Hounds Fall Short In Bid To Stop Moguls

Aided by a fired-up homecoming crowd and a slew of penalties, the Knox City Greyhounds gave Munday about all they could handle, but the Moguls hung on for a hardfought 14-0 victory in Knox City Saturday night. The win, the Moguls' fifth this season, brings non-conference play to a close.

The standing-room-only crowd watched the Moguls batter out yards through the middle of the Greyhound line, only to have penalties slow or halt the drives. Although Knox City showed a surprisingly strong effort against the Moguls, their attempts to score were hampered by the highly acclaimed Munday defense, which stopped the Hounds on the Munday 1 for four because Knox City's failure to score gave the Moguls new life.

Munday kept the ball for a 17play drive late in the quarter that extended into the final period, eating up yardage and time on the clock. Just inside Knox City territory, another penalty hurt the Moguls, and they were eventually forced to punt away their chance for another score. But it was too late for the Hounds to muster a comeback attempt, and their last-minute desperation plays were all for naught. The game ended as the first half did, with the Moguls ahead 14-0, and both teams left the field with nothing to be ashamed of.

The Moguls will begin district play Friday night on their home

A short business meeting will follow the meal, after which the audience will be entertained by the Imitation Stats of Seymour. This group has performed for several functions in the area and has gained excellent reviews for their renditions of Statler Brothers hits. Games of bingo will be played after the musical program.

Don Welch, Farm Bureau manager, asks that members planning to attend the convention pick up their tickets by Monday, October 14, so they will know how big a crowd to plan for. Tickets are $1 each, and the money will be refunded at the door the evening of the convention.

Lions Pancake Feed On Tap October 18

Munday Lions have set Friday, October 18, as the date for their annual pancake supper to be held at the Munday High School cafeteria. Mogul fans are urged to eat a meal of pancakes and sausage before attending the Munday-Throckmorton game here.

Tickets will soon be available from members of the Lions Club, and more details will be printed in next week's Courier.

Reminder To Fans

District football games will begin at 7:30 p.m. to accommodate the fall evenings when darkness comes a little earlier. But the excitement doesn't just start at kickoff time. There is plenty to watch before that as the teams take the field for their warmups, cheerleaders get fans and pep squads in a winning spirit and bands take their places.

Opening ceremonies include school songs, the National Anthem and a prayer. So come early, find a good place to sit with friends and watch all the pre-game activity, then enjoy a Mogul win!

This week the junior high teams will play at Windthorst beginning at 5:30 p.m.

successive downs.

Munday's first score, as usual, came early in the first quarter. After receiving the opening kickoff, the Moguls were immediately penalized five yards. Lining up on his own 26 yard line, Mogul quarterback Dent Offutt floated a pass to Anthony Stinnett, who broke away for 74 yards and the first touchdown of the game. Ronny Lowrance added the extra point, and Munday fans settled back to watch a typical Mogul rout.

But it was not to be, as the Hounds began hitting the Moguls for losses. The referees set the tone of the evening in the first quarter, calling five penalties on the Moguls for a total of 40 yards, while penalizing Knox City three times for 15 yards. Thus, a defensive struggle ensued, with neither offense making much headway.

Another long pass gave the Moguls their second score. After a penalty on a punt gave Munday good field position, Offutt again targeted Stinnett with a 37-yarder, and Stinnett crossed the goal with 9:04 left in the first half. Lowrance's second kick was good, and the Moguls led 14-0.

A determined Greyhound defense, frustrated offensively, barely let the Moguls off their side of the field the remainder of the half, and a Greyhound interception ended Munday's first drive of the third quarter, setting up Knox City's most serious scoring threat. Beginning on their own 33, George Rocha and Anthony Oudems alternated carrying the ball for steady chunks of yardage. But penalties delayed the drive, and gaining ground got tougher inside the 10. Faced with four chances on the one yard line, the Greyhounds were stopped cold by Hollis Adams, Russell Smith, Randy Kuehler, Neil Waggoner and Ryan Offutt. This was probably the key series of the entire game, field. The Windthorst Trojans are Munday's first District 3-A opponent, coming to Munday with a 0-5 record for this year. Key players for the Trojans are all-district tackle Doug Schlumpf, center Darin Wolf, guards Lloyd Wolf and Robert Krahl, tight end Bryan Hoffman, quarterback Jason Berend, running backs David Hanes, Ronnie Wolf and Willie Hoff and split end Tony Schenk. Kickoff time for district games is 7:30 p.m.

