More Pheasants Released In Area Wednesday, July 18

An additional 400 pheasants were released near Munday, Wednesday afternoon, July 18. This makes the third stocking in this area since October, 1977, the second being August 8, 1978.

Texas Park and Wildlife Department, in cooperation with Munday Chamber of Commerce, released these ring neck pheasants on Gaylon Hord's farm, north of Goree and Harold Partridge's farm at Sunset.

To date there have been 1200 pheasants loosed, 600 on each of the sites

Sirens Will Be Tested July 30, 31

On Monday and Tuesday, July 30 and 31, the fire siren and weather siren will both be tested at 12:00 noon, to familiarize residents with the two sounds.

Siren warning for fire is an alternating high and low, then a repeat; for weather alert, one constant double tone, with no repeat.

The first signal will be for fire and the weather alert will be sounded next on each of the two days.

We are fortunate to have these warning systems, and all of the community should acquaint themselves with the sounds in order to distinguish between them.

mentioned. Last week, pheasants were released on Lake Creek in Haskell County.

Something New Added On Curve

Inside Munday's city limits, on highway 277 east, the "something new" added this past week is a sign, showing a large arrow with reflectors, and underneath, a 35 mph sign.

The Texas Highway Department erected this sign as a safety factor for motorists.

This particular curve has proved to be hazardous in the past, with motorists quite often narrowly missing an accident, taking with them the metal post reflectors placed there as a caution.

One truck driver was not that fortunate, recently. With his truck loaded with place glass he rolled his vehicle, and its contents filled the triangle. In the past, motorcyclists have missed the curve and landed in an adjacent yard.

So in view of these and other factors, the Highway Department has deemed it necessary to erect the sign.

Parks and Wildlife Department, were present to make the release. Other observers were Robert Nix, Chamber of Commerce president, J. L. Stodghill, Mr. and Mrs. Partridge and Marion Waggoner.

Unless plans change, this will be the final release. The two men said they were real pleased with the pheasant population. There has been a good hatch and birds are reported being seen regularly, including a number of young birds. One pheasant hen was seen with 14 little ones. All of these factors cause the men to feel the project is very successful thus far.

There is no open season on these birds at this time, and you will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law for killing them.

After this release Wednesday, it will be three more years before a season can be opened by law. One of the spokesmen stated, "We will have to keep watch on the hatch and decide then."

Only one hunter has been fined, and this was in Haskell County. The fine was $203.50, and the party did not get to keep the bird.

Management and cooperation of sportsmen and landowners of Knox County is still necessary to maintain the habitat and survival of these game birds.

Both Mr. Crawford and Mr. Chapman commented, "This has been one of the best places we have ever worked. We have had real fine cooperation from the people of this area."

Vandalism Is Difficult To Understand

Vandalism, unlike theft, profits the vandal no material gain.

Wherein lies the satisfaction then? One wonders. When you observe damage done to another person's property for no apparent reason, you ask yourself, "Why?"

From time to time, here in Munday, vandalism is found. It has never reached the point of being an overwhelming problem, however.

On the Church of Christ lawn, the sign holding letters stating time of services and the minister's name, etc., has been vandalized often through the years.

It seems the glass is replaced, a few months pass and it happens again. The most recent "again" was Sunday morning when it was once more found shattered.

It is necessary for the glass to be intact for the letters to stay. So therefore, money that might well be spent for "good deeds", has to be spent to replace the glass.

Wouldn't it be great if the ones who vandaled this sign realized the senselessness of the act and chose not to do it again?

Local Firemen Attending Fire School

It is excellent training for our firemen, and Munday benefits when these men take time to attend.

Top of the second inning, Ryan Offutt caught a fly hit by Lewis. Allen was second up to bat and made a hit to right field, while Walker up next, flied a ball to Thompson at center field. Final batter was Doty, with a strike out.

Third inning play began with Dent Offutt and Urbanczyk both being thrown out from pitcher to 1st. base. Castorena was up next and struck out.

In the top of the third inning, Adams of Burkburnett made a hit to center field, advancing to third, with Cornelius up next with a fly to catcher, attempting to bunt. Martin then walked, but was thrown out by catcher when he tried to steal second. Moser was last up and flied to Thompson at center field.

