Look To The East
By Aaron Edgar

Memory, for some people, is a fragile item! Ours is becoming more and more fragile—or maybe it's because it is becoming worn out.

At times, we can press the invisible "memory button" and everything works out just fine, as dependable as yesteryear's old tame buggy horse. At other times, it seems that the recording just doesn't register, perhaps indicating that we have run completely out of tape.

We've noticed that our memory is less dependable as the years continue to stack up. Sometimes a person can tell us something, and we'll have to ask for a replay before the "tale" is entered upon our book of records.

We are accused, too, of not paying a bit of attention to what is being said. We like to think that this isn't true. Try as we might, there are times when something a person says just does not register, especially if there's a batch of other conversation taking place in the vicinity.

It's a little different with us if it's something we read, rather than hear. The tuning fork in our ears is just not tuned up to 100 percent accuracy all the time. The impression becomes a little more indelible if it's recorded by our little less than 20-20 vision.

We've found within recent days that people, and a good many of them, do not have proper connection between their eyesight and their memory cells.

This became evident after The Courier, for the first time since its inception back in 1971, failed to come out with the weekly edition.

We thought we had things fixed up pretty good, with the publisher securing permission from the U. S. Postal Service to skip the first week in July for vacation purposes. We prepared an interesting (we thought) item to this effect, and the "boss man" gave it one of those "you sure can't miss it" displays on the front page of Thursday, July 1.

But the calls started coming in the following Monday. People were prepared to give Bill a news item "for this week's paper". Then, when the paper failed to appear, we had a heap more than anticipated inquiries.

We have a few who come in on Wednesdays to pick up their paper, and this happened last week.

Thursday morning, a group was standing at the post office in a sort of gossiping manner, just visiting and waiting for the local paper to be placed into their mailboxes. When reminded that "they didn't publish" this week, a majority of those waiting remembered.

Some telephoned to say they didn't get their "Monday Times"; others came by the office to check up and see if their subscriptions hadn't expired; still others tried to connect the inconvenience with a booby upon the part of the Courier force.

At the drug store Saturday, one of the girls said:

MUNDAY CHEERLEADERS attended camp at TCU on June 14-18. Classes began at 8:15 a. m. and ended at 9:30 p. m. The classes consisted of learning 3 yells per day, pom pom routines, tumbling, incorporation, superstars and an optional class. The day ended with evaluation where they earned two outstanding, and excellent and a superior ribbon. There was also mail call each day which everyone looked forward to. Cheerleaders were Liz Andrade, Kerri Baker-head cheerleader, Dee Ann Hertel, Gale Myers and Annelle Myers.

Results Revealed On Wheat Variety Tests

Three medium late maturing varieties were top yielders in the 1976 twenty-two Variety Wheat Demonstration 8 miles south of Gooee on the Bill Goode farm, according to County Extension Agent Herman H. Collier.

All varieties were hand clipped and bundled May 27 and stored until a threshing day could be arranged at the Texas A&M University Research Center at Chillicothe-Vernon July 1 with Dry weather conditions through late winter and early spring apparently hurt yields of several of the earlier varieties more than the medium late varieties. Medium late to late maturing varieties could utilize moisture received in April and a relatively cool spring allowed these to mature well.

These results were from one year only, and the demonstration was not on a scientific research basis, Collier said.

The demonstration was planted October 10, 1975.

Doctor Coming To Knox City On August 1st

Announcement was made last week by Glen Rumley, hospital administrator at Knox City, that Dr. W. F. Thompson is expected to begin practice in Knox City on August 1, instead of July 15, as originally planned.

The delay was caused, it was explained, because Dr. Thompson's application for a Texas license had "become lost in transit", and could not be completed by the July 15 deadline.

Meanwhile, Bruce B. Campbell Jr., president of the Brazos Valley Health Resources, Inc., announced that paper working is being finalized for the purchase of the clinic building and "should be completed in the very near future".

