Odd Bits Salvaged
By The Editor

Well, Mr. Van Doren finally shelled down the corn!

k-k

The "awfully smart" guy who had many of us marveling at how one head could be such a storehouse of knowledge last Monday admitted in a "soul-searching confession" that his spectacular TV feat was a rigged "deception" from start to finish.

k-k

Apparently the old boy was a pretty good actor, too. When in the isolation booth put on a brow-mopping spectacle that seemed to hide his deception while he was racking up that $129,000.

k-k

We weren't smart enough to know the show was "rigged" but it did seem inconceivable that one brain could know so much about so many things. But even the great amount of money that came his way in the "fix" could not quiet a guilty conscience. He lost his job, too.

k-k

One thing "the fix parade" has done, though, is to cause most all shows where great amounts of money can be won to be taken off the TV programs. These seemed to attract interest of most viewers, and now they're being replaced with a batch of tripe that isn't worth watching or listening to.

k-k

The "Name That Tune" program is one we particularly enjoyed, but it went the way of other money-winning programs. We're kinda like the old boy who was so far in debt and had to many adventures that he contemplated taking his own life, but decided to keep on living "to see what would happen next." We turn the TV on, get one of those gun-slinging, fist swinging westerns, then keep it on just to see if the next one is worth watching. We don't adhere to deception of any kind, but the rigged shows contained more interest than some of the stuff they're shooting at us now.

k-k

One thing we don't think was "rigged" though is the rain we have been receiving for the past several days.

k-k

Rain helps some and hurts some. Wheat farmers must be joyful about the precipitation; cotton farmers can rejoice, too, because of the excellent moisture they're receiving in prospect for another year, but those with cotton in the fields are in another situation.

k-k

Ginners, who sponsor the large amount of braceros here for the cotton harvest are not taking in the dough during wet weather; rather, they are paying it out for the harvest hands must be guaranteed so many hours of work during a working period. And that, we've been told, is one of the things that will bring about mechanized harvesting for this area.

k-k

The United Fund drive got under way Wednesday morning with a breakfast for all the workers. They will be calling on you in the near future, giving you an opportunity to give "The United Way."

k-k

This, in our opinion, is the practical way to solve the charitable contributions in a small community, such as ours. One group of workers making one call during the year, one check for all charities; or, if you prefer, one pledge to be paid during the year as you desire.

k-k

One J. Stanley Durkee, who ever he was, is credited with the following thoughts that we believe worth your consideration:

k-k

"When the great finals come, each one will be asked five questions:

"First: What did you accomplish in the world with the power that God gave you?"

"Second: How did you help your neighbor and what did you do for those in need?"

"Third: What did you do to serve God?"

"Fourth: What did you leave in the world that was worth while when you came from it?"

"Fifth: What did you bring in to this new world which will be of use here?"

Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Decker of Pep visited her mother, Mrs. Tony Kuehler, last Sunday and Monday.

Fire Destroys Grain Elevator Monday Night

Fire which broke out at about 10 p.m. Monday ripped through the Graham Mill and Elevator here, causing heavy damage and destroying a large supply of grain, fertilizer and a pickup truck.

The blaze was reported to have started in the tallest part of the building and spread to all of the structure except the office on the south end. Direct cause of the fire had not been determined early this week.

The pickup truck, parked inside the buildings, was owned by Billy Mitchell, manager of the elevator. A large part of the grain was milled from this year's harvest, valued at around $15,000. The fertilizer had been stocked recently for use by wheat farmers.

Members of the Munday Volunteer Fire Department battled the blaze for more than five hours. The fire was still smoldering at that time. Firemen saved a new Chevrolet truck, which was parked near the elevator, by pushing it out of range of the fire.

Jaycees Seek Names of Needy

The Munday Jaycees are seeking the names of needy or underprivileged children whose Christmas will be bleak and gloomy without a goodfellow or some other movement.

These names are needed this week, so the Jaycees can go ahead and plan their Christmas program. List the names with the Chamber of Commerce or the local chief of police office.

Local Jaycees started a movement some time ago to repair Christmas toys for the needy, and officers state some funds are already on hand to provide Christmas for the underprivileged children.

Jaycees Announce Search To Select Top Young Farmer

Who is this community's most outstanding young farmer? That is the question raised by a new Jaycee project now in the planning stages, according to Glenn Barber, president of the local Jaycee group.

Very soon a community-wide search will begin with the public asked to nominate any farmer aged 21 through 35 who is making outstanding progress in his agriculture career, is practicing soil and natural resource conservation and who maintains a consistent contributory role in community improvement and affairs.

Purpose of the search, according to Clint Norman, chairman of the program, is to increase public understanding of the farmer and his problems, and to create more youth interest in farming as a profitable and satisfying career.

Numerous awards will be made to the community winner and runner-up. The winner will be entered in the state judging and may win an all-expense paid trip to the national awards program next April, where during a three-day awards program, America's Four Outstanding Young Farmers of the year will be selected and honored. The Jaycees and the American Petroleum Institute, committee on agriculture, are national co-sponsors. More than 1,500 communities are expected to participate.

Nomination forms will soon be available from the Junior Chamber of Commerce and at other locations within Munday, according to Mr. Norman.

