Rhineland Wins Easy Victory Over Munday

Both Munday and Rhineland brought forth some new talent in the way of pitchers Sunday when Rhineland smothered the Munday aggregation to the tune of 21 to 7. The game was all that could be asked for until the sixth inning, with Munday one run in the lead, but in this frame a number of errors proved expensive and from there on out it was Rhineland's game without any argument. In the array of pitchers used by Skipper Mayes were Nick Bartlett, Lefty Freeman, Lloyd Bowden, McGraw and the Skipper himself. Rhineland also demonstrated that there was much hidden talent in the group composing that aggregation and Skipper Kuehler retailed by using Moore, Aug, Loran, Wilde, and closed by taking a few flings himself.

School Opening Postponed Until First of October

At a meeting of the school board on Wednesday it was definitely decided that school would not start before October 1st. The delay was made necessary by reason of the fact that the funds are not available to operate the school until tax-paying time and the further fact that the delay will enable the farmers of the community to get their cotton picking well under way. All teachers who have signed contracts have been notified of the delay and the possibility of a short term, and have been given the privilege of tendering their resignations in case they can find better positions. The board was reluctant to take this action, but deemed it absolutely necessary in the face of conditions. Supt. Riley has stated that students who attend the full six months term and do the required work will be given full credits.

Munday Golfers Compete in Tri-County Tourney

A goodly number of local golfers have been participating in the Tri-County tournament this week at Haskell, and present indications are that practically all have been eliminated from the competition. Bud Roberts looked like a winner in the first flight, but went down in defeat on Wednesday afternoon at the hands of A. H. Waite of Haskell, who goes into the finals today with Jack Wilson of Knox City, who is a member of the Munday club. Wilson went into the finals by defeating Roy Killingsworth of Haskell.

In the second flight Vincent Lane, another Munday youngster who makes the old heads wonder how they do it, is matched with Lem Bellows of Seymour for the honors in that flight. Vincent went into the finals by defeating E. J. Roberts, Sr., also of Munday. Among the Munday golfers who participated were L. E. Lovelless, Bud Roberts, Vincent Lane, E. J. Roberts, E. W. McGlothlin, Raymond Thomason, and Jack Wilson and Pannie Farmer of Knox City, both of whom are members of the Munday club. Pannie Farmer was looked upon as a real contender for first honors, but went down in his first match, however, he and Bud Roberts are tied for medalist honors, and the tie is to be played off today.

Weinert Turns Dope Bucket Over On Goree

The big upset in the Brazos Valley League Sunday came when Weinert, who has occupied the cellar throughout the first half of the season, and been down in the percentage column during the second half so far, defeated the first-half winners, Goree, to the tune of 12-11. Skipper Daniels has his slabs also, and states that a number of his players were away from home and he was compelled to use substitute men in the places of some of his best men, but let's give Skipper Therwanger's aggregation some of the credit anyway.

Brothers Meet For First Time In Fifty Years

Fifty years is more than the lifetime of the average man, but two Knox county citizens met a brother last week when they had not seen in that span of time. The happy meeting came about when Henry McGregor of Keokuk, Iowa, came here for a visit with his brothers, W. R. and J. T. McGregor, who live west of Munday. The visiting brother is 96 years of age, and hence was only 16 years old when he and the other two brothers last met, and notwithstanding this span of years and the change that takes place in the appearance of a person, the elder brother here recognized him immediately. W. R. McGregor is 71 years of age and J. T. is 55 years of age. The visitor is also visiting in the home of his niece, Mrs. C. C. Jones, who is a daughter of W. R. McGregor.

Mr. McGregor has never visited Texas before and expressed himself as being greatly pleased with the wide open spaces and the beautiful level farms throughout the Munday country. He states that his home town is a manufacturing center, depending largely upon the gigantic plant which manufactures Caterpillar tractors, and he states that the factories have been operating at full capacity notwithstanding the depression, but that the effect of the depressed condition over the country is beginning to be felt there.

