Oneal Takes Lid Off in Talk Here Saturday Evening

Senator Ben G. Oneal of Wichita Falls, speaking here Saturday afternoon in his campaign for a second term as State Senator, answered the charges made against him a few days ago by Ruben Loftin, another candidate for the Senate.

Senator Oneal is the author of the split tax bill, permitting the payment of ad valorem taxes in two installments, in November and June. Mr. Loftin has criticized this bill in many places as helping only the wealthy.

Senator Oneal in reply read from one of Mr. Loftin's campaign circulars of 1930, in the race in which the Senator defeated Mr. Loftin for the Senate. In this campaign circular it said:

J. D. HENDERSON

Revival Meeting Came to Close On Sunday Night

The co-operative revival meeting which had been in progress at the community auditorium during all last week came to a close Sunday night, at which time approximately one thousand persons gathered on the lawn at the city hall to hear the final message of Dr. Frank Fincher, who had been in charge of the meeting.

While the revival was scheduled to have continued throughout the week, Dr. Fincher and those in charge decided that it might be advisable to bring the meeting to a close prematurely due to the fact that interest at this time is somewhat diverted by the political campaign and both Dr. Fincher and the pastor, Rev. C. A. Tucker, felt that it might be to the advantage of other revivals that are to follow to close earlier than had been anticipated.

Notwithstanding the fact that the meeting closed early, it was a great success, there being many conversions and numerous additions to the churches of the town.

Dr. Fincher's meetings are un-nominal in their nature, and while he works under the affiliation of the Presbyterian church, he gives his fullest cooperation to other churches.

Dr. Fincher's visit here has resulted in much good. Indeed, it is not his idea to hold sensational meetings, but his work is based on closer cooperation of the entire citizenship in encouraging church-going after he has gone, and in leaving he expressed the hope that Munday might benefit from the work he has left behind.

Then against his 47 absences not excused in a session lasting 143 days, he showed from the Journal of the House of Representatives for the regular session of 1929, when Mr. Loftin was a member of the Legislature serving in the House of Representatives, he, Mr. Loftin, was absent not excused 268 times and absent excused 1. This session lasted from January 9, 1923, to March 14, 1923, or a period of 65 days. In other words, Mr. Loftin in 65 days session was absent and not excused on 268 roll calls.

Senator Oneal further showed that for the regular session of 1925, lasting from January 13, 1925, to March 19, 1925, or a period of 66 days, Mr. Loftin, still a member of the House of Representatives, was absent and not excused 259 times.

Senator Oneal had the Journals of the House of Representatives for both sessions, and the page for each absence marked and asked any one who wanted to examine as to his corrections to do so.

The next criticism he took up was that by Mr. Loftin saying Senator Oneal is not for economy because he attempted to raise the salary of the Chief Accountant to the County and District Road Bond Committee from $3,000.00 a year to $3,600.00. Mr. Oneal explained that this official handles the $6,000,000.00 or more of the fund used to pay off interest and maturing indebtedness owed by the counties on the roads taken over by the state, and that this capable employee who was also called on by the State Board of Education for advice on buying bonds for the Public Free School Fund. The employee had agreed to stay for $3,600.00. When he did not get this he was taken at $5,000.00 a year by a company in Iowa.

As against Mr. Loftin's criticism for the vote to raise this salary $600.00 a year and keep a very able and useful man, Senator Oneal showed by the record vote in the Journal

Miss Mildred Burnett Is Winner in Essay Contest at Simmons

Ahlene, July 18.—Miss Mildred Burnett of Munday was announced this week as the winner of second prize in an essay contest held here this spring at Hardin-Simmons University. Miss Burnett wrote the second best essay on the subject, "What Hardin-Simmons Means to Me." She will receive a cash prize.

The contest was open to all students of the university and a large number competed. It was sponsored by Solon R. Featherston of Wichita Falls, alumni president.

In closing her winning essay, Miss Burnett wrote:

"What has Hardin-Simmons meant to me? It has meant the acquisition of friends, the broadening of my experience in cultural, intellectual, and moral senses. Loftier ideals and worthier purposes have inculcated my soul. I have felt the desire to rise, to attempt to better the world in some way. I have endeavored to respond to the call to further intellect and to strive to uphold noble standards. My observations of the activities of the campus have inspired a consciousness of loyalty, sacred sentiment, and reverent tenderness for Hardin-Simmons University."

