Area Ginners Hoping For Dry Weather

There is still cotton in some fields that have been too wet for the farmers to strip. Area gins are waiting patiently to finish up the season.

Munday Gin and Seed were expecting at least 20 more bales as of last Friday. They have ginned 2,028 bales.

Knox Prairie Co-op hopes to finish in the next week or two. They are expecting close to 300 more bales to be brought in. Their total thus far is 3,000.

Rhineland Co-op has ginned 8,400 bales this season, and are expecting approximately 300 more. This is a big drop from last season, having processed 13,800 bales. The Gilliland area brought in most of this season's crop. They hope to finish up in the next two weeks.

Goree Producers Co-op is waiting on close to 200 bales to add to their total of 3,726 thus far.

It hasn't been the best year for the cotton growers, with the hail, insects, and bad weather giving most of them a late start. Well, what else is new. Maybe next year will be better.

Rebate Checks Show Slight Increase In '93

State Comptroller John Sharp recently delivered a total of $98.7 million in January sales tax rebates to 955 Texas cities and 109 counties, a 3.7 percent increase over their payments of one year ago.

"As a whole, Texas continues to outpace the nation in terms of economic growth," Sharp said.

This month's sales tax payments to Texas cities and counties include taxes collected on November sales and reported to the Comptroller in December by businesses filing monthly tax returns.

Knox County earned a combined total of $11,553.33 in tax rebates for the three cities receiving checks. This was just $108.86 more than received in January of 1992.

Munday's 1.5% tax rate earned the city a check for $4,780.44, a 20.95% increase over last year's January total.

Goree's rebate showed an increase of 37.93%. They received a check for $752.52.

Knox City received a check for $6,020.37, a 13.33% decrease compared to last year's check for $6,936.38.

Benjamin did not receive a check for January.

Comparable rates to surrounding counties are as follows:

Haskell County received $17,655.83, a 19.86% increase compared to 1992. Haskell earned $15,241.80, Rochester earned $865.89, and Rule received $1,548.14. O'Brien and Weinert did not receive a check.

In Baylor County, Seymour's tax rebate check was $7,518.44, a 1.62% decrease in last year's January total.

The Liberty Bell's inscription, "Proclaim Liberty throughout all the land unto all the inhabitants thereof", is from the Bible.

FFA SWEETHEARTS Brandy Branam and Jacy Dillon did the honors of handing out the trophies and ribbons to the stock show winners this past weekend in Munday. They are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Branam of Munday and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Dillon of Knox City, respectively.

Dear Marion,

Thanks for another year of your paper, we enjoy it so much.

I would like to see you profile some of the old settlers, the old timers, while they still live - where they come from, how long there, major changes they have seen, things like that. After all they helped build Munday.

Melba Feemster

Kathy Bufkin, 4, and Rebel Rainwater and Tracy Condron had 2 each.

The boys lost their game 47 to 25. Richey Trepanier and Robert Estrada scored 8 points each, Jimmy Barrientez and Riley Carver, 4 each, and Jim Bob Conner made 1 free throw. These were good games.

Here And There

Pat Barton returned home Saturday after a weeks visit with her granddaughter and family, Lorie, Curt and Brittany Coop, and granddaughter, Jennifer Rolston, in San Angelo.

Shane Milson of Alice was a visitor in Benjamin one day last week. He came by the courthouse and we all enjoyed seeing him.

Bill and Dorothy Spikes were in Wichita Falls Friday for Bill to see his doctor. He got a good report and that's always good news.

Pearl Ryder and I attended the funeral of Archie Struck in Gore Wednesday.

Betty Lyles attended the funeral of an uncle in Iowa Park on Thursday.

Nell Hudson and her daughter, Belle Zoch, were here a few days last week to visit and for Nell to check out her home. Nell seems to be doing much better and was glad to be able to spend a few days at her home.

What's That Sound ...

If you bought a new refrigerator within the past few years, you've probably noticed that it sounds "different".

Here's why.

