We don't know why one is generally regarded as a "common" cold.

We find nothing basically common about one, except that it is no respecter of persons. It will attack those of us known as "the common herd", or will go into the palaces of kings, queens or monarchs, there to do its dirty work.

It is common knowledge, however, that once you take one, you've got it. When it gains hold it hangs on as tenaciously as a playful bulldog pup.

We hear of catching a cold. We think we never have done it. We don't go about trying to find, and catch, a cold. The dratted thing catches us, instead.

That's when we feel uncommonly puny!

One of the definitions we find in our reliable reference book, Webster's New Collegiate Dictionary, is that a cold is a "disordly body condition, esp. of the respiratory tract, caused by exposure; a catarrh; coryza." And there's nothing common about this definition!

A lot of smart people, when they sense a cold about to come to grips with them, will make a hurry-up trip to their doctor and get them to give aid in the battle. We'll have to admit that this is the correct and proper thing to do.

We're just not smart enough to recognize it. Our first impulse is "aw, this is just gonna be a slight head cold, and we'll whip the thing in nothing flat." By the time we realize how wrong this line of thinking is, we're too ashamed to go to our doctor and ask him to take charge in the eighth inning and try to pull the ballgame out of the fire for us. We don't feel much like making the trip, either.

There are such home remedies as vicks, mentholatum, ben-gay, aspirin or anacin, maybe some cough drops or other relief medicines in the medicine cabinet. Generally, within a matter of days we feel like we have the upper hand.

Then's when we're reminded of what a friend once told us about his trip to the doctor's office for cold treatment. "Doc," he said, "how long is it going to take us to whip this thing together?" "About two weeks," the good Dr. D. C. Eiland replied. "How long will it be if we just don't do anything, and let the thing run its course?" "About 14 days," Chase said with a smile!

A cold caught up with us about two weeks ago. When Bridge became aware of this, she asked, "Where did you catch a cold?" We responded, "I don't know where! All I know is that I have one."

It wasn't long until she knew where she caught it!

She's a firm believer in the fact that colds are contagious, and she proves her point every time we take one before she does. It's a wonder she's lived with us this long!

We've had a duet of activity, such as coughing and wheezing, runny noses and watery eyes, applications of home remedies and facial tissues, and a general non-talkative attitude as the hours pass slowly by. Even the change to daylight savings time hasn't been of much benefit!

As we write, we approach the end of the two weeks, or 14-day period, and it's plumb amazing how true the words uttered in jest by Dr. Eiland are proving out to be true!

We've decided that the best thing possible for us to do is this:

If we contact the cold first, just have a nice-sized doghouse to hibernate to; or secondly, go apply for admission in the nearest hospital while we're yet ambulatory and remain there until the danger period is over; or thirdly, commit some crime, get arrested, then incarcerated in jail until the danger period is passed.

In that way, maybe just one in our family will have a "bad" cold!

Our best reply to one who announces that he, or she, has cold is: "Gee, you've got bad company!"

Golf Tournament

Knox County Voters Approve Gene Nix For Sheriff's Job

Gene Nix of Munday, who is serving an unexpired term as sheriff of Knox County following his appointment on December 16, 1981, won approval of Knox County voters for an elective term in last Saturday's Democratic Primary.

Nix is serving as interim sheriff after Sheriff James Redwine resigned the post, followed by a two-day interim by Van Green.

Over 1300 votes were cast countywide, according to Democratic officials, and in the sheriff's race Nix garnered a total of 1,029 votes. He was opposed in his first elective term bid by Benny Archer, who received 296 votes.

Nix attended the police academy in Abilene in 1976, and in January 1977, took office as constable. He then served as patrolman for the city of Munday before accepting the position of chief deputy in February, 1981.

In an interesting race for justice of the peace, Precinct 2, Pate Meinzer, rancher from the Benjamin area and lifelong resident there, won the nomination with a total of 262 votes. Others in the race were Janice Tolson, who received 130 votes, and Imeagan Young, with 52 votes.

