Invitational Cage Tourney Opens Here

Basketball Test For Strong Teams In Area Provided

Results of opening games Thursday night in the invitational tournament here were: Bomarton 27, O'Brien 11; Rochester 26, Knox City 13; Seymour 27, Lone Star 24 (extra period); Munday 27, Vera 14.

With some of the preliminary games scheduled to be cleared away by play Thursday night, competition in the second annual invitational basketball tournament of the Munday High school was to swing into full action Friday afternoon and to continue virtually without interruption until the championship finals at the tabernaes Saturday night.

When entry lists closed Sunday, 19 teams had been accepted for competition in the event. Several other late entries from more distant points were rejected for the reason that the tournament had grown to such proportions that facilities were lacking for handling it, according to H. H. Riley, superintendent of schools here and in general charge of arrangements. Original plans were to start play in the tournament Friday afternoon. The unexpectedly large number of entries, however, necessitated a re-arrangement of plans, and with the consent of all concerned, teams from some of the nearer towns agreed to play Thursday night.

It was expected that the tournament would bring several hundred visitors to Munday during the play, including teachers, pupils, and supporters of various teams. The following order of play, arranged by drawing, was to be carried out, Mr. Riley announced:

- Second Round Games
- No. 1—Goree vs. Sunset, (Thursday night).
- No. 2—Woodson vs. Rule, 1 p. m. Friday.
- No. 3—Robby vs. Benjamin, 2 p. m. Friday.
- No. 4—Winners Lone Star-Seymour and Bomarton-O'Brien games, 3 p. m. Friday.
- No. 5—Munday-Vera winner vs. Brockmorton, 6 p. m. Friday.
- No. 6—Tanner Point vs. Allendale, 7 p. m. Friday.
- No. 7—Truscott vs. Hamlin, 8 p. m. Friday.
- No. 8—Rochester vs. Knox City, 9 p. m. Friday.

Third Round Games

Politics Begin To Warm Up for County Offices

Politics began warming up during the past week in Knox county when three office holders made their formal announcements they will be candidates for re-election while most of the others declared they expected to make announcements within the next few days.

Roy Phillips, district clerk, was the first to take the plunge, and right behind him came J. T. (Uncle Trav) House, county treasurer. Both announced for re-election to the offices they now hold.

Another to take the plunge was Earl Sams, county tax assessor. While a brief visit to Benjamin during the week and momentary absences of some of the officials from their offices prevented consultation with all county office holders, those called upon all indicated an expectation of again announcing.

C. E. Elliott, sheriff; T. W. Templeton, county attorney; M. T. Chamberlain, county clerk; and Miss Sarah Wright, county tax collector, each declared their expectation of again being candidates. They said that they expect to announce their platforms early in February.

FARM SHORT COURSE ASSURED IN MUNDAY

WARNING GIVEN TO WATCH FOR CHICKEN THIEVES FOLLOWING RAIDS ON ROOSTS IN MUNDAY

A warning to owners of poultry in the Munday territory to be on the lookout for chicken thieves was given after at least four hen roosts had been raided during the last week-end.

Officers were of the opinion that the thefts were committed by "professionals" operating probably out of some larger town or city. The value to the owners of the chickens stolen probably will run to well above $100, although the poultry, if sold on the prevailing produce market, would bring considerably less than that figure.

Heaviest of the losers was Dr. Joe Davis, who lost 18 Plymouth Rock hens—all breeding stock. Dr. Davis, for the last three or four years, had been culling his flock carefully, and 24 of the Plymouth Rocks represented the results of his efforts. He had just reached the point, he explained, where he planned to incubate all the eggs the flock produced and to reap the results of the several years of development. Some of the hens stolen were poultry show trophy winners.

From the home of Sied Waheed, six of a flock of 15 blooded Rhode Island Reds were taken while he and Mrs. Waheed were calling at the home of relatives. Mr. Waheed also lost Patsy, a German police pup about the size of a young Shetland pony, the same night. He isn't certain, however, whether the dog was stolen by the chicken thieves, or whether she strayed and was picked up by a passing motorist.

Other chicken thief victims were Lawrence Kegley and Ambrose Worthington. Mr. Kegley lost a number of chickens, while eight turkeys and several capons were stolen from the Worthington place.