Leland Hannah and A. L. Smith of Weinert attended the meeting of the West Texas Pharmaceutical association at Abilene Wednesday to hear Carl Weeks, president of the Armand company of Des Moines, Iowa, manufacturers of the famous line of toilet articles.

Senior Civic Club Is Organized In Rhineland School

Arrangements are being made to hold several clinics here for the administration of toxoids for diphtheria and vaccines for typhoid and smallpox. In all probability the children of district 11 will be given a chance for this immunization even if the county fails to appropriate money for this purpose. With the exception of one or two pupils who are absent on account of illness the school attendance for the past week has been perfect.

Immunization Work to Continue In Knox County

The club decided to hold regular meetings every Friday afternoon, however, special meetings may be called by the president. The work on the new church is progressing slowly but surely. All ribbed columns in the interior have been poured to the first capital. The roof over the confessional is now completed. Father Boniface has again demonstrated his inventive genius by the erection of a unique and effective ventilator near the top of the roof of the church. By means of this apparatus a circulation of the air in the church is accomplished, making it much cooler.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Blaschke, Jr., was the scene of one of the most delightful parties of the season Wednesday evening, August 5, when a host of relatives and friends gathered to honor Mr. Joseph Blaschke Sr., on his 61st birthday. A dainty course consisting of ice cream, cake, and "pop" was served to Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Hanke and family, of Cross Plains; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ludwig and family, of Claude; Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Michalewicz and family of Rowena; Mr. and Mrs. F. Kubala and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Decker and family, Mr. and Mrs. Alois Urbanzyk and family, Mr. and Mrs. George Steinbach and family, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kuehler and family, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Herling and family, Mr. and Mrs. George Petrus and family, Mrs. Johnnie Michels, Mrs. Arthur Jungman and boys, Alois and Tony; Mr. Alois Duesterhaus, Mr. Joseph Bellinghaus, and the host and hostess.

Mrs. Anton Kuehler and children, Louis, Emma and Gertrude, went to Wichita Falls on Monday of last week. Mrs. Veitenheimer, who visited in this community, accompanied them.

Mrs. Joseph Schwint of Breckenridge, Texas, is visiting in the (Continued on back page.)

New Dry Goods Firm To Open About Aug. 1st

Shelving is being built this week in the building owned by Mrs. R. B. Wilson and formerly occupied by the Hassen Dry Goods Co., for a new dry goods store which will be opened here about August 1st by Said Waheed of Seminole, Okla., who will have associated with him Nabih Ameen, son of C. S. Ameen, a former citizen and business man of Munday. Mr. Waheed is now at market purchasing new merchandise for the store, and the entire stock will be new merchandise. Mr. Waheed is a son-in-law of C. S. Ameen, and was so favorably impressed with Munday upon a recent visit that he decided to locate here.

Needs New Shoes

Mrs. Wm. P. Farrington has received notice from Dr. J. E. Stover, county health officer, advising her that the commissioner's court has appropriated an additional fund for the purchase of diphtheria and typhoid serums, and she also states that he has a quantity of smallpox serums on hand, and he is anxious that all who wish to take these immunization treatments shall have them and requests the local committees over the county to set dates on which they may be given.

Tri-County Golf Meet Will Come Here Next Year

At a meeting of the Tri-County Golf association at Haskell Monday evening E. W. McGlothlin was elected president and L. E. Lovelless was chosen as secretary, while a vice-president was chosen from each of the towns represented in the association, which is composed of Seymour, Haskell, Knox City, Goree and Munday. Munday was chosen as the next place for holding the tournament, which will likely be held in June of next year.

All Day Field Meet To Be Held Aug. 21

Arrangements have been completed for an all-day field day, which will be held on the Bush-Burnett Ranch 5 miles west of Knox City on August 21st (Friday week). This program will be sponsored by County Agent W. E. Jones, with the able assistance of several extension Service specialists. Some of the demonstrations will be: 1000 acres of land terraced, alfalfa field, field peas, hog feeding, creep-feeding calves, seed plots, sod-pastures, poultry flocks and houses, field selection of maize, and other demonstrations. Directions for getting to ranch: Leave Knox City due west at the corner of the First National Bank and guide posts will be placed along the road to enable anyone to reach the ranch.

