Thinking Out Loud

By J. A. K.

As predicted by TOL last week, the New York Yankees made it four straight off the Chicago Cubs, and turned the sport pages over to the football fans.

In the final games at Chicago the Cub pitchers were fairly successful in keeping Lou Gehrig and Babe Ruth in tow, but then there was Earl Combes, Joe Sewell, Bill Dickey and Tony Lazzeri, all of whom seemed as effective with the big stick as were Gehrig and Ruth, and it was too great a combination for the Cubs to get even a look-in.

Tom Greene Bengie was telling the other day about a game of poker he and Jim Pendleton sit on some years ago. Tom states that he and Jim had a code of signs worked out by which the clearing of the throat or a hacking cough meant certain things. Everything was rosy for them until Jim was attacked by an unavoidable cough and Tom went wild. Since then they have changed their code, remarked their dominoes and made other reforms.

In fact, Tom has entirely abandoned golf, giving up in despair after having spent considerable money in taking lessons in a desperate effort to beat the presiding elder of this column, and his failure to do so at any time and under any condition has resulted in his utter disgust with the game.

And one of our youngsters just wedging into high school thought a bassinet was a fish sein.

Our good friend, Peter Loran, the Sage of Rhineland, sets us right on the article we carried last week about his suit. Believing in keeping the record straight, Pete says the suit was purchased in 1898 and not in 1897, and the suit, shoes and derby had represented a cash outlay of exactly eight dollars.

The Centennial Amendment. One of the numerous Constitutional Amendments to be voted on in Texas in the November election is that giving the Legislature authority to appropriate funds for the celebration of the one hundred anniversary celebration of the State of Texas to be held in 1936—a century from the memorable Battle of San Jacinto.

While The Times, together with hundreds of other Texas newspapers is running a series of advertisements in the interest of this Amendment—graciously—we question the wisdom of supporting the amendment.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce, which organization set about a year ago or more to bring about tax reforms, has announced its opposition to the Amendment, which move is certainly consistent with their objective of bringing about a reduction of governmental expenditures—State, county and municipal, for while the Amendment may possess merit from a patriotic standpoint, it must be remembered that the citizenship of Texas is tax-burdened already to the point of confiscation of property, and the empowering of the Legislature to spend an unnamed and unlimited amount certainly would not be a move in the direction of economy.

Indeed we find it difficult to derive much patriotism in pending taxpayers dollars at a time when many are losing their homes through inability to meet payments, interest and taxes, and while the celebration is not scheduled until 1936, we have no way of knowing that conditions will improve between now and that time.

Personally, as head of the local municipal government, it would require no little persuasion to induce us to approve an appropriation of any large amount of money to be used in celebrating any historical event, and we can see no reason why the same attitude should not be applied in the expenditure of State funds, and we heartily approve the stand taken by the Central Public Expenditure Committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Expenditures must be curtailed if taxes are to be reduced, and we shall cast our ballot against the Centennial Amendment, notwithstanding its hearty endorsement at the Lubbock convention.

A darkey read an inscription on a tombstone, "Not dead, but sleeping." Scratching his head in perplexed thought, he finally remarked, "He sho ain't foolin' nobody but hisself."

Munday Club Is Winner In Points In Club Exhibit

"THE TRIAL OF VIVIENNE WARE," FILM BASED ON RADIO DRAMA, OPENS HERE

Joan Bennett Has Lead In Picturization Of Broadcast That Stirred Nation—Notable Cast In Fox Production.

Joan Bennett plays the leading role in "The Trial of Vivienne Ware," the Fox picture coming to the Roxy Theatre next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. Based on Kenneth M. Ellis' radio drama and widely read novel, "The Trial of Vivienne Ware" depicts the thrills of a murder trial and shows to what extent circumstantial evidence may be employed in convicting an innocent person.

As Vivienne Ware, the beautiful society girl and heiress, Miss Bennett is tried for the murder of Damon Fenwick, the millionaire architect to whom she was affianced. The circumstantial evidence is so convincing that conviction seems certain. But the girl's innocence is finally established after the district attorney has demanded her life and her own attorney advises her to plead guilty and accept a life sentence.

