Thinking Out Loud

By J. A. K.

Well, folks, we figure the little old ground hog knows his ckra.

And there'll be a February blizzard on your March gas bill.

The Wichita Daily Times can't understand why an Electra show can advertise feature pictures before they are shown in Wichita flicker houses—and for less money than they are shown in Withita Falls.

It might be enlightening to the Wichita contemporary to know that our own Roxy has been doing that very thing all along, and if they are just awakening to that fact, they evidently don't scan their exchanges very carefully.

Our big town brothers don't relish the idea of their folks going out of their city to buy entertainment—or anything else, and if our little town made more effort to keep business at home there would not be so many complaints about folks going away to make their purchases.

Recently a theatre in a neighboring town covered Munday with posters announcing a picture that had attracted nation-wide attention, but they might have saved themselves that expense, for Manager Williams had beat him to it, and had shown the picture at the Roxy here several days before.

And furthermore, we believe the same thing that applies to entertainment will apply to most everything else, for there are few things that can be had in the larger towns that cannot be had here—and at a price in most instances below that which you are asked to pay elsewhere.

Let's get it straight in our think-tanks that we can get the things we want here at home, and thereby keep our dollars in circulation right here in the Munday community.

When we spend a dollar at Wichita Falls, Abilene, Dallas or anywhere else outside our territory, that dollar most likely remains out of our territory, and when it is spent here it helps pay taxes to maintain our schools, our city, our churches and our business and agricultural interests.

However, we sometimes don't blame our people much for going away to buy certain merchandise, especially when we glance over the daily newspapers and see the large volume of attractive advertising matter carried by business concerns in these cities.

Advertising creates a desire for merchandise of all kinds, and if the merchant in the small town would give anything like as much thought and study to the art of effective advertising, he would have far less complaint about people going away to do their shopping.

People are just prone to buy merchandise from concerns that express a keen desire to sell them merchandise.

We have been told by local merchants that these pleas to folks to trade at home do no good. Perhaps they don't, but this plea isn't costing anything, for we have this column to fill anyway, and if it doesn't do any good, nobody's hurt.

And out here in West Texas about the time the green grass begins to creep through the earth along comes one of those rip-roaring blizzards and springtime immediately takes a knockout.

An effort is being made to make the Texas Highway Commission an elective body instead of an appointive one. There are, of course, good arguments in favor of both, and the fight will likely be an interesting one.

Rumors from Washington indicate that Texas will be represented in the Roosevelt cabinet, and it is freely predicted that Amos G. Carter, who staunchly supported the national ticket, and who equally opposed the election of the state nominee for governor, will be one of the favored few.

Carter is a Decatur boy who made good in this city, and he will make

Adolf Hitler, Man of Hour Today In German Republic

By FRANK PARKER STOCKRIDGE

Dictator . . . Europe's third Adolf Hitler, leader of the "Nazi" movement in Germany, has become Chancellor of the German Republic, and head of the Government. This makes the third European nation to come under control of a virtual dictator. Stalin in Russia, Mussolini in Italy and now Hitler in Germany are manifestations of the failure of the peoples of those countries to manage their own affairs successfully.

I hear a great deal of loose talk to the effect that "what America needs is a dictator." I don't think we need anything of the kind, and don't think that the vast majority of Americans want to be organized, disciplined and controlled in the way that people living under a dictator have to submit to.

We have never failed yet in America to work our own way out of our troubles, and I think we are on the way out now.

Socialism . . . are we headed?

We are much more likely in America to come to some mild form of socialism than we are to arrive at either communism or a dictatorship. But we are not likely to call it socialism any more than England calls her present system of government socialistic—which it practically is.

All the signs of the time are pointing to increasing governmental control, if not ownership and operation of public utilities, natural resources, means of transportation and communication. It would not surprise me, if I were here to see it, to find the United States twenty years from now owning all the mines, oil wells, railroad, telegraph and telephone lines, radio broadcasting systems, electric light and power plants, steamship lines, and other enterprises which are essentially monopolistic in their nature.

