Munday ties Rotan 19 to 19

Nineteen to nineteen was the final score here in Munday last Friday night. Neither the Munday Moguls nor the Rotan Yellowhammers could connect with the extra points to get the one or two point edge needed to win the ball game.

Rotan took the opening kick-off and on the first play moved the ball down to the Munday 5 but a clipping penalty brought the ball back. Three plays later the Yellowhammers were forced to punt. A fumbled snap kept the punter from kicking and several Mogul defenders tackled him for a 6 yard loss.

Munday had the ball at the Rotan 24. Gerald Taylor carried the ball 3 out of 4 times on runs of 8, 6 and 10 yards for the first score of the game. The extra point was blocked holding the score at 6 to 0.

On the Moguls next possession after forcing Rotan to punt again, Robbie Vaughn connected with Jeff Cook for a 20 yard pass gain. A penalty and a sack pushed Munday back to their 49. Munday had to punt but a Rotan defender managed to block the punt. Jeff Cook was their to pick it up and advance the ball 22 yards, but fell shy of a first to give Rotan the ball at their own 29.

The Yellowhammers fumbled on the next play and Chris Torres recovered the ball at the 31.

Three plays later Munday fumbled the ball on the run and Jason Hise picked up the ball and rushed 30 yards for another Mogul touchdown. The PAT by Joe Bunton put the score at 13 to 0.

After receiving the kick-off, Rotan went for the long ball. Marc McWhorter tipped the pass and Riekey Serrato came down with the interception. On the next play for the Moguls a pass intended for Zane Donoho was intercepted by Rotan.

After four plays and a first down, Temple Daniel found some open field and sprinted 59 yards for a Yellowhammer touchdown. Rotan tried a two point conversion but the Moguls stopped them. At the end of the first quarter the score was Munday 13, Rotan 6.

Midway through the second Rotan was driving the ball. After three first downs the Yellowhammers were threatening at the Mogul 3 yard line. Rotan fumbled on the next play and Jeff Cook recovered for the Moguls.

Munday was able to move the ball out to midfield but a 15 yard penalty pushed them back to the 29 and forced a punt. A short punt gave the Yellowhammers the ball at the Mogul 43. A 13 yard pass and four runs put Rotan at the Munday 9 yard line. Yellowhammer Trey Brown took the ball in from 9 yards out and the extra point was good. The score was even at 13.

Munday bounced right back. Gerald Taylor received the kick off at the 28 and with great blocking sprinted 72 yards for the touchdown. A two point conversion failed and Munday was on top 19 to 13 at half time.

The Moguls received the third quarter kick-off. Gerald Taylor took the ball on first down and trucked 49 yards to the Rotan 12. A late hit penalty put Munday at the 6. Rotan pushed the Moguls back from the 5. A 1 yard loss, a 5 yard penalty, and a quarterback sack put Munday back to the 20.

On fourth down an incomplete pass failed to put the Moguls in the end zone. The third quarter remained scoreless.

Munday had the ball at the Rotan 38 at the beginning of the fourth quarter.

The Moguls fumbled again midway through the fourth at the Rotan 40. Munday quickly got the ball back when Jeff Cook recovered a Yellowhammer fumble at their 37 yard line.

Munday made minus yards on the next three plays and were forced to punt. A 32 yard punt by Robbie Vaughn was received by Rotan's Phillip Hull at the 8 yard line. Hull then returned the punt 92 yards to even the score at 19. Fans on both sides of the field were anxious to see what would happen on the extra point. The kick went right and hit the goal posts to fall no good. The score remained 19 to 19.

PLAYERS OF THE WEEK

Running back - Gerald Taylor, Offensive line - Will Dutton, Receiver - Jeff Cook, Defensive line - Nate Kuehler, Secondary - Donnie Browning and Marc McWhorter, Linebacker - Chris Torres; Special Team of the Week - Kick-off return team.

IT WAS HARD TO CATCH the Munday crew in one spot long enough to discuss the new ambulance which arrived last week. This picture was taken as they were leaving on another emergency call, with Joel Greenwood behind the wheel. This new unit will be a great asset to the Knox County Ambulance Service.

Pink Ladies' donation helps buy ambulance

The new Knox County ambulance finally arrived in Munday last week, and was put to use immediately.