How all this is brought about, forms the basis of what is said to be one of the most powerfully dramatic and tensely absorbing pictures to reach the screen in many months.

Donald Cook, dark and handsome, appears as counsel for the defense who is in love with the fair prisoner. Allan Dinehart is the prosecutor and Herbert Maudin, the star witness. Others contributing to the success of the picture are Lillian Bond, Skeets Gallagher, Myrtle Eburne, Ruth Selwyn, Noel Madison, William Pawley and Jameson Thomas.

Besides the court room scenes, the backgrounds include a pretentious and ornate night club, a hockey rink, a furniture store and street scenes. More than 2,000 extra players were required in transferring the story to the screen. William K. Howard directed.

Uncanny
A slight-of-hand wonder was reading a book through a single thickness of a fabric, then another page through two thicknesses, a third page through three foldings of the cloth, etc.

A colored woman arose and waddled down the aisle to the exit. "What's the matter, mammy, don't you like the performance?" asked the usher.

"Der 'forance am all right, chile, dis am no place for a lady in a calico wrap!"

Wrong Conviction
Case and Comment: First Lawyer—Did his speech carry conviction. Second Lawyer—It did! His client got five years!

Touch And Go
Lady—So you've been in touch with royalty, have you?
Tramp—Yes, ma'am; I was once stung by a queen bee.

Why They Are Mounted
"Have you seen the mounted police of Chicago?"
"Gosh, do the gangsters stuff 'em as well as shoot 'em!"

Teachers To Meet In Institute At Haskell Oct. 27-28

Teachers of Knox, Haskell, Stone-wall and Throckmorton counties will join a joint institute at Haskell on October 27-28, according to an announcement made this week by Mrs. Ethie Lee P'Pool, county superintendent of schools of Knox county. Among the leaders in educational circles of the state who have been secured for the programs are L. A. Woods of Waco, state superintendent-elect, Dr. A. W. Evans of the Texas Technological College, Dr. J. F. Kimball of Baylor University and Miss Nancy Mosely, Dallas county supervisor.

Rainfall Figures Show Cause Behind Big Cotton Yield

Figures on rainfall during the past twelve months and the proportions in which it has been divided tell the story of the wonderful cotton crop and other crops over the Munday country. These figures were given us by A. E. Herbert Maudin, the star witness. Others contributing to the success of the picture are Lillian Bond, Skeets Gallagher, Myrtle Eburne, Ruth Selwyn, Noel Madison, William Pawley and Jameson Thomas.

Teachers Receive 60 Per Cent Cash Result Tax Paying

The following citizens and concerns have made it possible for the school board of Munday Independent School District to pay the members of the faculty 60 per cent cash on their first month's salary by paying their school taxes in advance of the time limit prescribed: W. H. Sheedy, W. L. Lansford, J. B. Reneau, H. F. Barnes, J. A. Caughran, Mrs. O. C. Caughran, Mrs. G. E. Shackelford and the West Texas Utilities Company. The remaining portion of the first month's salary has been paid in script.

Johnnie Coggins of Weinert is helping out at the local Baker-Campbell store during October, the Weinert schools, of which he is a member of the faculty, having turned out for the month for cotton picking. Johnnie is one of these resourceful fellows and when he isn't working he is attending the State University at Austin, and making his way as he goes.

Rhineland Will Hold Picnic On Sunday, Oct. 16

Prof. John J. Hoffman, superintendent of the Rhineland schools, was through here Tuesday afternoon en route to Scotland for a visit with relatives, and announced that a picnic had been planned for Rhineland on Sunday, October 16, at the community hall.

A full program has been arranged for the entire day which will include both dinner and supper, contests of various kinds throughout the day, for which prizes will be awarded to the winners, and a general good time will be in store for all who attend, and a cordial invitation is extended to the public in general, Mr. Hoffman said.

Church Officials Methodist Church Named For the Year

At a recent conference of the local Methodist church which was presided over by Dr. Geo. S. Slover, presiding elder for the Stamford district, the following officers were chosen for the ensuing year: Stewards, John C. Spann, R. D. Atkinson, J. A. Caughran, M. F. Billingsley, J. C. Borden, G. R. Eiland, D. C. Fritz, W. R. Moore, D. T. Mauldin, Lee Haymes, R. S. Bales, L. S. Hardinger, W. A. Baker, J. C. Campbell and E. B. Bowden. Lee Haymes was chosen as lay leader, D. C. Fritz as district steward, J. A. Caughran as superintendent of the Sunday school, and R. D. Atkinson recording steward.

