Farmers Reminded Of Ag Day To Be Held In Chillicothe

Area farmers and ranchers are reminded to attend the 1993 Ag Day program to be held Thursday, May 20, at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station in Chillicothe.

A demonstration of a new device to test and grade wheat at grain elevators will be held. It uses pressure to crush wheat grains and classify hardness, as will be explained by Dr. Timothy Herman of Kansas State University, an Extension Service state leader for grain science and industry.

The field day gets underway at 9 a.m., and will also include seminars on specialty crops and agricultural enterprises for the Texoma area, tours of research plots, displays and continuing education unit training for pesticide applicator certification.

The Ag Day program is being sponsored by the Agricultural Experiment Stations and Extension Services of Texas and Oklahoma.

FmHA Offers Loan Assistance To Minorities

"The Farmers Home Administration has loan funds to help members of socially disadvantaged groups, including minorities, buy land for farming or operate farms in Foard and Knox Counties," Bob Cude, FmHA County Supervisor, said.

Under this program enacted by Congress, socially disadvantaged population groups are Hispanics, Native Americans, African Americans, Asians and Pacific Islanders.

"FmHA tries to find members of those groups who are interested in farming and can qualify for an FmHA farm ownership loan. The agency can sell or lease to those who are eligible a farm held in its inventory or make a loan for purchase of land on the open market," Cude said.

Public Restrooms To Be Constructed At Baseball Field

The Munday Little League Association is accepting donations to help pay for construction of new restrooms at the Little League field. This has needed to be done for quite some time, and is something we can all appreciate.

Team members have recently held a fund raiser selling mugs, and the orders have been sent in. They did a great job with this project, raising over half of what is needed to pay for the building supplies. We appreciate each one who ordered an item from the team members.

All-Star games will be held in Munday this year. If everything goes as planned, the restroom facilities should be completed by this time.

Donations may be brought in or mailed to the First National Bank in Munday. Every little bit helps!

FmHA can also provide other loan assistance, including operating loans, and advice, if needed, to help the borrower get started.

People who think they may be eligible, whether they already are in farming or would like to become farmers, are urged to contact the Farmers Home Administration county office in their area.

Collins Family Enjoys Reunion In Weinert

The descendants of Jesse and Sarah Isom Collins met for their first family reunion Saturday, April 24, in the Weinert school community center.

Organizers of this reunion and serving as hosts were B.J. and Juanell Ray, and Pete and Imo Brockett.

Registration began at 10:30 a.m., followed by visiting, reminiscing and looking at old photographs. A light lunch was served at noon followed by more visiting.

Pete Brockett called the meeting to order at 2 p.m. with a welcome and special recognition of Susie Brockett, his mother, being the oldest living descendant of Jesse and Sarah Collins, and also their only living child.

Pete then introduced Rob Collins, son of Leslie and Mildred Collins, who served as Master of Ceremonies.

Rob reminded the group of their heritage and of what the family had meant to him and gave a history of the Collins family and its values.

The head of each family introduced himself-herself and each member of their individual family, adding an amusing or touching story about them.

Juanell Collins Ray recognized and presented a gift to the oldest and the youngest Collins descendant; the family with the most members present; and the family which traveled the farthest distance. She also conducted a drawing for three door prizes.

The meeting was followed by a picture taking session in the gym while the "pit crew" set up for a bountiful evening meal of beans, potato salad, ham, and a multitude of salads and desserts.

Collins family members attending were: Pud and Susie Collins Brockett and Pete and Imo Brockett, all of Munday; G.C. and Betty Brockett of Alamogordo, NM; W.C. and Colleen Nance of Somerville; Nellie Collins, B.J. and Juanell Collins Ray, Bobby and Lena Tidwell, Glenn and Gerd Darden, Alta Faye Field, Glenda Drinnon, Shawna Tidwell, Shane, Joseph and Parris, and Mark, Darla, Drew, Jordan and Riley Coffman, all of Haskell.

Also, Jr. and Juanita Grimes of Weinert; Wayne and Mary Jo Collins of Brownfield; Kevin, Kara and Karlee Nichols, Charlie and Barbara Collins Sells, Robert, Cene', Dusty and Heather Dean, all of Iowa Park; Charles and Donna Blackstock, Liz Foster, and Jessie Lee Bell, all of Celeste; Ronald J. and Macon Bell and Tiffany Wishard of Garland; Gary and Ann Blackstock of Copeville.

