Cotton Grown On City's Irrigated Farm Is Praised

While a major portion of the land owned and farmed by the City of Munday on the premises of the sewage disposal plant has been planted to feeds of various kinds, this year a small plot of ground was planted to cotton as an experiment, and we believe the experiment has demonstrated that some great things could be accomplished on the Knox Prairie.

The land is irrigated by the flow of waste water from the plant and demonstrates what can be done with irrigation over this section, as the staple measured a full inch and brought a substantial premium on the market.

The following letter to Mayor C. L. Mayes from the Pendleton Cotton Company, purchasers of the cotton, explains the difference in this staple and that grown under ordinary conditions throughout this section:

Hon. C. L. Mayes, Mayor
Munday, Texas.
Dear Sir:

The bale of "Sunshine Cotton" grown on the City farm, from seed furnished you by the writer, which was put up in a round bale, demonstrates that staple cotton can be grown here successfully.

The cotton measured a full inch in staple, and on the present differences quoted by shippers, brought 160 points more per pound, or approximately $8.00 per bale, more than 7-8 cotton of the same class in grade.

Cotton of this staple and character is worth 300 to 350 points more or $15.00 to $17.00 per bale, than what is commonly called "Half & Half Cotton," or cotton of 3-4 inch staple and less.

We as ginners and cotton buyers appreciate your efforts in improving the character of cotton-grown here, which has given us a much better point market than we have had heretofore.

Again assuring you of our appreciation of your interest in better cotton, we are

Your very truly,
PENDLETON COTTON CO.,
H. A. PENDLETON, Pres.

We also publish herewith a statement from Broach & Aycock, who purchased another bale of the cotton grown on the city's irrigated farm, which certifies that a premium of $10.00 was paid on the bale over the price of the dry land cotton-grown in this territory:

City of Munday,
Munday, Texas.
Hon. C. L. Mayes, Mayor.
This is to certify that we have given you a premium of $10.00 per bale on your cotton grown by irrigation over the average dry land cotton produced this year and a premium of $15.00 per bale over half and half cotton.

This was made possible due to the length of the staple of your cotton.

Respt.,
BROACH & AYCOCK,
By M. R. AYCOCK.

This premium on staple applied to the average of 10,000 bales marketed in Munday annually would mean an increase in the revenues of the farmers of this territory of from $100,000.00 to $150,000.00 annually over that derived from the short staple, and this increase in revenues would represent only a small amount of the increase in revenue, as much of the hazard would be removed from farming and the increased revenue from fees grown under irrigation would exceed that of cotton at the present low price of the latter.

With the natural advantages with which nature has endowed it, we reiterate the statement that we made frequently in recent years, and that is that ultimately the Knox prairie will be one of the greatest irrigated farming sections in the entire southwest.

Heard & Smith Hardware Stock Goes On Sale

The Heard & Smith Hardware Co. is this week announcing a drastic sale on all their stock of hardware, implements etc. The stock is in the hands of creditors who are anxious to liquidate the affairs of the concern as rapidly as possible and they have announced that everything in the stock will be reduced to levels which represent wholesale cost and in many instances the goods will be sold below cost.

See their announcement in this issue of The Times.

Tom H. Oliver Will Instruct In Music Here

Tom H. Oliver, who recently came to Munday from Alvarado, Texas, will teach music on all hand instruments, as will be learned by reading his announcement in this issue of The Times.

Mr. Oliver spent some six years in the United States army band, where he received instruction from some of the greatest military band instructors in the country. He was a musician prior to entering the service of the country has fitted him to give the most competent instruction.

Mr. Oliver is also an electrician, and hopes to make the combination prove sufficiently remunerative to justify him remaining in Munday. He is a brother to our fellowtownsman, H. A. Oliver.

J. D. Kethley has moved his jewelry store and optical equipment into the E. B. Tull building, where he will be glad to meet his many friends.

Mr. Kethley has been engaged in the jewelry business in Munday for more than twenty years and is a licensed optometrist, and in this line he is gaining an enviable reputation over this section of West Texas, as he has patrons to come to him for the correct fitting of glasses for many miles.

