

Kracker Krumbs

Odd Bits Salvaged
By The Editor

Usually, you may expect most any type of weather in February and not be disappointed.

We had most of it last month, except for the extreme cold spells that generally come during the month. As a general rule, if we have any zero or sub-zero weather it comes during the month of February.

Last month, we had some moisture in the form of rain and a smattering of sleet, we had dusts, cold weather and unusually warm weather.

It was warm enough during the month to cause some trees to start budding, and we noticed a few were blooming. This causes concern among people who have fruit trees, because early budding generally means the fruit will be killed by a freeze later.

Our latest cold spell reached on down into the Rio Grande Valley, causing some damage to the crops.

Some two years ago, we recall, we were supposed to be in Silverton one Saturday morning in February. It got too cold for us to tackle the trip, so we called up there that morning and learned the thermometer had nose-dived to 11 below zero.

Most of us are grateful that we missed this type of weather last month. In fact, we've missed the extreme cold all winter, and to some that ain't good. There are still people who contend we need some really cold weather to kill off the insects.

February also had its share of special weeks. During the month we had Boy Scout Week, Children's Dental Health Week, National Electrical Week, National Beauty Salon Week, National Crime Prevention Week, Future Farmers of America Week, not to mention special days like the birthdays of Thomas Edison, Abraham Lincoln, George Washington, etc.

We once heard a merchant remark that if we could just eliminate February from our calendar we'd all be better off financially. But where could we place all those special weeks or days?

In case you're looking for a special week, don't give up yet. There's more to come.

For instance, we're observing Public Schools Week, and if you haven't already visited your school it'll be too late after today (Thursday.) There'll be no school on Friday, as all teachers will be attending the teachers' meeting at Vernon.

Then later in March we'll be having International Flower Week, Girl Scout Week, National Business Women's Week, National Peanut Week, National Wild Life Week, National Poison Prevention Week, Camp Fire Girls Week and National Insurance Week.

As an economy measure, we think limiting free mailing privileges for legislators in our nation's capitol would be an important step. Just last Tuesday we received five pieces of mail from U. S. Senators and Congressmen, all of which were relegated to File 13.

Some people who would not even think of snitching an apple from a crate in the grocery store will violate the law when it comes to fishing, funny as it may seem. A game warden in the Lake Falcon area reported recently that he had, in one week, removed about 200 illegal fish traps from the waters of that sprawling lake. He also picked simultaneously many hundreds of feet of illegal nets.

Generally, it would appear, if the other fellow does it it's much worse that if we do it ourselves!

Mystery Man To Show Powers Of Hypnotism

What do you think you would do in a hypnotic trance? Merlin, the Hypnotist, who is appearing at the Munday school auditorium on Friday and Saturday nights, March 12 and 13 will call a number of willing volunteers from the audience. While under hypnosis, they will shiver with cold, see a motion picture and other uncanny demonstrations, which Merlin achieves through the power of suggestion.

A feature of the show is to make a volunteer stiff as a board, then stretch him between two chairs — his head on the edge of one chair, and his heels on the edge of the other. Then Merlin stands on the person's stomach. After it's all over, the volunteer remembers the demonstration as though it had taken place in a dream. To demonstrate the power of post hypnotic suggestion, Merlin tells the volunteers that their right foot will be fastened to the floor when they try to leave the stage. They find it impossible to leave the stage until Merlin breaks the spell.

Merlin is one of the few magicians who has mastered mass hypnosis, which is generally considered to be the most difficult of all the magicians accomplishments.

Instead of escaping from a thoroughly examined and padlocked box, as the Great Houdini used to, Merlin locks a young lady in the box, and then in a matter of seconds, the lady is out and Merlin is in. The box is unlocked, the lid removed, and out jumps Merlin.

Another feature of the show is Erna, the Princess of Magic, who has mastered the Hindu Basket mystery.

This show is being sponsored by the Munday Lions Club.

WHO ARE THE DELINQUENTS?

Juvenile delinquency is a much discussed subject nowadays. But the real root of the problem is generally so it peddled.