Ryan Offutt was up to bat first for Munday with a strike out. Smith was hit by pitcher, and advanced to second on pass ball and on to third on pass ball. Reagins struck out, and Brown whammed a fly to short stop, retiring sides.

In the fourth inning, Burkburnett scored five runs on four hits, with Munday committing four errors. Burkburnett was leading at this time six to zero.

Thompson took the bat first for Munday in bottom of the fourth, and struck out. Stinnett was out on first, with Offutt making a hit to center field. Urbanczyk was put out on a throw from second to first.

When Burkburnett ended their batting in the fifth inning, the score remained six to nothing. Munday's turn at bat in the fifth, found Reagins safe on first, with Ryan Offutt laying the bat on one to left field, and scoring on error by catcher. Waggoner made a hit to pitcher being safe on first by fielder's choice, with Reagins being thrown out on third. Angerer up next, struck out, with Brown following, laying a good one out to right field, causing Waggoner to score. Brown was then put out on second, trying to steal.

Moser, first batter up for Burkburnett in the sixth inning struck out, with Genesi up second, walking. He was out on second, with Lewis safe on fielder's choice. Up to bat last, Allen flied out to Stinnett at short stop.

With the score six to two, Thompson struck out for Munday and Stinnett got one to pitcher, but made an out on first. Offutt knocked a fly to second and that ended the ball game.

Bank's Deposits Increase

A steady increase in deposits in the First National Bank of Munday has been shown by the bank's report of condition, which is issued quarterly in response to calls made by the Comptroller of Currency.

Deposits a year ago, shown at the close of business on July 28, 1978, were listed at $11,194,000, while at the close of business on December 30, 1978, they were $11,939,000.

The first three months of 1979 showed a remarkable increase, with the figures at the close of business March 31 being $13,543,000. Another big "climb" was recorded just recently, with the bank's report on condition showing a total of $16,716,000 on deposit as of June 30, 1979.

"Although we are in an inflationary period," Gary Schur, president said, "the steady increase in deposits also reflects very strong economy in Knox County. Above average cotton, cattle and wheat crops can be attributed to our recent growth. Our staff and directors thank our customers for their confidence and patronage with the bank and pledge our continued efforts to provide the community with the most up-to-date services available."

with Mrs. Jeanie Carden, executive director of Munday Housing Authority, Tuesday night, July 17.

Coy Tuggle will serve as inspector for the project, plumbing, materials, etc. will be checked regularly to assure that they agree with plans and requirements.

Mrs. Carden also reported to the Courier that she had contact with the Dallas office of HUD, advising her they were looking over the application for nine units requested by the Housing Authority of the City of Munday recently. So far, this is the only progress Mrs. Carden could report on this application. These units would house senior citizens and would be similar to "Newsom Homes".

Gasohol Plant Mattson Classes In Reunion In Texas Is Held Recently In Abilene Possibility

A group of Central Texas farmers have worked out an agreement to enter into a feasibility study for the design, construction and operation of a plant to produce alcohol from milo for use in gasohol, it was announced this week.

Kenneth Johnson, a farmer near Hutto and chairman of the Board for Central Texas GPI Co-operative, Inc., made the announcement following signing of a contract with GPI, Inc., a marketing and management consulting firm.

The plant would process 4,200 carloads of grain sorghum into 20 million gallons of alcohol and sizeable amounts of high quality food protein. The cost of the plant will be approximately $30 million and would take 18 months to construct, following ground-breaking. The feasibility study will take approximately three months, and if favorable, an additional two or three months would be needed for site selection and engineering. Officials are hopeful the plant can be in the Hutto area.

The Central Texas plant is one of 25 planned facilities - all farmer-owned cooperatives - to be built in the grain producing states of the nation. Discussions are already proceeding in other areas of Texas and the upper midwest. The Central Texas agreement was the first signed to proceed with the feasibility study.

"If everything goes according to our plan," Johnson said, "we would be producing alcohol for gasohol fuel within two years."

The 'Book' Report

By SHARON BOOK

Sealing failures in home canning can result from some common mistakes.