Also, Rob, Brenda and Paige Collins and Russell Collins of Dallas; Nancy, Meshea and Billy Dunavin of Farmersville; E.L. Blackstock of Nevada; Don, Dolores and DeeDee Blackstock, Mart and Donna Hendricks, Donnie, Angie, Kayla and D.J. Davidson, all of Wylie; Judy, James and David Flash of Hawley.

Also, Edwin and Frieda Fly, Bill, Winnie, Kenneth and Angela Pittman, and Billy and Cathy Pittman and children, all of Rochester; Ruby Collins Fletcher and Gail and Jeff Benavidez of Temple; Bubba Hargrave of Cisco; Karen Becknell and Larry and Chris Strickland of Lubbock; Vernon and Virginia Teaff of Russellville, AR; and friends, Ted and Faye Jetton of Weinert.

All agreed that the reunion was a big success and that one day wasn't enough time to get all of the visiting done. There was some dis-ussion of a two-day reunion next year.

The group voted to meet in April of 1994 in the same place with Glenda Drinnon in charge of the plans and preparations.

Q: Who wrote the book of Hebrews?

A: It is interesting that many Bible students who believe in the axiom, "Speak where the Bible speaks and be silent where the Bible is silent," find it difficult to accept that the author of Hebrews is anonymous. The Bible doesn't say which prophet wrote the book. Early tradition tried to suggest that the Apostle Paul wrote Hebrews. However, the writing style isn't even close to Paul's. It may have been possible that Paul assisted in the writing along with another prophet such as Barnabas, Luke, Priscilla or Apollos.

The text of Hebrews was known to early Christian writers and quoted as scripture by them (i.e. Clement of Rome quoted the book in 96 A.D.). But concerning authorship of Hebrews, the best answer is found in the third century writer Origen who said: "But who it was who wrote the Epistle God only knows certainly."

Some older English translations have a heading "Paul's letter to the Hebrews". But this heading was added by man many centuries after the book was written.

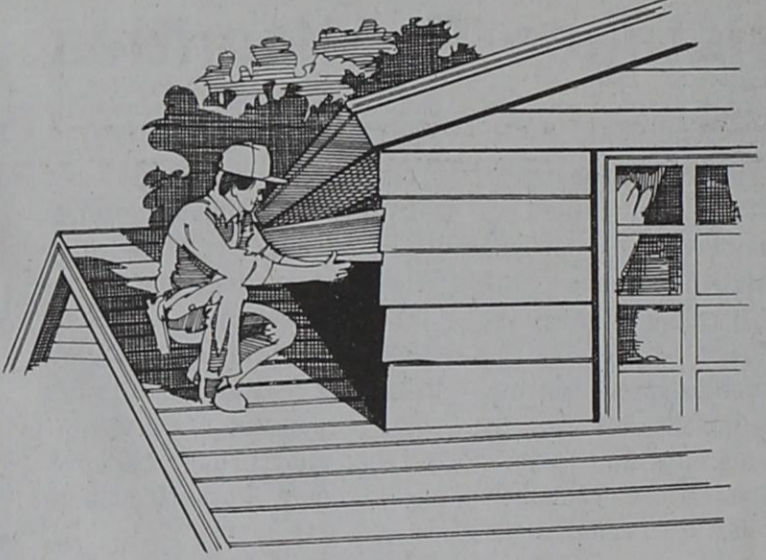

This doesn't discredit the book of Hebrews. It certainly is inspired scripture that has never been doubted (until fairly recently). The book of Hebrews explains the concepts of Christ's priesthood and the fulfillment of the Old Testament (contract) better than any other book in the Bible. I encourage you to read it.

ROSIS CLUB

Members of the Benjamin Sosis Club enjoyed a day in Wichita Falls for their last meeting of the year.

First stop was at beautiful Rolling Meadows Retirement Home where Bea Parks and Lucy Ming joined them for the day.

After a visit to the Wichita Falls Museum and Art Center, the group ate lunch, then enjoyed a tour of the landmark Kell House and grounds.

The month of May features an exhibit, "Steeped in Tradition: The Serving of Tea", at the Kell House, where they enjoyed seeing dozens of tea services from around the world.

Tea pots, cups and serving pieces were set up throughout the house with elegant services in the more formal areas and whimsical ones in the kitchen. Upstairs rooms featured tiny children's tea sets and several were shown with large, beautiful dolls "having tea".

Very interesting displays were featured in each room of the historic house, built in 1909 by businessman and entrepreneur, Frank Kell. The Kell House was home to a large family, none of whom are now living.

Making the trip were Jessie Roberts, Kenneth Roberts who chauffeured the group, Eunice Friday, Dickie Lloyd, Pearl Ryder, Lucille Moorhouse, Bea Parks and Lucy Ming.