Poll Tax Receipt Total Reaches 683 In County

A total of 683 poll tax receipts had been issued in Knox county up to early in the week, of which 147 were to residents of the two Munday voting precincts, according to the information given by Miss Sarah Wright, county tax collector.

Usually, about 3,000 to 3,200 receipts are issued in Knox in anticipation of warm election years, Miss Wright said. She expects that the late rush of payments will bring the 1932 figure around that total.

Receipts issued, by precincts, are: Benjamin, 69; Truscott, 43; Gilliland, 29; Vera, 75; Goree, 88; North Munday, 52; South Munday, 30; Bryan, 60; Gillespie, 30; Knox City, 110; Hefner, 28; and Brock 4.

Flock Receives Too Much Credit Declares Owner

Mrs. C. L. Mayes is proud of her flock of 28 Tancered White Leghorn hens—but not quite so proud as an item which appeared in last week's issue of the Times might lead one to indicate.

The item related that her flock of April hatched hens laid 78 dozen eggs during October. It should have said the eggs were laid during the two months of October and November.

J. R. REEVES BUILDS

J. R. Reeves, who moved back to Munday with his family a short time ago after having resided in Mineral Wells for some time, is building a new home on his place beyond the east edge of town. The residence is to be modern throughout.

Earl Sams Enters For Reelection As Tax Assessor

We are this week carrying the announcement of Earl Sams as a candidate for re-election to the office of Tax Assessor of Knox County.

Mr. Sams is too well known to the voters to need any further introduction. He is running on the record that he has made in this office and feels that because of his familiarity and acquaintance with Knox County property, he is in position to give the taxpayers a fair valuation on all property in the county.

In addition, he wishes, at this time, to present his position on the constitutional amendments, affecting the tax assessor's office, which will be voted on at the November election.

He favors the homestead tax exemption amendment on the grounds that it will furnish some relief for the man of moderate means who owns his home or is paying it out. He favors the amendment to combine the office of tax assessor and the tax collector as a matter of economy to the taxpayers. The hardest work of the two offices comes at different times in the year and they could be combined so that one person could handle the work of both without decreasing the efficiency of either.

Mr. Sams will endeavor to see all the voters in the county in person and will appreciate your support.

Gillespie Home Club Women To Name Officers

New officers are to be elected and work for the approaching year planned at a meeting of Gillespie Home Demonstration club members at the Sunset school auditorium Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. An special invitation has been extended to ladies of the different community centers to be present and to help in the club organization. The new year's program is described as being one of unusual importance to farm women.

Amarillo Mayor Enters Race for Congress Place

Col. Ernest O. Thompson, Amarillo mayor, has formally announced for the Democratic nomination for one of the three places as congressman at large from Texas, according to a letter to the Munday Times. Mr. Thompson is described in the announcement as "Amarillo's fighting mayor who has made good 100 per cent on his campaign promises."

Legion Here Asks Full Compensation

A telegram to state headquarters of the American Legion to the effect that the membership of the post here is unanimously behind legislation authorizing the government to pay the entire balance of the compensation certificate was forwarded to Austin during the week, according to Frank Decker, post commander.

The passage of the legislation would be putting more than $95,000,000 into circulation by Texas Legionnaires alone, it was declared.

Nationally Known Authorities Will Conduct Course

A farm short course during which four internationally known dirt-farm authorities will appear is to be presented in Munday on Thursday and Friday, Feb. 18 and 19.

The course is one arranged and financed by the agricultural extension department of the International Harvester company, and Munday becomes one of the six communities in the Sweetwater district of West Texas in which it will be presented this year. Thirteen towns and cities in the area had applied for the course.

Morning, afternoon and evening sessions are to be held each of the two days of the course, and admission to all will be free. The only obligations assumed by the citizenship of Munday in connection with the provision of a hall which may be darkened for the showing of motion pictures and the giving of publicity to the event.

Arrangements for bringing the course here were completed Tuesday afternoon at a conference attended by a group of local business men and F. J. Wolfe, advance representative of the harvester company.

Assurance that Munday would be given the course this year was immediately followed by the forming of a skeleton organization which will seek to make the event one of four-county scope. The course is the only one to be presented by the Harvester group in this territory. R. D. Rawls, secretary of the chamber of commerce, and J. A. Kennedy were made chairman and vice chairman respectively of the executive committee in general charge.

