a new high school building. These will be presented to the patrons as soon as available.

County Reaches 60.6 Per Cent Of Quota In Bonds

W. E. Braly, Chairman of Knox County's Savings Bonds Committee, reports that June bond sales in Texas were 11.4% greater than May sales. Bond sales in Knox county totaled $146,758 for the first half of 1959. This represents 60.6% of the year's goal for the county. June sales in the county amounted to $12,704.

Sales in Texas for the first half of 1959 were $71,960,468 or 41.9% of the year's goal of $182.5 million.

"The fine sales increase shown in June pointed up the fact that thousands of Texans are interested in an investment where their principal and interest are fully guaranteed by the U. S. Treasury Department. I believe strongly in the bond slogan 'Part of Every American's Savings Belongs in Savings Bonds.'" Mr. Braly stated.

"More Texans should take part in the Savings Bonds program, not only as a tangible expression of patriotism, but as a practical way of saving for future personal security," he concluded.

TAXES LIKE FLYPAPER

Some time ago the Senate voted to repeal the excise taxes on local telephone service, and on rail, plane and bus passenger fares. Both tax rates have been 10%.

The House, however, refused to go along. So, under a compromise agreement, the telephone tax is to be retained at 10%, while the passenger travel tax is to be reduced to 5%.

This action brought an apt comment from the Portland, Oregonian: "These two taxes are indefensible in the present time and circumstances. The travel tax came into being in World War II when transportation facilities were overloaded through troop movements and the government wished to discourage unnecessary civilian travel. Railroads, airlines and bus companies now have plenty of capacity. The tax hinders the common carriers, the backbone of U. S. transportation, in their competition with contract carriers and the private automobile. . . . The telephone tax is equally unfair. . . ."

The Oregonian ends its editorial on a melancholy note: "The episode certainly proves one point. There is no such thing as a temporary tax. Once you get into them, they stick like flypaper."

But this kind of legislature flypaper can be unstuck — if enough voters will demand action.

WORSHIP TOGETHER

Man must worship in several ways: alone with his God, in the warmth of the family circle, or in the common meeting place where distinctions disappear and all are one in humility and veneration.

A noted clergyman once told of a parishioner who explained his irregular attendance at worship by saying he could feel as close to God, could worship Him just as well, on a windswept, sun-set-drenched hill.

The clergyman gently replied: "O course you can, but DO you?"

Many do have their windswept hills. But the light that drenches our houses of public worship has its own special added blessing for us when we join our family and our fellow men in acknowledging together a Power far greater than ourselves.

As the Religion in American Life Program urges, "Find the Strength for Your Life . . . Worship Together This Week."

Drive Safely! Spend a little more time with us.

REACHING INTO THE PAST

Life magazine recently ran a lavishly illustrated article on the boom in the antique business. Apparently the dealers have never seen anything like it before. The problem is to find enough supply to meet the surging demand. All manner of old wares are eagerly bought, from knickknacks that go for a few dollars to great rarities valued far into the thousands.

Also, in late years, the book publishers have found an extraordinarily large audience for works of history. Books dealing with some historical periods — notably the Civil War — have appeared in torrents and have been enthusiastically received. Many have become runaway best sellers.

It is not hard to understand the reasons for this reaching back into the past. For one thing, we live in a disordered, violent, unpredictable world. The past provides a measure of assurance.

And the past does much more than that. It is the source of a nation's strength and principle. In yesterday, we may find the guides to tomorrow. The character of those who live in is large measure molded by those long dead — by their deeds, their thoughts, their arts and crafts, their victories and defeats. The past is pride, and it is hope for the future too.

NO EXCEPTION

The success of powerful labor organizations in tying up basic industries to enforce higher and higher demands, is booming automation. The result is a constant drop in available jobs. Any product or service can price itself out of the market and labor will find it is no exception to the rule as lower cost imports cut deeper and deeper into domestic production. Boycotts and strikes won't build payrolls or force consumers to buy.