HERE AND THERE

Recent guests of Nora Duke were Florence Ray of Seymour, and Francis Smith and E. W. (Pine) Duke of Fort Worth.

Sheila Palvado and sons of Vernon and David Jones and daughters of Bridgeport were Mother's Day weekend guests of their parents, Joy and Charles Jones.

Shirley and Stanton Brown were in Houston a couple of days last week for Shirley to see her doctors at M. D. Anderson Hospital. They were pleased with how well she feels and with her attitude. She goes back in two weeks for more thorough testing.

On Saturday they went to Shamrock to meet their daughter, Shari, who had spent the past three weeks in Perryton with her grandparents, Thelma and Calvin Brown.

Weekend guests of Clodell Duke were her daughters, Jan Pollock of Iowa Park, and Mary Sawyers of Hamlin.

Betty Parker, Sabra and Chelsea, of Aspermont spent the weekend with her parents, Leroy and Gloria West.

Bo Milson spent Friday night and Saturday with her kids, the Kermit Woolleys in Spur. Said they had quite a hail storm over there Friday afternoon.

I learned tonight that Jay Whitten was injured late today when his horse fell with him. Cuts on his face and head required several stitches. Jay is the 12-year-old son of Jack and Judie Whitten.

Lois Golden is progressing nicely from recent eye surgery. She had cataracts removed over a week ago and so far, so good.

Word was received last week that Jim Bob Bisbee, who now resides in Wichita Falls, had surgery on Thursday in Dallas to remove an aneurysm in the area near his heart. He made it through the surgery fine and has had no problems so far.

Kim Russell, Samijo and Chelsea, of Spur were weekend guests of her parents, Bud and Von Conner. Kim returned home Sunday and the children remained for a few days visit.

Michelle Bufkin was in Fort Worth on Friday and Saturday to be with her sister, Debbie. Debbie's husband, Richard Goforth, underwent surgery Friday in a Grapevine hospital. He is doing well and was to come home Sunday.

I very much enjoyed Mother's Day weekend with my daughters, Diane Herring and Debbie Taylor and her family in Childress.

Joe, Julia and Ricky Trepanier spent Mother's Day with their kids, Randy and C. J. Engbrock and Dillon, and Kim Trepanier in Wichita Falls. Julia was in town Monday showing off a brand new picture of Dillon!!

The Cross and the Flame

First United Methodist Church
 Steve Barrett, pastor

My last Sunday with the United Methodists of Munday and Goree will be June 6. I will be studying for the next two years at the Perkins School of Theology at Southern Methodist University in Dallas. I will also be serving the Martin Memorial United Methodist Church in Detroit, Texas. My successor here will be Don Whetsell. He is married to Tammy and their little girl is named Courtni. Don seems very gifted and personable. I believe the Goree and Munday churches will be well served by him.

I am thankful for the year I have had in Munday and Goree. Outside of the United Methodist Churches, my greatest attention has been given to residents of the Munday Nursing Center.

During our worship service there Sunday, I said to myself: This is a good place to preach. I preached for a few moments Sunday on the text, John 14:1,14: Jesus said to the disciples, "Do not let your heart be troubled. Believe in God, believe also in me. If in my name you ask me for anything, I will do it."

I admit that sometimes Jesus' words seem too wonderful to me; too good to be true. I find myself trying to pray: "Lord, I believe, help thou my unbelief." But sometimes I am able to make that leap of faith into Jesus' words. I felt myself leaping Sunday afternoon.

Sunday afternoon it was my audience that gave me the push off the precipice into God's arms. Mary Ann and Pam were there to worship and Emma was playing the organ. Ruth, Paul and Nina were present. Children were sitting with their mothers who were wearing their Mother's Day orchids, and there sat Leona, Virginia, Eurus and others waiting to sing "How Great Thou Art".

I had no choice. These people expected nothing less than a wonderful word from Jesus. So, for five minutes I tried to say as plainly as I could what Jesus said: "Let not your hearts be troubled. Believe in God, believe also in me. If in my name you ask for anything, I will do it".

The fellowship, the singing, and the love overflowed. We felt constrained to leap, and I believe the everlasting arms caught us.

MRS. STEVEN WAYNE MONROE
... the former Sheri Renee Parker

Parker And Monroe Exchange Vows In Candlelight Ceremony

Sheri Renee Parker and Steven Wayne Monroe were united in marriage on Saturday, May 1, at 6:00 in the evening at the First Baptist Church in Knox City. The Reverend Jim Teter officiated the double ring ceremony. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Parker of Benjamin and Mrs. and Mrs. Kenneth Monroe of Bowie.