Moguls To Play Holiday On Friday Night

As a semifinal to their season's schedule, the Munday Moguls will play the strong Holiday Eagles on Friday night of this week. The game will be played at Holiday, the Moguls having completed their home schedule.

Holiday is rated second to top in the district, being led only by the Crowell Wildcats. The Moguls, sharing cellar position with Chillicothe, will go into the game as underdogs.

The Moguls have been showing improvement in their play throughout the season; yet, they have lacked that scoring punch against their stronger opponents.

Other district games on Friday night's schedule include Paducah at Chillicothe, Archer City at Iowa Park, and Crowell at Henrietta.

ATTEND CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MEETING

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Braly were in Midland last Thursday and Friday for the West Texas Chamber of Commerce meeting. On Thursday evening they attended a dinner and on Friday morning Mr. Braly attended a director's meeting and a luncheon honoring previous West Texas members of Highway Commission. They returned home Friday night.

THE JET AGE IS HERE

The jet age of air transport is bringing with it new concepts of world travel — and these have met with a burgeoning public response, expressed in terms of hard cash for tickets. Now it looks as if government policy needs some overhauling to bring it up to date.

Here's an example. An examiner for the Civil Aeronautics Board says that Pan American World Airways should be eliminated in providing air service between the Seattle-Portland land-Tacoma area and Hawaii. He holds that another airline should have permanent and exclusive certification to fly the route. His reasoning is that there isn't enough business for the two lines.

The Portland Oregonian takes editorial exception to that. It points out that supporting statistics cited by the examiner are largely based on the recession year of 1958. Worse yet, the Oregonian adds, his decision fails to take into consideration the increase in traffic occurring during the first seven months of this year, which amounts to a whopping 51.1 per cent for the two lines. And Pan American officials are absolutely confident that the jets will attract more and more traffic.

It is also significant that on two prior occasions President Eisenhower overruled CAB decisions that would have restricted the route in question to a single airline. But the President's jurisdiction extends only to international flights, and, since Hawaii has become a state, he can no longer act.

Fair and reasonable competition guarantees the best possible service in any line of enterprise.

EL DORADO, KANS. TIMES: "About a half a century ago, it was necessary for the government to put clamps upon arrogant heads of business. It has now come to pass where public sentiment is reaching the conclusion that the same sort of clamps will have to be applied to labor bosses who practice high-handed tactics."

CARLSBAD, N. M., CURRENT ARGUS: "A North Carolina editor says about the only difference between an ordinary bum and one of those so-called beatniks is that the ordinary bum is either ashamed of his status or is indifferent. The beatnik, on the other hand, is proud of his low spot on the totem pole of human society."

—SAY YOU SAW IT IN THE TIMES—

A GOOD NEWSPAPER

Editor Floyd W. Shaylor of the Plain City, Ohio, Advocate, has something important to say about newspapers: "A strong editorial policy is the best indication of a good newspaper. It matters not whether an individual agrees with what a newspaper says editorially — it does matter a great deal as to whether the reader, through the medium of the editorial, gives consideration and thought to the subject at hand. If he strongly opposes a newspaper's opinions, it is all for the best since it indicates that he has read and considered the subject and has found it to be contrary to his own beliefs . . . We will never complain because we have accomplished our real purpose — that of causing you to read what we have to say!"

FACTS AND A QUESTION

Tax Foundation reports that more major tax changes, 111 in number, have been made by the states which held legislative sessions this year than in any year in postwar history.

Needless to say, the great majority of the changes — 87 — involved tax increases. An additional 12 involved the imposition of new taxes. There were, by way of contrast, just five tax reductions and just one repeal of a tax.

The tax increases ran a considerable gamut—corporate and personal income, general sales, gasoline, tobacco and liquor. Looking at the matter money-wise, the Foundation says that governors in 31 states proposed tax increases totaling almost $1.5 billion in their messages to 1959 legislatures.

Well, so much for the facts. The question is—what are the American people, who ultimately have the last word, going to do about it?

REYNOLDSVILLE, PA., STAR: "Americans do a lot of beefing about the spendthrifts on Capitol Hill or in their State Houses. But the truth of the matter is we make those legislators spendthrifts even when they don't want to be one . . ."

"We do not award any Congressional Service Medals to those who spend their time trying to introduce economy. Nobody ever put up a monument in any town or city square to the stubborn gent who saved a few million during his tenure of office. We called them pinch-pennies, tight-wads and burrs on the tail of progress. It is not popular to be an economizer, in fact, in many cases, it is political suicide."

SIX-TO-ONE PAY-OFF

For a capital outlay of $225,000 and an annual operating expense of about $300,000, the agricultural research center at Brownsville has developed a cash saving of at least $3,000,000 a year to Texas farmers on a single research project.

This was reported by us in the recent dedication ceremonies for a new laboratory and office building at the Texas A. and M. College Experiment Station in Weslaco.

