Munday, Texas, Thursday, June 15, 1933.

Number 2.

Heavy Hitting Wins From Rule By Score of 15-8

Again Munday's heavy hitting aggregation emerged victor here Sunday afternoon when they conquered the Rule entry in the Wichita Valley league to the tune of 15-8. Albert Loran led the onslaught against the visitors, getting 4 hits, including a couple of two-base swats, out of four trips at bat. Aug. Loran started for Munday but was relieved in the fifth inning when he began to weaken, and the remainder of the game was pitched by Chick Smith. Franklin and Yarbrough did the pitching for Rule.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Meadors of Haskell were here Wednesday guests in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Isbell.

Miss Naomi Bowden has returned from a few days visit with friends in Wichita Falls. Miss Bowden has been a member of the Wichita Falls Public schools faculty for the past five years and has been re-elected for the coming year. She will spend the summer here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Bowden.

Old Fiddler's Contest And Square Dance Rodeo Features

Stamford, June 15.—The old fiddlers contest will be one of the features of free entertainment provided for cow-hands and other visitors who attend the Fourth Annual Texas Cowboy Reunion in Stamford July 3, 4, and 5. Tunes such as were popular at cowboy square dances in West Texas in early days are usually selected by the fiddlers in their contest for the prize money.

The contest will be held in the Municipal Auditorium on the second day of the reunion, Tuesday, July 4th, starting at 9 a. m. There will be no charge for admission to the hall and no entry fee is required of the contestants. H. F. Jackson, who has managed this contest in past years, will be in charge again this year.

Three judges will award the prizes. First prize will be $15.00; second $10.00; third $5.00, and fourth $2.50. In order to be eligible for the contest, fiddlers must be not less than fifty years of age. Professionals will be barred. Fiddlers may play alone or choose their own seconds, only one accompanist being allowed for each player. Entries must be received before 6 p. m. on Monday, July 3.

Joe M. Hughes of Forney took first place in the fiddling contest last year. Charles A. Ward of Weinert won second prize, and W. W. Ellis of Spur, third.

Another feature of the Texas Cowboy Reunion which will revive memories of early days will be the square dance for cowboys and others which will be held in the City Auditorium each night following the evening performance at the rodeo arena. Dancers and spectators alike will be charged twenty five cents per person for admission and there will be no further charge for dancing. Judge Chas. E. Coombes will have charge of this part of the Reunion entertainment.

Rochester Couple Wed Here Sunday

A. V. Mann and Miss Beulah Gamblin, both of Rochester, were united in marriage here Sunday afternoon by Justice W. S. Bailey. They were accompanied here by relatives.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

All services at the usual hours next Sunday. There is fine interest in all departments of the work. We have rounded the depression corner. Spiritual health and prosperity are in sight if we keep pulling.

Sermon Subject for Sunday morning: Behaving Valiantly. Special music.

Sunday evening J. H. Hamilton (colored) will give some of his experiences. He is 84 years of age—been preaching 70 years. He was a slave in Mississippi before the Civil war. You will appreciate what he has to say.

All classes at the Sunday School are increasing in attendance. We urge you to come next Sunday. Don't wait until 9:45 Sunday morning, to begin to think about coming. If your clothes are in the tailor shop get them Saturday. Don't wait Sunday morning. Maybe the tailor wants to go to Sunday School and church. Maybe you have a prescription that you could get filled Saturday. If you have don't wait until ten o'clock Sunday morning and thereby keep the druggist from going to Sunday School and church. Plan Saturday to help the iceman and all others that you have to have something from for Sunday. The butcher,

Assurance Given High Density Compress Will Be Installed In Munday For 1933 Cotton Crop

Messrs L. M. Hembree of Abilene and D. T. Perkins of Stamford, both representing the Guitier interests, were here Tuesday and attended the regular chamber of commerce luncheon, at which time they announced definitely that a high density press had been ordered for the Munday plant and would be installed and in operation in time for the cotton crop this fall, and work will begin in the near future on dismantling the old press here.

The installation of a high density press here will make this a concentration point for cotton throughout this section and will materially add to Munday's advantages as a cotton market.

Announcement was made some time ago that the high density plant would be installed here, but later it was learned that the Guitier interests were holding up the order for the new type press until they could determine more about cotton prospects in this section, and it is gratifying to know that they have decided to proceed with their plans.