Vows were recited before lighted candles and an archway, all entwined with English ivy, white roses, carnations and lily of the valley, accented with white satin bows. Pews were decorated with white satin bows and a matching candle stand held the unity candle.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father and was given in marriage by her parents. She wore a full-length gown by San-Martin, of white taffeta, featuring a sweetheart neckline. The fitted, elongated bodice of lace was embellished with handbeaded, embroidered medallions, iridescent and pearls. The sleeves were pleated at the shoulders, detailed with open-lace cutwork, iridescent and pearls and fitted as they reached the wrists. The back of the gown featured a deep V, dropping to a bow and accented with open-lace cutwork down the back of the skirt and leading to a chapel length train, trimmed at the hemline with lace. The bride's veil was tulle attached to a crown headpiece of pearls.

She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses, white carnations, lily of the valley, English ivy, baby's-breath and pearls, entwined throughout with white satin ribbon and lace.

For something old, the bride carried in her bouquet a white lace handkerchief, belonging to the groom's grandmother and she wore on her right hand, her maternal grandmother's wedding band. Something new was her gown and a pearl necklace and earrings, which were gifts from the groom. Something borrowed was her veil and she wore the traditional blue garter.

Shannon Parker, sister of the bride of Wichita Falls, served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Michelle Bufkin of Benjamin, Melba Monroe of Bowie, and Brandi Hacker of Knox City. They wore emerald iridescent taffeta, tea-length dresses, with a fitted bodice and pleated sleeves. Each carried a single white lily, hand-tied with emerald and white ribbon and laced with beads. Flower girl, Ashley Bufkin of Benjamin, wore a white dress with puff sleeves and an emerald sash and carried a white basket with an assortment of spring flowers.

The groom wore the Padova, crystal black, full dress tuxedo, with tails and a white wing-tipped shirt, with a black cummerbund and bow tie. His boutonniere was a white carnation with baby's-breath. Larry Monroe, brother of the groom of Bowie, served as best man. Groomsmen were Alex Ledesma of Knox City, Neil McDaniel of Knox City, and Bill Ray Roberts of Bowie. The groom's attendants wore black Messina Tuxedos by Anderson and white wing-tipped shirts, with emerald cummerbunds and bow ties. Their boutonnieres were emerald with baby's-breath. Ringbearer was Brian Monroe, nephew of the groom of Bowie. He wore the Padova, crystal black, full dress tuxedo, with tails and a white wing-tipped shirt, with a black cummerbund and bow tie, and carried a white heart-shaped pillow.

Ushers were Marty Bufkin, cousin of the bride of Seymour, and Ronnie Karl, cousin of the groom of Bowie. Candlelighters were Kathy Bufkin of Benjamin and Rhonda Parker of Knox City, cousins of the bride, who along with Tonya Parker of Knox City, handed out wedding scrolls to guests. Sean and Kyle, dressed in dark double-breasted suits with white shirts and dark ties, helped distribute wedding scrolls to guests before the ceremony.

Mary Beth Hunt of Rule registered guests at a table draped in a ruffled, floor length white cloth, decorated with emerald bows.

Wedding music was played by Dione Wallace of Rochester and soloist was Trisha Roberts of O'Brien. Trisha sang Through the Eyes of Love just before the ceremony and while the candles were being lit sang Everything I Do, I Do For You.

Dionne played Through The Years as the groom ushered his mother in and as the bride's mother was ushered in by her nephew, Marty. Mothers of the couple lit a taper candle on each side of the unity candle and these candles were later used by the couple to light the unity candle.

For her daughter's wedding, the mother of the bride wore a floral print, tea-length dress with a tiered, handkerchief hem. The groom's mother chose a light pink, mid-length, two piece suit.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church fellowship hall. The bride's table was covered with a floor-length emerald cloth, topped with white lace which was draped and held by an emerald bow. The three-tiered wedding cake was accented with white roses, sweet peas, dove, wedding bells and a draping of ruffles, and was decorated with fresh white mini carnations, white button poms, baby's breath and leather leaf fern. Lula Baty made the cake and Barbara Barnard made the floral arrangement decorations. Punch was served from a crystal punch bowl. The couple's engraved black-stemmed toasting goblets, taper candles and assorted glass bowl candles decorated the table.

The groom's table was covered in a floor-length black cloth, topped with lace and draped and held with a black satin bow. Guests were served a chocolate "tuxedo" cake and coffee was served from a silver coffee service, along with mints.

