THE FOUNDATION

The new president of the Curtis Publishing Company, which owns the Saturday Evening Post among other magazines of great circulation, recently described that company's policy. It is, he said, to become "the voice and conscience of the competitive-enterprise system, which is the foundation of a progressive economy and a democratic way of life."

An editorial in the Post observes: "The efficacy of competitive enterprise has been demonstrated at home and abroad. The Communists have trumpeted the 'end of the class struggle' and the achievement of a 'workers' paradise' on earth. In actual experience they are unable to provide their people with enough to eat."

The Post, needless to say, is not blind to the human problems of the time. It knows that the nation cannot stand still, and that government must perform duties that, as we attempt to solve our diverse problems, we do no destroy or undermine the competitive enterprise system which is the root source of our prosperity, our strength, and our fundamental freedoms.

"Jane's Fighting Ships," the London-published standard authority on world navies, says in a new edition that the U. S. fleet comprises "the most imposing array of warships the world has ever known in peacetime." The Soviet Union has concentrated on submarines and has many more than we. However, Jane's reports that the modern U. S. undersea craft pack the greater punch. As for the British Navy, that once dominated the oceans of the world, Jane's finds that it may be dropping "to the status of a second-class naval power."

On January 1, Social Security taxes will rise once more. Both employees and employers will pay at the rate of three and five eighths per cent on earnings to $4800. The self-employed rate will be 5.4 per cent on earnings to that figure. Additional increases are scheduled, by law, for 1966 and 1968.

WAIT AND SEE

The American motorist got one break during 1962, the American Petroleum Institute reports.

This was the first year in 17 years in which there were no increases in state gasoline taxes. From 1945 clear through 1961 there was at least one state gas tax increase per annum. All told, during that period, motorists were hit with 86 separate gasoline tax increases in the various states, as well as with three increases in the federal gas tax.

The Institute finds that gasoline taxes add an incredible $6 billion a year to the cost of driving. On the average, they amount to 50 per cent of the basic price of the fuel itself. Extreme luxuries, much less a basic necessity, don't bear sales or excise taxes of such a weight.

A word of warning is in order here. The fact that there was no gas tax increase in 1962 does not mean that a safe and sure precedent has been established. As sure as God made little apples, proposals will be made for further tax increases in a number of the states. Taxpayers must continue to keep their eyes open, adopt an attitude of watchful waiting—and make themselves heard when and if the need arises.

A recent Gallup poll reports that a great majority of Americans approve a plan for establishing an annual National Honors List in this country, comparable to the Queen's Birthday List in England. It would be a means of recognizing U. S. citizens who have made outstanding contributions in the various phases of our national life. According to Dr. Gallup, 70 per cent of those polled consider this a good idea as against only 11 per cent saying No, and 19 per cent holding no opinion.

Parade Magazine quotes the Public Health Service as saying it's wise to get re-vaccinated for smallpox every three years. There have been a number of smallpox scares in this country during the past year.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

GOREE, TEXAS

Sin Of Washing Hands

Did you know that our Lord presents as a sin even as simple and harmless act of washing hands before eating, when such an act is done as worship? The Spirit of Christ does not tolerate addition or subtraction to or from God's word and the worship authorized by him. Rather, He declares that such "are blind guides. And if the blind lead the blind both shall fall into the pit." (Matt. 15:14). "Every plant which my heavenly Father hath not planted shall be rooted up." He has warned. Even the harmless act of washing your hands before eating, which, of course, is a commendable act, is a sin before God if it is done as an act of worship (Mk. 7:25). Then how true it must be that God will not permit any act or practice is worship which He has not divinely appointed and revealed to us in His word.

Love And Obedience

Jesus said, Ye are my friends, if you do the things which I command you" (Jno. 15:14). Again, he said "If you love me you will keep my commandments" (Jno. 14:15). The apostle John, guided by the Holy Spirit, said, "This is the love of God, that you keep his commandments." (1 Jno. 5:3). Our love for God is determined by our obedience to His word. Surely, God refuses to consider one as loving him who does not faithfully and sincerely refuse any and every act of service and worship, not commanded by God. A profession of love to God, without faithful obedience to His word, is pronounced by our Lord as hypocrisy.

JURY DUTY

Jury duty is an experience everybody ought to have.

In a criminal case twelve jurors have a duty to do justice as each one sees it, and yet be unanimous. In most trials both sides have much to say, and the evidence is conflicting. The twelve jurors vary in their ability, temperament, character, education, and their experience in the world, and in the question at stake.

