Commissioners Court Issues Election Order County Agent Will Have Emergency Permits For Distribution By Friday.

Knox Voters To Pass On Sale of 3.2 Beer Aug. 26

Knox county voters will pass on the matter of whether the amber field of which so much has been said in recent months will be legally sold in Knox county on August 26th, the same date upon which the voters of the state will vote upon the question of legalizing 3.2 beer. The election has been ordered by the commissioners court of Knox county after a petition bearing approximately 15 per cent of the qualified voters of the county had been presented to the court. Only 10 per cent of the qualified voters was necessary, and according to the statutes, the calling of the election is made mandatory on the court when this number of voters sign the petition.

Those who have been responsible for the circulation of the petition and its presentation to the court feel that the voters should be given the privilege of voting on the county issue at the same time they vote on the state issue, as this will eliminate the necessity of another election and thereby result in a substantial saving to the county.

TWINS—A BOY AND GIRL AT THE REDDELL HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Reddell are entertaining a couple of youngsters in their home who made their arrival on the 7th—a boy and girl, and it would be safe to predict that those fine White Leghorns will be neglected to some extent henceforth. The twins are reported getting along fine as is the mother, and nobody is worrying about Fred.

"Bunny" Dryden Is Still In Land of Living Is Report

A report was circulated here Monday morning to the effect that "Bunny" Dryden, high wire walker who appeared here some days ago, had been killed in a fall from a wire at Chicago. While the report seemed authentic, the Times immediately began an investigation with a view of verifying the report, going so far as to call M. S. Sellers, editor and publisher of the Rising Star Record at Rising Star, Dryden's home town. Mr. Sellers reported that he had heard nothing of the report and later in the day sent a telegram advising us that there was nothing to the report and that Dryden was in Oklahoma.

Before leaving here Dryden stated that he would possibly stop in Oklahoma enroute to Chicago, where he is under contract, beginning July 28.

NO FEDERATED CHURCH MEETING THIS MONTH

The Times has been requested to announce that there will be no meeting of the Federated Church Societies of Munday on the fifth Monday in July.

Jump across wide chasms at dazzling heights.

Superhuman feats such as those performed by "Bunny" Dryden require a steady nerve of steel, and to acquire this requires clean living, constant practice and an abundance of self-reliance.

Rev. R. L. LeFevre To Assist Baptist Pastor In Revival In Munday

Under the able leadership of Rev. R. L. LeFevre of McKinney, Texas, a revival meeting began on Wednesday evening at the Baptist church, and will continue throughout the remainder of the week and all next week, with services each morning except Mondays and Saturdays at 10 o'clock and each evening at 8:15. The morning services will be held in the church building while the evening services will be held outside the building.

The pastor has secured as song leader for the campaign C. H. McKinney, who needs no introduction to the people of this community, this having been his home for many years. He has been engaged in this work since leaving Munday some years ago and has gained for himself an enviable reputation as a gospel singer.

Speaking of Rev. Mr. LeFevre, Editor Wilson of the McKinney Gazette recently had this to say: "Rev. Mr. LeFevre's old home is here in McKinney where he commenced as a grocery delivery boy and built himself up to a high place of usefulness and esteem in our city and country. He has had a commanding influence in Baptist circles throughout this section of the state because of his worthy, consecrated life and work in the Masters' kingdom. This editor has known and appreciated Brother Bob LeFevre for thirty years. We only wish that he was still living here and preaching for us here in McKinney."

Funeral Services For Jack Glenn Held in Benjamin

Funeral services for Jack Glenn, of Benjamin, 26 years of age, and son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Glenn of that city, were held on Monday morning at Benjamin and were attended by a large concourse of friends from all parts of the county.

The young man was killed early Sunday morning when an automobile in which he and a brother, Charles Glenn, were driving on the outskirts of Amarillo, went into a ditch. Deceased was engaged in the drug business in Amarillo and the younger brother was attending school in that city. He was reared in Knox county, his father, W. C. Glenn, being for many years tax assessor and later county commissioner in the Benjamin-Vera precinct, and the many friends of this estimable family were grieved to learn of the tragedy. Among those who attended the funeral services from Munday were Mrs. J. R. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. J. Dee McStay, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Williams and others.