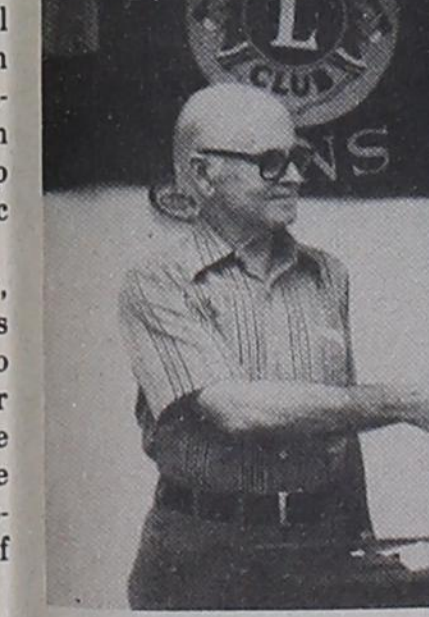

Mr. Rumley confirmed last Monday that the Knox County Hospital will be opened on Sunday, August 1, and Dr. Thompson will be here August 2 to open the clinic.

Ranell And Dreamy, A Winning Pair

Ranell Scott, 18 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gaylor Scott, of Vera, Texas, and her registered quarter horse mare, Dreamy Doll, left their mark on the Texas Cowboy Reunion Quarter Horse Show Activities for the second time in three years as she walked off with her second All Around Trophy Saddle. She won her first saddle on July 2, 1974 in the open youth horse show when she was 15 years old. This year she won her second saddle at the American Quarter Horse Association Youth Activity Show on Saturday, July 3, 1976. There were contestants from as far away as Imperial, California and Houston, Texas and they were all trying for the saddle.

Ranell tied with Sherry Stelle of Magnolia, Texas for the high point honors when both contestants accumulated a total of 19 points. Ranell broke the tie and won both the saddle and her first American Quarter Horse Association All Around Trophy, by placing in more events and earning more points in the performance events.

The vote in Knox City carried by 346 to 15, while at O'Brien the totals were 119 for consolidation and 86 against.

A total of 14 Munday players have made the all-star team that will be engaged in the area playoff. These boys will be coached by Daniel Ramirez and Rickie Herring.

Bill's Blabbin'
By Bill Bowley

What started out to be an $80.00 do-it-yourself kit for the bathroom has assumed a liability of around $500.00 and we still have the painting to do.

Blab
E. B. shows us this ready-cut bathroom tile-board to put around the bath tub and shower and it was oh so pretty. Then it didn't match the rest of the green tile (it was pink) so E. B. ordered us enough for the rest of the room.

Blab
That still wasn't bad and we were very pleased with ourselves. Mr. Offutt was there to do the carpenter work when we got the bright idea that we didn't want the window behind the tub as the shower only kept the shower curtain all messed up all the time.

Blab
Mr. Offutt very obligingly went to work on removing the window and replacing boards and then putting on shingles on the outside. This took up a day and a half more of his time. Then back to the inside to start again.

Blab Got Wilkie up there to disconnect the plumbing and he remarked that one of those cabinet lavatories would sure look nice to put in. We mused over that especially when he said it was over a $100. Any way he took out the old lavatory.. and commode.

Blab
Have you done without a commode lately? It was no fun let us tell you. We improvised an outdoor privy for after we got home from work, which served, but oh so inconvenient. Glory, glory when Mr. Offutt finally got the tileboard on that wall and Wilkie could put that precious commode back in place. That is when we knew for sure we never, never want that part of the "good old days" back again.

Blab
With all that new tile board that old shower head and bathtub faucets looked crummy, so we decides on some new ones, that was another $39.50. But boy do they look pretty. Then we decided on the new lavatory and Wilkie ordered us one.

Blab
You know what, when it arrived, the marble top was cracked all across-so that meant another delay about having the lavatory. Finally after about a week he got us one in and the bathroom was a new one.

Blab
Not quite, the plaster walls, supposedly an off white, were indeed a dirty white and when we attempted to scrub them,
made them look worse'n anything. So now we have to get someone to paint the plaster.

Blab Never, never again will we do another thing to that house. Even if it falls down around us. Come to think of it, we said those very same words when we had the front room, kitchen and hall remodeled. Famous last words.

Why the difference? First, some cities may seem to get a break because the federal government holds the price down by regulating the cost of gas moving across state lines. But there's one problem: These cities very often can't get all the gas they need.

