Munday Cotton Oil Mill Now In Operation

With a supply of 800 tons of seed carried over from last season the Munday Cotton Oil Mill started operations on Wednesday morning and will in all probability continue throughout the approaching fall, as the supply of seed on hand will keep the mill in operation until seed from the new crop begin coming in.

The mill was closed early last fall when the price of cotton seed products reached such a low price that it was unprofitable to continue and the large supply of seed has been carried over, and with cotton prospects so favorable at this time it seems likely that the mill may have the longest continuous run in its history if prices of its products remain at a price level that will make its operation practical.

The mill provides quite a nice payroll and business houses and the public in general will be benefitted by the action of the concern in starting operations at this time.

Munday Clings To Top By Defeating Weinert 9-5 Here

Munday continued to cling to the top of the percentage table with Goree by taking Sunday's game from Weinert by a score of 9-5. Abbott went all the way for Munday and demonstrated his ability to pitch his way out of some difficult positions, and would have fared better had it not been for some expensive errors on the part of his teammates. While Holden pitched a very creditable game for the visitors he was touched for an even dozen hits while only eight were registered off Abbott's delivery. Abbott contributed to his other accomplishment by registering a home-run with no one on. Following is the box score for the game:

Parent-Teacher Ass'n. Beautifies School Grounds

One of the recent undertakings of the Parent-Teacher association was the planting of the campus at the schools in Bermuda grass, which with the excellent season in the ground at this time should do well, and the association is to be commended for its continuing efforts toward beautifying the grounds. Mrs. W. R. Moore, president of the association has worked untiringly to bring about a more sightly appearance around the school buildings and the association should have the fullest cooperation of everyone interested in the welfare of the schools.

Sunset School To Open August 15th.

The Sunset Consolidated School will open its doors for the 1928-'29 session on Monday, August 15th. A program is being prepared for presentation in the Auditorium at 9:30 a. m. and the patrons are urged to be present.

Those not entering High School for the first time and who will have work in more than one grade are urged to register on Friday, August 12th. For example, if you have two tenth grade and two eleventh grade subjects, or three ninth grade and one eighth grade subject, you should register early to avoid confusion or conflict later.

Days We'll Never Forget

Scenes of Bonus Riot at Washington

U. S. Troops to Relief of D. C. Police

No. 1. United States troops swinging into action to clear Washington of Bonus rioters when the District of Columbia authorities confessed defeat and the situation out of control. The detachments of cavalry and tanks shown marching up Pennsylvania Ave. were in support of infantry and machine gun crews which staged the tear-gas offensive on the bonus camps—No. 2. Scene in one of the Pennsylvania Avenue Bonus Camps when the battle with the District police was at its height. In the rioting 2 was killed and 44 injured, four of them seriously, many of them police. No. 3. General Douglas MacArthur, Chief of Staff of the U. S. Army, who was in personal charge of the Federal troops in both the afternoon and evening offensives. No. 4. Here was a battle over an American flag between Bonus Veterans and Washington police and in which one of the police shown in the picture was seriously injured. No. 5. U. S. Infantrymen with drawn bayonets and in gas mask clearing the Pennsylvania Bonus Camps, then set fire and burned the huts. After mopping up and clearing these camps, the troops advanced in an evening attack on Camp Marks on the Anacostia River to which 7,000 Bonus seekers had retreated. The tear-gas driven out and resumed, the veterans driven out and all structures destroyed and burned. These scenes mark the most extensive use of troops in the National Capitol since the Civil War. In the foreground of picture No. 5, note the cameraman within the rioting zone, gathering these pictures for the readers perusal.

Directors Will Be Named at Tax Relief Meeting

Monday afternoon was regular meeting date for the local Tax Payer League, but few were present, due perhaps to the small amount of publicity given the matter, coupled with conflicting dates with other matters of pressing importance. The few present decided, however, to call a meeting for Monday afternoon, August 8th, at 4 o'clock, at which time directors for the local organization will be appointed and the advisability of appointing a standing committee of two, whose business it will be to give a short review of current events—local and general—involving the question of taxation and tax conservation.