The four-way race for County Commissioner of Precinct 2 resulted in a runoff between Wayne Sutton of Vera and incumbent Bobby Roberson of Benjamin. Sutton received 134 votes, while Roberson totalled 166 votes. Sammy Pierce and Fred Carver each received 76 votes.

In the race for Commissioner of Precinct 4, incumbent Lee Patterson of Goree was returned to office with a total of 226 votes, as compared with 146 for his challenger, Chester Smith, also of Goree.

Track Boys Travel To Regional

They will depart Munday at Thursday noon. Pre-lims are scheduled Friday afternoon at 2:00, with finals at 2:00 p.m. on Saturday.

Group Sets May 24 As Uniform Planting Date

A group of cotton farmers and their wives, determined to wage battle against the boll weevil threat in Knox County, unanimously agreed on May 24 as the uniform cotton planting date for Knox County.

This was in a meeting of farmers and their wives on Monday evening, May 3, at the Munday elementary school gymnasium.

Vernal Zeissel chaired the meeting, and reported that around 220 persons were in attendance.

They enjoyed a fish fry catered by Stanley White of Stephenville. The meeting was sponsored by the Knox County Building and Crops Committee and the Knox County Boll Weevil Association.

Emory Boring, entomologist of the Texas A&M Extension Service, made an interesting talk on the importance of a uniform planting date in the area to control overwintering boll weevils. He stressed that it is necessary to set the date late enough that there will be no 1/2-grown squares for weevils to feed on after they emerge.

County Agent Charles Sipel outlined some of the projects of cotton farmers that are expected to be carried out this year.

The uniform planting date varies according to localities, but rarely is it set before May 20. It was agreed that May 24 was the most likely date for Knox County cotton farmers.

Fewer Planted Acres

Texas farmers intend to plant at least half a million fewer acres to crops this year due to financial troubles and to be eligible for farm program benefits, says an economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Cotton plantings will likely be down more than a million acres to about 6.3 million. Planting of barley, oats and rice are expected to be down only slightly.

If you believe that...

Steel doesn't rust. Lightweight gearboxes last. Any pipe diameter will do. Energy costs are a minor matter. Structural strength isn't too important. The resale value of pivots is about the same. A solid dealer is just a luxury.

Then you probably shouldn't buy a Valley Center Pivot

Because Valmont has spent literally millions of dollars making sure that steel doesn't rust by insisting on total galvanized protection.

Because they've spent a million more making sure that the Valley® power train, particularly gear boxes, is the toughest, so tough that thousands are now installed on other systems.

Because any size pipe will not do. Failure to have a mainline that's energy efficient can cost you more than the cost of the system in operating costs. We use unique ValCom computers to make sure.

Because, after ten years, resale value varies tremendously from the price of junk to plenty. A tough protected Valley comes under the heading of "plenty".

Because solid, structural strength means that you can count on a Valley system during the whole life of the equipment.

Because the past three years underscore the need for first-class service and parts.

These are a few of the reasons. We'd like to tell you more and we'd like to see you soon.

Valley dominates the field.

Do You Believe In The Supernatural?

The supernatural is a subject that draws a great deal of attention today. By that word some mean the realm of powers that some claim to possess that place them above other people. An example would be the psychic powers of fortune-telling.

Computers are smarter than people! Just as predicted by Charles Baker's "print-out-doctor", Laci Michelle Myers arrived on April 12, 1982, at 5:15 p.m. Her parents, Danny and Tena, are delighted with their 7 lb. 2 oz., 19 1/2 inch daughter.

Grandparents, who are equally pleased, are Mr. and Mrs. Leo Koenig and Mr. and Mrs. Billie J. Myers. Laci also charms two great grandmas, a great-granddad, and three great-great-grandmothers.

It's A Girl!

Jay and Paula Haynie of San Antonio announce the arrival of their daughter, Jacy Kristen, April 21, 1982, at 10:00 p.m. She weighed 7 lbs. 9 oz.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John Averitt of San Antonio and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Haynie. Great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Greenwood, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Walsh, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Haynie Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Averitt of San Antonio.

