HOLIDAY SPIRIT PREDOMINATES IN MUNDAY STORES

MUNDAY MERCHANTS SHOWING LARGEST ARRAY OF CHRISTMAS MERCHANDISE IN THIS SECTION

Never before have the merchants of Munday shown such beautiful lines of Christmas merchandise as they are showing this season, and the show windows of the various places of business fairly radiate the Christmas spirit, and the gift buyer may be assured of finding just what is wanted for everyone—and prices on all merchandise has been materially reduced. Numerous gift suggestions may be had by reading the advertisements of the merchants in this issue, and while only a limited number of gift items may be listed in these ads, the buyer may be assured that most any kind of gift may be had in Munday during the holiday season that is opening, and they are urging that everyone do their Christmas shopping as early as possible in order that they may have the full value of their tremendous stocks in making their selections.

Tex Jones, Movie Actor, To Appear In Person at Roxy

Tex Jones, movie actor, who has appeared in a number of pictures with Bob Steele, and who won recognition at the Fat Stock Show at Fort Worth two years ago by riding the famous "Midnight" for five minutes, will appear at the Roxy Saturday afternoon and night, giving two performances during the afternoon and two at night. Manager Williams states that there will be no advance in admission at these performances.

Alvis F. Conwell Victim Diphtheria Funeral on Friday

Alvis Franklin Conwell, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Conwell of the Grasshopper community, died on Friday morning of last week after an illness of only about two days from diphtheria, and funeral services were conducted by the Rev. W. H. Albertson on Friday afternoon.

We join with the many friends of this estimable family in extending to them our sincere sympathy in their great bereavement.

Jake Morris, who more than three years ago was associated with the merchandising department of the West Texas Utilities company here, but who for the past three years has been associated with the company at San Angelo, has been returned to Munday and he and his family have procured living quarters at the home of Mrs. C. R. Haymes. The many friends of these good people will join us in extending to them a hearty welcome back home.

School Is Closed Until January 2, On Account of Flu

Due to the fact that so many of the students were absent on account of the epidemic of influenza which prevails in this community, the Munday school was closed on Monday morning, at which time it was announced that work would be resumed on Thursday morning, but on Thursday morning conditions had shown no improvement and it was decided to close the schools until January 2nd, giving ample time for the holiday season. Not only are a number of the students out on account of colds and influenza, but several of the teachers have been afflicted with the same ailment, and the efficiency of the school would have been impaired.

Among those who have suffered an attack was Supt. Jones, who has been confined to his room during the week with a severe attack of influenza.

SEARCH INSTITUTED FOR FRED WARREN WHEN HE FAILS TO PUT IN APPEARANCE HERE SUNDAY

Officers and citizens in Knox and Baylor counties were somewhat alarmed first of the week when Fred N. Warren left Seymour with the intention of coming to Munday, and when he failed to arrive here at the home of his father-in-law, W. H. Bray, inquiry was made as to his whereabouts, and no trace of him could be found. Alarmed relatives phoned to Knox City and other points where they thought it likely that he might have gone, but at none of these places could they get any trace of him. Finally, as a last resort, an effort was made to communicate with Mrs. Warren, who is teaching in one of the rural districts in Wilbarger county, near Tolbert, but which it was some eight miles from the nearest telephone. Finally a messenger was secured to go out where Mrs. Warren is teaching, and there Mr. Warren was found suffering from a severe case of influenza.

His action was explained by stating that when he left Seymour he changed his plans and decided to visit his wife instead of coming to Munday, as he had originally planned to do, and his unexplained absence caused members of the family and friends much concern until he was located.

TAYLOR BROS. STORE ROBBED FRIDAY NIGHT

Friday night of last week the Taylor Bros. dry goods store here was entered from a back window and a quantity of dry goods stolen. At this time officers have failed to find a clew, as there is so many strangers and transient people in this section that it is hard to get a clew.—Rule Review.

Man Dies at Road Camp

Tom Fletcher, aged 61 and single, died suddenly early Tuesday morning at the road camp near Mabelle. He was working for subcontractor Allen on the grade and drainage work for Highway No. 23 between Mabelle and the Wilbarger county line.—Baylor County Banner.

Little Pen-o-grams

SIDELIGHTS

By Marvin Jones
Member of Congress from Texas.