Yet a jury made up of both sexes, with wide age and educational differences, jobs and origins must all come up with the same verdict. Upon their verdict much depends—the life or liberty of others, and the public good. So it may take them days of talking among themselves, all to agree.

Jury duty calls for insight, common sense, courage, tact, fairmindedness, patience, (especially toward the jurors who disagree with you), good humor, tolerance, balance, willingness to hear others out and change one's mind, readiness to go over and over the facts to find something to bring agreement. In short, jury duty demands a "decent respect to the opinions" of others.

More and more women share civic duties, especially as jurors. Time was in Texas when women could not serve on juries. They still cannot in four states.

A jury finds facts. It hears and weighs evidence and then comes to a verdict. It does not make the law—the legislature does; and the judge "charges" or instructs the jury concerning the law applicable to the particular case it is considering.

The judge will tell you not to find the accused guilty until he is proved so under strict rules of evidence. If you have any "reasonable doubt,"—not imaginary or far-fetched—acquit the accused.

Civil cases do not demand a moral certainty, merely the "preponderance" of what you regard as reliable and believable evidence.

(This newsfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

AUSTIN — In his final press conference as attorney general, Will Wilson paid tribute to Texas newspapers for helping expose graft and corruption. Wilson said that Texas newspapers, large and small, deserve a lot of credit for the progress he made during his six years of administration.

"In our system" he said, "the light of day, brought through the news media, is the most efficient enforcement agency we have." He gave special credit to the press for bringing the slanted hole oil well probes of East Texas into the open, exposing the anhydrous ammonia tank manuevers of West Texas, and calling for fast action in other scandals.

He remarked that he considers a probe for corruption of local governments the field that offers the most investigative opportunity to his successor, Waggoner Carr.

MAN HUNT — Meanwhile, ignoring AG Waggoner Carr is involved in a search for able assistants for the attorney general's department. He wrote Leon Jaworski, president of the State Bar Association, that it's very difficult to find trained men.

Number of assistants now has dwindled from 80 to 68. Carr said he needs capable men with god courtroom experience, as there are 4,000 cases pending in the attorney general's office, and the "eyes of the nation" are on the slanted-hole well investigations.

A major problem is finding experienced attorneys willing to work for low pay. Beginners make about $400 a month. Nine division heads draw $10,500 annually.

Bar association promised to help Carr with the man hunt. First step was to name a 19-member committee to work with the incoming attorney general.

COURT BACKS COMMISSION — Railroad Commission's new "Rule 54" which restricts slanted wells, passed its first legal test when Dist. Judge Jack Roberts upheld the commission's order for a directional survey on a deviated well in the East Texas field.

Roberts turned down an application from attorneys for the L. G. No. 2 Alexander lease in Gregg County, who sought an injunction against the commission, and against Tidewater Oil Company. Tidewater wants to determine whether the L. G. is bottomed under its own lease or under Tidewater's adjoining property.

FAREWELL PARTY—Amidst a pine tree setting some 2,000 public officials, state and federal employees, and other friends of the outgoing governor staged a $10 a plate honor banquet for the Price Daniels.

Location was Austin's Municipal Auditorium. Included among a long list of headliners were Vice Pres. Lyndon Johnson, Gov.-elect John Connally, Lt. Gov.-elect Preston Smith, RR Commissioner Ben Ramsey, former Atty. Gen. John Ben Shephard and State Bar Pres. Leon Jaworski.

CONGRATULATING COL. HOMER GARRISON, JR.—On winning the coveted Paul Gray Hoffman award for distinguished professional service in highway safety are Governor Price Daniel, left, and D. C. Greer, State Highway Engineer, right, who nominated Col. Garrison for the award. The Governor commended Garrison, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, for "this crowning achievement in a lifetime career of outstanding police administration and public service." Col. Garrison is the sixth U.S. traffic safety official to receive the award from the Automotive Safety Foundation.

All paid tribute to the retiring governor for his work while a legislator, Speaker of the House, Attorney General, U. S. Senator and Governor.

Mrs. Daniel was presented with the keys to a brand new Lincoln.

LARGEST PARADE — Largest inaugural parade in the state's history is planned for this capital city. Date is Tuesday afternoon, January 15.

Parade will follow the noon swearing in ceremonies for Governor John Connally and Lt. Gov. Preston Smith.