Charles Farrington came in Wednesday afternoon from New Orleans, where he recently graduated from the medical department of the University of Louisiana, and after spending a few days here with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. W. P. Farrington, he will return to New Orleans to serve as an interne in one of the hospitals of that city.

The baker, the candlestick maker all want to be religious. Let's plan far enough ahead so that we can help them.

You are always welcome to any of all of our services.

Riley B. Harrell Installed As City Secretary Monday

At a meeting of the city council on Monday afternoon the audit of the city's books, which was recently made by John S. Oglesby, a certified public accountant of Dallas, was accepted, and the books of the city were transferred to the care of Riley B. Harrell, who was recently chosen to succeed D. T. Mauldin, who tendered his resignation. The audit of the city's accounts showed them to be in perfect condition.

Charley Rayburn Died At Pearl, Ill. On Friday Morning

Wash Rayburn received a telegram Saturday morning advising him of the death on Friday morning of his brother, Charley Rayburn, at Pearl, Ill., where he resided. Deceased was formerly a citizen of Munday and is well known to all the older citizens of this community. He was 52 years of age.

Mr. Rayburn was injured in an automobile accident about a year ago near Littlefield, and it is believed by local relatives that injuries received then contributed to his death.

Plucking Wild Flowers Is Now Against the Law

AUSTIN, June 9. (UP)—Persons 17 years of age or over who pluck Texas wild flowers on fenced land without the owner's permission are subject to a fine of from $1 to $10 under provisions of a bill signed by Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson today. Children under 17 are exempt from punishment.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Sheets and children of Grandview and Mrs. L. M. Sowell and children of Alvord came in Wednesday for a visit with Mrs. G. C. Hughes. Mrs. Sheets and Mrs. Sowell are daughters of Mrs. Hughes.

The Famous Chuck Wagon Gang To Be Here On June 22

Bewley's Chuck Wagon Gang, well known radio entertainers, headed by Kernel Wheat, will be in Munday on Thursday afternoon, June 22, according to an announcement made by Chas. Foyt of the local Piggly Wiggly store, local dealers for Bewley's Best Flour, and will give an entertainment in front of the Piggly Wiggly store upon their arrival here, which will likely be about 5 o'clock in the afternoon, as it has been announced that they will spend the night in this city.

It is likely that an additional program will be arranged for the evening, however, no definite plans for this program has been made at the time we go to press.

A cordial invitation is extended to the public to hear and see this famous group of entertainers upon the occasion of their visit to Munday.

Gold Ford V8 Is Covering Territory In Endurance Test

The Bauman Motors invites people of this area to see the Gold Painted V8 car now on a grueling 5,000 mile endurance run over our own roads and in our own climate. This car will stop at Bauman Motors, Munday on every 1000 mile trip, giving anyone an opportunity to ask the driver for any information, gas and oil mileage, speed maintained and all data are available at offices of Bauman Motors, at all times.

Your grand opportunity to learn all about the economy of operation, durability, and beauty of performance of an actual test of a V8 Ford on a run of 50,000 miles, which is several years run for the average user.

Talk is cheap and often inaccurate. Make arrangements to keep up with this actual, real, truthful test of the Gold Car, the Ford V8, in order that when you buy your next car there will be no doubt in your mind as to the economy, durability, beauty and long life of a Ford V8 as compared with any thing else on wheels.

Last Half 1932 Taxes Due July 1

June 30 is the last date for payment of the last half of 1932 taxes, Miss Sarah Wright, tax collector, announced this week. These taxes do not come under the law remitting penalties and interest on delinquent taxes. "Under the new law we are authorized to accept payment on all as valorem taxes that were delinquent on or before January 1, 1933," Miss Wright explained.

This does not apply to the last half of 1932 taxes, she pointed out, as the attorney general has ruled that last half payment of 1932 taxes do not become delinquent until July 1, 1933, at which time a ten per cent penalty plus tax costs and interest will be added to the amount unpaid.

Mrs. Carroll Blacklock, of Chickasha, Oklahoma, is here visiting in the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. A. A. Smith.

There seems to be a quiet but strong demand for sending Huey Long to England to return the compliment of G. B. Shaw's visit.—Ft. Worth Star-Telegram.