J. D. Henderson Is Beginning 14th Year As Head of F.E.&C.U.

J. D. Henderson of this city is beginning his fourteenth year as president of the Farmers Educational and Co-operative Union of Texas, having been re-elected at the state convention of the organization at Dallas last week.

Mr. Henderson has been active in this organization almost since its origin. He became a member in 1903, the year after its organization, at Shady Grove in Baylor county, and was elected president in 1920, and has been an active member of the organization for its entire history. He has refused the honor, believing that such would not be to the best interest of the organization, as he states he is willing that the membership choose their leader each year and should they deem that someone else could better serve he is anxious to see the best interest of the organization be served.

In addition to being president of the state organization, Mr. Henderson has been president of the local union of the past eighteen years, and is beginning his nineteenth year in that capacity. He was one of the promoters of the union gin idea here and since that movement was started the local union has acquired properties to the value of approximately $70,000, and the plan is admitted to be one of the most practical that has ever been used, and the local organization has paid many thousands of dollars to its members in dividends.

Mr. Henderson is 73 years of age, but is still active and attends all meetings where the interests of the organization are involved, and in recent years has taken numerous long trips out of the state in the interest of the work.

The campaign has been unusually quiet insofar as we know, there has been no concerted effort on either side to influence the public, and voters will go to the polls and vote their unbiased convictions on the question.

Mundayites Get A Thrill Wednesday In Chase Robbers

Mundayites by the dozens stood around the square Wednesday afternoon with their eyes glued on the highway entering town from the north when a report came here that the Albany bank robbers were on the highway between Seymour and Munday and were headed this way. However, the bandits abandoned the highway and took to a country road near Bomarton on which they were captured by Sheriff Arch Holmes, who in company with Sheriff C. R. Elliott, took them to Wichita Falls to be fingerprinted and "mugged."

Chief of Police Ed Johnson and Deputy Sheriff W. H. Bray joined in the chase, as did Sheriff Elliott, and the bandits were well surrounded by officers when Sheriff Holmes ran them down for a second time. In the first skirmish the bandits put Holmes' car out of commission by shooting holes in the radiator, in fact, it is reported that the car was literally showered with bullets, but when they were encountered the second time they surrendered without resistance.

A group of Burkburnett business men were here on Thursday afternoon and Friday morning of last week in the interest of Sam Spence, candidate for Congress from the 13th District. One of the party spoke in the interest of Mr. Spence on the city hall lawn Thursday evening and the remainder of their visit here was spent in mingling with the citizens of Munday. The gentlemen in the party are all business men of Burkburnett and their interest in the candidacy of Mr. Spence is due to the fact that they have known him for a number of years. Mr. Spence having served as manager of the chamber of commerce there prior to taking up the practice of law in Wichita Falls, where he has served for the past six years as district attorney. These gentlemen believe in Sam Spence and are confident that he is capable of rendering a very valuable service in Congress.

B. L. Bowden Dies Suddenly At Home Here Wednesday

Shortly after noon Wednesday B. L. Bowden, 72, pioneer citizen of Munday, died very suddenly at his home in the south part of the city. Mr. Bowden had been in ill health for some time, but only a few hours before his death he was about town and, while he had complained of not feeling well, no alarm was felt over his condition. He was stricken shortly after noon and died within a few minutes.

Mr. Bowden was one of the pioneer citizens of this community, having come here in 1902 from Comanche county, Texas, where he resided for many years. He was born at Springville, Tennessee, June 4, 1862, and came to Comanche county when a young man. Wallace Ross Is Instantly Killed In Truck Accident

Wallace Ross, 20, son of Frank Ross of this city, and an employee of the Magnolia Service Station operated by R. B. Bowden, was instantly killed about 8 o'clock Sunday night just outside the city limits on the highway south of town.

John West and Hugh Beatty together with a couple of young ladies had driven by the station where young Ross was employed and picked him up to take him toward Weller, and as there was no room in the pick-up truck driven by West, Wallace was riding on the left running board of the car, and just outside the city limits they met a truck coming into Munday loaded with furniture and Ross was caught between the trucks and instantly killed by the impact. His thigh was crushed and his body was badly mangled. Both trucks stopped and brought the body into town where it was taken in charge by the Campbell undertaking establishment and prepared for burial.

