Odd Bits Salvaged
By The Editor

Even the "higher-ups" get their wires crossed sometimes.

As we were getting ready to depart for Wichita Falls last Thursday to attend the district bond meeting, we told the Mrs.: "We gotta go hob-nob around with Ed Gossett for a while."

We accompanied W. E. Braly, M. L. Wiggins and J. Weldon Smith to the meeting and rubbed shoulders with more bankers than we'd seen at one time since attending the last bankers' meeting held in Munday. It appears that bankers are depended upon more than any professional people to put the U. S. Savings Bond program over. That is, we believe, as it should be; anyway, they're getting the job done in lots of counties.

We arrived at the meeting place, but didn't see Mr. Gossett. Time came for serving dinner, and we still hadn't spotted him. We thought maybe we hadn't seen him in so long we didn't recognize him. As the meeting progressed, the truth came out.

Mr. Gossett had been expected until 4 p.m. around 7:30 a call was placed to his home address in Dallas, where the caller talked to Mr. Gossett. He had marked the meeting on his calendar for Friday night, instead of Thursday, and there he was at home when the meeting was about to start. We imagine Mr. Gossett's face was as red as ours is when we make "a lulu!"

Earl Sargent, whose agricultural program "Sarg Speaks" comes on twice over the radio before we complete breakfast and get off to work, was there. Friday morning, he commented on attending the bond meeting and named some of "the notables" who were there. He mentioned both Mr. Braly and Mr. Smith, and the wife commented on the fact that we and Moulton were not mentioned. As a means of squaring oneself, and Moulton, with the wives, we offered to sign an affidavit that Wiggins was there if he'd reciprocate in a like manner in our direction!

The slogan of the new 1962 bond drive is: "Let Freedom Ring." Although this is to be the most intensified bond drive since World War II, it was announced by J. C. Porter, district chairman, that the quotas of counties in this area would remain the same as in 1961.

Last year, Knox County's quota was $200,000, and people of the county purchased a total of 107.8 per cent, thus going over the quota. In recognition of this feat, Mr. Braly accepted an award from the U. S. Treasury Department. Mr. Braly commented to us that the award was not for what he did "but for what the people of Knox County did" by purchasing bonds.

Jesse L. Adams Jr., state director, cited the great part savings bonds play in the right of freedom against communism and said "the one way all of us can fight communism is with bonds." Each bond purchase will, in effect, ring that old Liberty Bell of Freedom, if it were allowed to ring.

As part of the drive, Adams said, over 2,100 advertisements have been donated by Texas newspapers for a total of more than 200,000 copies than any other time since World War II. The big push will be during May and June; but, shucks, you can buy a savings bond any day in the week, except perhaps Sunday.

And speaking of advertising, which is a good subject, we must put in the little ditty we ran across while looking through last Sunday's papers. "Trying to operate your business without advertising is like winking at a girl in the dark. You may know what you're doing, but no one else does."

The irony of last Saturday's special election is that the winner must turn right around and file for, and campaign for, election to a regular term as representative — two campaigns for the same office in short order.

And if you're planning to run for office this year — better hurry! You can't bicker about it much longer. Monday, February 5, is the deadline for filing, you know!

Architect, Officials Meet Friday On Revision Of Plans For Hospital Work

E. T. Wilson and Bob Bigley of the architectural firm of Wilson, Patterson, Dunlap and Epperly of Fort Worth met with members of the hospital board and Commissioners Court at the Knox County Hospital last Friday at 1 p.m. to discuss revision of plans for the new hospital addition.

The architect, Mr. Bigley, expects to have the revised plans ready for inspection, or approval, within a few days.

The change in plans for the proposed new addition to the hospital is expected to provide additional rooms as well as cut down on the number of hospital personnel for operating the enlarged facilities.

Sketch of the new plans calls for the addition of a new wing with possibly 10 or 11 additional rooms, installation of several baths, improving the east wing of the hospital, enlarging the upstairs operating room and bringing it up to state's requirements, modern kitchen facilities, installation of a new elevator to replace the dilapidated one, etc.

The group, which also included Miss Beulah Sanders, hospital superintendent, spent better than two hours discussing the plans and determining what would be the most practical for the amount of money spent.

Cost of the new addition, plus a complete renovating of all present buildings is estimated to run between $100,000 and $125,000.

When plans are finally approved, a petition for a bond election for the amount necessary will be circulated. If enough voters sign the petition, then an election can be called.

Voters of the county, if present plans materialize, will also be asked to pass on bonds of approximately $60,000 to renovate and repair the county courthouse. This is also deemed necessary in order to preserve the present structure and make it more desirable for operation of the county's affairs.

