Graduates To Receive Diplomas Friday Evening

Chamber Commerce Banquet To Be On Tuesday Evening

Thirty-Seven In Class Completing Courses in M. H. S.

The graduating exercises of the Munday High School have so far encountered inclement weather, but despite the fact that it was raining Sunday the auditorium of the Methodist Church was packed to capacity to hear the baccalaureate sermon which was delivered by the Rev. H. C. Hand, pastor.

The commencement address will be delivered on Friday evening at the Methodist Church by H. H. Riley, formerly superintendent here, at which time diplomas will be delivered to thirty-seven graduates, which is the largest graduating class in the history of the Munday schools.

In addition to major programs throughout the week recitals have been given by the various teachers of music and speech arts and these programs have been exceptionally well presented and the attendance at each has been gratifying.

Smith Hurls 3-Hit Game to Take Big End From Haskell

Chester Smith Munday's new acquisition to it's pitching staff gave a demonstration of his wares at Haskell Wednesday afternoon when he let that hard-hitting aggregation down to earth with three hits while he and his teammates were pounding out seventeen off the offerings of Haskell's pitchers which netted sixteen tallies.

With this win Munday remains in the top bracket with only one defeat out of four games played. Here's the box score for Wednesday's game:

'State Press' Talks About Edibles And Dressibles

(State Press in Dallas News)

There never was before now so much 'eat in Texas as there is today. In all the rural communities there is an indigenous joke to the effect that by New Year's Day there will be in those communities the fattest and nuiest people the world has ever seen. The point is, if any, that while the people have plenty of foodstuffs stored away they will have nothing to wear by midwinter. A great exaggeration. Any Texas town will show on a good shopping day stores or hundreds of rural women well dressed and well set up. It has become so, indeed, that the stranger in town can distinguish the farm women from the town women. It didn't used to be so. Advertising, illustrated modes, fashion articles in the newspapers go to the farm homes as well as the town homes. The people in all our States dress very much alike, barring climatic differences, and the mode of the metropolis becomes the mode of the country as soon as the prints and pictures reveal it. The newspapers, more than any other instrument, have made all States one State in so far as manners, customs and modes of thought are concerned. The press of America has been the preserver of American unity and sentiment, also the great American school in which are taught history and contemporary thought. It is American journalism which has led the American ideology from the arid classicism inherited from the old world and vivified it into a living force.

West Texas Chamber of Commerce Has Rendered A Valuable Service to Section

Chas. Foyt and the Times editor returned Saturday from Big Spring, where we attended the annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, having driven through to that city on Wednesday night and remained there until Saturday morning, and our verdict is that the convention was all that could be desired. The program this year was a purely constructive one and subjects were discussed that were of vital interest to West Texas and all Texas. Especially gratifying were the reports made by the groups on public expenditures, which indicated very clearly that more than ten millions of dollars have been saved to the taxpayers of West Texas during the past year due to the activity of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Probably the outstanding accomplishment of the organization during the past year has been its administration of Federal Relief through the set-up of the organization. This accomplishment alone has resulted in the saving of many thousands of dollars which would have gone for organization purposes had not the organization assumed responsibility for its distribution through its already perfected organization, and possibly a greater task faces the organization during the coming year in the administration of the funds made available through Government appropriation for self-financing undertakings. This work is in charge of Chas. Zugg of Stamford, and will mean the expenditure of many thousands of dollars over West Texas, and incidentally the employment of thousands of men. The Times man has been attending these conventions at intervals almost since the organization of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. We attended the convention at Ranger, which was one among the early ones. We have since attended the meetings at Abilene, Wichita Falls and others, but we believe that the organization has been of greater value and has rendered greater service to the citizens of West Texas during the past year than ever before. Another noticeable change in the policy of the organization we noted at this convention was in its financial report. Manager Bandoen reported a net balance on hand of approximately $18,000, which sounds to us like sound and conservative management in the face of these depressing times, especially when it is remembered that this organization came a few years ago to the sudden realization that it was several thousand dollars in the red, and as a result of this realization some changes were made in the official family of the organization.

Dates Set Tri-County Golf Tournament Seymour Country Club Course, June 4th to 18th.