An investigation was held Monday morning by Justice W. S. Bailey and after hearing all available evidence he rendered a verdict that deceased had met an accidental death.

The loaded truck was driven by W. M. Hicks of Blanchard, Oklahoma, who was en route from El Paso to Oklahoma City. Accompanying Hicks on the truck were W. G. Rodgers and Berlin Edridge of Oklahoma City. These men testified that as they passed the West truck they felt a jolt in the truck and stopped immediately, and observing that the other truck had stopped, went back to see what had happened, and found Ross by the roadside dead. Both West and Beatty testified that as they met the truck they felt a slight jolt in their truck and saw that Wallace had been knocked off the running board and when they rushed back to where he lay they found that he was dead, and picked the body up and pushed it to town.

Wallace Ross was born October 19, 1913, at Floydada, Texas, and came here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ross in 1931. Entering Munday high school, he graduated in the class of '32, and after leaving school was employed by R. B. Bowden, in whose employ he had been continuously since. He was universally loved for his cheerfulness and energy, always having a smile and a cheerful word for those he came in contact with, and in his untimely death our city has lost one of its finest young men. Indeed, this great tragedy has cast a shadow of gloom over the entire community, and we join the many friends in extending to the bereaved parents our sincere sympathy.

Funeral services were conducted Monday afternoon at the Church of Christ with Elder J. E. L. Harrison conducting the services, following which the remains were laid to rest in Johnson cemetery.

TODAY and TOMORROW

DRAMA tours again

The project of the Federal Emergency Relief Administration for giving employment to actors by arranging for dozens of traveling theatrical companies which will present good plays free of charge for the entertainment of everybody, seems to me like a highly commendable idea. A good many of these traveling companies will tour in automobiles, carrying stage, scenery and equipment on trucks, and giving their performances out of doors in good weather.

To millions of Americans it will come as a novelty to see real actors on the stage. The best that the movies can do has not the appeal of seeing the performers in the flesh. It will be a good thing for the nation if this government revives interest "on the road" in the spoken drama.

"TOM" sure-fire hit

The first of these outdoor performances to be ready for the road is the play which has been given oftener than any other drama ever written in any language—"Uncle Tom's Cabin." It had its first performance under Government auspices on the upper East Side of New York a few days ago.

Uncle Tom's Cabin has been played by so many different companies, tent shows, wagon shows, boat shows and railroad shows, that "Tommers" are a distinct class in the world of the theater. I looked into the subject some years ago and found then more than 160 different companies presenting this ancient play in different parts of the country at one time. It is almost actor-proof; the story and sentiment weep the audience no matter how badly it is played.

The grandson of Harriet Beecher Stowe, from whose anti-slavery book the play was taken, is one of my country neighbors. He told me that his grandmother, who had a fatal prejudice against the theater, never authorized the book's dramatization nor realized a cent from the many presentations of the play.

PLEASURE was sinful

The prejudice against the theater which was emphasized by many of the church denominations in America and England for more than two hundred years was only partly due to the innocents of the early theater. The Puritans regarded it as immoral to indulge in any amusement purely for pleasure. As Macaulay wrote of England's prohibition against public fights between bears and bulldogs in the 17th century, Cromwell and his followers stopped it not because it gave pain to the bear but because it gave pleasure to the spectators.

After the overthrow of the Puritan regime in England, and the restoration of the Stuarts to the throne the reaction against this discipline ran wild, and the stage in the days of Charles II and his brother, James II, was so ravenously in demand to confirm the good Presbyterians, Congregationalists, Baptists and Methodists in their belief that the theater was the ante-room of Hell.

Something of the same sort of reaction against the movies is now beginning in religious circles, with even the more liberal denominations taking part in it. This time it is not prejudice against pleasure as such, but against the commercial exploitation of false and subversive ideas to the young. It should not be difficult for the movies to "clean up," once their promoters get rid of the idea that people won't pay to see clean shows.

REVIVAL Old Homestead

Up in my home county of Berkshire, Massachusetts, we have a little theater, the Berkshire Playhouse in which every Summer there is an eight-weeks season of plays, presented by first-rate actors, many of them Broadway stars. People drive from forty miles away to attend the performances. But the best show we have had in several seasons was an amateur version—"The Old Homestead."