New refrigerators use only half as much electricity as older models. In fact, a new 20.6 cubic foot refrigerator with top freezer uses no more electricity than a 75-watt lightbulb. Most new refrigerators are also larger and have such added conveniences as automatic defrost systems, icemakers and perhaps even a "built-in" look, resulting in different sounds as:

* High-pitched whine from more energy efficient compressors that have smaller, higher speed motors.

* Soft hum from the evaporator fan in the freezer and/or condenser fan under the refrigerator.

* Clicks from the automatic defrost timer switching on and off, the thermostat turning the refrigerator on and off, or the water valve refilling the icemaker.

* Boiling or gurgling/trickling water when the refrigerator stops running, the defrost water runs

If a student is registering for the TAAS writing test and also needs the mathematics and/or reading test, he/she should use one registration form.

The Texas Education Agency and the National Computer Systems will not be responsible for registration forms that are delayed or lost in the mail. To ensure that individuals are registered, forms should be sent either by registered mail or certified mail.

Questions concerning out-of-school examinee testing should be directed to the Texas Education Agency, Division of Instructional Outcomes Assessment, (512) 463-9536.

Remember - these registration packets are only for individuals who are not enrolled in a Texas public school.

into the drain pan or the refrigerant circulates in the system.

* Running water as the ice cube tray fills, and thuds as ice cubes drop into the storage bin.

To help deafen these new sounds:

* Make sure the refrigerator is level and the defrost water collection pan is in position (usually reachable behind the bottom front "toe plate").

* Put carpet or sound absorbing ceiling tile on the wall behind the refrigerator.

* Allow enough space between the back of the refrigerator and the wall unless it is designed as a "built-in". Check your use and care book for the needed space.

To reduce compressor "run time":

* Vacuum the condenser coils at least twice a year, more often if you have pets.

* Keep your freezer at least three-fourths full. Use partially-filled water jugs to fill empty space.