The Rev. John H. Crowe, who recently underwent an operation for the removal of his tonsils, announces that he will be in his pulpit at the church on Sunday at both the morning and evening hour, and other services will be as usual.

Fall Season Here Brings Hundreds; Business Is Good

Munday merchants last Saturday experienced the first real rush of the fall season. The streets were completely lined with automobiles and other vehicles and the sidewalks of the city were jammed, while the business concerns of the city enjoyed the best business they have had so far this year.

Hundreds of cotton pickers have flocked into the Munday country during the past few weeks and practically all of them have been absorbed over this section just about as fast as they have arrived, and while there is still a demand for large crews who can take care of themselves, we are informed that farmers can take care of but few more and those who are not prepared to take care of themselves should not come here unless they have living quarters provided in advance, or are prepared to provide same.

From Our Exchanges

Westex Firemen Hold Meeting

Seymour Banner: The Seymour water polo team won first prize at Throckmorton Tuesday of last week at the semi-annual meeting of the West Texas Firemen's Association. The prize was a $10 gold piece, of vintage of 1881. Seymour also won second place in the hose connecting contest. Benjamin placed first, but the Seymour boys believe they would have won if the water pressure had not been low at that time. The time of Benjamin was 22 1-2 seconds. In the water polo team was W. T. Humphreys and Stacy Conner, and they won in a brilliant battle. In the hose connecting contest W. T. Humphreys, Stacy Conner and O. M. Cox were at the nozzle, with Julius Orsak and Opie Westfall at the plug. L. A. McCluskey has been president of the Association. T. E. Rigby of Munday, former vice president, was automatically elevated to the presidency, with Chief Leroy Melton of Benjamin elected first vice president. O. M. Cox of Seymour was re-elected secretary. This Association has had some excellent meetings since its organization, but none has surpassed the one just held. The Throckmorton firemen spared no effort in their plans for entertainment, and they were backed solidly by the citizenship of their town.

TOM SHOW WILL BE HELD IN OCTOBER

County Agent P. C. Colgin and members of the Chamber of Commerce are working on the second Turkey Tom show, to be held in Seymour Oct. 18 and 19. The Tom show held in Baylor county last fall was the first show of its kind ever held in the United States, and as 22 other counties in Texas have adopted it there must be some real value, in that the turkey grower gets all the benefit. Mr. Colgin wishes to urge every turkey grower to cooperate and bring in two toms, an old and a young, on the dates of the show.

Funeral Services for Mrs. G. H. Moss Thursday

Haskell Free Press: The funeral services of Mrs. G. H. Moss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Irby, was held at the First Methodist Church this morning at 10 o'clock, conducted by Rev. E. C. Cargill, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Seymour, assisted by Rev. A. W. Gordon, local pastor of the Methodist church. Mrs. Moss died in Atlanta, Ga., Monday, September 26, after a brief illness. Interment was in Willow Cemetery.

Mrs. Moss was born in Haskell on May 17th, 1908, moving to Munday with her parents where they lived until 1912, then moved to Ellis county. She was married to G. H. Moss in January of this year. She was a member of the Presbyterian Church at Furrston, Texas. Besides her husband, surviving relatives are her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Irby and two sisters, Misses Ruth and Betty Mae Irby. All were present for the funeral.

ALTMAN CASE IS CONTINUED OCTOBER 26th.

Haskell Free Press: Trial of the case of the State vs. Homer Altman, charged with the slaying of Sam Tanner in Stone-wall county last year, transferred to Haskell and set for trial Monday, Oct. 24th, has been continued until Wednesday, Oct. 26th.

Bob Gilliam, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Gilliam of the Ballou community was seriously wounded last Friday morning when a shotgun was accidentally discharged in the hands of J. E. Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Taylor.