Munday Dairy Is Rendering Fine Service to Citizens

Grady Thornton, proprietor of the Munday Dairy, made an announcement during December that, beginning January 1st, the price of milk would be reduced to 40¢ per gallon in Munday. In view of conditions this announcement should have been received with glad acclaim by the citizenship of this city, and this reduction should have brought about a substantial increase in the output of the dairy.

We sometimes wonder if our citizens really appreciate an institution of this kind as they should. We have wondered if the average citizen appreciates the fact that the service rendered by this institution is equal in every respect to that rendered by similar concerns in cities much larger than Munday. We wonder if they have ever appreciated the fact that their milk is delivered to them twice daily, and in the summer, time ice cold.

We wonder if they appreciate the high quality of milk that they receive. We wonder if they appreciate the precaution taken by them in safeguarding the health of their patrons by having their dairy herd tested for tuberculosis and every precaution taken in the handling of the milk, and we wonder if they ever considered the advantages of having their milk delivered to their door every day of the year, rain or shine, sleet or snow, with an interruption of service, and we wonder if many have considered the advantage of having an institution of this kind in our town.

Let us give this matter a little thought and give this Munday institution our support.

J. Allen Howell of Dallas, who is a student in the medical department of Baylor University, was here during the holidays visiting his parents, the Rev. and Mrs. W. C. Howell. Mr. Howell will receive his M. D. degree from Baylor within the next few months and has already received an appointment in Knox Hospital at St. Paul, Minnesota, and Rev. and Mrs. Howell plan to accompany him when he goes there to take up his duties.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Rawls and baby spent the holidays with relatives at Jasper, Texas. Enroute home Mr. Rawls had the misfortune to have an automobile accident near Wichita Falls, which did considerable damage to his car, however, he feels fortunate that no member of his family was injured.

G. L. Brown and family of Texarkana, were here this week visiting in the home of her mother, Mrs. R. L. Edwards. Mr. Brown is in the railway mail service and is now connected with the mail terminal at Texarkana.

Unique Service At Methodist Church Sunday

Next Sunday will be one of the "Red Letter Days" of the year. We are to have a novelty service. Each Methodist family is going to bring to the church a copy of each publication coming into the home; local paper, daily paper, magazine or what ever else may be coming into the home through the mail or otherwise. So, if you have not heard of this move please do not fail to co-operate with us. Bring a copy of each publication coming to your home to church with you Sunday. Your name will not be mentioned in connection with your bundle of literature and no one will know who brought your bundle unless you make it known. This will be a novelty service out of which you will get lots of kick. So, do not fail to help us make a go of it.

The subject for the hour will be "Check, Cold Check, Double Check and Delinquents."

When God made man he so constructed his brain that he has two lobes. One of these lobes is for the morning service and the other for the evening service. So, on the principle that organs unused will soon disappear; if you do not get the habit of coming to both the morning and evening services of your church, the unused lobe of your brain will disappear. Come to church two times Sunday.

W. C. HOWELL, Pastor.

Tony Mays Dies Very Suddenly Thursday Eve.

Just as we go to press we have learned of the death of Tony Mays, which occurred Thursday afternoon on his farm north of Munday near the Brazos river. From reports reaching us he dropped dead on his farm and was found by his wife, who walked about a mile to a passing car and requested him to notify neighbors. Deceased was a World War veteran and was a prosperous farmer. He was about 35 years of age. He is survived by his wife.

Further details were not available as we go to press.

Independents Win In Basket Ball From Munday High

One of the interesting events during the holiday season was a basketball game between an independent team, composed of former basketball stars, and the present girls' team of the Munday High. The game was played on Tuesday evening of last week and resulted in a score of 17-8 in favor of the independents. Love and Beatty filled the places as guards for the independents and showed their old style, while Phillips and Phillips did a good job at center, with Crume and Reinlee winning the goals. Reinlee was high point player on the independent team with 10 points to her credit, while Crume made the remaining 7 for the independent team. The points registered by the Munday High were made by Lillian Mc-Glothlin, 3, and Hazel Webb, 5.