July 31st Last Day To Transfer Students

The transferring of students from one school district to another must be attended to before August 1, according to Riley B. Harrell, tax assessor and collector for Munday Independent school district.

Parents and trustees are urged to make every effort to get transferring students accounted for at once in order to avoid confusion and disappointment later.

When students are transferred their portion of the state school fund is transferred to the district in which they enter. If their names are on the census roll, pupils may be transferred from any district in this county to any other district in the county. Students may not transfer out of the county unless they live near the county line.

Following the program a delicious salad course was served.

The Misses Smith are talented daughters of Mrs. J. E. Smith, Miss Helen having received her Doctor of Music from Simmons University and Miss Mary Hope is a pupil of Prof. Carl Venth of Westminister College, San Antonio, who is considered to be one of the greatest violinists in the south. She has also had instruction under Mrs. Venth, eminent piano instructor, and was a treat for music lovers of the county to hear these young artists.

Knox City Pastor Offers To Debate Repeal Question

The Rev. Jim M. Sharp, pastor of the Methodist church at Knox City, has issued a challenge to 3.2 advocates in Knox county to discuss the issues at stake in the election to be held on August 26th. His challenge follows:

Since the Commissioners' Court has ordered an election on our local option law of Knox City for the 26th day of August, and since said election is to be taken on a petition presented by some of the people of Knox county, I therefore challenge any person or persons favoring the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment or the sale of 3.2 per cent beer to a debate on any or all of the following questions:

1. Resolved: Will there be less drinking if 3.2 per cent beer is sold and the Eighteenth Amendment is repealed than at the present time?
 2. Resolved: That the sale of 3.2 per cent beer in Knox City will be a moral and spiritual blessing to the children and young people of Knox county, and will help the schools and churches of said county in a material, moral or spiritual way.
 3. Resolved: That the sale of 3.2 per cent beer will help the needy people of Knox county, and will also help our present business community.
- I will debate the negative side of any or all of these questions with any person representing those favoring the affirmative. These questions

Assurance that the cotton acreage retirement program had gone over was received by W. E. Jones, county agent, in a telegram from O. B. Martin, director of Extension Service for Texas A. & M. College Tuesday afternoon. The telegram follows:

"The Secretary of Agriculture has authorized acceptance and approved all producers contracts where the same has been approved by field men, county agents and county committee. Printed instructions and emergency permit blanks on way to be used by farmers to secure permit from county agent to destroy immediately cotton without having to await arrival of formal acceptance blanks. Instructions and emergency permit blanks should reach you Friday. In no event shall the producer begin the destruction of crop until his application has been approved and permit issued by county agent."

All contracts that have been signed by county agent and county committee are accepted, even though they have not reached Washington. Use same caution in accepting contracts as before.

(Signed) O. B. MARTIN, Director of Extension Service.

The Winners Win, The Losers Lose In Sunday's Games

Munday, Hamlin and Rule seem to have a monopoly on the pennant race for the last half of the season in the Wichita Valley League, as each of these teams have a percentage of an even 1,000, having won three and lost none in the second half, while Goree, Stamford and Haskell have won none and lost three. This standing may be maintained even following next Sunday's games, since the three leading teams are to be opposed by the three losing teams on Sunday, Munday playing Haskell at Haskell, Rule plays Goree at Goree and Hamlin plays Stamford at Stamford. Sunday's results were Hamlin 10, Haskell 9, Rule 7, Stamford 3, Munday 8, Goree 3.

Fort Worth C. of C. Trippers Will Be Here On Friday

Announcement that a group of Fort Worth business men traveling in a caravan of twenty automobiles and headed by the Gold Ford Car will arrive here on Friday afternoon at 2:30 has been made by E. H. Bauman, local Ford dealer. No definite information was available as to the purpose of their mission or the nature of their visit here, however, citizens should remember the date and hour and give them a cordial reception upon their arrival.

