Odd Bits Salvaged
By The Editor

A brand new year will make its debut Friday. The day will also mark the beginning of a new decade.

k-k

The youngster, scantily clad but in new diapers with 1960 brand-ed across the seat, will be as fresh and clean as the dawn of a new day. How much 1960 will become messed up will depend largely upon us.

k-k

There will be 365 brand new days, each furnishing opportunities for renewed hope and aspirations.

k-k

It will be election year, both locally and nationally, and it will likely become "messed up" for a good many aspirants for office, of which we have very few locally thus far. But with the first primary set up for May instead of the usual July, candidates are expected to make their desires known earlier than usual.

k-k

The withdrawal of Gov. Rockefeller from the Republican presidential nomination, the new year must appear to be brighter for Vice-President Nixon, who appears to be a cinch for the nomination as the election year draws near.

k-k

And those in the Democratic political ring avow that Rockefeller's withdrawal makes the chances greater for a Democratic candidate to be elected.

k-k

But plans were messed up for button manufacturers who claim that thousands of Rockefeller buttons had already been made and ready for distribution, bearing such slogans as "Rock With Rocky" and "Who Else But Neise?" These buttons may either be relegated to the trash heap or placed in storage for future reference.

k-k

The new year will also become messed up for some of the nation's leading football teams. Down at the Cotton Bowl it will be either Texas or Syracuse—and we're not entering a prediction.

k-k

The new Maid of Cotton will make her first public appearance at the Cotton Bowl, after having been selected for the honor a few hours earlier.

k-k

The new year will also serve as a reminder of things we must begin thinking about, such as: income taxes, new safety stickers on our cars, new 1960 license plates, the deadline for paying 1959 taxes without penalty, final reports on social security and withholding taxes for employees and state unemployment taxes, and paying your Christmas bills. You know, we can't face a new year without having to face some realities!

k-k

They say the average person works for the government the first three months of the year, as it takes just about that long to make enough to pay our government's demands. Guess we'll start in about Friday on this chore.

k-k

We smelled the odor of burning cedar last Saturday, looked to the south of us and saw a big

Goree's Fire Rate Slashed

Fire insurance key rate reductions for the towns of Goree and Sterling City were announced recently by the State Board of Insurance.

The key rate in Goree was reduced from 75 cents to 73 cents, it was stated. A one-cent reduction in the key rate is equivalent to a one-cent saving in fire insurance premiums.

Annually the Goree reduction amounts to about $100 for the residents who paid $5,199 in insurance premiums in 1958.

The new key rates were arrived at by charging the city for certain hazards and allowing it credits for protective techniques.

Goree received charges on 14 items ranging from faulty water sources to streets and conflagration hazards. Total charges amounted to 75 cents, but two cents credit was taken off for the methods of fire prevention and fire insurance principals which are taught in the public schools.

Drapery Making Workshop Slated For January 19th

A drapery making workshop is scheduled to start on January 19, for anyone who is interested in making drapery. An earlier pre-workshop meeting will be held on January 8 at 9:30 a.m. in the court house in Benjamin.

The purpose of this first meeting is to consider the selection of fabric and accessories for drapery, measuring of windows to determine the amount of fabric and supplies needed for the workshop.

Those who enroll in the workshop will have an opportunity of making a sample drapery, which will give experience in construction and in handling drapery material. The sample will also serve as a guide later on, when full-length drapery is made.

Anyone interested in attending the workshop who can not attend the pre-workshop should write or call S. C. Kinsey, county home demonstration agent, by January 8.

Guests in the home of Mrs. Tom Martin over the Christmas week end were Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Martin and children, Tommy and Jerri, of Jonesboro, Ark., John Martin of Wellington, Ark., and Mrs. Dan Latimer of Paducah, Mr. and Mrs. E. If Senator Lyndon B. Johnson decides to run in the 1960 Presidential Derby, he has a horse for the purpose. This four-year-old quarter horse was presented to the Senator by Tarrant County supporters at a recent appreciation dinner. Senator Johnson lifts his western-style hat in responsive appreciation.

