Odd Bits Salvaged
By The Editor

One hot day during the first week of school, a youngster came into a local drug store.

"You people are sure lucky," he said. "You get to work in an air-conditioned store, and we have to work in a hot old school room."

We think he certainly would have agreed with us—that it's just too hot in August to hold school.

It appeared that way on September 2, too. That possibly was the hottest day of the year, and ex-students were holding their homecoming.

The front that cooled things off Sunday night brought school students some relief. But the irony of it was that Monday was a holiday!

A number of old timers were back for the homecoming. Among former teachers were Dr. and Mrs. J. Horace Bass and Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Goolsby. It seemed, though, that the homecoming was enjoyed most by those who have graduated in the past ten years. They came in greater numbers and had lots of fun, both at the school and at their class parties Saturday night.

It was a pleasing sight to see groups from in front of downtown store windows and study those pictures of former graduating classes, school groups, etc. Those photos held much interest for many visitors to our town for the homecoming, and when passing by, one could hear giggles and cackles from the groups as they recognized persons in those old photos.

At prior homecomings, those in charge have overestimated the crowds for Sunday's feed, then had to call for help to take care of expenses. Not so this year!

The group didn't want that to happen this year. So they estimated closely—too closely, in fact. The catering service ran out of food, and a few—not too many, though—did not get fed. Among them was the ex-students' president, who was on hand all the time, but too busy to take time out for food until it was too late. Some 410 were served, and that's quite a number.

Our guest, I. V. Cook, expressed displeasure with our paper, since we didn't go back far enough (1920) for him with the open house parties for classes. The planners, we surmise, thought anyone who attended school that far back was too old for partying until past midnight!

People generally don't like the new sales tax, which is the topic of discussion most everywhere. The main thing is to determine what things are taxable and what are exempt in many places of business. Most people have been unable to find the answers to their questions locally.

During the first day, we found ourselves collecting too little in taxes. We ran across a tax schedule in one of the daily papers giving the amount of tax to collect, ranging from 24 cents to $20.74. Thinking it would be a service to our merchants, we printed up a batch of cards with this schedule, and hurriedly distributed them about the square Saturday morning.

Salespeople told us Monday they were lifesavers during the busy Saturday, and were glad we had the idea.

We have quite a number of extra copies here at the office, and those whom we didn't see Saturday are welcome to one or two, or more of them.

The fellow down near Abilene who was able to close out his business rather than be worried with the tax had something on the majority of us who can't afford to.

This far in the tax gathering business, merchants don't only have to worry about collecting the tax and the bookkeeping involved, but they have to try to explain it to our bracero cotton pickers, who have a knack for not understanding. Unless one is versed in Spanish, that is quite a task. Maybe it will all "come out in the wash," however dirty the wash may be!

Haskell Man Named General Manager Of Water Authority At Recent Meeting

Reorganization of the board of directors in the North Central Texas Municipal Water Authority was perfected on Thursday, August 31, in a called meeting of the board held at Munday.

Of importance to the authority was the naming of R. W. Herrin of Haskell as general manager. Mr. Herrin has served as president of the board since its organization, but recently retired as one of the directors. He has been a consistent worker and booster for the Miller Creek Reservoir to supply water for the towns of Rule, Haskell, Munday and Goree, comprising the Authority.

L. B. Patterson of Munday was elected president of the board. Mr. Patterson has been a director on the board since it was organized. C. P. Baker is the other Munday director.

Wallace Wooten of Haskell is a new director, replacing Mr. Herrin.

Morris Niel of Rule was elected vice president, and Pete Beecher of Goree replaced Walter Coffman as secretary and treasurer. Mr. Coffman asked to be relieved of these duties, although he will continue as a director.

Mr. Beecher will also continue as tax assessor and collector for the Authority.

The board named T. W. Bullington of Munday as attorney for the Authority.

Former Munday Resident Dies At Lubbock Mon.

Mr. Hughes, who was reared in Munday, had been employed by Santa Fe Trailways in Lubbock for several years. Death was attributed to cancer.

Surviving him are his wife; one son and one daughter; a sister, Mrs. M. B. Caughran of Lubbock; his mother, Mrs. J. I. Hughes of Munday; two brothers, Wayne Hughes of Levelland and Elzie Hughes of Munday.