Funeral Services Held at O'Brien For Bob Parnell

Funeral services were held Monday at the Christian church at Mineral Wells by the Rev. Fox for Bob Parnell, pioneer citizen of the Knox City community, who died Saturday at his home in Mineral Wells after a brief illness. The remains were brought to O'Brien by R. G. Campbell, local undertaker, and were accompanied there by the Rev. Pierce, who conducted the services at the graveside.

Mr. Parnell was about 60 years of age and had resided in the Knox City community for many years until about a year ago when he moved to Mineral Wells, and his death came as a great surprise, as he had been in seemingly perfect health up to within a few hours before his death. Mr. Parnell was regarded as one of the most substantial citizens of the Knox City community for many years and was universally loved by those who knew him. He is survived by his widow and four daughters and two sons.

are ones that should be discussed with all fairness. Any person wishing to accept this challenge will please see me and we will arrange for time and place of said debate.

Rev. J. H. Sharp, Knox City, Texas.

The meaning of the above telegram, according to W. E. Jones, county agent, is that farmers may begin immediately to plow their cotton as soon as emergency permits are procured and these permits will likely be in the hands of Mr. Jones by Friday.

Mr. Jones was highly elated over the response of Knox county farmers to the retirement program, having made the following statement with reference to the program Tuesday evening:

"The act to reduce cotton acreage in the United States was accepted by Secretary Wallace July 19. This action was made possible by the number of acres contracted to be destroyed by the producers themselves and was sufficient to justify the act."

"The Extension Service was drafted to put this campaign over in about 15 days time, and with aid and cooperation of all people concerned, the campaign was put over and approved. The county and local committees of Knox county are to be congratulated for their aid in this campaign. The newspapers and individuals of the county are thanked for their cooperation in wide-spreading the news of the meetings held the first week. The county newspapers are especially credited with publishing official information and cooperating with the officials in carrying the correct information to those desiring it."

"It is the desire of the Extension Service to thank all those, whether individuals or corporations, for their aid and cooperation in presenting and completing the campaign."

Figures on the cotton reduction given out by Mr. Jones Tuesday evening for Knox county are as follows: Contracts accepted 950, acres to be destroyed 31,372; cash to be paid $276,635.05; bales optioned 4,293. There are about 50 contracts yet to be passed upon, which will change the above figures to some extent, according to Mr. Jones.

Knox County Is Given $40,000 To Improve Highway 16

Approval of an appropriation of $40,000 has been made by the State highway department at Austin out of the $24,500,000 federal unemployment fund allotted to Texas for construction work on highway 16. This highway was formerly known as highway 51 and extends from the Haskell county line north through Knox City, Benjamin and Trussett, Judge J. W. Melton and members of the commissioners court recently made a trip to Austin to seek this aid. The appropriation is subject to the approval of C. E. Swain, federal district highway engineer, with offices at Fort Worth, and contracts on the work will be delayed pending his approval of the projects.

Munday Takes Big End 3-8 Score To Win From Goree

Goree, with a revamped line-up, including the big "Sunset" Hill and the little Keith from Knox City, Joe Bailey King, formerly of the Munday line-up, and some other re-inforcements, failed to make the grade Sunday in stopping the Munday aggregation in their battle for pennant honors here Sunday afternoon, when the visitors, with their newly acquired battery, Hill and Keith, in action lost to the home aggregation to the tune of 8-3.

"Lefty" Hambricht demonstrated his ability to pitch himself out of a number of tight places and was given excellent support by his teammates, who played errorless baseball throughout.

Thinking Out Loud

By J. A. K.

While the presiding elder of this column might not be able to compete with our hefty contemporary, O. C. Harrison, of the Baylor County Banner, he freely admits that he has seen him one better. Just listen:

Editor J. A. Kennedy of the Munday Times has his contemporaries looked clear off the map. He goes across the street on the back of a wire walker, 35 feet above the ground, without a tremor.

What's more, he double dares any of his contemporaries to do likewise, and they cover on the ground, quaking in their shoes. That is one time when Jess certainly has his place all to himself, and therefore what he says ought to go without question.