Also, many cities outside of Texas pay higher bills because of the cost of transporting gas great distances.

Other differences are due to the policies and planning of the gas companies in the various cities.
Lone Star has planned its gas supply program well, so our rates are lower than most.

*Lone Star Gas System figures based on calculations of rates in Texas cities only.

AARP Meets On July 1st

The regular monthly meeting of Munday Chapter #1437 of the American Association of Retired Person was held July 1 in the Community Center. The opening prayer was a lovely Indian prayer read by Mrs. R. M. Almanrode. America was sung with Mrs. E. Q. Warren of Knox City at the piano. The Pledge of Allegiance was given in unison.

A short business session was held. Community activities role was called by Merle Dingus. The program for August 5 will be the Westerners from Wichita Falls, while September 2 will be a quartet from Goree and local musicians composed of Cash, Welch and Bohanan.

Table grace was given by E. V. Shackelford. All enjoyed the bountiful and delicious meal. Bro. Graves was to speak at the meeting but due to illness in his family he was unable to be present. Everyone expressed regrets at not being able to hear him speak but it is hoped he can speak at a later date.

After lunch Mrs. Ina Cowan told the highlights of a tour to the West Coast she took recently with a group from the Junior College at Snyder. They spent 20 days on the tour.

The remainder of the meeting was spent singing gospel songs with Irene Bardwell at the piano. The meeting was adjourned to meet again August 5.

Next game nights for July are on Friday, July 16 and Friday, July 23.

Lions Asking Help to Keep Flags Waving

Don't you think Munday looks nice, now, on holidays and special occasions—those that merit the flying of "Old Glory"?

Many people do, and have so commented.

The project of securing the flags and having them situated at various points in Munday, giving the town a uniform appearance, was undertaken and completed by the Munday Lions Club. A committee from the club has kept the flags waving on proper occasions since that time.

The club plans to continue this—but it is asking financial aid from local merchants.

It was decided to ask the merchants to contribute $6.00 per year toward this community activity. Surplus funds will be used toward other Lions Club projects—sight conservation and blind work and the camp at Kerrville for crippled and diabetic children.

Are you willing to help? Say "yes" to a club member who will contact you!

Mrs. Jack Tarter returned home last Saturday from Lubbock, where she attended the first six weeks of summer school at Texas Tech.

Sure Foundation Unto Full Stature by DeVern Fromke

Price $2.00

In this volume the author helps the reader to see the very practical outworking of ultimate truth. He challenges the believer to expect and attain that measure of spiritual stature which God intends, though often considered impossible. He further shows how God's provision is completely adequate for reaching this stature.