Serving at the bride's and groom's tables were Donna and Amy Daniel of Knox City, Carla Karl of Bowie and Carrie Chancellor of DeSoto, who also helped guests with assorted foods from the buffet table.

The groom's parents hosted a rehearsal dinner for the wedding party on Friday night in Benjamin.

Photographs were taken by Bill Blankenship of Haskell and videos were made by Jimmy Tankersley of Knox City.

The bride is a 1987 graduate of Benjamin High School and is employed by Brazos Valley Care Home in Knox City. The groom is a 1980 graduate of Bowie High School and is employed by Raydon Construction in Knox City. Following a wedding trip to the San Angelo area, the couple will make their home in Knox City.

Pathways

by Randy White, pastor
First Baptist Church

Worry seems to be one of the most common problem areas of life. We've all seen books and heard speeches on topics such as "How to Win Over Worry".

Jesus talked to His followers about worry in Matthew 6:25-34. The disciples of Jesus certainly had plenty to worry about! He taught them that if they would put things into perspective, they could win over worry. "Is not life worth more than food and the body more than clothing?" the Lord asked. If the Lord has given us life, won't He also give us the minor things of life? Worry most often stems from a poor perspective of a situation.

Jesus told His followers they would win over worry if they would enjoy the best this world has to offer. "Look at the birds of the air... and the flowers of the field" He told His disciples. Look around! Instead of worrying, start enjoying our beautiful world and the best it has to offer.

Finally, Jesus told His followers they would win over worry if they would stop getting ahead of themselves. "Do not worry about tomorrow," He said, "for tomorrow has enough worries of its own." How easy it is for us to live tomorrow, while letting today slip by. Live out today, plan for tomorrow, but don't live tomorrow until tomorrow!

"Lord, I've suffered from the sin of worry. Help me to cast all my worries on You, because I know You care for me. Amen."

A leaf with only one blade is called a simple leaf. A leaf with more than one blade is known as a compound leaf. A few plants - including carrots, honey locust trees and Kentucky coffeetrees - have double compound leaves. Each leaflet is divided into a number of still smaller leaflets.

Cooper Principal Gives Program On Leadership

The Beta Chi Chapter of the Delta Kappa Gamma Society International met April 4 at the First United Methodist Church in Munday.

President June Biffle called the meeting to order, and Dorothy Myers gave the invocation. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

Jackye Leonard introduced the speaker, Dr. Jerri Pfeifer, Principal of Cooper High School in Abilene. In her talk, Dr. Pfeifer discussed leadership and told of her experiences as principal. Her philosophy is that the best job is always the one she has now, and that everything is a learning experience.

Dr. Pfeifer said there is a "desperate cry for leadership approaching the twenty-first century," and that "leadership will be the solution to our problem of survival on this planet."

A brief business meeting followed. First Vice-President Ellen Rieger announced that the May meeting will be held at the Haskell Secondary School homemaking building, rather than at the Haskell Elementary School library.

Members joined in singing the "Delta Kappa Gamma" song, and the meeting was adjourned by June Biffle. Everyone then enjoyed refreshments served by the hostesses from Munday and Goree.

Hospital Administrator Stephen Kuehler says . . .

Health Care Reform Plan Beginning To Take Shape

by Stephen Kuehler

After months of working on the health care reform plan, the Clinton Administration's changes are beginning to take shape. President Clinton's goal is that every American will one day have a "health security" card that will guarantee each person the same basic set of medical benefits. Although these benefits have not been spelled out for sure, most experts expect that the basic coverage will include physician visits, hospital care, and some preventive care, like mammograms.

Universal health care coverage is a dream that may be close to reality.

The challenge the administration faces is to write such a dramatic change into law, and how to pay for it. Some options on the board currently are higher taxes on cigarettes, the possibility of a VAT (value added tax), or perhaps taxes on health care benefits. Early versions of the plan show that employers will still pay for the bulk of the tab for basic benefits. Low-income families and the unemployed would be eligible for government subsidies to help pay their premiums and other out-of-pocket expenses.

Another challenge the administration faces is to control skyrocketing medical costs. Rural hospitals fight a continuing battle, trying to pay increasing wages, buy medications, and stay up with the latest technology. The Clinton administration has pledged to help control rising costs by reducing the reams of paperwork generated by programs like Medicare. Whether that is an achievable goal or not, is a concern to all of us.

The health care plans will possibly vary from state to state. Clinton, himself a former governor of a small state, wants to give states broad flexibility in setting up the programs. Several states have recently adopted programs that the federal government has been studying for effectiveness.