Avoid making mistakes in home canning by following these suggestions:

(1) Read and follow package instructions for using caps and lids. Don't take it for granted that all home canning caps are alike and are used exactly the same way.

(2) Leave correct amount of head space when filling jars.

(3) Take time to "knife out" air bubbles before sealing the jar.

(4) Remove particles of food, seeds or seasonings from jar top or threads with damp cloth before putting on lid. Particles left on jar rim can cause lid to seal, then, loosen.

(5) Screwing band too tight can cause lid to buckle. A band must be tight enough to hold the rubber sealing compound closely against the jar top. However, if the band is forced as far as it can be turned with a strong hand, the jar cannot vent. When the jar cannot vent, pressure within the jar causes the lid to buckle.

(6) Screw bands tight enough.

(7) Heat sufficiently to seal the lid. Follow recommended processing time and method.

(8) Exhaust (vent) steam-pressure canner for a full 10 minutes, or until a stream of "blue steam" is visible, before closing petcock.

If steam is not exhausted, there is an uneven amount of steam pressure in the canner. As a result, some lids may seal while others in the same canner load may not.

(9) Don't let pressure in canner fluctuate. This can cause food particles to be forced between jar and lid which will cause sealing failure.

The same thing may happen if steam is released too quickly after processing. Let pressure in canner reach zero degrees naturally before removing cover. Do not run cold water over canner to reduce pressure.

(10) Don't reuse jars in which commercial foods are sold. These jars are designed for use on high speed packing machines and with caps developed especially for that product, but not for home canning.

(11) Don't use warped, rusty, worn bands, or old commercial ones.

(12) Don't reuse lids. The lid of a two-piece metal cap should not be used more than once. This applies to all brands.

The compound is not guaranteed to seal a second time and the lid itself is often bent or warped when removed the first time.

(13) Don't use old jar lids. If jar lids are old, the sealing compound may harden and not soften sufficiently to obtain a good seal.

As long as the sealing compound is resilient when mashed with the fingernail, the lid will probably seal. It is preferable to use jar lids that same year as purchased. When kept longer, they often stick together and must be heated in boiling water to separate them. If jars do not seal, you may reheat and process over again. However, the product will be over-cooked and lose food value, flavor and texture.

You may keep a few jars in the refrigerator and use them within a short time instead of reprocessing.

Mrs. Don Combs returned home Monday from the Knox County Hospital, where she received treatment several days last week.

Ambush
INSECTICIDE

When bollworms or tobacco budworms infest your cotton fields there's no time for half way control measures. That's why thousands of growers rely on a new insecticide AMBUSH for dependable control.

AMBUSH insecticide is applied only when insect pressure begins to build up. So you must check your fields on a regular basis. As you know, each area will vary by climate, soil type, type cotton seed variety—so check with our representative in your area, he will give you instructions on the best method of application for your particular cotton operation.

Here are some of the important advantages you get with AMBUSH insecticide, effective control of budworms and bollworms, healthier plants, earlier maturity and bigger yields. Don't delay, order your supply today.

TEXAS TALK

The first hour on a job appears to be the most hazardous, according to a study of farm accidents in South Dakota. The report shows that in over half of the accidents, the accident occurred within the first hour of working with the "thing involved" as compared to fewer than 6.6% accidents after working for eight hours. It appears that with the variety of machines, animals or whatever a farm worker must deal with, as well as changes in weather and working conditions, the first hour requires some learning and adapting to conditions. Bill Peterson, chairman of Safety Council, says, "Perhaps a farm worker needs a checkout procedure much like a fighter plane pilot before starting a new job. At the very least, it could help the worker be aware of the extra hazard of the first hour."

Farm And Ranch News

By TOMMY ANTILLEY

A bollworm moth egg-lay prediction has been developed for Knox County.

Data from which the prediction was made was compiled daily by Dr. Jeffery Slosser, Research Entomologist, from two light traps which are located near Goree in Knox County. Increased bollworm moth egg-laying activity is expected starting July 23 and reaching its peak on August 6. Eggs should be easiest to find in the field from August 3 through August 8. Producers should inspect their fields closely to determine if bollworm eggs are being deposited and if the eggs are hatching. The need for bollworm control should be based on the number of small bollworms that can be found in the plant terminals and the level of damage that the bollworms are causing.

