Hamlin Wins Over Munday; Cinches Valley League Lead; Home Team Fails To Hit When Hits Are Needed

Failure to hit in pinches—when hits would have meant winning the game—gave Hamlin the big end of a 3-2 game in the beautiful Hamlin park Sunday afternoon, and thereby brought that aggregation within an almost cinch of being winners of the first half of the season in the Wichita Valley League. That it was an exhibition of heads-up baseball was the opinion of every one of the hundreds of fans in the grandstand, and the Munday lads gave the leaders the battle of their young lives to maintain their standing. In fact, in the eighth with three men on and no outs it looked like a cinch to at least put a run over home plate to tie the score, but when L. Kuehler—a good and hard hitter—came to bat the best he could deliver was three heavy heaves at the offerings of Miers, and Joe Bailey King—another good hitter—followed with an infield fly which resulted in an easy double for Hamlin. Munday's only scores came in the fourth when Jake Myers singled and went to second on a sacrifice by McGlothlin when L. Kuehler laid one over the right field fence—300 yards distance—for a walk-around.

Joe Bailey King kept the Hamlin lads guessing at his slow balls for 5 1-3 innings when he lost control and walked two men on balls. He was relieved by Chester Smith, who allowed a single hit in this frame and gave Hamlin their one-run lead, but held them scoreless throughout the remainder of the game. It was a good, clean game of baseball, and the records show that Munday garnered 10 hits while the Hamlin outfit were allowed only 6, but Munday's hits were not forthcoming when hits would have counted tallies, and that's the sad story.

Little Pen-o-grams

'The Big Drive' Shows War In All Its Stark Reality, But Makes Great Film; The Year's Biggest Picture

Each December, a leading journal of Berlin writes us for an opinion as to which of all the year's releases impressed us most. This time, we had our usual agonies in making the selection. It's had enough to choose ten best. But one! Finally, however, we picked "Maiden in Uniform" with "Grand Hotel" as runner-up and, much relieved, sent off the postcard questionnaire. Now, we wish we had it back a bit, for we should most certainly have made a change. We should have selected "The Big Drive" as the film which made most impression on us of all 1932's offerings.

The reason is obvious. No fictional release, be it ever so artistic in treatment, original in theme or mightily acted, can surpass fact, no individual story can eclipse that of the mass. "The Big Drive" is, in fact, oftentimes frightening. It is a collection of scenes of the world war that are by far the best yet sent to us in clarity and detail. It shows men fighting and actually dying in close ups as well as long shots.

25,000,000 Heroes
It's assembling and editing were masterful and have made it an engrossing summary of the whole conflict. It's heroes are 25,000,000 killed and wounded from 93 per cent of the peoples of the globe. It's heroines are glory, patriotism, courage, self-sacrifice and blind faith; it's villains are big and little guns, hand grenades, poison gas, bayonets, tanks, airplanes, submarines and Zeppelins. The lecture that accompanies, delivered by A. L. Rule himself, the film's sponsor, is in simple language that a child can understand, yet it is comprehensive in scope, tolerant in tone, and even has occasional flashes of philosophy and poetic fancy. The whole story—that's what "The Big Drive" tells. German's military preparations are shown and discussed. Then comes the killing of the archduke. Through Belgium march the helmeted troops leaving death of peaceful civilians and destruction of property in their wake. Then the affair settles down to trench warfare. Each nation's contributions in men, equipment and sacrifice are taken up—even our former enemies. Each phase of fighting is shown and each behind the line activity thoroughly covered. The fellows who did the photographing were NEWS cameramen mostly. The picture is their moment in celluloid, for many were killed after some particularly daring scene was captured. Finally you have the Lusitania sailing away on the eventful journey that was to bring the U. S. into the conflict. Comes Pershing's welcome in Paris and after this the three great engagements in which the Yanks participated, Chateau Thierry, St. Mihiel and the Argonne.

Elsie Janis at Front
There are memorable flashes that remain with you long after you leave the theatre. An aged woman in Belgium sitting alone amid the ruins of her shattered dwelling, sobbing her heart out as she clutches a soldier's cap—An American boy killing a German before your very eyes with a bayonet and sickening as he contemplates what he has to do—A Zeppelin being brought down over London in flames—Elsie Janis and her mother visiting the A. E. F.—Piles of dismembered men being buried. Others maimed or blinded leaving the dressing stations by the abundance full—the whole front ablaze at night—There's no excuse for your not seeing this. If you have served overseas who knows but what you may glimpse yourself on the screen or if not that then some dead relative or friend.

In any event, "The Big Drive" will bring home again the waste and terror that is war. The writer is no pacifist, but this picture made us hope once more that no matter how intensely jealousies of nations may burn, humanity will never make this horrible mistake again.