Notes From Knox Farms, Ranches

By Jack Moore, Knox County Agent

4 Point Soil Fertility Program
Members of the Knox County 4 point Soil Fertility Committee met in a planning meeting that was held Monday in Knox City.

Committee members present mapped out plans for a program that is aimed to benefit the Knox County area farmers and ranchers. The committee plans to work in close cooperation with the cotton and crops committees of the program building committee in developing demonstrations that can be carried out in the county.

The program's four points are: 1. Fertility management; 2. Soil and water management; 3. Soil ent production for net return; and 4. quality harvest and marketing.

The program as outlined by the committee will consist of increased emphasis on soil sampling and application of fertilizers and the use of soil building crops and practices; three cotton variety demonstrations and 8 cotton fertilizer demonstrations along with several cotton fallowing gear and bur demonstrations.

There will be 6 grain sorghum variety demonstrations and two forage sorghum demonstrations; also, it is planned to have numerous small grain variety demonstrations and fertilizer demonstrations. The committee plans to advertise the locations of these demonstration plots and encourage every farmer and rancher in the county to visit these locations. The committee plans to discuss in future planning meetings tours and other special meetings.

Committee members are: W. M. Ford, James Smith, Fuller Shannon, John Crowner, Leon Burkham, Claude Reed, Charlie Groves, Lester Hickman, Orvil Burgess, Ted Russell, J. T. Murdock and M. L. Wiggins.

Guest speakers at the First Baptist Church next Sunday will be Charles Elliott of Abilene and Tommy Harper.

Charles, formerly of Munday, will bring the morning message at 11 o'clock. He is a junior ministerial student at Hardin-Simmons University.

The evening message at 7 o'clock will be brought by Mr. Harper, local business man and layman in the church. He is also vice president of the Baptist Association Brotherhood.

These men will be speaking in the absence of the pastor, Rev. Robert Young, who is in a revival at Lorain, Ohio. The public has a cordial invitation to attend these services.

67 Pints Given To Bloodmobile At Rhineland

The Red Cross Bloodmobile collected a total of 67 pints of blood last Thursday during a six-hour stand at Rhineland. The community turned out in strong support of the regional blood program, sponsored at Rhineland by the Knights of Columbus.

Cooperating in this collection visit were the residents of the area including Rhineland, Benjamin, Truscott, Gilliland, and Vera.

Mrs. C. J. Albus served as community blood program chairman. Recruitment chairman was James Albus assisted by Dan Albus, Louis Redder, Leo Fetsch and A. C. Michalik.

Outstanding among the donors were five out of six members of the Rhineland High School senior class and their school principal. The sixth class member tried to donate but was four pounds short of the minimum weight of 110 pounds.

Those donating were Glynda Herring, David Albus, Gifford W. Moore, Anton Friske and Lyndon Moore and the principal, George Petrus.

Chairmen of communities cooperating with Rhineland in the blood project were Mrs. Collins Moorhouse, Benjamin; Mrs. J. B. Eubanks, Truscott; Mrs. Clellan Russell, Vera; and L. D. Welch, Gilliland.

Among the volunteer registered nurses assisting the blood bank staff were Mrs. Joe Reeder Jr., Mrs. T. R. Campbell, Mrs. Alton Fitzgerald, Mrs. Charles Markward, and Miss Beulah Sanders, Knox County hospital administrator, all from Knox City; Mrs. Jean Smith, Munday; Mrs. M. H. Hicks, Rochester and Mrs. Louis Adams, Wichita Falls.

Knox County physicians visiting the collection center were Dr. C. G. Markward, Knox City, blood program chairman for Knox County; Dr. David Eiland and Dr. R. L. Newsom, Munday; and Dr. T. P. Frizzell, Knox City.

Wives of Knights of Columbus members and others who registered donors and served refreshments included Mrs. Everett Kuehler, Mrs. W. H. Billingshausen, Mrs. John Ed Wilde, Mrs. V. F. Albus, Mrs. Robert Hertel, Mrs. James Albus, Mrs. Marvin Zeisel, Mrs. A. M. Moore Jr., and Mrs. Leo Fetsch.

The next bloodmobile visit to Rhineland is scheduled for January 24, 1962. Mrs. C. J. Albus, stated.

Students making the third six weeks honor roll in Munday Junior High School were Connie Bellinghausen, Johnny Stodghill, Paula Thompson, Donnie Voss, Becky Duncan, Janet Bullington, Clyde Burnett, Frances Reneau and Bonner Bowden.