Many Texas cities plan to enter floats. J. J. Pickle, parade chairman, says that high school bands throughout the state have been invited to participate, as have college and military bands and drill teams.

The U. S. Navy has requested an opportunity to march in the parade, in salute to its ex-secretary.

SMALL TOWNS INDUSTRIAL TARGET — Gov.-elect John Connally breakfasted with members of the Texas Industrial Commission and representatives of industry in an effort to get a broad picture of the state's industrial needs.

He approved the commission's goal to set small industries for 230 small towns. E. B. Germany of Dallas, chairman of the commission, pointed out this plan would offer eight-hour-a-day employment to local people and leave time for them to tend to small farming and ranching operations.

"If we could have 250 little towns with little industries," Germany said, "we would have more solid citizens."

Connally has proposed establishment of a Bureau of Commerce to carry on the work of tourist and industrial agencies. He suggested that this be financed with state funds, rather than by the present plan of asking industry to share the cost of exploiting the state's resources.

Commission presented a seven-year plan to expand the present number of 10,581 plants with 488,250 workers to 14,730 plants with 802,250 workers. A copy of its report will be sent to local industrial development groups.

LEGISLATIVE RECOMMENDATIONS — Study committees for the Texas Legislative Council—official bill-drafting body for the state—offered these recommendations:

1. That the attorney general's job be limited to a "strictly legal" capacity by removing him from all ex-officio memberships on boards and commissions, except those created by the Constitution. He now serves on 18 boards in addition to his duties as attorney for the state.

2. That health and accident insurance firms be required to refund premiums of the insured asks to cancel within 10 days after he receives his policy.

3. That state agencies be prohibited from denying jobs on the basis of age, except for certain law enforcement posts. A study revealed a great age barrier in most industries, with a special problem for workers in the 40-55 age bracket.

4. That the Legislature consider granting greater autonomy to local governments and that it remove from the statutes county and city laws no longer in force or effect.

5. That county officials convey court-committed, mentally ill patients to state hospitals immediately and not hold them in county jails.

Eleven committees offered some 59 pages of suggestions to the council. Many of the bills proposed already have been drafted.

STUDENT COSTS UPPEd — Committee of Governing Boards of State Colleges and Universities endorsed the Commission on Higher Education's recommendations for an increased budget for the next two years.

But they also saw an even larger need.

Chairman J. M. Odom of Austin said he considered as "conservative" the commission's request for $33,000,000 in additional funds to meet increased enrollment in the states 20 colleges. He said $36,000,000 is a more accurate estimate.

FM IMPROVEMENTS — Texas Highway Commission approved an $18,000,000 program of improvement for 3,315 miles of existing Farm-to-Market roads.

Plan is to eliminate some high-accident points by replacing outmoded bridges, straightening out sharp curves and providing wider traffic lanes.

AUTO TAG METAL — A contract for 2,200 tons of steel for 1964 automobile license plates has been made by the State Board of Control.

Sam G. Cook, chief of the purchasing division, said the contract for $380,811.20 was awarded to Granite City Steel Company of Illinois, through its Dallas office.

Cook noted that in spite of rising costs, "that figure is about $2 per ton less than last year."

Manufacture of the 1964 plates will begin on February 1, 1963, with convicts in the Texas Prison System doing the work, Cook said.

Uncle Ben From Benjamin Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I see by the papers where our officials in Washington has approved the sale of 14 more items from the nation's stockpile. I was plum astounded to note that one of the items was 156 million pounds of castor oil.

Fer nigh on to 70 years, man and boy, I've had a close personal relationship with castor oil but this is the first time I've saw it quoted in pounds instead of bottles or ounces. And I can understand how it might be wise to have a few bottles of it put back for a emergency, but 156 million pounds of it would take care of the situation from the beginning of time till eternity. They can't be but one answer, Mister Editor. Some feller with a heap of influence in the proper places, maybe a feller like Billie Sol Estes, has had the market cornered on castor beans and has been greasing the Government for a good profit. I aim to write my Congressman immediate and urge a investigation.

I bring this matter up at the country store Saturday night and Ed Doolittle said I might be getting a little hasty in writing my Congressman. Ed allowed as how, now that the Government has fell out with DuPont, General Motors, Standard Oil and since the war with Spain in 1898 Webster said he had noted ever them big fellers, it could be that we was aiming to use castor oil fer lubricating the war machine in case trouble started. But most of the fellers didn't agree. Clem that it had been a fixed policy of the Government to git mad with them big boys in time of peace and then call on 'em right quick to git out of a jam when war come.