R. C. (Red) West of Wichita Fall was here Tuesday to visit his father and look after business.

Schroeder is Made Head of West Texas Utilities Company

Fred W. Schroeder has been named vice-president and general superintendent of the West Texas Utilities Company. Announcement of the appointment was made from the general offices of Price Campbell, president of the company. Schroeder succeeded E. R. Hoppe, who died recently. As soon as his appointment became known, Schroeder was showered with congratulations from the company personnel, from fellow department chiefs, down to men on the lines, nearly all of whom have worked with him. For the past year he has been acting general superintendent.

Ex-Service Men May Be Eligible Forestration Work

The following announcement has been received by R. D. Atkinson, post commander of Lowry Post of the American Legion, from Read Johnson, manager of the regional office of the Veterans' Administration at Dallas, with reference to the enlistment of ex-service men in the reforestation corps: I am in receipt of information from the Administrator of Veterans' affairs concerning tentative plans which are being worked out with reference to the enrollment of ex-service men in the Reforestation Conservation Corps under authority of the Executive authority of the President, dated May 11, 1933.

The administrator states that unemployed veterans of the World War contacting this office personally or by letter regarding enrollment in the Reforestation Conservation Corps should be advised that definite plans for enrollment have not been completed at this time. Selection of veterans for this enrollment will be based upon state and local quotas, therefore veterans should remain at home and await official announcement of the completed plans. Some time will be required to provide proper facilities and nothing can be gained by veterans going to Washington. Enrollment in this corps can be expedited by making application through the Regional Office of the Veterans Administration when the tentative plans have been worked out. I have been advised to establish a tentative register for those veterans desiring, at the proper time, to make final application. As soon as definite information has been received as to the completion of the plans, they will be announced through the medium of the press.

Gilbert Myers returned this week from Denton, where he has been attending State College the past year.

The citizenship of Munday will be very happy to welcome these good people back home.

Insane Fugitive Captured Here Monday Morn.

Frank Powell, of Wichita Falls, recently escaped from a private hospital where he had been placed after being adjudged of unsound mind, was captured here early Monday morning after he had given a lively chase from the Munday Hotel to the Oil Mill, where he was cornered by Buel Bowden and others and held until the arrival of Chief Shannon Layne. Powell had entered the bedroom of Mrs. Dave Eiland, proprietress, and upon awakening her demanded money. When Mrs. Eiland raised an alarm the man ran from the room, threatening to kill Miss Hazel Deane Eiland when she blocked his way in the hall and escaped from the building.

Chief Layne placed Powell in the city jail and notified officers in Wichita Falls and on Wednesday relatives came from Wichita Falls to accompany his back there. While here they stated that Powell had, on three different occasions, been placed in an insane asylum, and that they would endeavor to again have him returned to the asylum. He is about 35 years of age.

Help Promised Knox Towns By The Government

A meeting of the County Relief Committee was held at the court house in Benjamin Wednesday afternoon with the following members present: S. G. West and John Atterbury of Benjamin; Dr. E. M. Ammons of Munday; Roy Smith and Sam Clouds of Knox City and E. L. Cooney and W. W. Coffman of Goree. S. G. West was taken off the county committee and made county welfare and unemployment agent for the entire county. Mr. West will receive some pay for his work and will visit each town and inspect the work that is being done each week. A Mr. Elrod of Tyler, who is in the employ of the state, was with the county committee at the meeting Wednesday. Mr. Elrod came to get definite information about the projects that the county may wish to make application for. He discussed with the committee some of the projects that the Federal government will approve. He explained that thirty per cent of all Federal money granted to each town of county for building or relief of the unemployed will be a gift while the remainder will be a debt to be repaid from fees or other moneys that may be collected from the completed projects. Benjamin, Knox City, Munday, and Goree will be among the towns of this part of the State that will make application for some of the Federal appropriation. Committee of each of the towns are now at work gathering data to submit to the State Committee along with their applications for the Federal Aid.

Grim tragedy stalked the streets of Silverton, Texas, Sunday night when the lives of Carl E. Shaw and his wife were snuffed out in a head-on collision. Mr. Shaw was killed instantly and Mrs. Shaw lived only a few minutes after the accident. Three other people in the car were not seriously injured in the crash. Mr. and Mrs. Shaw were enroute to church when the fatal accident happened, and reports indicate that they were on the right side of the main highway running through the town of Silverton when a car approached occupied by one man and run head-on into the Shaw car. Mr. Shaw was driving and Mrs. Shaw occupied the rear seat immediately behind him.

Immediately following the fatal accident the remains of both Mr. and Mrs. Shaw were prepared for conveyance to Munday, their former home, and funeral services were conducted at the Baptist church here at two o'clock Tuesday afternoon, with the Rev. W. H. Albertson, pastor, officiating.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Shaw were born in Bell County, Texas, in 1879, Mrs. Shaw before her marriage being Miss Florence Morgan. They were united in marriage in 1906, in which year they moved to Munday, and made their home here until they moved to Silverton some fifteen years ago. They are survived by four children, as follows: Archie Shaw of Silverton, Myrtle Shaw, Phoenix, Arizona; Mrs. Juanita Hill of Quitquea, and Miss Pauline Shaw of Silverton, their youngest child being seventeen years of age.