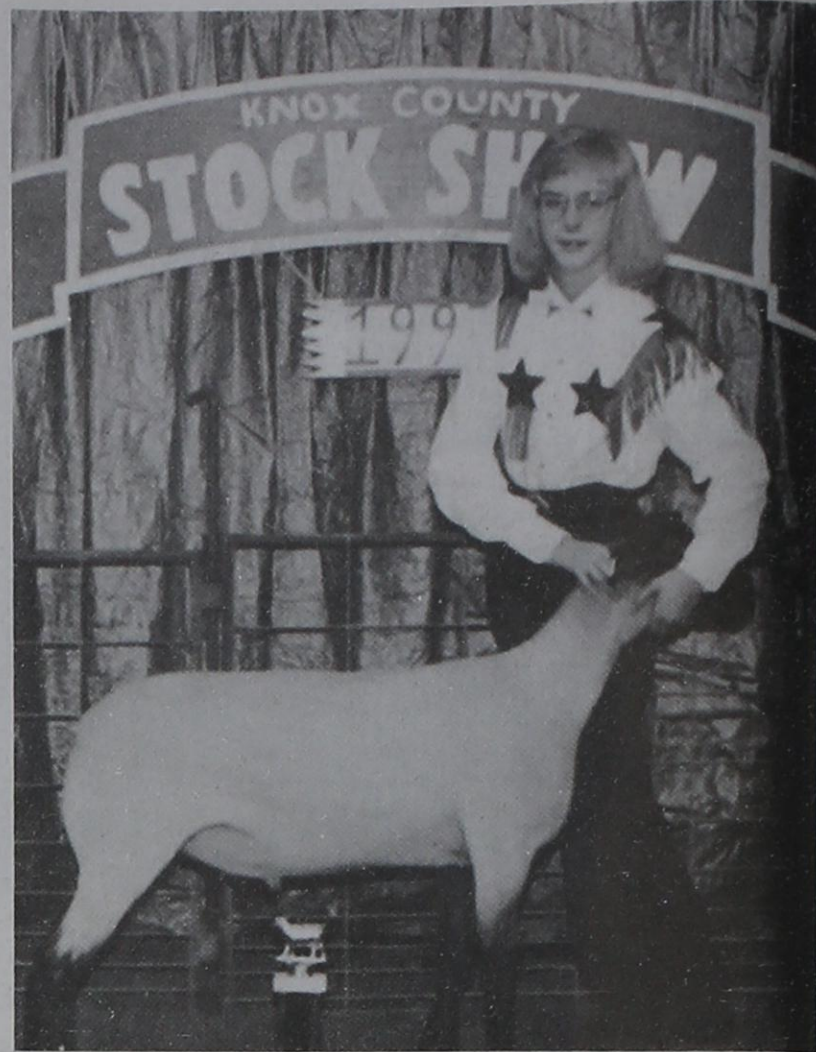

Some consumers report that their refrigerators are "louder" than an identical model in a friend's or relative's house. This may be due to the number of people in the house as well as different furnishings and room arrangements. Carpeting, drapery, upholstered furniture and wall coverings can help muffle refrigerator sounds.

Sweets For Diabetics?

Dessert recipes that call for sugar may be okay for persons with diabetes if each serving ends up with one teaspoon of sugar. To check it out, you can:

Divide total amount of sugar in teaspoons by the number of servings per recipe.

Example: If the recipe calls for 1/4 cup of sugar (12 teaspoons per 1/4 cup) and the recipe makes 12 servings. Divide: 12 teaspoons divided by 12 servings = 1 teaspoon per serving.

Even though he's only weeks old, this calf has a lot of power behind him. And a lot of green pastures ahead.

Meeting the electricity needs of Texans today is a real challenge. While maintaining respect for the environment, we must balance cost and reliability without becoming dependent on any one fuel.

That's why in the early 1980s, a group of electric cooperatives got together to build a power plant that uses a local fuel resource, lignite coal. Today, this efficient scrubber-equipped plant provides 400 megawatts of low-cost power to homes and businesses served by cooperatives in 91 Texas counties.

Keeping our commitment to the environment in mind, we are also making sure that we put things back better than the way we found them. The land reclamation program at this plant's mine is turning what was once a cactus and mesquite patch into a grassy, productive home for livestock and wildlife.

Pathways

by Randy White, pastor First Baptist Church

Self-control is a rare commodity in our world. "Flying off the handle", "loosing your cool", "blowing your top", are things we see from people every day. Often we are the one who "boils over".

In Matthew 5, Jesus gave us an attitude that really will help in this area. He said "Blessed are the meek, for they shall inherit the earth." I think the Lord is telling us to have this attitude -- "I CAN CONTROL MYSELF."

Being meek does not mean you are a doormat for the world to step on. Being meek means you have the ability to control yourself. It means that if the situation calls for anger, you can be angry. But if the situation calls for tenderness, you can be tender. Many of us are angry when we need to be tender--or sometimes even tender when we need to be angry.

When we have this attitude, we think before we speak. We consider the situation before we act. We respond in a manner proper to the events at hand. We are who we should be WHEN we should be it.

Being meek --having self-control-- really makes a difference in our lives. Christ said these people "inherit the earth." Look around at the meek people you know, the people who have self-control. See if these are not the people who are in positions of control in this world. What Christ said is true!

"Lord, give me strength today to be in control of myself. I know that by giving You ultimate control, I can overcome my tendency to get out of control. Amen."

LANE MURPHY

Lane Murphy Wins Geography Bee At Munday Elementary

Munday Elementary School recently held a Geography Bee sponsored each year by the National Geographic Society. Eighteen fifth and sixth graders answered questions orally.

Mrs. Brendle, Social Studies teacher, served as student sponsor.

Lane Murphy, a fifth grader, won 1st place in the competition. He received a certificate and a National Geographic game. Lane has taken a written test which has been sent to the state level. If chosen in the top one-hundred tests received, he will then compete at state.

Proud parents are Ed and Mary Murphy of Weinert.

Correspondence Course Offered By Local Church

In an effort to encourage people to study their Bibles, a local congregation is offering a free three-lesson course by mail. Entitled "One Nation Under God," the course is a non-denominational study of the Bible, according to Larry Fitzgerald, minister of the Munday Church of Christ (which is sponsoring the service).

