Look To The East

By Aaron Edgar

They're gonna shoe the circus outlaw! Back in the days when we were a near-grown high school student, these words were circulated about the H. S. Campus, and they created our interest. By "near-grown" we meant that we were old enough to have already finished high school, but we had pulled a cotton sack down the row on too many days when we should have been in school.

Those were the days, too, when we got to go to town every three or four weeks. Dad always set a goal for us to meet--and we couldn't play around and do it--like cleaning out a certain patch of cotton, or get caught up with some other type of farm work, then we'd all go to town on Saturday.

It was always an intriguing adventure for this kid to visit the blacksmith shop, especially if our "road team" needed shoeing. There was a horse shoeing artist working in almost every blacksmith shop. Usually, he was the owner, too.

There was more than one such shop in Wellington, but Dad's favorite was Riley's Blacksmith Shop, just about a block west of the town square. We kids got pretty well acquainted with Mr. Ed Riley, too, because he would also sharpen Dad's plow points, sweeps, go-devil knives, etc. But it was interesting to watch him shoe an animal.

He would work on the hooves first, getting them in the shape he wanted by using some snips, a rasp, and, perhaps some other tools of the trade.

It's been a long time, but it seems Mr. Riley had a bunch of shoes in stock--some shaped to more nearly fit a horse's hoof, others for mules. Maybe he made them up in his spare time, maybe he ordered them readymade, we don't know.

Anyway, if the shoe needed some reshaping he would place them in the slack-coal fire, pump the bellows a while and the shoe was taken out red hot. Using tongs, he could handle the hot iron, place it near the animal's foot for comparison, then shape it up on the anvil to fit the hoof.

He would place the animal's foot between his legs so he could hold it with his legs and use both hands for other purposes. Then he would place the shoe to the animal's foot, after cooling it in a tub of water, reach into his supply of horse shoe nails and proceed to nail the shoe on from the underside. The nails were then clinched on the top side of the hoof. In four operations like this the horse was completely shod.

After a few trips to the blacksmith, an animal would get over his shyness and it was just the usual procedure for both smitthy and beast.

But not so with the circus outlaw! The circus had come to town, and this critter needed to be shod. His reputation for ferociously objecting to this procedure became well known, and it was a while before the circus management found a smithy who would tackle the job.

Field Day Is Slated At Plant Materials Center

A field day will be held September 13 at the plant materials center at Knox City, State Conservationist Edward E. Thomas announced this week. The center serves Texas and Oklahoma. Livestockmen, seed dealers, sportsmen, and others interested in the search for improved plants are being invited to attend the field day. Harvey Davis of Temple, executive director of the Texas State Soil and Water Conservation Board, will be the principal speaker. New grasses, forbs, legumes and other plants under evaluation at the center will be discussed during the day. Some 1200 strains of 325 plants are being grown at the center. Chief goal of the SCS plant materials work is to find new strains of plants that will solve specific conservation problems. Since livestock and wildlife co-exist on the same land, the search extends to grasses, legumes, forbs and shrubs which have dual values. Such plants are needed by landowners and operators for including in range seeding mixtures, for use in travel lane seedings, in border plantings, or for other uses. Strains that appear promising at Knox City are then grown and evaluated under field conditions on farms of soil and water conservation district co-operators under a wide variety of conditions. Selections that prove superior to other plants available commercially are then released by conservation districts to seed growers. These producers then grow seed and sell it to the public. A new grass variety, Mason sandhill lovegrass, was certified and released earlier this year as a result of work done at the center in cooperation with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Selection 75 kleingrass was released in 1968. Other grass strains proven and put into use by SCS include El Reno, Uvalde, and Vaughn sidecoats grama; King Ranch bluestem; green spangle-top; and Grenville switchgrass. Some of the groups who cooperate with SCS on its plant materials work in Texas include Agricultural Research Service, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Texas A&M University, Texas Tech University, Prairie View A&M, Abilene Christian College, U. S. Air Force, U. S. Corps of Engineers, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, and soil and water conservation districts.