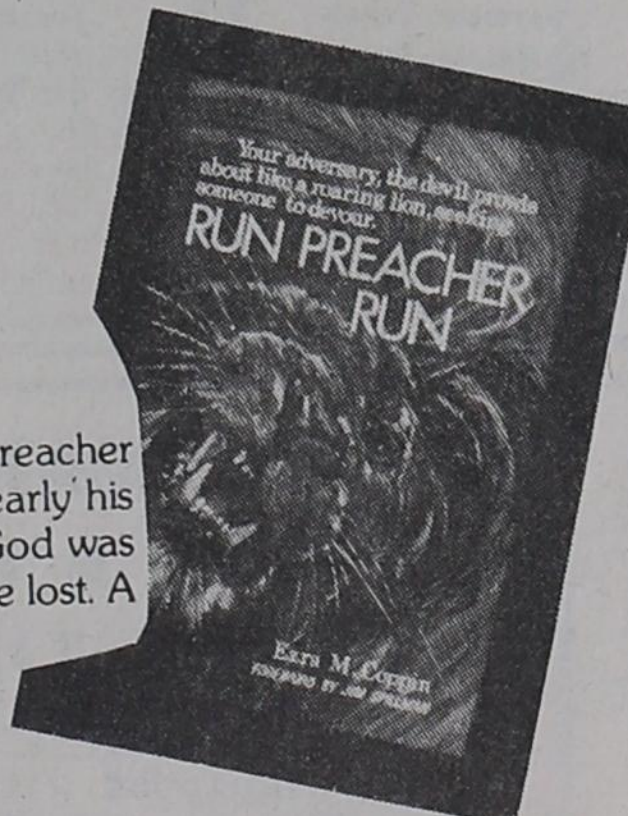

A Christian Road Map For Women Traveling Alone by Jo Anne Sekowsky

A CHRISTIAN ROAD MAP FOR WOMEN TRAVELING ALONE is not just another how-to book for single girls. Instead, Jo Anne Sekowsky is offering to women everywhere her personal chronicle of victorious single living. While many write about the ideal, Jo Anne has chosen to write about the very real. What does a single woman do about rebellious divorce-scared children and teen-agers? What does she do about her sexual needs? What does she do about men who consider every single woman "fast game"? What does she do about cars that won't start, plumbing that doesn't shut off and money that never stretches far enough?

TEXAS TALK

By Tommie Harper

Things are looking greener for grain sorghum. Foreign Agricultural Service analysts now expect a 6% drop in world wheat and feed grain stocks. An upturn in world livestock feeding and drought conditions in some parts of the world are depleting the supply faster than expected. Feed grains are now expected to drop 0.9 million metric tons from last year. Earlier prospects were for 3.6 million metric ton gain. One big reason for this 4.5 million ton difference is the drought damage in Argentina. The 220 million bushels of Argentine feed grains expected to be sold to foreign customers is 115 million bushels below projections. This means less competition for U. S. exports and smaller carryover from the 1976 crops. *****

BILINGUAL PROJECT
A federal grant of $81,897 for the 1976-77 academic year has been awarded the Bilingual Education Department Office of Region IX Education Service Center, according to Delma Banuelos, director of the department. "This is the third successive year we have had federal funding", Miss Banuelos said. The program provides bilingual pre-school home tutoring for children, ages three through five, with limited English speaking ability. English and Spanish are taught to the youngsters on a home basis, the only such program in Texas, she explained. "Last year we served a total of 102 children", she added. Counties serviced include Hardeman, Foard, Knox, Wilbarger, Baylor Throckmorton, Young, Archer, Jack, Montague, Clay, and Wichita. This will be the first time Childress and Haskell, neither of which is in the Region IX area, will be participating in the program. "We are in the process of recruiting teachers and screening children," Miss Banuelos said. The grant provides funding for 100 children and includes a teacher training program whereby tutors for the program may take college courses at Texas Woman's University, with "costs defrayed by the project," she added. Five para-professional tutors will be conducting bi-weekly classes for each of the youngsters, according to Miss Banuelos. Interested persons, wishing to refer a child to the Region IX Education Service Center, 3014 Old Seymour Road, Wichita Falls, Texas call Miss Banuelos at 322-2501.

BILINGUAL PROJECT
A federal grant of $81,897 for the 1976-77 academic year has been awarded the Bilingual Education Department Office of Region IX Education Service Center, according to Delma Banuelos, director of the department. "This is the third successive year we have had federal funding", Miss Banuelos said. The program provides bilingual pre-school home tutoring for children, ages three through five, with limited English speaking ability. English and Spanish are taught to the youngsters on a home basis, the only such program in Texas, she explained. "Last year we served a total of 102 children", she added. Counties serviced include Hardeman, Foard, Knox, Wilbarger, Baylor Throckmorton, Young, Archer, Jack, Montague, Clay, and Wichita. This will be the first time Childress and Haskell, neither of which is in the Region IX area, will be participating in the program. "We are in the process of recruiting teachers and screening children," Miss Banuelos said. The grant provides funding for 100 children and includes a teacher training program whereby tutors for the program may take college courses at Texas Woman's University, with "costs defrayed by the project," she added. Five para-professional tutors will be conducting bi-weekly classes for each of the youngsters, according to Miss Banuelos. Interested persons, wishing to refer a child to the Region IX Education Service Center, 3014 Old Seymour Road, Wichita Falls, Texas call Miss Banuelos at 322-2501.