Young men and women from half a dozen neighboring villages spent their spare time all Spring rehearsing this play, which hadn't been given in a regular theater since Denman Thompson, its author and star, died more than forty years ago. They not only put on a first-rate performance but they demonstrated that people will still flock to see a "clean play."

Sophisticated "modern" critics sneer at such homely dramatic fare as The Old Homestead and Uncle Tom's Cabin, but the young folks of today get as much pleasure out of them as their grandparents did.

For the next four years the person elected to the office of County Superintendent is going to be responsible for the progress of public school education in Knox county. For that reason, your County Superintendent should be a person of integrity, executive ability, and possessing educational qualifications. He should be acquainted with the educational needs of his people, and this is best made possible by being acquainted with their economic conditions, their farming methods, their ways of living, and their school problems. I respectfully refer the people of Munday and vicinity to the people of the Sunset community to find out my record as a teacher and interest in school affairs. My friends, there is one more week left before election. May you use the week wisely to weigh the merits of the candidates for the office of County Superintendent and choose that person whom you believe best qualified. Take this occasion to thank the people of Munday, Rhineland, Sunset, Hood and Hefner for the splendid interest you have taken in my candidacy. I shall appreciate any good word you may pass along during the next week in behalf of my candidacy, and if on the day of the election you choose to vote for me, I shall appreciate it.

WHY A NEW COURTHOUSE

With the approval of the $100,000 application by the Federal Government, Knox County's dream of a new structure to house county offices is on its way to becoming a reality.

That the county needs a new courthouse is a well known fact. The present structure is old, obsolete, and has been repeatedly condemned as unsafe. The cost of heating it in winter is high. It has served its time of usefulness and has outlived its days.

By taking advantage of the government loan of $100,000 of which approximately thirty per cent is a direct grant, the county can build a new structure which will adequately house its county offices.

By taking advantage of this loan the county can take care of a large number of the unemployed which, if the drought prevails, there are going to be a goodly number in dire need of help this winter.

If it were a question raising the taxes to build this structure, many of the thinking citizens of the county would have room for hesitancy before adding their stamp of approval to the project.

But THE NEW COURT HOUSE CAN BE BUILT AND PAID FOR AND AT THE SAME TIME THE TAX RATE CAN BE CUT TEN CENTS ON THE ONE HUNDRED DOLLAR VALUATION.

For many years the tax payers of the county have been assessed twenty-five cents on the hundred dollar valuation to pay for the court house and jail fund.

The present taxable valuation of the county is about $7,000,000 which with a 25c levy on the $100 valuation would bring into the county $17,500,000 a year.

Now to erect a structure that costs about $70,000 and which is to be paid out in ten years, it would cost considerably less than $17,500,000 a year.

A close estimate would be 15c on the $100 valuation. This would build the new structure and would be a dime less than we have been paying into this fund for years.

Is it not the part of wisdom to build the new court house?—Benjamin Post.

Insofar as we know, no one has seriously questioned the wisdom of building a new court house for Knox county, but on the other hand there are many who believe that any obligation of that size should not be incurred without submitting it to a vote of the citizens of the county. Indeed, this obligation has been, or will be, incurred upon the people of Knox county, not by a unanimous vote of even the Commissioner's Court, since both Commissioner Osborne and Griffith cast their votes against it, the two commissioners on the north side cast theirs in favor of it, and the tie was broken by the County Judge, who voted in favor of the issuance of the warrants. Tax valuations in precincts represented by the two opposing commissioners exceed the valuations in the two precincts whose commissioners voted for the issuance of the warrants by many thousands of dollars, yet, with the aid of the County Judge the obligation has been, or will be, incurred.

against the wishes of the commissioners representing the portions of the county who must bear a major portion of the cost because they have a major portion of the valuation of the county.

And now, let's see about whether the tax rate can be cut, and, if so, why?

According to the records in the old court house at Benjamin there was a total outstanding bonded obligation against the Court House and Jail fund on April 1, 1931, of $20,000.

There was, according to the same source of information, on deposit to the credit of the above-named fund on April 1, 1931, $23,729.03—just $3,729.03 more than would have been necessary to have retired the Court House and Jail bonds.

Notwithstanding the fact that there was sufficient funds on hand to have paid ALL of the above bonds back in 1931, the records show that they were not paid until early in 1934.