All lessons will be sent by mail with no one calling or coming by unless requested by the student, according to Fitzgerald.

"Certainly no one can know all there is to learn from the Bible in three lessons," Fitzgerald said, "but this will give the student an overview. There are other lessons available, as well."

Lesson one is called "God and Man's Rebellion". It begins with the Genesis account of creation and looks at the evidence that God is real. Lessons two and three deal with the purpose of Christ and mankind's eternity.

Fitzgerald stressed that each lesson is absolutely free and that no donations would be solicited from students. To enroll in the course, simply fill out the coupon found in this issue of the Munday Courier and mail to the address on the coupon.

DONNIE PETERS was presented a plaque from the 4-H members, their parents, and friends, for his devotion and dedicated service to the 4-H program in Knox County. Donnie has been appointed County Extension Agent for Delta County, and assumed his new duties January 18. Sue Stevens of Knox City presented the plaque to Donnie at the Knox County Junior Livestock Show.

MOGULETTE BRANDY BRANAM shoots for two in the basketball game last Tuesday night against the Knox City Houndettes. Also pictured #45 Laura Burnett and #23 Nikki McGaughey going in for a rebound. The Mogulettes took a hard loss to Knox City 48 to 49. In Friday night's game, Munday came from behind by nine points against the Crowell Lady Wildcats to win 44 to 41.

Mogulettes Take 1 Win And 1 Loss In District Action

The Munday Mogulettes lost their first district game of the year to the Houndettes of Knox City, but came from behind against the Crowell Lady Wildcats for their first win in district.

In last Tuesday's game against Knox City the Mogulettes fought til the end of the game. Knox City scored 22 of 26 points in the first half just on free throws to Munday's 19. After the third quarter the Mogulettes pulled within three points.

The fourth quarter rolled around with KC leading 37 to 34. The game heated up in the final minutes with the lead changing sides four times. The Houndettes took the final lead with seconds left after two free throws pulled them ahead. The Mogulettes ran out of time and had to accept the loss 48 to 49.

Brandy Branam led the Mogulettes with 15 points followed by Michelle Berryhill with 12.

The Mogulettes went to Crowell last Friday night for another exciting game. Munday was down 26 to 17 to the Lady Wildcats at half-time. Munday gained ground in the third quarter with the score being Crowell 35, Munday 31. In the fourth quarter the Mogulettes pulled ahead in the fourth by outscoring the Lady Wildcats 13 points to 6. The final score was Munday 44, Crowell 41.

Laura Burnett and Brandy Branam had 10 points each for the Mogulettes.

The Moguls took two losses this past week against Knox City on Tuesday 56 to 46 and then a heartbreaker against Crowell 73 to 72 on Friday.

Munday led through three quarters of the Crowell game 61 to 52. In the fourth quarter the Wildcats scored 21 points to the Moguls 11 to take a one point win.

Mike Bunton led the Moguls with 18 points followed by Terry Tomlinson and Gene Shields with 17 each.

The seventh and eighth grade girls lost to Knox City 11 to 41 and 24 to 35 respectively. The seventh grade boys defeated Knox City and the eighth grade boys lost.

HAVE YOU EVER WONDERED -- how writing was originated? The answer is in a new two-volume book, "Before Writing: From Counting to Cuneiform," published by the University of Texas Press. The author, UT Austin faculty member Denise Schmandt-Besserat, refutes the thought that pictographs were the forerunner of the written word. Her idea is that writing was first developed by early merchants to keep track of goods.