Jimmie Reid Has Operation On Foot

Jimmie Reid, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Reid of Munday, underwent surgery on his left foot on Friday, December 18, at the Methodist Hospital in Dallas.

After being hospitalized for several days, he was able to be brought home last Thursday so he could spend Christmas at home. Although his foot and limb are in a cast, Jimmie is doing nicely and is able to get around some. He will be back in school after the holidays.

Quail Hunting On Matador Ranch Is Now Authorized

Quail hunters will be the first to benefit from the recent purchase by the Game and Fish Commission of part of the old Matador Land and Cattle Company property in Cottle County. A limited quail season on the property was announced by the assistant executive secretary late last week. Within 24 hours all available reservations for the hunt were taken.

The area is located 11 miles northwest of Paducah. Although a management program is being developed it was decided to permit hunters to harvest some of the quail now on the property. Hunting was permitted on Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 26 and 27 and will be permitted again on Jan. 2, 3, 4, 9, 10 and 16.

The reservations provide that persons should hunt in pairs, and that not more than 10 pairs of hunters per day can be accommodated.

The bag limit on the area is 15 birds per day. Both blues and bobs are available on the Matador ranch. Hunters must check in and out of the area.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Glass during the Christmas holidays were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Coplin, of Oklahoma City, and her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Coplin and son, Keith, of Bowie.

IN HASKELL HOSPITAL

The district president of ladies' auxiliary will be present at this time to assist in re-organizing the American Legion Auxiliary. An interesting program is being planned for the occasion.

All veterans, auxiliary members and any others interested in joining are urged to be present.

Construction Under Way On New Grain Elevator

Looking forward to a bumper grain crop in 1960, and in future years, construction has been started on a new grain elevator in Munday by the Graham Mill and Elevator Co.

The new elevator, which will replace the one destroyed by fire on the night of November 2, will have a far greater capacity than the old one. The old elevator had a storage capacity of 22,000 bushels, while the new one's capacity will be around 185,000 bushels, according to Billy Mitchell, manager.

The elevator itself will be 30 x 34 feet with four 2,900 bushel bins, two dump pits and two "legs". It is being constructed adjacent to the railroad tracks.

The warehouse, which will extend west from the elevator, will be 150 x 70 feet, with 14-foot walls and center height about 30 feet. The elevator is being constructed just north of the old building.

Extensive remodeling has been done to the office, which was not damaged by the fire, and this will serve as the office for the new elevator for the present. Sometime in the future, Mr. Mitchell said, the company may construct a new office and install larger scales.

The new structure will be of all-steel construction and will be modern in every respect, it was stated.

187 Persons Receive Toys And Food For Christmas From Goodfellow Fund

A total of 187 persons—61 adults and 126 children—were made happier at Christmas because there were those in the Munday area who cared and who wanted to help.

The gifts for the needy—usually designated locally as the Goodfellow Fund—was started early in the fall by the Munday Jaycees, who announced they would repair toys in their workshop. A number of other organizations, including the First Methodist Church of Munday and the junior and senior classes of Munday High School, took part in seeing that these people were remembered this Christmas.

A number of persons also cooperated by supplying names of needy children and families whose Christmas might have been very bleak, except for those who did care.

Baskets of groceries and toys were distributed on Saturday, December 19, by Carrel McKnight, representing the Jaycees, and J. W. Massey, local chief of police. Although these baskets were distributed a few days ahead of Christmas, recipients were requested not to open the children's toys until Christmas.

The organization working on this movement expressed their thanks to everyone who cooperated with them in any way to help make the move the success it was.

Knox City Firm Hit By Burglars

Burglars entered the Humble Service Station in Knox City, operated by Otis Cash, last Monday night and took a cash register containing between $50 and $60 in cash.

Entrance to the building was gained by breaking in the door to women's rest room then going through the ceiling into the main part of the building. The cash register was removed intact, but nothing else was taken.