But war or no war, Mister Editor, Standard Oil or Jimmy Hoffa, I'm agin stockpiling 156 million pounds of castor oil and I aim to let that letter go through to my Congressman. I might send it air mail.

And if you think we got castor oil trouble along the Potomac, wait till you see that piece the Department of Agriculture has sent to the tomato growers. I want to give a little of it to you in what them lawyers call "verball 'em" style. "If a tomato is dropped on a hard surface, it will be damaged more than if it is dropped on foam rubber." Furthermore, states the Department of Agriculture, "a tomato dropped two or more times was found to be more damaged than if dropped only once. And a tomato dropped too often becomes inedible." I wonder, Mister Editor, how much of the taxpayers' money it cost to make them important experiments.

Yours truly,
Uncle Ben

"Barring natural catastrophes, black bass should be 34 pounds or more in length and weigh from 34 pound to over one pound by the spring of 1958." Tilton predicts on the basis of findings in Central Texas lakes. "The fish will be there. But as always, fishing success depend on the skill of the angler."

Mrs. Baker Fetes "Poor" Working Girls On December 20th

Mrs. C. P. Baker, a P. W. G. (poor working girl) for many years, feted the working girls of Munday with a coffee in her home last Thursday morning from 9 until 11:30 a.m. Mrs. Baker does this every year as a treat and Christmas greeting to the working girls.

The house was decorated beautifully throughout in the traditional Christmas motif. Coffee, fruit cake, all kinds of candies, biscuit and turkey and a delicious dip with potato chips and fritos were available to those who wished any of the delicacies.

As each one departed they registered for the door prize which Mrs. Baker gives each year. Mrs. Callie Ann Combs won this year and Mrs. Chas. Moorhouse last year. Forty-six enjoyed the fete.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Takes Stock Of The Past Year But Admits He's Not Quite Sure What Happened

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek has found out a new year is at hand, his letter this week indicates.

J. A.

Dear editor:
At the close of an old year and the beginning of a new one, I know people are supposed to review the past twelve months and estimate what's going to happen in the next twelve, but there are a couple of things wrong with this.

In the first place, nobody knows what's going to happen in the next twelve months, and in the second place, very few know what happened the last twelve. It takes a Supreme Court to tell what Congress did, and it takes a later Supreme Court to tell what an earlier one meant.

The world had all sorts of crises this past year, but it's impossible to tell now which ones we solved and which ones just went away or got lost while we moved on to different ones.

Out here on this Johnson grass farm, the way I handle a crisis is to look the other way. If this doesn't work, I look straight at it, but I've learned a long time ago you don't get very far trying to solve one. Why solve it when you know good and well it'll be replaced by a newer and possible bigger one? My theory is, when you get used to a crisis, keep it. And I think the world follows this theory too, only it doesn't admit it. It substitutes new names and moves the things around, but generally they're the same old crises. A man who can't live with crisis ain't long for this world.

As for what's coming up in 1963, I have no idea. Yes I do, too. What's coming up will be pretty much like what happened in 1962, whatever that was.

I know there are people who are afraid the world won't get through 1963, but I've noticed the world has gotten through every year since time began, and I doubt if 1963 will have what it takes to put a stop to it.

Oh, man may venture further out into space, but I doubt if he'll find anything more fun than what he's already got. There's nothing wrong with this planet, excusing a few things, if people would leave each other alone long enough to enjoy it.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by the State Health Department

Every 24 hours, as an average man or woman, you inhale 30 to 35 pounds of air. You have no choice of quality. Pure, foul or questionable—you take it as it comes.

In London recently, the air was fouled to the point that it killed 105 people. That tragic incident heightens interest in Texas' own methods of detecting and controlling atmospheric contaminants which might be injurious to public health.

The situation in Texas, when compared to most other states, is far from critical. But State Department of Health engineers feel that Texas' growth within recent years is a valid reason for staying alert.

Twenty air sampling stations now operate on a regular schedule across the state. Nine of them are part of a gigantic coast-to-coast network designed to measure the type and extent of air pollution in American cities and towns. The other 11 stations comprise a separate state network.

The stations work like this: Each is equipped with a small device resembling a vacuum cleaner. It draws great quantities of air through a special glass fiber filter which can be easily removed for analysis.