And, incidentally, if any more people stop paying their taxes it won't be long before the nation or its governmental sub-divisions own all the land.

COOPERATION . . . in a new way

A group of sixty-three unemployed New York business men are opening up a cooperative store with the aid of manufacturers and jobbers of merchandise of all kinds. They are getting their rent on a percentage basis of sales, and their merchandise on consignment.

This is only one of hundreds, perhaps thousands, of cooperative efforts at self help which are being made in all parts the United States. Some will succeed and some will not, but out of them may grow some valuable lessons which can be applied when good times come again, and which will make it easier, because of this experience, to meet the next economic crisis.

I heard from an English friend the other day that members of the great British cooperative society are getting through the depression much easier than the general run of the people.

The hardest thing for most Americans to learn is teamwork.

Hon. Marvin Jones Gives Viewpoint From Washington

By MARVIN JONES,

Member of Congress from Texas I feel that the people of our section would be interested in the program on which a number of us have been working during this session of Congress.

We have been doing everything possible to get the members of the House and Senate to realize just how serious conditions are. Ordinary remedies will not be sufficient, for these are not ordinary times. We are face to face with grim facts which call for emergency action.

In the first place, there should be a stay of foreclosures until such time as the necessary legislative program can be worked out. The House has already passed a measure of this kind. I hope the officials of various states will take such action as is necessary to supplant the work of Congress.

In my judgment, it is absolutely essential that a program of refinancing and, if possible, a scaling down of principal and interest rates and a refinancing of farm mortgages on a long-time basis be accomplished. A number of us have been working in every way possible toward this end.

The republic is anchored in the farm homes of America. Wholesale foreclosures on the part of mortgage companies would be detrimental to the companies as well as to the farmers and others who are interested. I hope they are beginning to learn the truth of this proposition.

Another matter that needs immediate attention is a complete revamping of our entire currency system. The price of the American dollar is too high when measured in the terms of commodity prices. There should be a readjustment in such a way as to make our unit of money a true measure of values. This would automatically increase commodity prices and enable people to pay debts.

Every thinking person realizes that taxes bear too heavily on the far and ranch. While this is largely a local matter depending upon action of state and local authorities, nevertheless, the expenses of the federal government should be reduced in every way possible. Many bureaus should be abolished and the activities of others curtailed. I have repeatedly urged this before the economy committee and have offered numerous amendments to accomplish this end.

Our freight rate schedules are too great a burden on the products of the farm and ranch. Freight rates at the present time are all out of proportion to the value of commodities.

I am also glad to know that the President-elect has declared that something must be done in reference to the excessive short selling and gambling in the stock market. He has declared for a correction of these evils, and I shall be more than happy to join him in supporting such a program.

The individual members of Congress are sometimes criticized for not taking action more quickly. Some of this criticism is just. However, I think it but fair to detail some of the difficulties under which we who represent farming districts are working.

There are 435 members of the House, each representing a different district. A majority of these members represent consuming rather than producing districts. Again, a clear majority, to-wit, 298 of the 435 members of the House of Representatives live north of the Ohio and east of the Mississippi river. It takes a majority of the members of the House to pass any kind of legislation. I mention this fact to show

Munday Country In Grip of Zero Weather and Snow

The lowest temperature of the winter was recorded here Tuesday morning when the mercury dropped to zero. The blizzard swept in from the northwest late Monday evening and in less than two hours the temperature had dropped from 60 to sub-freezing.

The first indication of the approaching blizzard was a dark fast moving cloud that appeared in the north shortly before dark Monday evening. High winds and flurries of snow and sleet continued all night. At day-break the thermometer reading was zero.

Newspaper and radio reports indicate that the entire nation has been in the grip of the blizzard. Parts of the Northwest report reading of 30 below zero. The Panhandle of Texas and Western Oklahoma report extremely cold weather with high winds and light snows.

W. C. Terry Dies At His Home At Portales, N. M.

Mrs. J. M. Terry has returned from Portales, New Mexico, where she went to attend the funeral of W. C. Terry, who died at his home at Portales some days ago. He had been ill for some weeks from influenza, which developed into pneumonia. He was 62 years of age.