Sheriff Homer T. Melton, Deputy Sheriff H. C. Stone and City Marshal Eddie Carr of Knox City investigated. No arrests had been made Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hill, Sr. had all their children with them during the holidays. Present were Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hill, Jr., Pat, Paula and Penny, and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Sargent, Lou and Tammy, of Munday, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Shackelford, Gene, Jr. and Dickey of Stamford, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cloud, Tommy, Jo Marie and Judy of Goree and Mr. and Mrs. Lowry Wilson, Cathy, Lowry, Jr. and Connie of Hale Center.

Cotton Harvest In Munday Area Is About Over

Empty cotton trailers in parking lots of gins of this area are evidence of the fact that the cotton harvest in Knox County is about over.

Although some cotton is being brought in, the gins are operating with skelton crews and not running regularly. Gin operators say it's about over, although there will be some scrapping for a few weeks longer.

Shorty Kuehler, manager of the Rhineland Gin, stated Wednesday that he had ginned 3,770 bales with the possibility of receiving some 30 bales more.

Three bales were ginned at the Paymaster Gin in Munday on Tuesday of this week, running their total to 2,903. Shelton Phillips, manager, expects a few more bales before shutting down for the season.

Records at the Farmers Co-op Gins showed a total of 10,030 ginning tags used, although G. W. Hawkins stated there were "several voids" in that number. They ginned six bales on Monday and are expecting several more.

This makes a total of around 16,103 bales ginned in the Munday-Rhineland area to date.

Oil Activities

Glenn W. Cooper of Seymour has completed two wells in the Goree Field, No. A-11 Hunt and Hunt, one mile southeast of Goree, pumped 63.40 barrels of 36 gravity oil per day from perforations at 1690-1704, 1750-53 and 1760-68 feet. Total depth was 1788.

Cooper's No. A-24 Cartwright, one mile east of Goree, had a daily pumping potential of 41.52 barrels of 37 gravity crude from perforations at 1745-54 feet. Hole was bottomed at 1785, and gas-oil ratio was 200-1.

Union Oil Co. of California potentialled the No. 11-27 L. D. Offutt in the Voss (Tannehill) Field, one mile north of Munday. The well flowed 53 barrels of 35 gravity oil per day from perforations at 1994-2008 and 2014-30 feet. Total depth was 2070 feet.

WE STILL LOOK TO THE IRON HORSE

Enormous changes have taken place in the weapons and techniques of war, with the development of missiles, rockets, jet planes, nuclear-powered submarines and so on.

But certain military principles have not changed — and one of those principles has to do with defense transportation in an emergency. Today, as yesterday, the military people look to the railroads as the prime source of that transportation.

Owen R. Jones, deputy assistant director for transportation of the office of Civil and Defense Mobilization has dealt with this. He said, in part: "By the simple action of adding cars to trains, the rails possess an ability to expand loadability without large additions of manpower and fuel."

"This has major significance for any time of emergency when these two commodities will be at a premium.

"Just as they do in peacetime, rails will be looked to for the handling of the bulk of industrial goods and products necessary to supply the nation, get it back on its feet, and build our productivity to the status required to prosecute the war effort."

New means of transportation have come into being, and provide valuable services. But none can take the place of the Iron Horse. We look to him for the really big and basic hauling jobs in both war and peace.

HOW TO SAVE YOUR SHIRT

There are only two ways in which a U. S. citizen can protect his future earnings, beyond a nominal living amount from virtual confiscation by federal, state and local taxation.

One, don't ask for public expenditures for activities which citizens can provide for themselves. In other words, don't favor a "welfare state" and then expect to enjoy the privilege of spending your own earnings as you see fit, because the politicians will be spending them for you.

Two, when you have the opportunity, vote "no" to all measures candidates and office holders currying favor by raids on the public treasuries for expenditures other than for legitimate functions of governing and national defense.

Only you can save your shirt from being taken by tax collectors who merely carry out the orders of public servants and laws you sanction under representative government.

NOT SO EASY

Some people still think that the price problem can easily be solved — that all you have to do is pass a law.