Those who are to present the programs will come to Munday from Midland, and from here will go to Spur for the presentation of a similar course there. Mr. Wolfe announced.

Members of the short course crew who will be at the meeting are H. S. Mobley, L. A. Hawkins, John M. Hannon and Grace Fawcett Smith. The speakers will use moving pictures, large charts and lantern slides to illustrate their subjects.

"This course is strictly educational," Mr. Wolfe emphasized in a brief talk to assembled business men here. "All talks will be wholly free of sales or advertising. There will be no machinery exhibits or demonstrations. That is why we

Jurors Called For Service In County Court

Eighteen jurors have been summoned to appear in county court at Benjamin on Jan. 25, when a docket of civil and criminal cases will be called, according to M. T. Chamberlain, county clerk.

Those summoned for service are L. L. Davis, L. W. Graham, W. M. Griffith, D. H. Henry, C. C. Hoge, J. C. Reeder, Emmett Partridge, M. M. Henderson, R. S. Brannon, J. L. Galloway, Charles Moorhouse, J. C. Jackson, N. S. Kilgore, J. A. McCandless, H. M. Baird, L. B. Bates, J. D. Cook and Ollie Ilsen.

MRS. GARRETT UNIMPROVED

Mrs. A. P. Garrett of Abilene, who has been in a critical condition there, was unimproved Thursday, according to word from her sister, Mrs. W. H. Chapman, who is at the bedside. John McKenzie, of Munday, her father, who went to Abilene that week in response to a message from Mrs. Garrett had suffered a stroke, has returned to his home here.

KNOX COUNTY CLERK IS A BOOSTER

Cupid's Business Slumps In 1931

FOR THE MARRIAGE LICENSE LAW

Despite the fact that fewer than one third as many marriage licenses were issued in Knox county last year as during an average year before a new marriage law went into effect about three years ago, M. T. Chamberlain, Knox county clerk, is one of those who believe the law was a move in the right direction.

The county clerk, it might be added, is the one individual who stands to lose most when the number of marriage licenses take a decline. The fees derived from the sale of such licenses contribute to the fees of office which go to make up the compensation of the county clerk.

During the past year, a total of 53 licenses were issued in Knox county, as compared with 65 the year before. The small decrease during 1931 as compared with 1930 is smaller proportionally than most West Texas counties. However, during 1928, when the old marriage license law was in effect, 165 licenses were issued in the county—and the law did not go into effect until June of that year.

HEAVY DOCKET OF CIVIL AND CRIMINAL CASES AWAIT TERM OF DISTRICT COURT FEB. 15TH

Roy Phillips Asks Second Term As District Clerk

Roy Phillips has authorized the Times to announce his candidacy for re-election to the office of District Clerk, subject to the action of the Democratic primaries.

Mr. Phillips is now serving his first term as District Clerk, and has faithfully discharged the duties of the office, and the experience he has acquired during this first term will enable him to render more efficient service in the future than in the past, and he promises the faithful discharge of all duties pertaining to this office if he is again honored with the position.

Roy was reared in the Munday community, and is too well known in this community to need any introduction on our part, and we commend his candidacy to the citizens of the county.

While the primaries are several months ahead, he wishes to make known his candidacy at this time and, while he may not be in position to get around to see the voters for some time, he plans to make an extensive canvass of the county at a later date, and in the meantime he wants his many friends to know that he is a candidate for re-election, and will appreciate their support and influence.

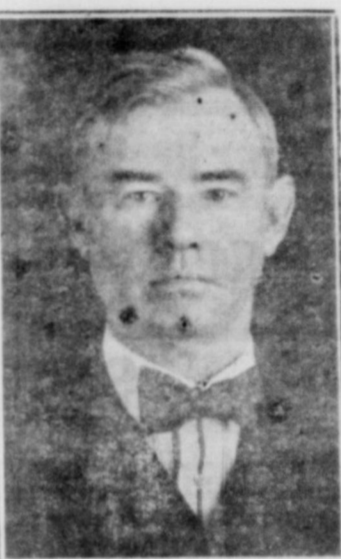

Sheriff Mixes With Mule and Emerges Second

Sheriff C. R. Elliott attempted to impede the progress of a mule, and as a result he—the sheriff—limps and sets his hat on at an angle.