Mr. Reinlee will be remembered here as Cecil McGraw, who, in her high school days, was an outstanding basketball star in Texas, having been a member of the famous girls' team of the Munday High which for two consecutive years went into the State championship finals, once with Waco boys and once with Canton at Canton. Mrs. Love was formerly Jewel McGraw, and was also an outstanding member of the girls' basketball team in her high school days, and the way these ladies handled the Munday High girls indicates that they have not forgotten just how the old game is played.

most of those to whom he talked were in favor of trying to do something about it.

Mr. A. now began to educate the public to the need of a library. He ran a series of articles in The Munday Times under such headings as, "State Superintendent of Public Instruction Refuses Recognition because of Inadequate Library," "Lack of Library Impairing Our History Department," and "Library of Vital Importance in Every High School." He also discussed the need of a library in faculty meetings, pointing out the necessarily low grade of work under present conditions. His teachers were in this way made to feel that they were seriously hampered in their work, and, as a result, complained at home. Thus, this little town was soon very much concerned over the question of a library for the school.

The question being well in the minds of the public gave an ideal opportunity for a drive for funds. Mr. A. turned over this campaign to the P. T. A. Women of good personality and wide business experience were sent to interview the men of the town. Influential men were called upon first and were persuaded to head the list with large contributions. Within two weeks every man in Munday had either given, or else was sorry that he had not. Public opinion was indeed strong for the new idea.

The superintendent now made a drive among students for funds. The officers of the respective classes were called together and given lectures by the faculty. In these lectures, the already well-known needs for a library and the many advantages were named. The officers were charged to lead their classes in the campaign about to be put on. Also, the element of class rivalry was brought in and prizes were offered to the two highest classes in net donations. To further agitate this spirit of rivalry, the president of the Freshman class was prompted to deliver a challenge to the other classes in general assembly. Finally each

R. R. Smith Buys Business of Land Motor Co. Here

A deal was consummated recently wherein J. J. Land disposed of the Land Motor Company, local Ford dealers, to R. R. Smith of Brownfield, Texas, and Mr. Smith, together with his sons, will operate the business in the future and plan to move here from Brownfield in the near future. Mr. Land, who has known Mr. Smith several years, states that he is a most excellent citizen and that Munday is fortunate in securing him as a citizen.

Mr. and Mrs. Land, who have been here for more than a year, will leave soon for their home at Childress and they will carry with them the best wishes of a large host of friends which they have made during their residence here.

Knox Committee Is Chosen For Drouth Relief

At the request of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, a drouth relief committee has been appointed to supervise the distribution of drouth relief funds in Knox county. The committee is composed of C. A. Eiland, Munday; W. W. Clark, Truscott; J. W. Smith of Knox City, and this committee will act in an advisory capacity with the state committee in the distribution of the production loan fund, which will be under the supervision of the United States Department of Agriculture. The committee was chosen as suggested by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to be composed of a banker, a business man and a farmer not eligible for a loan under the plan. It is the idea of the organization to enlarge this county committee later but at this time the organization is being perfected with a view of getting things started.

E. C. Wyche Buys Eiland Interest In Barber Shop

One of the business deals consummated with the beginning of the new year was that in which E. C. Wyche purchased the interest of D. A. Eiland in the Wyche & Eiland Barber Shop and Beauty Parlor. Mr. Eiland has retired from the business and has accepted employment with the Haynie shop.

Mr. Wyche states that he has secured the services of Miss McDermott of Abilene as beauty shop operator, and Worth Gaffard and Burwell Sessions will remain with the shop as barbers.

RHINELAND HAPPENINGS

Everyone in the community seems to have had a pleasant Christmas, judging from the remarks that have been overheard.

Rev. Boniface Sparks returned on Tuesday of last week after spending a vacation of several weeks visiting in Subiaco, Ark., and other places.