Total Rain 4.13 Inches

No one's complaining about the rain--except, perhaps those working in the milo harvest. And Munday has been blessed with 4.13 inches during the past week. A near-deluge hit this area Thursday night, as three separate rain clouds were reported, dumping a total of 3.82 inches. It brought flooding of some Munday streets for a period and filled all of the stock tanks to overflowing. The city lake overflowed for the first time in many months, and the tiny catfish recently placed in the lake were seen playfully swimming downstream Sunday. The local precipitation was boosted further by another shower Saturday night amounting to .31 of an inch, according to records of Lynn Weaver, local U. S. weather observer.

Labor Day Safety Rules

Below is a list of rules to drive by, in order to celebrate Labor Day next year. 1. Don't mix gasoline with alcohol. 2. Use seat belts. Your chances of survival in a major accident are five times greater when you are buckled up. 3. Slow down, drive according to the traffic, weather, vehicle condition, and your own physical condition. Lives lost do not make up for the small amount of time you think you save! 4. Obey all traffic laws. They were ordained by Texans to keep the Texas motorist safe and alive for all times! If this weekend is accident free, then we'll all celebrate Labor Day in '73!

*Bulletin Mrs. Donald Hobert, librarian of the City-County Library, announced that Mrs. Ina Cowan will have a "Fun Story Hour" for all 4-year olds beginning Wednesday, Sept. 6 from 10:00 to 11:00 a. m. in the morning. Don't forget, to be there each Wednesday for a full hour of stories and fun.

Sewer Pumps Are Installed

They just played out and had to be replaced. After all, 20 years is a pretty good life span for something that operates as constantly as a sewer pump! And that's how long the old ones had been in operation. They were installed in 1952, according to Walter Hertel, city secretary, so Ed Johnson and Lynn Weaver installed new ones recently. By doing the work themselves, they brought about a considerable saving to the city. Johnson and Weaver say the new pumps are working smoothly--and should last another 20 years.

Catfish Farm Serves Munday Area

A new venture in catfish farming, Catfish Haven, has opened for business in Anson and is also serving the Munday area through the local M System Super Markets, Don Ray Plankenship, co-owner of the enterprise, is manager of the M System stores in Anson. M System Stores are to be outlets for fresh dressed fish from the farm. According to Robert Nix, manager of the Munday store, the firm will cater to special orders for fish fries, etc. He asks that orders for such events in the Munday area be placed with the Munday store. The operation includes four fish ponds, which were recently stocked with a large supply of catfish weighing approximately two pounds. Fourounders are being added, possibly this week. Also in operation is a 57 x 38 processing house with facilities for the display of live fish in a small tank and for dressing the fish to be sold through the super markets. Sales at the farm will be by live weight only, with customers desiring dressed fish paying for having them dressed. The fish are fed daily with balanced food to insure the finest flavor. The facility will provide "fun for all the family," making it possible for the customer to catch his fish, or they will be caught for the customer if he desires. Either way, the customer gets fresh farm raised catfish without going a long distance.

CATFISH HAVEN now open in Anson provides "fun for the family" as it provides fresh farm raised catfish for this area through M System Super Markets.

we managed to get some time off from school. It might have been during lunch hour, after school, or we might have played hookey for a while.

We edged into the blacksmith shop, and found the huge circus horse sprawled on the floor, in a sort of animal straight jacket with his feet lassoed to his body in a sort of way as to render him completely helpless.

The smithy, almost completed with his job, was working away as cool as a cucumber in attitude, but his clothing wet with sweat.

We just had time to survey the situation intoto, when someone yelled "Get out of the way! They're turning him loose!"

We quickly found the doorway and soon had nothing between us and complete safety but all out-of-doors!

They loosed his shackles, and the circus outlaw stood up, more meekly than he'd been a few hours ago--but completely shod.

We read not long ago that horse shoeing was almost a lost art; but we guess it'll be coming back, what with so many youngsters wanting horses for these regular "play nights," and stuff.

Moguls In Tough Battle With The Quanah Indians

The loud collision-like noise you heard Saturday night was created by the aggressive play demonstrated at Scruggs Field, and possibly not on the "Boobtube" at Texas Stadium. The event was a spirited scrimmage between our Munday Moguls and 2AA power Quanah.