During the years that have intervened since 1931 there has been levied against the tax payers of Knox county a tax of 25c on the $100.00 valuation for the Court House and Jail fund. This levy, according to your figures, has brought into the treasury of Knox county $17,500 per year since 1931, at which time there was sufficient funds on hand to have paid the total Court House and Jail bonds. Hence, had these bonds been kept in tact, as the law prescribes, there should be on hand in the Court House and Jail fund, or due same, at this time the amount of this 25c levy for three years and the balance that would have been left on hand after the obligation had been paid in 1931, i. e., $3,729.03, plus $52,500.00, or a total of $56,229.03.

However, the records show that, after paying the outstanding Court House and Jail obligations, which amounted in principal and interest to $20,700.00, there was left in the fund a total of $13,529.42 on April 1, 1934.

We go into these matters merely to show Mr. John Public that there is no Santa Claus, even though some would have you believe there is. If we are right in stating that a 25c court house and jail levy has been collected from the tax payers since April 1, 1931, at which time there were ample funds available to have paid all indebtedness against that fund, then we fail to see where anybody could contend that any miracles have been achieved by reducing this levy now, after it has been collected long after sufficient funds were available to have paid it.

Personally we know of no one who will not be delighted to have a new court house and even a new jail if by doing so we can get any portion of the 25c court house and jail levy taken off, which we are informed was done when the obligation was finally paid.

meeting. After a picnic supper brought by the women, they enjoyed a general singsong. As a main feature of the encampment, each club represented gave a stunt. Hefner Club, Knox county, won first place, Mitchell club, Haskell county, second and Munday club, Knox county, third.

After breakfast Friday morning, each two women were given a sack and a list of articles to be found. After thirty minutes of hunting over the pastures they were all called in and a prize was given to the two finding the most.

The sensation of the entire encampment was a baseball game between the Haskell and Knox county club women. Haskell won by a score of 17 to 12. This was the beginning of a series of baseball games between the two counties. Knox county will go to Haskell Thursday, July 26, for a game.

The business session was called by Mrs. Frank Bowley, president of the encampment. The minutes of the 1933 encampment were read by Mrs. Marion Ryder. Each club answered roll call with a report of what they were doing in their club. General reports were given of the work in each of the counties. Officers for 1935 were elected and the meeting adjourned to meet in Haskell county next year.

Except in the larger cities, electric service was rarely satisfactory before long-distance transmission of electric power was perfected.

Small local plants serving single communities generally lack the variety and volume of demand which enables a larger system, serving a wide area, to operate efficiently.

Nor can small, isolated plants meet sudden demands for more power nearly as readily as the larger system.

The transmission line can deliver larger amounts of power at once without the delay of installing additional equipment. Thus it clears the road for industrial growth.

The present-day industrial progress of small communities is based in a large measure on the ample and economical power supply which resulted when the transmission systems replaced small local plants throughout the nation.

With 2,608 miles of transmission lines, the West Texas Utilities stands ready to render satisfactory service to 159 prosperous cities, towns and communities throughout West Texas—"The Land of Opportunity."

Do you know that your increased use of Electric Service is billed on a surprisingly low rate schedule . . . and adds only a small amount to your total bill?

STORY BY MRS. GEORGE WEBER. WINNER IN CLASS TWO WARDROBE DEMONSTRATION

I have enjoyed my work as class 2 wardrobe demonstrator very much more than I did the first year's work. The first year you merely get started, learn how to keep records and plan storage space for caring for your clothing better. Last year I kept records for myself only but this year I have kept records for the whole family which is just my husband and I. When you keep records for the whole family you know just how much of your income is being spent on clothing.

Before building my closet the only storage space I had was a chiffonier. When long dresses became stylish again, it was not long enough for them, four or five inches of the skirt would have to be folded back, so of course the dress would have to be pressed before it could be worn. Now my husband's clothes are hung in the chiffonier and mine are in the closet, giving plenty of space for each. My closet is twenty two and a half inches by thirty-six inches. A frame out of old lumber was made and nailed to the ceiling and floor, then cretonne was tacked to the frame. A wire was stretched across the front to draw the cretonne back and forth. A hat shelf was put in the top of the closet then a rod for hanging clothes was put right under the shelf. A short rack, made of some scrap lumber and two broomsticks painted with some left-over paint, was placed in the bottom of the closet. I do not have any shelves up the side of the closet because my room is too small for it to be built large enough, then too, the wardrobe is in this room. With four drawers in this, ample storage space is provided for folded garments. The inside of the closet and the hat shelf were papered with some light colored paper. The cost of my closet was 5 yards of cretonne at 17c per yard and about 10c worth of nails, totaling 95c.