Every year since the Korean War price control legislation has cropped up in Congress, under various guises. And it's dollars to doughnuts that the same thing will happen in the next and succeeding Congresses.

There's just one thing wrong with price control by legal fiat. It has never worked and never will work. It creates more problems, and more serious problems, than those it is designed to solve. It deals with the symptoms of inflation, not with the disease itself. It's as if a doctor prescribed a handkerchief as the solution to a heavy cold in the chest.

Anyone who remembers our experience with price and the related controls following World War II will realize the truth of these statements. The normal processes of production and retail distribution were disrupted. There were shortages of all kinds of commodities. Black markets flourished — at the expense of the honest merchant and the overwhelming majority of consumers.

That's exactly what will happen again — if we are so foolish as to think a piece of legislation can do anything constructive about price inflation.

HOW WASTEFUL CAN WE BE?

The Department of Agriculture earmarks $756 million to remove land from production.

The Commodity Credit Corporation budgets nearly $2.5 billion to remove surplus produce from the market.

The U. S. Department of Interior requests $216 million for dam building and irrigation programs to add more land to the productive capacity of the country.

And advocates of this philosophy seem to win votes by promising more of it.

Trans Magazine says: "The way to retain passenger trains, for example, is not to ram a bill through the state legislature requiring a 5-man crew on any passenger train of more than 3 cars — which is what took place in Wisconsin last summer. . . . Trains are not and cannot be operated to employ people. Either they perform a compensatory service or there is no economic or moral excuse for their existence on the train sheet."

The slopes rising from the highway in East Tennessee are, in places, covered with such profuse growth of honeysuckle that only the head of a boy who was walking on a path could be seen.

In a small town, on the courthouse lawn, a marker told that on this spot once stood the tailor shop of Andrew Johnson.

Knoxville has a firm with an unusual name, "Human Furniture Company." Some filling stations there were giving away two pounds of sugar with the purchase of seven gallons of gasoline. A sign in the vicinity of the University of Tennessee reads, "Slow Students Crossing." (We have a few slow students in Texas, too.)

The driver of a bus really has to be an artist at handling the big vehicle. At Knoxville, the space into which each is parked is so small that a man who was sitting sprawling on a bench had to be honked at to pull in his feet so the bus could berth.

Along the East Tennessee highway, one is reminded of the hunting prowess of David Crockett by the sight of roadside stands selling furs — foxes, however, not "bars."

A set of guide-posts that rhyme: "McMinnville, Smithville, Nashville, Cookeville"; rail fences I had scarcely seen one since Harding was president — (what a pity, too — I mean that rail fences have almost vanished, also that Harding was ever president); country cemeteries, each grave still adorned with flowers from Memorial Day — although I believe it is called Decoration Day in the Old South.

Murfreesboro has many big, fine homes — in both the old and the new architecture; and the grounds are spacious and beautiful, with ornamental hitching racks — probably not ornamental, either, come to think of it, but actually used, for this is the heart of the Tennessee walking horse country.

In the edge of the city is Stone River. A great battle was fought here in the War between the States. The historians of one side (the North, I believe) call it the Battle of Murfreesboro; the historians of the other side call it the Battle of Stone River. I never know why; it was the same battle. It was confusing, besides doubling the work of a boy in eighth grade American history.

A similar situation also developed in Virginia, only there actually were two engagements. The Northern writers refer to them as the First and Second Battles of Bull Run; the Southern writers call them First and Second Manassas. Personally, I have always felt that, for once, the Northern writers were correct for "Bull Run" certainly suggests the running that the Federals did in that first battle. Some years later, a Union soldier was asked how it was that he had got shot in the face and he replied, "It was at Bull Run and, after several miles, I got careless and looked back." (Let's not talk about how the war finally came out, however.)

 Dodge Safety Consultant

Who gets the "breaks" on our streets and highways?
 It's the careful motorist. And it's a good driver we salute today:

A trim blond, Mrs. Geraldine Radke of Detroit, who again has proved that women ARE good drivers. She won out over 75 drivers (men and women) in a contest sponsored by the Detroit (Mich.) Traffic Coordinating Committee, assisted by the Police Department and Traffic Safety Association.

