PUBLIC SCHOOLS TO OPEN MONDAY MORNING

Students Urged To Get Textbooks Saturday Morning

The City schools will reopen their doors for the 1934-35 session on next Monday forenoon at 9 o'clock. Superintendent J. Horace Bass returned to the city last Friday and has been making all preliminary plans for getting under way. Principals L. S. Hardegree and L. M. Palmer returned early this week and all other members of the faculty will arrive Thursday and Friday of this week.

All students, regardless of classification, are urged to report to their respective buildings for textbooks at ten o'clock Saturday morning of this week. All texts may be obtained at that time. The schools will run on regular schedule on Monday and it will be a great convenience if students will not delay calling for texts.

The superintendent's general faculty meeting will be held on Saturday forenoon at 8:45 o'clock in the high school building. Principal's meetings will assemble Saturday afternoon. It is planned that all administrative organization be completed Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bass will occupy the Bray home during the year. Mr. and Mrs. Hardegree return to the Weaver apartments and Mr. and Mrs. Palmer will reside in the W. H. Chapman home.

FRESHMAN CONVOCATION ON FRIDAY EVENING

In order to assist and advise students who are entering Munday High School for the first year, Superintendent J. Horace Bass is calling an assembly of such students to meet at the high school auditorium on Friday evening, seven-thirty o'clock, this week. All freshmen and their parents are urged to be present at this meeting.

WHERE MUNDAY HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES WILL ATTEND COLLEGE

Transcripts have gone out of the superintendent's office for the following graduates of the high school: Rosalyn Houser to the University of Texas; Virginia Atkinson to Texas State College for Women; Lily Albertson to Baylor College; Jack Williams to Texas Junior Agricultural College, Arlington; Jerry Keithley and Elmo Cure to McMurry College; Chancy Hubert, Chalmer Hubert, Earl Nichols to Abilene Christian College; Katherine Jones to Texas Technological College and Florence Kendall to the University of Texas.

Valuations Lowered In Sunset District Due to Retrenchment

Tax valuations have been reduced in the Sunset School district during the past three years approximately one-third, according to T. W. Harber, superintendent of the Sunset schools. Land values have been reduced during this period from a level of $30 per acre to $20 per acre, Mr. Harber said, and some personal assessments have been slightly raised during this period, but he stated that, due to retrenchments that have been made in the operation of the school that the present rendition will give ample funds for the operation of the school for the full nine months term and meet all outstanding bonded obligations of the district.

The present valuation of the district on the rolls amounts to $865,900, he said, and last year 87 per cent of the taxes of the district were paid, and Mr. Harber stated that it was largely due to the fact that the citizens of the community paid their taxes promptly and the small amount reduction had been made possible, and he and members of the school board are very grateful for the cooperation given in this respect.

The Sunset School will dismiss on Friday for five or six weeks for the purpose of allowing the students to pick cotton, after which the term will be resumed, and he predicts a very successful school term.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Palmer are here for the school term. They spent the summer studying in N. T. S. T. C. at Denton.

New Members of School Faculty For Coming Year

When the public schools open next Monday morning, several new teachers will assume duty in various positions throughout the system. Mr. V. W. Miles and Mrs. Opal Jones are listed on the high school faculty and Mrs. W. M. Porter, Mrs. V. W. Miles, Miss Ollie Bateman, Miss Katherine Barr, and Mrs. J. Horace Bass are on the grammar school staff. Incoming members have been carefully chosen for special assignments and the board of education feels that it has been very fortunate in obtaining the services of each and every new teacher.

Mr. V. W. Miles has been employed to teach science in the high school and to direct athletic activities. He has several years of successful teaching experience in his field and his addition to the faculty is regarded as being especially fortunate. Mr. Miles holds the baccalaureate degree from the North Texas State Teachers College, and he and Mrs. Miles studied in the University of Michigan during the summer.

Mrs. Opal Jones of Jayton will assume the position of teacher of home economics which was recently resigned by Miss Irene Clifford. Mrs. Jones likewise has successful experience in her special field, having taught in Jayton and Stephenville. Mrs. Jones received her degree at the University of Texas.

Mrs. W. M. Porter is well known to many Munday citizens. She has taught a number of years in the grammar school field and her coming to Munday will be a fine addition to the staff of the elementary school teachers. Mrs. Porter recently took the baccalaureate degree from the State Teachers College at Nacogdoches.