The Knox City Chamber of Commerce will have barbecue and coffee which will serve about 50 people, however, each should bring sandwiches or lunch enough to help complete the meal. We are expecting more than 50, so bring something to make out on if the barbecue doesn't hold out. Officials who will have charge of part of the program are: E. E. Dickson, superintendent Spur Extension Station, Sterling C. Evans, District Agent, and some Live-stock Specialist. I would like to urge every farmer in Knox county that possibly can to be there for the complete day's program.

Remember: DATE—August 21st. TIME—All day beginning at 10 o'clock. PLACE—Bush-Burnett Ranch, Knox City. W. E. JONES, County Agent. PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

You are cordially invited to worship with us in our regular program Sunday morning. Sunday school at 10 and preaching at 11 a. m. A blessing awaits all who will come in the spirit of worship. Some members are untrue to themselves in that they absent themselves from these appointed means of grace. Your daily life will be more satisfactory if you cultivate the fellowship of the Lord in worship and service. There are edifying services being conducted at the Methodist church this week, and everyone would do well to attend them. A similar opportunity will be offered by a visiting Baptist preacher who begins a meeting here Sunday. There will be no services at the Presbyterian church Sunday evening and all are asked to worship with the Baptist. C. A. Tucker, Pastor.

Cool Weather Beneficial To Growing Crops

The cool weather of the week has been of great value to cotton, according to a number of farmers. The hot weather had begun to prove detrimental to many fields over this section. Some farmers contend that we need rain, while others contend that a rain at this time would do more harm than good. So, after all, perhaps we don't know just what is best for us, and should just keep smiling and take the brakes as they come. J. E. Womble of Shattuck, Okla., is here visiting in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Womble.

Community-Wide Revival Begins At Auditorium Sunday

A community-wide revival will begin Sunday morning at the community auditorium under the leadership of the Rev. S. B. Culpepper, pastor of the First Baptist church at Cleburne, Texas, who is recognized as one of the leading ministers of the state and is an evangelist of note. The singing will be directed by Victor Harrison, who has been associated with the Rev. Culpepper in his evangelistic campaigns in other places during the summer, and who is a most capable choir director. The revival is to be all that the name implies—a community-wide campaign in which all the christian people of the community are urged to take an active part. Services will be held all during the coming week morning and evening, the morning services at 10 o'clock and the evening services at 8:15.

Series Evening Services Going At M. E. Church

A series of evening meetings are in progress this week at the Methodist church, and the pastor, the Rev. John H. Crowe, is delivering some very fine discourses and if you have not been attending these services you will do well to do so during the remainder of the week. The Mount Zion Unity Association of the Primitive Baptist church will be held on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week with the Little Flock church at Johnson cemetery, and a large number of delegates are expected to attend. Dinner will be served on the ground each day during the session and every means will be exerted by local members to entertain the visiting members during the session. Seven churches are represented in the association.

Many Fine Melons Produced Over Munday Country

Many farmers over the Munday country have been somewhat disappointed in not having a market for their melons, many of whom have from one to five acres of the finest melons that have been grown in this section of the state at any time. Many of the melons will weigh around 50 to 60 pounds and are very fine, but as the local market is overcrowded and there is no outside market, they are having difficulty in disposing of them. We are informed that the market at Weatherford and other melon shipping points has also suffered a collapse and that there are no bidders for the melons in carload lots at these points, notwithstanding the fact that the early market was fairly good and the price satisfactory.

THINKING OUT LOUD

BY JAKE N. NEDY
The columnist who contributes to the Benjamin Post under the heading, "Splinters", tells us that folks ever that way are thriving on Jack-rabbits since the depression has gotten well under way over there, but states that they have been more palatable by the application of a new name for the species, i. e. "Hoover Hogs."