That there will be a state-wide industrial, commercial and agricultural conference September 8th, at a place yet to be designated, for the purpose of considering a plan for the re-organization of county government in Texas, sponsored by the regional chamber of commerce of the state, reminds us that any radical and revolutionary changes in governmental methods are being suggested and set forth as remedies for our present troubles, and that only the organized interests can effectively demand recognition in the "fixing" it likewise apparent.

O. W. LEE, Chairman.

Thinking Out Loud

By J. A. K.

Don't complain about the hot weather—it's just what the farmers have ordered.

And the mosquitoes don't bother much during a drouth, but who wants a drouth?

Our contention is that the people are doing far more to whip the depression than either of the political parties will ever do.

In fact, Congress has squandered millions in an effort to relieve the situation, and has accomplished very little.

Anyway, hereafter the housewife whose principal kitchen utensil is a can-opener should not be condemned for she'll be opening home canned foods.

But it is still a mystery to us how they got cucumbers in those small neck bottles so many buy.

Sterling and Ferguson spell-binders will be abroad in the land for the next few weeks and politics will likely be about as hot as the August sunshine.

In line with his duties as city attorney J. S. Kendall recently had occasion to register a complaint against a lady, and when she became hostile over the matter Jim states that he begged her pardon.

In fact, Jim states that he believes it a good idea to get accustomed to going that, for it looks as if he is going to ask a lady for pardons for his clients during the next two years.

Tom Bacon of Abilene, who is with the investment department of the West Texas Utilities Company, made a worth-while suggestion to T. O. L. the other day when he suggested that we urge citizens to plant vacant lots in turnips to take care of the demand that will likely come this fall from needy persons for food. He stated that in one town in his territory this had proven a very great help last winter in feeding the hungry, and the cost is negligible.

D. T. Mauldin also suggested that we urge the planting of winter gardens through the month of August, stating that many kinds of vegetables could be planted during August and the wonderful season that we have would insure success.

So, let us suggest that everyone take time out and plant a turnip patch and a winter garden, and this winter we can sit tight and laugh the depression off.

The rain on Wednesday is said to have beneficial to all the crops, including the mosquito crop, than which we have never had a better yield.

Anyway, we West Texas folks can endure a few mosquitoes any year if we can have good rains.

Baptist Revival Progressing With Good Attendance

The Baptist revival, which began Sunday at the community auditorium, is going along nicely with attendance increasing as the meeting progresses, and some very forceful and able messages are being delivered by the Rev. F. G. Rogers, pastor of the Baptist church at Spur, who is assisting the Rev. W. H. Albertson in the meeting. The song services are in charge of local talent and is one of the enjoyable features of the meetin, and the public is extended a cordial invitation to attend these services, which are being conducted daily at 10 o'clock in the mornings and at 8:30 o'clock in the evenings. The auditorium is wide open and the cooling evening breezes sweep over the audiences, thereby adding to the comfort of those in attendance. The services will continue on throughout the remainder of the week and possibly longer. You are urged to attend.

Chas. Moorehouse Is Re-Elected On Face of Returns

In last week's issue we stated that R. B. Davy of Munday had been elected county chairman over Charles Moorehouse of Benjamin, but a complete tabulation of returns from over the county show that Mr. Moorehouse was elected by a majority of almost 200 votes. The official tabulations show that Mr. Moorehouse received 1105 votes while Mr. Davy received 907.

Rhineland Takes Munday Off Perch In Mid-Week Game

Munday was knocked off it's perch at the head of the percentage table, which it had shared with Goree since the opening of the second half of the season, Wednesday afternoon. Rhineland did the trick, whose game, which was scheduled to be played at Munday was transferred to Rhineland on account of rain here. Skipper Burton reports that some of his principal reliances were not available for the game and attributes the defeat of his team to that fact. Anyway, the score was 9-8 in Rhineland's favor, and Munday is relegated to second position, and that's that.