Midnight services were held in the St. Joseph's Catholic church on Wednesday night. The church was filled to its capacity. The morning services were also well attended.

Mr. John J. Hoffman and family attended a family reunion at the home of his parents at Scotland, Texas, on Christmas day.

Misses Mary de Arizurro and Mary Rudy spent the holidays visiting their parents at Wichita Falls, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Albus made a business trip to Wichita Falls on Saturday of last week.

Miss Clara Albus of Waco, Texas, is spending the holidays here.

Albert Loran of Abilene, Texas, spent Christmas in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Loran.

Miss Mary Mulroy of Wichita Falls is a visitor in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Bruckner.

Miss Leona Albus of San Antonio, where she is attending college, is also visiting here.

Albert Decker, who underwent an operation in the Knox County hospital at Knox City recently, has been removed to his home here and is under the care of his sister, Miss Lena, a graduate nurse of Steon Infirmary, Austin, Texas.

School Notes

The Christmas tree and program that was given in the school auditorium on last Tuesday evening is now a thing of the past. Music for the occasion was furnished by the junior and senior bands and was enjoyed by all present. Mrs. K. A. Homer was the holder of the lucky number and was awarded a beautiful bed spread. Mr. Bill Hood's name was drawn from the box and he was given a present by Santa himself. Many gifts were distributed among the audience and Santa seems to have been very generous to many.

It seems rather difficult to get down to real work after having such a glorious time during the holidays, but what is worse, we are having exams on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

We are glad to have two new pupils with us, R. D. and Ozell Terpin.

Chevrolet Holds Honor Place In National Show

When the doors open next Saturday on the 31st National Automobile Show at Grand Central Palace, New York, the Chevrolet Motor Company will occupy the position of honor on the show floor for the fourth consecutive year.

Each year the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce awards first place at the national automobile shows to that member company doing the largest volume of business during the previous twelve months.

The award is one much coveted within the industry, for in addition to the distinction it conveys it also carries with it the right to first choice of exhibition space at the national automobile shows at New York and Chicago.

Back in the days of the four cylinder Chevrolet this honor first fell to the company. Since that time the margin between the leader and the runner-up has measurably widened, even since the change-over from a four to a six.

Perry Bros Will Soon Move To Rogers Building

Perry Bros. Variety Store will move within a few days to the U. S. Rogers building recently vacated by J. D. Kethley and John McGraw. The building is being remodeled and we are informed that the concern has taken a long lease on the building, indicating that their faith in locating in Munday is well founded, and that they are planning to continue their business in this city.

In addition to her daughter here she is survived by four other children and some sixteen grandchildren. She was born in Cherokee county, Texas, March 1, 1855. The Times joins the many friends of the family in extending sympathy.

History of School Library Is Told By A Student

By HAZEL DEAN EILAND

Many high schools are confronted with the fact that they are unable to get their courses accredited, because of the lack of a library. In some cases these schools go on for years without trying to remedy the situation. Such was not the case with the Munday High school, for a former superintendent of our school saw our need and then took the following five steps to accumulate a library: (1) Sounded public opinion; (2) Educated the public to the need of a library; (3) Canvassed the school for funds; (4) Canvassed the community for funds; (5) Encouraged the donation of good books to the library.

When this superintendent arrived at M. H. S. he was surprised to find that no library existed. He asked the principal, who had been in the school for several years, if any effort had ever been put forth to get books, and found that there had been none.

Mr. A., as we shall call the superintendent for convenience, lost no time in talking to several of his patrons. He found that many were not only unaware of the non-existence of a library, but were also ignorant of the need for one. He was encouraged by the fact that

"The Highland Twelve"

'Twas two days before Christmas
When all through the house
Miss Jamie was hurrying
As fast as a mouse.

The holly was hung
By the chimney with care,
In hopes that the guests
Soon would be there.

And Milton was nestled
All snugly in his chair
And dreamed of the aces
That might come by the pair.

When out on the lawn
There rose such a clatter
That he sprang from his chair
To see what was the matter.