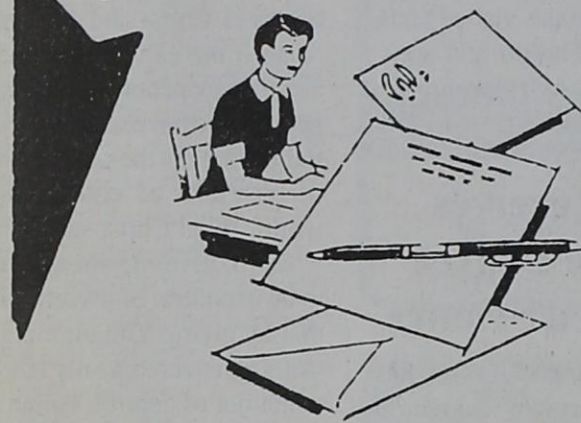

Years of research in the Middle East led her to believe that as early as 8,000 B.C., clay tokens were used to count quantities of grain grown by farmers. The shapes of the tokens and their designs later were copied onto tablets.

Each image represented some other object or collection of objects, and thus led to the concept of writing, she says.

If no candidate for president have is that they can call the 800-number and receive immediate action. The public doesn't realize that the grievance process takes time. Complaint forms must first be reviewed by our office to see if a rule of professional conduct may have been violated. Kay Bailey Hutchison
Texas State Treasurer

Editor's Note: Texas State Treasurer Kay Bailey Hutchison addresses various issues related to personal finance and state government. However, these views are not intended to replace the advice of reputable financial advisers or other professional counselors.

Q. My wife and I are concerned that we are racking up too much debt on our credit cards. Right now we have no trouble making the monthly payments but we don't want to get in over our heads. Do you have any suggestions on how we can keep ourselves in check?

A. There is a simple method of calculation you can use to determine if you may be headed for trouble with your credit card debts. It is called the "debt-payment burden", which is the percentage of monthly take-home pay that goes to repay consumer debt.

To calculate this percentage first determine your monthly disposable income. Next, total your monthly debt payments except for your mortgage payments. Subtract this figure from your monthly disposable income and you will find your debt-payment burden.

It is recommended that this figure be in the range of 15 to 20 percent. If yours is higher you may want to create a budget aimed at reducing your credit card debts.

If you have a question, write Money Talk, Texas State Treasury, Communications Division, P. O. Box 12608, Austin, Texas, 78711.

State Bar Will Help Public Get Access To Complaint Forms

The State Bar of Texas has a toll-free number to request information on lawyer discipline and the complaint process. The number, which went into use last January, is part of the Bar's program to inform the public about how complaints against lawyers are handled.

The toll-free number was installed to offer the public access to the complaint forms necessary to set a grievance in motion and to provide general information about the discipline process. It was not designed to address questions about specific cases, and phone operators do not encourage or discourage callers from filing a grievance.

"A misconception some callers have is that they can call the 800-number and receive immediate action. The public doesn't realize that the grievance process takes time. Complaint forms must first be reviewed by our office to see if a rule of professional conduct may have been violated. If the complaint alleges professional misconduct, it is then referred to a local grievance committee for a hearing before a decision can be made on punishment," said Jim McCormack, the State Bar's general counsel.

CAPITOL JOURNAL

STEVEN A. CARRIKER
State Senate

This new session of the Texas Legislature is already living up to expectations that things will be different this time around.

I've been appointed chairman of a committee to be comprised of the entire Senate that will consider issues relating to redistricting, ethics and elections. This is the first time the Committee of the Whole has been constituted as a standing committee. The Committee of the Whole includes all 31 senators and the lieutenant governor.

Among the highest profile issues to be handled by this committee are Judicial Redistricting and Ethics Reform. The law requires reapportionment of the state's district courts during this session of the Legislature. Also, it may be necessary to divide some metropolitan counties into single member districts to comply with federal court decisions. Ethics reforms passed last session need to be refined and clarified.

In other committee assignments, I will continue to serve on State Affairs, one of the Senate's most powerful committees, as well as the committee on Natural Resources. The Natural Resources committee oversees water, agriculture and other environmental issues. I'll join the Senate's newest committee, International Relations, Trade and Technology, which has been created in response to Texas' expanded role under the Free Trade Agreement and the impact on the state's economy by the rapidly changing world of technology. Intergovernmental Relations, which works with counties, municipalities and special districts rounds out my committee appointments.

