Look

East

By AARON EDGAR

It took 30 years to create the first zipper!

This startling revelation was made by means of a tiny "filler" that was used in the last issue of this paper, B. V. (before vacation).

We don't know just when those things came into being, so far as their being used to close an opening in a garment, but they surely must have been a welcomed deviation from the button, hook or snap.

Likewise, it must have caused manufacturers of those items to feel like the death knell had been sounded to their industry.

Mr. Webster in his Collegiate Dictionary, which we are prone to refer to quite often at our columnist's desk, merely says that the zipper is "a fastener consisting of two rows of metal or plastic teeth on strips of tape and a sliding piece that closes an opening by drawing the teeth together."

We're glad he called those things "teeth". This gives us a clear understanding of what a fellow means when he says he "was bitten by a zipper."

It's quite a predicament to have a piece of your body—like loose skin—get caught in those zipper teeth! The 64-dollar question at such a time is to decide whether to back up the zipper, or to keep trying to go forward.

To get a shirt tail caught in the zipper presents a problem of a sort, too. Another back up or go forward question presents itself. To work loose by either method probably results in a hole being cut in the garment.

But that's not as painful as having your skin caught in one of the things!

Women were enjoying the fast zipper method of closing an opening in their garments long before they became fashionable on men's garments, we believe. It was quite a relief that, instead of messing with a batch of buttons and buttonholes in a garment, just one zip would do the trick.

We think the zipper was pretty well established before we obtained a wife. Zippers being used as fasteners in the back of a blouse presents problems at times. A husband generally comes in handy when we start to change clothes after coming home from a social event. That's when the wife catches the top part of the zippered blouse, turns her back and says: "Here, unzip me!"

At the time of buttoned shoes, we never had any idea that way out in the future there would be shoes that fastened up with a zipper! Remember those old button shoes, where you had to have a button hook to reach through the eyelets, catch the button and pull it through before you were completely dressed? Shoe laces saved the day for us, long before the idea of a zipper was ever born!

Now, we have a pair of mock-boot shoes that are fastened by a zipper!

The old saying, "button up your lip" has been replaced in many instances by "zip up your lip". We've seen persons we'd like for this to work on, provided someone had control of the zipper other than the person whose lip was zipped!

The first three letters of zipper has a variety of meanings, but the latest, we think, is the way it's used in sports reporting to mean zero. In football games, as in other sports, one team wins over the other by 21-to-zero, or such matter.

Anyway, we're proud the zipper has been invented. We don't know just what we'd do today without this little mechanism.

Just like, now we wonder how in the world we got along before Scotch tape went on the market.

It might be just as well that we zip up this week's column, thus closing the gap between sense and nonsense!

REV. AND MRS. JIM WAY and sons, Jeremy and Benji, have recently moved from Stamford to Munday. Rev. Way will pastor First Baptist Church here. The Ways lived in Stamford for over six years before coming to Munday where he was minister at the Calvary Baptist Church. Rev. Way and his wife, Gay, stated, "We are excited and very happy about our move to Munday. We are looking forward to meeting everyone in the community."

PLAY BEGINS HERE JULY 13

Munday Little League All-Stars Named

Munday Little League All-Star team members have been selected and have begun daily practice at 7:30 each evening. The Red Sox team won the league this season of play with a 16-2 standing. Red Sox coaches Lee Bruce and Ray Moore will coach the All-Stars.

The All-Star double elimination tournament will be played on the Munday field this year beginning at 7:30 p.m., Monday, July 13. The Monday night game will be between Knox City and Seymour. Munday will then play the winner of this game on Tuesday night, July 14.

All-Star players chosen from the Red Sox team are Jeffery Bruce, David Hertel, Terry Shields, J. B. Jones, and Anthony Stinnett.

Selected from the Cardinals are James Gass, Scotty Jackson, Douglas Schumacher, Jimmy Castorena, and Louis Perez.

Yankee players on the All-Stars are John Paul Browning, Jimmy Sosa, and Jerry Shields. Reggie Tucker was chosen from the Braves.

Alternates are Chris Baker and Tey Thompson from the Cardinals and Phillip Mobley from the Braves. Other team standings for the season are Cardinals, second, coached by Frank Jackson and Larry Thompson; Yankees in third place, coached by Salvador Sosa and Daniel Ramirez; and the Braves coached by David Bordovsky and Daron Parker.