Rochester Takes First of Play-Off Series Thursday

Rochester took the first game of the play-off series for championship for the first half at Rochester Thursday afternoon to the tune of 8-4. Pittman, Austin and Horton were batteries for Rochester, while Albert Loran and Leo Kuehler performed for Rhineland. Rhineland registered 11 hits and two errors while Rochester registered a like number of hits with one error.

The second game of the series will be played at Rhineland Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock, and the place and date for the third game of the series, if necessary, will be announced at this game.

Rhineland School Opened Monday

The Rhineland public school opened its doors for the 1928 summer term on Monday, August 1. The attendance is exceptionally good. A few students are absent on account of sickness and work. Pupils and teachers assembled at 8:30 in the school auditorium, where instruction and plans for the ensuing year were given them. Everybody seemed happy and ready for a few weeks of hard work. Following the close of the general assembly with a song, pupils went to their assigned rooms. Upon the completion of registration, distribution of books, assignments, and other opening day routine work, the children were dismissed for the day.

The board of equalization for both the city of Munday and the Munday Independent school district are in session this week going over the rolls and adjusting values. The board representing the city is composed of M. F. Billingsley, H. H. Langford and John Lane, while the school district is being served by W. H. Bray, C. B. Jones and Chas. Haynie.

Delegates Named For Democratic State Convention

At the county democratic convention held Saturday at Benjamin about the only business taken up was the naming of delegates to the state convention, which meets at Lubbock in September. M. F. Billingsley was elected chairman of the convention and W. R. Moore was chosen as secretary. The following delegates were named to the state convention: O. W. Lee, John Ed Jones, J. W. Smith, Sam White, S. B. Maddox, J. O. Feemster, Jas. A. Stephens, J. C. Patterson, Chas. Hisee, Leftoy Melton, C. L. Mayes, C. A. Eiland, Sam Clonts, Hugh Cook, Peter Loran.

MOULDING PUBLIC SENTIMENT.

Will Rogers recently paid a compliment to the rural press of the nation when, in commenting upon the gathering in California of the National Editorial Association, he stated that the rural press represented that portion of the press that could not be bought or influenced by patronage.

We might take the recent primary election as an index to the gradual attitude of the public toward the big daily newspapers, which were almost unanimously lined up for Gov. Sterling. With their priceless front pages bearing strong editorials in behalf of Mr. Sterling's candidacy for a second term, and with all the advantages that accrued to him in the handling of news pertaining to political gatherings over the state, Mr. Sterling only mustered about 30 per cent of the vote.

Mr. Hunter's support, with a single exception, came from the rural press of the state, and was accorded Mr. Hunter without promise of hope or reward, and despite the fact that Mr. Hunter was unknown over the state, he received 23 per cent of the votes cast.

In the campaign thousands of dollars were spent for display space in the big daily papers favoring the candidacy of Mr. Sterling, while not one cent, so far as we know, was spent with the weekly press of the state. Mr. Sterling received barely 30 per cent of the vote cast.

Politicians might take a tip from Will Rogers and hereafter spend money with newspapers that carry some influence, but whose editorial columns cannot be bought at any price.

Always—Something Happens.

A man whose son graduated from College in June was asking what I thought about a post graduate course in the Harvard Business School. "I don't assume any school can teach a boy how to succeed," he said. "What I want is to have my son learn something about the history of business."

He proceeds to illustrate from his own experience. Until 1904 he was a newspaper reporter, but that year he took a job with the manufacturing concern of which he is now the head.

In 1907, when he was just beginning to get under way, along came a panic. "We cleared away the wreckage and started again," he said, "but in 1910 there was a strike which tied up our plants, destroyed part of our property and disrupted our trade."