Mrs. Miles is a teacher of splendid reputation and personality and her addition to the grammar school faculty is a pleasing one. Mrs. Miles studied in Trinity University and in the Teachers College at Denton. Miss Ollie Bateman needs no introduction to Munday for she is one of our own graduates. Since leaving the high school and the championship girls' basketball team, she has received the baccalaureate degree from Texas Woman's College. Ollie resigned her position in the primary school of the Methodist Orphanage at Waco to return to Munday.

Miss Catherine Barr is perhaps the outstanding student of Art to be graduated at the Texas State College for Women at Denton this year. She is at present an assistant in the art department of the college and during the last two summers she has directed the girl's camp at Camp Tejas, Denton County. Miss Barr is a graduate of Woodrow Wilson High School of Dallas. Her addition to the grammar school faculty will fill a distinct need.

Mrs. J. Horace Bass resigned her position as primary teacher in the Austin schools to return to Munday. During the last four years she has taught in the various grammar schools of the city of Austin and was last year elected secretary of the Austin City Teachers Association.

The citizens and patrons of Munday are urged to give these new and these returning teachers a rousing welcome. They are here to serve us in an important capacity and the failure of patrons to cultivate their acquaintance would be inexcusable. Hence as the former members of the faculty return for their various duties and the new ones make their arrival over the week-end, get in touch with them and offer a friendly welcome. It ought to be remembered that these teachers will for the next nine months be engaged in the most important work in our city and that the success of our schools will depend to a large extent upon the generous and cheerful cooperation of the entire city.

Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Hardegree and daughter, Mary Carolyn, came in Monday from Henrietta where they had been visiting relatives for a short time. Mr. Hardegree studied the first term in N. T. S. T. C. at Denton and will resume his teaching here next week.

Mrs. Erna Mae Lee of Wichita Falls spent the week end here with home folks, remaining over Labor Day.

Foxy Bruin Escapes at Fair

Bear cub shows how he did it. The foxy young bruin who was the subject of a merry chase all over the Travel and Transport building of the World's Fair recently demonstrates how he escaped from the National Sportsman's show there by climbing one of the artificial trees and then leaping over the fence. Dave Frede (left), of Dallas, Tex., and H. Golaher, deputy state game warden of Albuquerque, N. M., are making sure he's not going to get away this time, however, and have a larriat about young Mr. Bruin's neck.

Munday Will Play Wichita All-Stars Here Next Sunday

Skipper Lee Heny has matched a game for Sunday afternoon with the Wichita "Flash" All-Stars, and states that the Munday team will include a number of stars in the Wichita Valley League. Lefty Hambricht and Dot Pittman will likely do the hurling for the local outfit and a complete line-up will be had that will offer the visitors stiff competition. Lennie Kuehler, who recently returned home from Palestine, where he has been playing this summer, will be at short, Cooey catcher and a strong line-up in all positions will confront the strong Wichita aggregation. The game will be called at 3:30.

In the gymnasium of Sunset High School at 8:15 the night of September 14, the young people of the community will present a three-act play called "The Gate to Happiness" under the auspices of the Thorp Epworth League. In the cast are: Elizabeth Hunter, Margaret Shannon, Elizabeth Shannon, Edna Hudson, Dolly Nix, Aubrey Crouch, John Curry, Ellwood Hackney, Don Culbertson, Arnold Land. Admission will be 10 and 15 cents with special family rates.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Morris and Margaret May returned Wednesday from Abilene where Mr. Morris has been under treatment.

Native Texan Escapes Heat With Byrd in Little America

ONE of the first pictures received from Admiral Byrd's present expedition near the South Pole shows Joe Hill, Jr. (at extreme left) of Canyon, Texas, taking a "breather" after hard work in the sub-zero temperature. On August 24, Hill, the youngest person in Antarctica, celebrates his twentieth birthday, his first away from home. He is the son of President J. A. Hill, of West Texas State Teachers College, and was preparing for aeronautical engineering at the University of Texas when chosen to accompany Admiral Byrd to the South Pole regions. Tractor experience in West Texas wheat fields qualified Hill as a member of the expedition's winter party, tractor division, whose activities are reported every Wednesday night at 8 o'clock Central Time over the coast-to-coast Columbia network.