Away to the door
He flew with his might—
Threw open the screen
To peer into the night.

And what to his wondering
Eyes should appear—
But all of his guests
With a package right near.

And the little old fellow,
So lively and quick,
He knew in a moment
Must be nephew Dick.

More rapid than eagles,
His guests they came
As he greeted and shouted
And called each by name.

There was Earnest and Maude
And Robert and Annie,
Then Brontley and Earl
And Edward and Nannie.

A mystery package
Each laid by the tree—
And all were as merry
As merry could be.

Then in came Santa,
The gifts to deal out,
And soon there was laughter
And many a shout.

For he gave to Annie
A funny old man,
And to big Earl Mack,
A little accordion.

While Issa drew a hour' dog
And Ernest, if you ask—
Well he hid it from Maude,
For it was a flask.

Now, Milton, the lawyer,
Has an acrobatic bear,
That can do tricks and dance
So they make a pair.

To each, Robert and Eddie,
Went a musical horn,
While Nannie drew a doggie
That looks so forlorn.

When the party was ended
And the good time weighed,
And to the host and the hostess

Our Aim for 1931

Beginning with the New Year of 1931, we have resolved to sell you anything in the Furniture line for less money than you can possibly buy the same merchandise in the large cities or from the mail order houses. We urge you to compare our prices with any mail order house catalog, and if you don't find we can save you money we do not ask for your business. Is this not a fair proposition?

We have a full stock of Furniture and Rugs, and our prices, as stated, are beyond competition.

We can sell you an extra good three-piece Bed Living Room Suite for $110.00, covered in a heavy velour.

This is less money than some wholesale houses are pricing the same suite in the cities.

We know that we have the "low-down" on Furniture prices.

We will buy your old furniture or make you a liberal allowance on new furniture. We also solicit monthly installment accounts. This is a convenient way in which to furnish your home.

We are here to sell Furniture, and if prices mean anything to the consumer—and we believe it does—we should have the biggest year we have ever had in Munday. We believe the depression has about passed into history and that business will soon be normal again.

Christmas Party

Miss Dolores Campbell was hostess to a number of her friends Tuesday evening of last week. The time was spent delightfully playing bridge, after which refreshments were served the following: Misses Blanche Newsome, Lillian McGlothlin, Frances McCord, Fern Hogan, Helen Frances Eiland, Jeanette Campbell, Christine Chapman, Margaret Campbell of Abilene; Messrs. New Year's Party Given Thorp and Gillespie Societies

On New Year's Eve the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Martin was opened to the B. Y. P. U. and Epworth League of Gillespie and Thorp. The house was beautifully decorated with mistletoe, which added spice to the entertainment. All seemed to enjoy the out-of-door and in-door games under the direction of Irene Martin, Flora Lee Hunter and Rev. C. W. Parmenter.

Near midnight everyone enjoyed refreshments of sandwiches, cake, and hot chocolate, using mistletoe as a plate favor. After serving all the young people, Mr. Martin entertained his friends with a real midnight feast.

In the early morning of January 1, 1931, more than fifty guests returned to their respective homes after expressing to the hostess that they had spent a most enjoyable evening.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Alexander went to Wichita Falls first of the week to witness the presentation of the picture, "Hell's Angels", in which a brother and a nephew of Mr. Alexander play prominent parts.

Judge and Mrs. W. S. Bailey had a very merry Christmas in their home, as they had with them all of their children, who, collectively, purchased a radio and presented to their parents, and it would be difficult to think of anything that would afford them more real pleasure and enjoyment than this gift.

The Times family was recipient this week of several fine grape fruit and oranges, which were presented to us by R. M. Stevenson. The fruit came direct from the famous Magic Valley and was sent by Mr. Stevenson's son, who resides at Weslaco, and who each year sends a box of the delicious fruit, and the Times family gets in on the gift each year.

Mrs. Jimmie McKenzie of Childress, Texas, is here visiting her father-in-law, John McKenzie, and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Chapman.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom H. Oliver went to Alvarado, Texas, on Saturday of last week where Mrs. Oliver will visit with relatives for some time.