She was chosen "Detroit's Good Driver for 1959" after completing a rugged seven-mile course supervised by a driving teacher and was presented a $100 bond to mark the achievement.

Also winning special recognition from Motor Maids are:

- Donald M. Statton, Iowa's new state commissioner of public safety, who has called for a "united effort" to curb a 15 percent increase in traffic deaths so far this year.
- Carl C. Crim, a tank truck driver from Okmulgee, Okla., who has won the American Trucking Association's title, "1959 Driver of the Year."
- The Automobile Manufacturers Assn. for its additional grants of more than $250,000 to promote highway safety and efficiency in the fiscal year starting July 1. The increased grants have been voted for the Automotive Safety Foundation, Cornell University's crash research, the National Safety Council and the Northwestern University Transportation Center.

ROBERT'S RULES

Whether it's the nomination of a presidential candidate at one of the national political conventions, or the monthly meeting of your neighborhood PTA, a set of procedural rules compiled 80 years ago by an almost-forgotten Army General usually has much to do with the way the business is conducted.

You have probably heard of "Robert's Rules of Order" which was published in 1876. General Henry M. Robert ordered only 4,000 of his original edition, but since that time almost 1,500,000 copies have been printed. The rules have been modernized from time to time, but the revisions have been slight.

Actually the rules for conducting a meeting go back to the early days of the English Parliament, although General Robert based his upon the rules and practice of the U. S. Congress.

Robert's Rules come close to being "law of the land". They are given added legal status by the fact that the charter, constitution, or by-laws of almost every organization you can name—your wife's literary society, your labor union, or the corporation you work for (large or small)—ordinarily state somewhere that all meetings will be "conducted in accordance with Robert's Rules of Order." Special rules may be made by any organization contrary to Robert, but if such provisions are not in the by-laws his little book—where incorporated in such by-laws—remains the "bible" to be followed, strictly.

All this means, in effect, that if a serious question arises over the legality of action taken by an organization, a court might have to consider General Robert's rules with the same care as it does the law to determine whether the action in question was proper.

If you take an active part in church, school, civic or fraternal organizations, some knowledge of Robert's Rules is important. At your lodge meeting, for example, things go much smoother if both the chairman and the members on the floor follow Robert and stick to the business at hand. That way you'll get home before the wee, small hours, and get some relaxation after the business session.

There are many simple guides to Robert that will help, and unless you are chairman of a large or important meeting it probably isn't necessary to know all the details in the whole book.

Now we move to adjourn until next week—a motion which General Robert says take precedence over everything else.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law).

'Dimes' Opens First Birth Defects Center

A birth defects study center, the first of its kind designed to combine clinical treatment with research and teaching, has just been officially opened at Columbus, Ohio. It is supported by funds from the New March of Dimes, which is now engaged in its January campaign for contributions to fight three major crippling diseases including, besides birth defects, arthritis and polio.

Medical experts say that birth defects are the biggest unmet childhood medical problem in the United States today. There are more than 600 different kinds of birth defects, or "congenital malformations," as they are called by doctors. They range all the way from harelip and clubfoot to mental retardation.

Some 250,000 American babies are born each year with one or more significant birth defects; and about half of this number are doomed to a lifetime of serious illness or crippling. About 34,000 infants each year are stillborn because of these afflictions, or die within the first month of life. Medical science as yet has few clues to the causes of these disorders that occur before birth; and there are few known methods of prevention.

Shrouded in Superstition

The study center in Columbus' famed Children's Hospital thus represents the beginning of the New March of Dimes attempt to solve a medical problem that has heretofore been largely neglected by research. It is a problem that has for centuries been shrouded in fear, superstition and shame. By tackling this issue with a three-pronged program of research, patient aid and training of skilled medical professionals, the March of Dimes organization seeks to bring hope to the hundreds of thousands of parents whose lives have been blighted by bewildering grief and heartbreak following the birth of a malformed child.

