Odd Bits Salvaged
By The Editor

We reckon we'll be just about as lucky as you, or anybody else, if tradition holds up!

We are invited to the W. C. Hertel home in Seymour for a New Year's watch party last Thursday night, which included games of eighty-four and merry-making as we left the office we took our help: "We may be late coming to work tomorrow, we got to watch the old year out the new one in."

As the New Year made its appearance, with noise making on radio and TV, the bunch in our party joined in, and those "50 and 50-year old kids," with some older, really put on a show with horn-tooting, balloon busting, shooting of fireworks and stuff like that.

As a final gesture before departing, we partook of a batch of cold turkey and blackeyed peas—the traditional gesture of bringing good luck throughout the year. When our alarm sounded next morning, we decided such carrying-on were for the younger generation and we should have had no part in it. We won't take part any more, either, at least for another year!

New Years Day was a day for TV watching; and, if no set was on hand, for radio listening. The day was filled with activities, and many sat before their sets from 10 a.m. until late evening.

It started off with the Rose Parade out in California, followed with various bowl football games. Two games were going on at once, and station changes were frequently made in order to keep up with the scores.

There was the Sugar Bowl, the Orange Bowl, the Cotton Bowl and the Rose Bowl games on Friday—with another afternoon of football on Saturday with the Gator Bowl and the East-West games on tap. Very little time to accomplish much of anything else.

But we're all glad the holidays are over and the new year is under way, so we can get straightened out on the days of the week. So many holidays coming at the end of the week had us all confused for several days.

One apparently good thing that happened as 1960 began to get under way was the settlement of the steel strike. Production will now begin to get back to normal, and the statement was issued that there will be no immediate increase in the price of steel. However, most of us are expecting an increase. We've gotten to the point where we can't absorb many more additional expenses without increasing our prices—and our guess is that this will eventually apply to the steel industry.

"This is just what we needed," a salesman remarked to us Tuesday, "rain and snow and more steel."

You see, it was snowing rather heavily when the remark was made. Tuesday gave us a mixture of rain, sleet and snow, adding to the moisture we received in December. A good winter season, we're told, is assurance of a good crop, come summer. At present, it appears we have nothing to fear in that respect.

Candidates have begun popping up in the precinct, county, state and national political arenas—and we'd like to urge you to pay your poll tax and be eligible to vote. It must be paid by February 1; and remember, too, that the first primary election is May 7th this year, rather than the fourth Saturday in July.

The second primary is on June 4th—and it will be over, thus eliminating a lot of sweat and toil for candidates in beating the bushes during that July and August heat. We imagine most of the office seekers approve the change.

Miss Carla Booe of Abilene visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Booe, and other relatives during the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Hediger and girls, Mrs. Douglas Hutcheson, June and Randy, and Mrs. Ronnie Cox and Cheryl, all of San Antonio, spent the week end visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Stubblefield and family.

Hugh Eubanks Of Gilliland Dies At Crowell

Funeral services for Hugh Eubanks, 66, were held at 2:30 p.m. Monday from the Truscott Baptist Church with Rev. Floyd Bailey of Knox City and Rev. Dick Williams of Gilliland officiating. Burial was in the Truscott cemetery.

Mr. Eubanks, a resident of the Gilliland community for several years, passed away at 1 p.m. Saturday, January 2, in the Crowell Hospital. He suffered a heart attack.

Born on May 14, 1894, Mr. Eubanks moved to Truscott in 1900. He later moved to Gilliland where he became engaged in farming and stock raising.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Loufona Eubanks of Gilliland; four daughters, Mrs. R. C. Feemster of Morrice, Ariz., Mrs. Arnold Ray Gurglass of Wichita Falls, Mrs. J. E. Massengill and Mrs. James E. Amerson, both of Munday; two brothers, J. C. Eubanks of Truscott and Owen Eubanks of Modesto, Calif.; one sister, Mrs. Charley Laquey of Truscott; eight grand children and three great-grandchildren.

Palbearers were J. H. Amerson, Joe Gordon, Leon Speers, Amos Kinnebrugh, Arthur Horne and Homer Black.

IN WICHITA HOSPITAL

Ronald Coody of Wichita Falls, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Coody of Munday, underwent surgery on his back at the Wichita Falls General Hospital on December 30, 1959. Latest reports are that he is doing fine.

Optional Filing Dates For Income Tax Returns Given Farmers, Ranchers

Farmers and ranchers are afforded optional filing dates with their Federal income tax returns, according to Clarence B. Dixon of Internal Revenue Service, Wichita Falls.

Uncle Sam's tax laws define a farmer or rancher as one who gets two-thirds or more of his gross income from farming or ranching.

"Farmers and ranchers," Mr. Dixon said, "have until Friday, January 15, to file their estimated Federal income tax return for the year 1959, unless they choose to file their final return on or before February 15."

Boat Registration Deadline April 1st

The new state law, in effect for the first time this year, requires boat owners to register their boats. Owners must have a certificate of title, and this must be sent to the Texas Highway Department in Austin for registration.

Sheriff H. T. Melton said recently the boat registration would be the same as registering an automobile, and that the deadline is April 1.

Owners without certificates of title may secure one from the sheriff's office, tax collector, or any certified boat dealer.

In case a boat is homemade or the serial number is gone, an owner may fill out the certificate of title and the Highway Department will issue a number for the boat.

License fees are based on length of the boat, and registration will last three years. A boat less than 16 feet in length will cost $1.00; 16 feet but less than 26 feet, $5.00; 26 feet but less than 40 feet, $10.00, and a boat 40 feet and over, $12.50.

As registration will, in some cases, be slower than registering an automobile, Mr. Melton urged all owners to make application now.

Paint Creek Tops Goree Team, 41 to 33

Paint Creek's cagers defeated the Goree team, 41 to 33, last Tuesday night in non-district play at Paint Creek. The winners will open district play next Tuesday.