"To unite Europe in wealth and strength, it is not the sovereignty of many states which has to be destroyed, but the fatal belief of her people in state economic planning. . . . Unity is not brought about by laws to control trade but by the absence of such laws." — George Winler, in The Freeman.

"Let us develop the resources of our land, call forth its powers, build up its institutions, promote all its great interests, and see whether we also, in our day and generation may not perform something worthy to be remembered." — Daniel Webster.

AIR CONDITIONING MOVES TO THE BARN

What's new in the animal kingdom? Animal air conditioning, that's what!

Researchers have taken one of mankind's greatest boons to comfort and have begun cooling plants and animals for greater profit.

It has been a known fact for many years that the hot Texas summers slow growth and production rates of farm animals. But the difference in just a few degrees of temperature will mean a more rapid growth rate which increases farm income.

According to preliminary research studies, hens kept in cool chicken houses not only lay larger, tougher eggs but they also produce up to twice as many. In addition, a "heat struck" hen may consume up to 4 pounds of feed in her efforts to produce a dozen eggs. But when kept cool and comfortable, the hen need only about 2.66 pounds of feed per dozen.

The air conditioned chicken house also increases flock production. Eight per cent more of the setting hens' eggs hatch in a cool house. Chick mortality falls and the house itself can accommodate 15% more chickens comfortably, reports show.

Pigs and cattle respond equally well to cooler quarters in the summertime. If pigs are kept at 70 degrees, they reach a marketable weight in one-fourth the time needed at 90 degrees. And they consume a total of only one-third as much food.

When cattle are kept cool, they gain up to half-pound more per day and give more milk, according to research tests.

Air conditioning trials in greenhouses reveal that plants respond equally well. Plants need light, air, water and heat for growth — but in correct proportion. The blazing Texas heat often retards plants in the hottest months.

Cooling green houses thus can double the growing rates of marketable flowers and vegetables, researchers claim.

The experiments have been conducted by the American Society of Heating and Air Conditioning Engineers. The organization is developing systems for cooling farm buildings for an operating cost of under $5 per month which would require investments of under $500.

From the train window, one can see the Salton Sea; it parallels the Southern Pacifics there for miles and miles, and there are speedboats skimming along and the shore is bright with tents and awnings of family outings — but what makes the sea so amazing is that it is 244 feet below sea-level.

The train glides through a scenic contrast; on the left are mountains of jagged stone and on the right are mounds of white sand as smooth as just-fallen snow. Yes, California is a land of wonders.

New Water Safety Law Will Affect Thousands, Including Law Officers

(This is the first of a series of three articles concerning Texas' new Water Safety Act. J. O. Muck, one of the State's leading safety authorities, was chairman of Governor Daniel's original committee to investigate boating problems in Texas and make recommendations to alleviate hazardous conditions.—EJ.)

The Water Safety Act, which goes into effect August 11, 1959, will affect literally hundreds of thousands of Texans, because it places specific responsibilities on boat owners, operators, skiers, law enforcement officers and courts.

Furthermore, inquiries received in the Texas Safety Association's headquarters' office, Austin, indicate that only a few Texans have any real knowledge of what the Act is about or how it will influence their lives. Thus, this series of articles will attempt to highlight the principal provisions of the Act to an extent that will help water sport enthusiasts avoid running afoul of the new law.

The Texas Highway Department will administer the Act. Enforcement will be made by all duly authorized peace officers.

CLASSIFICATIONS — Motorboats subject to the provisions of the Act have been divided into four classes:

Class A. Less than 16 foot in length.

Class 1. 16 feet or over and less than 26 feet in length.

Class 2. 26 feet or over and less than 40 feet in length.

Class 3. 40 feet and over.

LIGHTING — Any kind of self-propelled boat, when underway between sunset and sunrise, must use at least one bright light and exhibit it so as to avoid a collision.

