Look To The East

by Aaron Edgar

(This Look to the East column came from the June 10, 1976 issue of the Munday Courier.)

Being able to shut out undesirable noises is an admirable trait.

We've had people tell us they can concentrate on two different things at one time - that is read a book or newspaper and listen to the radio, and keep track of both activities without difficulty.

This is a more admirable trait, and this we cannot do.

We often look at a newspaper and have some pretense of watching something taking place on the "idiot tube". Much of the time we are concentrating on just one; or, maybe, neither.

If noise of the TV strikes a responsive chord, we must, of necessity, divert our attention from the newspaper to the television to get the full impact. Our feeble mind will not be directed to both.

If another thought pushes into our one-track mind, we quite often fail at reading the newspaper item and watching the airwaves program.

We have a habit; perhaps good, perhaps bad, of listening to the radio while enjoying our morning breakfast. Our first act upon arising is to turn on the radio to get the news and weather, then we keep it on, more than anything else, because it breaks the unbearable silence.

Quite often at the breakfast table, the Mrs. will ask: "What was that about the weather?", to which we reply: "I don't know." She rejoins with, "Well, you were listening to it!"

That's what we mean by shutting out noises. Another thought just forced its way ahead of the weather news. Sometimes it upsets us for this to happen. We were waiting for the weather, too!

We had to train ourself early in our newspapering to shut out noises.

We were assigned to the front desk on the Collingsworth Standard at Wellington. The office was right next door to a jewelry store, where a young, musically-inclined boy often had to hold down the fort while his dad vacated the place for a spell.

He installed a loud speaker on the front awning and rigged up for playing all of the popular (and unpopular) tunes of the day. The louder the music, the better he liked it.

Our old typewriter would refuse to go, at times, because of the loud music coming through the doorway. This was before air-conditioning was even practiced, and it was necessary to let a little fresh air come in through the open doorway.

As time went on, we became adjusted to the situation and could type up a sort of masterpiece story without being conscious of the musical notes that permeated the air from next door.

This proved to be pretty good training for us, even after coming to Munday.

In the late thirties and early forties, it was quite popular to have a loud speaker blasting forth in Munday, especially on Saturdays, in the belief that the loud noise would attract customers to the stores.

Sometimes the noise would be by locally organized groups, other times by records or other methods.

Piggly Wiggly grocery was right next door to our office, and these people believed that loud music attracted more people than a newspaper ad.

Frequently, the music would be interrupted for a commercial. Here's one we still remember:

"Crow like a rooster, cackle like a hen; rooster snuff is the stuff for womenfolks and men!"

We had to shut such as that out, too!

Boosters Plan Addition To Mogul Fieldhouse

Members of the Munday Booster Club announced plans this week to build a new conditioning and weight room for Munday athletes. This project will be financed and constructed by the Booster Club.

Gene Thompson, club president, said the room will be a 30' by 45' metal sided structure. Ground was marked off on Monday on a location just north of the fieldhouse. The addition will be paid for with donations, and Thompson said they think approximately $6,000 will be needed. A tentative completion date is set for March 1, depending on the weather between now and that date. Labor will be provided by club members and coaches.

To kick off the drive for donations, the Booster Club will sponsor a spaghetti supper on Tuesday, January 31, in the high school cafeteria. Serving will begin at 5 p.m. and will continue through half-time of the Munday-Haskell girls' game. Items on the menu will include spaghetti, salad, garlic bread, cherry cobbler and drinks. Tickets are $3 for adults and students, and $2 for children age 6 and under, and are available from any Booster Club member or the coaches. You may also purchase a ticket at the door.

Forget about cooking supper that night, moms; just load your family up and come to the spaghetti supper, then go on into the gym and watch exciting and important district basketball games between Munday and Haskell.

David Hajek Is Candidate For District Judge Post

David W. Hajek, County Attorney of Baylor County, Texas, has announced his candidacy for the office of District Judge of the 50th Judicial District in the Democratic Primary to be held in May of 1984.