Kenneth Carlton scored more than one-half of Paint Creek's total, sinking 23 points. Charlie Latham added 15 for high point man on the Goree team.

In the girls tilt, Paint Creek downed Goree girls, 47 to 19. Linda Medford took high point honors, scoring 19 for the winners. Pat Stewart tallied 18 for Goree.

1960 Stock Show Set for January 16

The annual Knox County 4-H and F. F. A. livestock show will be held on Saturday, January 16, at Knox City, it was announced this week by Troy D. Jones, county agent.

All entries are to be in the barn by 9:30 a.m. on the above date, it was stated, and judging will begin at 1:30 p.m. that afternoon.

Superintendents of the show this year are: Steers, Lee Smith; fat barrows, Herbert Partridge; breeding swine, Alfonso Kuehler; sheep, Elmo Todd.

The following classes of livestock have been set up for the show:

Fat steers, prize money, first through tenth place.

Fat barrows: Prize money, first through tenth in light class, 150 to 180 pounds, and in heavy class, 180 to 240 pounds.

Breeding swine: Prize money, first through tenth in open gilts and bred gilts, which must be farrowed after February 1, 1959, and first through tenth in boar class.

Sheep: Prize money, first through tenth in fine wool and crossbred classes. Only mutton lambs with "baby teeth" are eligible.

Ranchers will be awarded to grand champion and reserve champion in each department.

Miss Blackmon

Achievement in a 4-H home economics project produced 1959 state honors for Jorja Hue Blackmon, 19, of Shallowater.

The Texas winner, she attended the 38th National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago as the guest of Montgomery Ward.

A sophomore majoring in home economics at Texas Technological College, she won seven blue ribbons in dress revue during her 10-year 4-H career.

Miss Blackmon is Lubbock county council secretary and a junior leader. The Cooperative Extension Service judged her 4-H records.

RETURN TO SCHOOL

Elwood and Durwood Bruton have returned to North Texas State College in Denton, after spending the holidays with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben F. Bruton of Weinert.

Light to Heavy Snowfall Blankets County and Area

Knox County was included in the southern edge of winter's bite early this week, as rain, sleet and snow visited the area. All of the county was blanketed with around two inches of the wintry white Wednesday morning.

Much of the panhandle of Texas and Oklahoma bore the brunt of the wintry storm, with as much as 8 to 10 inches of snow being reported north of Amarillo. Roads were blocked by the snow and some travellers were marooned for a time. Travel in the Munday area was not without some hazards but was not hampered to any great extent by the snow.

The precipitation began with rain on Monday night, and intermittent rain and sleet was falling as Munday people made their way to town to open business houses. The moisture turned to snow later in the morning, and it continued to fall until after nightfall.

The northern part of the county received heavy snow earlier than that which visited Munday. Farmers in the Gilliland and Truscott areas were reluctant to "buck the icy roads" and stayed in for the day.

The additional moisture is further assurance of a good grain crop this year, and places the soil in excellent condition for preparing other crops. Wheat received a big boost by the December moisture, and the snow has come as an added boost.

All in all, things look rosy for a good crop in 1960—and that's what farmers, and business people alike, are looking forward to.

Mrs. Zelma Roberts, Wife Of Former Haskell Publisher, Dies on Sunday

Mrs. Zelma Roberts, 72, widow of the late Sam A. Roberts, former owner and publisher of the Haskell Free Press, passed away at 3 p.m. Sunday in Bethania Hospital in Wichita Falls.

Mrs. Roberts had been a patient at the Wichita Falls hospital for the past five weeks, suffering from cancer.

The former Zelma Grubb, she was born August 2, 1887, in Iowa. She married Sam A. Roberts on December 30, 1914, in Wichita Falls. He preceded her in death in May, 1953.

The couple lived in Byers, where he was publisher of the Byers Herald, until 1916 when he purchased the Haskell Free Press and they moved to Haskell. Mr. Roberts sold his interests in the paper in 1945.

Mrs. Roberts had been a member of the Baptist Church since girlhood.

Funeral services were held at 3 p.m. Monday from the First Baptist Church in Haskell with the pastor, Rev. M. D. Rexrode, officiating. Burial was beside her husband in Willow Cemetery, under the direction of Holden Funeral Home.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. John J. Wilson of Fort Worth, former Tarrant County home demonstration agent; a son, Paul W. Roberts of Andrews; and four grandchildren.

The family requested that, instead of flowers, memorials in the form of donations be made to the Cancer Fund through Harold Spain, postmaster at Haskell.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Routon are proudly announcing the arrival of a son on December 17, 1959. He weighed six pounds and 13 and one-fourth ounces, and has been named Russel Wayne. Grandparents are Mrs. Lila Faye Mobby and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Routon all of Goree.

Dr. and Mrs. A. A. Smith Observe Golden Wedding Anniversary Recently

Dr. and Mrs. A. A. Smith, beloved pioneer residents of this area, observed their 50th wedding anniversary on Sunday, December 20, in their home in Munday. Hostesses for the occasion were their daughter, Mrs. Maurye Blacklock of Snyder, and daughter-in-law, Mrs. A. A. Smith, Jr., of Munday.

The dining room was decorated with tallisman roses and gold foliage. The table was covered with an ecru appliqued organdy cloth over gold. A crystal punch bowl adorned one end of the table, and a polished brass antique coffee and tea service, which was a gift from the Smith's children, graced the other end.

The house party included Mrs. Effie Alexander, Mrs. Ira Bowden, Mrs. Fred Broach and Mrs. M. H. Reeves.

Dr. Smith started practicing medicine in Munday in 1908 with his father, the late Dr. J. R. Smith, and on December 18, 1909, he and Miss Nannie Beatrice Stevenson were married at the Grace Hotel in Abilene. They returned to Munday, where Dr. Smith practiced for 40 years.