The animal was about to emerge from a pen at Knox City when it became frightened. The sheriff, who was standing at the gate, was knocked down and trampled. Mr. Elliott emerged from the experience with a bruised leg and side and with a gash on his head. The injuries were not serious and he has gone about his duties as usual.

HEADS BANK

C. L. MAYES

County Finance Condition Gains Says Treasurer

The financial condition of Knox county is in much better shape now than at this time last year, according to the assertion of "Uncle Trav" House, veteran county treasurer and a resident of the county for 49 years.

Each of the individual funds is in better shape, and with one or two exceptions, are "out of the red", he added.

Two factors are credited by Uncle Trav with having brought about the improved condition. One has been the "cutting of corners" in the expenses of operating county government. The other has been that the installment tax law brought in more early tax payments than ever before. In addition, he asserted, the waiving of penalty and interest on delinquent taxes, if paid before Feb. 1, has had a tendency to bring revenue from that source.

Uncle Trav, incidentally, is not one of those inclined to the opinion that present times are the hardest ever.

"If folks, in times that we considered good in the old day, could have had the things that folks have now, we would have thought we were in Paradise sure enough," Uncle Trav asserted. "The trouble is that folks want too many things, and most of the things they want aren't good for their health or their peace of mind. People who say that we are passing thru the worst times ever are just mistaken. I've seen lots harder times right here in Knox county."

"I don't mean to say that times are good, because they aren't. But they will improve, just as, in the past, depressions have been followed by prosperity."

Retail Prices of Eggs at a Low Mark in Munday

Retail egg prices were to drop to the lowest figure in probably 20 years or longer, according to old timers, with the announcement of a local establishment that they were to be sold "over the counter" at two dozen for 15 cents this week end. The eggs offered are "fresh country."

The lowest previous retail price that some of the older residents could recall were 10 cents per dozen.

Eggs were bringing eight cents per dozen at produce houses toward the close of the week, while most of the business establishments were offering 10 cents in trade.

Because she had a fall garden Mrs. H. C. Whitley, 4-H pantry demonstrator of Hodges Community, Hockley county, was able to use canned stuff to feed cotton pickers last fall and to re-fill her pantry from the late vegetables.

C. L. Mayes Heads New Institution Organized Here

Announcement that a charter had been granted to the First National Bank in Munday and that, effective last Monday morning, the new institution acquired the assets and assumed the deposits of the First National Bank of Munday and the First National Bank of Goree was followed during the week here by a marked rise in views held by business men and farmers of the area toward the future.

The combining of the two banks into the one, it was declared, was carried out both for reasons of economy in carrying on the business, and in the belief that the new institution would provide a strengthened bank, able to fully and better serve the banking needs of the Munday and Goree territories.

The nature of the response to the maneuver was reflected, it was announced, in the fact that on Monday, new deposits were approximately $20,000. One of the first acts of the board of directors of the bank in Munday was the decision that no monthly service charge will be made upon small checking accounts.

The First National Bank in Munday entered into business with a capitalization of $25,000 and a surplus of $5,000, all fully subscribed and paid in, and representing entirely new capital. In addition, the bank has as further resources all the assets of the First National Banks of Munday and Goree, it was added.

The new set up of officials and directors of the institution brings into active management and supervision of its business affairs men of wide experience and with established reputations for conservatism in banking, and who are thoroughly familiar with banking needs in the territory served.

Officials of the new institution are C. L. Mayes, mayor of Munday and a pioneer here, president; Tom Isbell, who was president of the bank of Goree, vice president; H. A. Pendleton, of Munday, vice president; E. W. McGlothlin of Munday, vice president and cashier; and Ira Bowden, assistant cashier.

The connection of Mr. Mayes, who has not been affiliated with either institution, will be inactive. That of the other officials will be active, it was announced.

Members of the board of directors of the new institution, addi-

J. T. House Again To Seek County Treasurer Post

The Times is authorized to announce the candidacy of J. T. (Uncle Trav) House for re-election to the office of County Treasurer of Knox County, subject to the action of the democratic primaries.

Uncle Trav has served the county in this capacity for the past several years, and has made a capable and efficient officer, always keeping the records of his office in fine shape and looking after every detail pertaining to his duties, and always courteous to those who have business with his office.