Even as a deserving democrat we have a sympathetic feeling for Mr. Hoover. He has been blamed for everything that has gone wrong since Calvin Coolidge saw the shadow of coming events and issued the famous statement, "I do not choose to run."

Gov. Murray opened the free bridges over Red river while Gov. Sterling meekly awaited the slow action of court procedure. He closed down the oil wells of Oklahoma in the face of conditions that meant bankruptcy and ruin for the independent producer while Gov. Sterling is still wrangling with the legislature, the majority of whom don't care whether conservation legislation is enacted or not. But, while Alfalfa Bill and Gov. Sterling are tearing their hair about 15 cent per barrel oil, why don't they go into some kind of a spasm about 5 cent cotton? If Gov. Bill and Gov. Ross can force the refiners to pay a better price for oil, why can't they force the spinners to pay a better price for cotton? Low prices for both are attributed to the same cause—overproduction. If, by resorting to legislation or militia, they can stimulate the price of one product, why cannot the same be applied to another product? If it is wise to regulate the price of oil by curtailing production, why wouldn't it be just as wise to regulate the production of cotton to accomplish the same results?

WHEN you buy a Ford car today, you buy what is unquestionably the greatest value in the history of the Ford Motor Company. Never before has so much beauty, comfort, safety and performance been offered at such a low price.

The low price of the Ford is something to think about because it means an immediate saving of many dollars — always an important consideration. But far more significant than price alone is what you get for that price. When high quality is combined with low price, you may justly take pride in having found a most satisfactory purchase.

See the Ford — ride in it — learn something about the value that is built into every part. The more you know about it, the more certain you will be that it is the car for you. It is literally true that when you "get the facts you will get a Ford."

AIM OF SCHOOLS SHOULD BE PREPARATION FOR CITIZENSHIP

"The main objective of the public school system has been the preparation of boys and girls for college on the theory that a college education is a panacea for all ills," wrote W. F. Bond, Superintendent of Education, in Mississippi, in the United States Daily. He continued in part:

"The college has handed down to us the course of study and other requirements to be met and we have struggled manfully and sometimes blindly to meet them."

"In the future the main objective of the public school system will not be preparation for college, but preparation for citizenship."

ship of the highest order. Preparation for college will be incidental. This will mean that the following things must be done:

1. A good, practical conservative system of vocational guidance beginning in the junior high school and extending a year or so beyond high school graduation. Every normal child is capable of being developed into a good citizen, but no two children are alike and we must, therefore, take into consideration individual differences. By talking confidentially with boys and girls, by interviews with their parents, and by bringing them into contact with successful business men and women, we can generally find out what place in life any of our students can fill best.

2. The course of study must be broadened. We shall continue to prepare our students for college but in addition will be courses in vocational education. There will be such courses leading to high school graduation in agriculture, home economics, bookkeeping, typewriting, stenography, salesmanship and auto mechanics.

"We will go on the theory that no child is 'dull' in every respect. It will be our business to find along what lines each child is bright and direct it into the course of study that will more nearly prepare it for the world in which it must live after it leaves school. Such a plan will increase the holding power of our schools and more boys and girls will be encouraged to take the entire course, for when they are graduated each one will know what he can do best and his training will have been in that direction."

"There will be more happiness in the school room, fewer misfits in life and less unemployment. This change will not come very easily, because we are bound down by tradition to the system given to us by our fathers, which was good enough in its time. The change will come, evident that this is already very evident that the need for such a change is very great. Wise use of the time our children spend in the public school will be conducive to wise use of time elsewhere."

Sheriff C. R. Elliott of Benjamin was here Saturday afternoon on official business.

Back in Public Eye

Newton D. Baker, Woodrow Wilson's Secretary of War, made the convention address at the Institute of Politics. His Ohio friends are trying to get him to permit the use of his name as a candidate for President.

A poorly clad man went into a bank and asked the president for a loan of one hundred dollars. Whereupon the president asked if he could give a note or any kind of security.

"No," the poor man replied.

"Do you expect me to loan you one hundred dollars without any security?"

"Yes," he humbly remarked. "I am a poor honest working man and I can return the loan within sixty days."