David, who is 33 years of age, was born in Seymour and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Hajek of Seymour. His grandfather, the late Ed Hajek, was an early settler of Baylor County. His family has been involved in farming activities in the Seymour area for nearly eighty years. David has lived in Seymour his entire life, with the exception of the time he was in college and law school.

Upon graduation from Seymour High School in 1969, David entered Texas Tech University where he received a Bachelor of Business Administration degree in accounting in 1972. Thereafter, he was awarded the Doctor of Jurisprudence degree from Texas Tech University School of Laws in 1976, and was admitted to the Texas Bar that same year.

Immediately after graduation from law school, he returned to Seymour and entered the private practice of law. He served as Baylor County Attorney from February, 1978 to June, 1981 and from June, 1983 to the present. He is a member of the State Bar of Texas, American Bar Association and the Texas District and County Attorneys Association.

David was raised on the family farm south of Seymour and was active in various school activities, including FFA, in which he was awarded the Lone Star Farmer's Degree. While in college, he was on the Dean's List every semester, and graduated in the top ten percent of his class.

STATE REPRESENTATIVE STEVE CARRIKER

Carriker Asks Re-Election To House of Representatives

Seventy-eighth District State Representative Steven A. Carriker announced this week that he has filed with the Democratic Party for election to a second term in the Texas House.

Carriker, a Fisher County farmer and livestock producer, is currently serving on the House County Affairs Committee, the House Agriculture and Livestock Committee, and is one of the only two freshmen members elected to serve on the Executive Committee of the House Democratic Caucus. He also serves on the Budget and Oversight committee for County Affairs and is chairman of the sub-committee studying dryland crops and water efficient farming.

In his first term, Carriker passed a number of pieces of enabling legislation for local governments, including the establishment of several juvenile boards and also the creation of authority for the City-County Auditorium project in Nolan County. He was successful in expanding authority for transporting agricultural equipment on public roads and won a hard-fought battle to keep highways open to use by tractors and other farm machinery. Along those same lines, he "bested the vets" as one newspaper put it, in preserving authority for hardship licensing of drivers, sometimes an unavoidable necessity for families in rural areas. Other successful legislation included an agricultural bond program.

volunteer fire department funding, and numerous other pieces of legislation he either sponsored or co-sponsored.

At the top of the legislative list, however, is Carriker's "Proposition Zero" package. This effort to provide more equitable funding for public schools and relieve part of the tax burden on homes has been widely hailed as "the fairest system" and has received editorial endorsements from major state newspapers. It is likely to be considered in a special session later this year.

Press from around the state has recognized Carriker as an outstanding new lawmaker. One magazine singled him out saying "Carriker holds great promise for the future" and he "understands the big picture". A United Press International story said Carriker "has already made a few political moves worthy of a veteran" and went on to say that as a legislative newcomer he "appeared quite confident".

Carriker is a 1973 graduate of the University of Texas and he and his wife, Kathy, and their two children live on the family farm outside of Roby, near the center of the sprawling district he represents. The district stretches from above the caprock near Lubbock down through the Rolling Plains to surround Abilene, then north nearly to the Red River. Counties include Cottle, Fisher, Garza, Jones, Kent, King, Knox, Lynn, Nolan, Scurry, Stonewall, and part of Taylor.

Hamlin, Paducah Take First Half Crowns

Munday basketball teams completed a sweep against their opponents from Hamlin, taking four victories Friday night. This concluded the first half of district play, and the varsity teams will both need to improve on their records to win playoff berths.

After taking wins at Rotan and at home against Hamlin, the Mogulettes fell into a three-way tie for second place in the girls' bracket. Hamlin, who lost their only district game to Munday, won the first half with a 4-1 record. Munday, Seymour and Paducah have identical 3-2 district marks, and Haskell and Rotan bring up the rear for the first round.