Deceased was a resident of Munday a number of years ago, and was associated with his brother, J. M. Terry, who at that time was in the market business here, and purchased cattle and hogs for the market.

The many friends of Mr. Terry will join in extending our sincere sympathy to him in his great sorrow. Mr. Terry himself was physically unable to attend the funeral.

Mrs. J. E. Stover Succumbs After Prolonged Illness

Mrs. J. E. Stover, wife of Dr. J. E. Stover of Truscott, died Monday, January 27, in Fort Worth. She had been in ill health for several years, however, it was not until a few months ago that her condition began to show a rapid decline. Funeral services were held at Little Elm, Denton county.

She is survived by her husband; two daughters, Miss Mary Emma and Mrs. Hubert Chowning; two granddaughters and a sister, Mrs. Short of Amarillo.

Miss Della Sorrels, Mrs. Stover's maiden name, was born in Denton Co. on July 14, 1876. She was married to Dr. J. E. Stover in 1900. They moved to Truscott 12 years ago and have since made their home there.

Mrs. Stover was converted at an early age and united with the Methodist church. All who knew her loved and admired her noble christian character and her wholesome kindness gained hundreds of friends for her.—Foard County News.—Crowell.

CLAVA DE OCHO MET WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON

The Clava de Ocho met at the home of Miss Inez Campbell Wednesday afternoon. Bridge was played and Dorothy Campbell won high score, while Billie True Hill held low.

the complications which any program must face.

Practically all of the members of Congress who represent farming and livestock districts have been earnestly working toward a solution of the grave problems which confront the country, and I feel it is but fair that the public should know this fact.

Again, not all the difficulties will yield to legislative remedies, but certainly there are some conditions that can be helped. Most certainly our financial system can be revamped in the interest of the people, and the long-time discriminations in the tariff barriers and freight rates which have had the effect of paralyzing the agricultural sections can be moved, and thus an unhindered opportunity given for equality in the operation of the laws of our country.

President Gives Job

When Mrs. Molly Brown Carran, of West Branch, Iowa, boarded President Hoover's train at Des Moines last fall, she told him indirectly how hard times had come upon her. . . She had been the president's teacher years ago in the little country school. By executive order of the President, Molly's son, Charles Carran, below, went to work this month on a rural mail delivery route. . . and Molly is smiling again.

Funeral Services For J. W. Whiteaker Held At Haskell

Funeral services for James W. Whiteaker, aged 81, who died in the Stamford Sanitarium on Wednesday of last week, were held on Thursday afternoon at Haskell, with Rev. J. F. Curry of Knox City and Rev. W. H. Albertson of Munday officiating.

Mr. Whiteaker was a pioneer citizen of Texas, having come to this state from Mississippi in 1873, and since 1890 had been a resident of Fredell, Texas and at the time he was stricken he was visiting in the home of his son, B. M. Whiteaker, at Haskell.

In addition to B. M. at Haskell deceased is survived by eight other children.

Speaker, N. D. House

Mrs. M. D. Craig, prominent in North Dakota Republican circles for 10 years, is the first woman Speaker of the N. D. House of Representatives. She is also believed to be the first woman ever to hold such office in the U. S.

D. T. Mauldin, R. B. Davy and Dr. E. M. Ammons went to Stamford Monday in the interest of Munday's application for funds from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, and while there Mr. Davy had the pleasure of a visit with Maury Hopkins, who happened to hail from the same neck-woods in East Texas—Hickory Creek.

Car Registrations In County Exceed Those of Last Year

According to reports from the office of Miss Sarah Wright, Tax Collector, car registration for 1933 prior to February 1, were 1328, a gain of 283 to the same date a year ago. Truck registration totaled 172 as compared with 125 for 1932.

Poll tax payments were 1444 and Miss Wright estimates that there are at least 400 more in the mail which the office force has not had time to open. The last two days of the month were busy ones, the office remaining open at night to accommodate late tax payers. Citizens waiting in line for their turn often over run the office and the lines extended out in the corridors.