Hamlin Winner Pennant Wichita Valley Circuit

In a pitcher's duel here Sunday afternoon between two southpaws, Hamlin copped the championship of the Wichita Valley League by defeating the Munday Clumps 1-0. Hamlin's one score was made when a ball was hit to center field, which ordinarily would have been only a base hit, bounded over Rayburn and rolled almost to the fence, allowing the runner to get to third, and a sacrifice brought in the only score of the game.

Fans who witnessed the game say it was one of the most outstanding pitcher's duels that has been played in these parts in many years, and, as was predicted, the team that got the "breaks" won—and Hamlin was fortunate in getting this one in Sunday's game.

Bankers Endorse "New Deal" Loans From Government

Bankers from Baylor, Throckmorton, Haskell and Knox counties gathered here Monday for the semi-annual meeting of the Four County Bankers Association, and the general trend of opinion in the discussions held was in approval of the Government's efforts to relieve conditions through the various set-ups that have been provided for making different kinds of loans. Especially were the bankers favorable toward the plan provided in the National Housing Act, and a number of bankers stated that they planned to make a number of such loans where applicants were eligible under the terms of the act.

The meeting was called to order by E. O. Jamison of Knox City, retiring president of the organization, and the invocation was by Rev. W. H. Albertson, pastor of the Baptist Church. The address of welcome was delivered by W. E. Braly and the response was made by A. M. Turner of the F. & M. State Bank of Haskell.

"How Are We Going to Get Revenues to Meet Expenses Next Year?" was the subject assigned to Garland Eubanks, president of the First National Bank of Throckmorton and he disposed of the question by stating that it was his intention to continue to make good loans, secured by liquid collateral. He stated further that he had adopted a policy of making certain service charges, the revenues of which would materially aid in meeting operating costs and at the same time would not prove burdensome to his patrons, and that it had been his experience that fair-minded patrons raised no objections to paying the small services charges made for the cost of operating a bank were fully explained to them.

D. A. Holman, cashier of the Farmers and Merchants National Bank of Seymour discussed "The Future of the Country Bank," and in his remarks he deplored the practice of newspapers and motion pictures in constantly depicting the country banker as an undesirable and holding him up to ridicule, and stated that it was up to the bankers to counteract this unfavorable publicity and propaganda by selling themselves to their respective communities as a group of men and individuals who are vitally interested in the welfare of the people of the community. He stated that publicity given out by the Government urging banks to loan more liberally was manifestly unfair to the bankers since the bank examiners were becoming more strict in their appraisal of security each year, and that it would be impossible to comply with one of the demands without violating the requirements of the other.

"Can Country Banks Extend Credit Under the National Housing Act?" was the subject assigned to O. E. Patterson of Haskell. Mr. Patterson stated that he had found that banks could more easily comply with the terms of this act than any other plan outlined by the Government for the extension of credit, and that his bank would make as many loans as practicable under the terms of the act.

Ira Bowden, assistant cashier of the First National Bank, Munday, gave a very interesting talk on "The Teller's Relation Between the Customer and Executive Officers."

D. J. Bailes, assistant cashier of the First National Bank, Seymour, was assigned the subject "How Banks Can Make Commercial Accounts Profitable" and stated that this could be done only by making a nominal charge on all transactions. One of the most interesting talks was that made by N. S. Reed of O'Brien, farmer-stockman, and a director in the Citizens National Bank of Knox City. Mr. Reed discussed the effects of the various Government activities on the farmer-stockman, and advocated the sale of all surplus cattle to the Government since there is a shortage of feed throughout the drought stricken area.

Other speakers on the program included Champ Clark, First National Bank, Fort Worth, John Olson of the Fort Worth National Bank, and numerous others.

Geo. S. Plants of Seymour discussed the insurance problem of banks (Continued on back page)

TODAY and TOMORROW

By Frank Parker Stockbridge

Up in my country we celebrated the 200th anniversary of the Congregational Church at Stockbridge, Massachusetts, the other day. Founded by Yale College theological students in 1733 as a mission to the Indians who lived at Charles Stockbridge's trading post, it was organized as a church in 1734, with the Indian chief, David Kankapot, and one of my own ancestors, as deacons. Many famous preachers have served the old church, most celebrated of them being Jonathan Edwards, who left it in 1788 to become president of Princeton College, first members of the old church still live in the town.