For those of us charged with the enforcement of agricultural laws, it is indisputable that without the information provided by research we could not clear our Texas agricultural products into interstate and international commerce. We could not certify as to grade or to freedom from pests and diseases, and here is a case in point about what research means in terms of cash savings:

For at least 20 years it was a requirement under our pink bollworm law that all cotton seed must be sterilized at the gin and again at the oil mill. The cost for this was generally $1 per bale at the gin and $1 per ton of cotton seed at the mill. A few years ago, at our request, the research center at Brownsville undertook a project aimed at proving or disproving that sterilization was necessary to prevent the spread of this most dreaded of cotton insect pests.

With two years of extensive research, the center was able to show definitely that it was not only unnecessary to sterilize cotton seed but it wasn't even helpful. Thereby, we were able to remove the sterilization requirements.

What does this mean in terms of dollars and cents? The whole cost of construction of the research center at Brownsville was $225,000, and its appropriation for all of its wonderful work is about $300,000 a year. This one project on cotton seed sterilization is saving Texas farmers at least $3,000,000 every year. Putting it another way, this single project saves six times the total cost of construction and the cost of running the entire research center year in and year out. That means money in the bank as a result of research and education.

It is also one of the best answers we know to misleading further development of agricultural research on the grounds that it is a needless expense.

(Sam) may need to figure out your "net worth".

The Internal Revenue Service may use the "net worth" method to check a taxpayer's income tax records. It compares what he was worth, say, five years ago, with what he is worth today. Then it looks to see if his increase in net worth compares well with his reported income during that time, after allowing for his estimated expenditures. By this method the government can detect tax deficiencies, fraud, or evasion, or assesses tax where the taxpayer has not kept records or has lost them.

At a trial for tax evasion, the government must first prove what a taxpayer was worth at the beginning of a period, and what he is worth at the end of the period. The difference is his increase in net worth. The question: Has his wealth increased between the two periods by unreported taxable amounts?

For example: John Doe, a taxpayer, had little wealth when he started his career. He often borrowed. After four years his net worth grew much larger. In court John could not explain how this happened. So, to cut a long story short, he had to pay the tax, plus interest, and civil and criminal penalties.

Richard Roe, another taxpayer, was worth $50,000 in 1946, but in 1950 the government claimed he was worth $200,000. Roe tried to show, but couldn't, that he had much more money in 1946 than the government showed. For alas, the government's old tax returns showed that Richard had reported a small income in 1946, and had mortgaged his home and business besides. Roe spent freely much more than his reported income, and couldn't show that he received gifts or other non-taxable money. So the court found a large unreported income, and Richard was convicted for fraud.

By keeping proper records of all transactions over a period of years a taxpayer can properly account for receipt and expenditure of income so that he can forestall the revenue service from using the net worth method.

BOYCE HOUSE

More recollections of a "has been" sports writer:

Vernor was the scene of a district championship game and I made a mistake; I arrived at the field only 30 minutes before the kickoff. The stands, including aisles, were already packed. So I climbed on top of a car back of the press box, jumped and hands pulled me up.

Another time, Childress was the scene of a district title contest. The stands were so crowded that it was impossible to reach the press box, so I obtained permission to get on the sidelines. I made more yardage than any player because Red Rattikin, Childress' great back, ran only when he had the ball but I ran any time anybody had the ball.

Usual plays recalled: Mike Todd of Crowell, later an Aggie great, broke into the clear against Childress, looked back and saw he was all by himself and so he walked the last six yards across the goal line; the giant end, Rankin Britt of Ranger, caught a pass near the Eastland goal, was tackled by three small players who turned him halfway around and he backed the final five yards for a touchdown, dragging them along; and, at Brownwood, at almost the end of the game, a substitute intercepted an Eastland pass and ran 35 yards, with Eastland men blocking for him then tackling him behind his own goal line for a safety which gave Eastland a one-point victory!

Being a sports writer has its occasional embarrassments. I was attending the pre-season district dinner which Breckenridge used to host and, during the meal, the pian across the table remarked that Coach Schmidt of T.C.U. was listing huge Dan Salkeld, sophomore end, at 180. In an undertone, I said to the man next to me, "Rags" Matthews, a T.C.U. immortal, "That reminds me that his high school coach used to list Salkeld at 165." Rags, addressing the first speaker, said, "This fellow says," indicating me, and then repeated my remark. I blushed and so did the other man. He had been Salkeld's high school coach.

Among the coaches in my Oil Belt days (1920-30) were Dave Pena, at Eastland who had been University of Texas captain; Blair Cherry, at Ranger, later head coach at Texas; Eck Curtis, at Ranger, later backfield coach at Texas; and W. B. Chapman, at Cisco, who went to Lubbock and, after his death in mid-season, his inspired team went on to win the State championship.

Even when I was sports writer in Eastland or Ranger, "Chap" told me I was always welcome to attend any Cisco practice. I never accepted the invitation but felt honored at what I considered to be a tribute to my fairness and sportsmanship. When I happened to mention this invitation, however, one fan said the coach felt that I knew so little about football that I couldn't have described a play so that the Eastland (or Ranger) coach would know what to be on guard against. But I didn't dignify this statement with a reply; in fact, I forgot the remark a long time ago.

Jaycee Seminar Is Big Success

Glen Barber, president of the Munday Junior Chamber of Commerce, attended the first Jaycee citizenship seminar ever held. It was held in Austin on Sunday, November 1.