The new Congress must face many serious problems. None of these is more important than those relating to agriculture.

Agriculture is the most vital part of our present industrial system. It is governed by the same laws which govern other businesses. If these basic laws are disturbed, and if attention is centered on only a portion of the entire system, the remaining part will suffer. That is what has happened to agriculture. The farmer is suffering from the results of favoritism to other industries and from discriminations against him.

The first thing to do is to find the cause of the trouble. After that the next step is to seek some way of removing the cause.

The present plight of agriculture has been produced in several ways:

First—Discrimination as a result of unfair trade barriers.

Second—Discrimination in freight rates.

Third—A medium of exchange which does not truly measure values.

Fourth—A tax system which bears too heavily on the farm and ranch. Here lies the trouble and here must be found the remedy. The following program would be of real service:

First—Modification of trade barriers, and the placing of agriculture on a basis of equality in any system.

Second—Correction of discrimination in freight rates.

Third—Either a stabilization of the currency on a sound basis or a re-amortization of farm mortgages with a scaling down of interest rates.

Fourth—Readjustment of the proportion of taxes, especially of a state and local nature, which now burdens the farm and ranch; also a very real reduction in expenses of government, national, state and local.

Conditions are at so low an ebb that it may be necessary to apply temporary remedies until such time as permanent changes and restoration can be effected. Such a plan, however, should have a time limit, because artificial methods usually fall as a long range program.

It is the province of government to hold the scales of justice evenly balanced so that every man and every group will have an equal chance in the economic life of our country. If this balance is maintained, each individual and each group will be free to work out their own problems, unhindered by unwise laws and unwise business methods.

The hobbies must be removed. The

Thinking Out Loud

By J. A. K.

"Merchant of Venice Postponed by Club," reads a headline in a college publication coming to our exchange table. And we might add that numerous merchants of Munday have also been stood off.

After an ideal fall for gathering a record-breaking cotton crop, Old Man Winter has swooped unmercifully down upon us, and left a long list of "flu" cases in his wake.

It looks like the so-called great minds of this country are devoting more of their attention toward the return of beer than bread.

One of the leading brewers of the country told a Congressional committee a few days ago that after drinking home brew all these years, the people would not be content with pre-volstead beer. The home product has an undetermined amount of "kick" while the manufactured brew contained only a small percentage.

However, be that as it may, it is our candid opinion that those masterminds at Washington should first concern themselves in some plan whereby those who toil might receive a living wage for their labor, and that those who have endured years of hardships to buy homesteads might retain them and not have them confiscated for taxes.

chains which our discriminatory laws and trade practices have forged about the feet of agriculture must be severed. If the farmer is given an even chance, he will be better able to cope with his problems and solve them successfully.

The purchasing power of the farmer has been destroyed, and the effect of this has spread to other parts of our industrial system, resulting in a greatly reduced market for manufactured products. The paralysis which has seized agriculture has crept up on the rest of the structure.

When agriculture is restored to a basis of equality with other businesses and the balance is again established, then better conditions generally can be expected. A return to simple, time-honored principles which have proved themselves worthy is the way out of the tragedy.

ON TEXAS FARMS

By W. H. Darrow, Extension Service Editor.

An 18-acre corn and pea field hogged down by 96 pigs and 24 sows belonging to J. T. Matthey in DeKalb county gave him a profit of $106.43 above what the feed would have cost harvested by ordinary methods. He is now hogging down a 60-acre field in a continuation of the demonstration.

In three cotton growing demonstrations featuring pedigreed seed in Van Zandt county, the county agent reports yields of seed cotton of 2100 pounds, 1800 pounds and 1700 pounds per acre. Yields of mongrel seed have run from 200 to 500 pounds per acre on the same land.

Deaf Smith county farmers long on pigs and short on feed have been trading pigs for grain with Hockley county farmers.

Six pit type sanitary toilets have been built on farms in Tyler county at costs averaging less than $10 each as a result of a demonstration by the State Health Department and county agent. Many more are planned.

Chickens have brought Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Williams of Draw, Lynn county, more than $600 in cash this year from a flock of 269 laying hens. They have been poultry flock demonstrators working with the home demonstration agent for three years, and have made money every year, she says.