Funeral services were held from Trinity Baptist Church in Lubbock last Tuesday afternoon, with burial in a Lubbock cemetery.

Notes From Knox Farms, Ranches

By Jack Moore, Knox County Agent

Blasted Sorghums

A good many farmers in Knox County have been complaining the last two weeks about the blasted maize in their fields. Some of the farmers in the past have been blaming the wet or hot weather killing the bloom or pollen.

This year, the farmers noticed that the blasting was showing up about the time the grain sorghum was in the bloom. Upon careful examination of the fields, it has been definitely established that the grain sorghum midge is responsible for the damage. The midge is a small gnat-like insect that is about 1/12 of an inch long which has an orange body and clear wings. There is a small stinger on the tail that usually is sticking in an upward position. This insect is hard to control with insecticides and has been compared to the boll weevil because of its life cycle, destructive capability and the great difficulty in its control.

The adult fly lays an egg that takes about two days to hatch. The small pinkish maggot feeds on the inside of the grain for 9 to 11 days and then it pupates and emerges as an adult and the cycle is completed. It takes about 14 to 16 days for the cycle to complete its life.

Research indicates that midge can be controlled; however, it is important to remember that the adult can deposit eggs as the head emerges from the boot and continue on through the bloom stage. It appears that early planting and insecticide applications prior to infestation is the best method of control. Research in the Temple area indicates that midge do not affect sorghums planted before April 2. This year in the Knox County area, it appears that only sorghums that are at the present in the bloom stage and earlier have been affected.

Tax Applies To Times Subscriptions

A ruling has been made by officials that the new sales tax applies to newspaper subscriptions, effective September 1, and must be added to the subscription price.

All subscriptions to the Times within Knox County and surrounding area will be taxed four cents. Outside subscriptions but still within the state, will bear a five-cent tax. Papers mailed outside the state are not taxable.

Subscribers mailing their checks for subscriptions should add the necessary tax to their remittances.

Drouth Broken By 1.75-In. Rain

The dry spell of several weeks was broken last Sunday night by heavy rains over Knox County and a greater portion of the state, bringing plenty of moisture for preparing wheat land, but halting cotton harvest for several days.

The front blew in with strong winds and dust, and it appeared for a while that even the rainfall would be light. H. P. Hill, local U. S. Weather observer, reported Tuesday that a total of 1.75 inches fell in Munday.

Heavier rainfall was reported in various sections of the county, ranging from 2 inches to up toward 5 inches.

With many cotton fields white and ready for harvest, farmers were not particularly interested in rainfall at this time. Gins were halted in their operations until pickers could return to the fields. No reports as to damage to open cotton were obtained early this week.

The high winds whipped tree tops around, and a reported $2,000 damage was done to cotton warehouses in Munday. Some hail was reported at Knox City, and two twisters in the O'Brien vicinity did heavy damage to cotton warehouses in that town, while some homes were damaged.

Skies started clearing Monday afternoon, and soon activities will be resumed in the fields and at the gins.

Mr. and Mrs. David Robnett of Midland and Miss Carolyn Hobert of Dallas were guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chalmer Hobert, over the week end and attended the homecoming.

Mahlon Boggs, above, is reported resting well in the Presbyterian Hospital in Denver, Colo., after undergoing emergency surgery on Tuesday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Boggs left last Thursday for Denver to visit their daughter, Mrs. J. B. Walling, and family and he became suddenly ill while there.

Funeral Held Here Sunday For Mrs. Alex Jones

Mrs. Beulah Jones, 80, a former Munday resident, passed away at 6:45 a.m. Saturday in San Angelo, where she had lived for the past five years. She had been ill for several months.

Mrs. Jones was born April 2, 1881, in Comanche County. She married Alex Jones on January 7, 1905, and lived in Munday from 1905 until moving to San Angelo.

Mr. Jones, pioneer resident of this area, passed away in 1953.

Funeral services were held at 4 p.m. Sunday from the First Methodist Church in Munday with the pastor, Rev. Rex L. Mauldin, officiating. He was assisted by Rev. Robert L. Young, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Munday.

Burial was in Johnson Memorial Cemetery under the direction of McCauley Funeral Home. Serving as pallbearers were Clyde Yost, Nolan Phillips, Grady Phillips, Otis Vinson, Ralph Cypert and E. H. Nelson.