The new ambulance, which replaces a 1977 Modulance Type II unit, is a Ford Diesel 7.3 Type 3 Marque, purchased from Reliable Emergency Vehicles in Dublin. "We made our choice based on the structural integrity, warranties, price, and references," Stephen Kuehler, hospital administrator, said. The final purchase price was $65,000.

The Pink Ladies Volunteer Auxiliary of the Knox County Hospital donated $15,000 toward the purchase of the ambulance. "Our volunteers generously donate their time to serve our patients at the hospital every day, but this donation means that everyone in the county will benefit from their generosity," Kuehler said. The balance of the cost of the ambulance will be paid from hospital district funds.

A Type 3 ambulance is a box-type emergency vehicle. "The advantage of this kind of unit is that emergency care attendants can walk through the ambulance from the cab to the care unit," Kuehler noted. It is a Mobile ICU (intensive care unit) with all the modern equipment needed to treat any emergency, from heart patients to accident victims.

Knox County Hospital District operates the ambulance service for Knox County, with ambulances stationed in Munday and Knox City. The service has four full-time employees including two paramedics and two EMT-Intermediates. Employees of the Munday station include Joel Greenwood and Lissa Myers, and a special crew of volunteers that are dependable and eager to help when needed.

"This new ambulance will benefit the entire county, however the unit will be stationed in Munday. The advanced technology of the ambulance and the increased reliability of a new unit will enhance emergency care for all of us," Kuehler said.

Weinert Exes coming home this Saturday

The rural town of Weinert, Texas is likely to double in size this weekend as former students and teachers gather at the old school building for Homecoming '94!

The theme for Saturday, October 1, is "Good Ole Daze". Exes will begin arriving at 9 a.m. dressed in blue jeans and white shirts, a tradition that began in 1949.

A parade will be held at 11 a.m. Floats, cars, wagons, bicycles, and anything else they can think of, will line up at the Paymaster Gin and proceed down main street. Lunch will follow with the Weinert Family Community and Education Club serving sandwiches and dessert in the old Homemaking room. Other food booths will be on the front lawn of the school.

The classes of 1943 and '44 will be honored guests at the program set for 1:30. Visitation will follow, with rooms available for class meetings. A Memorabilia Room will be set up displaying old school items. If you have any items you would like to contribute for the day, see Roberta Raynes Jenkins or Alice Cypert Yates.

An evening meal will be held at 5:30, catered by Dairyland of Jacksboro.

The evening program will include a talent contest that you won't want to miss. The fun starts at 7 p.m. Once again the women of Weinert have pieced and quilted a beautiful quilt to be given away during the talent contest. Proceeds from ticket sales will be used to cover expenses for this and future homecomings. A dance will follow at 9:00 with the location to be announced at the program.

A community worship service will be held Sunday morning at 10:30. Rev. Max Copeland, from the Class of '47, will preach the sermon.

The classes of '43 and '44 will be having a Dutch Treat dinner at 7 p.m. Friday night, September 30, at the Brazos Inn in Munday. For more information contact Leona Havran Partridge at 422-4288.

Sara Offutt Eggleston to receive national award to be presented by President Clinton

Munday High School valedictorian of the Class of '61, Sara Offutt Eggleston, has brought pride to her home town as well as to Pattison Elementary School where she has been principal for the last five years.

At the end of the school year in May, Pattison Elementary was notified that they had been selected as an official Blue Ribbon School by the U.S. Department of Education, a prestigious honor awarded to fewer than 300 schools per year out of thousands of applicants.

Mrs. Eggleston will go Washington, D.C. October 5 and 6 to receive the National Award of Excellence from President Clinton. She will be accompanied by teacher Virginia Schreiner-Neville and parent volunteer Debbie Kurz, who were instrumental in working on the application to win the award. A banquet will be held where the presentation will be made, and will be aired on TV October 6.

Schools must apply for the Blue Ribbon Award by filling out a long application covering the school's leadership, teaching environment, curriculum and instruction, student environment, parent and community support, organizational vitality, and special programs. It took many volunteer hours from the staff and parents to complete the application.

After the application passed an initial selection process, a Department of Education official paid a three-day visit to Pattison last spring to verify the information. Winners were announced in late May.

When Mrs. Eggleston accepts the award from President Clinton, she will be doing so on behalf of "all of Pattison - the teachers, the staff, the parents, the volunteers, and most of all the kids."

Mrs. Eggleston is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Offutt of Munday. After receiving her Bachelor and Masters degree in Education at Abilene Christian University, she taught at Jackson Elementary 12 years. She then became principal at Katy Memorial where she served 10 years before the district split and she transferred to Pattison Elementary five years ago. Both schools are located in the Houston area.