Government Funds May Be Available On Many Projects

Munday will benefit materially from Government funds made available by Congress if plans of the Munday Chamber of Commerce materialize, as work is now well under way on several projects, which include a swimming pool, park and other improvements. The preparation of plans and specifications for the projects are in the hands of D. T. Mauldin, who was recently named secretary of the chamber of commerce with instructions to push Munday's applications for funds for these various projects.

At the regular semi-monthly luncheon of the chamber of commerce Tuesday Mr. Mauldin reported that satisfactory progress was being made on these projects and at the present time three sites are under option for the projects and others will be secured before final application is filed for the funds with which to build the proposed projects.

Another move that will be undertaken by the local organization in conjunction with the county committee will be the removal of the Rhineland bridge across the Brazos river to a point north of Rhineland, and a road connecting it with the Benjamin-Seymour highway, giving a more direct route between Munday and Benjamin. It was the sentiment of the organization also that full cooperation be given to building of a new court house at Benjamin out of the funds made available by this act.

It has been pointed out that the Government will contribute 30 per cent of the funds secured on these projects and the remaining 70 per cent may be had on long-time payments at a low rate of interest, and it is the opinion of all who are familiar with the terms of the loans that all improvements contemplated within a number of years should be made out of the funds available, of which Knox County is entitled to $560,000 on the basis of population out of the apportionment that will likely be assigned to Texas.

50,000 Gallon Tank Is Being Erected At Cotton Oil Mill

A 50,000 water tank with an elevation of 110 feet is being erected at the plant of the Munday Cotton Oil Mill. The tank is a part of a system being installed for the purpose of providing fire protection for the property, which will include a sprinkler system running to all the main parts of the mill. The installation of the system represents an expenditure of $7,000, which together with other improvements that are to be made would indicate that it is the purpose of the concern to make this one of the best in this section of the state.

John Johnson, pioneer citizen of Munday, is here this week visiting in the home of his brother, A. J. V. Johnson, and other relatives. Mr. Johnson was one of the first settlers on the Knox Prairie but moved from here in 1916 and now resides in the north-east part of New Mexico. Mr. Johnson stated that many improvements had been made since his last visit here seven years ago.

U. S. Delegation to World Economic Conference

In Spotlight at Century of Progress

To Mrs. Carrie B. Neely, of Chicago, went the honor of purchasing the first paid attendance ticket to the Chicago Century of Progress Fair and the first to pass through the turnstiles. And to Miss Lillian Anderson, of Racine, Mich., went the honor of being chosen Queen.

Fox Film "Cavalcade" To Be Shown At Roxy

Fox Film Corporation brings "Cavalcade" to the screen of the Roxy Theatre on Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday, June 18-19-20.

This drama whose theme is the effect of world events on the home and family has been hailed as the greatest written in the English language in a score of years. The author, Noel Coward, known for his successes, enjoyed the distinction of having his play run for a solid year at the Drury Lane Theatre in London.

More than six months of preparation by a staff that numbered 200 preceded the actual start of production. Captain Reginald C. Berkeley, distinguished British playwright, was brought over from London to adapt the play for the screen. Frank Lloyd, twice winner of the Academy award for the best production of the year, was chosen as director.

The story of "Cavalcade" is the story of the Marryot family, Jane, Robert; their two sons, Joe and Edward; and their servants, Ellen, Bridges and their daughter, Fanny.

While it is etched on a background of historical events of the last 25 years, the story itself is the principal feature of "Cavalcade." The family—it's joys, loves and tragedies—is always uppermost. It's theme is universal.

Well-Known Players Cast
Diana Wynyard and Clive Brook have the roles of Jane and Robert Marryot; Ursula Jeans plays Fanny Bridges; Herbert Mundin is seen as Bridges; Una O'Connor portrays the role of Ellen; Irene Browne plays Margaret Harris; Merle Tottenham is seen as Annie; Frank Lawton as Joe Marryot, and John Warburton as Edward Marryot.

Boomerang Class Entertained

On last Thursday evening the Boomerang S. S. class and the Senior B. Y. P. U. of the Baptist Church went to Seymour Park for a picnic supper—and what a supper it was! Sandwiches, bacon, salads, ice cream, cake and all the other good things to make it a feast. There were thirty-seven members and guests present. We were especially glad to have Mrs. Ingram and Mrs. Tiney who took their cars that we might have plenty of room for everyone.