The two youths were hunting when the accident occurred. J. E. was reloading the gun when it was accidentally discharged, striking Bob in the right leg, tearing an ugly wound through the flesh just below the knee and a number of shot lodging in his left leg. He was rushed to town by Walter Wheeler, on whose farm the boys were hunting, and the wound dressed by Dr. W. M. Thaxton. He has been in the home of his grandfather, S. A. Hughes in the north part of town since the accident, and is reported to be doing nicely. There were only 648 bales of cotton,

Relatives Munday Man Victim Fatal Shooting At Cisco

A sister and niece of I. L. Wiswell, pioneer citizen of Munday, were victims of a shooting at Cisco on Tuesday of last week and as a result the sister, Mrs. Link Huntington, 56, lies critically wounded in a Cisco hospital and her daughter, Mrs. Lucille Simpkins, is dead, as is her husband, H. A. Simpkins, who is alleged to have wielded the gun and ended his own life after the tragedy.

Mr. and Mrs. Wiswell, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Floyd, went to Cisco on Friday to attend the bedside of the wounded sister and state that attending physicians now believe that she will recover.

The shooting followed the return home of Simpkins, who had been in Jones county for some time, and Mr. Wiswell has the following account of the shooting, which varies in details from the account carried in the daily newspapers:

Simpkins and his wife were at home in Cisco Tuesday morning when her mother accompanied by another daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lem, drove up to the Simpkins home. They were greeted very cordially by Simpkins and his wife and invited to get out of the car, but before they had time to alight from the car Simpkins went back into the house and with a 22 calibre rifle fatally wounded his wife and came to the front door and opened fire on the car in which Mrs. Huntington and Mr. and Mrs. Lem had just driven up. Lem was sitting at the wheel of the car, according to Mr. Wiswell, and escaped injury by falling low in the car.

Three notes were left by Simpkins which attributed the fatal shooting to family difficulties and the Justice of the Peace who viewed the scene of the tragedy and heard testimony of witnesses returned a verdict of murder and suicide.

The many friends of Mr. Wiswell will join us in extending sympathy to him in the sorrow that the tragedy has brought to him.

Cotton Slower In Opening This Year And Report Slumps

Due to the fact that cotton is slower in opening this year than last year the ginning report recently announced by W. H. H. Griffin of Goree, enumerator for the Department of Commerce, reveals that only 606 bales were ginned in the county prior to September 16th, as compared with 1703 bales on the same date last year. Mr. Griffin, who has been engaged in this work for a number of years in Knox county, estimates that the crop this year will equal if not exceed the banner cotton year, and will approach the 50,000 mark.

Veteran Sexton At Cemetery Asks To Be Remembered Too

Mr. Taylor, the veteran caretaker at Johnson cemetery has asked that we call attention to the fact that he is badly in need of funds to carry on. He states that his salary is in arrears and that unless some action is taken to care for his requirements he will have to abandon his work out at the cemetery, and with a view of raising funds he will be in town Saturday soliciting funds and will appreciate whatever you may care to give.

Grand Jury Takes Recess After One Indictment Made

The grand jury convened on Monday morning at Benjamin, and after being charged by Judge Isaac O. Newton to make investigations into law violations in the county returned one indictment and recessed for a couple of weeks, due to the fact that farmers on the grand jury needed to give their attention to the harvesting of their cotton and other products.

The lone indictment returned was that against Hershel Ash of the Goree community charging violation of the prohibition laws. Ash was arrested by Sheriff C. R. Elliott following a raid at the Ash home in July and a quantity of liquor and mash is said to have been taken.

counting round bales as half bales, ginned in Haskell county from the 1932 crop prior to September 16 as compared with 2,325 bales ginned to the same date last year, according to Jas. E. Lindsey, agent for the Department of Commerce of the Bureau of the census.

"THE FUTURE NUMBER"

The professional electrical engineer who makes his livelihood deriving from plans to place piping in public buildings, has become a politician and a candidate to carry city, town and village.

Every community in Texas is so crowded to work, all financial resources of a community being in one person, not a handful of that person, but a community, it is to be seen the increasing role of professional electrical engineers, who are being employed in every town, city and village, and in every business, industrial and domestic.

These engineers are being employed in every town, city and village, and in every business, industrial and domestic.