The idea of the conference was conceived by Senator Lyndon Johnson several years ago, and this year he was able to present it in cooperation of the Texas Jaycees.

Senator Johnson stated: "I have long held the belief that much could be gained if the great men of our times could sit down and share their knowledge and experiences with the younger men who will guide our state and nation in the years ahead." This was truly an informative conference for those who attended.

Senator Johnson introduced the guest speakers, who were: Jack Miller, Texas Jaycee president; Howard E. Butt, Jr., Dr. T. Keith Glennan, administrator of National Aeronautics and Space Administration; John L. Burns, president of the Radio Corporation of America; Cyrus Tyree Anderson, spokesman for the Railroad Brotherhood in Washington, D. C.; Hon. Sam Rayburn, Senator Thomas J. Dodd of Connecticut Arthur Godfrey, James H. Douglas, secretary of the Air Force; Hon. William O. Douglas, justice of the U. S. Supreme Court, and Mitch Miller of Columbia Records.

Study Club Will Present Program On November 12th

The Munday Study Club will present Dr. Dan Barfield, Presbyterian minister of Rule and Throckmorton, graduate of Austin college and Princeton University Seminar, in a program Thursday, November 12.

Dr. Barfield's lecture will be on "Dead Sea Scrolls." The Dead Sea Scrolls were discovered in 1947, were written about 100 years after Christ and buried in earthen ware containers. The scrolls were discovered by accident and hundreds of people were put to work putting them together as they were smashed into millions of small pieces. The most important discovery was related to Bible writings.

Hostesses for the occasion are Mrs. Tom Bullington, Chas. Hogsett, E. B. Littlefield, Belmon Alexandre and J. B. King.

The time of the program has been changed to 5:30 p.m. and supper will be served at 6:30 by Mrs. Joe Canafax and her home Economic girls. This change has been made in order that everyone may attend the Methodist revival at 7:30.

Vehicles Hauling Grain Should Be Free Of Other Seed

Grain sorghum producers and shippers in the Texas Plains are cautioned by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service to be sure vehicles hauling grain are free of any seed other than grain sorghum.

A number of truckloads and carlots being shipped from Texas to Western states have been denied entry after a few cottonseed were found mixed with the grain.

Pasture Weed Control Can Pay Big Dividends

Weed growth in Texas pastures is heavy this fall. C. O. Hoffman, extension range specialist, says these uncontrolled weeds use from route to eleven times more water for growth than grasses. They rob your livestock of good grazing since weedy pastures produce very little forage for winter use.

To have more grass for next year's grazing, control weeds by spraying with one pound of 2, 4-D per acre. Usually one application will give good weed control throughout the growing season. Weeds must be sprayed in early spring when they are about six inches tall and growing rapidly. Pasture weed control using 2, 4-D costs about $2 per acre.

Many demonstrations have indicated that grass production is from two to ten times more on sprayed pastures as compared to unsprayed ones. To cite an example, says Hoffman, a demonstrator who spent $2 per acre for weed control and practiced deferred grazing during the summer obtained a $25 return per acre from increased grass. This amounts to growing over a ton of forage per acre for a cost of $2.

When has the price of grass hay been $2 per ton? asks Hoffman.

Have more grass for grazing next year and less weedy growth by planning a range pasture chemical weed control program followed by good grazing management. See your county agent for information about chemical weed control and pick up a blueprint on how to make a pasture weed sprayer. Your county agent also has information about other range management practices which will pay you big dividends, advises Hoffman.

to fumigate these contaminated shipments — at a cost varying from $50 to $100 a load — before crossing the state line, reports D. M. McEachern of the Bureau of Plant Pest Control at San Antonio.

The states have regulations affecting import of cottonseed and other agricultural products.

Indications are that the grain sorghum possibly was contaminated while still on the farm, due mainly to use of the same vehicles for hauling both cotton and grain sorghum.

If further information is needed on this subject, please contact Troy Jones, Knox County Agent.

Committee From Knox County Visits Experiment Station At Spur Recently

Four county extension program building committeemen, Jack Idol, Lonnie Offutt, J. C. (Togo) Moorhouse and Lee Smith visited the Spur Experiment Station with County Agent Troy Jones on Tuesday, October 27.

Primary interest of the group was to get the latest information available on the use of stilbestrol for finishing steers.

Paul Marion, station superintendent, gave the following report: Stilbestrol, a synthetic drug which has hormone properties, has been used in eight feeding trials of 58 to 140 days since 1954. It stimulates the appetite and growth of steers when added to the reaction in minute quantities. Average daily gains have been increased one-third to one-half pound with 15 per cent less feed required per pound of gain by feeding 10 milligrams of stilbestrol per head daily.

Best results were obtained in longer feeding periods of 140 days when market weights were increased 67 pounds, carcass weights 37 pounds, and a net return of $7.84 per head. In short feeding periods there has been a slight reduction in the carcass grade of stilbestrol fed steers.

Steers implanted with stilbestrol or synovex pellets have not made enough additional gain to be profitable on grass pastures during the summer grazing season. Reports from other stations indicate that the implants have good results in the feedlot.