Charles Farrington has returned to Galveston to resume his studies in the medical school of the University of Texas.

Miss Vivian Rogers has returned to Baylor College at Belton after spending the holidays here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. U. S. Rogers.

Dr. and Mrs. E. J. Burns and children of Paducah stopped here one day last week for a brief visit with friends. They were enroute home from Carrizo Springs, Texas, where they spent the holidays with relatives.

Robert Newsome has returned to Galveston to resume his studies in the medical school of the University of Texas after spending the Christmas holidays here with his mother Mrs. Lela Newsome.

Kingsley Davis has returned to Austin to resume his studies in the University of Texas after spending the Christmas holidays here in the home of his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Joe Davis.

Christmas Still Means Same to Young and Old
UNCLE BILL did not believe in Christmas. He thought it was just a scheme to make the merchants rich and the people poor. However, he loaded himself down with gifts for all the family and took the train to his sisters' to spend Christmas with her and her numerous family. He had been so busy making money it was the first holiday he had taken in many years.

Christmas morning, when they all gathered around the tree, and he saw the children's joy in that beautiful symbol of the spirit of giving, and in the toys which they received, he realized that in spite of the care-worn crowds of Christmas shoppers Christmas still meant to the children what it had meant to him when he was a boy. There was no commercialism in it. And when he saw the older people's joy in the presents he had brought them, he resolved that in the future he would become a parents' Santa Claus, and make Christmas as happy for them as it is for children.—Harold L. Cook. (© 1930, Western Newspaper Union.)

The Christmas Tree
THE Christmas tree is supposed to have originated in Germany, but the Christmas tree came in the first instance from Egypt, and its origin dates from a period much earlier than the Christian era. The palm tree is known to put forth a branch every month, and a spray of this tree with 12 shoots on it was used in Egypt at the time of the winter solstice as a symbol of the completed year.

Joyous Christmas Carols
The carol was originally a joyous dance, a sign of liberation from the religious austerity of the Puritan era. Percy Dearmer, writing in "The Oxford Book of Carols," says, "The carol, by forsaking the timeless contemplative melodies of the church, began the era of modern music, which throughout has been based on the dance."

Christmas Thought
If deserts can be made to blossom through water that is conserved and carried far afield, cannot the Christ spirit be conserved and carried through the year?—The American Magazine.

Books for Christmas
References to the present as a severely speculative era are numerous. Yet the books of adventure and the fairy tales are as welcome to the Christmas tree as ever.

New Words
Thousands of new words are included in the Merriam Webster, such as aerograph, broadcast, credit union, Bohemian, patois, etc. New names and places are listed such as Cather, Sandberg, Stalin, Latvia, etc. Constantly improved and kept up to date.

FLOYD-LAWRENCE WEDDING
On Christmas, December 25, a day when every one is naturally bubbling over with love and happiness, two happy young lovers considered the proposition of life and living and decided to trod the road together. With such a cheerful atmosphere surrounding them there should be nothing but happiness and success in store for them.

The bride, Miss Clara Floyd, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Floyd, who reside in the Prairie View community. The groom, Mr. B. C. Lawrence, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Lawrence, who also reside in the Prairie View community. Both families have resided in Knox County for the past few years. They are well respected families and have many friends. The groom, who has been farming, will continue to do so. The young couple have known each other since they were small, nevertheless it was a surprise to their many friends when they were married. They motored to Benjamin and were quietly married by the Justice of Peace at 2:00 o'clock.

The friends and relatives who accompanied them were: Mr. Weldon Floyd, Misses Mary, Olivia and Velma Lou Cleveland, Miss Lola Mae Lawrence, Mr. Alvin Graham, Misses Ruth and Lola Graham, Mr. Rex Stone and his sister, Miss Ruby Stone of Oklahoma.

Following the wedding they all journeyed to the home of the groom and were served with a delicious dinner.