She is married to Dr. Frank Eggleston, a dentist and President of the American Dental Association. They have one daughter, Camille, who is married and is now a lawyer.

Middle ear infections are common this time of year

It is the peak season for one of the most common childhood illnesses, and many parents don't even know it, says an ear, nose and throat expert.

"Middle ear infections, or otitis media, can occur at any time of the year, but fall and winter are especially bad," said Dr. Newton O. Duncan, an assistant professor of otorhinolaryngology and pediatrics at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston.

Middle ear infections strike more than 80% of children by age 3. Duncan said it cannot be avoided especially since children are often in daycare situations, but it can be treated. The "high-risk" ages are 6 months to 3 years.

Duncan suggest parents watch for early indicators of this painful and potentially dangerous infection.

"At the first sign of fever, fussiness, tugging or rubbing of the ears, upper respiratory infection, nausea or vomiting, or any combination of these, parents should suspect middle ear infection," he said. "It certainly warrants an examination within 24 hours of the onset of symptoms."

Middle ear infections occur when bacteria invades the middle ear causing inflammation. This results in a painful buildup of infected fluid behind the ear drum due to obstruction of the eustachian tube that leads from the sinuses to the middle ear.

Untreated middle ear infections can result in serious complications such as ruptured ear drum, meningitis, brain abscess, or even hearing loss. Early treatment may prevent such serious complications.

"Antibiotics are the main therapy," Duncan said. "Persistent cases may require special antibiotics or surgical drainage."

In more serious cases, ear tubes may be surgically inserted to help relieve fluid buildup and frequently occurring infections. There are vaccine studies underway, but nothing has proven effective yet, Duncan said.

To avoid middle ear infections, Duncan suggests avoiding exposing children to colds, flu or other viruses, make sure your child receives the full course of antibiotics and be checked for complete ear healing within four weeks or sooner if any symptoms persist.

Antihistamines and decongestants are not useful for ear infections, but help in relieving cold and virus symptoms.

"Middle ear infections are extremely common," said Duncan. "So don't let it catch you by surprise. Know the symptoms and seek treatment."

The Christian Life

Jeff Christian - Minister
Munday Church of Christ

What would it take for you to totally lose faith in God? I don't mean, not believing God exists. Rather, what would have to happen in your life for you to totally give up on God?

Maybe I should ask a different question: What happened? At what point in your life did you start depending on yourself, and stop depending on God? Recently at church we have been going through Psalm 23. One of the most memorable lines in that Psalm is, "I shall not want." In other words, "I am totally satisfied with whatever God sees fit for me." So often we think we know what is best for our lives. So often we make plans to take a particular road in life, only to find ourselves going down a different one. Until we realize that God is capable of ruling our lives, we will only continue to find many of our plans made in vain.

Sigmund Freud said that God was a concept that humans created to serve as a parental figure for adults, because adults no longer have the parent's hand to hold. But what Freud did not realize was that God has been ruling the lives of people for thousands of years. It is not a matter of whether or not God is able to work in your life. It is a matter of whether or not you are strong enough to admit that God's will is the best road to take. Admitting weakness is sometimes the strongest thing you can do.

FmHA accepting applications for emergency farm loans

Applications for emergency farm loans for losses caused by drought and high temperatures which occurred on June 25, 1994 through June 30, 1994, are being accepted at the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) office located in Knox City. FmHA County Supervisor Bobby G. Cude said today.

Knox and Foard Counties are 2 of 7 in Texas recently named by Secretary of Agriculture Mike Espy as eligible for loans to cover part of actual production losses resulting from the drought and high temperatures.

Mr. Cude said farmers may be eligible for loans of up to 80% of their actual losses or the operating loan needed to continue in business or $500,000.00 whichever is less. For farmers unable to obtain credit from private commercial lenders, the interest is 4.5 percent.

"As a general rule, a farmer must have suffered at least a 30 percent loss of production to be eligible for an FmHA emergency loan," Cude said. Farmers participating in the PIK or Federal Crop Insurance program will have to figure in proceeds from those programs in determining their loss.

"Applications for loans under this emergency designation will be accepted until May 1, 1995, but farmers should apply as soon as possible. Delays in applying could create backlogs in processing and possibly over into the new farming season," Cude said.