The recommended amounts for feeding periods of 120 to 140 days are three 12-mg. stilbestrol pellets or six synovex pellets contained in one cartridge. Stilbestrol implants cost about ten cents per head, compared with approximately $2.50 for synovex.

Other demonstrations visited by the group included:

Water and soil conservation—1. Levelling and benching dry land fields, a new experiment that was started last year but has proven most profitable; 2. Use of residue on crop lands, six to eight tons of cotton burrs per acre appeared to give most satisfactory results.

Brush and weed control—1. Using five pounds of 245T per acre on mesquite during the growing season continues to give most satisfactory control.

Grassland management and reseeding—1. Green springleop gave more growth than sidecoats gramma during first year growth on seeded crop lands.

Cattle management—1. A new experiment was started this spring with a group of Hereford heifers. The heifers were divided into three equal lots and will receive winter ration varying from minimum to optimum and is set up to determine the effect of winter rations on cows and their calves. The test will continue for ten years.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Putman of Wichita Falls and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd L. Reed and daughters of Odessa were here to attend the funeral of their aunt, Mrs. Letha Wilson, last Friday afternoon and visit with relatives over the week end.

Mrs. J. B. Walling and children and Mrs. Robert Walling of Fort Worth were week end guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mahlon Boggs.

Misses Shirley Yeager, Brenda Phillips and Jeanene Lowrance of Abilene spent the week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Yeager, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Phillips and Mrs. J. F. Lowrance.

Brazos Valley Scout Camporee Held Recently On Fritz Place At Bomarton

The Brazos Valley District Camporee was held recently at the Fritz campgrounds south of Bomarton. As a welcome change they had beautiful weather to enjoy while they participated in the various events of the encampment.

Troop 76, Scoutmaster James Carden, and assisted by W. R. Moore Jr., joined troops from Throckmorton and Seymour in demonstrating their knowledge and ability to perform many Scouting Skills. There were 45 boys at the encampment.

The camporee began Saturday morning with the boys setting up their model camps, practicing on their skills and cooking their noon meals. However, Troop 76 came out the night before and had a good head start on the rest of the boys. Beginning at 1:30 Saturday afternoon the boys participated as patrols in the adventure trail of Scout skills. This competition included giving each boy an opportunity to show his prowess in such things as first aid, signaling, laying out a compass course, lashing, tent pitching and height judging.

Troop 76 of Monday had two patrols entered in the Camporee. They were the only unit to receive Blue Ribbons for each patrol. This is the highest award at the camporee. They must earn at least 2000 points out of a possible 2500 in order to be in this category.

Parents and friends of the boys joined them at 5:30 that afternoon for one of Fred Gorman and Norman McCluskey's famous barbecues. Over 125 people enjoyed the meal and the visit of the camp grounds that afternoon. Thanks should go to Seymour for providing this meal.

The exciting day was highlighted by the campfire that evening. Troop and Post 16 of Wichita Falls presided over the evening campfire and gave some excellent Indian dances. These Indian costumed members of the Order of the Arrow, honorary Scout Camping organization, also called out three for membership in the Order.

They are Jimmy Garden of Munday, Dick Wirz and Clyde Whiteside of Seymour, Neil Laws, District Advancement Chairman, and John Stallings, District Vice-Chairman, presided over a Court of Honor at the closing of the Campfire. Awards were made to several boys from Troop 79 of

Seymour Scouts Get Honor Medal

The National Council of the Boy Scouts of America through its National Court of Honor has announced that two Seymour Scouts have been recognized for demonstrating unusual heroism in saving another boy's life at the risk of their own.

The Honor Medal, the highest recognition given by the Boy Scouts of America, has been approved for Scouts Michael David Cowart and Jimmy Neil Parks for their action last January in saving the life of Joe Rogers. Mike is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. U. Cowart and Jimmy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Neil Parks. Joe is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred W. Rogers, all of Seymour.

The Medals will be awarded at the annual banquet of the Brazos Valley District, Northwest area Council, to be held at 6:45 p.m. Tuesday, November 17th. The presentation will be made by a member of the National Court of Honor, assisted by the boy's Scoutmaster, Mr. Bill Burdick, Troop 72. The medals are now on display at the Baylor Drug Store.

The citation of the National Court of Honor reads as follows: "The National Court of Honor of the Boy Scouts of America hereby awards to Jimmy Neil Parks and Michael David Cowart The Honor Medal for heroic Action at the Risk of their own lives.

On the afternoon of January 4, 1959, three boys, Jimmy Parks, Michael Cowart and Joe Rogers, twelve years of age, were playing at City Park Lake, Seymour, Texas. The lake was frozen over, so the boys decided to walk over it. About twenty feet from the bank Joe broke through thin ice and fell into twenty feet of water. Jimmy crawled out on the ice, and reaching the edge of the hole grabbed Joe's feet and proceeded to back off pulling Joe up on the ice. By that time Michael had advanced to the edge of the hole, and together the two boys rolled him up on to the ice and assisted him back to the bank.

Benjamin Downs O'Brien 39 to 6

Jim Cox paced the Benjamin team to a thumping 49 to 6 victory over O'Brien in a District 3 E-man contest at O'Brien last Thursday night.