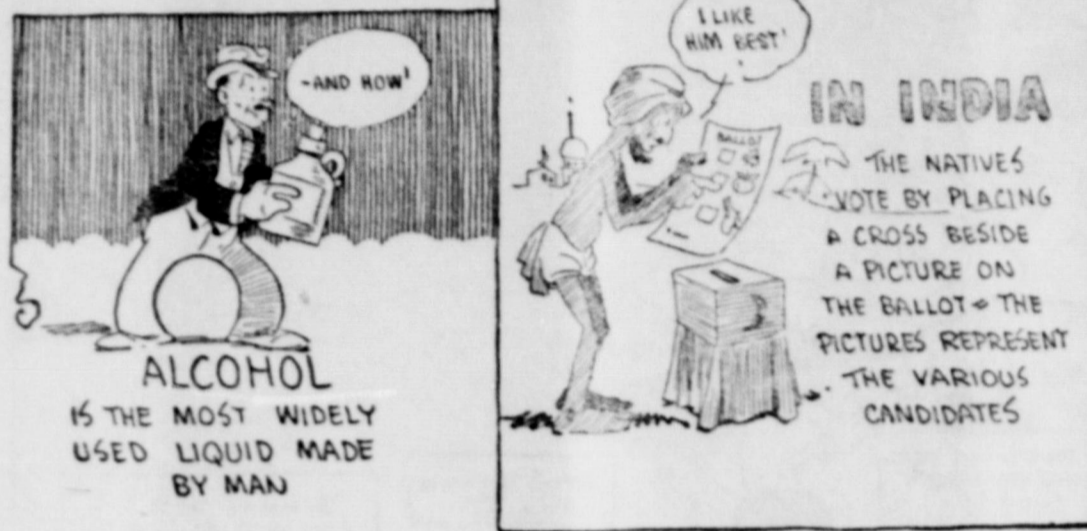

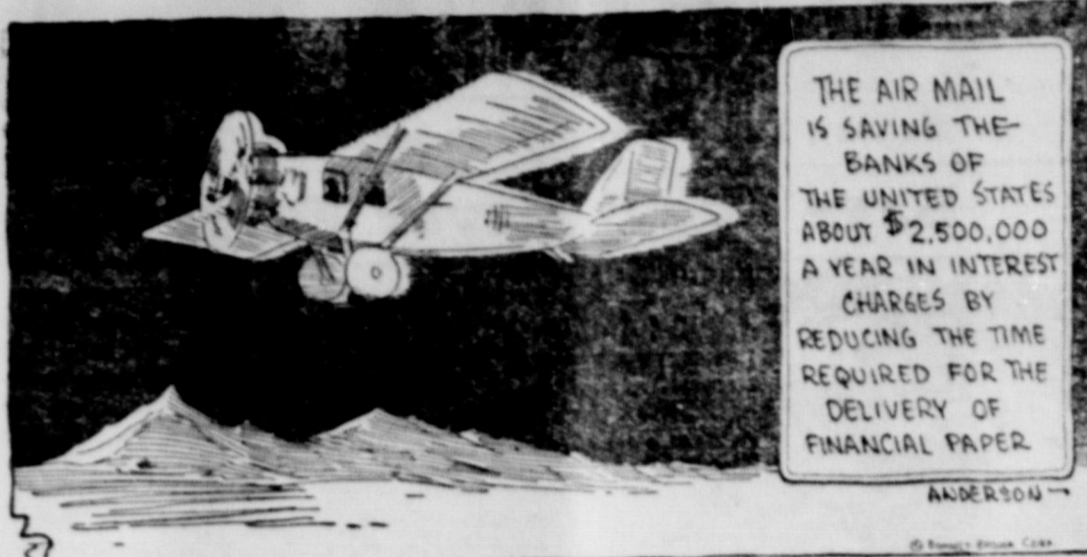

"Suddenly the war and the slump was transformed into a boom! But don't imagine the boom was any panic. To be sure, the orders rolled in from every side, but prices of raw material sky-rocketed, our capital was limited, and I went out my shoes and got grey headed borrowing money from one bank to pay back another."

"Then the war ended, and we took an awful beating in our inventory. Then the 1929-22 depression. Then another boom."