L. P. JONES LANDS PLACE WITH LIVESTOCK COMMISSION

L. P. Jones was informed Wednesday by a telephone message from Leo Callan that he had been appointed to a place on the State Livestock and Sanitary Commission. Mr. Callan is the chairman of that branch of the government. Mr. Jones left for Ft. Worth Thursday but does not know just yet where he will be located when he assumes his duties with the department.—Benjamin Post.

SECOND ASSISTANT EDITOR: JERRY KETHLEY
SENIOR EDITOR: MILDRED BURNETT
JUNIOR EDITOR: JACK WILLIAMS
FRESHMAN EDITOR: GERTRUDE LANEY
SPORTS EDITOR: LOWRY RIGSBY
HUMOR EDITOR: C. B. SEXTON

This week's issue contains two things which should prove interesting to anyone. One is Lowry Rigby's own account of how he went the football player who ran the wrong way with the ball one better and threw the ball through the wrong goal in last week's basketball game with Rule. The other is C. B. Sexton's first installment in an attempt to make people appreciate good literature. C. B. will probably be much sought after in a few years for his writings, likely with bloodhounds. We wouldn't advise you to read either of the reports.

Speaking of style of writing two reports in this week's issue begin with the word 'well', which is a preposition (I think) which should not be used to begin a sentence and never in a news story. Our sports editor is very original since he uses the word 'whoopie' to begin his. We are publishing these articles as they were written so that you will appreciate what an editor has to put up with.

Owing to absence due to bad weather part of the reports due this week were not written.—J. G. K.

RIGSBY'S ROUND-UP

Whoopie, I guess you know where I learned that, over the radio.

As the roundup goes to press I will discuss the events of the past week ed around by a bunch of the wildest end with you. The moguls were jazz little Bobcats you ever saw last Friday night.

The bobcats were leading the moguls by score of 7 points. The whistle sounded, a substitution, Rigby on the floor. The ball was under Rule's goal and something unusual was happening. Rigby had the ball and was open. Then the unusual happened. He pitched the ball while near Rule's goal, what a shot, he made it. Shouts. Cries came from each spectator. Alas, he threw it through the wrong goal. Score 39-18—Rule.

The Knox County Tournament will be held at Goree Friday and Saturday of this week. Come on fans, let's be behind the Moguls.

SENIOR SCRAPBOOK

Well, folks we're still here even after having receiving our report cards. All is quite after a storm so nothing very exciting has happened. C. B. Sexton reports that he is coming out for broad jumping and here's why; in an effort to jump a stream twenty feet wide he missed the bank by some few inches and fell into the water. He says that this was due to the fact that he started jumping too soon. Who would dare compete with such a man?

A large number of seniors were absent Tuesday because it was so cold. As if you didn't know it!

Mr. Jones asked Lowry in history class the other day to give him some information about the liberty bell. Lowry told him it was due to ring in two minutes. How's that for sarcasm?

Here's a good example of alliteration by Arthur Laney, the woman hater. 'Women, women, everywhere, and not a one can think'

Blower and Faked*Smoke' Demonstrate New Fisher Ventilation

Billowing "smoke" without fire, and most of the sensations of motoring, without turning a wheel—these are two of the synthetic effects achieved by the Fisher Body Corporation at its Auto Show exhibit, featuring the new Fisher No Draft (U. C. V.), Individually Controlled Ventilation. Driving conditions are simulated by means of this big blower, hurling a blast of air at the rate of 53 miles an hour. The "smoke" which this artificial breeze is drawing so promptly out through the ventilator is the vapor given off by solidified carbon dioxide immersed in hot water. Generated in tanks specially devised for the purpose, the vapor imitates the movement of cigar smoke, and is free from the objections which prevent the use of real smoke in demonstrations at the Show. Note that the ribbons, hung inside the car as wind indicators, all hang straight down, although windows are open.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mahan of Abilene were here the latter part of last week visiting in the home of her mother, Mrs. E. M. Wilson.