Comments

I think the kids were surprised at how tough Knox City played us. We played well overall, but Knox City was very high emotionally, and they do have a strong ballclub.

Penalties hurt our drives. Some of these were caused by overagressiveness, which wasn't very smart on our part. However, I did feel we were victimized by some bad calls. Knox City changed their tactics considerably, and we weren't really expecting it. They had everybody going outside, forcing us to run up the middle, and Ronny Lowrance probably played his best game of the season before getting hurt. We hope to have him back in the lineup in a few days.

We played good defense, especially when they drove to our fourinch line and we stopped them on four downs. After that, our offense kept the ball for a period of about 8 minutes, following our game plan.

Knox City didn't turn the ball over to us, so we didn't start our drives with the good field position we are used to. They made us work for what yards we got, but we made them work, too. It was a tough, physical game, much like a playoff game, and we were pretty beat up at the end. But I imagine they were in the same shape.

We're looking forward to beginning our district action. Windthorst has a very young team and will undoubtedly be pumped up for the game with Munday.

NEW HOUSEPLANT CARE

There's nothing quite as nice or quite as pleasant to a plant lover as selecting a new houseplant for his home, apartment or office. Yet, nothing can be more frustrating than having that same plant almost immediately start to look bad.

There are a number of reasons why an otherwise healthy plant may do this when you bring it home. Most of the time the problems are related to the home environment, which is usually less than ideal for plant growth.

One should keep in mind when buying a plant that there is no perfect houseplant; that all so-called "house" plants grow naturally outof-doors in their native habitat. And very few indoor environments can come close to the native habitat to which your plant is accustomed. There are many factors which can spell success or failure for a houseplant. Such things as light intensity, fertilizer in the soil, watering practices, drainage, and insect and disease problems, among others.

much more than others. If the spot you picked out for your houseplant does not have enough light, consider using either regular fluorescent lights which are adequate for most foliage plants, or the newer wide spectrum fluorescent lights that are made specifically for plant growth.

- Water your plant only when needed, and not on a set schedule. Plants will usually give some indication of when they need water. Checking the soil occasionally to determine when it's still moist will give you some idea of when it's time to water.

- Soil drainage is important if your houseplant is to live a long and happy life. Regardless of the kind of container your plant's growing in, it must have perfect drainage.

- Fertilize sparingly. More ferti-

Power or telephone poles, barns, pens and oilfield equipment are in this category. Plans to avoid burning across or through such hazards should be made well in advance of the burning date. It is also a good idea to decide what wind directions the fire can be burned with. It is not a good idea to move smoke across public roads or

An Other decisions will have to be made as the burning season approaches, but getting started early with planning will make the burn safer and easier to carry out. For more information about planning prescribed burning and the benefits of burning, contact the Soil Conservation Service in Knox City.

If you're a proud new plant owner, faced with caring for that new addition to your family, here are a few points to ponder:

- Investigate the requirements of the particular plant that you're bringing home. Many books have been written on houseplants and can tell you where the plants grow, what kind of environmental conditions it prefers, whether it's a high or low light requiring plant, and what insect or disease problems it may be particularly susceptible to.

- Leach the soil occasionally. Leaching refers to the process of thorough watering where a large quantity of water is washed through the soil. Leaching helps to eliminate excess fertilizer salts which may have accumulated while the plant was being grown.

- Proper lighting is very important. All plants require light; some lizer is not usually the answer to a plant's problem -- it may even kill the plant. A half-strength fertilizer applied four to six times a year, primarily in the summer or when the plant is making its best growth, is usually adequate.

- Disease and insects may occasionally pose a hazard for your plant, though improper cultural practices cause the demise of more houseplants than all the insect and disease problems combined.

- Outside is usually better for houseplants than inside. So if your plant needs to recover from an extended "illness" and the weather is mild, put it outside in partial shade, water it thoroughly and usually it will begin to recover quite rapidly.

Note: Remember, hanging baskets and container plants placed outside may need to be watered in the morning and mid-afternoon while the temperatures and evapotranspiration rates are extremely high.