THOSE "MAXLESS" TOWNS

Much has been heard of the municipal electric utility movement in Oklahoma—how it has saved citizens appreciable sums of money, lowered or eliminated local taxes.

A recent survey has demonstrated that the "max-less" Oklahoma towns are not max-less because of municipal electric plants. The survey compares the rates prevailing in Oklahoma municipal-ownership towns with those in the nearest towns of equivalent population served by private concerns on the basis of 50 kilowatt-hours unit.

Surveyed towns with municipal electric plants are included in the survey. It shows that the average rate in these towns is a very small fraction of the private utility rate in the same town. The average rate in these towns is higher than in private utility towns.

These are the facts concerning municipal electric utility plants in Oklahoma. The fact that a town has a municipal electric plant does not mean that it is max-less.

It is to be seen the increasing role of professional electrical engineers, who are being employed in every town, city and village, and in every business, industrial and domestic.

SAVINGS TO HOME OWNERS

Many people are alert to money-saving possibilities in these days of repair and remodel their property at low cost. As a result, numerous places have been improved in appearance, convenience and comfort. Oftentimes living conditions become safer, too.

To all employment, the Chamber of Commerce in Pawtucket, R. I., appointed a committee to encourage citizens to modernize and repair their premises. Money was donated to finance publicity to inform people of the program. Men from construction and repair companies were enlisted to solicit home owners and interest them in the project. So successful were they that three-quarters of a million dollars were employed in betterment of dwellings and home owners were saved much money. Other communities could profit by following this plan.

The greater safety resulting from proper repairing and remodeling of buildings should not be overlooked.

THICK LAR UPFIELD

It is gratifying to know that the Supreme Court of Texas has upheld the recent law relating to the regulation of the highway of the State.

Thousands of miles of overgrown highways have been destroyed by these heavy trucks, which were built at the expense of the community through which they pass, with the "max-less" law.

TILLER LENSES

An achievement of Optical Science not dreamed of a few years ago.

If you were to visit a Lense Laboratory and see them grind and polish a Tillyer Lense from a piece of specially prepared optical glass and have them explain the many things from a scientific standpoint and years of research work to produce this perfect lense—you would say marvelous.

But for this lense or any lense to be of value in relieving eye-strain or improving vision, it should be made from a prescription after a thorough eye examination covering a larger field of science and research work than the production of a perfect lense.

The sole value in a lense is the skill of the man who prescribes it.

THE STUDENT COUNCIL.

Just what is this organization we call the "Student Council"? First, let us analyze its functions. The most important factor is the cooperation between the student and teachers. It is through this organization that the teachers present their wishes to the students, and the students their desires to the teacher. The second factor is the discipline of the school. A student is more likely to know what the attitude of the student-body is toward a certain problem than a teacher. This council of students can, therefore, reveal to the faculty the attitude of the body of pupils, and they, in turn, can work for the students, instead of working against them.

The purpose of this council is to let the students control their own school government; the kind of governing they enjoy being under; the kind that is beneficial to the school; and, the kind that the parents would be glad to have their children under. The stu-

Mrs. Cecil Jennings
Entertains

Honoring Mr. Jennings' birthday Mrs. Cecil Jennings entertained a number of friends Tuesday evening at their home. Lovely flowers added their charm to the rooms and betwee was enjoyed until a late hour. Quite a bit of interest was created in that Mrs. Roy Aycock and Dr. Joe Davis held their places at head table, defeating all opponents until the last game, when they were sent foot by Mrs. Oates Golden and U. R. Houser. High score was won by Mrs. Aycock and Dr. Davis.

Angel food cake and coffee were served Dr. and Mrs. Davis, Messrs. and Meses. Roy Aycock, Oates Golden, U. R. Houser, J. A. Kennedy and Mr. Jennings.

Mrs. U. R. Houser Hostess
Wednesday Bridge Club

Mrs. U. R. Houser was hostess this week to the Wednesday Bridge club. High score was won by Mrs. E. H. Bauman. Delicious Angel food cake and cream delight were served Meses. T. G. Bengel, E. H. Bauman, F. S. Broach, Joe Davis, Tom Haney, J. D. Kethley, H. H. Langford, C. L. Mayes and P. V. Williams.

dents are wanted by the faculty, to feel that they are bringing about discipline in their own way; so that they will not feel that they are under rules contrary to their wishes. If this is done, school will be more enjoyable for all concerned.