The Moguls are in a tie for third place in their district race. Paducah was the first half winner with a perfect 5-0 record. Haskell had the second spot with a 4-1 mark, and Hamlin is tied with Munday for third with two wins and three losses. Seymour and Rotan are in the bottom positions.

At Rotan on Tuesday, January 17, Munday's junior varsity girls started the action with a 45-18 loss. Gwen Stinnett led her team with 6 points. The JV Moguls, coming out of their slump, defeated Hamlin by a 41-20 score behind Terry Shields' 12 points.

The Mogulettes took the court next, and pulled out an easy 57-40 win. Janet Myers canned 19 points in the win. The Moguls didn't do as well, losing a close

FHA Plans Evening Of Fun, Fashion

Homemaking students at Munday High School and their instructor, Mrs. Penny Winchester, are making plans for the annual FHA fashion show, which has been set this year for Thursday, February 2. The theme for the show, which will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium, is "Lights, Camera, Action."

Students will show off their sewing skills by modeling garments they have constructed this year. These fashions will be submitted for judging for the Barton Carl Clothing Construction Award, presented by Hurst's Department Store. Judging will be performed this week, and the awards in each class will be presented at the fashion show. Also to be presented are the awards for best coordinated ensembles, given by Mr. and Mrs. Jim Reid of the Ben Franklin Store.

Besides the modeling portion of the program, plenty of entertainment is scheduled, with various classes practicing skits to be presented. A small admission fee will be charged, and tickets are available from any Future Homemaker of America.

This is traditionally one of the most popular events of the school year, and a large crowd is expected to enjoy the evening of fashion and entertainment. It will be a program you won't want to miss.

IN LETTER TO EDITOR

Munday Youngster Praised For Kindness

Dear Courier Staff,

I have a news item that might be of some interest to your readers.

My husband and I live at Lake Kemp. A family from Munday, Shirley and Gordon Smith, have a lake house just down the road from us.

Thursday evening, January 12, Gordon knocked on our door to tell us that someone had run over our dog. They had driven by her lying in the ditch once, thinking that she was stalking something. The second time they passed, Jonathan insisted that something was wrong with Jenny and his dad stopped so he could check.

Because of Jonathan's concern, Jenny has another chance at life. Jonathan helped me get her to the house for blankets so I could take her on to the vet, who gave her a shot to reduce shock and the swelling in her brain and another for the bleeding. After one night I got to take her home. She had a bad concussion and still isn't well, but is on her way back.

We would like to express our thanks to Jonathan Smith for being such a good friend to man and dog. Someone left Jenny to die but he cared enough to do the right thing.

Thanks Jonathan, from Jenny.

Sincerely,

Roy Lee and Sue Walker

Friday. The girls' junior varsity team won a hard-fought victory over Hamlin 24-22. Gwen Stinnett was high point player with 8. The boys' game was another close contest, with Munday pulling out a 41-39 win. Coach Bill Kingston said this was Hamlin's second loss of the season. Tim Collier led the team with 16 points, but all the players shared in this winning effort, playing as well as they had all season.

The action got even hotter during the varsity girls' game, as the Mogulettes took a last-minute 37-36 win on Beverly Brown's clutch free throws. Janet Myers had 11 points for the team.

Moguls jumped out to an early lead, and hung on for a 60-50 victory. Johnny Collier netted 23 points and Dent Offutt had 11 for the winners.

The teams played important games at Paducah on Tuesday night of this week, and will travel to Seymour on Friday. Both games next week will be played at home, with Haskell and Rotan being the opponents, and the season will end Tuesday, February 7, at Hamlin.

The freshman and junior varsity teams will play in a tournament at Knox City this weekend. On Thursday, the Munday teams will face Haskell. The schedule of games lists Munday's junior varsity girls playing at 3 p.m., the JV boys at 4:15, freshman girls at 5:30 and freshman boys at 6:45. The teams will be in action again on Friday.