Uncle Trav belongs to that type of western citizenship who possess an individual friendliness toward all mankind. Indeed, he belongs to the old west, having engaged in the ranching business in this section in the early days, and he has never ceased to possess that western hospitality that causes a fellow to feel kindly toward men of his type.

In authorizing his announcement, Uncle Trav states that he has not heard of anyone anticipating making the race against him, and if there be those who are considering it, he isn't giving any encouragement to them, as he much prefers to run this race out by himself. Anyway, he wants his many friends over the county to know that he is a candidate for re-election and will, as usual, appreciate any assistance accorded him during the campaign.

Only eight days are left during which to procure ringside seats to the biggest political circus of the last generation. Those who have failed to procure their poll tax receipts by midnight on January 30 will find themselves on the outside looking in when other voters make their numerous trips to the polls during 1932.

Undoubtedly, the $1.75 that a receipt costs looks pretty big. But this year, it will buy a whole lot. And it is doubtful if the entire history of the nation can produce a time when honest, intelligent voting is as badly needed as now.

Citizens of the type who make up the population of Knox county and others nearby represent the very highest of citizenship. They are the very type who should pay their poll tax, and yet are the very ones, because of adverse conditions, most likely to neglect that duty. They aren't the ones who collect graft. They are the ones who pay it. If there is extravagance in government, they don't get fat jobs. They pay the salary of politicians who do get the jobs. You can safely bet that those politicians and all their henchmen will be prepared to vote. The value of the ring controller's vote is increased in direct proportion to the number of good, conscientious citizens who fail to pay their poll tax.

If ever there has been a time when it is a real duty for honest men and women to be prepared to have their say in the affairs of state, that time is now.

FREE LUNCH

People generally probably have enough woes of their own without listening to those of others. Business and professional men, in particular, meet their share of individuals who are seeking something for nothing.

Granting those facts, it would be difficult to persuade the average newspaper editor that any individual in any line of endeavor encounters as many people as does the editor who seems to operate under the theory that his business is a free lunch counter. The number and the wiles resorted to by those who seek free space for advertising matter long ago ceased to be even an irritant to the average editor. About the only objection that might be raised is that the publicity stuff fills wastepaper baskets that might be used for better material.

In that connection, let it be explained that a newspaper has just one commodity to sell, and on which its existence depends. That commodity is—space in its publication. Space in a newspaper is as much its merchandise as are the canned goods on the shelf of a grocery store.

The Munday Times has religiously followed the policy of dumping into the waste basket the space-filling publicity sent out by big hearted concerns which want to advertise their product at the newspaper's expense. Not only at the expense of the newspaper, but frequently at the expense of the local merchant because publicity often is sought for some commodity, enterprise or service which would be in direct competition with the home-town business man.

In spite of the fact that The Times never uses such publicity, a mail seldom arrives without bringing a quota of such materials. We venture to say that The Times has remained for years and still is, on the mailing list of publicity bureaus which send their junk regularly although not one line of it has ever appeared in the columns of the paper.

One of the most persistent of such would be space grafters operates under the misleading name of some sort of institute. Its publicity never mentions a name of any specified business concern, but it does suggest a number of recipes in the preparation of which one specified commodity—in this case pineapple, must be used. We often wonder how much that "institute" has spent for postage to help The Times keep a full waste basket.

Another scheme which caused the editor to wonder if he is as big a chump as he looks came from a monthly farm publication. That concern wanted $100 worth of advertising space. In exchange, The Times was to receive credit for 100 subscriptions to that farm paper. The stipulation was that those subscriptions were to be sold at not more than 20 cents each, and then only under certain conditions. In other words, The Times was to trade $100 worth of its merchandise for $20 in maybe so money.

Then there is the office holder who wants to remain in office, or wants a better job. His policy is to send in something worth perhaps an inch or two as news. But he invariably stretches whatever he offers to a column or so of bunk obviously designed to leave the impression it would be downright disaster if the voters should decide to dispense with his services. If he is trying to play politics, as undoubtedly he is, any editor can tell him he is playing it very poorly. Instead of getting into print with the type of item most read—one brief and to the point—he gets nothing at all.