If you are not attending S. S. or a young people's training service somewhere else, we extend to you a cordial invitation to join us. We have elected new officers in both these groups and they are planning more of these entertainments for the summer months. Our S. S. lessons are very interesting now. Come and be with us for the review of the book of Mark. Also special music every Sunday morning.

LOOK THE HOUSE OVER

Take a walk around your home and property.

If you are the average home owner, you'll find lots of places where repairs, replacements, or alterations should be made.

It's probable that you've been thinking of making such repairs and betterments as these for several years—and haven't had them done because of nervousness as to the future.

Today you can obtain property—improvement, of what ever kind, for a fraction of what it would have cost you five or ten years ago.

GETTING BETTER

How long deferred makes the heart sick, and frequent disappointment caused by the failure of fulfillment of numerous optimistic prophecies during the past few years has made the public rather sceptical of good business news.

Nevertheless, there are unmistakable signs that business in this country is on the upturn. Even the most skeptical cannot deny that the news published during the past few days is very encouraging.

We do not have to look far for an explanation of this upward trend. The inflation program of President Roosevelt, even before it is put into operation, has started the upward trend.

The theory behind the inflation program of course is that the upward trend will inspire the confidence necessary to cure the paralysis of fear, believed by many observers to be the greatest obstacle to recovery at this time. The dissipation of fear and the free flow of money would be bound to bring some improvement regardless of conditions abroad.

Without a doubt the business of the country seems to be getting better and better every day.

FOREIGN TRADE MAKES FOR PEACE

Recent action of the heads of all governments have called the attention of the peoples of the world to the infinite importance of good international relations—and their corollary, a sizeable and permanent volume of international trade.

When President Roosevelt spoke a short time ago and demanded disarmament, he was asking for more than world peace—he was asking for world salvation. We are learning that no nation, no people, no class, can prosper in a world which is torn by old enmities, mutual distrust, a multitude of fears. We see the results of those things now in Europe—where many of the great nations are enlarging and outfitting their armies, laying embargoes against the goods of other nations, obstructing each other at every turn.

A short time from now there will be a World Economic Conference. Its purpose is just what the name implies—to restore the economic structure of the world. All principal nations will be represented. The groundwork has been prepared, largely by the informal conference held during April and May in Washington.

It is to be hoped that trade goes on forever. There is nothing like trade like a mutual commercial interest, like friendliness and understanding among peoples. And there is nothing like a decline in trade to make misunderstandings and anger. The future of the world depends to a great extent or what restores the delegates to the conference are able to achieve.

LIFE INSURANCE MEETS THE TEST

"The present depression has offered a test as to the stability and reliability of life insurance under abnormal strain," said George S. Van Schaick, Superintendent of Insurance of New York, recently.

One result of this has been continued safety for those who have purchased life insurance in the past. Another result, less generally known, is its effect on persons who once carried no insurance at all, or carried it only as a protection for dependents in case of the income producer's death.

They have seen the gilt wear off supposedly gilt edge investments. They have seen the value of securities that seemed the very best obtainable a few years ago, diminish almost to nothing. And, at the same time, they have seen the amazing record that life insurance has made in maintaining its standards of safety during a period of unexampled financial distress.

Consequently these people are turning to life insurance, not only to protect dependents, but to protect the wage earner himself against old age poverty—to rebuild depleted estates. They are turning to it, in brief, as a safe investment.

Thus, the achievement of life insurance has wrought a definite change in the saving habits of the American people—and it is a change that will work for a more prosperous, more stable nation, and one less subject to violent financial upheavals.

The President made his first public statement on world peace a short time ago. It was a diplomatic sensation, without advance publicity, to 54 foreign capitals. Bulk of the speech was plainly addressed to Germany—which means, in these days, to Chancellor Hitler. Mr. Roosevelt asked the nations to give up all offensive war weapons, and to keep only those vital to defense. He denounced foreign invasion, at a time when Japan is apparently determined to take all it can of China. He denounced also "petty" nationalism at a time when nationalism is gripping European powers.

Next day Chancellor Hitler made a speech, agreed with Mr. Roosevelt—but again said that unless Germany were permitted to re-arm and the provisions of the Versailles Treaty were abrogated, she would resign from the League of Nations. His tone, however, was much more conciliatory than was expected. It was apparent that the European powers are looking to America to lead the fight for world disarmament, a revival of trust between peoples, and a permanent peace.