She also has great-great-grandparents, Mrs. Delia Arnold of Seymour, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Averitt of Knox City, Mrs. W. H. Clonts, Knox City, and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Proffitt.

The word supernatural has fallen on disrepute because of its abuse by the occult. The word is good, however, and quite important.

Christianity is a supernatural religion. There is great conflict in our country today between two philosophies or faiths: humanism and theism. Humanism would place man at the center of the world and claim that he is the highest being. Theism would place God at the center of the universe and the highest being. Humanism would restrict reality to the "natural order" - nothing more than man can do. Theism (including Christianity) stands on the premise that there is a God who is greater than and creator of the natural order.

Now, what is so important about this? It is a matter of the object of our faith and hope. If humanism is true, our only hope lies in man and what he can do. This means there is no eternity because man is finite and temporal. If Christianity is true then our hope is in God, who is infinite and eternal. God is unlimited in His power.

How wonderful it is to know that we are not at the mercy of circumstance but have a God who is above and has power over all circumstances. How exciting to know we have a God who can do what we never can. He can forgive sin, change

Poem Enjoyed By A Number Of People

A number of readers have commented to The Courier personnel that the poem in last week's edition brought a smile to their face as they could certainly identify with it.

Mrs. Williams asked that we let the readers know that her sister, Mrs. Alene Greenway of Dallas, did not write the poem, only shared it. Mrs. Williams stated the author was unknown to her. We thank Mrs. Williams for sharing it with us.

lives, mend broken homes and relationships, heal, strengthen and save to the utmost of all who trust Him.

If you are discouraged or in need, I recommend that you focus your faith in Jesus Christ, our supernatural God. Trust Him who has no limit. Give your life to Him and let Him give you life on a new level - eternal, abundant life. Answer Him who says, "Call unto me, and I will answer thee, and show thee great and mighty things, which thou knowest not." (Jeremiah 33:3)

Osteoporosis Almost An Epidemic Problem

Osteoporosis is a degenerative disease resulting in thin, brittle bones that break easily. It attacks primarily older persons, particularly post-menopausal women. And it is now "almost an epidemic problem in our society," according to Dr. Robert Recker of the Creighton University School of Medicine.

Recker, who heads the university's Metabolic Research Unit, supports his point with statistics showing that, after age 50, the frequency of hip fractures in women begins to rise dramatically. In fact, he says, one-third of all American women in their

Mary Baker To Speak In Aspermont

The Aspermont chapter of Women's Aglow Fellowship will meet on Thursday, May 13, at 7:30 p.m., in The New Place in Aspermont. There will be no nursery for this meeting.

Speaker for the meeting will be Mary Baker of Lubbock. Mary and her husband Durrell have four children and two grandchildren. Mary is an active member of Trinity Church and is hostess for the Mary Baker Show every Wednesday morning at 10:30 on KJAK FM Christian Radio.

Mary is a prayer leader for Rays of Hope Prayer Ministry in Lubbock. She speaks to many Christian women's groups in Texas and other states. She has also been a guest on the P. T. I. Club television show.

Mary attended Texas Tech University and is currently writing a book called "Joy in the Mourning".

The Aspermont WAF chapter issues a special invitation to all interested area women to attend.

90's have suffered a broken hip.

But Recker believes there's hope for post-menopausal women. Simply adding three daily servings of milk or other calcium-rich dairy foods to their diets, he says, may halt osteoporosis.

Other researchers, however, see this as trying to reinforce the frame after the house has been built. One, Dr. Harold Draper of the University of Guelph in Ontario, says there's little evidence to suggest that adding calcium to the diet late in life can reverse the course of osteoporosis.

But, says Draper, the key to preventing osteoporosis may be to maximize bone mass before old age by eating liberal amounts of calcium-rich foods throughout early and middle adulthood. He adds that women should be particularly mindful of including a steady, life-long source of this essential mineral in their diets.