A successful Little League season was possible only because these men took the time necessary for coaching, others volunteered as umpires, score keepers, concession stand workers, etc. Everyone working together has made the Little League and Pee Wee season once again a reality.

New "Boss Lion" Assumes Control

Gary Schur, newly-elected president of the Munday Lions Club, banged his brand new gavel for the first time officially at Tuesday's meeting of the club.

This was business meeting date, and discussion of some coming events, such as a watermelon feed, took up part of the time.

J. Weldon Smith, secretary, gave a financial report for the club over a year's period. This indicated that we're in pretty good shape!

Cotton Scouts Hired To Monitor Insect Activity

Cotton producers in the Rhineland area have decided to employ cotton scouts to monitor insect activity. Other cotton growers who would like to have their cotton scouted for insects may contact Vernal Zeissel, chairman of the Knox County Boll Weevil Association, or Tommy Decker at Rhineland Co-op Gin.

The purpose of this program is to gather information for making better judgment toward cotton insect control. It is actually aimed at making fewer spray applications.

The cotton scout will check fields at four locations weekly. Critical bollworm flights inspections will be made more often in irrigated fields. The cost of this scouting will be $1.50 per acre for irrigated cotton, and 75 cents per acre for dryland.

The scouts are being trained by Emory Boring, Extension Area Entomologist. A report date sheet will be left with the producer each week, showing the amount of insect activity.

Time is short, so cotton producers need to sign up immediately. They need to sign up and deposit their checks at the Rhineland Co-op Gin. Growers have already committed enough acres for a definite "go ahead" with the scouting program. Other producers who would

Cotton Damaged By Herbicides

Some 40 cotton farmers gathered in a meeting on Thursday, June 25, at the Farmers Grain Co-op in Munday to protest damage done to their crops by chemicals used in spraying of mesquite trees. The meeting here followed one at Haskell, while another was held later in Weinert.

The damage reportedly came from mesquite spraying activities carried on just south of Highway 380, between Haskell and Throckmorton. The herbicide drifted northward, covering a wide area.

Meeting with the farmers were Roland Bertrand and Bob Armstrong, with the Vernon office of Texas Department of Agriculture. These men took signed complaints of farmers, indicating the number of damaged acres. They took locations of the farms so they might inspect the damage and try to determine the cause.

The estimated damage would cover as much as 50,000 acres in the area, which extends from north of Highway 380 into Goree. Recourse for damage to the crops could not be determined.

Following similar damage two years ago northwest of Munday, the Knox County Commissioners Court established a prohibitive period for mesquite spraying in the county. This extends from April 1 through October 1, to cover the growing area for cotton and other agricultural products. Similar action by other counties might tend to eliminate such occurrences in the future.

Among Munday residents who had farming operations in the damaged area are Dwight C. Key, W. R. Moore Jr., Kenneth Baker and Barry Ratliff, who reported heavy damage to their 1981 cotton crops.

Petty Flying Service Plans Open House Of New Facilities

Jim Cottingham of Petty Flying Service has announced that open house for his new facilities at the Munday Municipal Airport will be held on Sunday, July 12.

Visiting hours will be from 1:00 to 5:00 o'clock in the afternoon.

Plans for this new hangar and facilities were completed early in 1981, and construction was completed several weeks ago on a new 100x60 foot building, including hangars, office, shop and other facilities, all under one roof.

A concrete apron connects the building to the airport runway, so planes can be easily dispatched for both storage and takeoff.

This business is located just south of Christensen's new building, on the west side of the airport, about 300 yards north of the parking ramp.

Cottingham said that several of his buddies who are model plane enthusiasts, will aid in a demonstration of these planes in performance at the open house. In addition, door prizes will be awarded, and refreshments served.

Jim and Carol Cottingham extend a cordial invitation to the public to attend this open house.

Basic Skill Performance By Munday Pupils Given

Performance of Munday pupils on Texas Assessment of Basic Skills (TABS) was explained at the June meeting of Munday Independent School board. TABS was mandated by the 66th Texas Legislature, and this is the second year for the statewide test. Last year fifth and ninth graders took the test. Third graders were added this year.

Douglas Myers, superintendent, was prepared to discuss performance by Munday pupils, explaining results from across the state were not available. He indicated release of all results are delayed to prevent comparison of different school districts.

More important is for educators to look at results of their own school system to determine strengths and weaknesses of local curriculum and to make necessary adjustments to meet the needs of pupils. Pupils are tested for their skills in mathematics, reading and writing.

