

Teacher Art Workshop Set For Mid-July

Fifty teachers from Muleshoe Independent School District will attend an Art Workshop on July 11, 12, 13, 1967, at the Muleshoe High School. It was announced recently by Neal Dillman, superintendent of schools.

A free educational service provided by Binney & Smith Inc., manufacturers of CRAYOLA crayons and other school art supplies, the Workshop will be conducted by Mrs. Pat Huddleston, who has taught extensively and holds a Master's degree from Texas Women's University.

The teachers will spend fifteen hours of their own time learning about modern creative art education and some of its materials and tools. They will learn by doing, rolling up their sleeves and trying out the techniques presented by Mrs. Huddleston.

Facts Book Completed; Review Meet Planned

One of the most important meetings, industry-wise, to be held in the city is scheduled for 8 p.m. Monday, June 26 in the community room of the Muleshoe State Bank.

The Chamber of Commerce and the Muleshoe Industrial Foundation urges all members and interested citizens to attend and hear the first hand review of the Industrial Facts Book which has been compiled by Texas A&M University specialists.

Since January 17, this A&M team has been gathering material concerning the Muleshoe area in relation to general industry-related facts of the area and such facts are contained in the 144 page book.

This material will be used by the Chamber of Commerce and Muleshoe Area Industrial Foundation teams to inform those who are interested in locating industrial plants in the area.

The Fact Book will be of assistance to the merchants, businessmen and citizens to inform them of what Muleshoe has to offer and how it can be used.

Copies of the book will be filed with the Industrial Development Department of the Texas Industrial Commission where most industrial go to find leads on towns which have to offer what they will be needing for their industry. Copies will also be on file with the Santa Fe Industrial Development division, Pioneer Natural Gas and Southwestern Public Service, Amarillo, West Texas Chamber of Commerce, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, and various alliances who have had a part in helping to supply information and assist in other ways.

At the present time, facts are being supplied to two garment factories as prospective clients for locating plants here. Each would employ some 300 persons and provide a payroll of some 1 million dollars annually.

The Chamber of Commerce, the sponsoring arm of the Muleshoe Area Industrial Foundation urges everyone to attend this meeting to see and hear the representatives of the A&M staff explain and show the contents of the book.

Cotton Board Mailing Bale Collection Forms

Forms and instructions for collecting $1 per bale from growers to finance a market expansion program under the Cotton Research and Promotion Order are being mailed this week by the Cotton Board.

Cotton Board Chairman G. C. Cortright, Jr., Rolling Fork, Miss., said the forms are being mailed to gins and other potential "collecting handlers."

The assessment is applicable to each bale of upland cotton produced from cotton harvested and ginned on or after June 10, 1967.

A covering letter to gins explains that one pad of the collecting handler report forms is being mailed for use of the gin if it buys cotton and for information if it does not. The forms may also be distributed by gins to buyers who might have not received a supply.

Instructions for use of the forms are provided on the cover sheet of the pad. An order card for additional forms also is enclosed.

A separate covering letter and a copy of the Cotton Board regulations went to cotton buyers, shippers, and warehouses.

"We have tried to make these forms as simple as possible yet complete enough so that, coupled with the gin reports, we can assure collection on every bale handled," Cortright notes in this letter.

Within the next two weeks, he also explains, gins will receive the required forms for use as "reporting handlers." One form is a prepaid postcard for reporting the number of bales ginned during the month. The other is an end-of-season report containing an alphabetical list of producers, their addresses, and the number of bales ginned for each.

He said the Cotton Division, Consumer and Marketing Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, this week completed assigning code numbers to Texas gins and that gins in other states would be given numbers within the next few weeks. This code number is required by the regulations for record-keeping purposes.

The regulations require that the collecting handler give the producer a receipt when collection is made on each bale. Mr. Cortright points out that the Cotton Board does not provide receipt forms and that no standard receipt form is required.

The publication of the first volume of her own family history was released by the publisher this week. It is entitled "Links That Bind."