RAILROADS ASKED TO PAY COMPETITOR'S BILL

The position of the railroads in relation to their competitors is vividly illustrated in an incident that recently took place in an eastern state.

Near a small town there is a highway bridge over a railroad, marked "Safe Load 8 tons." The bridge is entirely adequate for light trucks and buses at present.

However, a short time ago it was demanded that the bridge be altered at the railroads expense—in order to make it safer for vehicles of greater weight. The only vehicles of this kind are the heavy trucks and buses which run in direct passenger and freight competition with the railroad. The change, if finally made, will cost the line $25,000, which must be taken out of its shrinking coffers. As a consequence, railroad investors will be paying the bills making possible competition which will deprive them of income!

This is doubtless an extreme and unusual case. But it is indicative of the fix in which the railroad industry finds itself today. It is regulated to the point where it cannot make a move without the sanction of the government authority—and its competitors, operating on a comparatively free basis, are waxing fat at its expense. The result is that millions of railroad investors are in danger of losing their principal, that hundreds of thousands of wage-earners have lost all or part of their livelihood, that a multitude of industries which depend on the railroads for orders are in the doldrums. Legislation to remedy this injustice is said to be on its way—and full speed and clear tracks are in order to hasten its arrival.

A full blooded Pima Indian in Arizona recently needed some cash so he approached the banker at Casa Grande about a loan.

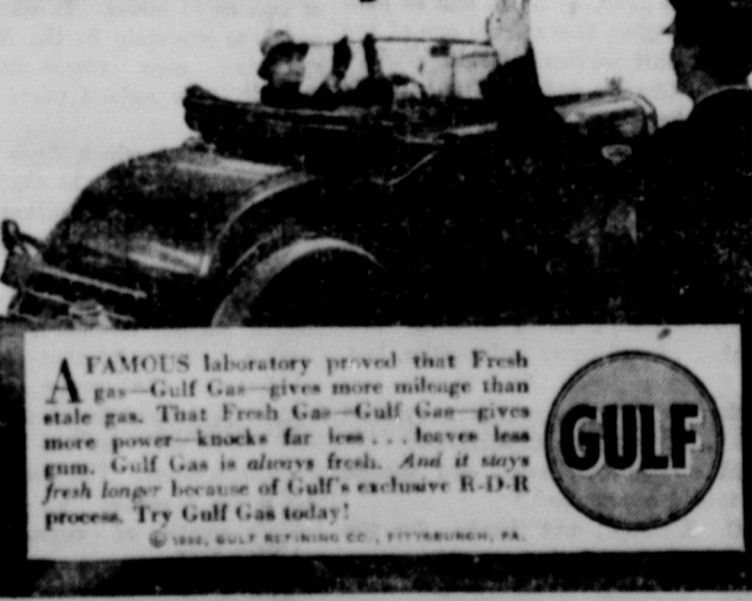

"How much money do you need?" asked the banker.

"Me want $200," replied the Indian.

"And what security have you?" "Me got two hundred horses."

This seemed sufficient, so the loan was made. Shortly afterward the In-

LOW PRICE CARS VS. CHEAP CARS

We do not build a low-price car: the cost to us of building our car is pretty high.

But we do sell a high quality car at a low price. Almost every new Ford V-8 car we have built so far this year, has cost more to manufacture than its selling price was.

The reason for this is simple:—a manufacturer who gives good value must expect to lose money on the first cars he sells because he cannot charge all his costs to the people who are first to buy.

But with the purchaser it is different—he cannot afford to lose anything on a car. It must give him full value from the first, and keep on giving him full value for years.

Two things make possible our combination of low prices and high cost quality:

- 1. Volume Production
2. Taking only one profit

First, we set our price at what would be fair to the public on the basis of economies we enjoy in volume production. Then, in order to justify and maintain our low price we must get volume sales.

Thus it comes that a car which is really high-cost to make, is also low-cost to buy.

There is a difference between a cheap car and a low-priced high quality car.

Ford prices are always fixed at a point which makes it profitable for a customer to buy.

Good and lasting business must produce profit to the buyer as well as to the seller. And of the two, the buyer's profit must be, comparatively, the larger one.

It pays us to sell the Ford V-8 because it pays you to buy it.