Another big contributor to the volume of the editor's mail is the concern which wants to announce its radio programs, and of more importance to the concern, to increase the number of persons who will hear the virtues of their particular commodity extolled. Likewise the editor hears from hotels which want space. In exchange the editor can have the use of a room at that hotel if one happens to be vacant and if he doesn't want his room on Saturdays, Sundays, holidays, during the rush season, or when a convention or some other big event is going on.

One pleasing feature about the whole thing is that an editor seldom has reason to complain of his home merchants. On the contrary, experience in Munday has been that the best advertisers lean backwards in that respect. They often fail to inform the editor of matters which would be of real news value. The fact that such an item may have some advertising value to some business concern detracts nothing from its worth as news of the type the paper most desires.

Of the home town merchant it can be said that he seldom tries to "put something over" by getting advertising into print under the guise of news. He may be mistaken as to what is news and what is advertising, but his mistake is an honest one. That cannot be said of most of the so called publicity bureaus. Their one excuse for existence is their ability to get something for nothing—something which not only costs the editor in hard cash, but which will be detrimental to the business of the community as a whole.

Spiritual Birth Subject Lesson At Bible Class

Just as man never has been able to explain the natural birth, although knowing by physical facts of its reality, so does he know of the actuality of the spiritual birth, members of the Men's Bible class of the First Methodist church were told Sunday by M. F. Billingsley, their teacher.

Selecting his subject matter from the incident surrounding "a man of the Pharisees, named Nicodemus, a ruler of the Jews" who went to Jesus by night, Mr. Billingsley declared that every circumstance surrounding the life of man after his spiritual birth proves the reality of that birth.

"Jesus said, 'that which is born of flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit,'" Mr. Billingsley continued. "Jesus said also, as he talked to Nicodemus, 'the wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it cometh, and whither it goeth: so is everyone born of the Spirit.'"

"Probably there isn't one of us who cannot recall in our own experience some individual, a sinner, in whom the spiritual birth has taken place. We can recall that he has done an 'about face' in his way of living. Those things which he formerly enjoyed ceased to have an appeal for him. We may not know why or what has occurred, but we know a change has taken place. Just as leaves in the wind tell us the direction in which the wind blows, so do the deeds of his daily life tell us that he has been born again."

"Jesus and the Samaritan Woman", from the fourth chapter of St. John, is to be the subject of next Sunday's lesson, it was announced.

Jack Whitaker Is Given Promotion By Utilities Co.

Jack Whitaker, for six years district line foreman of the West Texas Utilities company and who has become during his residence of several years here one of Munday's most esteemed citizens, is completing his removal to Truscott this week, where he has been named manager of the Truscott and Benjamin offices of the company. He also will continue as district line foreman.

Mr. Whitaker and the children will leave for Truscott to make their new home Friday or Saturday.

The regard felt here toward Mr. Whitaker was reflected recently in his election as chief of the Munday fire department. The vacancy created by his departure has not been filled.

While rejoicing at Mr. Whitaker's promotion, citizens of Munday joined in expressing keen regret at his removal from the community.

Cotton In Transit Is Being Damaged McDonald Reports

Austin, Texas, Jan. 14.—Great loss is being suffered by cotton owners through damage to cotton while in transit to ports and in storage through lack of protection from rain and dirt, J. E. McDonald, Commissioner of Agriculture, declared after an inspection trip to ports of concentration, mainly Galveston and Houston.

"The cotton is raggy, wet and dirty, and it is not a commodity to be proud to own," he commented.

Cotton farmers and owners were warned to exercise diligent care in protecting their cotton from the elements. Each week thousands of bales of cotton reach Houston and Galveston damaged and must be opened, picked clean of the ruined cotton and re-baled, as said. Owners of the cotton, in many instances, are suffering a loss of from five to one hundred pounds per bale, Commissioner McDonald said.

"Farmers and other owners of cotton should see to it that their cotton goes directly from the gin into a rainproof warehouse, and that while in transit it is well protected from rain and dirt," the commissioner warned.

American Legion Honors Football Team at Banquet

Members of the American Legion football team and their guests were honored at a banquet tendered by Lowry post of the Legion, held Monday night at the Munday hotel.

An excellent, though brief program, was presented during the banquet. Dr. E. M. Ammons asked the invocation, and during the dinner hour, a three-piece orchestra comprised of Mrs. Joe Davis, Mrs. J. A. Kennedy and U. R. Houser played.