Students making the mid term honor roll with an average of 90 or above were Connie Bellinghausen, Jan Myers, Johnny Stodghill, Marsha Moore, Janet Bullington, Donnie Voss, Dickie Walling, Bonner Bowden, Clyde Burnett and Frances Reneau.

And the tears flowed, but they were tears of joy, when Mary Hill received the Hi-Fi record player from her friends and well wishers in Munday. In a somewhat tearful voice she exclaimed "That's the prettiest thing I ever saw" and "You mean my friends did this for me?"

Friends of Mrs. Hill, finding out that she had been wanting a record player, decided to pool their money instead of sending flowers and small gifts and buy her one. The response was wonderful, and in no time at all she had her record player. She stated that she would never be able to tell the people how much she appreciated their thoughtfulness.

Mrs. Hill, who suffered injuries in a recent car accident, is reported to be doing wonderful and expects to be released from the Baylor County Hospital in Seymour this week.

Braly Receives Award For Bond Sales Thursday

W. E. Braly, chairman of Knox County's U. S. Savings Bonds Program, was presented an award by J. C. Porter of Wichita Falls, district chairman, for having placed Knox County over its goal in the 1961 program.

The award was presented, along with others, at a district meeting at the Kemp Hotel in Wichita Falls last Thursday night, in which plans for a most intensified bond drive for 1962 were outlined.

The big bond drive will get under way in May and June and will represent the greatest single effort to sell bonds since the last world war. Plans were outlined by Jesse L. Adams, Jr., state director of the program for the Treasury Department. He opened his address with President Kennedy's quotation, "Ask not what your country can do for you, but what you can do for your country."

He cited the great part savings bonds play in the fight of freedom against communism and noted, "The one way all of us can fight communism is with bonds."

Also attending the meeting from Munday were J. Weldon Smith, M. L. Wiggins and Aaron Edgar.

Ford was the top county, selling 161.5 per cent of its goal, followed by Throckmorton, 143.9; Baylor, 140.2; Hartleman, 131.5; Young, 109.3; Archer, 108.7, and Knox, 107.8.

Other counties and their sales in the district were Clay, 97.8; Wichita, 89.4; Montague, 87.1, and Wilbarger, 85 per cent.

During the year, the entire district sold $4,878,334 worth of savings bonds, or 98.2 per cent of its goal of $4,970,000.

IN THE AMERICAN TRADITION

While the world is being bombarded with fantastic claims about communist accomplishments, and Russia's ability to wipe out the human race, it is refreshing to read the following constructive remarks by Burt S. Watson, chairman of Cities Service:

"It is in the American tradition not to be satisfied with less than maximum achievement . . . At the same time, it is well to remember that economic progress is never one of uninterrupted flight forward. Rather it is the sum total of advances, pauses, and even some slipping back.

"Since the turn of the century, the United States has experienced a financial panic (1907); a stock market crash (1929); a subsequent 'depression'; and, along the line, less violent reversals generally styled 'recessions'. In this period of time, however, living standards reached the highest levels ever achieved . . .

"Three out of every five American families have become owners of their own homes, compared to one in three in 1900. Far better educational opportunities are being offered to American young people . . . (and there are) seven times as many college graduates.

"So great has been our agricultural and industrial advance that our productive capacities . . . are producing one-third of the world's goods.

"We have the natural resources needed for a bigger job. We have surplus industrial capacities. We have . . . trained manpower. We will do this bigger job if, in work and sacrifice, we . . . meet every challenge with faith in America. As for anyone who finds himself faltering in that faith, let him look . . . at the record."

RECORD OF ACHIEVEMENT

The year that recently closed was a year of steady progress in medical research and in clinical medicine. That is the gist of a poll of deans of medical schools which was made by the American Medical Association.

Here are a few highlights which the deans noted: Rapidly expanding knowledge in medical genetics, so important that the time is now approaching when many very serious human diseases may be eliminated entirely; new forward strides in the search for drugs that will cure or prevent cancer; development and discovery of new pharmaceuticals, particularly the new live polio vaccine, the measles vaccine, and synthetic penicillin; important new knowledge about hepatitis which may eventually lead to a vaccine against the one remaining epidemic disease which is still increasing in the United States; progress in the application of electronics and computers to medicine, a further bringing together of machinery and equipment, skills and techniques, men, money and methods to the benefit of mankind.

So the story goes—a story which brings new hope and health to legions of people. It is a story of medical achievement, in all its many and varied branches, under a free system. Who can say, with reason or justice, that this country needs, wants, or can afford socialized or government dominated medicine?