Preventing osteoporosis is

The group of ladies at the First Baptist Church who are members of the W. M. U. prepared a delicious meal for the Munday High School senior class on Monday, May 3, in the fellowship hall of the church.

not simply a matter of drinking milk throughout your life. There are also other factors that complicate the picture - factors such as genetic and racial background, hormonal levels and occupation.

But a strong, healthy skeleton, nonetheless, seems to withstand the ravage of osteoporosis. And a strong, healthy skeleton is the result of eating adequate amounts of calcium, phosphorous and vitamin D - all nutrients readily available in fortified dairy foods.

Common Broomweed Easily Controlled

Common broomweed infests rangelands to a greater or lesser degree every year. During years with mild, wet winters and adequate spring moisture, broomweed may become a very serious problem on rangelands. Forage production is reduced by this unpalatable, low-value plant in that it is a strong competitor for water, nutrients and sunlight.

Producers are often heard to say, "The broomweed has taken over in my pasture this year; what can I do to control it?" In too many cases these statements aren't heard until the first of June or later and by that time there is no easy solution to the problem.

Broomweed is highly susceptible to herbicides when it is in the vegetative stage and is growing rapidly. As it develops toward maturity, it becomes increasingly resistant to control with herbicides.

Results of past research indicate that one-half to one pound of 2,4-D (2,4-Dichlorophenoxyacetic acid) per acre applied when broomweed is between four and eight inches tall will provide satisfactory control. This is about the time when broomweed is going from the vegetative stage into flower bud formation. On the average this will be somewhere between April 15 and May 30 in Knox County.

Positive identification of broomweed early in the season along with timely application of herbicide are the keys to a successful program for the control of broomweed. I will be happy to assist you in identifying your weed problems and formulating an effective control program. Contact me before you develop a serious weed problem. You'll be glad you did.

CATLEMEN CHALLENGED

Cattlemen need to understand who their customers are today and their concerns for diet and health, said J. D. Sartwell of Port City Stockyards in Sealy at the recent Beef Cattle Short Course at Texas A&M University sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. He called for more economy in beef production and more attention to promotion and marketing of the product.

Cattlemen must continue to provide beef in the way that consumers want it. They also need to explore ways to increase sales of beef, especially in the export market. New product development should also be explored.

GRAIN OUTLOOK BLEAK

Texas farmers face low grain prices because of a record U. S. crop last year and good crops throughout the world. The market concern now is how fast corn and grain sorghum supplies can be used before the '82 harvest season, says an economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

The fact that feedgrain exports are off to a slow start this year and that forward sales are considerably behind last year add to the bleak picture for grains. However, increased livestock feeding due to low grain prices could improve the situation some.

Alert To Hog Producers

An outbreak of pseudorabies among hogs in Texas should alert producers to the need for testing new arrivals in a herd for that disease, Dr. John W. Holcombe, executive director of Texas Animal Health Commission, said recently.

Pseudorabies is a herpes virus disease of swine that can also affect cattle, dogs, cats and some wild animals. It is spread by contact with infected animals.

Thus far, four herds are under quarantine in Texas, and there is a possibility the total could go to 20. They are located in central and north-west Texas.

Source of the infection is believed to be from a herd in Illinois. A swine conference and sale was held in Lubbock recently, and it is believed that the infection was centered there. About 54 producers purchased hogs at that sale, and it is feared the hogs were exposed to the disease.

Dr. Holcombe urged all swine producers in Texas to make it a practice, though it is not required, to have any hogs they buy from out of state isolated from their herd for 30 days and then retested for pseudorabies.