Mrs. Smith accepted employment as milliner at Linsey's Mercantile in Goree in the early part of 1909. She had formerly been employed in The Fair in Fort Worth and Sanger's in Dallas.

Horton, Griffin Buy Business Building Here

A business deal involving one of the larger business buildings in Munday was completed on January 1, 1960, when E. L. Horton of Munday and O. H. Griffin of Merkel purchased what was familiarly known as "the Chastain building" from J. H. Strain of Haskell.

The building was erected around 1947 as the home of Munday Truck and Tractor Co., which was operated by Neil Chastain and owned by Chastain, Mr. Strain and Bill Richie, also of Haskell.

For the past several years, it has been occupied by Stanley Wardlaw Appliance Co. and Cypert's Service and Repair.

In announcing the purchase, Mr. Horton said the building will be occupied by his International business, Horton Equipment Co., but no definite date had been set Wednesday for moving into the building. Mr. Horton has occupied the Broch building, in his present location, since purchasing the International business several years ago.

She and her sister, Mrs. Alexander, are now owners of The Hat Shop in Munday, which they have operated many years.

In the early days, Dr. Smith played on the local baseball team as pitcher. He also recalls that many of his bills were paid in produce, feed for his horses, and pig and eggs. At one time a farmer brought him a wagon load of cashews. He had no idea what they would do with so many cashews, but recalls they had lots of pies in the next few months and that they shared them with neighbors.

Three children were born to this union: Madge Christine, now Mrs. John Mace of Spokane, Wash.; Maurye Genevieve, now Mrs. Blacklock, who teaches in the Snyder schools, and A. A. Smith, Jr., of Munday.

Dr. Smith, now in retirement from medical practice, has farming and ranching interests near Munday, and raises fine horses as a hobby.

Mrs. Blacklock presented her parents with "This is You Life Together," which she had written for them.

Approximately 100 guests called between the hours of 2 and 4 p.m. Out-of-town guests included the following:

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Stone and Caroline of Stanton, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Johnson of Atlanta, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Ballinger of Dallas, Miss Charlotte Hannah of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Moore and Melinda of Shallowater, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Bates and Mrs. W. M. Taylor of Goree.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Canafax and sons during the Christmas and New Year's holidays were H. W. Hedgepeth and Frances, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nichols of Alvord and Mr. and Mrs. Jearl Canafax and children of Wichita Falls.

Local Pastor In Revival Meeting At Cotton Center

Rev. Rex L. Mauldin, pastor of the Munday Methodist Church, left last Sunday for Cotton Center, Texas, where he is preaching in a revival meeting, which will continue through Sunday morning.

Rev. Charles Sargent, retired Methodist minister, will preach at the morning services at the Methodist church next Sunday. J. Weldon Smith will direct the service.

Sunday evening at 6 p.m., the pastor will begin a series of sermons on the Apostles' Creed. The first in the series is "I Believe in God."

Carter Seeks Re-election As Commissioner

The Munday Times has been authorized to announce for re-election the candidacy of T. C. Carter for Commissioner of Precinct No. 1. Mr. Carter stated that his knowledge of this office had increased with each passing year.

The handling and repairs of the road equipment is under his direct care and supervision. That because of his experience as a maintenance man, he has saved the County and Precinct No. 1, many dollars in repairs. Although the maintenance of roads and equipment are not the only duties of a Commissioner it constitutes the major portion of his duties.

Mr. Carter further stated that during his term of office there has been established a Surplus Food Program to help those who are in need of aid. This program has been very successful and has succeeded in helping those people. It is my intention to continue with this program for those persons who are worthy of this type of aid, and I would further like to point out that there is no cost to the County or Precinct for helping these people with this program.

County administration is very important and I have never failed to attend a Commissioner Court meeting, unless I was sick. As you know my health at times was not as good as it should be but I am feeling better all the time and am fully active in participating in the affairs of your County and Precinct. My crew and I have always tried to maintain the roads and equipment as we thought you would have wanted us to do.

I know that I have made mistakes but with each day and God's help these mistakes have been limited.

I have always felt that serving the people of Precinct No. 1, was the greatest honor and privilege that I have ever had. I feel like that there is still a big job to be done and with your help and support I can continue to work for our County and Precinct.

I will promise you three things and they are as follows:

- (1) I will promise you that if I am re-elected as your commissioner that I will serve you without partiality to anyone, or any special interest or group.
- (2) I will promise you that regardless of how rough the going gets in the campaigning I will never be guilty of running on the other fellows inabilities, but on my own qualifications.
- (3) I promise you that a vote for T. C. Carter will be appreciated and will be a vote for a bigger and better Precinct Number One.

THE ATOM'S FUTURE

The possibilities inherent in the peaceful application of nuclear energy, especially in the electric power field, have captured much public imagination. That is natural — this form of energy is dramatic, new and strange. But there is a danger that so great an emphasis will be placed on atomic power development that we will tend to forget the essentiality of fostering continued development of adequate supplies of conventional fuels — coals, oil and gas.

That warning has been given Congress by president Sporn of the American Electric Power Company. He implemented it with certain predictions, based on available data.

By 1975 the nation's electric requirement will be far larger than at present, and nuclear energy will have its place in meeting the demand. Even so, Mr. Sporn estimates, only about 7.5 per cent will be atom generated. The rest will come from conventional sources.

Thereafter, the importance of nuclear energy will grow. Between 1975 and 2000 nuclear power is expected to account for more than 75 per cent of the increase in electric generation. But the year 2000, needless to say, is a long way off.

The fact is that nuclear energy is simply a fuel which, when used, replaces another fuel. And the cost of fuel is a relatively modest part of the total cost of providing electric service. There is absolutely no foundation for the idea that atom-generated power would be so cheap that it wouldn't be worthwhile to meter its use.