This hope is bolstered by the past record of the March of Dimes organization in fighting baffling diseases. It was March of Dimes funds that encouraged Dr. Jonas E. Salk to become a virologist and that Parents are taught to give home care to children with birth defects at the Columbus Children's Hospital Birth Defects Study Center, supported by New March of Dimes funds. Here doctors examine Jackie Vess, 3, born with hydrocephalus, commonly known as "water on the brain," while parents get instruction.

Born with an open spine, two-month-old Madonna Galich is examined by a physician at the Birth Defects Study Center, just officially opened in the Columbus, Ohio, Children's Hospital. New March of Dimes funds will be used to help this baby toward a normal and useful life.

produced his world-celebrated vaccine against crippling polio.

Some Can Be Helped

Certain major birth defects such as "water on the brain" (hydrocephalus) and "open spine" (spina bifida), can now sometimes be corrected by new techniques of surgery, medical experts at the March of Dimes organization report.

Through the combination of treatment, teaching and study at the Columbus Birth Defects Study Center and others the March of Dimes hopes to establish and support, it is believed that new knowledge will be obtained and spread so that the devastating effects of these disorders may eventually, for the most part, be prevented or controlled.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by the State Health Department

A brand new decade makes its debut tomorrow. If you're short of resolutions, here's a list designed especially to keep you around to see the 60's end.

Promise yourself you'll give your body at least as good care as you give your car. Let your family physician look you over thoroughly once a year whether you feel bad or not. Make it twice yearly if you're middle-aged. Periodic check-ups are the best way yet devised to detect bodily disorders while they can still be treated successfully.

Check in with your dentist once yearly, too. Dental trouble won't kill you but sometimes it can make you wish you were dead. And the dentist can help push back the time when you'll need dentures, which is a major accomplishment in itself.

If you're 40 and fat, resolve to start passing up the candied yams, boiled potatoes and the cream-filled toothsome tidbits which spell extra weight and an early grave.

Too much weight contributes to high blood pressure, and maybe associated with hardening of the arteries and various forms of heart disease. It means impaired vigor, greater surgical risk, greater danger from otherwise minor ### illnesses.

Teenagers should be especially aware of the statistics linking smoking to cancer and heart disease which is piling up so fast it's getting tougher and tougher to rationalize the habit.

Resolve to drive as though every other car on the road is being manned by a maniac. And when you're afoot trust motorists only as far as you can see them. Motor vehicle deaths stand far above accidental deaths of all other types.

Make it a point to take full advantage in medical science aimed at benefitting you and your family, but always on competent medical advice. Start by having the youngsters immunized against polio.

Promise to adhere to local and state laws pertaining to health protection. Example: if your town has a dog leash law, obey it. It's a public protective device, and you are the public.

Last and most important, give an occasional thought to such awesome problems as juvenile delinquency, water conservation, and the growing numbers of oldsters. Lend your support as a responsible citizen to community efforts to solve them.

Tax-Man Sam Sez:

The eight hundred fellow Texans who work for the Internal Revenue Service here in North Texas have asked me to pass along their seasons greetings to you, their friends and neighbors. These people have the very important job of collecting a very substantial percentage of our earnings to run our Federal government.

You will find these folks, your neighbors, working hard in their local community activities. They work hard to give good service. May we all wish them many happy returns and that they hurry up and get the 700,000 refund checks out.

Mr. and Mrs. Orman Moore and daughters of Plainview visited her mother, Mrs. Erin McGraw, and with his parents in Goree over the holidays.

PRESS SPEAKERS—Creative thinking and creative entertainment will be highlights of the Texas Press Association's Mid-Winter Meeting in Dallas on Jan. 9. Clay W. Stephenson, (left) Houston advertising executive, will address the newspapermen on the topic "The Annihilation of Creative Thinking." John Henry Faulk (right), former New York TV star who has returned to live in his native Texas, will provide the creative entertainment. Faulk was once on the faculty at the University of Texas, and later taught philosophy at Yale. He's widely known for a home-spun type of humor that has entertained many audiences in Central Texas since his return. Stephenson is president of Clay Stephenson & Associates, a Houston advertising agency. He formerly was executive vice president of Tracy-Locke Co. Inc. of Dallas and has been associated with two New York agencies.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Unbends And Makes Some Big Predictions For 1960, But All Without Any Guarantees

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek has found out a new year is at hand, his letter indicates.