At a meeting yesterday morning of directors of the Seymour Golf and Country Club definite dates were set for the Tri-County Tournament, to which the Seymour club will this year be host. Other clubs in the tournament had expressed a desire for Seymour to set the dates, hence this action. Hon. Joe A. Wheat is president of the Tri-County Association, with W. N. Hart secretary, and they offered a recommendation, which was adopted as above mentioned. Qualifying to begin on the 4th, ending on the afternoon of Monday, the 12th. That night will be held the annual banquet, followed by the Calcutta pool, and actual playing will begin Tuesday. The final match is to be completed by the 18th. Details to be worked out as to prizes, entrance fee, and other features are to be worked out by the local tournament committee composed of Dr. O. W. Koberg as chairman, Dutton J. Bailes, E. F. Murphy, H. K. Jackson and Cedric Harrison. The entertainment committee is W. N. Hart, chairman, R. E. Baskin and George Morris. The first Tri-County tournament was held at Munday four years ago, and was won by W. B. Alexander. The next year it came to Seymour, (Please turn to last page)

Munday Fishermen Land Many Bass In Mexico Lake

H. A. Bendleton and Tom Benge of Munday and R. L. George of Seymour have returned from Old Mexico, where they spent several days fishing in one of the big lakes, and we can vouch for all the fishing yarns they tell for the good and simple reason that they brought home with them prima facie evidence, and these fishermen will tell you that after this expedition they will never again doubt any fishing yarn that they may hear. They brought home approximately 100 pounds of fine bass, many of which weighed from four to five pounds and they state that they caught them down in the Southern Republic until they ceased to get a thrill.

Vera Man Drowns In Waters Lake Kemp Saturday

SEYMOUR, Texas, May 13.—Romy Feemster, 28-year-old Knox county farmer, was drowned Friday night when the boat in which he was fishing with two other men overturned in Lake Kemp. His body was not recovered until about 7 o'clock Saturday morning.

Feemster's brother, Royse, and Collins Moorhouse, all of Vera, who were in the boat with him at the time it capsized, were rescued after they had gone down one time. Members of their fishing party were watching from the bank when they saw the lantern in the boat disappear about 50 yards from the shore. With another boat and lines they went to the rescue of the drowning men but were unable to find Romy Feemster.

Sheriff Arch Holmes, Perry Wright of Seymour, and Floyd Unsell, caretaker of Wichita county, recovered the body with dragnets about 7 o'clock Saturday morning. It was found about 50 yards from shore, in almost the identical spot where the boat capsized. Justice of Peace Pat O'Reilly of Seymour returned a verdict of death from drowning.

The body was taken in charge by a Seymour undertaker and will be forwarded to Vera Saturday for burial there. Definite arrangements have not been made. Feemster with his wife and two children were at the lake with a party of Vera people on a fishing trip; several families were in the group. He lived on his father's farm about one mile west of Vera and was a member of a pioneer family in that section. Besides his wife and children, he is survived by his parents and several brothers and sisters.

500 Delegates From Home Demonstration Clubs in 20 Counties Attend Short Course at Canyon

Five hundred women, members of Home Demonstration Clubs of 20 Panhandle-Plains counties, met in Canyon May 11, for the third annual short course directed by district agents, Miss Mimmie May Grubbs and Miss Myrtle Murray and Miss Marion Farmington, head of the Home Economics Department, West Texas Teachers College. The farm women were accompanied to the meeting by home demonstration agents. Several men attended also.

Three counties were represented at the one-day parley for the first time. They were Knox, Randall and Hutchinson. Randall County had the largest delegation with a registration of 101 women. Lamb came second with a representation of 50 club women and Potter was third with a registration of 45 members.

The farm women were welcomed to Canyon by Mrs. J. A. Hill. Mrs. J. B. Diggs of Potter County responded. Mrs. Glatys Weaver led Community singing periods. Mr. L. F. Sheffy of the college faculty, gave a brief talk on the new Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Museum which was recently opened to the public on the college campus. Miss Myrtle Murray discussed mats and rugs on exhibition, which were brought to the meeting by various club members. A featured entertainment program was presented at the morning session by the T-Anchor Club, composed of 32 boys who live on the college farm. Dean Garrett, of the college, in discussing "The Newer Education," declared that American schools must again get in step with the various other phases of our social order, stressing the fact that it must be more progressive if it is to serve the needs. Dean Garrett lauded the work of the home demonstration agents and county club work for giving families a physical, intellectual, social and spiritual value. The three tasks of rural leadership as sounded by Miss Bess Edwards of College Station, assistant director of the home demonstration work in Texas, are: the cultivation of brains, the conquest of bread, the capture of beauty. "Another task," she

Berries Produce More Than $1000 On Irrigated Soil

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Marlow of Wichita Falls and Tom Head of Seymour, were in the city Wednesday afternoon and paid this office a very pleasant visit. Mr. Marlow presented the Times family with several boxes of berries—blackberries, dewberries, and strawberries—that were produced in the Wichita Falls irrigation district, and Mr. Marlow states that this section of the country would far excel the Wichita Falls area under irrigation, and he believes that a determined effort should be made at this time to have the Brazos irrigation project included in the Government undertakings.