Enjoy These Exclusive Advantages of Modern Electric Cookery

Let modern Electric Cookery take the place of tedious old-fashioned methods in your home by installing an Electric Range now. You'll appreciate Electric Cookery for these distinct and exclusive advantages: MODERN... Automatic timing and temperature control permit you to cook entire meals without constant watching.

FAST... Modern ranges make electric cookery faster. Less water is used, which cooks foods faster... and makes them better and more healthful, too.

ECONOMICAL... Electric Cookery provides not only economical operation, but gives distinct savings in food cost through minimizing the shrinkage of meats and bulk foods.

CLEAN... Clean, flameless electric heat cooks without blackening pots or pans. No scouring, no scraping. Kitchens stay clean with little work.

SIMPLE... The principles of Electric Cookery are so well defined, the methods so clear-cut that even inexperienced cooks always obtain excellent results.

ACCURATE... Simple processes and automatic control enable women to prepare perfectly cooked meals more accurately than when timed by human mind.

COOL... Perfect insulation retains the heat in the oven so well that it does not escape into the room. Electric Range kitchens stay cool.

HEALTHFUL... Electric Cookery gives you tastier, more healthful foods. Natural flavors are preserved. Health-giving minerals are retained.

SAFE... Electric Cookery is flameless... no poisonous gases or disagreeable odors... no fire danger.

TIME RELEASING... Electric Cookery releases your time from "pot watching" for more pleasant tasks or pastimes.

Call us for an individual investigation of your use of electric energy, to determine the cost of cooking by electric means. You may be surprised to know that there are many cases where electric cookery actually decreases the total of electric bills.

RHINELAND

(Received too late for last week's paper.)

Last Sunday morning St. Joseph's Church witnessed a beautiful ceremony, when a class of twenty boys and girls renewed their Baptismal vows in St. Joseph's Church before the eight o'clock Mass. In his talk to the children, Father Boniface exhorted them to remain faithful to their promises. After the renewal the Mass was celebrated by the pastor, Rev. Boniface Spanke, O. S. B., who also delivered the sermon and the choir rendered the beautiful Immaculate Conception Mass. The nicely decorated altar and the beautiful pieces played by the Rhineland Senior and Junior bands added greatly to the enhancement of the festivities.

A social for the Mother's Society of this congregation, was held in the home of Mrs. Magdalena Albus last Wednesday afternoon, May 31. The women gathered here for the purpose of doing missionary work. Refreshments, consisting of ice cream and cake were served during the afternoon.

The farmers of this vicinity are busy preparing their wheat for threshing after having replanted their cotton.

Miss Gertrude Blake of Windthorst Texas, is spending the summer with relatives here.

Miss Frances Diersing returned home after attending the Texas Technological College at Lubbock Texas during the past year. Miss Diersing will spend the summer visiting home-folks.

On Sunday afternoon the Rev. Boniface Spanke, O. S. B., left for Austin Texas, where he is attending to business affairs.

Mr. Leo Diersing, who attended Subiaco College at Subiaco, Arkansas, during the past year, returned home last Friday to spend the summer.

Mr. A. H. Diersing and son, Victor, and John J. Hoffman motored to various parts of the plains last week.

Miss Helen Herring accepted a position in Abilene, Texas.

Uncle Charlie Visits Chicago For Another World's Fair Venture

"Gosh," grunted Uncle Charlie, "that the World Fair in 1893 beat all tarnation; but it don't hold a candle 'sides this whopper." He looked about him at Chicago's Century of Progress and then, wearily, down at his heavy boots which had covered several miles already.

"Are you too tired to take a look here?" asked one of the newspaper to the old country gentleman in hopes reporters who had attached themselves to a good story. The journalist pointed to the imposing exhibit of the Gulf Refining Company.

"Tired nuthin'," bristled Uncle Charlie. Folks back home told me to be sure to see the whole thing. Wouldn't dare go back if I didn't. Come along."

The group stopped before the 29 foot automobile cylinder, one of the largest ever built. Uncle Charlie's mouth opened a bit as he watched the huge piston operating, showing with the aid of lights intake and exhaust and the fact that "fresh gas packs power." He chuckled as he bent down to examine the miniature models of airplane, racing car, and motor boat which were rotating on shelves at the base of the cylinder. "Didn't see anything like this 40 years ago."