FmHA is a credit agency of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. It is authorized to provide disaster emergency loans to recognized farmers who work at and rely on farming for a substantial part of their living. Eligibility is extended to individual farmers who are U. S. citizens and to farming partnerships, cooperations or cooperatives in which U. S. citizens hold a majority interest.

The FmHA office in Knox City is open from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Mineola student receives Aimee Davis Scholarship

We received the following letter at the news office from Sue Kane Norris, former resident of Munday.

Dear Sirs:

I am a former Munday resident. Many people from Munday gave memorials to the scholarship fund we established in my daughter's memory. I would like for them to know what their donations went to and that we hope to continue to award one or two scholarships each year. Any high school senior with diabetes is eligible.

Aimee spent many happy times visiting her grandparents, June and Jerry Kane in Munday and she was very familiar at the library, drug store, Ben Franklins, and the Methodist Church.

I would appreciate if you would publish this news release. Thank you.

Sincerely,
Sue Kane Norris
MINEOLA STUDENT RECEIVES DIABETES ASSN. MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP

Amanda Russell, a recent graduate of Mineola High School, received the American Diabetes Association, Texas Affiliate Aimee Melissa Davis Memorial Scholarship at the annual meeting last spring.

Miss Russell is now a freshman at Tyler Junior College. She was diagnosed with Type I (insulin dependent) diabetes at age nine. She has actively participated in family support groups, summer camps for children with diabetes, and has visited children when they are newly diagnosed with diabetes.

Aimee Melissa Davis, daughter of long-time ADA volunteers Sue Kane Norris and David M. Davis, and granddaughter of Jerome H. Kane and the late June Kane of Munday, Texas, was diagnosed with Type I diabetes in 1981 when she was eight years old. She died last fall of diabetes-related complications.

"Aimee had such a kind and compassionate nature and she always wanted to help others in the community," says her brother, Chris Davis, a legal administrator in Houston. "We wanted the scholarship recipient to have those same characteristics."

"Managing diabetes as a teenager is a daily challenge - it is difficult to be different from your peers, it is difficult to have to remember to eat at certain times, it is painful to have to prick your finger several times a day to check your blood sugar level," says James Marks, M.D., a pediatric endocrinologist in Dallas. "This scholarship is the best way to help other teenagers who have the same obstacles and fears as Aimee did." Nearly 14 million Americans and more than one million Texans have diabetes; half don't know it. Diabetes is a leading cause of death by disease. It is the leading cause of blindness and the most frequent cause of amputations in the United States. Diabetes is also a major contributor to heart disease, strokes and birth defects.

If you would like to make a contribution to the Aimee Melissa Davis Scholarship Fund, please call the American Diabetes Association at 1-800-DIABETES.

Knox County Hospital introduces new logo

Knox County Hospital District is introducing a new logo and a new slogan this week as part of the hospital's new vision for health care in the area, Stephen Kuehler, administrator said. "The logo is a graphic statement that symbolizes the new direction our hospital is taking," he said.

The phrase "Quality Care from People You Know" summarizes the mission of the hospital, Kuehler said. "Our objective is to provide the highest quality care we can in the warm, secure, hometown atmosphere our patients have come to appreciate," he said.

The First Annual Knox County Hospital Health Fair last weekend was another indicator of the changing goals of the hospital. "The health fair was an attempt to bring all kinds of health care information and screenings to the people of our area," Kuehler said. "This is just the start of our greater involvement in community activities and interaction."

Board president Bill Baker said that the Board and hospital personnel are beginning the process of developing a strategic plan for the hospital. "This will be a definitive document that will help us define our future role within the community, and delineate the best ways we can continue to serve our community," Baker said. "The strategic plan will take us in many new directions, and help us use our resources most effectively."

The logo will be seen on hospital signage, stationery, and other official documents of the hospital, Kuehler said.

Pathways

by Randy White, Pastor
First Baptist Church

Have you ever played the "What-if" game? It's a fun mental exercise, and can get you dreaming about what could be. In truth it is only a game, because what-ifs rarely become reality.

But I would, nonetheless, like to play the What-if game today. For example, what if everyone who claimed to be a Christian really lived like one? What if they all attended church, read their Bible, prayed, tithed, witnessed, and sought God's will? What if?

What if, after a person became a Christian, their relationships with others were all that they should be? The Bible says they (lost people) will know us (saved people) by our love. Sometimes our love is not all it should be. Jesus taught that if you are coming to worship and remember you have something against your brother, you are to go first and be reconciled to your brother, then make your way back to the church. What if all Christians did that? For starters, there would be a lot of people late to church!