Mastery of all three areas are achieved by 81% of the ninth graders who took the test. From among ninth graders, 85% mastered mathematics; 70% mastered reading, and 88% mastered writing.

Results of tests given third and fifth graders were revealed somewhat differently, indicating less importance to overall achievement, and more importance to specific areas of the three broad testing areas.

Performance by fifth graders on the mathematics section showed a high of 96% mastered units of measure and a low of 58% mastered geometric terms and figures.

Mastery by fifth graders on the reading section ranged from a high of 96% on use of context clues to a low of 59% on ability to recall facts and details.

On the writing section, 100% of fifth graders showed mastery of spelling, while 70% showed mastery of correct English usage.

High and low percentage cited illustrates extremes of results. Performance on other specific areas of the test fall somewhere between that range.

Similarly, 100% of third graders showed mastery of ability to multiply whole numbers. Sections on mathematics ranged down to 57% mastery of ability to select units of measure.

On the reading section, third grade results ranged from 96% master of ability to recognize words through phonics analysis to 48% mastery of ability to identify main ideas.

Third graders taking the writing test showed 100% mastery of spelling, while 70% demonstrated mastery of punctuation.

Herring, Deubler Wedding Ceremony Held In Breckenridge

Tonda Herring became the bride of Ricky Deubler double ring ceremony at three o'clock in the afternoon on June 6, 1981, in Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Breckenridge. Rev. John Howlett, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic Church in Graham, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Herring, Jr. of Breckenridge and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Herring Sr. of Rhineland and Mrs. Elaine Gulley of Munday. Mrs. Fay Deubler, also of Breckenridge, is mother of the groom.

Church decorations included an archway of greenery and fern accented with pink and burgundy tiger lillies. Candelabra entwined with greenery and containing pink candles flanked the altar.

Presented at the altar by her father, the bride wore a Victorian gown with a princess silhouette designed by Bridallure. It was fashioned from chiffon and Venise lace. The Gibson Girl neckline and sleeves were both accented by point d'esprit and Wedgewood lace. The gown was completed with satin ribbon accents and a cathedral train. She wore a picture hat covered with pearl embellished Venise lace and a satin bow, and carried a cascade of white stephanotis, gardenias and camellias interspersed with English ivy.

Peggy Wimberley of Breckenridge was maid of honor. Kandi Herring, sister of the bride, and Mary Ann Albus of Knox City, cousin of the bride, were

They wore identical formal length gowns of pink chiffon layered over satin with cape sleeves and a chiffon flower accenting the waistline. Each carried a white lace fan and a nosegay of pink and burgundy tiger lillies tied with ribbons of both colors.

Flower girl was Amanda Gulley of Munday. She was dressed in a formal length dress of pink chiffon trimmed with pink and burgundy flowers and ribbons.

Joey Fambro served as best man. Ray Herring of Munday, uncle of the bride, and Chris Chrisman of Odessa were groomsmen. Randy Deubler of Big Lake and Danny Gulley of Munday were ushers. Justin Herring of Munday served as ring bearer.

Traditional wedding music was provided by organist Robin Herring of Munday. Charles Decker of Amarillo sang "Follow Me" and "For Baby".

The bride's parents hosted a reception following the ceremony in the Breckenridge Woman's Forum. Holly Chrisman of Odessa registered guests. Members of the house party included Mmes. Arlen G. Howle, O. J. Hall and Don Chrisman.

The bride's table was decorated with crystal can-

Wedding Ceremony Unites Stasia Carver, Gary Antilley

Marriage vows uniting Anna Stasia Carver of Benjamin and Gary Don Antilley of Guthrie were read Saturday, June 6 at the First United Methodist Church in Knox City at five-thirty in the afternoon. The Rev. James Patterson performed the ceremony, before an alter setting of candelabra and greenery.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Carver of Benjamin, and the parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Frank K. Antilley of Wingate.

Providing wedding music at the piano was Mrs. Charles Griffith of Benjamin, and soloist was Mrs. James Patterson. Vocal selections were "Annie's Song" and "Candle on the Water" from "Ice Castles".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an original gown of white lace and chiffon. The fitted bodice with an elongated waistline of re-embroidered Alencon lace was enhanced with a Queen Anne neckline and sheer Bishop sleeves with deep lace cuffs. The full chiffon skirt fell into a chapel train. She wore a long mantilla of imported English illusion with re-embroidered Alencon applied overhead and down the sides.