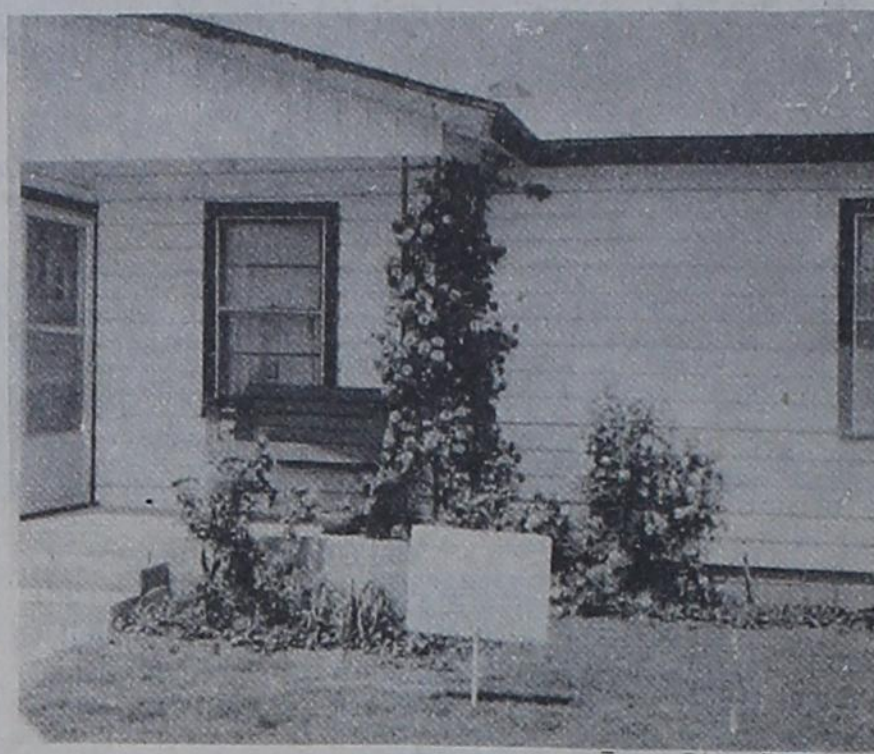

A herd which is quarantined for pseudorabies must pass two negative tests within 60 days before it can be released from quarantine.

Pseudorabies is rare in Texas, with only one case being confirmed in 1980, and only three herds quarantined in 1981.

"It's something we don't need to panic over, but it is a situation that calls for surveillance among all of our state's hog producers," Dr. Holcombe said.

UNDERGOES SURGERY

Mr. and Mrs. J. Weldon Smith remained in Ft. Worth last week, where Mrs. Smith received medical treatment at Harris Hospital. She underwent surgery last Friday, and is reported to be responding to treatment.

YARD OF THE WEEK selection by Munday Garden Club judges is the yard of Mrs. Evelyn Elliott at 541 West Irving. Roses in bloom and the overall neatness of the yard was the deciding factor in presenting the honor.

Sorghum Team Sees Potential In Italian Poultry Industry

A change in consumer demand may open a new Italian market for grain sorghum. Italian housewives are asking for poultry with a very white fat. In fact, they are even willing to pay a little extra to get it. This is a reversal in buying choices. Until recently, the notion prevailed in Italy, as in many other parts of the world, that a healthy bird must have yellow fat.

"Just a few years ago, we were trying to convince Italian housewives that the color of the fat made absolutely no difference in the quality of the meat," said Elbert Harp, executive director of Grain Sorghum Producers Association. "We even had poultry nutritionists develop rations with additives to produce the yellow color in the fat of poultry."

Harp and Dr. Earl Gleaves, poultry specialist with the Nebraska Extension Service, were in Italy April 17-22 to meet with feed manufacturers and poultry and egg producers. The project was sponsored by U. S. Feed Grains Council and arranged through their director for Italy, Dr. Romano Graziani.

"We were able to tell the Italian poultry producers that they can have poultry rations as good, or better, than those they are now feeding if they will use grain sorghum - and that it will produce birds with white fat," said Harp. "They are definitely interested in trying sorghum. We will need to help them set up trials for demonstrations."

The Italian poultry market is definitely one that is worth promoting, according to Harp. "If they decided to use sorghum as the principle grain in their broiler and turkey rations, it could amount to sales up to 40 million bushels of sorghum per year or the equivalent of 5 percent of the annual U. S. grain sorghum production."