Life on The Pipeline In Cold, Cold Valdez, Alaska

Leon Bodiford is cold, wet and miserable as he walks along the frozen earth. Oh yes he has on goosedown jacket, parka and long-johns, but that doesn't keep the bone-numbing cold out. The snow falls in large flakes as he continues his job as foreman Ironworker for Fluor Company.

Leon made his trip north in October 1975 and his wife, Elizabeth, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Smith, and long time resident of Munday, joined him in April of this year. It took 3 airplane attempts before she landed in Valdez, Alaska April 27, 1976 and she was wondering "why did I leave Texas." She knew it was to battle the cold sub-freezing weather and snow which usually hits around September or October and can last until May, but she would be with her "man".

Oil was first discovered on Alaska North Slope in March 1968 at Prudhoe Bay. In September 1969, Alaska sold this oil lease for a record nine hundred million dollars to those companies winning the leases. Part of the pipeline is above ground, some below ground, depending on the soil condition along the route. Temperature will vary from 70 degrees fahrenheit in summer to 75 below zero in the winter. This pipeline should be flowing oil by the last of 1977. It is the most costly project ever undertaken by a private enterprise. In April there were 19,980 people on this job, with 3,600 at the Valdez terminal. This project is about 60% complete.

Leon makes good money on this job, but he braves every kind of weather 6 to 7 days a week and some days turn into 14 hour days instead of 8 hours. Many American families have dreamed of doing what Leon and Liz have done - heading north to Alaska to make big money working on this $6.8 billion Alaska pipeline. Many have tried it, but couldn't handle the weather conditions, or other various reasons.

These men who work the pipeline can live in camp, rent free and meals furnished. There are about 3,600 there including 300 women. Maids and waiters make $9.00 an hour but advise that no one should go there without assurance of employment. They dine in the mess hall and have good food, walk to work regardless of the weather. There is a recreation hall on camp for pastime, also Sunday church services are available to the employees.

This is a lonely life for these men, work, eat, and sleep. Some of the men have moved their families there and live off of camp as did Leon. He thinks this is beautiful country with high snow covered mountains completely surrounding this town of Valdez which has become known as America's Switzerland.

The big black bears try, and sometimes manage, to get into camp. A high cyclone fence surrounds the camp to keep wildlife out, but the bears still manage to get in.

In January daylight runs cents to $1.00 a glass.

So goes the pipeline life in Alaska. Leon hasn't commented on their plans when the pipeline work is over. Wonder if they will go to another job in America's Switzerland or back to Texas.

Leon is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Bodiford of Altha, Fla.

EDITORS NOTE: We asked Elizabeth for a story and she brought us this one. She told us she was no writer and that this one was not very well organized but she hoped we could use it as so many people have asked her questions about her life in Alaska. We hope you enjoyed it as much as we did.

MOORE FAMILY REUNION

There were eight grandchildren, 13 great-grandchildren and 5 great-great-grandchildren present as well as other relatives from Lubbock, Idalou, Kamay, Goree, Seymour, Wichita Falls, Lewisville, Haskell and Munday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrold Ford and family of Truth or Consequences, N. M., are visiting this week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hub Ford.

BOLL WEEVIL DAMAGE HEAVY IN SOME FIELDS

A few untreated Knox County cotton fields are showing heavy cotton boll weevil damage at this time. Many fields where early season control applications were used and some fields where the over wintering boll weevil did not reach in heavy numbers are looking good at this time. Some cotton in the county where late replanting was necessary has not reached the 1/3 grown square stage while much of the older cotton started blooming in early July.

Control applications for the boll weevil in this older cotton should be used now only if really necessary as this is the stage when unnecessary applications may add to the cotton boll worm problem.

SORGHUM MIDGE

Sorghum midge usually start in small numbers - when early sorghum reaches the bloom stage and increase to high damaging numbers in a relatively short time.

A very few midge have been observed, but the population increase could build up in the next week or two to make it necessary to use control applications on sorghum blooming later than the majority.

SPIDER MITES - BAD NEWS FOR GARDENS

Spider mites, or red spiders as they are sometimes called, spell bad news for a garden.

There's no way to keep spider mites out of your garden, but it's a good idea to be able to recognize the pests and what type of damage they do.