Survivors include one sister, Mrs. H. S. Phillips of San Angelo, and one brother, C. N. Jones of Lamesa.

County Approved For Blood Bank

A letter to Tom West of Benjamin, chairman of the Knox County Red Cross chapter, from James R. Mickey, assistant regional manager, American Red Cross in Wichita Falls, states that the Knox County chapter has been approved for the blood bank program.

"With exceptional pleasure I advise you that approval has been given your chapter to cooperate with the Wichita County Regional Blood Program," he said. "This marks the beginning of a challenge and of what we believe could well be the most satisfying endeavor your chapter has ever undertaken. With our congratulations go our good wishes for its success."

"Participation in a Blood Program constitutes a great deal of work on the part of many people—month in, month out. Your chapter is fortunate, however, in having available the assistance of capable personnel—Mr. Templeton, Mrs. Deaton, volunteer field consultant, and the staff of the Wichita County Regional Center. This office, too, is happy to assist whenever and wherever it can and we hope you will not hesitate to call upon us at any time."

Rochester Spoils Homecoming Plans For Moguls With 14 to 0 Victory

For several downs after taking the opening kickoff, it looked like the Munday Moguls were going to turn homecoming into a victory parade last Saturday night, but these plans were spoiled by a 14-0 upset at the hands of Rochester's Steers. Phil Simmons, who tallied both touchdowns for the visitors, led the Steers attack.

The Moguls took the opening kickoff on their 20 and mounted a drive that consumed 44 yards before a penalty put the clamps on it.

Jerry Meers, leading rusher for the Moguls with 76 yards in 11 carries, picked up 25 yards in the drive with a 15-yard penalty accounting for the bulk of the remaining yardage. An off-side penalty left the Moguls one yard shy of a first down at the Steers' 36.

The second time Rochester got the ball, Simmons slid around the

Don't Know About Rule's Bobcats

"We just don't know anything about the Rule team," Coach Wayne Bingham told members of the Lions Club last Tuesday. "They haven't played this season, and we've been unable to scout them. We'll be entering the game with little knowledge of their offensive or defensive plays."

"We know a number of their boys, and we know they have a rugged team. I believe the Moguls will be able to handle them."

The Moguls play the Rule Bobcats on the local field next Friday night. Coach Bingham said he believes the Moguls will be in better condition for this game than they were last Saturday night.

This is a game that will hold the interest of fans of this area, although it is a non-conference game, and a large crowd is expected.

God And Country Award Earned By Two Local Scouts

Two local Boy Scouts, Clyde Brunett and Bill Moore, were presented the coveted "God and Country Award" in Boy Scout work last Sunday.

The awards was a culmination of over a year of work, study and research work in the church. Some of the requirements included: research, perfect attendance in church activities, visitation of shut-ins, addition of one or more new members to Sunday School, etc.

The God and Country Award, one of the highest in Scouting, was presented by Rev. Rex L. Mauldin, pastor of the Munday Methodist Church, at the morning services last Sunday.

As each Scout received his award, he in turn presented a replica of the award to his mother.

Clyde is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Burnett, and Bill is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Moore, Jr. Both have been active in Munday Troop No. 76 for many years.

604 Register For 4th Homecoming

The largest attendance ever to celebrate homecoming for the Munday public school was recorded last week end as ex-students and teachers returned for the fourth homecoming of the schools.

Registration started at 2 p.m. Saturday and continued until 6 p.m., being interrupted at 4 p.m. for a concert by the Munday Mozul Band and a pep rally on the city hall lawn.

Many of the ex-students attended the Munday and Rochester game that evening, then various classes held their class parties, some visiting until well after midnight.

Visitors attended churches of their choice Sunday morning, and registration of late comers began at 11:30 a.m. The noon lunch was served by Underwood's Catering Service of Abilene. The lunch was enjoyed by some 411 visitors and townspeople. The crowd was larger than had been estimated, and the catering service ran out of food with approximately 10 people remaining to be fed.

Class meetings and election of class officers were held in the school building at 1:30 p.m., and general assembly began at 2 p.m. Invocation was given by Supt. Willis Apple, and John Phillips led the group in singing old familiar songs.

Charles Baker, president of the ex-students' association, presided over the business session which closed the week end activities. New officers were elected, as follows:

Jesse George Smith, president; Gene Roland Haynie, vice president, and Miss Leona Keel, secretary.