It is natural that those who have grown up in such an environment should be influenced by the ancient traditions of the country and its people. Our ancestors believed that every man was entitled to what he could earn, and that those who would not work should not eat. The landless man, who was content to work for wages, was looked upon as inferior; so it became every able man's ambition to own a home, however humble, and a piece of land he could till and live on, if wages failed.

INDEPENDENCE . . . a la bear The principal trouble with the American people today is that we have become too dependent upon the pay envelope. We are like the tame bear that a traveling showman took around the summer resorts in the Adirondacks. The bear would do his tricks, the showman would pass the hat, and the bear would get his supper.

Up in the thick woods, however, the call of the wild was too strong for the bear. He slipped his leash one night and vanished into the forest. Two days passed and the bear did not return. Finally some woodsmen at Paul Smith's organized a search for him. They found the poor beast in the middle of a clearing, all alone, going through his whole repertoire of tricks and then looking around for someone to come and feed him. It was the only way he had ever been taught to get a living.

I always think of that rather pathetic anecdote whenever people talk about moving city workers to the farms by wholesale. I am afraid that a great deal of the planning for "subsistence homesteads" overlooks the fact that nobody can get a living off the land unless he has first learned how.

DISILLUSION . . . of an heir A young man who was running an elevator in the building where my New York office is, inherited a small farm in his native Czechoslovakia. He took his wife and children and gaily set sail for Europe. Fourteen months later he was back—and, fortunately for him, was able to get his old job back. "They think they are prosperous if they can just get enough to keep them alive and warm over there," he told me.

Everything in life is relative. We think we are in great distress because money doesn't come as easy as it used to. But the plain fact is that the lowest paid worker in this country, and even the unemployed, have better food, better clothing, more enjoyment in life, than all but a few anywhere else in the world.

COMPETENCE . . . the job Charlie, my Czech-Slovakian friend, got his old job back because he is a competent man in that particular work of running an elevator. It is not easy to find competent men in any line of work. Too many are just good enough to get by. I think there is too much of a tendency to put the emphasis upon the enjoyment of leisure time and not enough on doing one's job well.

In my own experience I know how difficult it is to find a really competent stenographer, and I hear many others make the same complaint.

BUILDING . . . and workers We hear a great deal about un- (Continued on Last Page)

KNOX COUNTY HOME DEMONSTRATION COUNCIL MEETS

The Home Demonstration Council met Saturday at 2:30 in the court room at Benjamin, with five clubs answering the roll call with reports of what their clubs were doing.

A financial report was given by the secretary-treasurer. This report showed that the council was out of debt and had enough money in the treasury to run on for some time.

A report was submitted by the budget committee for the coming year. This report was approved.

The council has decided to postpone the County Home Demonstration and 4-H clubs exhibit until November but an exhibit of the choice products of both the 4-H and Home Demonstration clubs will be collected by the exhibit committee to be sent to the Dallas Fair, Oct. 6-21.

In the county wardrobe contest, it was decided to have four divisions. There will be the regular class I and class II wardrobe demonstrators but the cooperators will be divided into two divisions—one, those who have never made a dress for the contest, and two—those who have made dresses before as cooperators or demonstrators but who are not demonstrators now.

KNOX COUNTY 4-H GIRLS WIN TRIP TO DALLAS FAIR 4-H ENCAMPMENT OCTOBER 9-11

At least one of the 220 4-H club girls in Knox county will get to represent Knox county at the annual 4-H club girls encampment October 9 to 11 as a prize for her outstanding work during the year 1933-34.

In order to compete for this trip each of the girls must have made a tufted bedspread, canned some tomatoes and written a story of their year's work. Since there has been such a shortage of tomatoes this year, most will depend on the bed-spread and the story. These spreads, stories and tomatoes must be in the home demonstration agent's office not later than September 15 so that they may be judged. The spreads should have a cloth 2 x 3 inches with the name, name of the club and the county printed on it, stitched on the wrong side. The labels should be on the jars of tomatoes and the jars must be the standard square, glass top, wire clamp jars. The stories should be written on standard 8 1/2 x 11 inch paper.