Mr. Marlow states that more than $1000 per acre has been realized from berries this year by J. T. Tarter in the City View community on the Iowa Park road, and it was from the Tarter farm that the berries presented us came from, and we can say without the slightest exaggeration that the berries are by far the nicest we have seen this year. Mr. Marlow states that an effort is going to be made to renew interest in the Brazos irrigation project with a view of interesting the Government in the undertaking.

Thinking Out Loud By J. A. K.

The "New Deal" administration seems determined to make a thorough job of it, having changed the name of Hoover Dam to Boulder Dam on the records at Washington.

And then too, we hope no wise-cracker will refer to the new prexy of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce as Walter Decline.

A party of Munday matrons who recently made a trip up to "The City That Faith Built" is our authority for the report that the beautiful wheat fields at a certain point along the highway were in reality planted by Gramp Davy. Further information must come from the old Democrat himself.

In accepting the post at Big Spring Mr. Cline made it known that he might have a dual announcement within the next few months, which would be his resignation as president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and his candidacy for Governor.

And to the thirty-seven youngsters who are to receive their diplomas from the Munday High School on Friday evening we would say, the economic condition at this time is discouraging and your parents may or may not be financially able to continue your education, but there is always a way provided if there is a will but after all, the most valuable education is probably that acquired in the "University of Hard Knocks."

There is no substitute for experience.

Here's a letter that's been going the rounds of the press. It is alleged to have been written by an Arkansas farmer who had sold out his little farm in Arkansas and moved to East Texas just prior to the outbreak of the oil boom over there and addressed to his brother back in Arkansas. Here 'tis: Dear James;

GAS COMPANY SURVEY REVEALS INTERESTING FACTS AND STATISTICS

Now that the house heating season is over, a survey by the gas company reveals that customers pay more than half of their entire year's gas bill in only four months of the year. The survey of gas customer's accounts in this vicinity, according to L. M. Scholl, division manager of the Stamford & Western Gas Co., further shows that between 60 and 80 per cent of the customers use so little gas during the long hot period that they fail to pay for the cost of service rendered during these months. The average amount received by the company in 1932 was $46.63 per customer for a year's service, or less than 13 cents a day per customer. This is arrived at by dividing the total revenue by the total number of customers. This average bill for each customer in the year is as follows: Jan-

Munday Youth Is Well Pleased In Service of U. S.

Clayton Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Smith of this city, who recently enlisted in the Government Reforestation Service and assigned to Fort Sill, Oklahoma, for training, is well pleased with his venture, according to a letter written to his mother, which we publish below for the information of other youngsters who might be interested in enlisting in this service:

Fort Sill, Okla., May 8, 1933.
Dearest Mother:—I'm in the place I've wanted to be for a long time. Mother, this is a real place. We have to shave every day and keep our teeth clean. Have hot and cold water and can also take a shower bath every day, so you see that this must be a clean bunch of young men. There are six hundred in the camp and they are divided into groups—A, B and C, six boys to each tent.

There are five boys in my tent. My pick for a friend is a boy about my size. His name is Bill Davis and he has black curly hair and brown eyes.

Mother dear, don't worry about me—I'm fine. There is plenty of work, rest, sleep and plenty to eat. We go to Colorado or Wyoming from here in two weeks.

With Love,
Clayton.

"It can be seen from the above figures that $24.83, or more than half of the year's total bill, is paid in four months," said Mr. Scholl. "Nearly three-fourths of the average bill, or $33.48, is paid in six months of the year, leaving only $13.15 left to be paid during the other six months."

He pointed out that if gas bills were paid equally each month, such as bills for rent and other necessities in which the amount varies only slightly, it would be easier to see that the cost of dependable gas service is only a few cents a day.

May 9, 1933

A great thing has occurred amongst us. We have made a complete turn-around, and at last America's face is toward the future. Three years---1929 to 1932---we Americans looked backward. All our old financial and political machinery was geared to pull us out of the depression by the same door through which we entered. We thought it simply a case of going back the way we came. It failed. We now realize that the way out is forward---through it. Thanks for that belongs to President Roosevelt. Inauguration Day he turned the Ship of State around. Having observed the failure of sincere efforts to haul us back the way we came, he designed a new method---new political and financial machinery---to pull us out the way we are going---forward. He is clearing international obstacles out of the way; he does not stand in awe of tariffs. The people begin to feel that he does not take advice from the "interests"; that he has courage and loyalty to work for one supreme interest only---the welfare of the American people. That is a big achievement for two months in office. And now we all look to what is coming; we grow less and less concerned with what is behind. We are looking for a hand-hold on the haul rope. Every man wants to do what he can, and all he can. The best thing I can do for the Country is to create industry by building good motor cars. If I knew anything better to do, I would do it. Industry must be my contribution. Motor cars must face ahead to the future, like everything else. They are so much a part of the Nation's daily life that if they lag behind they hold the Country back.