"And now this. 'It would be advantageous to my boy, I believe, if he were familiar with this sequence of events, if he knew the ups and downs not only of modern business but of business through the ages. Maybe he would come into life without the illusion which has handicapped so many of us—that there is any such thing as 'normal' in the sense of permanently settled conditions and uninterrupted progress."

I thought these were very wise remarks. As far back as I can remember I have been hoping and planning for a time when I should be "comfortably fixed." At first I thought if I could ever accumulate $20,000 in good safe bonds I'd have an income of $1,000 a year and then I could look out with philosophic calm upon the follies of the world.

The only progress I have made during the past three years has been in health. I try to ride horseback more, swim more, play more golf, and keep generally tough and supple. I'm quite sure that as long as I live I shall have to keep hustling—that just about the time I get everything nicely fixed something will happen.

JOHN VEALE WHEAT.

I wish to express my appreciation to the voters of the 50th Judicial District for the consideration given to my candidacy for District Attorney during the primary election. Especially do I wish to thank those who saw fit to honor me with their vote.

The most pleasing thing to me was the hospitality extended to me on every hand. I have taken up the practice of law in the County and District of my nativity—as a young man I have cast my lot with my own people. It is very encouraging to find those people friendly, hospitable, and sincerely interested in their young men—I believe that the people of this District are my friends and although a majority of you seemed to think the advancement I asked was too great at this time, I suggest that your attitude might be different should I again seek political favor at your hands.

I congratulate my opponents for their campaigns and especially for the cleanliness with which they were conducted. I have not expressed a preference as between my two opponents who have gone into the run off and do not intend to do so as it is no longer "my race" and I do not intend to embarrass those who saw fit to vote for me by saying which of my opponents I now favor. So I make the statement publicly that any report you might hear to the effect that I am supporting either of my friends is untrue and unfounded in fact.

Sincerely yours,
 JOHN VEALE WHEAT.

(1) Within the first year of the redemption period upon the payment of the amount of money paid for the land, including One ($1.00) Dollar Tax Deed Recording Fee and all taxes, penalties, interest and costs paid plus not exceeding twenty-five (25%) per cent of the aggregate total;

CRAZY CRYSTALS

"We want to let you know how much CRAZY CRYSTALS have done for us. My husband has been sick for one year and a half with rheumatism and his father for six months with the same. I was the only one able to work. I was beginning with pains in my knees, then we heard over the radio about CRAZY CRYSTALS, so we got one box. They helped me a lot. I feel better than I have for a long time. My husband feels better than he did when he took baths and medicine. His father is 70 years old, but feels better than he has for three or four winters. We are going to get another box tomorrow.

JACK ALBIN

Jack Albin Predicts Great Future for New Musician

New York City—Somewhere in America there is a musical genius of the new school who will emerge to rival Wagner in the arrangement of harmonious orchestration. This is the prediction of Jack Albin, musical director.

"Development of the art of arranging is the next step in the evolution of modern popular music," says Mr. Albin. "At this moment, the creative growth of popular music is at a stand-still. We have come to the point where America must develop a new musical art—the art of arranging. A few pioneer arrangers have ventured into this new field. The financial returns they are receiving will attract more talent to this specialized field.

"Whether the Wagnerian genius will arise from one of these, or whether he will spring up from the unknown, I cannot say. But he will come—and soon."

Mr. Albin points out that arrangers of late are not hindered by precedent, but are free to create brilliantly with no hampering prototypes to check their talent. Many of the orchestrations made by American jazz arrangers, he says, are now being used in European universities to teach harmony.

"It Goes Like This That Funny Melody," a foxtrot song is an instance of an interesting arrangement," he illustrates. "After all, Johannes Brahms and Franz Liszt were only arrangers of the folk tunes of Austria and Hungary. They made elaborate arrangements of these folk dances which have lived on and on. Somewhere an American arranger will come forward who will do the same with our folk tunes. The arrangement of 'It Goes Like This That Funny Melody' while not yet in the class of Brahms or Liszt, is a great step forward. It has many new ideas.