Approximately 70 persons received Folio, DFT and Smallpox vaccines given by Dr. Ted Hufford, County Health Officer.

Members of the Bailey County Vocational Nurses League volunteered their services to assist. Those helping were Pauline Stevenson, Sue Nesbitt, Mary Woodall and Tony Cavara.

Those receiving vaccines were registered by Kathy Wither and Rhonda Dugler.

The second inoculations will be given between the hours of 7 and 9 p.m. Wednesday, July 18.

HAY ON HIGHWAY---- This semi-truck, loaded with chopped hay overturned Thursday morning early at the detour where construction is underway on Highway 84. Rhea Bradley, engineer, points out that this is one of the most dangerous spots along the construction route on West Highway 84 out of Muleshoe. The truck belongs to National Alfalfa Dehydrating Mill. No injuries were reported. Hay was strewn over a section of the road.

Hart and Friona also report high, damaging winds.

Rain started falling here about 4 p.m., however, winds were moderate.

H.G. Harvey Falls in Basement, But Spirit Fails to Falter

"I could see lightning, brimstone and ashes, and it was pitch dark," H.G. Harvey said from his bed in West Plains Hospital here where he was taken after spending Wednesday night and Thursday on the rough cement floor. I knew there was two cots in the basement, but couldn't move to get to them. So I lay there, and besides the gravel, there were some flower pots under me, somewhere."

"My son-in-law came in to bring my mail at 9 a.m., and I heard him coming."

He said "Where are you?" I said "Believe it or not, down here where I shouldn't be, but I'm here anyway."

"He and a neighbor carried me from the basement and put me on the bed and about that time the undertaker (Frank Ellis, Singleton Funeral Home Ambulance) arrived."

And he said, just jesting, "Are you ready for me?"

I told him "No...no, no yet, but they took me to the hospital in the ambulance anyway."

Harvey is suffering from many severe cuts and bruises about the head, face and arms but expects to be released from the hospital before too many days.

Not too long ago, Harvey's granddaughter wrote a tribute to her grandfather for the courage he has manifested in continuing to be the person he is.

This tribute was published in the Journal.

Industrial Program Is Step by Step Plan

What is an industrial program? An industrial program is a step by step plan designed to help a town secure industrial payrolls. As with any program success is determined largely by the care with which it is planned and the fidelity with which it is carried out.

There are four rather basic aspects of a complete industrial program insofar as the average small town is concerned: securing cooperation of townspeople, developing an industrial inventory, removing industrial liabilities, and "selling" the town. While each phase of the program must receive separate attention it does not necessarily follow that they cannot be developed concurrently. Taking the inventory may well be done while the support of townspeople is being secured. Some liabilities will be identified only when the inventory is analyzed while others may be recognized earlier. Action in their removal can be undertaken as expedient.

It appears improbable that many towns will seriously try to "sell" themselves until they have been made as presentable to industry as possible. The active cooperation of townspeople is vital in an industrial program, particularly in smaller places. There are two significant reasons for this and both are related to money. In the first place, the bottleneck in an industrial program is finding out who might be considering a move or expansion. The Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce cannot finance activities of this type but must rely upon townspeople for industrial tips. The banker can keep in close touch with his correspondent banker in the city who, in turn, is in a position to know of many impending changes. Merchants who go on buying trips or who are called on by salesmen are in a strategic position to hear of possible changes in the industrial world. A number of industries have been located in Texas towns through the alertness of citizens such as: the housewife, service station attendant, the traffic officer. All can help through cheerful conversations with strangers. In the second place, community action is frequently necessary in removing industrial liabilities. For example, industrialists place much emphasis upon living conditions in the town, including recreation. If a swimming pool, community support and action are indicated. Again, an industrial fund may be required in providing an industrial site and this calls for community support. It appears obvious that community cooperation is vital in small town industrial activities.