Coulston Cited As Outstanding In Area

Tahoka school superintendent Jim Coulston has been selected as "Outstanding Superintendent of Area VI Distributive Education Clubs of America (DECA)". He is one of only six superintendents in the state to be so honored, and received his award from the state organization at the state meeting in Corpus Christi, April 24, 1982.

The Tahoka superintendent was selected from 30 possible superintendents in this area. He was nominated by his local chapter in appreciation of his support, and their letter, submitted to the Evaluation Committee, stated, "He always backs up a club in the school when going to contests. He traveled 596 miles round trip to be there to cheer us on when we won and to comfort us when we lost." Another adds, "Few school officials support every aspect of school life as Mr. Coulston does."

The DECA area includes a region from Oklahoma on the north to O'Donnell, Texas on the south and from New Mexico east to Wichita Falls.

Coulston, a native of Vera, is a former teacher in the Throckmorton and Goree school systems, former superintendent of Harrold Independent School District, and is beginning his sixth year as superintendent of the Tahoka Independent School system.

His wife, Nelda, and two children, Michelle and Jonathan, attended the state awards presentation in Corpus Christi. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Coulston of the Vera community.

GREAT American cooking

Americans Invented Light Cakes

Tomato Spice Cake is light and airy in the American tradition.

Thousands of cakes are right now probably filling kitchens with heavenly aromas. No wonder Americans have a national passion for cakes that are light, luscious and high-rising. You just might even say Americans invented them. Toward the end of the 18th Century, some unknown Colonial baker discovered that a certain fine ash made his cakes lighter than usual.

This substance, actually potassium carbonate, produced carbon dioxide in a batter, causing it to rise. Until then, the only way to make baked goods light was to beat air into the batter or to add yeast or spirits.

Over the next hundred years came the invention of baking soda, baking powder and more accurate ovens. The result? A host of new cakes brightened the American scene. Layer cakes, devil's food cakes and upside-down cakes were the talk of the times.

New expressions, too, found their way into our vocabulary. "That takes the cake" means "that's the ultimate." It originally referred to a cake given as a prize.

Here's a cake that "takes the cake" for mouth-watering goodness. Tomato Spice Cake has captured the fancy of several generations of Americans since it appeared in a Campbell Soup recipe book in 1925. Its basic ingredients are still a trio of fragrant spices and its unexpected use of condensed tomato soup as an ingredient.

Full flavor and a rich golden brown color make this a festive addition to buffet tables as well as a welcome gift from your kitchen. Bake it in layers, in a single sheet or in a Bundt pan. Add your own touches from today's wide assortment of nuts, fruits and icings but it will be the same cake your grandmother made for Sunday dinner.

- Tomato Spice Cake
- 2-1/4 cups cake flour or 2 cups all-purpose flour
  - 1-1/3 cups sugar
  - 4 teaspoons baking powder
  - 1 teaspoon baking soda
  - 1-1/2 teaspoons allspice
  - 1 teaspoon cinnamon
  - 1/2 teaspoon ground cloves
  - 1 can (10 3/4 ounces) condensed tomato soup
  - 1/2 cup shortening

Burglars Raid Munday Tire And Appliance

Pork Campaign Aimed At Health, Diet

A vigorous promotional campaign by the National Pork Producers Council is telling Americans about the many virtues of pork, with emphasis on health and diet. Theme of the campaign, "America, You're Leaning on Pork", is based on what pork can do for you rather than just promoting the product, said an NPPC official.

Pork is lower in cholesterol than both beef and chicken, it's nutritious and it has less calories than most other meats. Ground pork is coming on the scene and should have a major impact on the industry.

Mrs. Dude Coffman and Mrs. Tommie Harlan have returned home from a visit with Beverly Bellinghausen and Chris at Kingwood, near Houston. They spent eighteen days there while Urban was in Africa on business.

Medicare Carryover Deductible

Covered medical expenses incurred in the last three months of the year may no longer be used to meet the deductible for the next year under the medical insurance part of Medicare.