"A specially interesting one imitates political speeches of the day in figures characteristic of each instrument. Curtis is expressed in the clarinet; Robinson, a trumpet with bold tones; Walker, saxophone jazz; Dawes, blustering trombone and Coolidge four bars of silence."

Mr. Albin has studied mechanical engineering, and his genius for exactness and feeling for balance is shown in his musical arrangements.

TEXAS RAILROADS PAY SUBSTANTIAL PART OF STATE'S TAX BURDEN

● Taxes is one of the large fixed charges connected with the operation of Texas railroads. From the standpoint of the welfare of state, counties and communities, railroad taxes are of much importance. This annual obligation must be met from the earning capacity of the rail carriers.

In 1931 the railroads of Texas paid a total of $8,303,108.47 in federal, state, county, municipal and miscellaneous taxes. The distribution of this amount to the various tax funds is shown below:

|                            | Amount Paid           | Per Cent of Total Tax Paid |
|----------------------------|-----------------------|----------------------------|
| U. S. Government.....      | $ 61,270.13          | .74                        |
| State .....                | 1,954,435.47          | 23.54                      |
| County .....               | 1,146,669.97          | 13.81                      |
| Roads .....                | 1,699,764.15          | 20.47                      |
| Improvement Districts..... | 175,606.87            | 2.12                       |
| Schools .....              | 1,437,152.74          | 17.31                      |
| Cities .....               | 1,792,994.61          | 21.59                      |
| Miscellaneous .....        | 35,214.59             | .42                        |
| Total.....          | $8,303,108.47 | 100.00              |

It can thus be seen that railroad taxes represent an important and indispensable factor in the economic life of our state. They help in a large measure to pay the expense of our state, county and municipal government, build and maintain highways, pay the cost of drainage and other improvements, and support our schools and educational institutions.

It is the desire of Texas railroads to extend this helpfulness to Texas counties and communities in carrying this heavy burden. However, their ability to meet these obligations as they become due depends upon their ability to earn sufficient revenue with which to pay this and other heavy expenses connected with their operation.

● RAILROADS HAVE ALWAYS SHOULDERED THEIR SHARE OF RESPONSIBILITIES TO THE NATION, THE STATE, AND THE CITIES AND COMMUNITIES THEY SERVE, AND WILL CONTINUE TO DO SO TO THE EXTENT OF THEIR ABILITY.

Henry Coody

By Walter Cousins

Good men are being called by the grim reaper every day. Only yesterday came the news of the death of an old timer, not of the drug trade, but a pioneer who did his bit in the process of civilizing the west and blazing the way for the merchant who followed. We refer to Henry Coody of the Wichita River country, a personal friend for more than 30 years, and a man with a heart as big as a figure in the ranges 30 years ago, a superb horseman in whose estimation no horse was bad except in the sense that he was made bad by some man who knew less than the horse. I recall him a few days ago as an entrant in the old timer's roping contest at Stamford. Mounted on a big dunn horse, and in spite of his 68 years he handled his horse and his lariats as deftly as a man thirty years younger. As I looked on I thought "what a small dent 30 years have made in Henry Coody." Today he has joined the big roundup beyond the hills. Today we recall one good act in the life of Henry Coody that would redeem him of any other act of his life that might be criticized. In the Spring of 1899 we were trailing a long herd of N. M. steers to Oklahoma. We had driven them a long distance without water, they had not had a drop since we left the Brazos going north, they were getting mean, they were starving for water. We came to a lonesome looking, little half dugout in the brakes of the Wichita's. There was a small tank with a little water in it. The trail boss asked Henry Coody if he could water the herd, to me a more impossible proposition was never heard of. He had his own cattle to think about, and water was scarce. He scratched his head and looked at our herd, he knew if that herd ever got to the alkali water of the Wichita river that most of them would die on the spot, he said "turn 'em in." When we drove that herd out he did not have one drop of water, he had a muddy place in the bottom of the tank where the water had been. He cast his eyes over the skies in which there was not a cloud in a thousand miles and said "maybe it will rain" that night there came a rain as I have never seen fall before nor since. Whether or not the hand of the Great Father was in this I would not pretend to say, but this act on the part of Henry Coody has stuck with me. I reminded him of the incident 30 years after it happened, his entire comment on the matter was "The M. N.'s gave me a job over when I was hungry." In paying this little tribute I do not claim that a grizzled veteran of the range was an angel, he was not, he had his faults, and his enemies just like other men. However, the fact remains that millions of men have gone through life with its opportunities for practicing the Golden Rule whose entire credit in the ledger of the recording angel will not total with this one act. I have heard eminent divines preach from dripping sanctuaries, to congregations clad in purple and fine linen, I have listened to the lowly circuit rider delineate the character of the Nazarine to men gathered around a chuck wagon, yet to me this one act constituted the greatest sermon that ever got to my conscious nature.