Spider mites are quite small, about 1/60 of an inch long, and can be white, red or green in color. They lay eggs on the undersides of leaves and the eggs hatch in about five days. The life cycle of a spider mite lasts three weeks. Hot dry weather is particularly favorable for their development.

Spider mites prefer beans, tomatoes and peas but will attack almost any plant.

The bugs feed by sticking their mouthparts into leaf tissue and sucking out the juice while injecting a toxic substance into the leaf at the same time.

When a plant is infected with mites, it shows up as tiny spots on the undersides of leaves. Heavy infestations of mites cause bleaching and yellowing along the main leaf veins at first and later the whole leaf is affected.

After a while, the leaf's edges curl up, turn brown and eventually drop off the plant. If not controlled, spider mites can completely defoliate a plant.

Use only pesticide compounds specifically intended to control mites. These may have to be applied two or four times and used once every five days.

Use pesticides only as directed and inspect your plants frequently to check for signs of spider mites. Some good insecticides to use include diazinon, kelthane, malathion, ethion and sulfur.

WHITE GRUB CONTROL IN LAWN

The white grub, the larval stage of the May or June beetle, is one of the major lawn pests in Knox County. White grubs feed on grass roots during the summer, fall and spring months and during this period complete three larval stages. The third and largest larval stage which is present from late August until pupation occurs in June causes most of the damage. Large numbers of grubs cut the grass roots through their feeding activity causing the grass to turn yellow. White grub damage can be positively identified when large chunks of the yellowing turf can be lifted easily from the ground.

Most effective insecticidal control of white grubs is accomplished when the grubs are small or in their first larval stage that period is from mid-July to mid-August. When four grubs are found in an area 1 foot square by four inches deep control measures are needed. Since grubs are not usually distributed evenly in the yard, several scattered areas of the lawn should be inspected to determine if grubs are present in damaging numbers.

Diazinon applied as granules or spray should give effective control of white grubs in the first larval stage. The granular diazinon is easier to apply and wash into the soil than the spray formulation. The key to control is to get the diazinon through the grass to the white grubs in the root zone. Spray formulations should be applied with 10 to 25 gallons of water per 1000 square feet and wetting the lawn before the application also helps.

When using this or any other insecticide the directions given on the label should be followed carefully. Additional information on white grubs is available at your County Extension Agent's office.

Mrs. T. V. Yost returned home last week from a two weeks visit with her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Beecher in Dimmitt. Mr. Beecher was recuperating from pneumonia. She also visited her sisters, Mr. and Mrs. Loy Dutton in Lubbock and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Holloway in Slaton.

CROWD TURNS OUT AT MUNDAY THEATRE-Waiting for the show to open to see a Walt Disney movie at the Munday Theatre is the crowd shown in the above picture. The manager, Basil Huckabee of Fort Worth, told the Knox County CB Association members that due to the fact that it was all volunteer work on their part that the prices would again be 50 cents for children under 12 years of age and $1.50 for adults. Mr. Huckabee also stated that a bicycle would be given away each month.

EMS, Saving Lives Is What It's All About

It's Emergency Medical Services (EMS), and some of the terminology is new. Some of the techniques are new. But the purpose is the same as it has always been - to get help to sick and injured people when they need it.

Basically, EMS in Munday is a lot more than that, too. It's more training for the attendants so they'll know better what to do in an emergency. It's better equipment so they'll have something more to work with than they have had in the past. It's better communications so hospitals, doctors and ambulances can work together. And it's people in the community learning that emergency care is there, if they want to use it.

"EMS is a pretty new concept for getting emergency medical care to the people in Munday," says Mickey Hubbard, EMS program director for the West Central Texas area. "We've got a way to go before we accomplish everything we want to do, but we're moving steadily toward a goal of making sure that people can always get help."

Ambulance service in Munday is provided by the City of Munday. The service is manned by volunteers and operates two station wagon type ambulances. Funding is obtained from fees for services. All attendants have Red Cross first aid training.

Two-way radio communications are in use between the ambulances, the Sheriff's office, and the hospital. Emergency patients are taken to Knox County Memorial Hospital in Knox City where a physician is called to treat them. For emergency ambulance service in Munday, call 422-4111.