In other games played last week, Munday's seventh grade boys lost to Paducah 41-14. Scott Hutchens scored 6 points for the Moguls. The eighth graders went down 43-25 to the Dragons, with Anthony Stinnett scoring 10 points for the Braves.

COACH BURKS COMMENTS

Balanced scoring and improved ball handling were the keys to both our victories last week. Rotan played us close in the first half, but we changed our press and scored 10 unanswered points in the third quarter. The press looked good in the second half.

We shot 60% from the free throw line against Hamlin, which is our best percentage this year. Janet Myers was 9 for 10 from the line. Scoring was again very balanced. This is what we have been working for; we have to get some scoring from every player to win. The aspect I was most pleased with was the way we moved the ball.

The second half of district play should be very interesting. I think we are still contenders; we are not playing up to our capabilities. We are hoping to peak in our important games against Paducah and Seymour.

COACH REDDEN COMMENTS

The key to our loss to Rotan was the fact that we took 74 shots from the floor and made 26 of them for a very poor 35%. From the free throw line, we had 11 chances and made 3 points.

Actually, we played a relatively good game with the exception of our poor shooting. We also gave up too many turnovers, especially in crucial situations. Two turnovers in the last 20 seconds gave Rotan their win.

Kent Josselot played one of his better offensive games against Rotan. The boys hustled hard, but didn't play very well defensively.

We played better against Hamlin, shooting 39% from the floor and a much improved 70% in free throws. We had a good game defensively, and rebounded well. We need to be more consistent in our shooting, especially in the second half.

I would like to thank our fans for their support. We have been having good crowds at our home games, and we will need your support during the rest of our district games. We hope to be playing our best in the next two weeks.

Most Small Grains Will Recover From Freeze

While the late December cold wave that swept Texas dealt a heavy blow to grazing from small grains, most of the crops should recover. That assessment comes from Dr. Travis Miller, agronomist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

"Both wheat and oats were burned back severely by the long period of extremely cold weather," says Miller. "Oats were especially hard hit, along with late-planted wheat that had not yet developed tillers (secondary stems)."

Miller noted that a considerable amount of wheat was damaged in central and western areas because it was planted late due to a lack of soil moisture last fall. Some of this was replanted wheat where early stands had been poor due to dry conditions followed by heavy rains in October.

To check for freeze damage, Miller suggests looking at the growing point or crown node of the plant about one-half inch below the soil surface. Cut the middle of the stem with a sharp knife and look for green material. If the growing point appears water-soaked or brownish in color, the plant is dead. Live plants will generally revive and green color will be restored after a week to ten days of favorable weather.

"The best thing for producers to do right now is to let cattle graze off the dead topgrowth," says Miller. "This is high quality forage with up to 15 percent crude protein. If the small grains were severely frosted, take cattle off the fields to enable plants to recover once this dead growth is removed. If a considerable amount of green leaves remain, continue normal grazing operations. Mild weather is needed and some areas need additional moisture to facilitate regrowth."

The agronomist advises producers to let small grains put forth four to six inches of new growth before grazing them again. Overgrazing fields prior to the December cold led to heavier than usual freeze damage to wheat and oats in some areas.

In addition to keeping cattle off small grains to speed up recovery, Miller also advises against applying fertilizer at this time. "Fertilizing now would just cause a flush of tender growth which would be highly susceptible to more cold weather," he says.

Small grains should be top-dressed with nitrogen just before the jointing stage of growth, or about the time cattle are pulled off to enable grain production, notes the agronomist. This ranges from mid-February in southern areas to early March in the plains.

Texas boasts about 7.4 million acres of wheat this year and about 1.5 million acres of oats. About 70 percent of the oats planted are grazed out by livestock, but a good portion of the wheat is left to make a grain crop, Miller says. Depending on weather conditions the rest of the winter and into the spring, the Texas wheat crop should not be reduced significantly due to frigid conditions in December.