However, the Seymour contemporary knew nothing of our misgivings when on Monday morning we were told that the above and aforesaid wire walker had fallen from a 90 foot wire into eternity. In fact, we were about ready to believe some of our good friends who had told us that we were a plain damphool.

And rather than face our fellow-men with that stigma upon our fair name we spent some of our hard-earned money to substantiate the fact that the wire walker was still alive and enjoying good health, and will likely pass from this sphere long after his wavy blond hair has turned to silvery gray, and in the meantime thousands of yokels like the Seymour herbe will have suffered from sunburn in the roof of their mouth by having watched him hop, skip and

Dreiser Novel Is Great Film, Splendid Cast

"Jennie Gerhardt" was the most talked-of woman in American fiction. Now this tragic figure of American womanhood comes to vivid life in an amazing portrayal by Sylvia Sidney. The picturization of the sensational Theodore Dreiser novel will be at the Roxy Theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, July 23-25. Featured in the cast are Donald Cook, Mary Astor, H. B. Warner and Edward Arnold. "Jennie Gerhardt" is the first picture in which Miss Sidney achieves the goal of all film players, star billing, and her splendid performance in the title role undoubtedly won for her this right. Her sad, wistful manner is genuinely a part of the character itself, bringing to it all that Dreiser might ever have intended. Rarely, in fact, has any character of fiction ever been so deftly transplanted to the stage or screen. Jennie Gerhardt, in case you have forgotten, stands as a character, for the hopes and despairs, love and sacrifices of all womanhood. She is a beautiful, sensitive girl, raised in poverty. It is her family's poverty that is responsible for her inability to refuse the favors of those who might help solve their financial problems. A child is born to her. But again it is her family's needs that forces her into another like situation. This time it is with wealthy Lester Kane, played by Donald Cook, whom she learns to love. They live together for years, but when Jennie realizes he is rubbing himself of the possibility of success in his own world, she leaves him, sacrificing herself now that her family no longer needs her. It is an overpowering story of a girl driven through desperation to an inescapable end. It is the beauty of her nature that her happiness comes from her willing sacrifice. The picture adds greatly to the

Your ELECTRIC Rate is What You Make it

Do you know that your increased use of Electric Service is billed on a surprisingly low rate schedule . . . and adds only a small amount to your total bill?

PROFIT By the Bargains We Offer . . .

Electricity is not a commodity . . . but a service. It is a magic force which appliances transform into constructive energy. Electricity cooks meals, heats water, refrigerates food, lights homes, cleans carpets and furniture, washes clothes, produces beautiful radio programs . . . and does all these important jobs better than any other method!

You can earn bargain electric rates by enjoying more of the "Electrical Servants" you have always wanted. You pay a great deal less per unit for electricity to operate a range, refrigerator, water heater or other money-saving appliances than you pay if you limit your use to lighting only. Texas Rushes To Finish Display At Century Progress

A three cornered race between Texas, Arkansas and West Virginia to complete their exhibits at A Century of Progress—the Chicago World's Fair—was disclosed today (July 7) by L. E. Snavely, General Chairman of the Texas World's Fair Commission. Formal challenge have been made and speed is the watchword of the day. Texas got off to a flying start in the race when they sent a certified check for the rental of the exhibit space.

Arkansas has already shipped portion of their exhibit while the plans for the West Virginia space have been completed. The Arkansas display consists of a fine showing of pottery and preparations are being made to install a complete workshop with a potter's wheel in the foreground. The walls of the exhibit are to be artistically covered with drapes made in the state. Many other features are to be added later, including a display of rice and rice products. The design of the West Virginia exhibit was supplied by expert artisans and architects of the state. The center feature of the display will be a large block of West Virginia coal. It will be surrounded by exhibits depicting other industries of the state. One of the most interesting features will be miniature oil fields in operation. The drills, the wells and derricks are all built to scale and give an accurate reproduction of an oil field in production. There will also be a display of native wool.