Governor Ann Richards set up the Texas Health Policy Task Force in 1991 to study the problems of health care in Texas. This group, composed of 29 people from across the state, included senators, state representatives, physicians, consumers, and hospital officials.

In the next few weeks' columns, we will look at the problems the task force identified and the three major recommendations that this task force has made to the Texas Legislature.

Goals Bring Success

Successful people tend to rely on certain strategies for managing their success. These strategies also help them deal with the obstacles or challenges that come their way. Research shows that there are ten basic strategies people consider most effective.

1. Set Goals. Make them explicit, challenging, and attainable.
2. Write The Goals Down. Until they are written down they are just wishes.
3. Make Each Goal Build On The Past. You should be able to see a progression.
4. Offer Yourself Small Rewards. Pat yourself on the back whenever you score a victory on the way toward your goal.
5. Social Support. Surround yourself with people who believe in and support your goals.
6. Orchestrate The Environ- ment. Make sure you have all the required equipment and have arranged your schedule so you are able to perform the necessary tasks. This might include observing others who model the behavior you want to achieve.

7. Start With A Non-Competitive Situation. Challenge yourself first. After you have met your personal goal, you can pit yourself against others, if you desire.

8. Monitor Your Progress. Periodically check to make sure you are moving in the right direction, closer to your goal.

9. Adjust Your Approach. If, after monitoring your progress, you find that you have veered away from your goal, change your course. Numbers 8 and 9 may have to be repeated several times before you achieve your ultimate goal.

10. Make These Steps A Habit. Then, each time you have a new goal, you will be able to automatically repeat these ten steps.

Pre-Performance Food Choices

Avoid over-eating shortly before exercising. A small meal two to three hours before an event is recommended. Eat a high carbohydrate, low-fat, low-protein meal before exercising. Skip fatty foods. Fat leaves the stomach slowly and may cause stomach distress and sluggishness. Avoid sugary foods like candy and sodas as well. Carbonated beverages may cause gas when exercising and, therefore, are not recommended.

Central And South West Corporation And El Paso Electric Company Announce Plan For Merger

Central and South West Corporation (NYSE: CSR) and El Paso Electric Company (NASDAQ: ELPAQ) announced today that their boards of directors have approved a merger plan that provides for El Paso Electric to become a wholly owned subsidiary of Central and South West as part of El Paso Electric's emergence from bankruptcy.

In connection with the announcement, El Paso Electric will file an amended plan of reorganization and a disclosure statement with the U. S. Bankruptcy Court for the Western District of Texas. El Paso Electric has been operating under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code since January 8, 1992.

The total value of the proposed merger is expected to be nearly $2.1 billion. Approximately $730 million of the total consideration to be paid to the creditors and shareholders of El Paso Electric would be in the form of new shares of Central and South West common stock, and the rest would be in the form of new securities to be issued by the reorganized El Paso Electric as part of its bankruptcy plan.

"A business in intensive care," said E.R. Brooks, chairman, president and chief executive officer of Central and South West. "This merger is the medicine to improve El Paso Electric's condition from critical to stable and to put it on the way to a full recovery."

"By becoming part of the central and South West system, El Paso Electric will be able to offer its customers greater rate stability, improved customer service and reliability, and increased efforts to bring new jobs to the area," Brooks said. "The merger also will have significant strategic value for Central and South West and its shareholders."

"Central and South West will gain promising growth potential, with the addition of 255,000 utility customers," Brooks said. "We also will gain valuable utility assets and the opportunity to buy and to sell more wholesale power in the Western United States and in Mexico. These transactions will benefit El Paso Electric's own customers."

"We believe this merger provides a fair and equitable solution, one that will enable El Paso Electric to turn the corner and emerge from bankruptcy as a much stronger company," said David H. Wiggs, Jr., chairman of the board, president and chief executive officer of El Paso Electric.

Brooks and Wiggs characterized today's announcement as the first step in a lengthy and complex process. It is estimated that the transactions will take up to 18 months to complete.

Completion of the merger will require approval of a disclosure statement by the federal bankruptcy court, voting on the plan of reorganization by El Paso

Electric's creditors and shareholders, confirmation of the plan by the bankruptcy court and approval by a number of regulatory agencies. Central and South West said preliminary talks with regulators are under way.

The merger also is conditioned on the transfer of certain ownership interests in the Palo Verde Nuclear Generating Station back to El Paso Electric from other parties.

Upon completion of the merger, Brooks said, a new chief executive officer of El Paso Electric will be named. However, the company will maintain its headquarters in El Paso and its divisional office in Las Cruces, New Mexico. It also will continue to have a board of directors with members from the El Paso Electric service area. In addition, Central and South West's board of directors will add a member from El Paso Electric's service area.