John H. Perry, nationally known publisher, offers an original plan to displace income, inheritance and estate tax by having European dollar notes pay us with alcoholic beverages—which would net Uncle Sam four billion dollars.

DO YOU SUFFER FROM MORBUS SABBATICUS?

On The Sunday School Lesson.

Morbus Sabbaticus attacks the patient suddenly every Sunday; no symptoms are felt on Saturday night, some have so much energy that even after a hard day's work Saturday, they must go to a dance—just for the exercise. The patient sleeps well, wakes feeling well; eats a hearty breakfast; but about church time the attack comes on and continues until services are over for the morning. Then the patient feels easy and eats a hearty dinner. In the afternoon he feels much better and is able to go for a drive, for a round of golf, or go to a ball game. He eats a hearty supper, but about church time he has another attack and stays at home. He plays a few hands of bridge or retires early; sleeps well, and wakes up Monday morning refreshed and able to go to work and does not have any symptoms of the disease until the following Sunday. Some of its peculiar features are as follows:

1. It even attacks church members.
2. It never makes its appearance except on Sunday.
3. The symptoms vary but it never interferes with the appetite or sleep.
4. It never lasts more than twenty-four hours.
5. It sometimes attacks the head of the family.
6. It is contagious.
7. No physician is ever called.
8. Its bad effects settle in the soul.
9. Unless the remedy is applied, it becomes chronic and fatal.
10. The Love of Christ is the only remedy.

C. A. TUCKER.

Sheriff Arch Holmes, C. Jeter, City Marshal, and Fire Chief L. J. McCluskey, were in Munday this week. This combination would be hard to figure out, unless the Fire Chief was making campaign arrangements for Jim Ferguson.

Double Endorsement

Norman Thomas, presidential nominee of the Socialist party, is in fact a two-time candidate. The League of Independent Political Action, in convention at Cleveland, also named him their candidate as "infinitely preferable to those of other parties."

TO THE PEOPLE OF KNOX CO.

I take this method of thanking the people of Knox county for the majority given me in the recent election and assuring them that it was highly appreciated. I shall continue to give the same careful attention to the duties of the Treasurer's office and do all in my power to make you a creditable public servant.

HOW MUCH IS A DOLLAR?

A foolish question, you'll say, but, after all it isn't so foolish, for in reality a dollar's worth of any one commodity might represent various quantities.

Since there is no definite measure of what a dollar will buy, it is up to everyone to get the greatest value for their dollar, and the one and only way to determine just how and where this may be done is to keep a watch on prices of various commodities at numerous places in which they may be sold.

The Munday Times offers merchants of this community a practical and economical medium by which they may quote values that should appeal to frugal buyers. It offers the reader a medium through which he may determine just how much his dollar will buy.

If you fail to get the utmost value for your dollar you are doing yourself an injustice. You may always learn where your dollar will buy most by consulting the advertising columns of The Munday Times, where you can not only see what values may be had, but may compare various items and prices with a view of making your dollar serve you to the fullest measure possible.