TO OLLIN

The following poem is dedicated to Ollin West, whose death occurred last Thursday following an accident.

You've gone from us, dear Ollin,
 You sleep beneath the sod.
 There's now but empty silence
 Where once your feet have trod.

Your place on earth is vacant,
 That place cannot be filled.
 Your voice—so sweet to loved ones—
 Has been forever stilled.

Your life was in it's morning,
 So sweet and young it's breath,
 Wee struck without a warning
 And swept you off in Death.

The day has been made darker
 Since you've been called away.
 All joy has lost it's meaning
 And sorrow now holds sway.

The breeze is not so gentle,
 The sun not quite so bright,
 In vain we seek your presence,
 To make our sad hearts light.

The years so sweet and tender,
 You spent with us we were few,
 But always in our memories
 We'll be, dear one with you.

The Stream of Life flows onward,
 Each life a tiny wave,
 But Oh, our hearts are heavy
 With thoughts of that new grave.

You've gone from us, dear Ollin,
 You sleep beneath the sod.

We know your soul's gone onward
 To be at rest with God.

You'll wait for us in Heaven,
 We'll meet you on that Shore.
 We'll know but Peace and Gladness
 And we will part—no more!
 —A Friend.

TO MY FRIENDS IN THE 13TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

Words cannot express how much I appreciate your vote of confidence in the run-off campaign. That we won is due entirely to your splendid efforts in my behalf. The results clearly show a whole-hearted endorsement of my record of service in fighting for the rights of the masses and that you appreciate honest efficient service, when rendered in help of the whole people. Special privilege cannot win, in the face of such discernment on the part of the voters. Platitudes and misrepresentation, though persistently peddled, could not move the honest and thoughtful people of the District. That we carried 13 of the 15 counties by a majority of more than 5,000 votes speaks volumes for good government. I thank you.

This is our last week until after the period we turn out to pick cotton. Some are glad of it and some do not like it, which is always the case. Most of us dread our six weeks examinations which we take this week. Jonel is moving Tuesday and do we hate to see her go? I, Drucilla, have gone to school with her and have been in her class every year up until this year.

Haskell Sunday and says she had a rather good time. (Ask her why.) I don't know which she likes the better, Haskell or White Deer.

Mr. Kimbrough: "Now, boys, tell me the signs of the zodiac. You first, Rex."

Rex: "Taurus, the bull."

Mr. Kimbrough: "Right, now you, Herman."

Herman: "Cancer, the crab."

Then, too, you relax and forget all travel worries and responsibilities, secure in the knowledge you will arrive safely at your destination.

Best of all, is the little cost of going Katy. Just look at these dramatic reductions—the lowest train fares in history. Go Katy and make your trip a never-to-be-forgotten pleasure.

Ask Katy Agent

Kimbrough: "Right, and it's your time now, J. C."

J. C. looked rather puzzled and said, "Mickey, the Mouse."

Rex: "Sir, er—that is, I would like to—er—that is, I mean I have been going with your daughter for five years."

Father: "Well, what do you want—a pension?"

JUNIORS

We're very sorry to have lost our former reporter, and to make matters worse, the newly elected one has not attended school any this week. We hope she comes back soon for this isn't a funny job when you are called on to do it and have forty-five minutes in which to think of "all the juniors have done."

The meeting is over now and we have this whole week to sleep and study; therefore we should know whether we will be seniors or juniors next year after we have taken the five weeks' exam. "Here's hoping for the former," says Jimmie.

Mat, I suppose you aren't so smart after all. I heard a certain junior girl say, "If I were as old as Mat and still a junior, I could make good grades too." Anyway we have to show what we can do, young or old, junior or freshman, do we not?

If Mr. Kimbrough starts calling a certain girl in the junior class "Mrs." she may get angry, but she probably doesn't mean it.

If Mr. Akin could only teach as Juniors all about those early American explorers, I just imagine he would think something unusual had happened.

Johnny: "Lloyd, you mustn't kiss me where mother or dad can see."

Lloyd: "Er-r-r, I haven't kissed you yet."

If had colds are catching, there's going to be more than one or two running around holding a handkerchief and talking through their noses.