The win was Benjamin's first in district play and gave it a season record of 27. The loss was O'Brien's seventh of the year. Cox scored on runs of 35, 30, 37, and 15 yards. Scoring 18 points for the victors was Donnie Ryder on runs of 17, 50, and five yards. Fred McGregor scored one TD on a 40 yarder and Tommy Brewster added one point on a conversion.

Larry Gibson scored O'Brien's only touchdown on a 14-yard run in the third quarter.

Quail Season Begins Early In Two Areas

Quail hunters in Texas will get an early start this year in two areas, according to W. J. Cutbirth, Jr., assistant secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

The season opens Tuesday, November 3, in Dimmit and Zbala counties in Southwest Texas, and in ten counties west of the Pecos river. The South Texas area can be hunted from November 3 until January 16, inclusive. In the Trans-Pecos area the dates are from November 3 to December 31 inclusive.

Counties in the Trans-Pecos area are Brewster, Culberson, El Paso, Hudspeth, Jeff Davis, Pecos, Presidio, Terrell, Reeves, and that part of Val Verde county west of the Pecos. The limit is 12 birds daily and 25 in possession in both the above areas.

There will be no change in dates on other Texas counties. However, the bag limit has been changed in the Possum Kingdom and the Panhandle areas to permit the killing of 15 birds per day, with 45 in possession.

The following counties are involved in the increased bag limit: Possum Kingdom; Archer, Baylor, Bosque, Brown, Clay, Comanche, Denton, Ellis, Erath, Hamilton, Hill, Hood, Jack, Johnson, Knox, Montague, Nolan, Palo Pinto, Parker, Somervell, Stephens, Tarrant, Taylor, Wichita, Wise, Young.

THE BIG CHANGE

is TO an ELECTRIC RANGE!

It's so inexpensive to cook the modern electric way. The average family served by WTU can cook a complete meal the easy, fast electric way for less than three cents (3¢).

If you're like most homemakers, you'll agree to this: seeing your family sit down to a delicious dinner is one of the biggest thrills any woman can have. But—how often can you really enjoy it, when you're tired out, exhausted, after hours of battling with a balky, old-fashioned stove. Well, if that's your situation, get ready for something wonderful to happen—to you! Just start cooking with a modern, automatic electric range. Figures on 4-H enrollment for 1959 again show an upward trend. If the increase is reflected in all 50 states and Puerto Rico, this year's final score could well be within touching distance of the two-and-one-half million mark, predicts the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work.

While the number of 4-H'ers is steadily increasing, the annual crop of winners remains about the same, the National Committee points out, because the number of award programs is limited. Thus individual qualifications become higher and competition keener. At the present time the ratio for state and national winners is one member out of 2,000.

The national award programs in which 4-H'ers participate include clothing, frozen foods, entomology, safety, public speaking, and tractor. There are nearly 50 others, according to the National Committee.

All 4-H projects and activities endeavor to show how to improve the individual, the family, the home, farm and community.

Every 4-H member pledges "... my head to clearer thinking ... my heart to greater loyalty ... my hands to larger service ... my health to better living, for my club, my community, and my country."

Besides the personal satisfaction of "learning by doing," 4-H'ers take great pride in their accomplishments, and outstanding records are rewarded, the National Committee reports.

Awards are provided annually by individuals and business firms among which are: Mrs. Charles R. Walgreen, Standard Brands, Coats & Clark, Carnation Co., Simplicity Pattern Co., Hercules Powder Co., Betty Crocker of General Mills, Whirlpool Corp., Montgomery Ward, General Motors, Firestone Tire & Rubber Co.

Also John Deere, Singer Sewing Machine Co., Colgate-Palmolive, Homelite, Armour & Co., the Burlington, Milwaukee, and Illinois Central railroads, Wilson & Co., and Humble Oil & Refining Co.

Illegal Fishing Tops The List Of Area Violations

Fishing without licenses topped the list of game and fish violations in September, according to the director of law enforcement, Texas Game and Fish Commission.

One hundred and ninety-eight persons were charged with fishing without the required licenses. Game wardens arrested 15 for failure to have resident hunting licenses.

"Everyone had substantial notice that new licenses would be required after August 31" said the director. "Many people go right on fishing without a license, either because they put off buying one or because they forget about one until they're in the boat and fishing. Nevertheless, a violation is committed and it cannot be overlooked."

Hunting out of season did not pay off for 22 persons who were caught in the act. Trespassing dropped far below the monthly average, while hunting with unplugged guns jumped up a notch or two. Another 14 were charged with hunting from an auto and 17 were hunting doves in closed season. A dozen hunters had too many doves.

Nine persons were charged with killing quail out of season and another 8 shot squirrel in closed season. In all, 43 persons were charged with killing game out of season.

A total of 369 charges were filed during the month by State game wardens. The persons charged paid a total of $7,115 in fines and $679 in court costs. One person served time in jail, 5 pleaded not guilty, 3 appealed to a higher court, one had his fine suspended, and 31 cases were dismissed.

Vera Wallops Paint Creek Boys

Jerry, Billy, Keith and Wayland Hardin and Douglas Gore led Vera to a 65 to 33 victory over Paint Creek last Thursday night in a District 2 6-man grid battle at Vera.