The Junior Varsity kicked things off by battling to a 0-0 stalemate. Neither squad could muster much offense because both defenses proved to be very stingy. "We were both surprised and happy with the J. V.'s defensive play. Quanah has coaching staff members who work with their young kids only. We have to work with ours when we can. For having had little work, the J. V. kids did a fine job," stated Coach Roark.

The varsity scrimmage proved to be a "headhunting" affair with Quanah tallying twice while Munday failed to counter. Size and depth didn't discourage the smaller Moguls, but proved to the edge later in the scrimmage. Quanah brought a 48 man squad for the contest.

Quanah's first score came after a long pass completion. Their second touchdown came as a result of a long drive. Munday just couldn't put a drive together even though they threatened twice. Mogul misques thwarted both chances.

One Mogul back fumbled deep in Indian territory without contact being made. It looked as if he was well on his way when he suddenly dropped the ball.

After grading films, the coaching staff cited Gary Tidwell and Johnny Quintero as showing consistence in the scrimmage. Others turning in some good defensive plays were Gary Crawford, Connor Walker and Salvador Sosa. Alvin Adams made one key interception which, in a regulation game, might have led to a Mogul score.

Offensively, the Moguls had a hard time moving the bigger Indians. Donald Spells turned in some outstanding running however.

"We made a lot of mistakes," said Coach Roark. "A ball club like Quanah will find your areas needing the most work. That's why we scrimmage them. They didn't start to school until August 28th so they had more work under their belts. We aren't offering excuses, we are very proud of our aggressiveness and pursuit. It will just take time to iron out our mistakes. We intent to cut down on the number of plays for this Saturday's scrimmage with Aspermont in hopes of better execution," he added.

Terry Bufkin, Mogul quarterback, who had to leave the scrimmage early was found to have suffered from hyper-ventilation and not a concussion. Terry is all right and back in action.

Area Scrimmage Results
Knox City 0-Aspermont 0; Childress 5-Crowell 0; Rule edge Hawley; Throckmorton 4-Woodson 0; Hamlin 2-Seymour 0; Jacksboro 1-Gainesville 1; Ballinger edged Stamford; Coahoma edged Haskell; Roby 2-Rochester 1; Olney over Archer City.

FIVE HUNDRED TEXANS

HAVE VOLUNTEERED TO WORK FOR YOU THIS LABOR DAY.

They're all Texas National Guardmen. They'll be helping the Texas Department of Public Safety patrol the most congested Texas highways this Labor Day weekend. And that will aid local law enforcement efforts. More patrols mean you'll be able to get help quickly, should you need it. And more patrols mean it will be even more important for you to DRIVE FRIENDLY. The Texas way.

Operation Motorcide To Go Into Effect Friday

Approximately 48 persons are expected to die on Texas streets and highways over the Labor Day weekend, according to estimates by the Texas Department of Public Safety.

The DPS will conduct Operation Motorcide from 6:00 p. m. Friday through midnight September 4. This will be one of four 78-hour holiday periods that will be critical for all motorists.

Major C. W. Bell, DPS Region 5 Commander said that all available uniformed patrolmen will be put into action for maximum enforcement of traffic laws. Major Bell said, "Each driver should drive defensively at all times." Major Bell suggested that each individual practice driving friendly--the Texas way!

DPS records show that the majority of traffic fatalities are caused by excessive speed and the drinking driver. The DPS reminds the motoring public that 0.10% blood alcohol in one's body is the presumptive level of legal intoxication under Texas law.

Approximately 500 National Guardsmen will assist the uniformed patrolmen in the Dallas, Tyler, Houston, Corpus Christi, San Antonio, and Austin areas. Many of these guardsmen will be riding in DPS patrol cars through the Labor Day weekend to enable the Department to have more units and personnel on the road.

Mr. and Mrs. Butch Bowley of Odessa and Mr. and Mrs. Joey Bowley, Mary Ann and Frankie Joe, of Texarkana, Ark. were weekend guests in the home of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Bowley. They were here to attend the funeral of their other grandmother, Mrs. Fannie Armstrong.