The second step in an industrial program is the evaluation of industrial assets and liabilities. This, of course, is absolutely essential. The industrialist must be given facts about the community before he can decide on a location. The factual description must be accurate because the industrialist always checks information. This applies equally to liabilities because they are usually more conspicuous than assets. Because of competition among towns for industry the third phase of the industrial program is highly significant. Recognizing and removing liabilities calls for progressive thinking, strong leadership and community attributes which are pleasing to the industrialist. They comprise one of the strongest industrial assets of the community and will produce a better community regardless of immediate industrial results. The fourth step in the industrial program, promotional activities, is the difficult and discouraging part. Even though everybody in the community willingly assumes a personal responsibility and even though the industrial committee of the Chamber of Commerce functions perfectly, there is a tendency for people to become impatient after a few months. They forget that industry is slow in making decisions and that relocation takes time. Promotion plans should be made for a minimum of five years.

Concentration on Soybean Disease Could Solve Problem

Concentration of soybean production and continuous cropping could present a problem in the future control and prevention of soybean diseases. Observation of several soybean diseases in Texas has not currently represented a serious limiting production factor. But now is the time for present and potential producers to prepare for the prevention of these diseases. Dr. C. Wendell Horne, Texas A&M University Extension plant pathologist, points out:

Most soybean diseases are soil or seed-borne, and potential damage can be avoided by preventing the introduction and population build-up of an organism in a given area, Horne says. Several varieties of soybeans (Lee, Hill, Bragg, Hampton, and Semmes) are resistant to a number of soybean diseases, but there are several other diseases the soybean producer should recognize.

Downy mildew can overwinter in the soil, seed, or soybean residue. The disease produces indefinite yellowish areas on the upper leaf surface and grayish downy tufts of mold growth on the lower surface. Crop rotation and the use of disease free seed are the best methods of control.

Bacterial blight is a seed-borne organism and is carried from one season to the next in crop residue. The first symptom of bacterial blight is the appearance of angular water soaked spots which turn yellow, then brown. A heavily infested plant will drop its lower leaves. The best control method is burying surface trash during land preparation.

Brown stem rot is a soil-borne fungus. Positive identification can be made by splitting the lower stem and looking for a dirty brown interior. A producer should follow a three-year rotation program in brown stem rot is a problem.

Southern blight fungus is capable of persisting on any type of organic matter found in different soils. White mold with resting bodies appears at the plant base and girdles the stem. The surface trash should be buried deeply and the inoculum potential of the soil can be lowered by rotation.

Cotton root rot fungus is soil-borne and affects some 2,000 species of plants. A plant afflicted with cotton root rot is easily pulled from the soil and has buff colored strands on the roots. Many of the plants die suddenly during the summer. The best precaution is to avoid known infested areas. Deep plowing and burial of high quantities of organic matter will reduce the incidence of disease in future years.

Soybean producers should consider several points in combating these diseases:

1. Plant seed harvested from disease-free fields that have matured uniformly. Using home-grown seed produced in disease-free fields is preferable to buying seed of unknown origin.
2. Rotate soybeans with unrelated crops such as corn, small grains, and sorghum.

3. Turn soybean residue under deeply as soon after harvest as possible.

4. Plant soybeans in fields that are well drained and avoid areas where cotton root rot is known to be a problem.

5. Plant high-germination seed when possible to avoid seedling disease. If seed with a germination count below 85 percent must be planted, use a thiram type seed treatment.

6. Plant adapted disease resistant varieties when available. "Soybean diseases are more easily prevented than controlled," Horne says.

College Students Given Awards

SAN ANGELO -- The second Millard Cope Journalism Awards in the amount of $1275 will be awarded to five students at Angelo State College for the 1967-68 school term, according to Mrs. Maxine Wells, journalism head.

The students are Nelda Fischer of Wall, Deanna Lorfing of Paint Rock, Cindy McBride of Barnhart, Timothy Gette of San Angelo and Dana Werst of Garden City. Funds for the scholarship are provided out of the earnings of a $25,000 trust set up by Mr. and Mrs. Houston Hart of San Angelo as a memorial to the late Millard Cope, former publisher of the San Angelo Standard-Times who died Jan. 4, 1964.