The loss knocked the Pirates from the unbeaten ranks in district warfare and left Vera 5-1 in league play.

In spite of the combined efforts of the Hardin boys, Gore was the leading scorer for Vera with 26 points.

But for the Hardins, Jerry scored one touchdown, Billy two, Keith two and Wayland one. Two of the Hardin's markers came on passes from Gore.

Scoring Paint Creek's touchdowns were Roy Scheets with two, Kenneth Carlton with two and Robert Weaver with one. Carlton ran over two extra points, Scheets one.

Weinert Winner Over Goree, 73-15

Weinert's mighty Bulldogs rolled up their 31st consecutive victory Thursday night behind the five-touchdown performance of W. J. Swaner to down the Goree six-man team, 74 to 15, at Weinert.

The District 3 six-man battle left the Bulldogs 5-0 in league play and the visitors 2-3.

Swaner scored 30 points, Chestley Forehand six, Jerry Hutchinson six, David Earle 13 and Bill Rainey 22 as the Bulldogs faced little opposition in their victory romp.

Tommy Howery led the losers' attack with eight points, Jerry Howe had six and Tommy Jackson one.

Weinert next week encounters once-beaten Paint Creek in an important district skirmish at Paint Creek.

Take Extra Care During Night Driving

With the shades of night falling fast as winter approaches, we all will be doing more and more driving after dark.

Night driving calls for extra precautions, especially on the highways. Here are some that should be observed:

When making an emergency stop, drive off the pavement completely if the shoulder of the highway permits.

Leave lights burning. It is recommended that you carry a couple of flares in the trunk.

Don't stop on or near a sharp curve or just below the crest of a hill.

Avoid working on the left-hand, or traffic, side of the car if you can.

If wearing dark clothes tuck white Kleenex tissue in your collar and belt so oncoming drivers can spot you at work more easily.

Allow a greater distance between your car and the one ahead as you increase your speed in slippery weather, and be especially careful at sundown and when rain or sleet first begins to fall.

Make more frequent stops for a coffee or soft-drink "break" — at least every 100 miles.

Wipe off Windshield and headlights frequently.

John Deere New 4-H Awards Donor

The 4-H Recreation program is not new, but the donor of some 12,000 incentive awards is. Next year John Deere of Moline, Illinois, takes over the role of national sponsor of awards in this popular activity. The announcement was made by the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work.

During a recent meeting at the committee's headquarters in Chicago, Bruce Lourie (left) vice president of John Deere, and 4-H recreation specialist Arden M. Peterson of Michigan State University, discussed the program's objectives as set forth in the official leaflet that will soon be in the hands of state and volunteer local club leaders.

"Every 4-H boy and girl can participate in a recreation activity," Mr. Peterson said. "When young people learn to plan their own fun and entertain themselves as this program encourages them to do, they are improving their club, while they also develop their own abilities."

The best part is that while having fun, club members may win a $400 college scholarship, an all-expense trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, or a distinctive gold-filled medal of honor.

At the close of the club year, members enrolled in the recreation program submit their 4-H records for consideration for one or more of these awards. Winners are named by the Cooperative Extension Service which conducts the program.

Boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 21 are eligible to join a 4-H Club. Additional information can be obtained from the state or county Extension office.

Research Sheds New Light On Cattle Bloat

One of the causes of chronic bloat in cattle is believed to have been found by researchers at Oregon State College, reports Dr. C. M. Patterson, extension veterinarian. According to their research, he adds, bloat runs in the family.

The researchers kept records on 250 beef calves in the course of the study. Chronic bloat showed up in 7 out of 15 offspring of "bloater" bulls mated to bloater cows or to cows closely related to the bulls. Of the regular breeding herd, less than four percent bloat occasionally.

Bloat is caused by a buildup of gas during food digestion in the large storage reservoir in a network of four stomachs in cattle. Chronic bloat stunts growth and is a major cause of death losses in both beef and dairy cattle.

Patterson also reports that bloat occurs most often when such as 25-40 alfalfa hay supplemented with barley. Test animals received a pelleted ration of two parts half inch cut alfalfa hay to one part grain mix.

Since the tendency to bloat was increased in the tests through selective breeding Patterson believes that it may be possible to pinpoint chronic bloating families and thus help matril breeders select against this abnormality.

Texas State Fair Sets New Record

Dallas — A new national attendance record for annual expositions of the United States was established by the 1959 State Fair of Texas, which ended its run Sunday night, Oct. 25, with a total attendance of 2,801,365.

The new mark eclipsed the fair's previous record of 2,757,734 established only last year.

James H. Stewart, executive vice president and general manager of the fair, declared that the 1959 fair was the biggest, best and most successful exposition in every way in the entire 74-year history of the State Fair of Texas.

The 1959 fair set another record also — a new world's record for attendance on any one day at any annual fair anywhere. This record was set on Saturday, Oct. 17, when 331,998 visitors clicked through the turnstiles. This broke the old single-day attendance record, also held by the fair, of 325,741 on the middle Saturday of the fair in 1956.