As for the House of Representatives, the lower chamber has decided to delay committee appointments until overcoming last fall's roadblock on Public School Finance.

JAN ROLSTON, 9-1-1 Coordinator, discussed the emergency service to the local Cub Scouts at their meeting Friday afternoon. The boys watched a film, then asked questions about the service. Texas Legislature Has Additional $1.8 Billion In Revenue To Spend

State Comptroller John Sharp says the Texas Legislature will have $36.4 billion in major fund revenues available for the coming two year budget period, representing an increase of $1.8 billion, or 5.2%, over 1992-93.

Sharp said sales taxes, the major revenue source for Texas, will generate $18.9 billion; other taxes like motor vehicle sales and corporate franchise taxes will raise $12.4 billion, and the remaining revenue, derived from interest earnings, the Texas Lottery and fees, will contribute another $4.5 billion.

In addition, Sharp predicted there will be $29.5 billion collected from sources such as federal funds, fees and other dedicated revenues, bringing the overall available nondedicated and dedicated revenues to $65.3 billion, a 3% increase over the current level.

The Comptroller pointed out that his forecast of a 5% increase in available revenue for the state is more than many households or businesses have seen in recent years. The estimate reflects his prediction that the economic outlook for the state is improving. However, he cautioned that much of the outlook for Texas is based on an assumption that the U.S. economy will start to shake itself out of the doldrums.

Other predictions for the next biennium are:

- The state's population is expected to grow by almost 500,000, reaching 18.4 million in 1995. Births outnumbering deaths will account for three-quarters of that increase, with the remainder coming from net in-migration from other states and countries.

- Taxable oil prices likely will remain stable, averaging about $20 per barrel, and natural gas prices will settle in the range of $1.66 per million cubic feet. Oil and gas volumes will continue to drop. During 1994-95, that sector probably will account for 11% of the state economy, as opposed to 28% in 1981.

- A continued decline in federal defense spending will be felt in Texas employment. Over 1994-95, about 13,000 aerospace and military base jobs are expected to be lost.

At Your Service

by Dr. Larry Fitzgerald
Minister, Munday Church of Christ

The following question came from outside of Knox County but applies to all of us.

Q: What is the "casting of lots" in the Bible? How does it apply to the election of officers (of the church)?

A: The casting of lots is an ancient practice. The people of biblical days would place small rocks or twigs within a receptacle and shake them until a stone or stick would fall out. The person whose name was upon the first stone or stick would be "the winner" or, to use a biblical phrase, "the allotted one."

Lot casting was used as a fair way to decide between two (or more) people or parties who had equal claim to a property or position. In each instance, the idea was to rely on God's providence to help in the choice. However, it must be understood that the lot casting followed a decision based upon a pre-set qualifications. In the division of tribal inheritance, the amount of land was decided based on the number of people within the tribes (Numbers 26:52-56). In the selection of an apostle to take the place of Judas two men were put forward who equally met the qualifications set down (Acts 1:15-26). In the case of the choice between Matthias and Joseph-Justus, this was a special one time event.

There is a New Testament precedent for having congregational input into the selection of its officers (Acts 6:1-6). However, church officers should not be chosen like we tend to do our political office-holders based on either popularity or the programs we favor. They should be chosen from among our members who fulfill the qualifications of the position. In the case of elders (also known as "presbyters", "bishops" or "pastors"), they should meet the qualifications found in Titus 1:5-9; 1 Timothy 3:1-7; and 1 Peter 5:1-3.

One selection method which I prefer (and which we practice at our congregation) is for our present leadership to put forward those people who meet the qualifications for the office. Then the leaders ask the congregation to give any scriptural qualifications that these proposed officers do not meet. Any objections are investigated. If they are unwarranted then the men are selected for the office. I think this is a wise and biblical method of selection.

Electricity means more than convenience to some—it means life itself. Their lives are maintained by special, electric-powered medical equipment.

West Texas Utilities wants to make sure we have a complete list of people who rely on electricity for life-support.

In case of an outage or natural disaster, every effort will be made to restore their electrical power first and as quickly as possible.