ARMY PROMOTES OFFICER: Gerald Bowden, professor of military science at Northeastern State University in Tahlequah, Oklahoma, son of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Bowden of Munday, has been promoted to the rank of Lieutenant Colonel by the United States Army. His new insignia are pinned in place by his wife, Nancy, and by NSU President W. Roger Webb during a ceremony in President Webb's office.

Munday Native Promoted To Lieutenant Colonel

Friends and colleagues of Gerald Bowden, professor of military science at Northeastern State University in Tahlequah, Oklahoma, shared a major campus occasion last week when the United States Army officer was promoted from the rank of Major to Lieutenant Colonel.

Bowden, his wife, Nancy, and his children, Christopher and Elizabeth, attended a ceremony in the office of NSU president W. Roger Webb, who pinned Bowden's new insignia to his uniform and praised the officer for the work he has done strengthening Northeastern's Army ROTC.

"This is a first for NSU. The Army obviously recognizes leadership and quality," President Webb told Bowden, who came to the university in June, 1981, from the Army Command and General Staff College in Ft. Leavenworth, Kansas. President Webb called Bowden a man who is loyal to his country and to his profession, which has seen assignments in Germany, Korea, Vietnam and several state-side posts.

Lt. Col. Bowden is a graduate of North Texas State University and Boston University, where he earned a master's degree in education. He will receive a new assignment from the Army in June and will leave the university, where ROTC has seen a phenomenal growth the past six years.

"This has been a great experience for us," Bowden said. "I want everyone to know how much we appreciate the support you have given the program."

Also attending the ceremony were members of the NSU Military Science Committee and a representative of the University of Arkansas Army ROTC.

Bowden is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Bowden of Munday. He graduated from Munday High School in 1961.

"We know you are leaving this summer," President Webb told Bowden. "We are pleased to have shared this honor with you and your family and the honor of working with you."

Spend Some Hours With A Good Book

If the cold weather is keeping you inside and bored, the City-County Library has some suggestions for entertainment.

A book that will keep you on the edge of your chair is On Wings of Eagles by Ken Follett. Some other good non-fiction choices are New York Street Smarts by Saul Miller, Angel Dust (What Everyone Should Know About PCP) by Taber, Oglesby and Taber, Nuclear Arms In The Third World - U.S. Policy Dilemma by Ernest W. Make Careful Decision When Buying Computer

A home computer may be just another household appliance, but purchasing one is certainly not like buying a refrigerator or stereo set.

Home computers are being mass produced, but they are not a mass product with a high degree of standardization, says Bonnie Piernot, a specialist with Texas A&M University's Agricultural Extension Service home economics program. Computers are powerful tools designed to be used in highly individual ways, so consumers will probably never find it as simple to select a home computer as other appliances, she says.

The more a consumer knows about how computers work and what they can do, the easier it will be to match a system to his or her needs, says the specialist. This requires becoming familiar with the jargon and the wealth of information about microcomputers that is now readily available. Trade magazines and books, computer user groups, adult education and community college courses and friends who own computers are all excellent resources, she notes.

Before buying a computer, Piernot suggests that you identify your needs and those of all potential users in your family. Typical home computer applications include word processing, games, educational programs, data base management, financial recordkeeping and telecommunications. To help determine what models to consider, try to project what you will do with your computer in a year's time, says Piernot.

Microcomputer prices range from under $100 to over $5000, but machines under $300 have limited capabilities. Since system prices vary from computer to computer and there is no one best machine for everyone, consumers should try to balance their needs against their budget.

sumers should try to balance their needs against their budget.

According to Piernot, a specialist in family financial management, the addition of a home computer requires careful budgeting, since there are many hidden costs. In addition to the cost of the basic computer, you will need to budget for software, which can be expensive. Word processors, for example, can cost as much as $500. Other necessary expenses could include blank storage disks or cassette tapes and a small television set or video monitor, says the specialist. A desk, chair and lamp are also part of the typical home computer workspace as well.