Under prior law, a person who had not already met the annual deductible could use three months of the year to meet the deductible for the following year. This was called the carryover rule because medical expenses from one year were carried over into the next year.

The carryover rule was recently eliminated and was effective with medical expenses after October 1, 1981. As a result of this change, no medical expenses in 1981 can be carried over into 1982.

The medical insurance (Part B) annual deductible for 1981 was $60. The deductible for 1982 will be $75. The annual deductible is the amount of medical expenses a person must incur before payments can be made under the medical insurance plan of Medicare.

Preservation Week Proclaimed

Governor William P. Clements has proclaimed Preservation Week in Texas, May 9-15, and called upon the people of the Lone Star State to recognize and participate in local observances dedicated to the conservation and appreciation of historical resources.

The Texas commemoration of Preservation Week is part of a national program sponsored by the National Trust for Historic Preservation, with local leadership from the Texas Historical Commission and many community heritage organizations across the state.

Governor Clements noted that the homes and buildings constructed by our forefathers represent the investment of their skills, energy and financial resources, and that many of these structures merit preservation and continued appreciation. The conservation of such landmarks bestows cultural, social and economic benefits to present and future generations of our society, according to the governor.

Governor Clements also observed that the Economic Recovery Tax Act of 1981 has established tax credits for the certified rehabilitation of historic buildings. The governor's proclamation further suggested that the reuse of older buildings can help solve such contemporary problems as poor housing, depressed inner cities, declining small towns and energy shortage.

For further information about Preservation Week, contact your county historical commission or the Texas Historical Commission, Box 12276, Austin, Texas 78711.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Nichols of Levelland visited Christine Burton and other relatives here during last week. They were also looking after local business interests.

JACK HIGHTOWER
13TH DISTRICT, TEXAS

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
WASHINGTON, D. C. 20515

Dear Friends,

It has been my honor to serve as your Congressman for almost eight years now. Before that, I served for twelve years in the Texas House and Senate. I am grateful for your continued support and for the faith you've shown in re-electing me as your advocate in Washington.

This year, I again need your help to continue our effort to provide you competent, personalized representation. With your help, I want to continue the fight to cut runaway government spending, balance the budget, rebuild our national defense and restore the economy to health. As a member of the House Appropriations Committee, I am in a unique position to translate your concerns into action.

I've traveled continually throughout our huge district and know many of you and your families on a first-name basis. I've answered thousands of your letters, visited you at home and at work, and spoken to your organizations. I've fought hard to find solutions for your problems. And I've spoken for you in the halls of Congress and throughout the large, impersonal federal bureaucracy.

We've accomplished a great deal together. There is still much to be done. We must reduce the federal deficit and balance the budget to lower interest rates and provide a stable, productive economy. We must strengthen the pillars that support the basic economy of the 13th Congressional District: agriculture, energy and small business. That means we must restore the profitability to farming and ranching and we must eliminate the excessive federal tax bite for the petroleum industry. We must lower the record interest rates that are strangling our small businesses. We must strengthen our defense so that no hostile nation can threaten the precious freedom we've won at so great a cost. And we must continue the fight to make government the Servant, not the Master, of our people.

The key issues in the November election are these:

1. Who has the personal experience, the knowledge of the district, and the legislative ability to fight and win your battles in Congress?
2. Who has the kind of respect and influence with the leaders of both parties in Washington and Austin that ensures your voice is heard?
3. Who has a proven record of legislative and personal accomplishment that will benefit the people of the 13th District of Texas?

We face difficult times, both as individuals and as a Nation. We do not expect to find any easy answers to the problems of our economy, or to the troubling domestic and foreign issues we face.

But I believe our greatest days are yet to come. The dream of liberty that America represents must continue—will continue—and I am dedicated to representing the people of the 13th District in every forum and at every opportunity in order to perpetuate that dream. My pledge to you is simple: Honest, tireless service. Competence. An Open Door. Solid, responsible, respected representation.

