Name-Dropping

Care to change your name? According to a survey, one-third of all adult Americans are dissatisfied with the name they bear. And in substantial numbers they are trading it in for a new model.

There are two ways to make the change. In most states, you can take your choice of either method.

First, you can do it yourself. All that is necessary is to get yourself generally known by the new name. The trouble is the process is too gradual. There may be uncertainty, at any given moment, as to whether the change has really "taken." And doubts about your name can cause complications in everything from collecting a debt to taking out insurance, from getting a credit card to selling your home.

The second method of name-changing, by court order, is far better. A formal request is submitted to the appropriate tribunal. If it is approved, that settles the matter—instantly.

Of course, the court does not have to approve your request. Your reason for a change might be found unacceptable. Thus, you cannot change your name for such skulduggery as dodging creditors or cutting in unfairly on someone else's good will. Doubtless you would have trouble changing your name to "Woolworth" for the purpose of opening a variety store, or to "Charlie Chaplin" for a fling at comedy.

Too, judges sometimes frown on changes that are notably off-beat. One judge balked at changing a man's name to "Jesus Christ II" ("I don't believe it would be within my discretion"), and another judge said no to a girl's request for "Baby Doll" ("How would it look on a driver's license?").

But as a rule the judge will say yes, leaving it primarily up to the individual to decide what name he shall carry. In one case, a man wanted to Americanize his Italian name. His relatives, proud of their family background, showed up in court to object. But the court granted the change anyhow, with this comment:

"The law does not require a man to retain and to perpetuate the surname of his ancestors."

1965 March Of Dimes Campaign Being Planned

According to Mrs. Doyle Graham, county campaign chairman, plans are now in the making for the annual March of Dimes drive throughout the county.

Mrs. Bobby Joe Helton is chairman of the Knox City drive, and Mrs. C. J. Albus is heading the Rhineland campaign. Other chairmen have yet to be named.

"To date, the county is debt-free, having carried old debts that have been erased over from actual polio cases in the 1950's," the chairman said. "We are maintaining a year-around fund to assist two polio patients that are still receiving treatment and corrective apparel necessary for their well being. We want to continue helping these youngsters in every way we can, and also provide funds for the outstanding research program now in progress at the new Salk Institute at San Diego, Calif."

"Dr. Jonas Salk, developer of the polio vaccine, is director of this institute. Another important phase of the National Foundation is the many new birth defect centers that have been established in 50 cities throughout our country. They are providing medical care, scientific research, public and professional education into one of the nation's gravest medical problems."

"Through the conviction and concern of March of Dimes volunteers, and support of the American people, this great network of March of Dimes birth defects centers will grow and give help and hope to millions of parents whose babies are born defective in body and in mind."

"The National Foundation is also carrying on its program in the field of arthritis foundations that joined forces in 1964."

"If enough funds become available in the county in this drive, it is the desire of the county executive committee to provide a yearly scholarship to youth of our high schools who are interested in any phase of medicine, in furthering their career. The outcome of this year's campaign will determine whether this worthy act can be realized."

372 Deer Taken From Black Gap

SAN ANGELO — Participants in the 1964 free public hunts on the Black Gap Wildlife Management Area bagged 372 deer for a 33 per cent success average for the 1,119 taking part.

Hunters also harvested sixty-six javelina, during the seven, two-day shoots between November 28 and December 11. On the Sierra Diablo Management Area north of Van Horn, 80 hunters harvested 47 deer during four, two-day hunts from November 28 to December 5 for 59 per cent hunting success.

Sportsmen whose names were drawn for free public hunts on West Texas management areas seldom complain if they are not among the 40-50 per cent who bag game, biologists report. The rugged desert scenery and the freedom to wander through wild uninhabited mountains help compensate for the long drive west for the average participant.

Knox Veterans Get Benefits Of Administration

Veterans of Knox County received monetary benefits of over $130,000 during 1964, according to a letter from the Veterans Affairs Commission in Austin to Clarence E. Woodward, county service officer. The letter follows:

Dear Mr. Woodward:

Our complete reports show that more than $131,001.00 in Federal benefits was paid to the veterans and their families of your county during the past year. This amount represents only the cases handled by the Veterans Affairs Commission and the veterans organizations with which we are accredited.

As you know, none of the benefits paid to veterans, their dependents and their survivors are automatic. A former application must be made by each eligible person before any monetary benefits may be paid. From the amount of Federal benefits brought into your county, it is obvious that your office has filed and processed numerous claims for veterans and their dependents.

It has been a pleasure to work with you in the past, and we look forward to many more years of pleasant association in offering assistance to the many veterans of our State and Nation.

Sincerely yours,
Charles L. Morris
Executive Director

According to Mr. Woodward, benefits to Knox County during the past four years are as follows:
1961, $81,380; 1962, $153,130;

1963, $79,800, and 1964, $131,001. The deaths of six World War I veterans and five World War II veterans were recorded, Mr. Woodward said.

N. Y. Life Sees Good Year Ahead

Many indications point to healthy business conditions for 1965, and here's another one. New York Life Insurance Company has just declared the largest dividend amount in its 119-year history to be paid next year — more than double the amount paid only ten years ago.

New York Life policy owners will receive a record $192,550,000 in dividends for 1965, an increase of $5,750,000 over this year, according to Chairman Richard K. Paynter, Jr.

What the dividend means to an individual life insurance policy owner is indicated by an example. A man who has a $10,000 ordinary life policy purchased in 1940, at age 35, will receive a dividend of about $162. His annual premium is $281.10.

FARM EXPORTS BENEFIT ECONOMY

Exports of farm products are vital to the nation's entire economy—farm and non-farm. Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman said the record 1963-64 exports were produced by an estimated 870,000 farm workers with a value of $6.1 billion. This additional income, he said, means that farmers are able to buy more goods and services and thus generate more non-farm jobs and incomes.