We're going to try to have enough fun during the five weeks vacation to do us until Christmas so we can make all A's. You teachers help the poor Juniors all you can.

SOPHOMORES

The Sophomores are once more organized after we found some of our officers were freshmen. Upon Garland Forehand and J. T. Smith's resignation as president and secretary, Juanita Forehand and Elizabeth Earp, respectively, were elected to fill the vacancies. We realize we are losing several prominent classmates, and also a good president and secretary-treasurer, but we know we have good substitutes in the leadership of Juanita and Elizabeth.

Well, we guess Denton's gain is Sunset's loss. In fact, we are sure of it, as Lois Marie Williams has moved to Denton. Her presence in the school has meant much to both the teachers and to us, and her loss will be keenly felt. We hope Lois Marie enjoys her new home.

Quite a bit of excitement is being aroused as a rumor of the earth's coming to an end is circulating. If you see any change in an individual you will know what caused it.

Mr. Akin asked, "Who was the world's smartest man?"

Woodrow answered: "Thomas Edison. He invented the phonograph and radio so that people would stay up all night and use his electric light bulbs."

FRESHMEN

This is our last report before vacation, and what a vacation it will be! We will celebrate every holiday (every day) with pulling bolls, and on our very special national holidays we will spend the afternoon in town. Yes, you guessed it—Saturday.

Our class is growing. With new recruits coming in every day and with the ones who have had to change their classification from Sophomores to Freshmen we are nearly half the High School. There are forty-nine of us now.

Just in Case You Need an Answer

"Son, why are you so far behind in your studies?"

Leo: "So that I may pursue them, father."

We don't believe that Clarence paints her cheeks because her natural color has faded. She paints them to cover blushes to keep people from discovering that she is not so blase as she pretends to be.

This is exam week, and we have our first high school tests. Needless to say, we are burning plenty of midnight oil. However, it seems that not even oil can straighten out these algebra tangles, because

"The more we study, the more we know."

The more we know, the more we forget.

The more we forget, the less we know.

The less we know the less we forget.

The less we forget, the more we know.

—SO WHY STUDY?

employment in the building trades, and the effort to stimulate home building in order to put them back to work.

My late father-in-law, who came of a family of builders and was a builder himself, had a name for the general run of carpenters. He called them "wood-butchers." The quality of workmanship with which many who call themselves bricklayers, stone-masons, plasterers and painters is appalling. Yet they demand, under union rules, the same high pay as the most competent.

I lately had to have a chimney repaired and a fireplace relined, in my country home. With past experience with poor workmanship in mind, I refused to let any of a dozen masons in my neighborhood tackle the job, but waited until I could get the services of one of the really competent men in that line. And he had so much work promised ahead that I had to wait two months before he could get around to my job!

There has never been any real lack of work for first-rate men in any line. Most of the unemployed are second-raters seeking first rate wages.

Bankers

and expressed the opinion that since the insurance companies were reluctant to write burglary and hold-up insurance at a reasonable rate while they gladly accepted fire and other less hazardous risks from banks that it might be practical for them to organize through the State Bankers Association, an insurance company of their own, either as a mutual or with capital, and carry their own insurance.

R. E. Baskin of Seymour was the last speaker on the program and he gave an outline of what has been accomplished toward the irrigation projects on the Brazos. He stated that in view of the fact that the Federal Government had asked that the state take the initiative in the matter that Gov. Ferguson had been urged to deliver a special message to the legislature at this called session on the matter, but those sponsoring the movement had little hope of her doing so. He stated that P. W. A. funds were practically assured for the project if and when the state makes required moves, and he predicts that the project will be assured within another year. The project will include 12 major dams along the Brazos which will impound 1,000,000 acre feet of water and will cost approximately $31,000,000. Mr. Baskin said.

Bankers

Following the business session, which was held at the Roxy Theatre, a delightful luncheon was served to the bankers and ladies at the Munday Hotel, and during the afternoon the ladies were entertained in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Penleton while the men were entertained with a golf tournament.

George Dickey, president of the Woodson State Bank, was elected president of the association, succeeding E. O. Jamison of Knox City. Garland Eubanks of Knox City was elected vice-president and Byrd Thorp of Throckmorton was elected secretary-treasurer. The next meeting of the association will be held either at Throckmorton or Woodson, on March 2, 1935.