Piernot also recommends budgeting for a magazine subscription, a few books and a few classes to help you get started. "Budgeting time can be equally important," she says, "since it may take several weeks or even months for you to become familiar with your computer and to learn how to use it effectively."

Pecan Trees Damaged By Cold Weather

Many pecan trees as well as other trees suffered freeze damage and limb breakage as a result of the bad weather in late December. Lloyd Waldrup of Knox City noticed this damage and we discussed what would be the best action for these injured trees.

Generally the best time to prune is during late winter or early spring before growth begins. In this case, Lloyd is going to prune visually damaged limbs as soon as possible. It is important that the pruning be done correctly to avoid compounding the damage.

The correct method to repair the damage done to a tree is outlined in the publication "Pruning and Training Landscape Plants" available at the Knox County Extension Office located in the county courthouse. Some basics to remember are: always make cuts flush and smooth to encourage rapid healing, and do not leave stubs, for this will invite disease and insects. On large limbs, avoid tearing the bark by making jump cuts to relieve the weight before making the final flush cut.

Something to consider is that freeze damage and limb breakage of pecan trees are not the same. Dr. George Eachern, horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, points out that mature pecan trees which were stressed from a heavy crop in 1983 could have suffered from freeze injury. "Freeze injury can be deceiving," said Mr. Eachern. Pecan trees that have been frozen often bud out and look healthy in April. This growth can be 6 to 17 inches long before it wilts and turns brown a few weeks later. The cambium layer of freeze-damaged pecan trees will have a brown color and a syrup-sugar smell in late April. The horticulturist also advises against pruning back existing trees until mid-May to determine the extent of any freeze injury.

Micro-software is available now through the Texas Agricultural Extension Service to aid producers in the 1984 farm participation decision. Most farmers, between now and February 24, must decide whether and to what extent they will participate in the 1984 farm program for cotton and grain. These will be very important decisions.

Farmers who have computers can more easily analyze their participation with these computerized decision guide worksheets. They were developed for use on the "Super-Cale" spreadsheet. "Super-Cale" templates for cotton, wheat, corn, and sorghum are available on the same diskette for a $25.00 distribution fee. A producer must

Overcoming The World

"In the world you will have trouble. But courage! The victory is mine; I have conquered the world." (Jesus) John 16:33 NEB

When God finished creation, He pronounced His creation good. But something very wrong happened: sin came into the world, and because of sin there is suffering, troubles, death, and anguish in God's good world. In fact, sin became so rampant that the apostle John wrote, "For all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world." I John 2:16 KJV

In just such a sin-filled world, Jesus commanded His followers to be perfect! Matt.

5:48 The problem with attaining perfection is that the natural person has neither the moral will nor power to live sinlessly. In spite of ourselves, we find that we think and act in ways we should not, and fail to think and act in the ways we should.

The answer to this human dilemma is given to us by this same apostle John (quoted above) when he wrote, "For whatsoever is born of God overcometh the world; and this is the victory that overcometh the world, even our faith." I Jn. 5:4 There we have it! The answer is faith - but faith in what, or whom? The following verse is very specific about that: "Who is he that overcometh the world, but he that believeth that Jesus is the Son of God?" V. 5

come by the world, not because they have no faith at all, but rather because they have had faith in the wrong things - they have trusted in the wrong things. But whoever puts their trust in Christ "shall not be ashamed". Rom. 9:33 & 10:11

Faith in God's gift... but it is conditional... one must believe and trust in His Son to receive the gift. This message is especially for the reader who feels crushed by the circumstances in this old world - suffering, troubles, death, grief, broken relationships - the list is endless, but the remedy to all in God's love through His Son. "... in all these things (troubles & death) we are more than conquerors through him that loved us." Rom 8:37

Have you tried everything? Have you tried praying? In the name of Jesus? Your pastor, or your Christian friend can help you find faith.