It was voted to hold the next homecoming on Labor Day week end of 1964.

During the afternoon entertainment was given by the Mogul stage band, and a girls' sextette from the high school chorus.

Of particular interest to this homecoming was the fact that registrants dated back further than at any other event. Two who attended the Munday schools in 1903 registered for the homecoming.

Farmers Favor Wheat Quotas

Texas wheat producers and those in the other 38 commercial wheat producing states voted on August 24 to continue marketing quotas on their 1962 wheat crops. In the nation, 79.4 percent of those voting favored quotas and in Texas, 78.9 per cent voted yes, says C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist. A two-thirds majority was needed to keep marketing quotas in effect, and to make operative the new wheat stabilization program.

Wheat producers will have to cut their acreage allotments by at least 10 per cent for 1962 and may, if they choose, take out another 30 per cent of their allotment, Bates says. Those who comply with their acreage allotments and conservation requirements will be eligible for the $2.00 per bushel price support and for wheat payments.

For the 10 per cent acreage cut, the producer will be paid at the local price support rate for 45 per cent of his normal yield. If additional acreage is diverted, payment will be based on 60 per cent of the adjusted yield per acre, Bates says.

Farmers can get up to half of their payments when they sign up for the wheat acreage diverted to conservation uses, according to Bates. The balance will be paid after the farm has been checked for compliance.

The Times has had a number of requests to print the names of ex-students who registered by classes. The task for those who had the records was too great to be completed in time for this week's paper, but it is hoped the list can be printed next week.

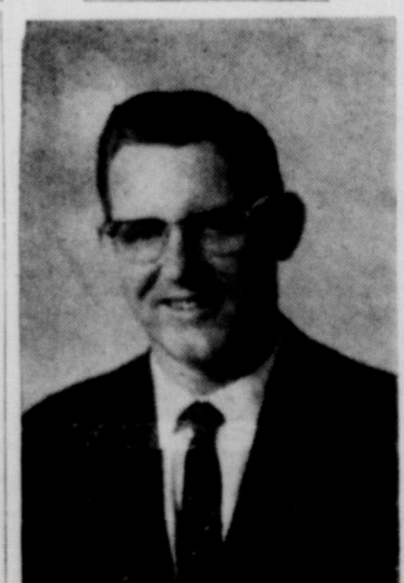

Mrs. Pat Lemley Receives Degree

Pat Elliott Lemley of Munday was among 51 persons receiving degrees from McMurry College at its annual summer commencement August 24. The program was held in Radford Memorial Auditorium with Dr. Woodrow W. Adeock, Abilene District Superintendent of the Methodist Church, as speaker.

Dr. Adeock and Dr. Harless L. McAlester, pastor of the First Methodist Church at Hobbs, N. M., were awarded honorary Doctor of Divinity Degrees at the Commencement program.

Ten of those receiving diplomas were awarded master of education degrees and 41 received bachelor degrees.

Mrs. Lemley is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Putnam, of Munday. While in McMurry she was a member of T. I. P., SNEA, Alpha Chi and Kappa Delta Pi. She received a Bachelor of Science Degree.

ONE FALSE STEP

There is a long-held fear that World War III might be set off by miscalculation—by some error of judgement on the part of an aggressor that could conceivably lead to the death of civilization as we understand it.

That danger was recently stressed by Lord Home, Britain's Foreign Secretary. Specifically, he said that a Russian false step in Berlin "could easily plunge Europe into war."

There is a chilling item in the July 31 issue of U. S. News and World Report. According to it, Soviet Ambassador Menshikov said, at a recent diplomatic reception: "In the final analysis, when the chips are down, the American people won't fight for Berlin."

That view—which has been held in some friendly circles, as well as unfriendly—has resulted, in part at least, from the air of indecision which has hung over Washington. Brave words have not been implemented by action. Now, however, a change seems to be taking place. It is being made clear that we will retreat no farther so far as Berlin is concerned.

There can be no doubt that this kind of resolve motivates the great majority of Americans. Let us hope that is understood everywhere. For that kind of understanding, in this age of unbelievable weapons, offers the last best hope of avoiding war.

MOST HOME ACCIDENTS AVOIDABLE

Home accidents, like other accidents, are fundamentally the result of inadequate knowledge, insufficient skill and faulty attitudes.