In keeping with tradition for something old, the bride carried a lace covered Bible that belongs to her aunt; for something new, a diamond ring, a gift from the bridegroom; for something borrowed, pearl earrings borrowed from the maid of honor; and for something blue, the traditional blue garter.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Shannon

Ryder of Benjamin. Bridesmaids were Becky Welch of Gilliland, Wendy Pollock of Benjamin, and Tammy Collins, sister of the bride, also of Benjamin. The attendants wore identical dresses in white voile over buttercup yellow taffeta. They were fashioned with fitted bodice accented with sheffley lace and a Pirot neckline. The skirts were full and the waistlines were defined with spaghetti belts. In their hair they wore combs with white daisies, baby's breath and yellow ribbon with long yellow ribbon streamers entwined. They carried small bouquets that matched their hairpieces.

Johnny Pritchard of Winters was best man. Groomsmen were Tommy Antilley of Bowie, brother of the bridegroom, Bill Cathey of Wingate, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, and Bob Burkett of Guthrie.

Ushers were Russell and Kenneth Anderson of Kernes, cousins of the bride.

Candlelighters were Brandi Anderson of Miami, cousin of the bride, and Shelly Antilley of Austin, daughter of the bridegroom. Their dresses were identical to those of the maid of honor and bridesmaids.

Ringbearer were Dustin Antilley of Miami, cousin of the bride. Flower girl was Jami Antilley of Austin, daughter of the bridegroom. She wore a dress of yellow cotton with a white cotton pinafore.

A reception followed in the fellowship hall of the church hosted by the bride's parents. A white net appliqued cloth covered a yellow cloth on the serving table. Crystal and silver appointments were used. A three-tiered wedding cake with white daisies and yellow punch were served, with yellow and white mints and assorted nuts. The bride's bouquet was used on the table. Serving were Mrs. Earl Webb of Rochester, sister-in-law of the bride; Mrs. Tommy Antilley of Bowie, sister-in-law of the bridegroom; Mrs. Bill Cathey of Wingate, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Bob Burkett of Guthrie.

Debbie Lindsey of Benjamin registered guests.

Distributing rice bags and scrolls were Dustin Anderson, Scott Antilley of Bowie, nephew of the bridegroom; Cara Cathey of Wingate, niece of the bridegroom and Jennifer Burkett of Guthrie.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the bridegroom's parents at Judy's Cafe in Benjamin.

The bride is a May graduate of Benjamin High School. The bridegroom is a graduate of Winters High School and Texas A&M University. He is employed as County Extension Agent for King County.

Following a wedding trip to San Antonio, the couple will reside in Guthrie.

For travel the bride wore a lilac and white pin-striped seersucker pants suit with a solid lilac linen jacket to match.

City Council

City of Munday, veto the resolution of June 17, 1981 granting the Munday Housing Authority an increase to 99 units. (Smith consulted with Mayor Reid prior to the vote and agreed additional information was needed prior to final approval—thus concurring with the veto.)

Mayor Reid next asked for questions in regard to the veto. Jeanie Carden of Munday Housing Authority spoke in favor of the transfer and increase to 99 units. The units, she felt, would work well in conjunction with other rental units. Other information was given in regard to probable amount in lieu of taxes to City and School, etc. M. L. Wiggins also commented in favor of the transfer. Larry Smith commented in regard to government control in setting rents and income limitations. Some people would be unable to live in the units, Larry said, due to income limitations. This should concern us greatly, he said. Polling of several persons who put up $200.00 each also revealed reservations by a majority of those consulted as to continued government control over the units.

Mayor Reid explained needed procedure to comply with a vote on the veto. After discussion, Selzer made a motion to sustain the Mayor's veto. Booe seconded. (Yes sustains the veto, No kills the veto.) Mayor Reid polled each member: Booe, yes; Smith, no; Selzer, no; Hardin, no. (Vote to sustain required 2 votes, had only 1) Veto was over-ridden. June 17, 1981 increase to 99 units for Munday Housing Authority will stand as recorded in minutes. Mayor Reid then signed necessary papers increasing Munday Housing Authority unit limits to 99. The City Council vote, most felt, would assure continued operation of Munday Home Development Corporation units (by the Munday Housing Authority) and keep them available for rental units with the least amount of problems.

Other agenda business was on garbage rates. Tabled due to need of more information. Selzer moved for adjournment. Hardin seconded. All for.

