Sen. George Moffett To Speak Here To Wichita Falls Man To Make Race For Kracker Krumb Gathering Of World War Veterans Mon. Congress When Frank Ikard Resigns Odd Bits Salvaged By The Editor

A batch of Texas editors lunched with President Kennedy at the White House last Friday. k-k

All of them seemed impressed with the President's grasp of problems and his ability to present them in understandable language, except one, E. M. (Tex) Dealey, publisher of the Dallas Morning News, said Kennedy did not tell him anything he didn't already know, and stressed that the President also did not make him a Democrat.

First to make an official pubic announcement of intention to run for the pending vacancy in Congress for this District is Joe Meissner, Jr., mayor pro-tem of Wichita Falls, Texas. Incumbent Frank Ikard is known to have accepted a position in private industry and his resignation is expected momentarily. Ikard is scheduled to begin his new duties on the first of the year, and the special election to name his successor is likely to fall in January, 1962.

Meissner, a native Texan has lived in Wichita Falls since 1926. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bailey Meissner of Wichita Falls and is Secretary-Treasurer of the Bailey Meissner Company and of Meissner Industrial Supply Company, dealers in plumbing fixtures and industrial equipment. He is a Marine Corps veteran of World War II and of the Korean Incident. He was educated in Wichita Falls schools and earned degree credits at Rice, University of Lousiana, Oklahoma A & M, and T. C. U. In his announcement he classi-

UNEMPLOYED TRASH BURNERS

Not so very long ago huge and busy trash burners, two or three stories high, adjoined the Jumber mills. They belched smoke and fire as already has sufficient service stations to meet the they disposed of the great amount of waste that resulted when trees were transformed into boards and shingles and ther such natural products.

It's very different now. The burners are pretty generally if not entirely idle. They're unemployed. For nowadays almost nothing is wasted. Almost everything that comes from a treeall the bits and pieces, all the odds and ends-has a valuable use.

This is the fruit of research and experimentation. More than 4,000 products are made from wood, wood fibers, and wood chemicals. A few of them: Cellophane, plastics, insulation, lacquers, photograph film, shotgun shells, fabrics for clothing. furniture, boxes and cartons.

It's analogous to the old saying that packers use all of the pig but the squeal. The tree that once was part of a forest serves us every day in an almost incredible variety of ways. And we're roing to keep on having forests, due to modern | war history." This is the conclusion drawn . . . To understate the case, our government has its hands full in doing what only government can do-the overriding need being to create and mainmin a military strength that will deter any potental aggressor, or, if worst comes to worst, provide overwhelming retaliatory power.

gan town of 31,000 population turned down a request of an oil company to construct two service stations. The reason given was that the city need.

Here is a unique precedent which, if applied down the line, could produce some remarkable results. Entirely aside from the dubious legality of the council's decision, if municipal officials are to decide how many service stations a community should have, they must also be entitled to decide on the number of retail stores, insurance agencies, newspapers, doctors and so on ad infinitum.

The point is simply this: Should bureaucrats determine the extent of the goods and services available-or should business people and their customers? Putting it another way, who's bosspublic servants or the public?

BROKEN BOTTLES: "TRIPLE THREAT" ON OUR HIGHWAYS A triple threat on the football field is fine, but a triple threat on the highway spells trouble. Broken bottles are the "triple threat" of our highways. They are accident hazards to traffic; they injure people who step on them; they start costly and dangerous roadside grass fires. The dangers of the triple threat increase during the football season. The Texas Highway Department asks Texas travelers to dispose of bottles in proper containers. Help keep the "triple threat" on the gridiron—not on the highway.

Veterans Day, November 11, has for the past several years served as a day of commemoration for the veterans of all American Wars. This observsoldiers, sailors and marines who Raynes. fought and died in World War I.

Texas members of the Veterans of World War I of the U.S.A. are sponsoring World War I Veterans Week beginning November 11. The observance begins on the 43rd anniversary of the signing of the Armistice which ended hostilities between Germany and the Allies on November 11, 1918. On November 12 at 1:30 p.m., a World War I Memorial Monument will be unveiled on the State Capitol grounds in Austin.

It is fitting that Texans, in the week beginning with Veterans Day, 1961, remember the sacrifices of those who took up arms in the cause of democracy and freedom in World War I.

THEREFORE, I. as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate the week beginning November 11. 1961 as WORLD WAR I VETER. ANS WEEK in Texas, commemorating the 43rd anniversary of the Armistice and in tribute to the Texas veterans of the first World War.

In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 16th day of October, 1961, Signed, PRICE DANIEL, Governor of Texas.

tants in Texas are making a con-certed effort in many sections of the state to get all the high school and college students trained in how to prepare their income tax returns. Internal Revenue Service prepares an excel lent course, called "Teaching Taxes," that can be used by teachers from one day to three weeks time in training students. Thousands of Texas teachers and more than 150,000 students are receiving this training each year. The Certified Public Accountants, however, are asking the principals to provide the income tax training for all their students. The CPAs believe (based on their professional experience in preparing tax returns) that every high school graduate needs this fundamental training in our American way of life. The students will be paying taxes for the rest of their lives and they should know how to keep records and how to prepare their income tax return.

Change In Ownership!

We are happy to return to Munday and to announce that we have purchased Joe's Grocery and Station, located on Highway 222, west of town.

We will operate the store under the firm name of Hallmark's Grocery, and took the business over Tuesday morning.

We plan to do some painting and remodeling of the store, making it an attractive place for you to trade.

We are also in the process of completely restocking the store with quality groceries and will have a complete stock in a few days.

We solicit the patronage of everyone in this area, especially former customers of Joe's Grocery. You can be assured of getting quality groceries at reasonable prices when you trade here.

We will be closed on Sundays.

I replied, "Because of our long friendship, I'll try to persuade them to do it."

So I strolled into the office and asked Lou Wolfson and Lou Epstein if fthey had made a deal and when they said they hadn't, I remarked, in a casual tone, "I can get you a dandy."

"How much?" "You pay for a banner to go on it.

They yelled for Joe and said, 'You're supposed to be a stemwinder but you haven't been able to buy a car and Boyce has got us a car for nothing!"

The referendum on marketing quotas is to be held December 12th, and at least two-thirds of the upland cotton producers voting must approve them if they are to be effective.

Based on recent planting and yield trends, the 1962 allotment is expected to produce about as much cotton as will be used in the 1962-63 season, leaving the carryover on August 1, 1963 at about the same level as the carryover for August 1, 1962.

The national acreage allotment of Munday for C.R.O.P. for 1962-crop upland cotton will be apportioned to states, state State Headquarters in Austin, allotments to counties, and the Texas.