As we open our campaign, I know that I will be talking to many of you in the coming days. I will also be listening.

I ask for your continued faith, support and vote in the November election.

Sincerely,
Jack Hightower

HONEYBEES HELP VEGETABLE GROWERS

Honeybees play a key role in pollinating Texas' $100 million crop of cucurbits - watermelons, cucumbers, cantaloupes, pumpkins, squash and gourds. Some 66,000 acres of cucurbits are grown throughout Texas, and the crops need insect help to transfer pollen from male to female flowers so that the female flowers can produce fruit. That's where honeybees come in, says a horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. Honeybees account for about 85 percent of all flower pollination.

Heart Assoc. Elects New Officers

The Knox County Chapter of the American Heart Association held a meeting at Munday Community Center, Monday, May 3, at 5:00 p.m. This was the last meeting until September. Mary Kay Porter, regional representative from Seymour, was present as a guest.

New officers were installed at the meeting. Mrs. Velma Melton will serve as president; Mrs. Shirley Gass, vice-president; and Jeanie Carden, secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Melton will also serve as delegate to the annual meeting. The nominating committee included Barton Carl, Mrs. Becky Offutt and Mrs. Winters Matthews.

To date Knox County has received $2,862.00 to benefit the Heart Association. This total includes business donations, special events, residential donations, special gifts and memorials.

Mrs. Brenda Smith, who has served as program chairman the past two years, reported that Knox City and Munday schools have taken advantage of films keyed to the elementary child. She also made available a film shown to the Munday 4-H club during the year. Comic books and coloring books are provided to go along with the films.

Any teacher in the Goree, Benjamin, Knox City or Munday schools who feels the films and books can be useful need only contact Mrs. Melton during the 1982-83 school year. A program chairman will be working for the Knox County chapter, but Mrs. Smith felt the teachers may need to know the films are available in order to work them in their lesson plans for the upcoming year. *****

Student Benefits Cut Back

Social Security began paying student benefits in 1965 based on the presumption that students aged 18 to 22 were dependent on their parents for support just as much as those children under age 18. However, since 1965 numerous programs have been established to provide financial aid to college and university students. Basic Educational Opportunity Grants, Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants, National Direct Student Loan Programs and Guaranteed Student Loan Programs are some of the better known federally funded educational programs. These non-Social Security programs provide about $7 billion a year in student assistance.

Considering the above, student benefits under Social Security are being phased out under a special provision of the 1981 Omnibus Reconciliation Act. No student benefits are payable after April, 1985. This will be accomplished by:

1. A cumulative 25% reduction in benefits effective September 1982, September 1983 and September 1984 for those students entitled to benefits for August 1981 and who begin post-secondary school before May, 1982. Any school that is not an elementary or secondary school is considered a post-secondary (i.e., vocational/technical/trade schools junior colleges, colleges and universities). These students may continue to receive benefits through April, 1985 or through age 22. They will not, however, be paid during the summer months of May, June, July and August for 1982, 1983, 1984 and 1985.

2. Termination of certain student benefits at age 19, instead of age 22 as provided under the old law. Effective August, 1982, a student's benefits will terminate at age 19 if his first month of entitlement to child's benefits is September 1871 or later, or he was not in full-time attendance at a post-secondary school in April, 1982 or earlier. Accordingly, benefits to a student attending an elementary or secondary school will terminate at age 19 effective August 1982 unless he has not completed his diploma or certificate requirements and is in full-time attendance in the month he reaches age 19. In this case, he may receive benefits until the first day of the month following the end of the quarter or semester which is in progress. In summary there are two basic rules for phasing out student benefits:

1. Students in elementary and secondary schools will have their benefits terminated at age 19, effective with benefits after July, 1982. 2. Students who are entitled to child's benefits for August 1981 and who are in full-time attendance at a post-secondary school before May 1982 may continue to receive benefits through April 1985 but will suffer reductions in their benefits. No benefits will be paid these students May through August beginning May 1982. *****