"I believe you," assented the president, "and I'll tell you what I will do. I have a glass eye, and if you can tell me which one of my eyes is glass I will loan you the money."

"The right eye," instantly responded the man.

"Correct," the amazed banker remarked, "but how did you know?"

"Because it was the one that showed the most sympathy," the man replied.

New Fashions In Music
Follow Seasonal Trend

RENE PAGNET
CAPTAIN
S. S. PARIS

Captain of Famous Transatlantic Steamer a Noted Musician

New York City.—Styles in music change according to the season. What we dance to in winter, we pass over boldly in summer, and the couplets we sing in the spring trail, have nothing to do with the fall. So says Rene Pagnet, efficient captain of the luxurious S. S. Paris. This most popular of seagoing vessels annually takes thousands of vacation seekers across the ocean and back, and Captain Pagnet watches thousands of couples every year and their response to music.

Something with a dash of mystery and adventure goes best in summer. Rudy Vallee's famous fox-trot song, 'I'm Just a Vagabond Lover,' is the perfect summer song. The vagabond idea suggests summer as does the music. Winter songs are hot and vigorous, and those in fall and spring are romantic and dreamy.

Captain Pagnet is a musician of renown. He has made not only a skeleton violin on which he practices daily while at sea, but also a seventy-two note piano on which he can play everything but very elaborate-concert pieces.

"The two go well together, music and the sea," he says. "They are somehow kin. If the sea were not my vacation, music would be, and then the sea would be my avocation."

Mrs. W. R. Moore Hostess to Ace High Bridge Club
Mrs. W. R. Moore very charmingly entertained members of the Ace High Bridge Club and a group of guests Friday evening. Five tables were placed in the living and dining rooms of this attractive home and contract bridge was enjoyed until a late hour. Mrs. R. J. Neff held high score among the ladies and Mr. Barnes was high winner among the men, with Messrs Tom Benge and W. R. Moore both claiming low. Following the games a dainty refreshment plate of chicken salad, a lettuce leaf, cheese niblets, olives and fruited tea was served. Members and guests present were Dr. and Mrs. Wm. P. Farrington, Messrs and Meses Tom Haney, John Lane, J. A. Kennedy, T. G. Benge, F. L. Decker, W. H. Atkinson, H. F. Barnes, H. A. Pennington, Mrs. R. H. Neff and Mr. Moore.

Mrs. Joe Davis Hostess to Wednesday Bridge Club
Mrs. Joe Davis entertained the Wednesday Bridge Club members and husbands Tuesday evening, arranging three tables for auction bridge. Mrs. Fred Branch and Mr. E. H. Bauman were winners of high score. Teal punch was served during the games. Those present were Messrs and Meses T. G. Benge, E. H. Bauman, Fred Branch, F. L. Decker, U. R. Houser, Mrs. J. A. Kennedy and Dr. Davis.

Sunday School Class Entertained
Mrs. Virgil Yost, teacher of the Intermediate class of the New Hope Baptist church, entertained her class with a social in the home of Mrs. E. B. Frause on Friday evening of last week. Many games were played and enjoyed and several contests were held, and among those who won prizes were Douglas Hutchison, Dick Wardlaw, Jimmie Lott, Frances, Amerella Hutchison and Ophelia Pruitt. Refreshments of watermelon, ice cream and cake were served to Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Yost, Dick Wardlaw, Douglas Nell (Bobby), Lou Povey, Douglas Hutchison, Harold Frause, Raymond Lawrence, J. C. ### The Vagabond's Christmas

by HELEN CAISFORD

It rained scarcely showed as they passed through the hazy morning, but the hobo was watching and he drifted off to the show. He picked himself up and started on his way, the crowd around him. How well he remembered that station! Even the group of arguing old men seemed the same. "It was good to be home again, to spend Christmas where he had been so happy as a boy."

One of the men pointed a finger at the hobo and said, "Is what this country is coming to. Able-bodied men roaming the country in rags and tatters. Lively looking fellows, too! I tell you, it's high time we were..."