Medicare Medical Insurance Premium Now Eleven Dollars

The monthly premium for the medical insurance part of Medicare increased to $11 for the 12-month period starting in July, Social Security District Manager in Vernon said.

In spite of this increase, people should know that they are paying less than a third of the cost of this insurance. More than two-thirds is paid by the U. S. Government from general revenues, not from social security taxes, Mr. Harper said.

Medical insurance helps pay for doctor's services, no matter where they are received in the United States, in an office, home, hospital, Harvest progressed northward this week as scattered showers and some heavy rains slowed down harvesting activity. Average completion was reported at 43% as of June 28, with Texas 84% complete, Oklahoma 95%, Kansas 55%, Nebraska 15% and Colorado 4%. Sporadic weather conditions have plagued this year's harvest, slowing down what started out to be the earliest harvest on record; however, completion stages were well ahead of last year's harvest progress as of this date.

Heavy rains came through the Hard Red Winter Wheat Belt this week, helping to alleviate some dryness in areas not recently affected by the sporadic moisture. Hot, humid weather continued over the southwestern wheat area, which is very common for this time of year, helping feed grain crops achieve significant growth. Extended forecasts project normal to above-normal temperatures, with little precipitation forecast for the southwestern Hard Red Winter wheat area.

Tender business for the week slowed down considerably after ten days of active purchases of the U. S. wheat, while Sri Lanka bought 2.5 million bushels of Hard Red Winter wheat and 1.2 million bushels of Western white wheat. Israel also purchased 800,000 bushels of 12 protein hard wheat for January. Markets exhibited strength midweek due largely to being oversold, but also due to the markets' concern over reports that hot weather may be damaging Soviet crops, but to what extent is still uncertain. Producer selling increased moderately on this strength, but still insignificant when compared to the volume of grain becoming available to the marketplace. Compared to previous years, the producer is marketing a significantly smaller volume of grain in hopeful anticipation of higher prices.

Wheat export inspections for the previous week increased significantly, as this year's figures greatly exceed last year's after the initial weeks of reporting. Milo business increased during the week, with Israel purchasing 1.2 million bushels and Venezuela reviewing offers on 12.8 million bushels of optional corn and or/milo. Harvest of this feed grain crop has begun in southern Texas, and is expected to progress rapidly northward in the next two weeks.

Cotton Marketing Options For Growers Cotton growers need to map out a sound marketing strategy for this year's crop due to a lackluster market and possible high world production. Marketing options suggested by an economist with the Texas A&M University System are these: establish a selling price by forward contracting or hedging in the futures market and arrange delivery at some future date, sell at harvest, hold and sell later, or place cotton under the Commodity Credit Corporation loan program and hope the price will go up.

Hospital Adds New Monitoring System; Plans Other Facilities

On July 7, 1981, E P Industries of Dallas, Texas installed a new CARE Patient Monitoring System manufactured by CMP Corporation of Huntsville, Alabama. The CARE system is the first to be installed in Texas. The primary system is being purchased for the hospital by the Ladies Auxiliary with the hospital incurring charges for additional components.

The CARE system provides Knox County Hospital with the latest technology in cardiac monitoring capabilities. It will provide monitoring capabilities for two patients, with the option for six additional patients as deemed necessary by hospital staff. The system will also allow the patients the flexibility to move about the hospital freely while being monitored.

In related matters, the hospital Board is still pursuing the remodeling or construction of a replacement hospital for Knox County. With the addition of another physician, it is hoped the hospital utilization will increase to a point that would justify the improvements. The architects plans have been reviewed by the Board and financing alternatives are being considered prior to any final action by the Board.

In an effort to provide more public awareness of the hospital, recent Board action will result in the minutes of the Board of Directors meetings being made available for publication in area newspapers. Additionally, the financial statements will be made available to the media on a timely basis for publication.

When asked about the outlook for the future of the hospital, Tom Haden, administrator, commented he felt more optimistic now than ever before. "With the addition of Dr. Newton Neufeld to the medical staff the hospital will have the services of another talented surgeon in addition to complimenting the existing medical staff. Haden said Dr. Neufeld was called upon to perform a recent emergency surgery and reported Dr. Neufeld was satisfied with the enthusiasm and cooperation of the staff as well as the physical capabilities of the hospital. "In addition to the surgery, we have also had two deliveries in the past few weeks," Haden said.