Motorboats of Class 1 must use two lights: A white light aft to show all around the horizon and board (right and a red light a combined lantern in the front (lower than the aft light) that will show a green light to the starboard (right) and a red light to the port (left).

Classes 2 and 3 must carry a bright light in the front of the boat, as near the stem as practicable, that will show an unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 20 points of the compass and fixed to throw the light 10 points on each side of the vessel. Also, a bright white light aft to show all around the horizon (higher than the forward white light. Port and starboard lights must be fitted with an inboard screen that will prevent these lights from being seen across the bow.

Motorboats of Classes A and 1, when propelled by sail alone, must carry the combined lantern, but not the white light aft. Motorboats of Classes 2 and 3, when propelled by sail alone, must carry colored side lights, but not the white lights. Motorboats of all classes must carry a lantern or flashlight showing a white light that can be used in sufficient time to avert collision.

LIFE PRESERVERS — Every motorboat or vessel must have aboard one Coast approved life preserver, buoyant vest, ring buoy or buoyant cushion, in good condition, for each person on board.

No person shall operate, or give permission to operate, a motorboat that is not equipped to meet the demands of this requirement.

SMALL MOTORS — All motorboats of 10 horsepower or less are required to have one approved life preserver for each person aboard and a white light to exhibit between the hours of sunset and sunrise.

BOAT LIVERIES — Boat livery owners will be required to keep a record of the name and address of persons hiring boats covered in this Act. The record will also include time and date of departure and expected time of return; such records to be kept for a 6 month period.

SKIS AND AQUAPLANES — Water skiing, aquaplaning, similar sports will not be permitted from the period of one hour after sunset to one hour prior to sunrise, except in tournaments, exhibitions and such events covered by special exemptions.

At all times, motorboats towing a person on water skis, etc., shall operate in a careful and prudent manner at a reasonable distance from persons and property so as not to endanger life or property.

News From The U. S. Congress

By Congressman Frank Bcard

In 1956 the program to build an interstate highway system was initiated. It was the program's original concept that it would provide a system to connect the principal defense centers in the country with limited access highways and also provide a system of expressway type roads where by motorists could drive from the East to the West Coast or from the Canadian Border to Mexico without encountering a traffic light or having to drive through city traffic. The legislation creating this system provided that these purposes should be accomplished by a system of not more than 40,000 miles of highway. It was estimated that over the life of the program, the cost would be approximately Twenty-Five Billion Dollars. Currently, this highway program is bogged down because of a shortage of money, and the President has several times this year asked the Congress to increase the gasoline tax by a cent and one-half a gallon in order to provide the additional funds that he thinks necessary. During the past week the Committee on Ways and Means has been holding hearings on the President's request and to determine the reasons that the highway trust fund is inadequate. During the hearings it developed that after actually locating the highway it was determined by the Bureau of Public Roads that the system could have been built for 1452 miles less than originally estimated, but instead of "saving" this 1452 miles, the Bureau proceeded to add that many miles to the system which increased the cost of the whole program by a Billion and a Half Dollars. As the program was originally conceived it was thought of as a highway system that would connect urban areas; however, since starting the system, the Bureau has changed this so that now provide expressways within cities. These two things along with an acceleration of the program 42% of the funds are spent to provided by Congress last year are largely responsible for the current deficit. It would seem that rather than increase the gasoline tax at this time and further encroach on a traditional source of States revenue and to increase everyone's tax burden, it would be better to stretch this program out for a few more years.

Visitors from home this week were Miss Madeline Hodge of Bellevue, Miss Pye Hardeman, Miss Lois Bell, and Mr. Truman K. Pannell of Wichita Falls, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank N. Hall and son, Terry, of Denton.

Fish Hatchery, Just Like Farmer, Facing Hazards

Hatching and raising fish for stocking is similar to planting and raising farm products for the market, according to the Director of Engineering, Texas Game and Fish Commission.