What if every time we sinned, we admitted it immediately to God. Since Adam and Eve, mankind has tried to hide from God when he sinned. If we would only confess our sins, He would forgive us, and we would be free from our spiritual guilt that hinders our service for Him.

When we are thinking about someone else, this What-if game can only be a game. But when thinking about ourselves, What-if can become a reality, IF we will make it that way.

"Lord, help me to follow through on the 'ifs'. Amen."

P.S.--I've gone to 174 homes to date in my goal to knock on "every door in '94". Soon I'll knock on your door!

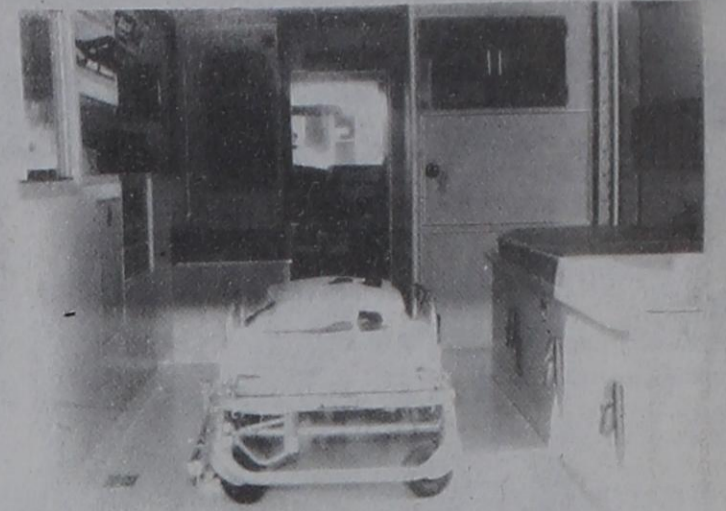

We are ready to gin your cotton!

Here to serve you with the best in ginning equipment

Braves win second game in a row

The Munday Junior High Braves won their second game in a row by defeating the Rotan Yellowhammers 18 to 14 last Thursday.

Rotan scored first to go on top 8 to 0 but the Braves tied it up with a touchdown pass from Brandon Sosa to Colby Cook and two point plunge by fullback, Brian Awalt. The score remained 8 to 8 at the half.

The Braves were able to outscore their opponent 12 points to 6 in the second half. Munday scored with another touchdown pass and 2 point run and also a safety. George Santos tackled the Rotan runner in the end zone.

The offensive line performed very well. Blocking by guards Ralph Bejar and Justin Gray, tackles Brant Reed and Adam Quintero, center Junior Anchondo and tight end Wesley Spells, made running easier for fullback Brian Awalt and tailback Daniel Anchondo.

The defense also played a great game. Eric Beaty broke up a few passes and intercepted one.

Some folks pay a compliment like they went down in their pocket for it.

From A Carpenter's Son

Don Whetsell - Pastor
First Methodist Church, Munday - Goree

I heard a story yesterday. It happened many years ago in a small community not unlike our own. There was one small church in this town and one day it caught fire. Being a small town, without much of a fire department, the preacher of the church, the mayor, and many other fine citizens and members of the church formed a bucket brigade to combat the blaze. As the preacher turned to hand the bucket to the next person in line, he was shocked to find that it was the town heathen standing next to him, helping put out the blaze. The preacher and everyone else had been after the man for years trying to get him to come to church and the man had steadfastly refused to have anything to do with the church, so you can understand the preacher's surprise at seeing him there. As he handed the next bucket to the man, he asked "What are you doing here? I thought you wouldn't have anything to do with the church!" To which the man replied, "It's never been on fire before!" Why do we look at football as a get-to and church as a have-to? Why do we approach our service to God with a do-enough-to-get-by attitude rather than a give-as-much-as-we-can attitude? We need to approach every task with great expectations and enthusiasm. We need to be set on fire with a passion for God and his people (which includes everyone). We need to be just as excited about our faith as we are about the Dallas Cowboys! Just like in the story, if our churches were to be "set on fire", we might be very surprised at who might want in on the action! Why, it might even be us!

Challenges for women in farm life

As we continue our three part series on farm safety, we want to focus on women this week.