Prior to blooming, 15% to 25% green square damage is the economic threshold for bollworms. After cotton begins to set bolls, 8% to 10% green square damage is the economic threshold.

Beneficial insect and spider populations are moderate to heavy in most fields and will be a great help in reducing bollworm populations.

It has been shown that lush green cotton during peak egg lay will have heavy worm damage, usually more than fields that were stressed during this time. Producers should try to complete watering 5 - 10 days prior to peak egg-lay. This will stress cotton somewhat and make it less attractive to worms.

Cowans Become 'Town Folks' After Fifty Years

After being married 52 years and living on the same farm all of those years, Mr. and Mrs. Hurschel Cowan have moved "to town". They are adjusting to "town living" real well. Asked what she missed most about the farm, Mrs. Cowan jokingly said, "I guess just the dirt itself."

The Cowans married June 25, 1927 and moved into their farm home, southeast of Munday. In January, 1929, the house burned and the couple immediately began building another home on the same site.

It was in this house that they reared their family and lived these some fifty-plus years, building on to the original house and remodeling through the years. This past winter was, weatherwise, icy and a "bad winter" in general, and the Cowans spent 21 days seeing no one, other than the butane delivery man and each other. This, plus the fact Mr. Cowan hauled water for home needs eleven months out of the year, caused them to talk of "leaving the farm."

Many times heretofore, they had hauled water eight months out of twelve, but not getting any younger also became a factor.

Friends tell of how Mr. Cowan, through the years, would get a good rain on his place, filling his tank to the brim. He would then go about town, inviting all his "drinking buddies out."

When they made the final decision to move, they first felt it would not be home unless they moved their rural home into town. But this proved to be too much of a physical strain, so they bought a home, ready to occupy. Munday people know it as the Clyde Nelson Home.

Mrs. Cowan related to the Courier, "I am enjoying the short distance of travel to visit friends and my sister, Merle Dingus, living in Munday." Also, she is delighted with having more company in her home.

The Cowans are a delightful couple and have many friends in this area. Asked why they chose to spend all their married years in the same house on the same land, Mrs. Cowan remarked, "I guess you might say it was lack of initiative." However, one only has to visit with them a short while to know this is the farthest statement from the truth.

Mrs. Cowan will be remembered as a teacher in Munday Schools for 23 years. She has retired from teaching, finding plenty of activities to keep her occupied.

Grandson Of Local People With Festival

Eric Dickerson is one of only ten students to be chosen as an apprentice for the 1979 Shakespeare Festival of Dallas, according to the Director of Education, Richard Sodders.

He will gain theatrical experience, along with other Dallas students, through his work with costuming, scenery-building, prop-making, and lighting for the Festival.

In addition, Dickerson will have roles in both of the plays, "A Midsummer Night's Dream" and "Henry IV."

Although Dickerson hopes to gain professional experience in his work with the festival, he has been involved in drama and singing since elementary school. He has been active in high school choirs and talent shows, and has had major roles in school musicals.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Dickerson, natives of Munday, and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Doris Dickerson and Mrs. H. D. Matthews, Sr., all of Munday.

NOTICE

IF YOU SMELL NATURAL GAS, FOLLOW THESE 3 STEPS TO SAFETY.

The natural gas industry has an excellent safety record.

The fact that you can smell natural gas is because we add a harmless chemical to it as an extra safety feature. Otherwise, it would be completely odorless. If you detect faint whiffs of what you think may be gas, investigate. It may be something that is as easily and safely corrected as a pilot light that has gone out, or a burner valve that's partially open.

If your equipment seems to be working properly and the odor intensifies and seems to be everywhere, please follow these precautions:

1. Do not switch anything electrical on or off. Do not use the telephone in your own home. Do not strike a match. Do not do anything that might cause a spark.
2. Have everyone leave the house immediately, leaving doors open to help ventilate.
3. Go to a nearby telephone and call Lone Star Gas Company. Wait until we have found the source of the odor to determine whether it's safe for you to return to the house. You may never have a natural gas leak, but we want you to be informed in case one does occur. Please make sure your family is aware of these precautionary steps. And we suggest that you keep this message for future reference.