Texas was one of the first states to appoint World's Fair Commission, but there have been many delays in the final commitment. Funds for the exhibit were raised entirely by private subscription without the aid of tax monies. Because of the variety of Texas resources plans for the exhibit have not yet been completed. However, Mr. Snavely predicts that Texas will win the race by a good margin. Texas has shown a great deal of interest in the Chicago World's Fair. Numerous cities of the state have arranged to have special days set aside for them and tourists have filled the highways leading to Chicago. In a recent highway check the Chicago Motor Club tallied 107 Texas cars entering Chicago in an eight-hour period. This is one of the highest percentages of any state in the Union.

HOME PAPER NEVER FORGETS

Someone has well said that your home paper never loses interest in you. This possibly you have never given a passing thought. No matter whether you like the newspaper man or not he likes you. If he is true to his profession and publishes a paper for the people, he allows no personal matter to interfere with his work of news-gathering. He may meet you as a stranger, yet along with his best and dearest friends chronicle your success and sorrows wherever you may be. Those who would forget you but for your home paper, are ever reminded of your existence by some item in the paper which you spot your boyhood days. Others may deceive and defraud you, but the home paper never forgets you. Possibly you may not always deserve it but a newspaper on the right line has no pets, and should it at any time say things that cause your fur to tingle the wrong way, study a moment and see if it is not newsworthy. If it is not newsworthy, see if it has not at various times said many nice things of which you fail to give it credit.—Chilliothe Valley News.

Author of Texas Liquor Law Dies Huntsville Home

HUNTSVILLE, Texas, July 18. AP—Former Senator W. L. Dean, author of the Dean prohibitory law of Texas, is dead.

The 67-year old lawyer became violently ill at his Huntsville home after dinner last night and died within a short time.

Dean had engaged in a private practice of law here since his retirement from the state senate in 1920. He served but one term in the upper house.

Years before he had served as a representative in the lower house during the 25th legislature.

Although his political career was brief, he gained prominence as the author of Texas dry law, regarded as one of the most rigid enacted by any state.

ESTIMATED POPULATION OF TEXAS ON JULY 1 PLACED AT OVER SIX MILLION

Texas, as of July 1 has an estimated population of 6,023,000 according to announcement made by the Bureau of Census, Washington, on last Friday. This is an increase of 198,285 over the official census of 1930 when the total population was 5,824,715.

The rate of growth since the official census of 1930 is somewhat higher than the average between official enumerations. From 1910 to 1920 Texas showed a growth of an average rate of about 77,000 a year, between 1920 and 1930 an average rate of only 16,000 annually. Estimated from one year to another the state increased from 50,000 to 66,000 annually.

Population of the United States as of July 1, as being 125,600,000, compared to the official census in 1930 of 122,775,046.

DIABETES, DISEASE OF MIDDLE AGE, GAINS NEW VICTIMS YEARLY

Austin, Texas, July 20.—Among the prominent causes of death in the middle aged group and older is the malady known as diabetes. Like many other diseases, its power as a cause of death can be traced to the lack of early diagnosis, or in other words, to the carelessness of its victims. In Texas about five hundred citizens die of this disease each year and the number is steadily mounting.

The periodic physical examination will disclose the unsuspected facts at a time when diabetes is most susceptible to scientific attack. Why should one refuse to use this great weapon of proven power against diabetes and other diseases is difficult to understand. The first three noticeable symptoms are thirst, hunger, and excessive elimination of the urine. These are accompanied by loss of vitality, strength and weight. In middle-aged persons boils and carbuncles are quite common.

The immediate cause of diabetes is a lack of secretion of the pancreas, known as insulin. The main thing is to guard against the disease. Three simple rules, if reasonably applied, will go far toward that end. 1. If overweight, one should reduce by restricting the diet and by exercise, though both should be under the direction of a physician.

2. Infections of tonsils, teeth and other organs should receive professional attention.

3. Make the health examination an annual habit. The reason the death rate from diabetes is rising is due to the fact that more people are living to middle age and beyond than has been true in the past and it is a disease of middle life. It is not contagious, it can be controlled by diet and insulin, along with common sense and exercise.

The executive of a large business firm had been invited to dinner by a friend. At the table the host asked him to say grace. It was a new experience, but he was not to be found wanting.