Haden was recently appointed to the Texas Hospital Association (THA) Texas Voluntary Cost Containment Review Committee and has traveled to Austin on two occasions to represent the smaller hospitals in regard to fiscal management. Haden said, "The smaller hospital has many obstacles to confront in order to maintain solvency in today's economy. Hospitals must be staffed to meet an expected service level and when these levels are not met the hospital can suffer financially."

"The smaller hospital often has one person serving in the capacity that larger hospitals delegate to two or more persons. As a result, when a slack period ensues and the larger hospital react with a personnel layoff, the small hospital generally has to retain their respective employee in order to fill the need in only one area. As an example," said Haden, "our Dietary department must be staffed with not less than one employee regardless of how few meals are prepared. It is very difficult to lay off a half of a person, yet the alternative of maintaining our capabilities is necessary due to the unpredictable nature of this unique business."

Knox County Hospital is the smallest hospital represented on the THA committee. Haden has been very instrumental in presenting the plight of the smaller hospital and his representation on the committee has identified the similar yet paradoxical role of the smaller hospital as it relates to the larger hospitals in Texas.

April Werley And Ricky Stamps Marry In Crowell Ceremony

April Gay Werley and Ricky Lynn Stamps were united in marriage at eight o'clock in the evening on Friday, June 12, 1981, in Crowell in the home of the bride's grandfather, C. M. Carroll.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Werley of Crowell, and Mr. and Mrs. Dee Stamps of Graham are parents of the groom.

Rev. Joe Ainsworth, pastor of First Baptist Church in Electra, performed the ceremony.

Decorations included arrangements of pink carnations and lavender daisies, accented with pink candles in a container of silver and marble.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a white eyelet peasant style street length dress, accented with satin ribbons at the waistline. The skirt of the dress ended in a full ruffle. She wore a white rose hairpiece and carried a white rose bouquet displayed on a white Bible belonging to her mother.

Connie Gentry of Lubbock, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a dress of pink dotted swiss fabric, accented by a ruffled neckline and hemline. The dress was trimmed in white lace with a silk rose at the v-shaped neckline. She had a hairpiece of carnations and baby's breath. Mrs. Gentry carried a bouquet of pink carnations and baby's breath.

Dickey McCanlies of Benjamin served as best man. Cody Stamps of Benjamin was ring bearer and Rianna Branson of Lubbock was flower girl.

Steven Setliff sang one selection and Steven and his wife, Lee Ann, sang a duet. The Setliffs are from Crowell.

The bride's parents hosted a reception in Mr. Carroll's home following the wedding ceremony. Assistants included Myrna Walker, Joyce McGinnis and Jean Fish of Crowell. Dana Carroll of Cee Vee, cousin of the bride, Ann Hollenbaugh of Crowell, and Pat Kuehler of Rhineland served the guests.

The table was centered with the three tiered wedding cake which had pink and lavender roses and white doves on it. A bride and groom of china accented the top tier. This china bride and groom were used in several weddings in the bride's family. The table was covered with a white cloth trimmed in lace. The centerpiece was an arrangement of pink carnations and lavender daisies.

The couple went to Ruidosa, New Mexico for their wedding trip.

The bride is a graduate of Crowell High School and Texas Tech University. She is employed by the Texas Agricultural Extension Services as County Extension Agent of Home Economics in Knox County.

The groom graduated from Benjamin High School and attended South Plains College in Levelland. He is employed by Rolston Metal Building Systems in Benjamin.

The couple will make their home in Benjamin.

Senior Citizens Enjoy Singing

The senior citizens held their monthly singing on Thursday, June 25, with guest singers from Knox City, Red Springs, Goree, Olney and Graham. Duty at the piano was shared by Mrs. Tom Christ of Knox City and our own Mrs. M. L. Raynes. The song leaders were Mr. Young, Olney; Mr. Robertson, Red Springs; Mr. Christ, Knox City; Mr. Wilson, Graham, and Nolan Phillips. A most enjoyable time was had by all.

Refreshments of sandwiches, chips, cookies, coffee and tea were served to 54 present.

We would like to thank one and all for a very enjoyable evening and invite anyone that likes to sing or just listen to the next singing on July 22 at 7:00 in the Community Center.

Curb Food Waste, Save Grocery Money

How much food in your home goes to waste?

How many grocery dollars does it stand for?

Most consumers throw away more food than they realize in many cases--leftover vegetables, meats, milk that turns sour and bread that goes stale.

Throwing these nutritious foods out is the same thing as throwing away pennies, nickels, dimes, quarters and even dollars at meal time.