"Some years we raise large quantities of fish, and others we don't do so well," said the director. "It all depends on the weather, insects, diseases, and other factors nearly like those facing the farmer each year."

Various types of insects attack the eggs during spawning, many destroy fry before they can grow, and others cause diseases later after the fish are old enough for stocking.

When insects appear in destructive numbers, fish hatchery attendants treat the water with mixture of gasoline, kerosene, and oil, which forms a surface coating. The attacking insects require oxygen. When they surface the mixture enters their respiratory system and kills them.

Weather also can be very destructive to fish hatching. When the water temperature gets too low the male parent sometimes leaves the nest. Since he is needed to protect and fan the eggs, his departure means a loss of eggs. Of course, if the water gets too low, the eggs will freeze.

Like the farmer, the fish hatchery people never know what kind of a crop they will produce until the harvest is ready for stocking ponds and lakes across Texas.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

STATE SOMETIMES "INHERITS" PROPERTY

Made your will? If not, the State of Texas may wind up as owner of your estate upon your death. Under our statutes, the estates of persons having no heirs who die intestate revert, or "escheat", to the State.

Such provisions have been carried over from the English common law. There, under such circumstances, the estate escheated to the British crown. The theory of the process is that the sovereign (or State, having been the original owner of all lands before they were parceled out to individuals, is entitled to a return of such lands when the possibilities of legal inheritance have been exhausted.

This idea has been expanded to include personal property as well as real estate. It also applies in the case of a person absent for a term of seven years and not known to exist who leaves no heirs and no will.

Presumably, there is hardly a person who does not have some individual or charity that he would prefer to have his estate, rather than have it go to the State by default, so to speak. Yet, surprisingly, estates worth many thousands of dollars do escheat to the various states from time to time.

Now, before you shrug the matter off with the idea that these statutory provisions could not possibly apply to you, better think a minute. Suppose you and your spouse have no heirs besides each other and your children. Many people do fall into this category.

In event of a catastrophe resulting in death for you and your entire immediate family, no legal heirs would remain. Therefore if you had no will, your proerty would go to the State. In preparing a will, it is possible to provide for such an eventuality.

In this hypothetical case, you would probably want to designate some friend as executor, to take care of all necessary arrangements and then distribute the estate according to your wishes.

On the other hand, if you have plenty of possible heirs, a will could be used to designate which of them shall participate in the division of the estate. And even if you wish your property to be distributed entirely in accordance with our statutes of descent and distribution as explained in previous columns, a will can perform useful functions. Among other uses, a will could provide for an orderly and economical partition of your property, preventing any waste of the assets by heirs impatient for a settlement.

What happens to property which escheats to the State? Following certain required legal formalities and court proceedings, all escheated lands are set apart to the Permanent Free School Fund of the State, and may be leased and sold by the Land Commissioner under certain regulations. Escheated personal property is sold by the local sheriff under a court writ and the money received therefrom paid into the State Treasury.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Knox Prairie Philosopher Is Up In Arms Over High-Faluting View Of Just What Laziness Consists Of

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek discusses a topic he no doubt is an authority on, laziness.

Dear Editor:
One of the troubles with the world today is that it has to have an explanation for everything. You take laziness. You'd think the word lazy means what it says, just lazy. But psychologists have to go into a long rignarole explaining the deep psychological causes of it.

For example, I read in a newspaper yesterday afternoon while I was resting under a shade tree out here on my Johnson grass farm—well, technically I wasn't resting, at least I hadn't done anything to make me tired, what I was doing was just sitting there because I wanted to—where a prominent British surgeon has been analyzing laziness. According to him, "laziness implies a lot of intelligence. It is the normal, healthy attitude of a man with nothing to do. We should study its techniques."

This is what I'm talking about. Thunder, laziness doesn't imply a lot of intelligence, you can be lazy whether you've got any sense or not. You can be dumb and be lazy, and you can be very bright, and some of the brightest people I know ain't very busy.