Statistics show that women involved in agricultural work may be at an increased risk for certain types of accidents. While men are involved in more tractor rollovers, women are at a higher risk of being run over by tractors and other farm machinery, according to preliminary data from the National Safety Council. Farm and ranch experts say that women often assist their spouses by helping hitch equipment to tractors. This activity may expose them to injury or death.

Another area of increased risk for women is working with farm animals and livestock. Preliminary data from farm states shows women often tend livestock while men work with farm tractors and other machinery. As a result, women may suffer disabling injuries from farm animals. In order to prevent accidents, the National Safety Council reminds women who participate in farm chores to take preventive measures such as the ones offered below.

*Wear clothing and safety gear that is appropriate for the tasks or chores at hand. Boots and shoes should be fully laced and loose clothing tucked in to prevent power take-off and equipment entanglements.

*Keep your hair neatly tucked under head gear or tied up when working around wrap points such as power take-offs.

*Be extremely careful when helping to hitch implements to tractors. Do not get caught in a tight location between a tractor and other farm machinery. Learn the common hand signals associated with safe hitching procedures.

*Always face unpredictable livestock so you can watch them at all times. Larger farm animals such as bulls and horses may panic or become aggressive and inflict serious injury. Swine, especially sows with young pigs, can be very protective of their young and may injure a person when aggravated.

*Do not go along as an "extra-ride" on a farm tractor. Bumpy, uneven ground, quick turns and excessive speed may increase your risk of falling and being run over by the tractor or trailing equipment.

Don't bring pests indoors with plants

With the onset of cooler weather, many people are bringing their plants indoors, but along with the plants often come insects.

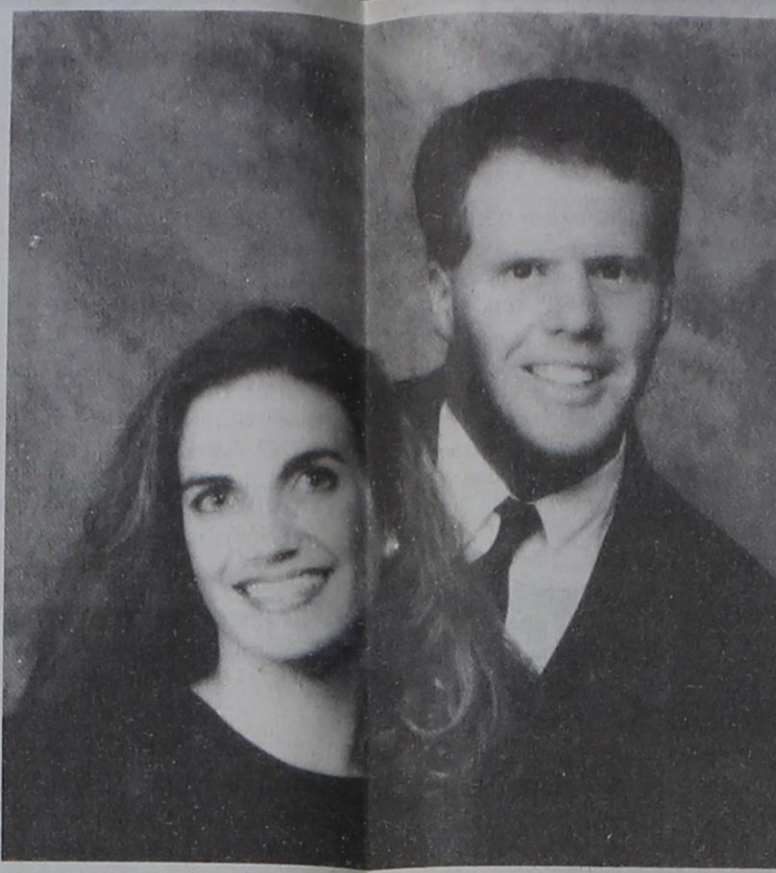

Check plants carefully while they are still outdoors. Once insects are indoors, they can be even more pervasive because they don't have to worry about the pressures of parasites, predators and the effects of the outdoor environment.

Insects may either be on the plant or in the soil. Turn the plant's leaves over and open the plant to check all the stems. Remove any litter on top of the soil. Then, to be on the safe side you can use one of the aerosols for indoor plants, carefully and lightly treating all the plants that have been moved.

Even with such measures, some pests can get by. Spot-check them indoors. If you do find an insect on the plant, be sure to properly identify it before buying insecticide. A wrong diagnosis can be more costly than taking no action at all.