Home made peanut butter from home raised peanuts is an addition to the pantries of home demonstration club women in Childress county this year.

Tarrant county 4-H club boys have 341 lambs on feed for spring market. Three boys are feeding 181 lambs.

Hi-Jacker Caught

Alfred Smith has been landed in the county jail by Sheriff Arch Holmes, charged with crimes committed in Seymour several months ago. He is charged with robbing Aubrey Cox at the Arrow Service Station of tires and accessories, as well as taking a large number of tires from the Dave Vickers station. He is also accused of taking auto numbers from the W. H. Portwood car. The J. T. Reeves station is thought to have been entered by him, and Mr. Cox had a second robbery that may be traced to him.

The prisoner is also wanted in Knox county for taking a horse and saddle. He rode the horse to the breaks and turned him loose.

None of the stolen goods has so far been recovered.—Baylor County Banner.

Mrs. U. R. Houser Sustains Fracture of Arm on Tuesday

Mrs. U. R. Houser sustained a compound fracture of the left arm near the wrist on Tuesday when she fell from a chair while polishing a light fixture at her home, and she has been suffering much pain from the effects of the accident. She had placed a bucket on the floor in doing the work and when she stepped from a chair to the floor her foot became entangled in the bucket and she fell to the floor.

Rochester Reporter Issues 10-Page On Opening of New Bank

The Rochester Reporter issued a special edition on Tuesday of last week celebrating the opening of the new Home State Bank there. The ten pages were well filled with advertising indicative of the good will and appreciation of the business concerns of that city toward the new institution, and the edition was indeed a credit to Editor Greer and Rochester. Edith Greer was assisted in this advertising department of the publication by Roy A. Baker, who is a live-wire booster for everything for the betterment of that community, who advises us that he experienced little difficulty in selling the large amount of advertising carried in the edition.

An unidentified infant was found dead on a farm near Truscott last Saturday morning by some small children. There were no marks on the body, but the child had been left unwrapped in a gunny sack. It is supposed it died of hunger or cold. It was buried in the Truscott Cemetery Saturday afternoon.—Foard County News.

RHINELAND SCHOOL HAS GOOD ATTENDANCE—CHRISTMAS PROGRAM TO BE GIVEN DECEMBER 23

The cold weather has increased the attendance of our school. The boys and girls, who were retained at home to gather the remaining cotton crop, with the exception of a few, are attending school as usual.

The school is preparing to have a Christmas program on the Friday evening, preceding Christmas. A tree will be erected in the auditorium, and, if possible, Santa Claus will appear in person, to distribute the numerous gifts.

Mrs. P. Pool visited our school Wednesday of last week.

Mr. T. deAcquire and daughter, Mary, visited with friends in Seymour, last Thursday.

Many of the boys and young men of this community entertained themselves last Sunday afternoon by going hunting. According to the reports they gave, it seems as if luck favored them.

Messrs. Clarence, Frank, and Mac Choate, who had been gathering cotton for Victor Redder until recently, returned to Milford, Texas.

LETTERS TO SANTA

Munday, Texas, Dec. 10, 1932.

Dear Santa Claus:

Please bring me a cowboy suit with a hat and everything. And lots of fruits and nuts.

Sincerely yours,
DeFrance Burton.

Munday, Texas, Dec. 12, 1932.

Dear Santa:

This is my second time to write to you. I want you to bring me a tricycle, a wagon and lots of candy, fruits and nuts. Be sure not to forget mother, daddy and little sister. I have been awfully good.

Yours truly,
Wanda Marguetta Fitzgerald.

Munday, Texas, Dec. 12, 1932.

Dear Santa:

Please bring me a pair of skates, an air gun, a bow and arrow and a map.

Your little friend,
Staron Ammons.

Munday, Texas, Dec. 10, 1932.

Dear Santa:

I would like very much for you to bring me a pair of gloves, a handkerchief, a trunk and a set of dishes. Also bring me some candy nuts and fruit, and bring my little sister, Lois, a ring, a ball and some candy and oranges and apples. She is two years old. I am a good little girl, I am six years old.

Your two little friends,
Nadine and Lois Lemley.

Ike Huskinson was over this week from Rochester.