Meanwhile, the utility industry, and other interested groups, are hard at work learning more and more of the secrets of the atom, in preparation for the day when nuclear power will be economical and practical.

PRIVATE AID TO EDUCATION

There's no doubt that a clamor for federal aid to education — which would inevitably end in federal control — will continue. So it is all-important that the people and enterprises of this country see to it that education is adequately financed on a non-federal basis.

More and more American businesses are giving more and more money to educational institutions, on a free and voluntary basis. The Esso Education Foundation which was established in 1955 by Standard Oil of New Jersey and some of its domestic affiliates — is a case in point. The Foundation's chairman has just announced 363 grants totaling $1,466,500 to 330 institutions for the 1959-60 academic year. Two hundred ninety-one of these grants, totaling $774,000, are unrestricted. The balance are special grants for capital, scientific research and a limited number of other research projects, most of which are in the area of the humanities.

All told, the Foundation has made grants totaling almost $7,500,000 in the five years of its existence to privately supported colleges and universities.

The country needs more of this kind of giving on big scale and small. An educational system free of government domination is all-important to the future of free enterprises — and all our other traditional freedoms.

HONEY IN THE HIVE

The wise beekeeper always leaves some honey in the hive. The food thus left gives the bees strength to find more nectar and produce more honey.

Congress followed that sound principle when it approved the percentage depletion provision that applies to producers of oil and most of the other minerals.

In the case of oil, this percentage is 27½ per cent — a figure that has been reapproved by Congress after Congress. That percentage is deductible by producers — and producers only — in paying their income tax. And it is essential to oil development for two plain reasons. One is that only one wildcat well in nine produces any oil at all, and men must be given incentives if they are to take the heavy risks involved in drilling. The other is that the best of wells wear out, and that new wells must be found to replace them.

The next Congress, in all probability, will see another attempt to reduce percentage depletion. Should it succeed, all the honey will be taken from the oil hive. Then exploration will slow and dwindle — at ominous and unpredictable cost to the economic strength and military security of the whole free world.

PRODUCTION UP, INCOME DOWN

So now we come to the end of one of the best production years Texas agriculture ever had — but net farm income is dropping down a full 15 per cent below 1958.

The 1959 Texas cotton crop is estimated at around 4,500,000 bales, compared with 4,308,000 bales in 1958. Sorghum grain production is figured at about 277,000,000 bushels for 1959, a little up from the 273,066,000 bushels harvested in 1958.

Rice production for the year is running at 13,136,000 hundred-weight, against 11,938,000 cwt. in 1958. The crop is due to exceed 41,366,000 bushels, also up from 1958. The Rio Grande Valley is well under way with at least a nine million box citrus season, up two million from 1958 and the first real bumper season since the disastrous freeze in 1951.

Ranges and livestock in general are in their best condition in the past 10 years. There were an estimated 8,510,000 cattle on Texas ranges at the beginning of the year, along with 5,355,000 sheep, and there are more now.

But cotton is the cheapest for any December in a decade. Corn is bringing $1.12 a bushel, compared with $1.21 a year ago. Overproduction and cheapness of corn is going to have its effect on the vital Texas sorghum grain market — if not this year, certainly next year. Livestock markets, seldom robust and always highly sensitive, are showing signs of weakening in the face of heavy production.

There is a drastic squeeze in the parity ratio — in relation to the prices they pay, the prices received by farmers in 1959 are the lowest in 19 years. The farmer's share of each dollar spent by the consumer has dropped to 38 cents, lowest since 1942. The most authoritative sources agree that farm income is due to fall somewhat lower next year — in other words, things are liable to get worse before they get any better.

About the only flat statement concerning the U. S. farm problem on which you can get anywhere near unanimous agreement is this: Something is wrong. Try to go any further than that and you are likely to learn at first hand just how controversial this farm problem can become.

BOYCE HOUSE

A man, a few years ago, produced several paintings — not copies but originals — that experts proclaimed to be works of an old master and they sold for tremendous amounts. Afterward, he confessed that he was the artist and was sent to prison. Now if a man could paint portraits that good, why wasn't he a great artist? What makes a painting great — the painting itself or the name signed to it?

There is a school of book reviewers — and most book reviewers belong to that school — that holds that if the rank-and-file of the people like a book, it can not possibly have much merit. Yet Homer sang his "Iliad" for the people; Burns wrote his poems for the people; Dickens' novels were read by the people and Shakespeare composed his plays to be presented to the people. In each instance, the plaudits of the critics came afterward — a very long time afterward. Who now reads "Raintree County" and "From Here to Eternity" — volumes which were hailed by book page editors as "masterpieces" a few short years ago?

The quiz shows which were so popular featured individuals who gave a lot of information from memory (presumably). What the world needs is not people whose minds are filled with miscellaneous data which is readily available, if and when needed, in the World Almanac or a one-volume encyclopedia — but rather people who, given a set of facts, can think.

During the depression of the early '30's a young man held up a service station. He ordered the attendant to open the cash-drawer and hand him a nickel. He was captured soon afterward. When asked why he had taken only five cents when there was perhaps $50 in the drawer, he replied that he had had a quarrel with his girl, was completely broke and wanted a nickel so he could call her on the phone and try to patch up the quarrel.

The "why" was the most interesting thing about the holdup.

Safe Driving Insurance Plan Designed To Reward Safe Driving, Musick Says

By J. O. Musick
General Manager
Texas Safety Association, Inc.
Seven days ago Texas motorists began operating their private vehicles under the new Texas Safe Driving Insurance Plan -- a plan which is expected to reward 1.3 million insured Texas automobile owners with a savings of $20-million each year. Furthermore, and maybe more importantly, it is believed by its difficult to measure in dollars and cents alone.

How did the plan come about? Why change from the old system? Is it an equitable plan, or does it deal unfairly with many thousands of Texans? Who's going to get rich off of it? These are only a few of the questions posed by statesmen and laymen alike in recent weeks.