In this form of government, the pupils are getting training that will be beneficial now and in later life as a citizen of his or her community. Now, the students are learning what it means to be a good representative of himself, and will strive to do better for he knows that his schoolmates are watching. If he is a good student, it will be ninety-nine chances out of a hundred that he will be a good citizen in after years, for we all remember the old proverb, "Train a child in the way he should go, and when he is old he will not depart from it."

Student government gives the students responsibilities that they, on the other hand, would not have. If they are given this responsibility, they feel that they are a greater part of the school, and they do not acquire that "I-don't-care" air so easily.

This form is, I am sure, the best government for our school, for surely, there is the best cooperation between teacher and student this year than ever before.

HOME ECONOMICS.

The Home Economics Club will be in full swing soon! The initiation for new members will be held at eight o'clock, Friday evening at the Home Economics Cottage. Each member for initiation is asked to wear some old print dress, as you will profit by it. All members, new and old, must pay a membership fee of fifteen cents; and the benefit you receive from the activities, are priceless. All girls in high school are urged to join. Come on girls, let's make this the best Home Economics club ever in Munday High School!

RIGSBY'S ROUND-UP.

The Moguls journeyed to Stamford last Friday, afternoon to play the first game of the season.

Although the Munday Moguls were defeated by the Stamford Bulldogs by a score of 18 to 7, the game proved very interesting and exciting. Rayburn, Aycock, and Chauncey Hobert were outstanding men in Friday's game.

The Moguls show promises of exciting games throughout the entire season.

The pep squad was in full sway at the game yelling for their home team. Friday, October 7, the Moguls go to Aspermont, although the pep squad will not be there we are for you, boys.

SENIORS

Hello folks! Have you heard the latest exciting news concerning the Seniors? Do you recall having read about the Seniors going to select their rings and invitations September 28? Then, listen to this: The Seniors have selected a ring so "be-outful" that it is beyond the means of my vocabulary to give it justice by describing it. It is what the boys term as "swell", and the girls describe it as being "precious" or "darling". Believe us; it's all of that and then some. The first thing that catches the eye is the comparatively large head of a Mogul. We chose this pattern because it was much more attractive than those featuring the entire Mogul. Beneath the head of the Mogul are the engraved letters of M-U-N-D-A-Y. The ring is gold and has that modern and stamming military finish, thus making the lovely design outstanding. Just wait until you see a senior "sporting" one of these rings; you'll agree with us in saying they are magnificent. We chose the design for our invitation too. They are neat, simple, and attractive, which, of course, showed we used good judgment in selecting them.

Yea team fight! Hold that line! Come on Moguls! That's the stuff! Oh, don't get excited folks that's only a scant picture of the eager enthusiasm displayed by the fans who saw the Moguls put up a grand fight at Stamford last week. With the help of the team, Chauncey Hobert, one of our seniors, made a touchdown so "slick" that neither the team nor the fans will forget it. The pep squad carried out the Mogul color scheme with their skirts of royal purple, and their sweaters of vivid yellow. Everything was beautiful, outlined against the lovely grass of the field. Team, just remember, though we aren't glue, we're "sticking" with you through thick and thin.

We haven't studied about "Book-worms" yet in Biology, but when we get the new books for the library we might have some indications of some. No, we won't go to the extremes, but we are happy over the fact that we are going to have some new books to read. The books, as you know, will be secured from the funds contributed by practically every student in high school; that donated by the P.-T. A., and that contributed by members of the faculty. The books to be bought will include fiction, prose, poetry, history, classics, and reference books on science and government.

The seniors haven't had any social activity so far, as we have been extremely busy getting accustomed to school life once again. Our Senior colors are red and white, you know and of course we won't go to the extremes, but we intend to make every social activity of the seniors an immense success.