"All citizens should be able to handle emergencies until the ambulance arrives," says Ms. Hubbard. First aid and carido-pulmonary resuscitation (CPR) training is available for the public. First aid courses in standard and advanced levels can be scheduled for 8 to 12 person classes by contacting Pete Upton, American Red Cross, P. O. Box 12406, Fort Worth, Texas 76116. His telephone number is (817) 732-4491. CPR courses conducted by the American Heart Association are available by contacting Ms. Wanda Vredenburg, CPR Task force Chairman, 2540 Madison, Abilene, Texas 79601. Her phone number is (915) 672-4321, ext. 250.

The EMS Division of the Texas Department of Health Resources (TDHR), has helped Munday provide better health care through its concept of EMS planning and development. The Division also provides consultation for local EMS units and helps them define local problems and then solve them, says Charles E. King, Division Director. Personnel conduct ongoing education programs in the West

Big Cotton Crop Expected

Cotton farmers in Texas could produce a billion dollar crop this year if market conditions continue strong and good harvest weather prevails.

"A billion dollar cotton crop is very likely," points out Charles Baker, economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "This would make the crop second only to that produced in 1973 which tipped the scales at $1.2 billion."

The entire cotton situation has blossomed this year due to a strong domestic as well as foreign demand, explains the Texas A&M University specialist.

"Cotton prices are reaching new heights," notes Baker, "and it's difficult to say just where they will stop. Cotton already reached the pinnacle of 88 cents per pound for October future on July 1. This translates roughly to 83 cents per pound on the Houston spot market and 78 cents to South Texas farmers for grade 41, staple 34."

This year's Texas cotton acreage is up some from last year but down sharply from the 1973 crop. Baker cites U. S. Department of Agriculture figures in noting that planted acres in Texas on June 30 totaled 4.9 million. Texas cotton farmers planted 4.3 million acres last year while in 1973 the cotton acreage totaled 5.4 million.

In addition to the rising price for lint cotton, farmers are also hoping to receive a better price for cottonseed this year. Baker feels that cottonseed prices for 1976 will be around the $120 per ton level after a rather dismal market last year.

"All in all, the market picture looks good for cotton farmers," notes Baker. "However, they must stay attuned to changing conditions to reap the highest profits from both lint and seed as the season progresses."

GRAIN SORGHUM VARIETY DEMONSTRATIONS

Zeissel Brothers have both dryland and irrigated grain sorghum variety demonstrations growing this year in cooperation with the Crops and Fertility Subcommittee and the County Extension Agent.

The dryland demonstration located by the farm to market road north of their headquarters includes 16 varieties and was planted April 9. Two varieties in this demonstration are greenbug resistant types.

The irrigated demonstration located 4 miles northwest of Munday includes 8 varieties and was planted April 22. Four of these varieties are of the greenbug resistant types.

A Recharge Battery

The Mini Charger

"What's this new GE product all about?"

Saving you money. That's what the GE Recharge Battery System is all about. Americans spend over $600 million a year on ordinary throwaway batteries. Once these batteries die, they're thrown away. This wastes money and resources.

GE nickel-cadmium batteries can be recharged up to 1,000 times or more. They last for years. They are convenient, saving you the time, trouble, and expense of replacing ordinary throwaway batteries. The more throwaway batteries you're using, the sooner the GE Recharge Battery System will pay for itself.

"Why do GE Rechargeable Batteries cost more?"

GE Rechargeable Batteries do cost more than carbon-zinc or alkaline throwaway batteries—at first. But they cost you much less than a penny a use, based on 1,000 charges. Even when the cost of the charger is added in, the entire system can pay for itself in less than a year with average use.

"Will they work as well as ordinary batteries?"

Yes, and in most cases, better. The voltage of throwaway 1.5-volt batteries continually drops throughout discharge.

GE Rechargeable Batteries maintain a relatively constant 1.2 voltage throughout most of their discharge. So appliances won't gradually get weaker if they're powered with GE Rechargeable Batteries.

Buy the Mini Charger System today and get $3.00 rebate from GE.