To begin with, the plan is not new, it is merely a refinement of what has been in effect since 1952.

In 1957, the 55th Texas Legislature wanted to know why auto insurance rates were 45% higher in Harris County than in Dallas County. In essence it found out that the drivers in Dallas County (which made a portion of one of ten insurance rating regions in Texas) were simply a lot safer than the drivers in Harris County. But what about the safe driver in Harris County? He paid the same as an unsafe driver, just as the unsafe driver in Dallas County got off light because of his neighbor's carelessness.

Rightfully so, Senators and Legislators from the 55th didn't see the equity in this plan and authorized the State Board of Insurance to make a careful study of various merit rating plans with an eye to seeing what could be done to reward the individually safe driver in Texas.

After an exhaustive study of merit plans in Canada, California (8 other states have similar systems) and from 43 foreign countries, the framework of the Texas plan was formed. A continuing study was made by the actuarial staff of the Board and Texas Department of Public Safety as they delved into the facts and figures of 40,365 drivers records. With the statistical information compiled from this source they arrived at various percentages of credits, surcharges and time-coverages in the new plan.

Proponents of the plan do not declare it infallible, but the plan does combine the thinking and experience of some of the most brilliant insurance men and safety experts in the State.

How The Plan Works
Households where drivers have a three year record of no chargeable accidents, or chargeable convictions for moving traffic violations, will be entitled to a 20% discount below regular premium rates. With one point against them, the household will pay the regular rate. With two, three, four, five, six or more against them (you can get four points for driving while intoxicated), the household will pay a corresponding 20% increase for each point, up to 100% increase.

Why A Point System?
Studies show that there is a direct relationship between high-way accidents and convictions for moving traffic violations. The group of drivers who run up a record of convictions have a much greater chance of being involved in accidents than does the group of drivers who drive in a lawful manner. Statistically, the group of drivers who received a point, in 1959, that will count against them are three times more likely to have an accident in 1960 than is the group of drivers whose safety consciousness has kept them from having an accident or being ticketed for a moving traffic violation.

Is The Plan Equitable?
Many opponents have expressed doubts about the fairness of the plan because of the three year period in which it reaches back for its records. They say that had many Texans known they were going to be penalized, they would have protested minor traffic infractions in court. There is some merit of truth in their arguments and undoubtedly many of these people would have won their cases. But if these drivers are truly safe drivers, with the one exception they speak of, they will not be charged any more for insurance than they now pay, too, they will have a chance to prove their safety ability and earn a discount in the years ahead. Approximately 73% of the motorists in Texas are lawful and accident-free drivers, thus the burden of paying for the Texas Safe Driving Insurance Plan will be shifted to the shoulders of the unsafe drivers who are causing the most accidents.

In time all Texas motorists could benefit from the plan, even those who have an occasional point chalked up against them, because safety experts believe the plan will encourage safe driving with a resultant reduction in traffic accidents which will lower insurance rates for all.

Who's Going To Get Rich?
If anyone is going to "get rich" off the new plan it is certainly not the insurance companies; they are running the greatest risk of any group. About the only persons who stand to make a financial gain are the safe drivers.

Will Every Accident Cost Points?
There are many exceptions in the assignment of points for an accident or traffic ticket. For example, suppose you are backing out of a parking place in a shopping center and accidentally scrape the fender of the car next to you, you would not be assigned points against you, unless the damage exceeded $25. Also, if you are ticketed for defective lights or other equipment, except brakes, you are not assigned points. Numerous such exceptions none of which would reflect on a person's driving ability are incorporated in the plan to make it equitable.

Will Courts Bog Down?
It has been charged that Texas' court system will create a serious bottle neck in handling the expected influx of traffic ticket appeals. This, unfortunately, is possible, but it is not an argument against the plan. Instead, it points up a greater need for a revision of our traffic court system. For many years the Texas Safety Association, National Safety Council, Texas Bar Association, the Governor's office and others who must cope with traffic problems have fought for legislation that will make Texas' traffic courts as modern as our state's highways.

There will be strong criticism to the plan for months to come, but it is not likely to come from well informed sources, unless they are outspokenly opposed to rewarding individual motorists for their safe driving.

Texas now pay in excess of $440-million each year for traffic accidents, not to mention the suffering caused by the loss of nearly 2500 lives and over 125,000 injuries. This is a burdensome price indeed, the Texas Safe Driving Insurance Plan could do much to reduce these costs.

4-H Boy May Be U. S. Corn Champ

The unofficial U. S. corn yield champion may again be a Mississippi farm boy. It has been announced by Prentiss County Agricultural Agent, Taylor Smith, that Lindon Ratliff, 17, of Baldwin, Mississippi, has harvested 242.37 bushels of corn from his one-acre 4-H project. This is equal to 5 times the U. S. average yield. (Lindon and County Agent Smith are shown above weighing the corn—all corn from the measured acre was weighed.)

The reasons given for the high yield were the careful attention given the soil and use of the high-yielding hybrid corn variety, Funk's G-711, which also produced the all-time world yield record of 304.38 bushels from an acre. No stranger to high yields, Lindon also produced the U. S. high yield in 1957. In 1955, his brother, Lamar, set the present world mark of 304 bushels. The average corn yield in America varies between 40 and 50 bushels per acre, and 100 bushels per acre is considered an excellent yield.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by the State Health Department

Meet the man who gets the State Health Department's vote as Man of the Year.

He operates the water system in your home town. Does the task sound prosaic? Then listen to health department sanitary engineers . . .

Without the commodity he handles, men and cities would slowly die. You use his handiwork with confidence, yet without thought, each time you turn the faucet to drink of the clean, clear water.

Each time you fill the basin to wash your face or brush your teeth or shave you call on him. Or on a hundred occasions during a single, fleeting day.