Winners of the awards were chosen by a selection board made up of Dr. R.M. Cavness, ASC president, chairman; Bob Craig, president of the West Texas Press Association; and Fred Cona, publisher of the Standard-Times.

Each of the awards to Miss Fischer, Miss Lorfing, Miss McBride and Gette is a $300 scholarship, renewable each year upon recommendation of the journalism faculty, Mrs. Wells said.

Miss Werst's $75 scholarship is provided out of funds given by the Indianapolis, Ind., Star-News, also as a memorial to Mr. Cope.

Each year in the future a freshman entering ASC will receive one of the scholarships out of the earnings of the Harte trust. The $300 awards may be renewed annually for as many as four years.

The 1967 freshman award winner Miss Fischer is an outstanding Wall High School journalist. She was the second high point individual in the state journalism competition sponsored by the University Interscholastic League. She also placed second in the Regional UIL journalism meet and has been a member of the school paper and yearbook staffs and of the National Honor Society.

Miss Lorfing, sophomore scholarship winner, is on the dean's honor roll at A-State and will serve as one of the assistant editors of the college newspaper, the Ram Page, this fall. She graduated from Paint Rock High School as valedictorian and served as editor of the student newspaper, yearbook and literary magazine.

School officials responsible for the workshop arrangements, in addition to Superintendent Dillman, include Mrs. Elizabeth Watson, Elementary Supervisor.

She will also serve as an assistant editor of the Ram Page. Senior Millard Cope Award winner Gette is a graduate of Lajes High School, The Azores, and transferred to ASC from Gonzaga University in Washington. He has been listed in Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities and served as president of the Kappa Xi fraternity. Gette, who will serve as editor of ASC's literary magazine, Pensador, is serving as a journalism intern at the Corsicana Sun in Corsicana.

WRONG QUESTION

NEW YORK (AP) — If the "God-is-dead" theorists mean that man's sense of experiencing God has become deadened, then the proposition could be better put in another way, Erich Fromm maintains.

"We might better raise the question whether man is dead," he writes in a new book, "You Shall Be as Gods," published by Holt, Rinehart and Winston.

Attends School

Dr. and Mrs. Charles Lewis, Lashelle and Lamont, of 1821 Ave. D, are attending the annual Leadership School June 18-24 sponsored by the Synod of Texas, United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., at Trinity University, San Antonio.

Nearly 400 adults and children are attending the workshop for a week of worship, study, and recreation. Classes are being conducted in such courses as theology, church creeds, Bible study, officer training, and women's work. Participants also will observe actual teaching situations as other school members conduct children and youth study groups.

A special feature of the school is a series of four lectures by John E. Burkhardt, associate professor of systematic theology at McCormick Theological Seminary, Chicago. His topic is "The Bible in a Changing World."

This is the 11th year that the Synod Leadership School has met on the 107-acre Skyline Campus of Trinity, the University of the Synod of Texas, United Presbyterian Church, U.S.A.

The University will observe its 100th anniversary in 1969 with the completion of a $50 Million Centennial Program which includes the completion of 42 buildings constructed since 1951, the expansion of library facilities, increased endowment and scholarship aid, and expansion of graduate programs.

Fashion in Color Used in the Home

There is fashion in color used in the home. The smart effects of new color can be applied to traditional backgrounds and antique furniture as well as modern backgrounds and modern furniture. Drab tones are replaced by dramatic color. Choose the new clear colors in soft shades or deep, bright shades, or use both.

A vivid room is created with the use of contrasts of warm bright colors. For example, against olive-green walls use ivory upholstery and draperies, red carpet and citron-yellow, greens or gray. Different tones of one color are known as a mono-chromatic scheme and are popular because they create a restful atmosphere.

The harmonious rooms use three complementary colors of about the value. For example a pine paneled room with a polished floor and light colored rug—the draperies of soft wine-red and few pieces of furniture to match—then add touches of yellow to get balance.