The many friends of G. L. Earnest former resident of Benjamin and county treasurer of Knox County for fourteen years will be grieved to learn of his death, December 9, 1932. 'Uncle Lem' as he was known to the majority of his friends, came to the county before 1900 and lived here until 1926. He had a wide acquaintance, was well liked and respected. He had attained a ripe old age.—Benjamin Post.

Sheriff C. R. Elliott and Charles Moorhouse of Benjamin were among those in the city Monday.

"A $10 Gold-piece ---for Sale Cheap"

Not so long ago, an interesting experiment was made, to test the "sales-resistance" of the public. Several men paced the down-town streets of a large city, hawking their wares. And the wares, believe it or not, were ten dollar gold-pieces—offered for sale at a dollar. No one bought; the price was reduced to fifty cents; finally to a quarter . . . still no sales!

Only after this experiment appeared as news in the papers did those who turned down the bargain gold become convinced of their mistake. They doubted the evidence of their own senses when they were offered something for nothing, but they believed in the opportunity they'd lost when the newspapers told them the story.

In the newspapers that you read, you are offered a parallel opportunity—equally genuine, and sponsored by people of proven responsibility. What! You've never seen it? Stop for a minute and think. This newspaper costs you a trifle—which you gladly paid to learn about people and events. But there's other news in it of vital importance to you—about things and services, about foods, household wares—about all the things you pay money for, to live.

The advertisements! Your newspaper pennies buy this news too. If you read the advertisements, let them show you how, where, what and when to buy they will save you dollars . . . and put money in your pocket just as surely as if you purchased a bargain gold-piece.

IMPORTANT

When you ask for a product by name, as a result of advertising, do not accept a substitute—substitutes are offered not as a service to you, but for other reasons.

Here's Smiling Relief

Most of your suffering from common every-day aches and pains is unnecessary and unwise. Unnecessary, because Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills relieve quickly and without unpleasant after effects; unwise, because pain makes your physical condition worse instead of better. One pill usually brings relief in a few minutes. If you suffer from any of the disorders listed above, take Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. If they do not give you greater relief in less time than anything else you have used, go to your druggist and get your money back.

A package of Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills in your medicine cabinet, pocket, or hand-bag means fewer aches and pains.

ANOTHER DEBTOR SPEAKS.

Belonging to that vast army of debtors, our views on the subject are likely to be biased and distorted, but if a man puts up as security a piece of property that is good for the debt at the time of the deal, why is the creditor entitled to take both the property and a deficiency judgment in times like these? Whose depression is this anyway? Us debtors didn't want it any more than you other guys, and if we are going to lose everything, can't you lose a little too? It's that deficiency judgment business that makes the bankruptcy law invite dishonesty.—Splinters column in Benjamin Post.

Now why couldn't we have said that before Charles beat us to it? We have thought it many times, but it never occurred to us to use it in filling space, and we never thought of passing our idea of the thing on for public consumption.

A friend was telling us a few days ago of a neighbor of his who had purchased a residence a few years back for $1200, and had secured a loan in that amount with a mortgage on the property, which was evidence that both the purchaser and loan company considered the place worth the money involved. As time rolled by the purchaser has paid $800 on the original indebtedness. The balance of $400 is now due, and being unable to meet the obligation, the loan company has threatened suit to foreclose on the property. The creditor has offered to deed them the property if they will agree to square the debt, but they have refused, as they are justified in doing under the law, and have advised him that they will take a deficiency judgment for any sum that the property fails in satisfying the loan and court costs. In other words, the purchaser must lose the full $1200 plus interest and court costs before the loan company can be pacified. He has offered to relinquish his $800 equity, but that does not release him from the obligation under our laws.

Whose depression is it? We'll frankly admit our inability to answer, but one thing is dead sure, laws like this one were drafted by the money lenders while the average Mr. Citizen was going about his own business of trying to get ahead, and had little time to learn or think about the laws that were being made down at Austin.

If such laws are laws of equity—if indeed they are based upon the doctrine of equal rights to all and special privileges to none, then we're all wet in our conception of what it's all about anyway.

Shower Given Recent Bride
Thursday afternoon of last week Miss Annie Mae West, assisted by Mrs. J. O. Bowden, was hostess to a large group of friends of Mrs. Lyman Waldrip of Knox City, who before her recent marriage was Miss Marjorie Harris of this city, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Harris, at a miscellaneous shower.