He and all men like him are subjects of prime concern to the State Health Department's sanitary engineering division. The interest stems from the fact that clean water is indispensable to good health.

The division is responsible for certifying water and sewage system operators who have the proper knowledge of the job and its public health implications, and for approving water systems serving the public. Well over 300 cities and towns, representing 90 percent of Texas' urban population now have approved systems.

Bottled down to its simplest terms the Man of the Year has the task of collecting water for processing, making it safe for human use, and transporting it to homes and businesses. It goes on 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

The Man of the Hour retails clean water. Is that important? So important that no tyrant dares deny it to his people. Wars have been fought over it. Once mighty nations have collapsed because supplies were cut off.

The wandering children of Israel filtered in the desert and threatened rebellion until Moses smote a rock and brought forth a spring.

Because of what the Man of the Year does during his eight-hour shift, the 140-plus gallons of water you use daily — assuming you're average — is delivered to you in all its life-giving cleanliness.

Part engineer — part chemist — his badge of honor is his cherished operator's certificate, bestowed by the State Health Department only on those who have proved their ability to handle vital water system assignments.

But the use of water so pervades human life that it loses significance. Thus does the Man of the Year get slighted when the public hands out accolades for service.

See You in CHURCH Sunday

Mrs. J. C. Reagan, Jackie, Brenda and Bill and Misses Martha Faye Flood and Sandy Shearer of Dickens, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Suggs, Kathy, Sherri and Dana Jo, of Arlington, Ellis Jeter of Gainesville and Mrs. Addie Hopper were guests of Mrs. Raymond Suggs during the holidays.

Miss Lynell Jetton of Goree visited her aunt, Miss Myrtle Jetton from Monday until New Year's night.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT

I was too late for Christmas, too early for New Years, but from all indications I'm still the grandest boy in the world. I made my arrival in a Lubbock hospital at 5:34 p.m. Thursday, December 31, 1959. I am 19½ inches long and weigh 8 pounds. My name is James David Gaither, Jr. My parents are Mr. and Mrs. James David Gaither, Sr., who live at 2111 16th St. in Lubbock. They brought my mother and me home last Sunday and we are both doing fine. My grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Pete Kent of Port Arthur and Mr. and Mrs. James Gaither of Munday.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Seale and sons, Jim and Fred; Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Richards and son, Jerry, and daughter, Shirley, and Mrs. B. R. Holder have returned from a ten-day trip to California to visit their daughter and sister, Ina Scarbrough, and on to Las Vegas, Nev., to visit Mrs. J. C. Lambeth. They reported a fine trip.

Principles Of Irrigation Shown In New Bulletin

Water is one of the most important factors controlling crop yields in Texas, according to Morris E. Bloodworth, associate professor, Department of Agronomy, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Even though the present irrigated acreage is estimated to be near seven million, the water supplies have been taxed to the limit in some of the irrigated areas and nearly exhausted in other parts of the state. Although more available acreage is well adapted to this type of intensive agriculture, the expansion of irrigation will depend largely on water resources as yet undeveloped, Bloodworth pointed out.

"Some Principles and Practices in the Irrigation of Texas Soils," is a new Texas Agricultural Experiment Station bulletin written by Bloodworth designed to present some basic principles and practices of irrigation that will be helpful to farmers. It should serve as a guide and will require revision as dictated by experience and as additional field data becomes available.

Among the many topics discussed in the bulletin are: importance of the soil structure; salinity; furrow, border and sprinkler irrigation; and frequency of irrigation. Subjects from planning your irrigation system to apply-

Abilene Symphony To Salute Mexico In Second Series

Abilene — Abilene Symphony for which Walter Charles is musical director-conductor, will salute Mexico in the second of its series, "Salute to the Free Peoples of the World," which will coincide with International Relations Week. The week opens January 13.

The Symphony will present an evening of Spanish and Mexican Music on the evening of January 14, beginning at 8:15 p.m. at the Abilene High School.

Out-of-town persons will be privileged to attend this concert, purchasing tickets at the box office or at the door on the night of the presentation. Adult tickets will be $2 and student tickets 75 cents. Usually the symphony concerts are open only to those who have purchased season tickets.

Some of the music to be played will be two works by Revueletas: "La Noche De Los Mayas" and "Janitzio;" "La Bomba De Vera Cruz," by Terig Tucci, Ravel's "Bolero," Para Levanter El Telon by Uribe Holguin, "Ritual Fire Dance" by De Falls, and "Coyecas" by Cranodos - Scheilling.

Carrying out the salute to Mexico, restaurants have been invited to stress Mexican food on their menus, schools and colleges have been invited to correspond and exchange ideas, students will study the history of their neighbors. There will be window displays and other features of the neighbors across the border, Alan W. McCracken, manager of the Abilene Symphony Orchestra, Inc. said. "We have asked many people to help in this special gesture."

Texas Woman's Press Association is cooperating with the Abilene Symphony Orchestra in this effort, Mr. McCracken said.

Billie Stevenson of San Antonio, chairman of the International Relations committee and corresponding secretary of TWPA, conferred with Mr. Charles here sev-

Tex. Soil District Supervisors Will Meet In Galveston

The nineteenth annual meeting of the Texas Soil Conservation District Supervisors will be held at the Moody Center in Galveston, January 13-15, 1960. Total attendance could approximate 1,000, said J. H. Barton, extension soil and water conservation specialist.

Soil conservation districts in Texas now number 176 and each has a five-man board of supervisors. These districts, according to Barton, cover approximately 98 percent of the farm and ranch lands of the State. Only three counties and parts of three other counties are not now included in soil conservation districts, he said.

Speakers for the meeting are being drawn largely from among the district supervisors and from agencies, organizations and leaders associated with conservation work. They will be discussing such subjects as "Telling and Selling the Story of Soil Conservation Districts."

Many awards will be presented at the annual banquet on Friday evening which will feature an address by Congressman James C. Wright, 12th District, Fort Worth.