About six o'clock that evening a large crowd of friends, about thirty in number, gathered at the home of the bride to greet the newly-weds when they arrived.

The Morrow Brothers were there with their instruments and they furnished melodious music. After nine o'clock the crowd, including the bride and groom, seranaded the Prairie View community.

This was a very happy Christmas, to say the least, for the bride and groom. Their many friends wish them success, prosperity and happiness for all the years of their married life.

The Christmas holidays are now a thing of the past, having been enjoyed immensely by students and teachers alike. Although we know that it will be hard to do we are going to forget the holidays, and try to do better work this term than last.

Wednesday afternoon just before school dismissed for the holidays, the student body was entertained by the Freshman class. This entertainment was a short, one-act play, named "Farmer Brown's Christmas." We want to thank the Freshman class for this extra trouble, and to tell them that we certainly enjoyed the play.

During the holidays we had almost forgotten the "pet" sayings of some of the teachers, but since reporting to a few classes they are recalled to us instantly. Among them are such as, "why go by London when you can go by Wichita?"—Mr. L. S. Harligree—Geometry; "You're thinking about it" or "I'll tell you more about it" the late"—Mr. Riley; "You're going to have to study a little bit harder, back to old jobs of studying and grade English"—Miss Watson.

The teachers were deprived of the pleasure of giving a number of students "F's" or making them stay in detention for some length of time last week since almost everyone (including Seniors) decided to be good and came to school on January 1, 1931.

The student body was entertained by a very interesting talk by Brother Howell last Friday at assembly period. In his talk he gave us a rosary of words with which we should fill our minds. Those words were duty, love, courage, faith, and cooperation. The talk was thoroughly enjoyed, and the advice which he gave should mean much to the students.

SENIORS

We seniors had a grand and glorious time during the Christmas holidays, but if you could see the grave and serious expressions on our faces you would immediately know that we are reconciled to the fact that the holidays have passed and that we are willing to get back to old jobs of studying and working.

Since the New Year Seniors have made one big Resolution and that is to uphold the name that we have always had the honor of having, which is "The best all-around class in M. H. S." Let's keep it up, class!

JUNIORS

New Year's day came and went again without any bad happenings or serious results in this class. A lot of the Juniors made New Year resolutions about a variety of things, but I am afraid that most of them are broken by now.

We are proud of the number of Junior boys who are wearing the new sweaters, which were issued Friday. Other classes will have to admit that there are plenty of the Junior boys that can play football as it should be played, and the sweaters are a positive proof of it.

SOPHOMORES

After being out of school a whole week and having worlds of fun, the Sophomores are back on the job with bright smiles on their faces.

We are very happy to know that old Santa came to see our sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. Riley B. Harrell.

Miss Ila Wyche entertained the Sophomores at her home with a party just before the Christmas holidays. Everyone reported a very enjoyable time.

Just think, it is only two weeks until mid-term examinations. We will have to hit those examinations hard, but the Sophomores are going over the top carrying the winning banner. Let's go, Sophomores!

FRESHMEN

During our holidays we Freshmen had a wonderful banquet at the Masonic hall. There were a few who were not there, and we missed them greatly. We are sure they would have had a splendid time if they could have come. Our banquet hall was decorated nicely in Christmas colors. The night was lovely for our event. We also had a little program which we enjoyed.

We entertained the study hall the last evening of school before our holidays with a play "Farmer Brown's Christmas."

We are sorry that so many students from our class have left us. Lillian Henderson has gone to Dallas to finish the school-term there and Bonnie Scott has gone to Oklahoma. Harry Hodges has moved to a farm, and we are wishing for him a happy farm life.

Say folks, holidays surely brightened up this Freshman class, but from the looks of our calendar we will not have many more holidays.

We Freshmen were very proud to see Earl Nichols receive his football sweater Friday afternoon. We were proud to see all of the boys get their sweaters, but folks! Nichols is a Freshman and this was his first year of football, and we are glad to have a willing fighting Mogul in our class.