Time to Fight For Industry

(Vernon Record)

If, as the continued improvement in commodity prices and general market values leads us to believe, economic recovery has set in, this is the opportune time for vigorous efforts on the parts of small cities to promote industrial development.

This is the logical time for extensive progress in the decentralization of industry. The movement has been under way for several years, but was interrupted by the depression which made new ventures hazardous. With the loosening of credit and capital facilities attendant upon the inauguration of recovery, the movement doubtless will be renewed to an accelerated tempo. During the so-called inflation period it was possible for manufacturers to show a profit in almost any location under almost any circumstances.

Almost every small community has certain fundamental advantages over the commercial centers. Living costs are generally lower making for lower production costs; housing conditions are more satisfactory, resulting in more settled labor conditions. In short, the manufacturing can be carried on in the small community at a minimum of cost and difficulty if transportation facilities for raw material and the finished product are in any way comparable to those of the larger cities.

The small town should, by a thorough survey, ascertain its advantages, then take steps to present them to industries which their local surveys indicate belong profitably in their particular locality.

A survey of this nature, and the presentation of the information to likely prospects would cost money. For this reason a great many com-

Fourth Annual Texas Cowboy Reunion at Stamford July 3-4-5

Stamford, Texas, May 16.—Memories of stirring days on the cattle ranges of the old West will be revived when pioneer ranch workers who saw service with lariat and saddle prior to 1898 hold their annual roundup here during the fourth annual Texas Cowboy Reunion July 3, 4 and 5th.

More than 500 of these old time cow-hands registered for the meeting here last year and were guests of the Reunion management. Total attendance at the 1932 session was estimated at thirty thousand.

The cowboy rodeo, featuring performers actually employed on the ranches rather than professional rodeo performers will be the central feature of the program of entertainment during the Cowboy Reunion. An old fiddlers' contest will be held on one day of the reunion and square dances will be held each night for the entertainment of cowboys and visitors of all ages.

The most typical active cowboy over 55 years of age and the most typical cowboy under 55 will be selected and a prize awarded to each. John Selmon of Stamford received this honor last year for the youngest cowhand and Jake Raines of Spur was selected as the most typical among the active cowboys over 55.

As in past years, a number of ranch outfits are expected to bring their own chuck wagons to Stamford for the Reunion and camp at the grounds during the three-day celebration.

JUNGLE CITY

Paved Streets, Office Buildings, Clubs and Electric Lights in Darkest Africa

Right in the heart of darkest Africa has grown a little city built on European lines.

It is surrounded by jungle in which savage beasts prowl; yet paved streets, continental clubs, a railroad, colonial and railroad administration buildings and electric lights are within its borders.

The city is Nairobi, capital of Kenya colony, British East Africa, selected by Paramount as the locale of the opening scenes in "King of the Jungle," coming to the Roxy Theatre on May 24-25. In this picture the famous "Lion Man" role is played by Buster Crabbe, world champion swimmer, selected after a world-wide search.

It is from Nairobi that all of the safari start on their long treks on the hunting expeditions into the Ugandi district.

Nairobi was a native settlement until 1907, with a population of only 350. But then officials discovered that it's height made it's climate excellent for Europeans. It is the site of the administration buildings of the Ugandi railway which runs from Mombasa on the Azanian Sea to the navigable Nile and the Victoria Falls. Today, it's population is rapidly approaching the 5,000 mark.

It is expected that the tournament this year will be the most interesting one yet held. The local course is in the best condition in its history, and already players from the other towns are practicing up on it, and exploring all the roughs.

Another action taken by the directors yesterday was voting for the Seymour club to take part in the West Texas Golf Tournament, to be held this year in Wichita Falls, June 1-4, with qualifying all in by May 31.

The question of matches with other towns was discussed, and the president, H. E. Nichols, was instructed to arrange such matches as may be considered desirable, or to appoint a committee for that purpose. The president has appointed O. C. Harrison to handle that part of his work for him.

WOMEN: watch your BOWELS

What should women do to keep their bowels moving freely? A doctor should know the answer. That's why pure Syrup Pepsin is so good for women. It just suits their delicate organism. It is the prescription of an old family doctor who has treated thousands of women patients, and who made a special study of bowel troubles.

It is fine for children, too. They love its taste. Let them have it every time their tongues are coated or their skin is sallow. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is made from fresh laxative herbs, pure pepsin and other harmless ingredients.

When you're a sick headache can't eat, are bilious or sluggish and at the times when you are most apt to be constipated, take a little of this famous prescription (all drug stores keep it ready in big bottles, and you'll know why Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the favorite laxative of over a million women!)