Barton said special programs had been planned for the ladies attending the meeting. He added that another highlight of the meeting would be the many exhibits of materials and equipment available for use in soil and water conservation programs.

Hunting Season Drawing To Close With Good Results

Dear hunters now can put their rifles away until the 1960 season opens. The season closed Dec. 31. Duck season closes Jan. 1 and goose season closes Jan. 8.

The final shooting date of the 1959-60 season is Jan. 16, the end of the quail season.

Dove, quail and deer hunters report the best harvest in years. Duck and goose shooting was scattered, according to the director of law enforcement of the Game and Fish Commission.

On public deer hunts held on the five management areas of the Game Commission, there was a 40.49 per cent success, according to reports from the Restoration Division.

The results follow: Black Gap area, 136 deer killed for a 45.33 per cent success; Kerr area, 177 deer killed for a 60.82 per cent success; Engeling area, 70 deer killed for a 56.1 per cent success; Sierra Diablo area, 33 deer killed for a 50 per cent success; Angelina area, 84 deer killed for an 18.46 per cent success.

In northeast Texas heavy kills were reported in counties only recently reopened to hunting. In Bowie County there were 442 bucks and 316 does harvested; Red River County reported 209 bucks and 210 does for a total of 419. This was a total of 1237 deer killed in the two counties.

Harvey Lee of Fort Worth visited friends here and his brother-in-law, Gene Tonn, in Haskell the first of this week.

Billy Mitchell and R. I. Ratliff were business visitors in Fort Worth last Monday.

Picture of a Promise

Sure, she's a grand old flag!
That's why we salute her.
That's why we pledge allegiance to her.

That pledge, in its simplest terms, is another way of saying, "Count me in. You're my country and I love you and need you. Your problems are my problems, and I'm with you all the way."

Your country's biggest single problem is the perpetual responsibility for keeping the peace its people want. You can help with this problem by remembering this:

Peace costs money. Money for military and industrial strength. Money for science and education. And money saved by individuals — by you — to help keep the economy strong. Bonds provide this money.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Is Not Interested In Any New Ideas Urging People To Study Up On How To Loaf

Editor's Note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek gets the new year underway about like he left the old one, his letter this week indicates.

Dear Editor: I started the new year off successfully, a business man in Munday gave me a 1960 calendar wrapped in a copy of The Reporter-News and since I don't pay much attention to a new calendar, haven't used my old one yet, I laid it aside and tackled the newspaper, as soon as I got home and got my feet propped up.

According to an article in it, a University of Chicago Professor has done a lot of research on modern man and has come up with the conclusion that man's goal now is leisure, that the idea that work is the most creative expression of man's daily life is obsolete, and the educational institutions must re-examine their principles and "gear education to the use of leisure time."

I won't go into his ideas on work, that's out of my field, but I'll admit it's news to me that this college professor seems to think you have to be educated to loaf.

When I look back on my "education," I don't seem to recall that it was geared for leisure. What loafing I've managed to do, in school or out, was accomplished on my own. If educators are setting out to teach people how to enjoy their leisure time, I believe I could hire out as a professor right now.

The trouble with college professors when they start theorizing about modern man is that they stump their toe before they get started. Modern man is no different from old-fashioned man, except he's better organized. His mass production is better organized, his social life is better organized, his wars are better organized, his crime is better organized, his schools are better organized, his tax-gathering is better organized, his charity is better organized, his games are better organized, but when it comes to loafing, I prefer mine unorganized.

If I've got time to spend studying how to loaf, I believe I'd prefer to use it loafing. Some people just can't be educated.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

INDIVIDUAL CITIZENS NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTIONS OUTLINED

Have you made your New Year's Resolutions yet? With world affairs in their usual troubled state, it might be well to consider a few resolutions about being a good citizen during 1960.

We have recently observed "Bill of Rights Day," and most of us are generally familiar with the unique rights and privileges which we enjoy as citizens of the U. S. Here is a "Bill of Responsibilities" prepared by the American Citizenship Committee of the State Bar of Texas, which might serve as a background for our citizenship resolutions for the coming year:

I. It shall be the duty of every citizen to render undivided allegiance to the Constitution of the United States, to work for its betterment and perpetuation, to respect the sovereignty of the people's government, and to defend the nation against all its enemies whomsoever.

II. It shall be the duty of every citizen to be familiar with the Constitution of the United States and to be informed as to what rights and liberties are his, and to use these rights in such manner as is consistent with his own welfare and the welfare of his fellow citizens.

III. It shall be the duty of every citizen to defend with his life the rights and liberties granted to him and to his fellow citizens by the Constitution, to obey the laws of the land and aid in their enforcement, and to oppose vigorously any persons whose intention is to transgress the law or to oppress the rights of others.

IV. It shall be the duty of every citizen to make honest, wise and courageous use of the free and secret ballot at every election; to exercise freedom of thought, speech, and worship; to protect the freedom of the press; to safeguard the right of trial by jury and to render willing jury service when called upon; and to perform all other acts conducive to the perpetuation of the rights set forth in the Constitution.

V. It shall be the duty of every citizen to protect and sustain the unwritten liberties and rights vested in him by custom and usage and to perpetuate the ideals of the equality and dignity of the individual, upon which the Constitution is founded.

VI. It shall be the duty of every citizen to be active in the political party of his choice, and to be vigilant of the public officers, to render all possible aid to them, and to serve in public office by appointment or election when qualified and when called upon to do so. It shall be his duty to strive for the selection of public officers of ability and upright character; and when holding public office, to serve in such manner as will subordinate private or minority interests to those of the people at large.

VII. It shall be the duty of every citizen to achieve the highest practicable level of education, and to work for the advancement of education by supporting and improving the public schools and by fostering the desire for education among his fellow citizens.