Use light, soft colors with the woodwork to match the walls to give a spaciousness to a room. Use deep, warmer color and have the woodwork a contrast to reduce the size of a room. To lower a high ceiling, use a color on it. To give height to a room use a lighter color for the ceiling than the walls.

Mr. and Mrs. Roque Puente are celebrating their 25th anniversary here with their family and friends presenting them with this cake.

Puente's Celebrate 25th Anniversary

Tuesday, June 20, Mr. and Mrs. Roque Puente, celebrated their 25th Wedding Anniversary. A surprise party was given for them at 118 East Birch, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Puente.

The couple was married in Yorktown, Texas on June 20, 1942. Mrs. Puente is the former Miss Juanita Garza, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Epifanio Garza of Yorktown. Puente is the son of the late Marcus Puente and Mrs. Leona Puente.

Mr. and Mrs. Roque Puente have six sons and two daughters. They are Ray Puente, Muleshoe, Sgt. Antonio L. Puente, Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, Joe Merced, Marcos, Paqello, Lydia and Jerry of the home.

The cake for the occasion was a three tiered with silver leaves and tiny white flowers. Punch and cookies were also served to close friends and relatives attending the event.

Four County Area

There is still time for boys and girls to start on the summer reading program. Over 200 have already signed, and are reading up a storm, making posters, and receiving badges for books read. Total circulation for June up to June 21 is 2,123 books, most of which are childrens and young peoples. There are no charges to get a book card and check out books. There are many, many people who have read books regularly, week in and week out, every since the library opened 3 years ago, who have never had to pay a cent in fines or lost or damaged books, these are the only charges ever made.

Story hour for pre-school children was held Wednesday afternoon at 2 p.m., with 18 children attending. The children raised the flag, and said the pledge of allegiance to begin activities. Then they dressed Wendy the weather girl. The children observe what kind of weather it is, then dress the doll accordingly. The children then had a go at Eongo the clown, who, just won't stay down no matter how hard he is whammed. After all had had a turn, and gotten rid of all their repressed desires to hit someone, they sang two songs they are currently learning. They have almost all learned the windmill song, which they seem to like, since it has a lot of action along with the words. The story for this week was "Pedro the Peruvian Parrot," who resented very much being called "Polly" and kept the whole petshop in an uproar, with his screams and wails, in his native tongue. When his only friend, Pablo understood his frustration, since he had a similar problem, in school where he could not understand, or be understood, they were mutually miserable. But both began to be happier, when they learned to use English words, and they felt happiest when they could sing (in English) "America the Beautiful" -- their adopted land.

This was the text, not the words of the story, the stories are always told in the simple words these children can understand, and it is hoped most of them give the child something to take home with him and think about. After the story the children all checked out a book or two to take home to have read to them. Since we have a two-week check out time, most of these children know the book or books, almost word for word by the time they are returned to the library.

We are very low on picture books and the very easy books at this time, due to the many, many that are out in circulation, and the library would be most happy to accept donations of good, clean, well bound books for the children.

We are glad to have Sandra Garlington helping at the library again this summer. Sandra is a student at West Texas State Univ., who is contemplating majoring in Counseling with a view to working with retarded, or underprivileged children.

We have had many requests for the book by William Manchester, The Death of a President, which we received and put on the shelf and which was promptly checked out. Also added this past week was A Century of Christian Science Healing, which marks the centennial year for the Christian Science Publishing Society. Another non-fiction book added to our shelves is "Teen Love, Teen Marriage", a frank approach to dating, sex and marriage for teenagers. Also ready for circulation is "Sense with Dollars" by Charles Veal which shows you how to solve your financial problems before they start, or so the cover states. I haven't had a chance to read it to see what you can do after it deals with that too.