Knox county has this year broken all previous records in the production of cotton, according to the report of W. H. Griffin, enumerator for the Department of Commerce in his report as of December 1st, which has this week been made public. This figure, 54,937, exceeds the former high production point in the county by some 7,000 bales, and exceeds the figures shown a year ago on same date by 28,462 bales.

While conditions may not seem as good locally as we would like we believe that the citizenship of Knox county is in a very fortunate condition as compared with people of many sections of the state where crop conditions have been less favorable.

Munday Physicians Stricken With Flu As Well As Others

While a goodly number of folks in Munday and vicinity were wrestling with the flu during the past week-end, two of Munday's physicians were also stricken, and the responsibility fell largely upon the lone physician here to look after the numerous cases. Both Dr. Wm. P. Farrington and Dr. Joe Davis were confined to their homes, and Dr. Arthur A. Smith was kept on the go day and night looking after the many patients.

With so many cases under his care, several of which were critical, Dr. Smith made an effort to secure assistance from Gorse, Knox City and other nearby towns, but found that the physicians in these towns were well occupied in caring for their own patients, so he had to do the best he could all by himself, and for several days he was on the go both day and night.

G. H. Jones of Seymour was here Munday looking after business matters for the E. K. Mutual of which he is manager.

Burglar Caught At Truscott

The Truscott night watchman and sheriff C. R. Elliott caught a burglar in the act of robbing a Truscott store Saturday night. The nightwatchman discovered someone in the store and kept him in hand until the sheriff arrived and the burglar was taken to the Benjamin jail soon afterwards.

The man broke in the back door of the store and was caught before he could get away with anything.—Knox County Herald.

"Bugs" Daugherty of Seymour, Representative of the Southwestern Life Insurance Company, was here on Monday looking after business matters for his company, and stated that he and Mrs. Daugherty would leave the following day for San Antonio to attend a meeting of Southwestern agents.

PROPAGANDA "NEWS SERVICE"

The Times, as well as all other weekly newspapers, is constantly receiving letters from kind-hearted individuals offering to represent this newspaper at Austin or at Washington, giving us a weekly review of the happenings around the capitol. However, we have observed from papers using these services that there is usually a purpose behind these generous offers and the so-called reporters are receiving their pay from sources wishing to influence legislation, and we have refrained from using any such services, and when we do use such a service our readers may rest assured that it is not coming from a source with special interests to serve.

POLITICAL AND DEBTS.

The world is now being disturbed by another period of discussion of the inability of various nations to pay the sums they owe the United States for war debts.

The sad part of the situation is that in most of the nations involved the issue is being handled as a political, rather than as a purely business transaction.

Undoubtedly some nations are entitled to an extension of credit but when they ask for it, other nations immediately demand the same concessions for fear their neighbors will get something they don't.

So-called diplomacy and cheap politics prevent consideration of debts owed the United States, on a business basis, in accordance with each debtor's ability to pay.

If the foreign debts could be hand-

TWENTY FIVE THOUSANDS JOBS

During the recent campaign James E. Ferguson stated that there were 25,000 Federal jobs to be distributed in Texas, and not one of them would go to anyone who failed to support Mrs. Ferguson for governor, or worse to that effect. This being the first time we recall of a candidate for State office proposing to dictate in all Federal appointments, we had naturally wondered how our Senators and Congressmen felt about the matter, since none of them interested themselves in the campaign in Texas, and since none of them, insofar as we have been able to learn, have lent their endorsement to the Fergusons other than the semi-apologetic statement that, being Democrats, they naturally would support the nominees—"from president to constable."

Anyway, it will be interesting to observe developments during the next two years, for it is a certainty that numerous citizens of Texas who were ardent supporters of Roosevelt and Garner and who are also intimate friends and supporters of Senators Sheppard and Connally and their respective Congressmen, but who did not support the Ferguson ticket in the general election, will seek Federal patronage, and the outcome will be watched with interest.

AUTO DEATH RATE DECLINES

The best news we have heard in a long time is the report that fewer people have been killed in automobile accidents this year than last. At first glance it might seem that that is merely because not so many people are driving cars, but the Travelers Insurance Company keeps close track of the figures of automobile accidents, accident insurance, says that while fewer cars are registered and less gasoline is being bought the decrease in fatal accidents is even more marked than those facts will account for.