Dove Hunters To Have Split Season In Fall

Texas dove hunters with frostbite? Unheard of! Until this season, Texas dove hunters were more prone to heat prostration or rattlesnake bite. But recent action by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission split the mourning dove season, making a portion of it in September, and the remainder in January when the cold winds blow. The North Zone season will be Sept. 1 through Oct. 14, 1972, and Jan. 6 - 21, 1973. In the South Zone the season will be Sept. 23 through Nov. 5, 1972, and Jan. 6 through Jan. 21, 1973, except that in counties having an open season for white-winged doves, the open season for mourning doves ends Nov. 2 during the fall segment of the season. Texas Parks and Wildlife Department biologists stress the split season is just an experiment to see if the late season will result in additional recreation without unduly increasing the overall harvest of doves. They will keep a close eye on the results to see if late dove hunting in Texas might affect the breeding populations of other states. Hunters have long been interested in such a season because of the many doves present in Texas during the winter months, according to department officials. Biologists called for the experimental season this year because they now have the means to evaluate the effects of a split season, whereas in the past sources of the information needed were not available.

We received a card from the Oscar Spanns, who live part of the time at South Fork, Colo., saying they were surprised about it taking the Courier so long to get to Haskell. Said they always get theirs on Monday until last copy which they got on Saturday. Ain't that somp'n'?

They also sorter rubbed it in by saying it was 40 degrees this morning (Aug. 22) and that they had a good fire going, and us in all this hot weather. They also hoped all our breaks were good ones from here on out. Well so do we, for if there is anything we want less is to get something else broken.

blab
Jim Gaines was in Monday telling about his fishing for salmon on the Columbia river in Washington. Jim says it was quite an experience and that he and Maggie soon found out there was an art to it. Claimed it was fun though and he did manage to catch two small ones and maybe they would have better luck next time.

Now you take us, and trying to take a vacation. If we can get the time off, we don't have Horne, received her Masters Degree from North Texas State University in Denton, Texas Saturday night.

Sammy Abbot and family went to San Angelo to a family reunion Saturday.

Glynn Looney of Lubbock, visited his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Newl Looney Friday. Mrs. Idoma Chowning and Mrs. Lottie Whitaker are in Tahoka visiting Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Whitaker.

Mrs. Arthur Horne returned home Monday from a 10 day visit to Houston, Fort Worth, and Granbury.

Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Looney and Mrs. Hickman went to Canyon Monday to see the pageant "Texas."

Mrs. Jack Propps of Seymour died of a heart attack last Wednesday morning. Services were held in Seymour Friday, and she was buried in the Gilliland Cemetery.

We have been having some late summer rains this week, and the grass is turning green. Maybe this means we will have day weather next weekend for the Truscott and Gilliland reunions. Hope everybody can come.

Rev. and Mrs. Charles Galoup of Gilliland are proud parents of a baby girl, Martha Louise, who was born August 21, 1972 at 6:44 p. m. in the Seymour hospital. She weighed in at 6 pounds and 1 ounce and is 19 inches long. Martha has one brother, Paul, how is very glad he has a little sister.

Guests in the Chester Lahn home during the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Lahn of Fort Worth and Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Fitzgerald, Greg, Cindy and Amy of Abilene.

Pvt. Donny King of Fort Polk La. visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill King, over the weekend.

Seems as how one whole neighborhood in Munday is all upset and got that way over the weekend when Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bruce changed addresses by moving across town to North 7th Avenue. The only thing our neighbors would do if we moved would be to rejoice.

blab
Could be that is the difference in being a good neighbor and the kind we are--that's up to you to figure out. We have good neighbors, we just can't help it if they don't, or could we?

blab
We've never been neighbors to the Bruces, but they are bound to be good people to put up with our co-worker, who just happens to be their daughter. We're kidding of course as we wouldn't trade our Cheryl for a pet buzzard.