TIPS

When you are steaming a pudding, be sure to grease the inside of the cover of the mold. If your mold has no cover, grease foil and tie in place so the pudding will be securely covered during the steaming. If the mold cover is not a tight-fitting one, cover the mold with foil before adding the cover.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Wm Sanford

AUSTIN. -- Railroad Commission authorized Texas oil industry to produce an additional 2,268,000 barrels of oil during the last two weeks of June in view of curtailed supplies from the unsettled Middle East.

figure will permit maximum oil production of 3,112,191 barrels daily compared to current 2,992,236 barrels. Commission postponed setting an allowable for July, but another moderate increase is almost certain.

State officials, conscious of the Legislature's special tax session looming next year, see a possible revenue windfall (which could reduce the new tax need) from the crisis-caused oil production jump.

With an increase from 10 to 13 days a month in production, there is no telling at this point how much the utilimate increase will be. Before the emergency situation, the oil production tax income for the coming year had been estimated at nearly $140,000,000. These factors figure in the magnitude of future allowable increases:

Kuwait, Saudi Arabia, Iraq and Algeria have banned oil shipments to U.S. and Britain. Libya's production has been halted by a strike.

Arabs want to nationalize their oil fields or call in Spain and France to develop their petroleum industry, replacing the U.S. and Britain. Suez Canal may remain blocked for several months.

Thus any oil shipments would have to round the Cape of Good Hope. Trip would be longer and more expensive.

Interstate Oil Compact adopted a resolution calling for a 12.2 per cent limit on the ratio of imported oil to domestic stocks east of the Rocky Mountains. Experts say present situation demonstrates need for better government attitude toward domestic production and industry development.

DRIVERS POINTS -- Auto drivers may have forgotten, but they will be reminded of "points" starting August 1. That's when the new insurance plan adopted last July by the State Board of Insurance begins to show on insurance rates. Drivers will pay 15 per cent more for insurance if they have one point charged against the 35 per cent for two points, 60 per cent for three points, and 90 per cent for four points.

Points are assessed for accidents or traffic law violations which came after August 1, 1966, when the plan was adopted. Penalties will apply when auto insurance policies are bought or renewed after August 1, this year.

A driver who is assessed points can "work them off" August 1, 1967, with a 15 per cent discount. But after three years of being charged more, the points drop off the driver's record, for rate purposes.

Board believes this will lower the basic rates, thus will reward no-point drivers.

14-YEAR-OLDS CAN DRIVE -- Fourteen-year-olds who complete driver education before August 28 still can get a license good until its regular expiration date.

Honer Garrison Jr., Director of Texas Department of Public Safety, issued the interpretation following numerous calls about new licensing law amendments.

New law which goes into effect in late August would raise the minimum age for licensing drivers with behind-the-wheel instruction to 16, except in unusual cases. Garrison said, however, he did not interpret the new law as denying "the privilege of driving" to 14-year-olds who already have qualified under existing regulations.

DESALTING FEASIBLE -- New study concludes that large scale desalting in the Lower Rio Grande Valley can provide a dependable source of good municipal water at costs comparable to that of conventional production.

Study for Texas Water Development Board and U.W. Department of Interior said water could be made available to a metropolitan district for about 25 to 31 cents per 1,000 gallons at a desalination plant. Cost of delivery to individual cities in the Lower Valley would increase that figure from one to two cents per 1,000.

COURTS SPEAK -- U.S. Supreme Court has agreed to hear arguments October 2 on whether the one-man-one-vote standard it applied to congressional and legislative districts also fits county commissioners' precincts in Mexico.

State Supreme Court found no error in lower court opinions dismissing the case of a woman who sued Galveston County for $20,000 after finding glass in scrambled eggs served her at the county's Memorial Hospital.

A certificate-holding student pilot does not meet standard insurance policy definition of a duly-licensed aircraft operator whose passengers remain insured while in flight, State Supreme Court concluded in a Gillespie County Case.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES -- Gulfward state boundary is a line three marine leagues from coast, and in those waters Texas is empowered to control and regulate fishing, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin has ruled.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that:

In counties where the office of ex-officio county school superintendent has been abolished, a county judge serving in superintendent's role continues to be paid for the extra job until the end of the current term of office. Thereafter, he must perform those duties without pay.