Where does the blame lie for juvenile delinquency? It would seem that a major share of it can be charged to parents and schools. Both fail to teach and emphasize the importance of courtesy and the observance of the rights of others.

One simple little rule of conduct, if impressed on the children by parents and on students each day by teachers, from the first grade in public schools to graduation in college, would help.

That rule would be: Keep your hands off other people and other people's property.

Such a rule of action instilled into the young mind could save untold misery and heartaches for young and old alike.

Teaching this simple rule of action would be fulfilling an obligation which adults owe the young and would relieve the elders of serious delinquency on their part. And it wouldn't take a new law or more taxes to accomplish results.

GIRL SCOUT WEEK

Once again, Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. — almost three and three-quarter million of them—are celebrating their week.

Girl Scout Week 1965, March 7-13, has as its theme, "A Promise in Action." Actually, the "Promise" has been very much in action and in evidence for 53 years. It was March 12, 1912, when a group of very young ladies formed the first Girl Scout troop in the United States and set the pattern for more than 20 million others by making the Girl Scout Promise: "On my honor, I will try: to do my duty to God and my country, to help other people at all times, to obey the Girl Scout Laws."

This year, Girl Scouts are emphasizing what they call "bridges." They refer to a continuity of program activities which become more complex and challenging as girls grow from seven through 17. They refer also to a plan whereby girls in one age level introduce girls of a younger age to what lies ahead for them when they progress to the next level in Girl Scouting. There are four age levels — Brownies, Juniors, Cadettes and Seniors.

In a larger sense, however, Girl Scouting really is a bridge to the future. For the Girl Scout program is concerned with helping girls to live up to the Girl Scout Promise and the Girl Scout Laws of loyalty, honesty, courtesy, cheerfulness, usefulness, kindness and thrift. Girl Scouting can make the difference in the kind of woman a girl becomes.

And the kind of woman — the kind of human being — a girl becomes can make the difference in the world of the future.

PICKPOCKET PHILOSOPHY

We seem, as a nation, to have become conditioned to interminable federal deficits. Few of us, apparently, give any great thought to their significance.

Edwin P. Neilan, immediate past president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, recently said something that is of direct personal interest to us all: "There was a time when the standard dollar was measured in terms of the 1939 purchasing power, and under this standard, the dollar has depreciated steadily until it is now worth approximately 44c. In an effort to avoid the startling figure which results from using 1939 as a base year, certain areas of the government have adopted 1953 as the year in which the dollar was worth 100c in purchasing power. Even under this standard, the current dollar has declined to something in the area of 86c as far as purchasing power is concerned. . . . Regardless of how the statisticians attempt to adjust the base on which they measure the purchasing value of our dollar . . . evidence always brings up the same answer, that this pickpocket philosophy of perennial deficits is surely and constantly decreasing the value of the dollar that the thrifty have saved and their ability to take care of their own problems."

What will the dollar be worth, 5, 10 or 20 years from now if the deficit-spending policy continues to prevail?

PUBLIC SCHOOLS WEEK

The need for the public school never changes, but times and conditions may change or require to be changed and practices of public education. This is inherent with anything that grows, for growth is the result of change.

Our Texas public schools were created 111 years ago. In 1854 the first law was passed establishing the public school.

It is a healthy thing in our democratic way of life to have intelligent understanding of the important functions of our basic institutions. This is especially true of the schools. The initiative and resourcefulness and the wisdom and leadership that our schools are inculcating in the youth of today are the answer of the problems of citizenship in the years ahead.

Yes, "bring me men to match my mountains." That is the need of our times and must come from the public schools—schools that are strong in virtues required for building strong men and women.

We can be assured of this and do our part in understanding and helping the public schools to fulfill their great obligation to our times by being a participant in the annual Public Schools Week March 1 through March 5, 1965. Schools will hold open house; accept their hospitality, and you will enjoy the experience of going back to school—if but for a day.

FAIRFAX, MINN., STANDARD: "Have you noticed how little recreational reading you get done lately? All news, books, magazines, discuss problems and more problems—family, government, business—you just can't find anything light and relaxing to read—to forget it all for a few hours!"