In addition to their children Mrs. Shaw is survived by two brothers and one sister, D. M. Morgan of Silverton; Laud Morgan of Munday and Mrs. Jess Shaw of Munday. Mr. Shaw is survived by his mother, Mrs. E. J. Shaw of this city, and two brothers and three sisters, Jess and Will Shaw of Munday; Mrs. A. B. Johnson of Marlin and Mesdames Lyle Stodghill and L. C. Guinn of Munday.

The remains were brought to the home of Lyle Stodghill here on Monday evening, arriving here about eleven o'clock, and were accompanied by Mrs. C. C. Patton, Mrs. Hugh Stodghill, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Morgan and daughters, C. S. Cline and John Fisher. The remains were brought here by T. C. Bomar, Silverton undertaker, who, assisted by R. G. Campbell, local undertaker, had charge of the funeral arrangements.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Shaw were devoted members of the Baptist church and were regular attendants at the services of their church, and it was while enroute to church services that they were hurled into eternity.

15-Inning No-Run Game Played With Knox City Outfit

In football a 0-0 tie is not unusual, but in baseball it's something to write home about, and that's just what happened on Wednesday of last week when Munday's team of the Wichita Valley League and Knox City's team of the Brazos Valley League locked horns on the Knox City sandlot. While both teams were in good position to score a number of times during the fast fifteen innings, in each instance the lines were tightened and the side was retired without scoring.

Wallace and Bowley did the pitching for Munday while Jess Hill went all the way for Knox City, and a better exhibition of the great sport has never been witnessed in this part.

that the county may wish to make application for. He discussed with the committee some of the projects that the Federal government will approve. He explained that thirty per cent of all Federal money granted to each town of county for building or relief of the unemployed will be a gift while the remainder will be a debt to be repaid from fees or other moneys that may be collected from the completed projects. Benjamin, Knox City, Munday, and Goree will be among the towns of this part of the State that will make application for some of the Federal appropriation. Committee of each of the towns are now at work gathering data to submit to the State Committee along with their applications for the Federal Aid.

WOMEN'S CONTRIBUTION TO THE MOTOR CAR

There is some doubt that people care to hear very much about what goes on under the hood of their cars.

Well, it is not essential to talk "shop"; let us talk Results. Smoothness. Drive the Ford V-8 and you will find that the engine runs with surpassing smoothness, due to its design and the extra precise methods of its manufacture.

Power. There it is, 75 horsepower (we could say 80) at the drive-shaft for the driver's use. With less weight to pull around, the mettle of this car—its life-like response—is rather remarkable.

Economy. Our V-8 develops more power on a gallon of gasoline than any car we have made. Mileage is partly a matter of individual driving, but under average conditions the Ford V-8 does 17 to 20 miles a gallon.

Appearance. This is woman's contribution. The motor car must not only be useful, but also good-looking. View the Ford V-8 and you will not need our comment on its fine appearance.

Comfort. This also is woman's concern. In 30 years she changed the motor car from a wagon to a coach. Comfort is a quality made up of numerous ingredients. There is no comfort without a quiet, smooth-running engine. We have all the other ingredients too—color, good taste, quality, ease, safety, roominess and convenience.

H. D. Club Notes

Program for the Second Week of June Given by County H. D. Agent

Monday—Benjamin—women's club. Tuesday—Cottonwood, Lone Star, girls and women. Wednesday—Goree girls, Gillespie women.

Nila Mae Roden, Hood Club, Winner in Bedroom Contest

The judging of the 4-H club bedrooms in Knox County was completed June 5, and the results, judged from the points gained between the first and second scoring, are as follows:

Nila Mae Roden, Hood Club, first. First score 222 points, second score 827 points, gain of 604 points. Sibyl Spivey, Gilliland Club, second. First score 244 points, second 796, gain of 452 points.

These girls, as well as the seven other bedroom demonstrators have done work that is well worth while and whether or not they own a place, they are still winners, for they with at least 50 other club members have improved their rooms and made them more comfortable, convenient and suitable for their individual needs.

The 4-H club girls of Knox County deserve a great deal of praise for their splendid work in this county wide demonstration, as do the parents of these girls who have made such improvements possible through their help and cooperation.

The story written by the first winner in the contests is given in this issue of the paper.

Story of Nila Mae Roden, Winner in Bedroom Contest

I had always wanted a bedroom of my own, but I thought it would be too expensive to fix one until I joined the 4-H club and learned about the many things that I could make myself with such a little expense.