"Dear Lord," he began, "We thank Thee for all favors of recent date. Permit us to express appreciation. We trust that we may continue to merit your confidence and that we shall receive many more blessings from you in the future. Amen."

Today And Tomorrow

AMBITION—Serge had it

When I hear farmers talking as if they were all headed for the poorhouse I think of my neighbor, Serge Katorshy. Serge came over from Russia just before the war, because he had five children and wanted to give them a chance. He had about three hundred dollars to start with.

He bought a couple of hundred acres of cheap mountain land about five miles from my farm, and started to work. He repaired the tumble-down old house, and in these twenty years has so improved it that it is the most comfortable farm-house I have ever seen. There are eleven children now, seven of them through high school, two through college, three of the girls finishing up in the State Normal School. And what marks these Katorshy kids do get in school!

Serge started with some scrub cows but has bred up his dairy herd until it's one of the best in the district. They grow or raise practically all they eat, and the certainly live well. Serge Katorshy had the two essentials for successful living, industry and ambition. With those a man can get almost anywhere.

COLORS—have a care

If you take your automobile with you on your tour of the world, be sure the color is one that won't offend the people of any particular nation. In Finland they don't permit cars or anything else to be painted red. Red is the color of Communism, and the Finns are scary about their communitarian neighbors next door in Russia.

One American got into trouble in Java with a light cream-colored car. White and cream are mourning colors in the Dutch East Indies, and are permitted only on hearse. A yellow car is an offense in China for the same reason.

You don't want to take a green car to either England or India. In England there is a popular superstition that green is an unlucky color. Books and plays have been written about girls who wore green stockings, with the result that they could never get a man to marry them! And in India green is reserved for the use of pious Mohammedans who have made the pilgrimage to Mecca and so are entitled to wear the green turban.

Better play safe—if you're really going—and take a plain black or dark blue car with you on your world tour.

FIRST—two more

My friend Joe Kane has written a book to tell who was the first to do or make many interesting things in common use. It's an interesting book called "Famous First Facts," but I ran across a couple of "firsts" the other day that Joe hasn't got in his book.

The first white bread was made by an English miller, Hugo Paddington, because a nobleman in his town wanted bread to match his white table-linen. That was news to me when Frank Rorer told me.

And the first paved street in America is in down-town New York. It is named, appropriately, Stone Street. A Dutch brewer's wife got tired of having her husband's drays mirel in the mud, so she had her servants lay cobble stones the whole length of the street.

INTERESTING, IF NOT IMPORTANT!

BUNK—grain alcohol
We heard a lot, last year, about a great scheme to convert surplus grain into alcohol. The idea was to save the farmer by requiring every gallon of gasoline to be mixed with a certain portion of grain alcohol.

The fuel research committee of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce comes along now with punctures that balloon. The gasoline-alcohol mixture, it finds, while it enables the motor to accelerate faster, makes starting harder, absorbs moisture from the air, corrodes engines and fuel pipe lines and costs much more than straight gasoline. Besides, alcohol of higher quality can be produced from petroleum more cheaply than the poorer quality obtainable from grain.

Some day motors doubtless will be run by alcohol, but they will be built for alcohol use alone and used only where and when the gasoline supply has given out.

Henry Atkinson and E. J. Roberts of Munday were visitors in Seymour Tuesday, and got matched up pretty tight by local lights in a golf game. They said the boys could not go over there and do it. Mr. Roberts shot a 74 on his course the other day. He is in the ice business there, while Mr. Atkinson has for many years run a grocery store.—Seymour Banner.

FARM AND RANCH LOANS

I wish to announce that The Munday National Farm Loan Association is now in a position to intelligently take applications for Federal Land Bank loans at 4 1/2% interest.

Also that I will take applications for Land Bank Commissioner's loans, which are based on 75% of the appraised normal value of the farm or ranch, and/or chattel mortgages.

I have just had a conference with one who has the correct knowledge and information concerning both of the above kinds of loans, and feel now that I can take applications of the above kind with a maximum possibility of success, and the possibility of a minimum cost to the applicant.