NEW LONDON, IOWA, JOURNAL: "If adults set youth the proper example, it might be possible for young people to follow their lead."

Miss Velma Bellinghausen And Jimmy Dale Seale Are Married At Rhineland

MRS. JIMMY DALE SEALE

Miss Velma Bellinghausen became the bride of Jimmie Dale Seale at a late afternoon ceremony performed Saturday in St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Rhineland. Father Herman Laux was officiant at the vows and celebrant of the nuptial mass.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bellinghausen of Rhineland and Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Seale of Goree.

The couple knelt on a white satin and lace covered prie-dieu. The sanctuary was decorated with white gladioli and mums in tall wicker baskets, with ivy and candelabra on the altar.

Wedding music was presented by Mrs. Leo Fetsch, organist, and Mrs. Marvin Zeissel. Mrs. Alvin Michalik, Mrs. Alphonse Kuehler, and Suzan Kuehler, vocalists.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of delustered satin fashioned with a molded bodice and elbow length sleeves. Peau d'ange chantilly lace scattered with seed pearls and crystals, formed the bodice. The full back of the skirt swept into a chapel train terminating in a pearl beaded lace inset. She wore kid gloves and her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a crown of orange blossoms with pearls and crystals. The bride's bouquet was a cascade of gardenias and stephanotis.

Attending their sister were Miss Evelyn Bellinghausen and Mrs. John Lerner, both of Wichita Falls. They wore dresses of cotton blue satin made with fitted bodices and bell shaped skirts. They were enhanced by Chantilly lace jackets bound in the satin with bows at the back closing. Roses of blue satin caught to a half-circle of tulle formed their headpieces. They

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by the State Health Department

As Ponce de Leon sought the fountain of youth, so we today seek the quick, easy route to good health.

Unfortunately, neither of these exists. But there are ways to keep your mind and body physically fit.

Take a look at the seven paths of fitness.

One essential is proper medical care. This means preventive services — periodic medical examinations and an immunization schedule. Give your physician your confidence, follow his advice and obtain prompt care when you are ill.

Nutrition is an important part of fitness. Gorging yourself one day and going without food the next is not the way to become fit. Your daily food needs include meat or meat substitutes, milk and milk products, bread and cereals, (enriched or whole grain), fruits and vegetables, plus other foods to complete meals.

Proper dental care is important not only for good appearance and better health, but to permit proper chewing of food and to prevent distress and pain. Visit your dentist every six months or oftener as he advises. Brush your teeth properly, as soon after meals as possible — or if you can't brush, rinse your mouth with water. And go easy on the snacks, particularly those high in sugar, between meals. Regular visits to your dentist can help prevent dental distress, forestall tooth decay, pain and expense, and help to prevent the premature loss of teeth.

And believe it or not, exercise is an important element of fitness. Choose any exercise which suits you — your age, sex and physical condition — and that you enjoy. You need exercise enough to bring on healthful fatigue — vigorous enough to tax the power of your muscles... and regular participation using all parts of the body.

Exercise improves the action of the heart, blood circulation and digestive function. It steps up muscle tone and helps in weight control. And it gives you an overall feeling of zest and well-being.

A person also needs to have a satisfying work, healthy play and recreation, and adequate rest and relaxation.

Include these seven paths to fitness in your life. You won't have a fountain of youth, but you'll sure feel better.

Beauty begins with a clean, clear protected complexion.

Ten-O-Six Lotion is unsurpassed for immaculate deep cleansing.

It helps clear your skin with healing medication, soothes with emollients.

These great performers are the lowest priced models at our One-Stop Shopping Center

Top to bottom: Chevy II 100, Corvair 500, Chevelle 300, Chevrolet Biscayne. All 2-door models.

That luxurious Biscayne is as roomy as many expensive cars, has color-keyed interiors, plush vinyls, fine fabrics, full deep-twist carpeting.

Chevelle, America's favorite intermediate-size car, has clean new styling, wide doors, roomy, tasteful interiors and Chevrolet easy-care features.