Try some of these tips to conserve food you spend money for--real savings depend on your storage and preparation habits, as well as on buying:

BUYING

Buy foods in amounts your family will eat for one meal--or amounts you can set aside in the freezer or refrigerator for later without wasting.

Don't get carried away buying fresh foods on special if you can't store them properly to prevent spoilage.

Fresh peaches at 49 cents a pound are no bargain if you buy four pounds, eat three pounds and throw one pound away.

STORAGE

Wrap leftovers properly for freezer or refrigerator.

In the refrigerator, always cover foods with wax paper, foil or plastic wrap--or store them in a plastic bag or a container with a tight-fitting lid.

Foods stored uncovered lose moisture and can pick up flavors from other foods.

Foods for the freezer should be packaged in moisture, vapor-resistant packaging such as plastic containers, foil or freezer paper.

Label packages before putting them in the freezer.

Bread needs special storage, too. Store breads in their original container or in an air-tight container.

It's true that breads keep longer in the refrigerator, but they also can become stale there. For toasting later, this is no problem. But for other uses, freeze bread. Freezing is best for long-term storage.

Keep fresh vegetables in the refrigerator crisper or a plastic bag--all except potatoes and dry onions. Potatoes and dry onions need cool, dry storage.

Keep milk fresh by placing it in the refrigerator immediately after shopping. Don't leave milk sitting on the counter--even during mealtimes!

Store flours and grains in containers with tight-fitting lids. Whole-wheat flour becomes rancid rather quickly, so keep it in the refrigerator for long-term storage.

PREPARATION

If your family doesn't like leftovers, prepare only the amount of food they will eat at one meal.

Involve family members in meal planning. Ask them what and how much they will eat. A cooperative effort is a definite key to saving money on the food bill.

Here are two food-saving-success steps to use in preparation itself:

For "no like bread crust" families, trim off the crust and save it to toast for croutons or bread crumbs atop casseroles--if the family will accept crust any of those ways.

In buying frozen vegetables, buy the bags, take out only the needed amount and save the rest for later.

Create your own food-saving success steps, and before long, you'll have a long list of ideas that really make an impact on the food budget.

WATCH YOUR HABITS
With rising food costs, economy is more important than ever before--in buying, storing and preparation.

To ensure your family the greatest economy possible, keep a list of foods you throw away for one week. Study the list and decide what changes you can make.

These changes can mean a big savings on the family food dollar.

YARD OF THE MONTH honors went to Mr. and Mrs. Al Latham. The selection is made by Munday Garden Club. The focal point of the yard that aided the judges in their decision was the beautiful gladioli in bloom. Other flowers in the Lathams' yard include marigolds, petunias, potted geraniums, and day lilies, which all together give the yard a variety of color.

The Herbert Partridges Are Back Home In Munday

Herbert and Alice Partridge have returned to Munday to make their home after an absence of about eight years. The couple have lived in Vernon during that time. Mrs. Partridge recently retired from the position of librarian at Vernon Center South drug unit, which is a system administered by Vernon Independent School District. Previous to this position, which she has held since 1973, she taught English in Munday High School, and also taught in the Dallas school system. Her retirement ends a tenure of 39 years of teaching. Mr. Partridge is associated with Henkel Corporation of Minnesota, a chemical subsidiary of General Mills, and will also continue his farming interests in this area, as he has done while living in Vernon. The Partridges purchased the residence of the late Mr. and Mrs. Oates Golden some time ago, and are now at home there. The people of this community are fortunate to have this fine couple return to make their home here. An article was written recently by Hanaba Noack for the Vernon Daily Record pertaining to the positive contact Mrs. Partridge has had with the youths at the Vernon Center. Always urging them first to read, but if they did not heed, also having an excellent supply of video tapes and other ideas to instill in the young people the need for learning. Former students of Mrs. Partridge at Munday High School could most definitely identify with these statements, as she worked diligently, encouraging children always to learn. Through the years Mrs. Partridge, working as a coach for Interscholastic League competitors, had approximately thirty students to qualify as state winners in various literary events.

Kelly Fisher Is Munday's Delegate To Lions Convention

Kelly Fisher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Homer, was a representative of Munday High School and was sponsored by the Munday Lions Club as a member of the District 2E-1 Lions Band which performed at the Lions International 64th annual convention held recently in Phoenix, Ariz.

This was the first time Munday Lions have had a representative to such an event. The band was made up of band students over District 2E-1, with various clubs having representatives in the band.