THE GOLDEN RULES OF GOOD HEALTH

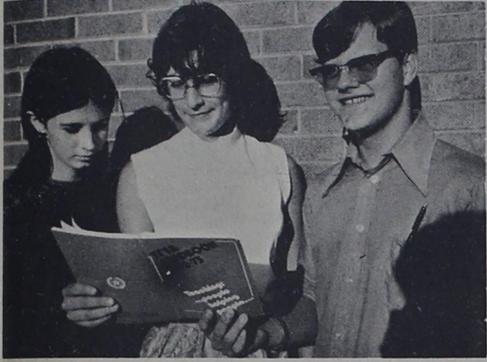

Examinations are as natural a part of school days as grades, graduations and senior proms. But the one particular exam that we are thinking about is even more important than any of the others--your regular physical exam. It's the one test that you can't afford to flunk, at least not for long.

But, how can you "study up" for this kind of exam? It's really very easy. Proper rest (midnight studying is not recommended), balanced diet and regular exercise (your choice) are a few ways to stay in shape. This year try to get top grades in your physical exam.

YOU OR YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a delivery. We will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people rely on us for their health needs. We welcome requests for delivery service and charge accounts.

Rural Areas Show New Signs Of Growth

The move from farm to city may be coming to a halt, a new era of economic and social growth for rural America may already be launched.

These are two conclusions to be drawn from various reports on the progress of rural America, from the arid stretches of the Southwest to the green fields of the Southeast. They also are indications that the much talked about goals of rural development are beginning to emerge as realized accomplishments for an increasing number of communities.

Some signs of the recharged energies within rural areas are: --More jobs: During the 1960's nonfarm jobs increased by 39 percent in the countryside, a slightly better rate than the 34 percent increase in metropolitan areas. This growth rate has been high in completely rural counties as well as in those with cities of up to 50,000 population.

--Farm-exodus ending: The farm population has dropped to fewer than 9 1/2 million persons. With so few people remaining on the Nation's farms, little further decline in the population is possible. As the farm-to-city migration dwindles to a negligible level, continued gains in nonagricultural jobs will have a more visible impact on the overall economy and population of rural areas.

--Greater Federal commitment to rural areas: The government is stepping up its investment in rural America manyfold. For example, funds earmarked for housing in rural areas amount to $2.2 billion this year, four times the 1969 level; sewer and water programs are allocated $342 million this year, nearly twice the 1969 level. Total funds devoted to rural development efforts by the Department of Agriculture will amount to $3.5 billion this year--four times the level in 1961 and twice as much as in 1969.

More important than the statistics or the governmental expenditures, however, is the determined individual in community who resolves to solve the problem on his own, who takes action to set his own neighborhood on the road to progress.

In Tulla, Texas, for example, local leaders set out to combat decaying businesses, blighted housing. As a result of their efforts, the community has 386 new low-cost homes and jobs and incomes are up because of the construction work. In North Carolina, citizens mounted a driver education campaign as a small but vital part of their Statewide effort to connect more rural workers with more better paying jobs.

Rural development is an idea whose time has come--mostly because increasing numbers of local groups are taking it upon themselves to make sure that it does.

Mr. and Mrs. Coy Jennings and their daughter, Mrs. Barbara Marek of Seymour, were patients in the Seymour hospital a few days last week.

'71 Cotton Crop Is Worst Yield For 25 Years

AUSTIN--The 1971 Texas cotton crop has a special distinction: It was the worst in per acre yields in 25 years.

The 1971 Texas Cotton Statistics reports that Texas production in 1971 totaled 2,579,000 bales; this was produced from 3,940,000 acres with a harvested yield per acre of 385 pounds.

Value of the lint alone was almost $340,000,000. During the season, prices ranged from 18 to 27 cents per pound.

Texas easily retained its number one position in the nation, producing almost one million bales more than second-ranking Mississippi.

Three counties in Texas produced more than 100,000 bales of cotton during 1971. They were Lubbock, first in the state, with 155,900 bales; Dawson, second, with 116,800; and Hidalgo, third, with 110,700 bales. Other top ranking counties were Cameron, 99,100 bales; Hale, 96,100 bales; Lynn, 90,100; Terry, 88,- 800; Hockley, 88,400; Lamb, 88,300; and Gaines, 80,800.