Following the dinner, R. D. Atkinson, the toastmaster, introduced Dr. Joe Davis who, on behalf of the Legion, expressed the post's appreciation for the efforts of members of the football team during the past season. Those comprising the team, he pointed out, are not themselves members of the Legion, having been too young for world war service. They, however, willingly responded when the suggestion was made that the independent football team be organized. All proceeds from games played, above necessary expenses, went to the Legion post. Dr. Davis emphasized that while the players are ineligible to belong to the Legion, they represent the type of manhood the Legion desires for its own membership.

Paul Pruitt responded briefly on behalf of the members of the team.

Another feature of the dinner was the reading of an original poem by Mrs. E. M. Ammons. A singsong was the closing number.

Following the dinner, those present were guest of the Legion post and og P. V. Williams, manager of the Roxy theatre, at the picture show.

Republican In Governor's Race

The Braswells were enroute to Hamlin, where Mr. Braswell was scheduled for an address before the Lions Club, he being district governor of Lions. Mrs. Braswell and Mrs. Ammons were girlhood chums in Wisconsin and later in New Mexico, and they enjoy their visits together immensely. Mr. Braswell has for many years been publisher of the Clarion News, one of the leading newspapers of West Texas. Enroute home from Hamlin they stopped for breakfast and a brief visit with Dr. and Mrs. Ammons on Wednesday morning.

W. O. Wallace of Quanah was here Tuesday looking after business matters with the local office of the West Texas Utilities Co.

REPLACING HOME

Work was started during the week on a modern, four-room bungalow on the Partridge estate six miles west of town which will be occupied by G. Swanner and family. G. H. Beaty of Munday is in charge of construction. The former home was destroyed with most of its contents by fire which broke out as they were finishing Christmas dinner.

THE TOM-TOM

The volume of other news of "spot" nature necessitated the omission from this issue of one of The Times' most popular features—The Tom-Tom prepared weekly by the students of the High School. The fact that considerable space has been devoted to a High School activity, the basketball tournament, may make up in part for leaving out this feature. The news of the school activities, however, will be included in the Tom-Tom of next week.

Jimmy Ryan of Burkburnett was making after business matters here Tuesday.

Mayor J. B. Jones of Benjamin was a visitor in the city Wednesday afternoon.

Drill and Firing Squad Organized

Decision to organize a drill and firing squad among members of the Lowry post of the American Legion here was reached at the regular meeting of the Legion post. Mart Hardin was chosen captain of the squad.

An order for 20 government rifles to be used by the squad has been placed. Caps for the squad also were ordered. No attempt will be made for some time to come to equip the members of the squad with uniforms.

Routine reports were made at the meeting and the business session followed by the regular lunch. The drill and firing squad which was organized will function at funerals, ceremonials and similar occasions.

The woods seem full of candidates for county commission in the Knox City precinct, according to Will Griffith, present commissioner, who was a business visitor in Munday during the week. Three already are in the race with the prospect of others.

"I've been CHASING YOU 12 miles...."

to tell You You've Lost Your Oil"

Two cars raced along the highway east of Abilene, Texas. The second driver finally overtook the leader and signaled to stop.

"I've been chasing you twelve miles to tell you you've lost your oil," he called to J. W. Bell. Mr. Bell found that a rock in the road had knocked a hole in the crankcase, allowing the Conoco Germ Processed Oil to drain out.

But examination of the motor showed no damage done. The "Hidden Quart" had protected the motor!

Only Conoco Germ Processed Oil offers the extra protection of the "Hidden Quart" that stays up in your motor and never drains away.

Only Germ Processed Oil actually penetrates and combines with metal surfaces.

You need that extra protection during the starting period, when almost half your motor wear occurs. Oils not Germ Processed drain away, leaving parts unprotected. Germ Processed Oil stays on the job to cut down starting wear, giving your motor longer life, with fewer repair bills. It is the safest, surest lubrication you can buy.

Change to Germ Processed Oil now at the sign of the Conoco Red Triangle.

We neither encourage "dry crankcase" experiments nor guarantee success under all conditions. But unsolicited letters from motorists, now in our files, tell of this and hundreds of other runs with empty crankcases but without damage.