Kelly gave a detailed event of her trip in a letter to the Munday Lions Club. The letter follows:

Dear Lions:
I'm sorry I couldn't be there to tell you about my trip in person, but I thought I would write and tell you about it.

The first two days were spent at Cisco Junior College. The first day, Saturday, the band spent about eight hours practicing. We had tryouts for chairs first, in which I received third out of seven clarinets. Monday morning we were scheduled to leave at 8:00, but you know how schedules go. The charter bus arrived at 9:00, and then we were unable to fit our luggage on it and the two vans. The bus went on to Odessa, where we were to eat lunch, and the vans went to get a U-haul. Somehow, the vans were separated and the bus waited in Odessa for three hours at Furr's Cafeteria; therefore, we missed Carlsbad Caverns.

We arrived in El Paso around 9:30 and stayed in homes of Lions members. Tuesday morning, we left for Phoenix at 8:30 and arrived that afternoon. We stayed at Arizona State University. Tuesday night we ate out and then went to a dance sponsored for the teen-agers with the Lions Club.

Wednesday was short rehearsal, marching in the parking lot for parade that night, and then we went to a huge shopping center for the afternoon. After walking all day, we marched in a parade at 7:00 in 110 degrees for 2,000 Texas Lions and over 20,000 Lions from all over the world. A Texas representative liked what he heard in our parade and asked us to attend a convention the next morning, which was the 25th Annual Lions Club meeting in which Vice President George Bush was giving a speech. We were asked to play "The Eyes of Texas" for him, since he is from Texas. The secret service men had us put all our horns down on the ground so dogs could sniff them. Needless to say, it was an exciting experience. Thursday afternoon we spent at the Big Surf in Tempe, which is a man-made beach with a wave-making machine, and a water slide, and lots of fun. That evening we played a concert for Texas

Lions on the fifth floor balcony of Height Regency. Afterwards, a delicious barbecue was enjoyed.

Friday morning we loaded up and started home. We stayed at El Paso again, this time at the University. We were taken to a movie, two loads at a time, on the vans that night.

Saturday morning we got to sleep until 8:00, which was heaven. On the way home one van broke down, so those kids piled in the aisle of the bus, and we went about ten miles to a rest area. We were glad to have an excuse to get outside and roll around in the grass and get some fresh air for a change.

We finally arrived in Abilene at 8:10. Despite the few hardships, we kids all cooperated well, and it turned out to be a fantastic trip.

Robbie's grade point average was 3.7.

SELF-CONTROL CAN BE THE SMARTEST THING YOU DO THIS SUMMER...

Self-control can be the smartest thing you do this summer. Sometimes you have to cut down on the things you like, that takes self-control. Self-control is important when you overindulge in too many calories... or when you over cool your home. It can be rough on your pocketbook if you set your thermostat too low on hot summer days. WTU recommends setting your thermostat at 78 degrees or higher. Clean or replace your air conditioner filter at least once a month so your unit will operate as efficiently as possible.

Living For Today

It comes very difficult for most of us to live in the present. To live in the present requires activity which the past and future forego. It is generally relaxing to remember the good old days. There is something about retrospect that makes things more pleasant, more satisfying, more exciting than they actually were when they occurred.

When the present offers little besides work and frustration, we sometimes indulge in fantasies about the future. We dream of higher wages, less work, bigger houses, and better relationships. Without realizing it, we allow such thinking to actually rob us of life today. Newlyweds can't wait for the day they can have children of their own. That day finally arrives and they are simply elated for a few months and then they discover the responsibilities of parents, and begin to anticipate the day their children will be more mature. All too soon that day arrives and their children are gone. Then you may hear something like this: "Enjoy your children while you can." This pattern is typical of many people who never learn to live for today.

Jesus spoke to this problem first of all when he said, "Take no thought for the morrow, for the morrow shall take thought for the things of itself. Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof." If you live for today, tomorrow will take care of itself. If you want your tomorrow to be a brighter day then you're going to have to take care of what is at hand.

Jesus had this to say about looking back, "No man, having put his hand to the plough, and looking back, is fit for the kingdom of God." Paul later said in his letter to the Philippians that he forgot all those things which were behind and pressed forward. A man ploughing and looking back is sure to make a mess. Today is worthy of all our energy, all our devotion, and all of our attention. The past cannot be returned and the future we look for may never come, and that leaves today for us to live in and be what we should be. Greater contentment awaits us when we learn to live right now.