Almost the next Gulf display to catch the octogenarian's eye was the great Oil Fountain, 26 feet high. "Lot of gim-cracks there," was the visitor's comment as he pointed to the futuristic design. He crowded closer to peek into the glass openings of the multitudinous pipes, through which Gulf oils flowed. "Pop, those pipes show you both total chassis lubrication and industrial lubrication," explained one of the reporters. "I swear," replied the old fellow.

"What's next?" queried Uncle Charlie. "Well, Pop," replied the same reporter, "there are enough exhibits in this Gulf Refining display to keep you busy for several days. But I suggest that you hold those off until a bit later. There are a couple of special features that I think th folks back home will certainly want to hear about. They's what I want to see," Uncle Charlie exclaimed.

Under the guidance of the reporter, the group moved to th back of the Gulf display, stopping before a booth in one of the alcoves. "Ever go for an airplane ride?" Uncle Charlie was asked. "Nossir, and I'm too old to begin now," was the reply.

Considerable argument ensued and after some minutes a reluctant old gentleman disappeared into the booth. Chuckles greeted him when he emerged four minutes later, looking somewhat disheveled. "How did it go, Pop?"

"Gosh all hemlock, I think I really was up in one of them contraptions. What with puttin' me in the glass

PRICES going up

It isn't going to be long before the prices of everything will be higher. Good for producers, not so good for consumers, except that more people will have jobs and so be able to be consumers, when the producers can get enough for their products to make it worth while to produce.

Cutting down the amount of anything produced is the popular way nowadays to raise prices. The countries where the cacao tree grows, from which we get cocoa and chocolate are trying to get together on a plan to reduce the output so as to get a better price.

I wonder what will happen, however, when there is a world wide crop failure and people in the cities can't get food enough. It seems to me that the governments which are trying to curtail production ought to see to it that a years supply of the non-perishable food products is stored away out of the line of trade, for just such an emergency. They might look back into the bible and see what Joseph did in Egypt.

MESSANGER gets there

A Detroit messenger boy has just been given a $50,000 a year job as general manager of all the transportation lines of the city of London.

He is Lord Ashfield, who started his running errands for a Detroit trolley line. Somehow American trained railroad men do pretty well in England. The first subway in London was built by an American named Yerkes, and the men who operate the greatest English railway systems are largely of American birth.

Europe is ahead of America in many of the older things of civilization, but America is so far ahead of Europe in everything which is new in the past 150 years that it is no wonder our technicians and managers know better how to run them.

REGULATION controversy

There is going to be a lot of controversy over the proposals of the Government to regulate all kinds of business and industry. I am one of the old fashioned Americans who believe that the less the Government has to do with business the better. I think that more of our business trouble is due to too much governmental regulation in the past than to too little. But I am afraid I am one of the small minority just now.

There are some things, however, which properly should be regulated. Those are lines of business which in their nature are more efficient as monopolies than in competition. That would include railroads, telegraph and telephone lines, electric lighting and power systems—everything which depends upon a public franchise. These such natural products as are irreplaceable, like oil, coal, and minerals, should not be left to whoever wants to grab them off, but placed under Government restriction or stimulation of production, as circumstances demand.

But that is about as far as I would like to go in Governmental control of anything. Looking through some old family papers at my farm home the other day I came across a curious relic of my childhood. It is a U. S. 25-cent paper note, issued in 1878.

When I was a small boy this paper fractional currency, which rejoiced in the popular name of "shinplaster" was the only equivalent for quarters and half dollars in circulation. This old bill is about a inch and a half wide and two and a half inches long, which properly should be regulated.

It seems to me that only the very young or those who have never studied history who object to changes in our money system. In my life time the United States has gone from bi-metallic to the gold standard and off again, from greenbacks to "hard money" and back again, from cheap dollars to high dollars and back again, but a dollar has always been a dollar so far as domestic trade goes. It is only when we have to trade with foreigners whose money standards are different, that the shape, material, or gold content or equivalent of the dollar makes any real difference.

COINS—need 2 1/2 cent piece

In the same collection I found some old coins and hunted through an ancient desk to see if I could find out what ever became of a six-sided gold eagle that my grandfather used to have. That is one of the rare coins, in the 1850's, that bring high prices from collectors. I find no trace of that, nor of the spread-eagle cent of 1856 which was one of my father's curios.

I found a tiny silver five-cent piece, precursor of the "nickel," and other coins familiar to my boyhood, such as the two-cent piece, the old copper pennies, bigger than a quarter of today, and the nickel three-cent piece, about the size of a dime.