Last year I made a plain foundation pattern and thought it was the grandest thing I ever owned but I think even more of it now than I did then for I have made a slip, bloomer and a pajama pattern from it. I have made four different sleeve patterns from my plain sleeve pattern. Sewing is a pleasure when you have patterns that you know fits you correctly. I wouldn't take anything for my patterns and have to do without them for I do all of my sewing. I have bought one dress and one slip ready-made in the last two years. This year I have made twelve dresses, five slips and two aprons for myself.

In starting my second year's work I took an inventory of clothing on hand and studied what I would be needing for another year. Then I planned for my wardrobe not to exceed $75.00. I kept account of each purchase made and to date I have spent $61.95. I also took an inventory of my husband's clothing. As he didn't need a suit or overcoat planned this year, his wardrobe was either not to exceed fifty dollars. An account was kept of the purchases and $27.27 have been spent for his clothing.

I have done a great deal of expansion work. I have made twenty-two dresses, five slips and nine pairs of panties and bloomers, made over five dresses and helped cut out four dresses for non-club members, made two dresses, made over three dresses, and helped cut out five dresses for club members. I have helped make seventeen foundation patterns, gave a demonstration to a newly-organized club, where seven patterns were made, then I assisted with another demonstration with fourteen women present.

In making my dress for the contest I tried to plan a style and color most suited to me. My dress is orange. The total cost of it was three dollars. I also made a slip of pink flat crepe that cost one dollar and thirty-eight cents.

As a whole my wardrobe work has meant a lot to me. I have learned to buy more economically, study style and color not only suited to myself but to those I come in contact with. Our club goal is 100 per cent foundation patterns. We have 23 members and 20 patterns but I intend to make it 100 per cent before the year is over.—Mrs. George Weber, Hoffer Club, Goree, Texas.

STORY BY MRS. J. E. CURE. WINNER IN THE CLASS ONE WARDROBE DEMONSTRATION

I was using a chiffonier for my closet and it was so short and small that my dresses were always wrinkled at the bottom. My husband and I built a closet in my bedroom. I used mostly scrap lumber that we had on hand for the frame and we used cardboard for the side walls and door. The closet was papered both inside and out. We built three shelves on one side for folded garments and hats and made a rack for shoes. In making this rack we used broom handles and ends out of an orange crate. For the rod in the closet we also used a broom handle that extends full length of the closet. I built a long deep shelf over the rod and I use this shelf for storing articles not frequently used. The total expense of my closet was 90c. I now realize the value of having adequate storage space. I planned my wardrobe and provided the clothing needed and am now able to care for them properly. A place for everything and everything in its place is my slogan now. I took pictures of my closet before and after improvement.

I have my foundation pattern and have used it for all my dresses since I made it, including my club dress. I have given two demonstrations on the various ways of using the foundation pattern. I have made or helped make eighteen foundation patterns. I have made 34 garments by the foundation pattern for myself and others. I have learned to select more carefully the lines and colors most becoming to myself and when buying materials to consider the quality before the price.

My Year as wardrobe demonstrator in Class 1 has been most pleasant and profitable. I feel like I am better qualified to help my neighbors with their sewing problems.

I planned my clothing budget not to exceed $75.00. I have kept records of all expenditures and the total amount I have spent is $68.21.

Here Is the Famous FARMALL FAMILY

Qualified to Provide Any Farm With Economical Power

MANY good things come in threes, and among the very best from the farm point of view is FARMALL power—in THREE sizes. Here they all are—F-30, F-20, and F-12—each of them ready not only to plow but to plant, cultivate, run belt machines, and handle all row-crop and general-purpose needs.

The FARMALL 12
In the low-cost McCormick-Deering Farmall 12 you get all the advantages of Farmall design when it comes to cultivating. These exclusive patented Farmall features—quick-dodging ability, forward location of gangs, and braking either rear wheel through the steering gear for square turns—are built into the Farmall 12. Equipped with the McCormick-Deering 2-row Cultivator, the Farmall 12 has a capacity of 20 to 30 acres a day in corn, cotton, potatoes, and other crops planted in rows 28 to 44 inches apart.

