And the dilligence with which President Roosevelt has tackled the stupendous task has already won for him the admiration of the entire nation. He has started the stupendous task without the usual delay for conferences and commissions to to act and make recommendations, and those in position to know feel confident that within a very brief time busines conditions will be materially improved, and money will flow more freely in all parts of the nation.

President Roosevelt, Senator Robinson and other administration leaders have urged that the people be petiont, arguring them that every effort will be rando to rectify conditions insofar as they can be a sected by legislation, but time will be required to put these new policies and laws Bowden and Miss Shelly Lee assistinto action, and in the meantime we must maintain confidence in our banking institutions, thru which relief must ultimately come.

Mr. Roosevelt was not long in dispelling from cherry pie topped with whipped cream the minds of the people of the nation that fiat and everyone declared it a most enmoney or script would not be used as a means of increasing a circulation medium, but instead the vast machines in the bureau of engraving have been set in notion on full time turning out good currency against the nation's vast gold reserve and will be put into circulation through a liberalization of credits throughout the nation.

Anyway, let us be grateful that the crisis has been reached just at a time when it was possible for the people to get the "new deal" for which they so emphatically expressed a desire in the November election. Let us be thankful that we have at the helm of our nation a man who has a sincere desire to wrest the government from the soiled hands of corruption, greed and graft, and restore it to the people. And let us hope that a dilligent effort will be made to prosecute some of those high in the councils of the retiring administration who have contributed to the suffering of millions in their quest for gold, who have betrayed the American people and should forever stand discredited before the nation.

While the recent bank holiday proclaimed by the various states and later by our new President may have in a measure had an effect on business in some localities, it has to no extent interfered with the usual routine of business in Munday. While our bank, obeying the order of our Governor, has been closed, which has been the cause of some inconvenience in the conduct of our regular business, we have managed to take care of all reasonable demands made upon us, and shall continue to do business in the regular manner, honoring checks on responsible patrons for merchandise, and extending every courtesy within our power to extend.

The business institutions of Munday have weathered the depression during the past few years with fewer business failures than any town of like population in West Texas, we believe, and our people should have faith in our institutions—in one another—and let us pull together toward the solution of all our problems and we will emerge with a stronger tie of friendship and fellowship by having stood shoulder to shoulder in these trying times. We will emerge with a greater appreciation of our community and our town and our citizenship as a whole. Let's keep faith-and keep pulling together as we have during the past yearsand keep business going in the usual way.

A new feeling for men past fifty

If you've let yourself grow systemically old, here is a way to stimulate yourself without the slightest harm, and, in fact, with effects beneficial to the entire body.

This method of stimulating a sluggish system to new life is a doctor's liscovery, so no one need hesitate to try it or believe in it. It is a sane, sensible way to keep keenly alive.

The only medicine you take is a most likeable and remarkable syrup made with fresh herbs, active senna, and pure pepsin. The benefits are many, and far-reaching. Its imme-diate effect on the lower bowel gets rid of lingering poisons better than a powerful laxative. In fact, you will need no other laxative if you take an occasional spoonful of Dr. Caldwell's

If you regard yourself in fairly good health now, you might still find after a week or two of this gentle stimulation that you were only in a state of half-health before. It makes an amazing difference in the way one feels, especially at an age when one inclines toward auto-intoxication.