In seventeen states there has been a falling off of 20 percent in the number of automobile deaths. Only three states show an increase in the number of fatalities. For the country as a whole the number of automobile deaths for the first ten months of this year shows a decline of 15 percent. At the present rate fewer than thirty thousand people will have been killed in or by automobiles in 1932.

This is mighty good news. It indicates that we are learning how to handle the most dangerous deadly weapon that has ever been placed without restraint in the hands of children, irresponsible adults and drunkards. Far more people are killed by the careless or incompetent handling of automobiles every year than are killed by carelessness with firearms. Most parents would hesitate before giving their boys and girls revolvers to play with. But these same parents will give automobiles to the most irresponsible children to play with and to kill people with. Nobody would trust a notorious and irresponsible drunkard with a gun, but the operation of automobiles is entrusted to anyone who can keep sober long enough to get his driving license.

The strictest of regulations in order to obtain a driver's license is of course one way to curb the evils of recklessness.

Diet Didn't Do This!

HAPPY little girl, just bursting with pep, and she has never tasted a "tonic"

Every child's stomach, liver, and bowels need stimulating at times, but give children something you know all about.

Follow the advice of that famous family physician who gave the world Syrup Pepsin Stimulate the body's vital organs. Dr. Caldwell's prescription of pure pepsin, active senna, and fresh herbs is a mild stimulant that keeps the system from getting sluggish.

If your youngsters don't do well at school, don't play as hard or eat as well as other children do, begin this evening with Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. This gentle stimulant will soon right things! The bowels will move with better regularity and thoroughness. There won't be so many sick spells or colds. You'll find it just as wonderful for adults, too, in larger spoonfuls!

Get some Syrup Pepsin; protect your household from those bilious days, frequent headaches, and that sluggish state of half-health that means the bowels need stimulating. Keep this preparation in the house to use instead of harsh cathartics that cause cramps, constipation, and other ailments. You can always get Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at any drug store; they have it all ready in big bottles.

SCHOOL OUT

Owing to the extremely bad weather and an epidemic of flu school was turned out Wednesday and Thursday of this week. Bad roads and cold made it impossible for many of those living in the country to attend and sickness took a large toll of both students and teachers. The decision to close school came Monday when a check up showed more than sixty percent of the students absent in the high school. A higher figure than this was reported in the grammar school.

Break Lock on Jail Door

Two men were caught gambling in a box car on the Santa Fe Railway Tuesday and were placed in the local jail to await hearing before Justice of the Peace Kenney.

They were not detained long, however, due to the fact their pals broke the lock on the door enabling them to escape. They made their getaway in broad day light.—Chillicothe Valley News.

The editor of the Munday Times waxed right "susa-gee" in his column last week when he spoke of a good farmer bringing him in a nice batch of fresh sausage. The editor learned from quizzing the farmer that he had 275 pounds of sausage put away in his smoke house for the winter and concluded by saying a farmer who had that much sausage stored away at home must look more like a commissary than anything else. There is little danger of Editor Kennedy and his family going hungry living in a country like that.—Stanton Reporter.

CORNING AND DRYING BEEF REVIVED ON TEXAS FARMS

By O. B. Martin, Director of College Station, Texas

COLLEGE STATION, Dec. 15.—Corned beef and cabbage, dried beef gravy are two homely delicacies Texas farm folk are expected to enjoy more than usual this winter because corning and drying beef are to be featured in the farm meat preservation work of county farm and home demonstration agents this year, and Extension Service authorities at Texas A. and M. College. These two methods of curing beef have become all but a lost art in the State, but are undergoing a revival of popularity as a part of the extensive live-at-home program.

"The cheaper cuts of beef such as navel, brisket, rump and parts of the chuck are used for corning, and the round muscles, generally termed the 'dried beef steaks' are the best pieces adapted to drying," says Roy W. Snyder, Extension meat specialist. "The cure recipe is the same for both processes and consists of 1½ pounds salt, 1 ounce saltpetre, 1-4 pound sugar and 1 gallon water. The meat is packed and weighted down in a barrel or stone jar and covered well with the cure mixture. Corned beef is ready to use from the brine in about 10 days to two weeks, according to size of the piece. It can be used direct from brine as needed, but if left in the cure longer than 30 days parboiling will probably be necessary. It is usually best to can corned beef when cured.