"As a subsidiary of Central and South West, El Paso Electric will be able to provide lower rates than El Paso Electric could if it emerged from bankruptcy as a stand-alone company," Brooks said.

Under Central and South West's proposed rate plan for El Paso Electric, increase will be necessary for both the Texas and New Mexico divisions of El Paso Electric. Brooks said El Paso Electric will seek only one rate increase of less than 8 percent in each state during the next three years.

Under terms of the proposed reorganization plan to be filed by El Paso Electric, secured creditors would receive 100 percent of their claims. Unsecured creditors, secured lease obligation bondholders and lease obligation bondholders would receive approximately 90 percent of their claims. Preferred shareholders would receive approximately three-fourths of a share of new preferred stock of the reorganized El Paso Electric for each existing share of preferred stock.

El Paso Electric's common shareholders would receive Central and South West Corporation common stock, based on an approximate value for each El Paso Electric common share of $3 and additional consideration in stock or cash of up to $1.50 for each El Paso Electric share, depending upon the favorable resolution of several contingencies and disputed claims.

Central and South West Corporation, a Dallas-based public utility holding company, owns Central Power and Light Company, Public Service Company of Oklahoma, Southwestern Electric Power Company and West Texas Utilities Company. These four operating subsidiaries provide electric service to 1.6 million customers in a service area covering 152,000 square miles of Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana and Arkansas.

Central and South West also owns Transok, Inc., an Oklahoma intrastate natural-gas transmission and processing subsidiary, and four other subsidiaries.

Central and South West's consolidated revenues in 1992 were $3.289 billion, with net income for common shareholders of $382 million billion. It has 188.3 million shares of common stock outstanding.

For more information, contact: Gerald R. Hunter, director of corporate communications for Central and South West, at 214-777-1165, or Alan Lee Bunnell, director of news and public information for El Paso Electric, at 915-543-5823.

Financial analyst should contact Sharon R. Peavy, director of investor relations for Central and South West, at 214-777-1277, or John Droubay, treasurer of El Paso Electric, at 915-543-5710.

Stockbrokers and shareholders should direct questions to Central and South West's Shareholder Services Department at 1-800-527-5797 or to El Paso Electric's Office of the Secretary at 1-800-592-1634 or 1-800-351-1621.

Social Security Cards Needed For Summer Jobs

"Any student looking for a summer job needs to have a Social Security card to show his or her new employer," says Patty Brandt, Resident Representative at the Vernon Social Security office. "You will need to have the card with you so the new employer will have the correct name and number to credit your earnings and taxes."

If you've lost or misplaced your card, contact Social Security for a replacement. "You'll need to show some identification," Mrs. Brandt said, "but the process is really very simple." You can contact your local Social Security office to obtain the form or call Social Security's toll-free number, 1-800-772-1213, business days between 7:00 a.m. and 7:00 p.m.

"Remember," stresses Mrs. Brandt, "your future Social Security benefits will be based on the earnings posted to your Social Security record, so be sure you use the proper number."

Future Homemakers of America: It's Not Just Something You Join

by Kammi Haynie

"Future Homemakers of America -- it's not just something you join, it's something you do!" Future Homemakers of America believe youth can make a difference -- in the home, at school, and in the community. For over forty years, FFA/HERO members have been expecting the best.

The Future Homemakers of America has provided a source of strength to me in a tragic situation. My father died unexpectedly when I was fifteen years old. Being devastated, I depended on Future Homemakers of America values. The planning processes I had learned helped me with better communication skills and appreciation of my other family members.

The Future Homemakers of America organization is unique since it is the only youth organization with the family as its central focus. The school-based organization stresses that every member is important. The leadership skills are shared so that all members are involved. The most rewarding aspect is to feel that members are helping friends deal with peer pressure, career awareness and other serious issues confronting teens.

The Future Homemakers of America members are active in the community. To involve the community, the students plan many projects which enhance the well-being of their citizens. The projects are planned to enhance the lives of those persons or groups targeted by the chapter. However, in most cases, we the members reap the real rewards.

Future Homemakers of America is "not just something you join, it's something you do" for yourself, your home, your school, and your community.

MISS KAMMI HAYNIE, center, was awarded the C. J. Davidson scholarship during the State Future Homemakers of America meeting. The C. J. Davidson Family Foundation, Fort Worth, awarded 10 scholarships to outstanding Future Homemakers in Texas. The scholarship is for $750.00 per semester and will continue for eight semesters if the recipient continues to be qualified under the rules regulating the scholarship. Kammi plans to attend Tarleton University and major in home economics. To the left of Kammi is Mrs. Penny Winchester, home economics teacher, and to Kammi's right her mother, Mrs. Nancy Tolleson.