And as far as it's being a "normal, healthy attitude of a man with nothing to do," I can tell you real quick that British surgeon doesn't know the first thing about laziness. Anybody can be lazy if he hasn't got anything to do. The real test of laziness comes when you can practice it when you've got plenty to do, when you're snowed under, when you're three weeks behind with your plowing and the work is stacking up and you're able to look at your tractor with great moral strength of character and pick up your fishing pole and head for the river or the lake.

Furthermore, if while you're fishing you're being gnawed by your conscience, if you keep thinking you ought to be back on your tractor going up one row and down another contributing to the surplus, you ain't really practicing laziness. Laziness is something very few people have the strength of character to acquire. I'm not a complete success at it yet, but I'm working on it. It's not something you acquire in one week. It takes years.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Land Contract Increases In Farmland Sales

Sales of farmland financed by land contract, a device which bypasses credit institutions as a party to the sale, have about doubled since 1946, says A. B. Wooten, extension economist.

The buyer deals directly with the seller in land contract transactions. No mortgage is written, and the buyer does not take title to the property until his installment payments add up to a substantial portion of the selling price, the economist says. Land contracts are one of the several credit devices currently helping to meet the demand for land during a period of rising prices. Rising prices usually tend to discourage those buyers lacking either sufficient cash or the credit to obtain conventional mortgage.

In the year ending March 1, 1958, sellers financed 43 percent of all farmland sales, says Wooten. The total was about the same as the combined loans for farmland purchased by credit institutions, including Federal Land Banks, during the period.

A land contract has attractions for both buyers and sellers, says Wooten. The buyer is able to get control of a farm, usually for a small down payment, leaving him free to invest his capital in farm stock and equipment. The seller, on the other hand, gains a tax advantage by selling through a land contract as the total income tax on his capital gain when spread over a number of years, may be considerably less than the tax on a large sum received in a single year. To qualify for this advantage, he said, the seller must limit the down payment to 30 percent or less of the selling price.

Some sellers, too, prefer land contracts because they furnish a steady income. Otherwise, sellers would be faced with the problem of reinvesting a lump sum profitably. And finally, in case of payment default, repossession under a land contract is much simpler and faster than under mortgages, he said.

Buyers assume a risk when buying with a land contract because their equity may be jeopardized if the contract is inflexible. In some states, a buyer can lose his total equity for default of a single payment. The risk has not been too important, up to now, because land values have continued to rise and farm income has been stable enough for most buyers to meet their installment obligations, adds Wooten.

MORE THAN A DOZEN FOODS PLENTIFUL IN TEXAS THIS AUGUST

What's plentiful in Texas food stores this August?

Fresh fruits and summer vegetables dominate the list of more than a dozen plentiful foods, reports the Agricultural Marketing Service, Dallas, after making a survey of stocks immediately available to Texas and other Southwest homesteaders.

Pears and plums rate the feature spot because shipments will be rolling from the largest pear crop since 1949 and from a plum crop about 70 percent larger than last year.

Supplies of peaches, lemons and limes are expected to run especially heavy, too.

Only merit to make the U. S. Department of Agriculture's August plentiful foods is turkey. About 65,000,000 pounds are moving from national cold storage stocks.

Other items in good supply include eggs, peanut butter, onions, vegetable fats and oils.

Mrs. Ky Hunter of Iowa Park visited in the home of her mother and brother Mrs. Ada Jarvis and F. T. last Thursday and Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dee Troy Trammell and daughter of Ardmore, Okla., visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Trammell and Audrey over the week end and they and Mrs. Trammell and Audrey left last Monday for a vacation in Corpus Christi.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Spotanski and Eddie of Fort Worth visited relatives and friends here over the week end. Eddie remained for an extended visit.

Week end guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Glass were Mrs. E. C. Stouse and Miss Shirleen Hamilton of Oklahoma City, Okla.