Crop reporting district one S--the High Plains irrigated section--was first in total production with 1,163,900 bales which is more than half the state's total. Number two section was the Blacklands.

Complete details on the 1971 Texas cotton crop are available in the report. A copy is free by writing Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White, P. O. Box 12847, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711. Ask for 1971 Texas Cotton Statistics.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Hertel, Mrs. Mary Brown and Mrs. Annie Urbanczyk visited Palo Duro Canyon, the Museum and attended Texas show on Wednesday of last week.

Mrs. Prudence Sessions of Fort Worth and her son, Harmon Sessions of Bedford, visited relatives here recently.

Mrs. Levi Bowden has just returned from a ten day visit with Capt. and Mrs. Gerald Bowden, Christopher and Elizabeth Carol.

Tunstalls Accept Christain Service

Claude and Maidee Tunstall have accepted God's call to full time service to the Travis International Hospitality, Inc. Travis Air Force Base, California.

Claude is finishing his service with the US Air Force in August. He and his family will leave Dover AFB, Del. in late August and arrive in California by the first of September.

They will be working in the operation of a Christian Service Center just outside Travis AFB. The center had been there for two years and the work load has become very great.

The mission of the center is to reach foreign service men and women who come to our country for schooling. They have envisioned a broader outreach now which will include their own military service men.

About two years ago, Claude and Maidee opened their home in Dover to young military men and women. There they had weekly Bible studies, prayer meetings and fellowship times. The Lord gave them a love and a burden for service men. They are especially enthused about the TIHI ministry because of the tremendous missionary outreach potential as these men carry the good news of Jesus back to their homeland.

Maidee Tunstall is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Smith.

GOREE SCHOOL ANNUAL SIGNING PARTY

The Goree High School Annual Staff sponsored an "annual signing" party on the Goree Wildcat football field Monday night, August 21, 7:30. They served refreshments consisting of cookies and punch.

No one was very interested in the refreshments for everyone was too anxious to see our 1972 Wildcat Annuals. The students of Goree High School that were present can honestly say that not until Monday night had they ever had a real case of "writer's cramps."

GUIDELINES FOR DIAPAUSE BOLL WEEVIL CONTROL PROGRAMS

The interest in diapause boll weevil control in many weevil-infested areas of Texas has been generated by extensive yield losses caused by this insect and the overall economics of cotton production. Though a rather wide choice of effective insecticides are available to growers, preventing excessive weevil damage has become quite costly in many production areas of the state.

The increasing development of insecticide resistance in bollworm-budworm populations can not be overlooked as an important factor supporting diapause boll weevil control. The seriousness of the bollworm-budworm resistance problem demands that we take a very close look at the entire cotton insect control program in each area of the state.

The cotton fleahopper and boll weevil are the two key cotton pest species which often determine the need for and extent of insecticide applications in bollworm or tobacco budworm control. We must have effective means of preventing economic fleahopper and boll weevil damage which, at the same time, will not aggravate or precipitate a bollworm-budworm problem. Diapause boll weevil control is one means of preventing economic boll weevil damage by using insecticides at a time in the season when resulting worm buildups are of no, or at most minimal, significance.

If properly planned and carried out, diapause boll weevil control offers the following advantages when compared to conventional, in-season weevil control:

a) The cost of insecticides and applications can often be reduced.

b) Other pest problems, particularly bollworm and tobacco budworm, are commonly reduced and may be eliminated due to the establishment and development of parasite and predator populations in the absence of previously required in-season boll weevil control applications.

c) Adverse weather does not commonly influence the effectiveness of diapause weevil applications as markedly as it does late season weevil control applications. This is due to a more flexible length of time between applications in a diapause program.

SOIL TESTING CHANGES
After September 1, 1972 the fee for regular soil tests plus zinc, iron and manganese will be $5.00. The fee for the regular tests without zinc, iron and manganese will remain at $2.00 per sample.

New Information Sheets D-575 for field crops and D-495 for lawns and gardens will be available from the county Extension agent's office.