In haying time, too, the Farmall 12 offers all the special Farmall advantages. It can be equipped with a 7-foot Farmall mower and used to cut 20 to 30 acres a day. And it readily takes on other haying tasks, efficiently powering rakes, sweep rakes, hay presses, etc. See this efficient, economical Farmall 12 and its modern equipment at the nearby McCormick-Deering dealer's store. Or write for complete information on this or any other McCormick-Deering Tractor.

CULTIVATING: Here is an F-12 equipped with 2-row cultivator. In work like this the Farmall 12 uses less than 1 gallon of fuel an hour.

MOWING HAY: Farmalls are great hay makers. The Farmall 20 is shown above cutting a 14-foot swath with a 7-foot Farmall mower and a 7-foot trailer mower.

HARVESTING GRAIN: This Farmall 20 is shown making a square turn with a 24-foot tractor-binder. A good outfit for fast, efficient cutting and binding.

Are YOU HAPPY After Meals
Or Do Gas on Stomach and Sour Stomach make you Miserable?
Too much food, or the wrong kind of food, too much smoking, too much beer, make your body over-acid. Then you have distress after eating, gas on stomach, heartburn, sour stomach. ALKA-SELTZER relieves these troubles promptly, effectively, harmlessly. Use Alka-Seltzer for Headache, Colds, Fatigue, Morning After Feeling, Muscular, Sciatic and Rheumatic Pains. Alka-Seltzer makes a sparkling alkaline drink. As it contains an analgesic (Acetyl-Salicylate) it first relieves the pain of everyday ailments and then by restoring the alkaline balance corrects the cause when due to excess acid. Alka-Seltzer tastes like carbonated mineral spring water—works like magic. Contains no dangerous drugs... does not depress the heart... is not laxative. Get a drink at your Drug Store Soda Fountain. Keep a package in your home medicine cabinet.

that makes Chevrolet the best riding car in the low-price field

CHEVROLET Year after year, it's been the same story: Chevrolet FIRST with the NEWEST and BEST! Chevrolet leading—others following. Chevrolet out in front with the latest proved advancements. Self-starter! Sliding gear transmission! Streamlined design! It was Chevrolet aggressiveness and progressiveness that forced all low-priced cars eventually to adopt these and other major improvements. And now, this year, comes the climax of Chevrolet's engineering leadership: the Knee-Action ride! This newest of motoring sensations is a marvel of smooth, easy, gentle motion. No other ride in the world can even compare with it. It makes Chevrolet far and away the best riding car in the low-price field.

Have you noticed how America has taken to the Knee-Action ride? In the first 6 months, demand for Chevrolet cars sent production to the highest total attained by any automobile during 1934.

To the Voters of Knox County . . .

In asking for the office of Tax Assessor-Collector of Knox county, let me say that I have spent my entire life in the county and have never before asked for public office, and if the people of the county believe in passing public positions around among the citizens, I believe that I should have your earnest consideration, since both of my opponents have held public office for a number of years and are holding public office at this time, one of my opponents being at this time Tax Assessor-Collector, which office he has held for the past eight years, and the other opponent being at the present time Public Weigher at Munday, one of the best paying offices in the county, which office he has held for the past six years, and if the voters believe that public offices should be passed around, I ask that you cast your vote for me on July 28. I have been a resident of the county 47 years and have not before asked for public office.

If the voters of the county see fit to honor me with this position of trust, I pledge them that I shall serve to the best of my ability, and I believe that I am fully as well qualified to do this as either of my opponents, and I earnestly ask that you consider my candidacy before casting your ballot.

of the House that Mr. Loftin voted in the Legislature in 1923, to release to Hidalgo county for 25 years state taxes. He gave the pages of the House Journal showing Mr. Loftin's vote as 1345 to 1353.

In a recent letter from Geo. H. Sheppard, Comptroller, it was shown that the state taxes that would otherwise have been due the state from the people and property in Hidalgo county for the ten years from 1924 to 1933 was $1,122,051.85. Senator Oneal commented that this would continue fifteen more years.