An interesting program was given by members of the B. G. Y. W. A. and consisted of piano numbers by Miss Jewel Perdue, a reading by Miss Lela Brock and vocal numbers by Miss Eunice Perdue. Another interesting feature of the program was a contest to decide who the next bride would be, which resulted in a tie between two of the young ladies present. Delicious refreshments were served Misses Lela and Ozella Brock, Jewel and Eunice Perdue, Eleanor Jungman, Helen Houser, Helen Patterson, Bessie and Ruth Wemble, Leona Keel, Lorene Parker, Christine Burton, Lela Whitson, Hazel Deane Elland, Maxine Newsom, Ruth Rice, Ilene Bowden, Francis Dickerson, Dessie Hammock, Dorothy Matlock, Katherine Jones, Mmes. L. M. Palmer, Walter Harris, Perdue, Cecil Jennings, J. W. Bryan, Delmer Hill, Geo. Pruitt, J. C. Elliott, Ora Collins, G. C. Hammack, Jack West, Lee West, Mmes. W. W. Coffman and Vallie Roberts of Goree, Mrs. Lloyd Waldrip and Miss Waldrip of Knox City, the honoree and hostesses. Beautiful and appropriate gifts were sent by the following: Mmes. A. U. Hathaway, Walter Waldrip, J. J. Keel, Tom Martin, William Gaither, and Misses Louise Aycock, Elizabeth Mounce, Ethel Isbell, Louise Atkinson, Jeannette Campbell, Bessie McGraw, Lorene Jones and Mr. Eulan Richards.

Mrs. Walter Baggett and Mr. and Mrs. Rex Baggett and Mrs. McSpadden of Decatur Texas, were visitors here the latter part of last week in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Murphy and other relatives.

They've Never Tasted a Tonic!

THESE are not patent medicine children. Their appetite needs no coaxing. Their tongues are never coated, cheeks never pale. And their bowels move just like clockwork, because they have never been given a habit-forming laxative.

You can have children like this—and be as healthy yourself—if you follow the advice of a famous family physician. Stimulate the vital organs. The strongest of them need help at times. If they don't get it, they grow sluggish. Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin is a mild, safe stimulant.

When a youngster doesn't do well at school, it may be the liver that's lazy. Often the bowels hold enough poisonous waste to dull the senses! A spoonful of delicious syrup pepsin once or twice a week will avoid all this. It contains fresh laxative herbs, active senna, and pure pepsin, and does a world of good to any system—young or old. You can always get this fine prescriptive preparation at any drug store. Just ask them for Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin.

Get some syrup pepsin today, and protect your family from those bilious days, frequent sick spells and colds. Keep a bottle in the medicine chest instead of cathartics that so often bring on chronic constipation. Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin can always be employed to give clogged bowels a thorough cleansing, with none of that painful griping, or burning feeling afterward. It isn't expensive.

It Will Pay You to Follow These Signposts

Two willing servants—the Electric Range and Electric Refrigerator—are waiting to lead you to better living. . . . And these modern servants require no salaries, either . . . for they pay their own way with the savings they make!

It will pay you to employ Electric Cookery and Electric Refrigeration. The modern Electric Range will give you more healthful, more appetizing and more attractive meals . . . at a great saving in food and fuel! The Electric Refrigerator will give you increased efficiency and dependable convenience. It will improve food-flavors, assure safe, healthful refrigeration and eliminate the waste and danger of food-spoilage. And, like Electric Cookery, the Electric Refrigerator also will save substantial sums for you.

Don't consider these modern and efficient automatic Electric Servants as longed-for luxuries . . . recognize them as dividend-paying necessities . . . for that's what they are! They pay for themselves!

We will be happy to arrange an interesting demonstration of proofs for you. No obligation, of course. Convenient Terms on one or both of these household necessities simplify immediate purchase.

Do you know that your increased use of Electric Service is billed on a surprisingly low rate schedule . . . and adds only a small amount to your total bill?