A BALANCED BUDGET?

The President's proposed federal budget for the fiscal year beginning next July will be balanced. And that, of course, is good news.

At the same time certain reservations need to be registered. For one thing, this budget looks a year-and-a-half ahead—and enormous changes, which no man can now anticipate, can take place in that length of time.

For another, the revenue picture the budget presents is based on the assumption that profits and incomes will be much higher than in the immediate past, and that, consequently, government gains have been sadly wrong on many an occasion.

To come to the point: Balanced budget or no balanced budget, one of the greatest needs of our time is for the government to reduce or eliminate every expense possible. It's got more than enough to do in handling the affairs and problems with which only government can deal.

An event designed to change the image of atomic energy from that of a force of destruction to that of a benefactor of mankind will be held in New York June 4-7. Known as the 1962 Nuclear Congress and International Atomic Exposition, it will be the largest demonstration ever of atomic energy by the nations and industries of the free world.

An abnormal brain pattern has been found among a significant number of adolescents who commit murder and other acts of violence, according to a psychiatrist writing in the Archives of General Psychiatry, an American Medical Association publication. While the exact role of this organic factor has not been determined, he says, chance to the occurrence of aggression and violence the phenomena "is linked far more than by children and adolescents."

CHURCH OF CHRIST

GOREE, TEXAS

That For Which We Stand

1. We stand for the Bible as God gave it, and hold that it is the only divinely inspired book in the world (2 Tim. 3:16-17). We uphold its perfection. We maintain that only what is taught in the Bible is right (Acts 17:11). We maintain that it can be understood, and that it never contradicts itself, for it came from God.

We stand therefore against any idea or nation that is contrary to the Bible. Conscience is not a safe guide (Jer. 10:23). Human opinion must never be exalted above what God has said. We oppose and deny any thing and everything that cannot be proved by the Bible, since the Bible contains the "Perfect law of liberty." (Ja. 1:25). Woe be unto any man that will change "add to," or "take from" the Bible (Rev. 22:18-19).

2. We stand for the religion of Christ as a perfect and final religion. Christ is its "Author and finisher." Heb. 12:2, and no man can improve upon it by writing their own creeds or manuals. Christianity, as Jesus gave it, is the only true religion.

We stand against any counterfeit or imitation of the religion of Christ. A religion which demands less than Christ demanded, is a false religion. Any hope of heaven, built on any thing else than what Christ said, is an empty hope (Matt. 7:24-27).

3. We stand for the gospel that Jesus gave (Mark 16:15-16). This gospel has power to save the lost sinner (Rom. 1:16). And it is "able to save" (James 1:21-22). Those who refuse to obey this gospel will be lost (2 Thess. 1:7-9).

We stand against the "doctrines of men," Matt. 15:9 and we warn all men that there is no other gospel (Gal. 1:8-9). To follow another means to leave God (2 Jno. 9), and to reject Christ "Why call ye me, Lord, Lord, and do not the things I say" (Luke 6:46).

Rhineland School News

Rhineland High School Home Ec Class, having completed the study of breakfast, dinner and basic supper dishes, is preparing a series of exotic foreign dishes suitable for supper. The girls divided into groups to decide upon recipes. The first main dish, Chow Mein, was prepared and served by Sharon Birkenfeld and Dorothy Edrington. A side dish of French-fries, and carrot sticks was served by Betty Herring and Susan Kuehler. The class agreed the food was most enjoyable and all are looking forward to the next foreign recipe, an Italian main dish.—Susan Kuehler

Points mounted up for both teams and enthusiasm rose even higher last Friday night when the RHS Rangers and Rangerettes hosted Dunbar Cagers in thrilling basketball action. Rangerettes tallied 41 points to the Dunbar girls' 50. Janice Kuehler and Jean Boozer netted 20 and 27 points for their teams, respectively.

In boys' action the Rangers were also defeated. Gifford Wilde made 26 points for his team, and Warren Mackey meshed 27 for Dunbar.—Velma Bellinghausen silk illusion was caught to a coronet of seed pearls accented with larger pearls and aurora borealis stones. She carried a bouquet of white roses and frenched carnations atop a white Bible.

Rites read Sunday afternoon at 3:30 in Munday Church of Christ united in marriage Susan John Rayburn and Garry Elree Hardin.

The bride's attendants' dresses of white sculptured taffeta were fashioned with moulded midriffs and bateau necklines. They wore brief veils of layered tulle caught to pearlized rose wreaths, and each carried a long-stemmed white blossom.