State can make lease and rental contracts for up to four years, contingent on availability of funds appropriated by the legislature.

When a married couple creates a valid joint tenancy agreement with a third party, including right of survivorship, inheritance tax is applicable on passing of the couple's interest.

WATER PROJECTS APPROVED -- Texas Water Development Board found San Antonio River Authority eligible to seek $60,000 in state aid to build a low water dam on Cibolo Creek and provide water supply to Karnes City and Kenedy. SARA also will seek a federal grant of $915,000. At the same time, Board extended for 120 days $2,700,000 loan commitment of the Upper Leon River Municipal Water District for facilities to take water from the Proctor dam reservoir to Comanche, De Leon, Dublin and Gorman, pending outcome of bid for a federal grant.

AIR SERVICE BROADENED -- Texas Aeronautics Commission has given Fleetway Computer Airlines a Sox 4 Pitches Rojas, Rodriguez certificate to begin operations in eight locations and approved extension of Davis Airlines Service to Houston.

Fleetway, a new company, will fly two routes: from Gregg County Airport to San Antonio via Tyler, Waco and Austin and return; and from Tyler to Houston via the Gregg County Airport, Palestine and Nacogdoches and return.

Davis, which now operates between College Station and Dallas, was granted a permit for operation between College Station and Houston.

Both companies had presented evidence showing the need for their passenger services on these routes.

MANPOWER -- Texas Employment Commission reports that during April the civilian labor force in Texas continued to expand with an increase of 97,000, boosting the total to 4,204,300 at mid-month.

Non-farm employment reached 3,784,400, a record for April; and agricultural employment rose 16,800 -- to 307,400.

There were 110,000 unemployed in mid-April, 4,000 less than were unemployed in mid-March. This put unemployment at 216 per cent of the total labor force.

SHORT SNORTS

Agriculture Commissioner John White reports that crops are making good progress in the eastern third of the state and conditions have improved in northwestern Texas, while South Texas and parts of West Texas that failed to receive rain fall continue short of planting and growing moisture.

GOP State Chairman Peter O'Donnell Jr. has announced that Hilary Sandoval Jr., of El Paso, newly appointed first assistant Republican state chairman, will head the recently created Latin Advisory Committee to the Republican Party of Texas.

Texas is one of seven states to participate in a new program sponsored by the US Defense Department to develop additional fallout shelter space.

Fallout M. Keel moved up from acting director to director of the Legislative Budget Board at $20,000 a year salary on June 1.

Larry Shipp Graduates From Special School

FT. BENJAMIN HARRISON, -- Airman Second Class Larry G. Shipp Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. Larry G. Shipp of 401 E. 13th St., Littlefield, has been graduated from the Defense Information School's broadcast specialist course at Ft. Benjamin Harrison, Ind. During the eight-week course, Airman Shipp was trained in the communication techniques of radio and television to prepare him for broadcasting assignments at all U.S. Air Force levels of command.

The 1963 graduate of Littlefield High School attended South Plains Junior College and Texas Technological College.

Airman Shipp's wife is the former Rhonda J. Thompson, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. C.S. Hall, reside at 135 N. Westside, Littlefield.

Always Late
"Helen's train gets in at four-thirty."
"Well, I'll be at the station at five-thirty."
"Five-thirty?"
"Yes: Helen is always an hour late, whatever she does."

The TIE that Binds...

Man and woman began their married life in church and according to God's holy word are joined together. With the Bible as the basis for the beginning of a new life together, it seems only reasonable that a continued study of God's word would strengthen and serve as a guide to any couple. The Bible can truly serve as a tie that will bind two together in accord. The church as God's agency on earth can help you in Bible study, and with the guidance of the Holy Spirit can help you to understand God's will in your life.

"And the Lord shall guide thee continually, and satisfy thy soul in drought, and make fat thy bones; and thou shalt be like a watered garden, and like a spring of water, whose waters fail not." Isaiah 58-11

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny, the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.