THE MUNDAY FFA CHAPTER was well represented at the State Future Homemakers of America meeting in Houston, Texas. Danette Owens, Region II Officers for 1992-1993 and 1993-1994 was a co leader for a workshop. Tara Alexander represented her chapter as the voting delegate during the house of delegates meeting, and Robin Bowen served as usher for the second general session. Kammi Haynie served on the connection team and received a scholarship during the meeting. The students were accompanied to Houston by Mrs. Pat Owens, Mrs. Nancy Tolleson and Mrs. Penny Winchester.

POLICE REPORT

by Officer Tejada

For the week of May 2-8. Four citations issued for speeding; two citations for expired registration; several verbal and written warnings for various offenses; one juvenile warning issued (need of supervision and minor in possession); three arrests made, one public intoxication, one driving while intoxicated, and one for driving with a suspended license.

There were several renewed registrations during the past week, but there are still a few more that need to be renewed. Keep in mind that expired registration and failing to stop at a stop sign are just as much against the law as murder. The only difference is the punishment and luckily we don't get much of the latter around here.

One last point I'd like to make. Everybody, especially you high school kids, slow it down around the baseball fields. There are a lot of younger kids that come out to watch their older brother or sister play, but sometimes it's more fun to chase their buddies around parked vehicles, so be careful, kids will be kids, watch out for them. ***

Have a nice day!

"On A Wizer Note"

by Paul Weiser,

Knox County Extension Agent - Agriculture

Last week this article mentioned how fire can be important for both livestock and wildlife management. If you would like to participate in a "prescribed burn" now is the time to start your planning.

Early planning is very important so that proper forage is available for burning. If help is needed in these plans please contact the Extension office in Benjamin or the Soil Conservation Service in Knox City. Both of these offices offer services in prescribed burns.

If chemical practices are used, be sure to follow label directions. Pesticides of all sorts can easily be moved through the soil into groundwater which is used for drinking.

The main problem comes from lawns where chemicals are used to control insects or weeds. This practice is commonly followed by a watering process. If this watering is not supervised carefully and runoff occurs the chemical will be moved by the water.

Some chemicals require a watering process to move the active ingredients into the soil. Do this with a careful eye, avoiding runoff.

This same idea applies to pastures and fields. Try to avoid applying chemicals prior to heavy rains. I know this is virtually impossible; however, it will save you in the long run due to better results from the chemical used.

For those who have wheat and use chemicals to control weeds there is a change you may be interested in. The Environmental Protection Agency has granted DuPont approval for expanding the label on Finesse herbicide. This new label will give farmers more flexibility with weed control by reducing tillage and maximizing yield potential.

The May 3, 1993 issue of "The High Plains Journal" has an article on this. However, the label will be your best reference.

On April 23, 1993, eight boll weevil traps were placed throughout Knox County. As of April 30 the counts were as follows: West of Knox City - 2; North of Knox City - 19; West of Munday - 0; N. West of Munday - 20; Rhineland - 8; North of Goree - 0; Vera - 21; and Gilliland - 0; Total - 70.

The information given in this news article is for educational purposes only. Reference to commercial products or trade names is made with the understanding that no discrimination is intended and no endorsement is implied by the Texas agricultural Extension Service or this newspaper.

If you have any questions or concerns please contact the Knox County Extension office in Benjamin. Paul Weiser will be at the Knox City City Hall on Wednesday, May 19 to help answer any questions.

Nurses And Staff Enjoy Hot Dogs At Care Home

Munday Nursing Center recognized their nursing staff on Thursday, May 6, during National Nurses Week. All departments were invited to a hot dog party, sponsored by Joyce Hardin, Administrator, Charlotte Welch, RN, Director of Nurses, and Rachel Gray, LVN, Assistant Director and Medicare Manager.

Licensed nurses were presented with an appreciation lapel pin. Certified nurse assistants received a Beverly Nursing ink pen as a token of appreciation. Both parties were acknowledged for their hard work and kind dedication in caring for the residents.

Munday Nursing Center is fortunate to have a staff of qualified, competent health care professionals to join in Beverly Enterprises motto of "Sharing a Vision for America's Health".

In conjunction with the festivities, the nurses who are always attired in the age-old professional "whites" were treated to a day of casual attire - blue-jean day. The residents enjoyed seeing a variance of colors on all those familiar faces.