"We've got another thrill for you," said the reporter. This time you're going to drive a racing car one hundred miles an hour."

Into another booth disappeared Uncle Charlie. Again he returned after several minutes, grinning a gold-toothed grin of triumph. "After gittin' away with that I'll ha' to run for constable. What was the test this racing man talked about in the film?" "Oh, the Gulf Refining Company hired Lou Moore, the famous racing driver to make a speed and endurance test at the Indianapolis speedway with Gulfpride Motor Oil. Moore drove the car that you saw as fast as 120 miles an hour. When the run was completed it was found that the motor oil was as good, as clean, and as pure as it was when taken from one of the regular Gulf service stations."

Uncle Charlie nodded. Think I'll be getting back to my hotel. Beginning to get enough for one day. But I'll be back tomorrow."

"Yes, Pop, and when you do, be sure to see the other Gulf exhibits. May give you some good ideas for your farmhouse and your farm. Gulf's got a Westinghouse Farm Lighting Engine number of cut away automobile, bus, gin that's a peach. And there's any truck, marine, and aviation engine that you'll want to know about."

"Sure, you bet, boys, and thanks for taking me around."

"O. E. Pop, and thanks for the story," chorused the reporters.

Vera Club Demonstrator Improves Storage Space

The cost of building clothes closets has been minimized by a great number of club women and girls in Knox County and it is possible that in a very short while the most of the club members who do not already have a place for keeping clothes will build a closet similar to the ones that have been built at Vera.

"When I first thought of building a closet in my room, I did not think of getting it done so cheaply," said Miss Lula Hurn, Vera Wardrobe Demonstrator. "After hearing of one being built for 50c I began work on one for myself. The cost cost me 75c and this includes some of the lumber for the frame and doors, paint, hinges and latch," stated Miss Hurn.

The closet is 2 1/2 by 3 1/2 is built to the ceiling and is equipped with a rod for hanging clothes, shelves, storage space in the top, and Miss Hurn is making a shoe rack now by using the ends of an orange box and a broom stick.

Story of Shyl Spivey, Gilliland, Second place winner in Bedroom Contest

"I entered the bedroom contest determined to improve my bedroom as much as I could. I realized that also, I would enjoy having a nice room when finished.

I studied all the books I could find that gave any information concerning bedrooms. I didn't have a clothes closet, a study table, nor a wash stand. The woodwork, ceiling, paper, and rug were very dark. The windows were narrow and the shades wide, making it impossible to roll them. There were two beds in my room. The curtains were old faded badly. There were no chairs in my

I sold some of my club chickens to pay for the paint, dye, curtains and shades. Mother gave a part of her cream checks to use as I liked and with this money, I bought the paper and varnish.

My expenses were as follows: paper $2.50, paint $1.75, curtains $2.00, varnish .60, dye .15, shades .68. Total, $6.38.

I have made my dress and pillow slips, set out 100 tomato plants, 25 on tile, planted beets and worked some to improve the yard.

I am very proud of my room now and I find it much more comfortable and easily cleaned.

room that could be left there permanently.

The first thing I did was to get the cooperation of my entire family then I began work.

I chose a light paint for my ceiling and woodwork so it would brighten up the room. Before beginning the painting, however, I moved out one of the beds. My father built my closet out of old scrap lumber. The inside of the closet is papered with a very light paper. My mother and I papered the room, using a paper that was very light and had a small all-over flower in it.

The paint on the floor, which was a dark brown, was removed with lye water, and a lighter varnish was put on. The rug which I had in my room was dark and matched the living room suite better so I exchanged, moving the lighter rug to my room. I added new curtains and shades. My furniture was cleaned and polished giving it a much newer appearance.

In the smokehouse, I found a chair that had been discarded, but after adding a leg and some rounds and cleaning and varnishing it, I had a very good chair to use with my study table. Mother helped me make a wash stand from scrap lumber, which I varnished and put a curtain around so that I might use the shelves for storing my towels and washcloths. I cut off an old bread crate and painted it to use for a waste basket.

The lock and a knob had been broken off my door and this I replaced with an extra one I had on hand.

I bought some rose dye and made some scarfs of unbleached muslin. I made some sheets out of some sheeting we had on hand and I also made a spring and mattress cover.