A reception at the church followed the ceremony. In the houseparty were Mmes. Wallace Reid, Clyde Yost, Sargent Lowe, Donald Hobert, Chancey Hobert, Chancey Hobert and Clyde Beck of Vera, and Shirley McCarty and Neva Morgan, Linda Riddle of Seymour registered guests.

JUST ONE YEAR OF SCHOOL

Lincoln Educated Himself

If Abe Lincoln were a boy today, most of us would despair of his future. He'd be a first-rate example of an "under-privileged boy who never had a chance."

Amazingly enough, the man who became 16th President of the United States and a legend in his own lifetime never had more than a year of formal schooling. All that he learned was self-taught, with the help of borrowed or secondhand books and later, as a young lawyer, The Encyclopedia Americana.

Young Abe's first encounter with learning came early, when he lived in Knob Creek, Kentucky. There his untutored father occasionally permitted Abe to leave his chores to attend a log schoolhouse two miles away.

Lincoln's next experience with school came in 1819. Then ten years old, he got enough schooling to be able, as he said later, "to read, write and cipher to the Rule of Three." This marked the end of his formal education—a total of less than a year.

Scholars, amazed at Lincoln's erudition, have probed his reading. It is known that he read Robinson Crusoe, Pilgrim's Progress, Aesop's Fables and other books still popular with boys today. Later in his twenties, he turned to Shakespeare and Robert Burns.

In 1836, after studying law at night, Lincoln passed his exams, but by today's standards he was still an uneducated man. It was not until later that his education matured, to give him the knowledge and wisdom that eventually brought him to the presidency.

In 1848, Lincoln was disheartened about his political future. He devoted himself to his law practice and to study. Anxious to broaden his vision, he bought a set of The Encyclopedia Amer- icana for his library. This first and uniquely American encyclopedia, issued in 1829, was already phenomenally successful. Recognizing its value, he ranged eagerly through its many volumes, whose pages contained the knowledge that he needed for his future.

The campaigns of the late 1850's, in which he participated, demonstrated the new authority and intellectual stature that Lincoln had gained.

The 30 centuries of wisdom contained in his set of The Encyclopedia Americana gave a chance to a poor boy who, some thought, "would never amount to anything."

This invaluable reference work, which has grown from Lincoln's 14-volume set to today's 30-volumes, is now revised annually, and continues to serve as a major educational help to millions of Americans.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Claims Canada Has Worst Foreign Policy—It's Those Canadian Cold Fronts

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek discusses foreign policy this week, or cold weather, it's hard to tell which.

J. A.

Dear editor: People are always talking about the United States' foreign policy, especially when they can't figure out the answers to all our domestic problems, but as far as I'm concerned the country with the worst foreign policy on earth is Canada.

It's those Canadian cold fronts Canada is always pushing down on the United States, that's what I'm talking about.

When the forecast announces a Canadian front is heading this way, you can expect the worst. I know we can produce some cold spells on our own, a low can develop in one part of the country and sweep cold air down on another, or however it works, but when it comes to the really jolting cold waves, Canada has us beat. There's a weather gap between our cold and Canada's that makes the missile gap look tame.

In fact, so many cold fronts have been coming out of Canada this winter you'd think we'd been sending foreign aid up there and missed our December installment.

Speaking of foreign policy, non-weather variety, there's one thing that has been puzzling me for a long time. Washington experts are always worrying about how a course of action will affect some foreign country. "What will they think of us in Latin America if we do this or that?" they ask. Or, "How will this affect South Africa's opinion of us? We can't afford to make them mad at us."

Well, this is all fine and good, but what I'd like to know is: does any other country on earth ever stop to ask how its course of action will affect the United States? How is it that we can't afford to make them mad, but they can all afford to make us mad? Isn't there just one country in the world which occasionally sits down and ponders how it's getting along with us? You mean to say the friendship between the United States and the rest of the world is 100 percent one-sided? I wish you'd use your influence if you haven't mislaid it somewhere on your desk to start a world-wide search for just one country which wakes up some mornings wondering how it's getting along with the United States. If you find one, let me know, and we'll take up a collection to send somebody there to get acquainted. Meanwhile, I won't hold up my farm work while waiting. I have plenty of other reasons for holding that up.

He can tell you about the farm building plan service available from Texas A&M, and he can show you what plans are available. Proper planning and construction can make your proposed building much more useful and efficient.

CARD OF THANKS

May I express my humble thanks to all my friends who have been so nice to me since my accident. The visits, flowers, cards, calls and gifts were appreciated. My surprise equalled my gratitude for all of you who contributed for my record player. Many, many thanks for every thing. May God bless each of you.