Most of the annual four million, or more deaths and injuries caused by home accidents can be prevented if we observe four rules:

1. Learn to recognize and understand the many hazards in the home.
2. Develop a sense of responsibility toward safeguarding ourselves and others against the possibility of home accidents.
3. Acquire the skills required to perform household tasks safely.
4. Acquire safe, orderly habits in all of our activities in the home.

Let us insure our own safety and the safety of our families and friends by observing these four simple rules of home safety.

HERBERT HOOVER'S FAITH

On August 10, Herbert Hoover celebrated his 87th birthday. He has lived longer than any President save John Adams. He is still vigorous, still hard at work on his writings.

In a news conference, as reported by the AP, he had some words of optimism to say. The American people, in his view, "are ready for any emergency on earth." They haven't grown soft and they are "as deeply patriotic as they've ever been."

The former President also said: "President Kennedy's courageous statement as to Berlin should carry conviction to the Russians." And he held out the hope that a solution to the Berlin problem may be found through negotiation.

Mr. Hoover has led a long and remarkably eventful life, and his faith in this country is undimmed. May that faith be justified in the future.

"The only disagreement between China and Russia is over which is the quickest way to kill us."—Rep. Judd (R-Minn.)

Chain Store Age reports that the food chains are building more stores in the West and South, fewer in New England and the West Central region. Shifts in population account for this. In a six-year period close to 12,000 stores have been scrapped, because of inadequate location or obsolescence.

Physicians in 48 states and the District of Columbia provided free medical care worth $657,535,000 in 1960, according to a survey by New Medical Matera. Treatment of private patients without charge forms the greatest portion of the typical physician's free services.

Ralph T. Moore writes, in Oregon Voter: "The subject of increased federal aid to education is the present source of much controversy in the Congress. And, few people stop to consider that the phrase itself is both fallacy and lacking in basic logic. For what is contemplated is actually a diffusion of public school costs that takes from certain States and gives to others in accord with the proposed formula. It is essentially a money matter, with education only incidental and wholly dependent upon the presumption that the bigger the spending the more the education, a pure fallacy too obvious to admit of argument."

"Taking the spending budget as a whole, more than enough could be saved to cover any new defense needs. At the same time, austerity should be applied to the illusion of artificially easy money; there should be no fear of making the proper monetary moves against inflation." . . . WHAT DOES THE BIBLE SAY?

MUNDAY CHURCH OF CHRIST
 Box 147 Phone 436-2421
 PAYNE HATTOX, Evangelist

"Thus it is written, and thus it behoved Christ to suffer, and to rise from the dead the third day: And that repentance and remission of sins should be preached in his name among all nations, beginning at Jerusalem" (Lk. 24:47-48). When this statement was made, Jesus had completed his work on earth. He had died on Calvary for the sins of the world, had been buried and raised from the dead. Shortly he was to ascend to the right hand of the Father in heaven. He directed his disciples to tarry in the city of Jerusalem until they were clothed with power from on high. According to Acts 1:8, he said, "Ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost parts of the earth."

The apostles did as they were instructed and remained in Jerusalem. True to his promise, Jesus sent the Holy Spirit upon them, and they began to preach the gospel of Christ for the first time. Salvation, or remission of sins, was preached in his name beginning in Jerusalem, just as he said it should be done.

At the close of the first gospel sermon many who heard were convinced, believed the gospel, and cried out unto Peter and the rest of the apostles, "Men and brethren what shall we do?" In Acts 2:38, Peter answered, saying, "Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost."

Were someone to come to us any time, believing and convicted, and ask, "Sir, what shall I do?" And if we should answer in the exact words of Peter: "Repent and be baptized in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins," would that be right? Could it possibly be wrong? Now, if that is right, would not any other answer necessarily be wrong? We assure you that if one does come and ask, "What shall I do," we shall give him the exact answer that Peter gave these people.

Plan Statewide Test of NEAR Warning Device

The first successful device for indoor warning of impending enemy attack, tornadoes, flash floods or other disasters will be tested on a large scale in Michigan by the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization.

OCDM Director Frank B. Ellis has announced that the National Emergency Alarm Repeater, or NEAR device, will be tried out on a statewide basis. Afterwards it is hoped to mass produce it for the American public.

THE RECEIVER plugs into ordinary house electrical outlets, and buzzes when a warning signal is sent out over electric lines. This would alert people to turn on their radios for emergency instructions.