Did you know we had some powerful boys at school this year? Some who exert a power considerably above horsepower. I don't mean to be talking in Greek, but Mr. Harrell told us the other day that at the beginning of school he had seen some boys exhibit this power by running up the stairs at a high rate of speed. Physics reveals many astounding facts of extraordinary interest. Lucile Hunter came to English class the other day a few minutes after the bell had rung. When she inquired if she might come to class Miss Couch asked, "Why are you late?" Lucile immediately replied, "Class started before I got here." Such is life!

Six weeks of school have passed. Students are becoming accustomed to the daily routine of school life. We have become acquainted with the new superintendent and instructors. We know, that if the students continue to do the good work they have in the past six weeks, we will have the best school year in the history of Munday.

JUNIORS.

The Juniors have selected Miss Palmer as our class sponsor, and she has accepted. We have been very prompt in paying our library fees; in fact we are tied for second place.

This is the last week of the six weeks, and every one is studying very hard for examinations.

The Munday Moguls were defeated by the Stamford Bulldogs last Friday; 18 to 7. The Moguls will play Aspermont, October 7, and they expect to win as it is a conference game. (Continued on back page)

"DARLING" Hats

Beautiful enough, to glorify the tresses of a queen. Shaped most flatteringly in the new "high-on-one-side" mode . . . with those saucy dips . . . in the favored Autumn shades . . . the low price does them an injustice, as you'll readily realize when you see them.

New shipment Dresses arriving weekly. When you buy a garment here it just must fit . . . and there's the satisfaction of knowing; that it is right in style, workmanship and materials.

SCENIC REPORT.

We are nearing the conclusion of our first six weeks of school, and with its conclusion comes the realization that we have not been the students that we would desire to be. With the conclusion of the first act of our play, we realize that we have not been the actors and actresses that we could have been.

This sudden realization will arouse the hidden ambition in some students, and result in better work, but to others it will serve as a bitter discouragement. May we all work harder and attain a higher level in the future for our class.

The sophomore girls have been planning an initiation of the freshman girls into the Home Economics club for Friday night, October seventh. This reminds us of the saying: "Every dog has its day." We have looked forward to this event since our initiation last year.

The English II class is having to make book reports Wednesday. These reports are to be in the form of an exam. Such is our luck! However, we are all prepared for the worst that may come, and have had plenty of time to read our books that we are to report on.

THE FRESHMEN.

This is the last week in the six weeks and all of us are learning that we have to study, even though we have fewer subjects than we had last year. Algebra seems to be our biggest trouble.

We are glad to state that nearly all the freshmen have paid their library fees; and we are patiently waiting the arrival of the new books. We have received several good books from those who chose to give them instead of quarters.

We are quite happy to welcome Margaret Talbot into our class. She was in our graduating class last year.

Although some of those in our class are members of the pep squad, the boys are not especially anxious for them to have "pep" rallies, because they have been informed that it will be their duty to furnish firewood for the bon-fires.

THIS YEAR OR NEVER.

You as an adult can postpone plans, readjust to a changed economy, but in the education of children it is a matter of this year or never. The education that is denied to childhood today is irretrievably lost. We cannot plot the opportunities of youth along the zigzag lines of a business graph. Childhood is all too brief a period in which to become fitted for the welter of modern life.

We cannot say to a child: "Next year we shall see about improving your instruction in health. Next year we shall provide a new course in citizenship which fits you for society's pressing problems. We shall buy you a wonderful textbook in geography, or history, or arithmetic." For that child, this year's schooling is at least a twelfth, perhaps an eighth, a half—yes, even all—of his remaining education of youth.

Are you helping people to see this? The fine educational opportunities enjoyed by children today live not come about by accident. Are we to allow them to be dissipated at the first financial exigency?

You, the teacher, can hold up your end, if they do not overload you too much. But you must have good tools. You and the bare walls are not enough to fit the child for the demands of this complex age.

Stand firm for the sacred rights of every child—the child of 1932 is no less deserving than the child of 1929. The opportunities we deny him now are lost forever.—The Illinois Teacher.

The United States needs 6,250,000 cords of wood annually to make its paper, that is all used in this country.

For holding boxing matches in London on Sunday two promoters have been arrested under the Sunday observance act of 1780.

Let us forget—That beginning with October 15th, 1932, I am going to practice medicine for strictly cash, and cash only.

I regret very much having this to do, but poor collections have driven me to it.