YOUNG TEXAN FOR OCTOBER—A freshman student at Rice University—James H. Morris of Anahuac—has been named "Young Texan of the Month" for October by the 8,000 Optimist Club members of Texas and the Troy V. Post Foundation. Morris, who last year served as state president of the Future Farmers of America, will receive the Troy V. Post Award, highest youth recognition honor available to young men in Texas. His selection as Young Texan of the Month is the fourth such selection made in a new program dedicated to recognizing and rewarding young men who have exhibited outstanding qualities of scholarship, leadership, citizenship and service to home, school, church and community.

after travelling great distances at tremendous heights.
Texas air sampling stations also provide valuable information on background radiation to which the whole earth is constantly subjected. Normal background radiation must be known before increases in radioactivity can be recognized.
But the stations serve primarily as indicators of man-made pollution against which controls will continue to be applied.

New-Fangled Ways Of Growing Cotton Up For Discussion

Dallas—Grandpa and his long-ears mule probably would shake their heads in disbelief if they could hear some of the new-fangled ways of growing cotton which will be discussed at a conference here, January 10-11.

The occasion will be the 1963 Beltwide Cotton Production-Mechanization Conference sponsored by the National Cotton Council and other groups. Some 800 persons are expected from across the Belt and the nation.

From leading authorities grandpa could hear such things as:

How a Mississippi farmer has formed his land for better moisture control, timing of operations, plant growth, and weed and insect control;

New approaches to fighting the boll weevil, including poisoning the pest just before he goes into hibernation for the winter and sterilizing males to reduce the number of offspring;

Importance of row and bed shapes in mechanized cotton production;

Latest methods and equipment for controlling weeds with chemicals and flame;

Ways to get the best possible yields with the least amount of water;

New fertilizers which are being investigated by various groups;

An evaluation of the use of moistening agents on the spindles of mechanical pickers;

How research is investigating the possibility of putting an electrical charge on insecticide particles so more of them will stick to the leaves of cotton plants.

Reception Honors J. R. Burnisons On 50th Wedding Date

The children of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Burnison and their husbands were hosts to a reception honoring their parents on their fiftieth wedding anniversary at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Burnison.

The couple were married on December 22, 1912 in the home of the bride west of town. Mr. Burnison recalls that 30 inches of snow blanketed the area at that time.

Prior to their marriage Mrs. Burnison attended Hardin Simmons University in Abilene. Mr. Burnison attended Texas A&M.

Mrs. Burnison, the former Lila Jones, daughter of J. B. Jones, pioneer teacher enjoys art and does quite a bit of painting along with her household duties.

Mr. Burnison came to Knox County from Clarksville with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Burnison, in 1906, who bought land and settled west of Monday. Jess carried the mail for 32 years, 4 of which were in Haskell. Since retirement his favorite hobbies are reading, caring for pecan and fruit trees in his garden and his bees.

Their daughters are Mrs. M. L. Hipple (Maxine) of Houston, Mrs. A. D. Thompson (Geraldine) of Dallas, Mrs. Elmo Anderson (Mary Ann) of Albuquerque, N. M., and Mrs. O. L. Anderson (June) of Clovis, N. M.

Dick Morrow of Port Arthur came in last Sunday for several days visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Morrow. Mr. and Mrs. Donis Melton and children of Rochester were guests on Christmas day.

Fish Are There, Biologist Says Of Texas Lakes

With busy spring weather just around the corner, everyone begins to wonder about 1958's fishing prospects. John Tilton, Aquatic Biologist for the Texas Game and Fish Commission, is ready with the answer most fishermen want to hear, in the March issue of TEXAS GAME AND FISH.

"The waters in most sections of the state teem with untold numbers of yearling white bass, black bass, crappie, channel catfish, and your favorite sunfish, all spawned and nourished in the flood waters of 1957," Tilton says. "This should be an unusual fishing year."

Tracing the game fish problems, Tilton starts with the 1953 drouth, when streams and even stock tanks dried up. Fish which did not die were forced into unfamiliar habitat of rivers where food competition was keen among the crowded inhabitants.

Spawning met with many disasters. Eggs of sunfish and black bass were exposed to killing sun and air; white bass found very little moving water in which to spawn.

Then came the downpours of 1957. Although excess rain and silt was responsible for more fish deaths, fish populations responded rapidly to increases in food and plant life. This year we gather in the profits of 1957.