1972 WHEAT PROGRAM
The major differences in the 1972 and 1973 wheat programs are:

1. An increase in the number of acres a farmer may voluntarily set-aside

2. A decrease in the additional set-aside payment from 94¢ per bushel to 88¢ per bushel.

3. A limit on the number of acres a farmer may plant for harvest if he elects to setaside additional acreage.

SCREWWORMS INCREASING

Numbers of screwworm cases have increased to alarming numbers in the county and relief from the pest is not expected until winter. Fifteen to 20 cases a week are being reported and many others not reported. Livestock owners are becoming aware of the importance of riding the range to check all stock regularly for screwworm infestations.

Approved practices for preventive measures should be followed such as treating all wounds whether they are wormy or not. Baby calf navels are often infected and with fall calving to start soon the number of infestations will probably increase.

Trotlines Need To Be Redated

AUSTIN -- Trotline fishermen had better start carrying three-month calendars around in their pockets.

An angler who checks his lines after they have been set for 90 days and finds them missing shouldn't accuse his fishing buddy of pilfering.

As of July 22, Parks and Wildlife game management officers have the authority to remove all freshwater trotlines which have been in place for over 90 days and those which are undated.

Trotlines are required by law to tag their lines with name and address of the owner and the date the line was set and to redate them after 90 days.

The tags must be of a material at least as durable as the trotline itself.

ABA Asks $250 Billion As Federal Debt Ceiling

Washington -- The American Bankers Association has announced its support of a proposed $250 billion ceiling on federal spending.

Allen P. Stults, president of the ABA, said legislation to impose the ceiling on fiscal 1973 expenditures was endorsed this week by the association's board of directors.

Mr. Stults said the 23-member board unanimously adopted a resolution expressing concern about "the resumption of inflationary pressures and their potentially adverse impact upon the American people and the U.S. economy."

"The discipline of a rigid expenditure ceiling would alleviate the immediate danger of generating an excessively expansionary deficit," the resolution continued.

As a second step, said Stults, the bankers proposed a four-point program to develop permanent measures to control spending:

- * Adoption of multi-year budget projections for total spending and specific programs. This will permit lawmakers to assess the ultimate costs of programs.

- * Assign definite termination dates to new spending programs, and to existing programs of questionable value.

- * Create a joint Congressional Committee to evaluate the federal budget as a whole.

- * Subject trust fund programs to budgetary review, expenditure control, and accountability procedures applied to other tax-supported programs.

FW&D Railway Plans To Acquire 42-Mile Line

Plans to acquire the 42-mile line of the Texas Central Railroad between Stamford and Rotan were announced Wednesday by Paul F. Cruikshank, president of Fort Worth and Denver Railway, following approval by the company's board of directors. The purchase is subject to approval by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Cruikshank said that the directors acted after consideration of a detailed study which had indicated that purchase of the line in Jones and Fisher Counties will be to the economic advantage of the FW&D. Stations on the line include Stamford, Hamlin and Rotan, and principal commodities are wallboard, plaster, cotton and cottonseed products.

The Stamford-Rotan line was built in 1906-7 by Texas Central Railroad Company, chartered in 1892 to take over a portion of the lines of the old Houston & Texas Central Railroad, originally controlled by Hetty Green, said to have been the world's richest woman.

Registrations Of Motor Vehicles Show Big Gain

A total of 112,922,354 motor vehicles were registered in the United States during 1971, according to the American Automobile Association. The figure represented a rise of 4,546,931 over 1970.

Citing an annual report by the Department of Transportation, AAA said the figures, compiled by the Federal Highway Administration, showed that the number of trucks in use, 19,772,212, increased the most over the previous year -- by 5.4 percent.

Automobile registrations totaled 92,752,515, a rise of 3.9 percent over 1970.

Trucks totaled 397,627 in 1971, a gain of 5.3 over the previous year. The bus total released is an estimate of those in operation, rather than registrations, to eliminate multiple counting that would result from buses being registered in more than one state.

Texas had a total of 6,984,269 motor vehicle registrations in 1971, an increase of 4.3 percent compared with 1970.

The state was second only to California for the highest number of registered motor vehicles in 1971.

Cars in Texas totaled 5,335,492, buses 23,919, and trucks 1,624,858.