Senator Oneal further showed by the record vote in the House Journal for the regular session of 1925, on pages 122 to 126, that Mr. Loftin that year voted to release state taxes for 25 years to Cameron county. In a letter from Comptroller Sheppard it was shown that for seven years from 1926 to 1932, this cost the state $313,416.95. Senator Oneal commented that this law relieves Cameron eighteen more years.

Senator Oneal pointed out that when state taxes are remitted to those South Texas counties the taxes have to be raised higher in North and West Texas to make up for the loss.

Senator Oneal has never voted for a remission of state taxes to any county.

Senator Oneal next took up the charge of Mr. Loftin that as receiver in the case of the State of Texas vs. the Mid-Kansas Oil & Gas Company et al., he had been paid as receiver some money from the Free School Fund. He showed a certified copy of the judgment of the Court, specially ordering that the Mid-Kansas Oil & Gas Company pay all costs including the receiver's fees.

He also had and showed a certificate from the Clerk of the Travis County District Court clearly setting out that no part of the receiver's fees were paid by the state.

This certificate is as follows: State of Texas, County of Travis.

I, George H. Templin, District Clerk of Travis county, hereby certify that:

Senator Ben G. Oneal of Wichita Falls, Texas, was appointed Receiver in only one case, to-wit:

Case No. 32748, styled State of Texas vs. Mid-Kansas Oil & Gas Company, et al. This was the case in which Attorney General James V. Allred recovered a cash judgment totalling $1,073,500.00, all of which was paid into the State Treasury as per the certificate of the State Treasurer.

The court's judgment specifically provided that all costs including Receiver's fees should be paid by the defendant, Mid-Kansas Oil & Gas Company, which was done.

The court's judgment further directed that after payment of the State's judgment for a total of $1,073,500.00 and all costs, including Receiver's fees by the Mid-Kansas Oil & Gas Company, then the Receivers should turn over to the Mid-Kansas Company all property involved, including any balance of money on hand in the hands of the Receiver, which was done according to the Receiver's report on file in this court. According to the Receiver's report the balance on hand, to-wit: $139.95, was paid over to Mid-Kansas Oil & Gas Company according to the court's judgment and no part of it was due or paid to the state because the state had already been paid the total amount of its judgment, to-wit: $1,073,500.00.

There was no other judgment rendered in favor of the state other than this judgment for $1,073,500.00. Witness my hand and seal of office this 13th day of July, 1934.

When you go to the polls Saturday, July 21st, vote for a practical solution of the beer issue.

The sale of 3.2 beer has been legalized within the State of Texas by a vote of the people of Texas. Its sale is to a large degree unrestricted by our present laws, since it is lawful for beer to be delivered into dry territory in any quantity, but such dry counties do not receive any revenues whatsoever from the sale of beer into which it is delivered, all revenues from such sales going to the counties in which it has been legalized. Why should not the money spent for beer in Knox county help to maintain the government of Knox county instead of nearby counties where it is legally sold?

While Saturday's election is county-wide in its scope, that fact should by no means be construed to mean that beer could be legally sold in every community in Knox county. It merely means that should a majority of the voters favor the sale of beer in Knox county that those communities in the county opposed to the sale of beer would have the privilege of voting it out, and those communities favorable to its sale could retain their status. It would mean that every community in Knox county would have the privilege of local self-government—a principle of government laid down by Thomas Jefferson.

The legalization of beer would mean the retention of money in Knox county that is now going out of the county. It would mean the employment of numerous unemployed. It would mean a return to the fundamentally sound principle of local self-government. It would mean that many who now consume illegal liquor would content themselves with the mild beverage.

President Roosevelt has asked for the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment as one of the objectives in overcoming the depression, and he has always been an advocate of light wines and beer as a solution to the liquor question. We believe with him, that the sale of beer would prove less harmful and would lessen the sale of illegal boot-leg liquor.

Remember this: By casting your vote to legalize beer in Knox county you are not materially liberalizing present conditions, for now it is perfectly legal to buy beer in any quantity and have it delivered to your home or your place of business. By voting to legalize its sale in Knox county you will enable the county to participate in the revenues derived from its sale. By voting for its sale in Knox county you are voting to give employment to Knox county citizens—you are voting to keep Knox county money in Knox county—you are voting approval of the sound principle of local self-government.