Munday Bandsmen Win All-District Honors

Four students at Munday High School were chosen to participate in the All-District band at a contest held Saturday, January 21, in Wichita Falls.

Munday band director Rodney Bennett announced the selection of senior Paul Wright as first chair baritone saxophone for the Class A, AA and AAA high school all-district band. Paul is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Cooks.

Karen Munoz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Angel Munoz, will play bass clarinet in the freshman band. Alexis Bordovsky and Angie Partridge were named to the junior high all-district band. Their instruments are the bass clarinet and mallet percussion, respectively. Angie's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Weldell Partridge and Alexis is the daughter of Gail Ramirez and David Bordovsky.

Bennett said these students competed against over 1,100 other musicians to win places in their respective bands. Others from Munday who tried out were, in the junior high division, Erlinda Sosa and Margaret Harlan, clarinet; Holly Jackson, alto sax; Rita Ramos, trumpet; and Melissa Zachary, snare drum.

L. JANE LOCKNANE
COUNTY EXTENSION AGENT HOME ECONOMICS

Products sweetened with "Nutra Sweet" brand sweetener virtually exploded onto supermarket shelves in 1982 and 1983. This produce made possible new food and beverage choices that met your demands for taste with fewer calories.

Nutra Sweet is the G.D. Searle & Co. brand for the sweetener discovery aspartame (APM). Nutra Sweet is currently the only brand of aspartame available for use in foods and beverages. Aspartame is a highly concentrated "super sweetener", about 200 times sweeter than sugar. It is a sweet nutritive substance made of protein components (amino acids) like those in foods. And Aspartame is metabolized as protein. Since it is composed of amino acids, you cannot use it in a recipe that requires heating of the substance as heat will break down and destroy these acids.

Aspartame has a clean, sweet taste like sugar and sweetens without adding calories and without a bitter chemical or metallic after-taste, unlike artificial sweeteners.

Consumers cannot buy Aspartame sweetener as it is because it is a food ingredient and only found in foods and beverages. It can be purchased in products such as powdered drink mixes, pre-sweetened cereals, instant puddings, dessert toppings, tabletop sweeteners and the ever popular soft drinks to name a few. To help find these products check packages and labels for the ingredient listing for "Aspartame".

Recently there has been some controversy as to side effects caused by use of this sweetener. These can occur when the product is used in concentrated amounts by certain people who are overly sensitive. With normal use there should be no problems but keep in mind, as with any other food in your diet, it should never be used to excess.

I will be having an article each week in the Munday Courier. If you have questions about the content in this article or any article in the future please call me at 454-2651 or come by the extension office in the county courthouse at Benjamin.

Just add up the benefits for yourself:

- All contributions are tax-deferred and 100 percent deductible. You pay no taxes on the money you invest in your IRA or on the interest it earns until you begin taking distribution as early as age 59½.

- Save as little or as much as you want each month. Up to $2,000 a year if you are single and employed. Up to $2,250 a year for a couple where one spouse is employed and the other is not. And up to $4,000 a year for a working couple. Save as little as $10 a month. Even skip a whole year's contributions if you prefer.

- Pay much less tax on your retirement income. By retirement age, you'll probably be in a lower tax bracket, so the taxes you'll pay on your IRA retirement income could be much less than you pay now.

- Almost everyone can qualify. If you are under age 70½ and are earning an income, you qualify for a Commodore IRA, even if you are already participating in another retirement program.

Best of all, the money you put into your IRA earns a guaranteed high compound interest rate. Save $2,000 a year for just 20 years, and your IRA investment could amount to well over $100,000!

Seven different retirement plans are available, including Regular IRA, Spousal IRA, Employer IRA, Rollover IRA, Payroll Deduction IRA, IRA/SEPP and Keogh Plan. Find out which plan is right for you. Call Commodore today, and build yourself a better retirement at Commodore Savings. It's as simple as A.B.C.