Let's Help Cut Down Traffic Deaths

By Martha Johnson Dodge Safety Consultant

There's a special cause we women can take up this Fall.

It's a project each and every one of us can do something about ourselves: Helping cut down on traffic deaths.

The Automotive Safety Foundation, a non-profit organization dedicated to education and research for safe, efficient highway transportation, has issued this bleak warning: Current outlook is that 1959 will set an all-time high in traffic deaths; exceeding the 39,969 in 1941.

What can we do about it? Plenty.

Here are just a few things we women should and shouldn't do to make the streets and highways more safe:

- Don't get into an argument before getting behind the wheel of the car. At least 50 percent of all accidents are caused by drivers with emotional upsets.
- Beware of a dripping ice cream cone. Or dropping a lighted cigarette in your lap. It takes only seconds to pick it up, but it's those seconds that count.
- Don't be a nagging wife. It tends to take the driver's mind off driving, to make him more susceptible to an accident.
- Don't be a slowpoke driver. They are a highway menace, so keep pace with traffic.
- Be polite to motorists, and never take your eyes off the road while conversing and driving.
- And finally, drive defensively. Watching out for what the other driver might do can be your best driving habit.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Comes Out In Favor Of A Movie Actress Trying To Learn The Cattle Business

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek thinks he has a new idea this week, but we doubt if it'll work.

Brand new ideas are pretty scarce, so when one comes along I go out of my way to recognize it and hold it up to public gaze. I have now found one and would like to enlist your help in getting it spread around in the right places.

According to an article I read in a newspaper last night, a prominent movie actress a while back bought 500 cows, and then when a bunch of them started dying and having other trouble she turned in on her income tax a claim for expenses involved in learning how to become an efficient cattle raiser.

The government is arguing this is not a legitimate claim, and I would like to see everybody rise up and protest that it is. If we can get the government to recognize it's perfectly legitimate to claim tax deductions for the costs of learning how to raise cattle efficiently, the door will be opened wide for tax relief regardless of how high the tax rate goes. Congress can take the debt ceiling off completely and not bother me.

For example, take my farm out here. If I can claim some deductions for inefficiency, I believe I could manage to get off scott free for years to come. Farming is something it takes years to learn how to do efficiently, and the cost of learning it ought to be deductible.

And also, in case something slips up and I do have a good farmer year with a taxable year with a taxable profit, that'll be the year I take up movie acting, with the cost of learning to be taken off my income tax. I figure my deductions for learning how to become an efficient movie actor will last for years, because it looks like a profession that's hard to learn. At least, I know some movie stars who've been at it for years and haven't succeeded.

Further more, this opens up all sorts of possibilities for you town people. The cost of learning how to become an efficient drygoods merchant ought to be deductible. The same applies to grocery men, bank clerks, filling station men, plumbers, electricians, television repairmen, why even school teachers, and it's possible there may be one or two newspapers editors scattered around the country who could go in on this.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

'Drifting Stop' Is Dangerous

By Martha Johnson
Dodge Safety Consultant

Are you a stop-sign runner? If you are guilty of the "drifting stop" you are among the 15 percent of drivers who fail to make a complete intersection stop—and, you're a hazard on the streets.

Stop sign violations are serious and can result in accidents, warn all traffic safety experts. They call for "voluntary observance by our citizens" to put an end to this type of hazardous violation.

And speaking of intersections—remember, if you are on a congested through street, you should slow down at each intersection. Be especially careful when the view of the other street is obscured.

Remember, also, NEVER pass another vehicle at intersections.

Short Course Set On Plant Disease

The first Plant Disease Short Course will be held November 23 and 24 at Texas A & M College. It will be presented by the Department of Plant Physiology and Pathology, according to Chairman Dr. Harlan E. Smith, extension plant pathologist.

This program is primarily for agricultural chemical company representatives. However, plant pest control operators, nurserymen and others interested are urged to attend.

Vegetable diseases and their control will receive much attention. Vegetable diseases in Central, South, West and East Texas will be discussed by men familiar with diseases in these areas.

Cotton diseases and their control with exhibits of diseased plants will be a feature. A panel discussion on ornamental diseases and their control by men well versed in this field will also be presented.

Copies of the program can be seen at the local county agents office. A list of speakers and their topics and of hotels and motels is also included.

Plant breeders of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station have released a new cream pea, Texas Cream No. 8, which is adapted to all sections of Texas. It has many advantages over varieties now grown. A new lettuce variety Valverde, has also been re-

Address Changes Needed Promptly By Social Security

Three moves are worse than a fire, according to an old saying, but one move can lead to trouble for people getting social security checks, unless they notify the social security office of their new address.

Seeing that each of the 13 million people on social security in the country get their checks on time is a very important part of our job, Erton F. Tate, manager of the Wichita Falls, Texas District Office states, and it can be made easier if we get a prompt notice of a change of address.

If you move after you start getting social security benefits, you should notify the Social Security Administration either in person or by mail, Tate said. Beneficiaries were given postcards for this purpose when they filed claims, and additional cards are available at the local office at 421 Post Office Building, Wichita Falls, Texas.

"If we get the notice early in a month," Tate stated, "the next month's check can be sent to the new address with little or no delay."