Signal generators have been installed at Grand Rapids and Battle Creek, Mich., for more than a year for local tests already concluded successfully. Additional generators will be installed elsewhere in Michigan to operate the home devices for a statewide test.

The NEAR receivers will function only where power systems are equipped with the NEAR generators. From 400 to 600 generators in power systems could make the NEAR device usable throughout the whole country.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Comes With Proposal That The World's Crises Be Placed On A Quota Basis

Editors note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek has an odd notion this week, but there's nothing odd about that.

Dear editor:
I'm not telling anybody how to run a newspaper, but as a farmer who knows what it is to be a victim of over-production, at least somebody else's over-production, I would like to suggest to the newspapers of this country, especially the big city dailies, that the crisis market in this world is being swamped and if it keeps going like it has the past few months newspapers are either going to have more crisis news than they can handle or the people are going to get tired of reading about it.

In fact, after reading all the headlines about Berlin, Cuba, Brazil and, a few months back, the Congo, Egypt, and all those other crises which sounded world-shaking at the time but have now faded from memory, I have come to the conclusion that what the world needs is a crisis quota. Running a country is not much different from running a farm; very few people can do it successfully.

So, the world ought to be divided up into twelve zones, and only one zone allowed to have a crisis at a time, and that one limited to one month. Any time a crisis cant run its course in a month, somebody is just hogging the news. Thus we'd have only twelve a year, and never more than one at a time. You take a country whose crisis allotment comes in January, and it gets to itching to have one in November, it'll just have to wait. There's nothing worse or harder on newspaper readers than having two or three crisis at the same time, is on Washington to get enough officials to fly to them, or on the newspapers to find enough reporters to cover them all.

Oh, I know some people will say we could save money by having one diplomat attend to three or four crises on the same trip, but it's asking too much, he'll get home and start trying to remember how much money he promised which country. One crisis a month, twelve a year, ought to be the maximum. Otherwise the crisis business is going bankrupt. Over-production can play thunder with the crisis market the same as it can with us farmers, and everybody knows the world can't stand to be in the same shape farming's in.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Barley Program Details Given

More details on the 1962 winter barley feed grain program was announced today by Gaylon C. Scott, chairman, Knox County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

The Chairman explained that barley producers diverting a share of their acreage will receive payments for the diversion and they also will qualify for price support. At the same time, they will be making an important contribution to the Nation in adjusting grain supplies and reducing Government costs.

A barley producer can forego the diversion payments and still qualify for price support if he elects to devote the diverted acreage to one or more of these crops: Castor beans, guar, safflower, sunflower, or sesame. Adjustment in the diversion payment can be made if only a part of the diverted acreage is so used. Special program provisions enable growers of acceptable varieties of malting barley to qualify for price support without participating in the barley feed grain program.

Payments will be made to those barley growers who devote the diverted barley acreage to an approved conservation use. Such growers must also maintain an acreage in soil-conservation crops or practices, including summer fallow and idle cropland, equal to their 1959-60 average in such uses.

According to the Chairman, only those barley producers who participate in the program with at least 20-per cent diversion will be eligible for 1962 price support. Further, they will not be eligible for barley support if they exceed their corn and grain sorghum base acreages (1959-60) average. Support will be limited to the normal yield of their 1962 barley acreages. (Corn and grain sorghum producers who intend to plant barley this fall must not plant more than their base acreage of barley if they want to participate in the 1962 feed grain program and be eligible for price support on these two crops.) A producer cooperating in the program who has an interest in the barley, corn, or grain sorghum on another farm must not produce more acres of these crops in 1962 than the 1959-60 average on such other farms.

"Today Is The Pupil Of Yesterday"

"Miracle" drugs are not perfected overnight. In 1929, Dr. Alexander Fleming noted that Penicillium Notatum mould inhibited certain bacterial growth. It then took many more years to perfect it so that it could safely accomplish its wonderful work.

Millions of research dollars are spent on every new drug before it can be released for use. Often expected benefits do not occur and the money is entirely lost. Modern prescriptions can produce almost miraculous cures, but equally amazing is the fact that they cost so little for what they accomplish.

If an emergency should ever occur when you need a medicine after our pharmacy is closed, we will re-open our prescription department for you—no matter what the hour.