The vagabond chuckled and proceeded halfly down the road. Suddenly he checked himself. "Wait!" he said. "There's old Aunt Agatha's house. Why, Aunt Agatha was another mother to every boy in town. I wonder—"

He stopped on the porch and knocked.

A sharp-faced woman opened the door. "Well?" she gasped. "No, I ain't giving visitors to tramp what can't come to the kitchen!" The door slammed, but he rapped again persistently.

"Presently the woman reopened. "I see your goods, man. I'm looking for Miss Agatha Overman. Do you know where I can find her?"

"She's been dead and buried these eight years. You an old friend of hers?"

"Yes, I'm Ben Martin—used to live in that house on the corner. I'm sorry she's gone." He moved down the steps. "Thank you, anyway, ma'am, and a Merry Christmas."

A light of the rest had gone out of Ben Martin's eyes. He recalled the town drug store, just ahead, but now it carried a new sign—"Thompson's Pharmacy"—and he saw the letters, "W. J. Thompson, Prop." inside—why, of course! "W. J. Thompson, Prop." was Bill!

"Bill," he called. "It's me—Ben Martin!"

"Ben!" Their hands clasped. "How well you look! But what on earth—let me give you a job."

"No, thanks; too used to freedom," he said.

"Job—how did you do it?"

"Oh, it's careless sleep under the stars, going where the wind blows and doing what comes; eating plain food and— but what of you and the rest of the boys?"

"Me? Oh, I'm married now and settled down. Tom's our doctor, and Puz have got married and moved away, and Fred is studying in New York. I say, I'd sure like to ask you out to Christmas dinner tomorrow, but well, Martin's queer about some things."

"That's all right. I'll money around to the old homestead. My dear cousin still there?"

"Yes. Your uncle's gone, I suppose you know, but otherwise the family is the same as when the black sheep nephew took off on his own. You'll surprise them."

"No doubt," Ben Martin replied, and made his farewells.

The old house on the corner was much the same. His knock brought a comely young woman to the door. "My dear Cousin Ben," he said. "It's Ben. Give me a kiss my dear, and announce to the family that the prodigal has returned."

The family had evidently already learned of his return, and gathered in the hall. "I was wondering," he said at last, when the first greetings and questions had been exchanged, "whether you could put me up for a few days. I could, of course, sleep outside, if necessary."

"Unfortunately, Benjamin," his aunt replied, "every room is taken, as the family is all home for the holidays. Besides, there is the question of whether or not a wanderer—might have a poorer effect on the younger members of the family, let alone the good name of us all. I think you'll understand."

"I do." He drew himself up. "It was simply the accident. I felt I would like to spend Christmas here. But I shan't impose on you, I'll leave you on my own again."

He strode back to the road. "Hang yourself," he decided. "I'm going south." That night's express bore an extra passenger.

NOTICE!

E. K. Local Insurance Association

Hon. W. A. Tarver, Chairman,
Board of Insurance Commissioners,
Austin, Texas.
Dear Sir:

Pursuant to your instructions, and according to the provisions of the law, I have made an examination of E. K. Local Insurance Association, Seymour, Texas, as of June 20th, 1931, and submit to you my report thereon.

ORGANIZATION

This is a Local Mutual Aid Association, and operates under the provisions of the law as will be found defined in Tarver's 1929, Insurance Digest, being an act of the Forty-first legislature of 1929, and being Senate Bill 220, thereof.

The bonded officer of this association is the Secretary-Treasurer, Mr. G. H. Jones, the bond is on file in the Department of Insurance in the sum of $10,000.00.

This association is under good management, having paid their claims promptly and operating in compliance with the provisions of the law.

Respectfully submitted,
CECIL MITCHELL, Examiner.

The E. K. Insurance Association has paid in claims $175,000.00, all of which remained here in our local radius, at a cost of $10.00 per year per $1,000.00 protection, and we have paid nothing less than $2,000 in the No. 1 Group since August 14, 1925.

G. H. JONES, Secretary.