Dear Editor:
This is the time of year when all the experts bring out their predictions for the next twelve months, and while I'm no expert—oh, I'll admit I've been wrong about as many times as they have, still I don't qualify as one—I thought I'd fall in line and bring out a few of my own.

The trouble with most predictions is they aren't strong enough. They hedge. They say times are going to be good in 1960, unless this or that occurs. There's going to be an upturn, unless there's a downturn.

Mine are more positive. For example, I predict the world's coming to an end in 1960. Naturally, I don't really think so, I'm going ahead and making a crop, but you've got to admit, if I'm right, I'll go down in history.

As for the economic situation in the next twelve months, I predict most people will make it, but at the end of the year when they look back, they won't see how they did.

Internationally, the scene looks cloudy. This is the same prediction I've made every year since I found out there were other countries besides the United States, and it's always been right. I've never been caught napping on that one. If I wanted to pick out the easiest job on earth, I'd pick the job of predicting every January 1 that the international scene is fraught with danger and uncertainty.

On the national scene, I predict the United States, despite the feeling some people have it won't hold together, will hold together for another twelve months. It's a funny thing about the United States. It's not as smart as some people give it credit for being, nor half as dumb as some people suspect.

Around here, my predictions are a little more hazy. The closer a man gets to home, the less specific he is, if he's smart. I wouldn't mind predicting what's going to happen around here in the next twelve months, and may do it some day, just as soon as I find out what happened in the last twelve months.

Happy new year. That's the kind I intend to have.
Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Nautical Rules Of the Road

By Martha Johnson
Dodge Safety Consultant

Be sure you follow the nautical rules of the road if you and your family are boating this Summer. Use common sense and courtesy to stay afloat, advises the Los Angeles chapter of the American Red Cross.

The organization's water safety service also offers these tips for safe boating:

- Stay with your boat if it capsizes. Metal boats with good air tanks and good wood boats don't sink.
- Provide each person with an approved life jacket or cushion.
- Don't overload your boat. A wise rule is one person to a seat.
- Don't smoke when refueling an outboard motor. Always be careful with matches.
- Don't stand up in a boat that is in motion.
- Always have a pair of oars in an outboard motor boat and a bailing can in all boats.
- Head for shore if a storm threatens. Keep weight centered and low in rough waves.
- Learn to swim to the best of your ability.

Kracker Krumbs

Christmas tree going up in flames. If you haven't burned yours yet, don't do it. Bring it to the northwest corner of the city hall lawn and dump it in the pen prepared for the purpose. Local followers of the Isaac Walton League will see that they get to Lake Kemp to be used for brushing and baiting spots for crappie fishing. The Lake Kemp Anglers Club claims they are ideal for this purpose, and dealers in fishing equipment approve of it, too. A lot of crappie hooks will become lost in that underwater brush!

And we reckon there's not much more but to wish you a Happy New Year. We hope each of the 365 days will be so good to you that you'll be glad you're living in the U. S. A.

Dollars And Sense
(By S. C. Kinsey, County H. D. Agent)

The amount of money that a family should spend on shelter to a large extent will depend on: The importance you place on physical aspects of your home; the special needs of your family, such as fenced-in yards, availability to schools, etc.; and what your income will allow.

If you are planning to buy or build a house through financing, it is important at a very early stage in your planning to figure out what price house you can afford, how much money you have available for a down payment, and what amount you must borrow.

The soundest way to determine the price of the house you should buy is on the basis of what your income will allow monthly for housing, including mortgage payment and interest, property taxes, property insurance, heating costs, utilities, trash, garbage and yard services, and a necessary amount for repairs and upkeep.