At first I was going to use a room that was already painted and papered, but it didn't have a closet in it, so I decided to use another room that had a closet and one in which I could help do the papering and painting myself. I thought I would appreciate the room more if I helped to do all the work.

The first thing I did was to tear all the old paper off the walls. Then I cleaned the walls and all the woodwork before I began painting and papering. I painted the ceiling and all the woodwork in the room a new ivory color. I used burnt umber to stain the floor.

I picked the paper for my room, and doing so I picked a paper that I wouldn't soon tire of and one in which the colors could be matched in draperies and accessories. The canvas on the room was good so I didn't have to recanvas the walls.

There was a two section closet in the room, but it had never been completed. There wasn't any door facings, locks or baseboards on it. I put new ones on it and painted them to match the other wood work. I used the top part of the closet for storage. I papered the inside of the closet with the paper I had left from papering my room. I built four shelves in the lower part of the closet out of some scrap lumber. I made a shoe rack to put in my closet. The ends of the rack were cut out of an orange box and I used broom handles for the shoe rests. I painted the rack to match the inside of the closet.

The bed that was in the room was an old iron bed that had been used for several years. I took all the old enamel off of it, and enameled it ivory. I made the bedspread out of unbleached sheeting and put a border in applique work on it out of a color to match the draperies. The bedside table was made of an orange box enameled to match the bed.

I made my dressing table by using two orange crates, 8 spools and a piece of board 1x12x36. I papered the crates on the inside so I could use the partitions and bottom of the crates for shelves. I used a rose pink material to make the curtain around the table. The stool was made out of a nail keg and covered with the same material. My mirror and two pictures that I use over the dressing table were given to me.

I enameled a small table that we had and used it for a reading table. The chair I used was an old discarded one. It was painted and a new back and cushion made for it. My wash basket was made from a coffee can with enamel. I enameled an old wash tub and removed the varnish, and enameled it to match the other things in my room.

My window draperies were made of rose voile. I made two braided rugs for my room. I used scraps of linoleum and a coat of varnish with the other furnishings in the room.

TAXES AND JOBS

E. G. Grece, President of the Bethlehem Steel Company recently said:

That if the money his company pays in taxes were available for wages, it would be possible to put 20 per cent more men on the payroll.

That is a striking example of the deleterious effect of excessive taxation. In the long run, it creates unemployment, destroys jobs and lessens the likelihood of permanent employment in the future. The tax burden frightens investors, discourages management, prevents industrial expansion—and puts more men in the line of the jobless.

Cut the cost of government, appreciably lower the tax burden in dollars collected—and a long step will have been taken in curing the depression.

THE MOFFETT RESOLUTION FAILS

The constitutional amendment proposal, sponsored by Representative George Moffett of Chillicothe, to arbitrarily limit the legislative representation of the larger cities, failed of final approval in the senate. It was due to come up at almost the very last minute, but Senator Woodul of Houston was on guard, obtained the floor to speak on another measure and by continuing to speak until the hour set for adjournment, prevented the resolution from coming to a vote.

Thus the cities won by a strategy a fight that, in a straight-out test of strength, they probably would have lost.

In practically every state where there is a large city, a provision like that embodied in the Moffett resolution has been adopted. Chicago,

Refreshments of sandwiches, cake

St. Louis, Detroit, Cleveland, Atlanta, New York City—these and a number of others, are deprived of part of the representation to which, on a population basis they are entitled. While Texas has no one large city that is large enough to dominate, it has enough large cities to give the urban representatives a big share of the house votes. The Chillicothe legislator undertakes to prevent their domination by a provision that no county shall have more than six members of the house. There are four counties—Dallas, Harris, Bexar and Tarrant—that are now entitled to that many, or more; under the 1930 census.

The probability is that no representative redistricting will be undertaken by the legislature until the Moffett plan is written into the constitution. Texas may be in for a long deadlock on this question.

Meanwhile, a proposal to reduce the size of the legislature is developing some strength. Perhaps it will prove to contain the solution of the problem which Mr. Moffett undertakes to solve.—Wichita Daily Times.

HOLDER-BROOKS

Announcement was made on Saturday of last week at a bridge party at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. J. A. Brooks, at Haskell, of the marriage on April 9 of Miss Margaret Brooks and Rex L. Holder, the ceremony having been performed on the above-named date at Walters, Oklahoma, and the young people had withheld the announcement from their friends until it was made Saturday.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. A. J. Brooks of Haskell. She is a graduate of the Haskell High School and attended Simmons University in 1931-32, and since that time she has served as deputy in the tax-collector's office in Haskell.

Rex is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Holder, and has grown to manhood in this city. Since his graduation from the Munday High School in the class of 1931 he has been associated with his father in the operation of the Gulf Station here.

The many friends of these excellent young people will join with us in wishing for them a long and happy married life.