VIII. It shall be the duty of every citizen to defend the right to buy and sell, to own land and other property, to engage in commerce, and to work and earn a living wage, as a fundamental guarantee of the freedom and welfare of the nation.

IX. It shall be the duty of every citizen to instruct his children in the principles of freedom and to spread the ideals of democratic government at home and abroad.

X. It shall be the duty of every citizen to preserve an attitude of self-reliance, and to use all legitimate means to achieve financial independence and security; to practice thrift and economy in his own affairs and to require the same of local, state and federal government.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Combs and children of Dallas spent the New Year holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Whitworth.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Jetton, Jerry and Sheryl, took Debbie Geddie, who spent last week here, to her home in Dallas last Thursday and remained until Saturday for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Geddie. They also visited Mr. Jetton's mother, Mrs. Affie Jetton, in Waco Saturday night and Sunday.

Future Calf Crop Is Dependent Upon Present Management

Your 1960-61 beef calf crop may be affected by the management practices being used now, according to Uel D. Thompson, extension animal husbandman. Very few winter weeds, grasses and legumes had started growth prior to the early freezes this year. The husbandman said this created a situation not experienced every year.

The dry grasses killed by the freezes left cattle with little to graze except roughage. This caused cattle to lose weight rapidly due to a lack of proper nutrients not obtainable in the roughage.

Overcoming this situation and getting the most from dry pasture roughage means additional feed. Cattle need protein supplement now to keep them in good breeding and calving condition. Thompson pointed out that cows should be fed about two pounds of a protein supplement daily based on a 41 percent crude protein analysis.

In addition to the protein supplement, cattle should be allowed access to steamed bonemeal and salt at all times. He added that supplying minerals and protein supplement will take care of your animals' needs at this time.

Lynn Fore of Washington, D. C., visited his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Braly, during the holidays and all spent Christmas with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Fore, in Tullia.

Use Records For Planning Ahead

Were profits made from your farming or ranching operations in 1959? If improvement is needed, consider carefully your plans for the new year.

When good farm records are summarized they may reflect vital points of slack in the business, points out C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist. Some operators are using their financial records primarily for income tax reporting. Others are getting an "extra" dividend of stabilizing their future plans by study of all records. Records may be used somewhat as a mariner's compass to direct the future course of operations.

How may cost reductions be made? One example may be by study of the major item of operating costs — that of machinery and equipment, says the specialist. As mechanization and labor-saving practices are extended to more operations, ownership of some equipment items may become prohibitive for smaller farms. Volume of business is often insufficient to justify overall investment costs. Careful consideration should be given to service or joint ownership of equipment items if savings will result.

Similarly, such practices as the purchase of feed in bulk or during seasons of lowest prices may reduce costs in livestock operations. A small percentage saving on major, recurring costs items can boost profits materially.

Now is the time to review last year's business to plan adjustments prompted by the current outlook situation. Also, emphasizes Bates, consideration should be given to every opportunity for reducing operating costs per unit of output.

Use your farm records in discussing plans for 1960 operations if assistance is desired from county extension agents. Records, Bates adds, may be especially helpful where credit is needed to expand or adjust operations.

See your local county agricultural agent for assistance in record keeping and management problems. Where intensive management problems exist, your county agent has access to trained specialists in the field of management.

"Self Help" Urged On Income Returns

Taxpayer self-help will again be urged by Internal Revenue Service during the income tax filing period from January 1 to April 15, Clarence B. Dixon, Administrative Officer of the Wichita Falls, office, said today.

"Self-help," Mr. Dixon explained, "means that we ask the taxpayer to complete as much of his 1959 return as possible before asking our help. This saves the time of IRS people who, in turn, save taxpayers' money when interrupted from their routine duties of seeing that every taxpayer bears his fair share of the tax burden."

The Revenue representative revealed that many tax problems can be solved by studying the comprehensive instruction that accompany Federal income tax forms for 1959 or by telephoning

FARMING AROUND

By Mark Welsh

Some suspect we are getting smarter. During World War I, says Byron Shaw of USDA, our farm commodities were produced by 13 1/2 million workers. During World War II, 10 1/2 million workers produced our farm commodities and today our greatly increased population is supplied by only 7 1/2 million farm workers.

Want evidence of this smartness? Well, last year we produced 32% more corn on 17% less land than in 1939. In 20 years wheat yields have jumped from 740 million bushels to 940 million with about 10 million fewer acres planted. Cotton acreage has dropped 45% but we still produce 95% as much cotton. Our dairy cow population is about three million head lower, but each cow now produces upwards of a ton more milk per year; hens lay about a third more eggs and millions more hogs and beef cattle are produced on about the same amount of land that was used in 1939.

What happened? For one thing, we use more fertilizer, pay less tribute to weeds, insects and other pests. We breed better and more profitable livestock, poultry and crops. Because farmers are more efficient, men are released for work in factories, mills and industry and our country's strength and power continue to grow.

In short, all new wealth comes from the soil and a nation's strength is rooted in its earth. And, in America, it looks as if the farmers are doing their share.

Speaking of soil, our farm real estate was valued at a record high of $125.1 billion on March 1, 1959, for a gain of 8% in one year. Apparently a lot of folks think right highly of their dirt.

"Special taxpayer assistance day is every Monday, from 8:30 to 12:30. On that day," Mr. Dixon said, "we have a full crew aboard to give whatever individual or group help is needed."

Rhineland 4-H Club Has Meeting

The regular meeting of the Rhineland boy's 4-H club was held Wednesday morning, January 6, at 11:00 o'clock in the high school auditorium.

The president, David Albus, called the meeting to order. Marion Kuehler, secretary, called the roll and read the minutes of the previous meeting which were approved.

County agent, Troy Jones, gave an interesting talk on Quail management and passed out pamphlets to the members on how to preserve wildlife and on gun safety.

28 members attended the meeting which adjourned at 12 o'clock —Dwight Albus, reporter.