The sweaters were very pretty and we are sure the boys feel that they are dressed up with them on. Girls and boys of the basket-ball team, we enjoyed the good game you played with Weibert, but we would have enjoyed it more if you had not been defeated so much.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL NOTES

Each Grammar school room had a Christmas tree, and it was a merry crowd that left the Grammar school building December 17, loaded with gifts.

The pupils of Grammar School have heard the word review so often that it seems to have the hardest meaning of any of the words in the dictionary. Books that have never been home before are now taking this short journey everyday.

We are no longer idle after school, since we now go home and review. How long will the pupils of the Grammar school be so busy that play is out of the question?

The Seventh Grade English Club had a meeting Friday. A very enjoyable short program was presented. The election of officers also took place at this meeting. Miss Bennett's room was the fern in the Sunday school attendance contest for last week.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to extend my sincere thanks to all who in any way assisted me in the contest at the A. J. Birdsong store during the recent sale, and whose assistance enabled me to win second prize, a beautiful cedar chest and which shall ever serve as a reminder of the good and true friends for which I am even more thankful.

GERTHA PATRICK.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank my many friends for their support during the contest recently closed at Birdsong's. Even though I did not get any of the prizes given away, I appreciated your votes.

JESSIE MAE WEBB.

Chandler Hughes, who is working at Fort Worth, spent the Christmas holidays with his mother, Mrs. Beulah Hughes. Chandler says when he falls to receive the Munday Times there is war in store. He is employed by the Star Refining Co. of Fort Worth.

Sunset School News

The brick work of the school building is completed, and the roof is finished on the main building.

School is progressing nicely, but the students are getting rather impatient waiting for the new building.

The students have had a large number of unexpected tests the last few weeks of school. They have caused great excitement, especially among the basket ball teams.

The girls basket ball team is very proud to have Mrs. Joe Voss coach them. She has been one of Munday's players for several years. The girls welcome her to this position.

It has been very hard on the girls team this year; also the coach, Miss Ruby Smith, who is teaching in the League school and can not be with the girls.

The girls have received material for pep squad dresses. They are white linene and are to have black necks and collars on the left front.

The basket ball suits have also been ordered.

The trustees have purchased the other three buses. They are Ford trucks with an American body on them.

JUNIORS

The Juniors had an enjoyable time New Year's. Miss Caughran gave a Spanish test, and Mr. Day gave a geometry test so we could enjoy New Year's. If this is the way to celebrate, we are glad that New Year comes only once a year.

The Eagles are working very hard. Although in the first game they lost. They are planning to win the second and rest. Knox City defeated the Eagles Wednesday. Many Juniors watched the game and they say the Eagles played a good first game.

The Juniors are very glad to have Minnie Lee Floyd as a new pupil. She is from the Lone Star school.

Every member of our class is very sorry that Mr. Day burned his hand. The burns are not (ceral) serious. We believe this accident was caused because he gave such a difficult geometry test.

The following incident occurred after the geometry class had missed a very simple problem:

Mr. Day: If four goats were in a pen and one jumped out, how many would be left?

Buel: None.
 Mr. Day: Why, Buel!

Buel: No, sir; you may know math, but you do not know goats.

The Sophomores are taking up Literature II, this week.

The English final was very difficult. A large number of the students were in a hurry to go to the ball game, and didn't have too much time to work.

We have a new pupil, Oliver King, from Rochester. We are glad to have him in the class.

Three of the Sophomore pupils are out of school until the buses are run. The school is hoping that arrangements can soon be made to run them.

Knox City defeated the Eaglets Friday, but accidents sometimes happen.

The Thespian Players elected Mr. Day for sponsor. He states that the players will give a play at the opening of the new building. We are glad indeed to have Mr. Day as our sponsor.

BRUSHY NEWS

SCHOOL LIBRARY

Class was placed under some member of the faculty, and the race for funds was on.

Carnivals and plays were given; students worked a definite number of hours per week, and gave the earnings to the library fund; and the students themselves, in many cases, gave from their allowances. Thus this step was also consistently organized.

The last step was not taken un-