"The same barrel or jar may be used for drying, and the two processes may be carried on in the same container at the same time if desired. Each piece for drying should be left in the cure 3 days for each pound in the piece. A 10-pound piece should remain in the cure 30 days. When taken out of the cure the meat should be thoroughly washed and hung up to dry for 24 hours. It is then lightly smoked with hardwood smoke and hung away to continue drying. It is ready for use when firm and hard."

MASTER DAIRY FARMER OF TEXAS PANHANDLE

CANYON—The rare combination of high producing cows, a trench silo and sudan pasture seem to be the way to produce butterfat at low cost, says W. H. Upchurch, county agent of Randall county, in citing the records of C. C. Stewart who was judged "master dairy farmer" of the Texas Panhandle in a recently ended contest. The records of H. R. Fulton, also of Randall county, who furnished second, testify to the same thing.

With a herd of 14 pure bred Jerseys that produced an average of about 425 pounds of butterfat for the year, Mr. Stewart was able to produce butterfat at a feed cost of 5.4 cents per pound. It was the trench silo filled with grain sorghums that failed to make, a well planned pasture rotation of wheat and sudan grass, and good cows, that enabled this cheap production, Mr. Upchurch points out. Mr. Fulton's herd of 40 grade Jerseys produced within 20 pounds as much butterfat per cow as Mr. Stewart's at a feed cost of 8.4 cents per pound. Both men have culled vigorously for three years and have taken out cows far above the county average but below their own herd's high standards of production.

BETTER STATE SCHOOLS AT LESS EXPENSE

The recommendations of the joint organization and efficiency committee to withdraw state support from six of the eight teachers colleges and the abandonment of certain work at Texas Technological and the College of Industrial Arts is certain to meet with powerful opposition when any thing is attempted by the 43rd Legislature relative to carrying out these recommendations. Of all the powerful lobbies, the schools have the most highly organized ones and it is next to impossible to get any beneficial legislation passed and by beneficial legislation we mean to the taxpayer, the one who foots the bill. At the first hint of an attempt to curb the extravagancies or curtail the inefficiencies of any of these state supported institutions, a mighty wall goes up from this boy and we be he of the Legislature who persists in attempting to hamper in any way the activities of the Texas schools for he insures himself of almost certain defeat in the next election. Although not generally recognized by many of the institutions of higher learning, education will not take the place of brains and an educated fool is the biggest fool in the world. As long as our state supported colleges are turning out graduates with degrees that mean nothing more than a certificate that the holder has beard at a certain school for the required four years, the schools have but little to justify themselves in the eyes of the taxpayer. We will take for instance one phase of the work of the college in question—that of making teachers. To start with there is an over supply at present and anyone who has done a year's work in college can get a certificate to teach. If the only justification that the teachers college has for its existence is that it makes teachers, at the present most of them could shut down without impairing the efficiency of the public schools in the least. What the state really needs is less schools with a more rigid requirements. If for instance, the University could say of every graduate of the Law School here is a first class lawyer, they would justify the expense of maintaining that branch of learning. If they could say of each graduate engineer, here is a qualified engineer, that branch of the University would justify its existence. It would be an ideal situation if the graduate of any branch of the University were competent and not party trained professionals of mediocre ability. By raising the requirements and weeding out the scrubs, there would be less students and more worthy ones. The less students—the less expense.—Benjamin Post.

But the well organized lobby will be present with tremendous pressure. Every city in which one of these state institutions will be there with their individual lobbyist, and every interest that is benefitted financially by the continuation of these schools will be there. In fact every interest is always looked after at Austin except the interests of the taxpayer, which explains our tax-burdened condition.

But, why should all of these schools be maintained when local schools are being closed down for lack of funds? Only high school graduates are eligible to enter these teachers colleges, and if we cannot maintain our local schools we see no reason why we should continue to maintain these teachers colleges in the number that we have during normal times. Let the Legislature remember that there is a depression on, and how long it will last no one knows, but one thing is dead sure and that is that this depression will not be over until farm products bring a better price, and unless this one thing happens, there will be many local schools that will have to close their doors, which would be a far greater tragedy than the elimination of several of these unnecessary colleges.

Here's hoping that the pruning knife is used unostentatiously by the 43rd Legislature.