Chevvy II got a lot smarter for '65—but stayed sensible! Still family-size, easy to handle, economical, and the lowest priced Chevrolet you can buy.

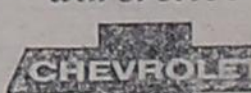

Or get a sporty rear-engine hardtop in a Corvair Sport Coupe or Sport Sedan for fun in the months ahead.

Chevrolet, Chevelle and Chevy II are available with the Turbo-Thrift Six for fuel economy, quick warmups, quiet idling. It's light, efficient, smooth and spirited.

Why a prominent banker urges you to buy Savings Bonds

"My service as Chairman of the ABA Savings Bonds committee provided a unique vantage point from which to observe how Savings Bonds, as a non-inflationary method of financing the public debt, benefit every American by helping to maintain the value of the dollar.

"And in almost 25 years as a Savings Bonds volunteer I have seen again and again how Savings Bonds help individual families by providing a steady, dependable, guaranteed way to save.

"Recognizing these contributions to our national and individual economic strength, bankers have been among the most enthusiastic supporters of the Savings Bonds program since its inception in 1941."

Historical Group Marks Graves Of All Civil War Veterans; Museum Is Planned

Pride in the history has been felt by every generation of Texans since 1836, but we have lost part of the purpose of preserving Texas History if we do not share it with others. We must develop our own history and present it to our citizens and tourists.

The first phase of our work is drawing to a close, marking and recording all Civil War Veterans' graves in the nine cemeteries in the county.

This is a long neglected part of our history, but about 80% of all graves have been marked. A few have been unable to get any information on family histories in Austin or Washington, D.C.

A museum on a small scale has been opened in the assembly room in the court house. Two cases were bought and they are now ready for articles that people have used or would be interesting to the youth of our times. We need any number of old photographs, old documents, old editions of books or newspapers. If you take anything to Benjamin please give it to Judge Parker, or any member of the historical committee in any community in the county.

The project for February is placing a marker at "The Narrows" which is the most scenic spot in Knox County. We are cooperating with the Texas Highway Department in locating the exact place and the type of marker to be secured. Other places in the county will be marked as funds are made available. We need the cooperation of all Civic clubs and Chambers of Commerce. Each town in the county should have an appropriate marker at the entrance.

The history of the county is being compiled by the history committee with Mrs. B. B. Campbell, Sr., of Knox City as chairman. She hopes to have all material in hand by April 1. Won't you help by sending in the history of your family if they were pioneers of this county?

Last year a million people moved about over the state to attend and participate in historical pilgrimages to help dedicate markers, open museums and dedicate landmarks. Tourism is new to us, but we should remember people pass through our county each year traveling north and south. We need maps to put in the hands of filling stations, hotels and motels.

Texas is divided into 18 areas or regions for the purpose of helping the historical committees with their work. Knox County is in Region 2 and is composed of Archer, Baylor, Childress, Clay, Cottle, Foard, Hardeman, Haskell, Jack, Knox,

Munday H. D. Club Meets On Wednesday

The Munday Home Demonstration Club met Wednesday, February 24 in the home of Mrs. J. T. Murdock with the club president, Mrs. Joe Patterson, presiding.

Following the business meeting Mrs. R. M. Almanrode reviewed the book "Potomac Squire", the life of George Washington. Recreation was directed by Mrs. Gill Wyatt.

The club meets on March 10th in the home of Mrs. Almanrode, at which time the program will be given by 4-H members.

Dorcas Class In Meeting Thursday

Members of the Dorcas Class of the First Baptist Church held their regular monthly meeting last Thursday in the home of Mrs. Bertha Fincannon.

Mrs. Fincannon, president, brought the devotional on "Faith" from the 11th chapter of Hebrews, followed by prayer by Mrs. Cora Hathaway.

Reports were given by the officers present, and a special call for prayer was requested for the sick and bereaved of the community. A letter by Mrs. Isbell, the teacher, opposing pari-mutual wagering at horse races was read and signed by each member of the class. The closing prayer was led by Mrs. John Bowden.

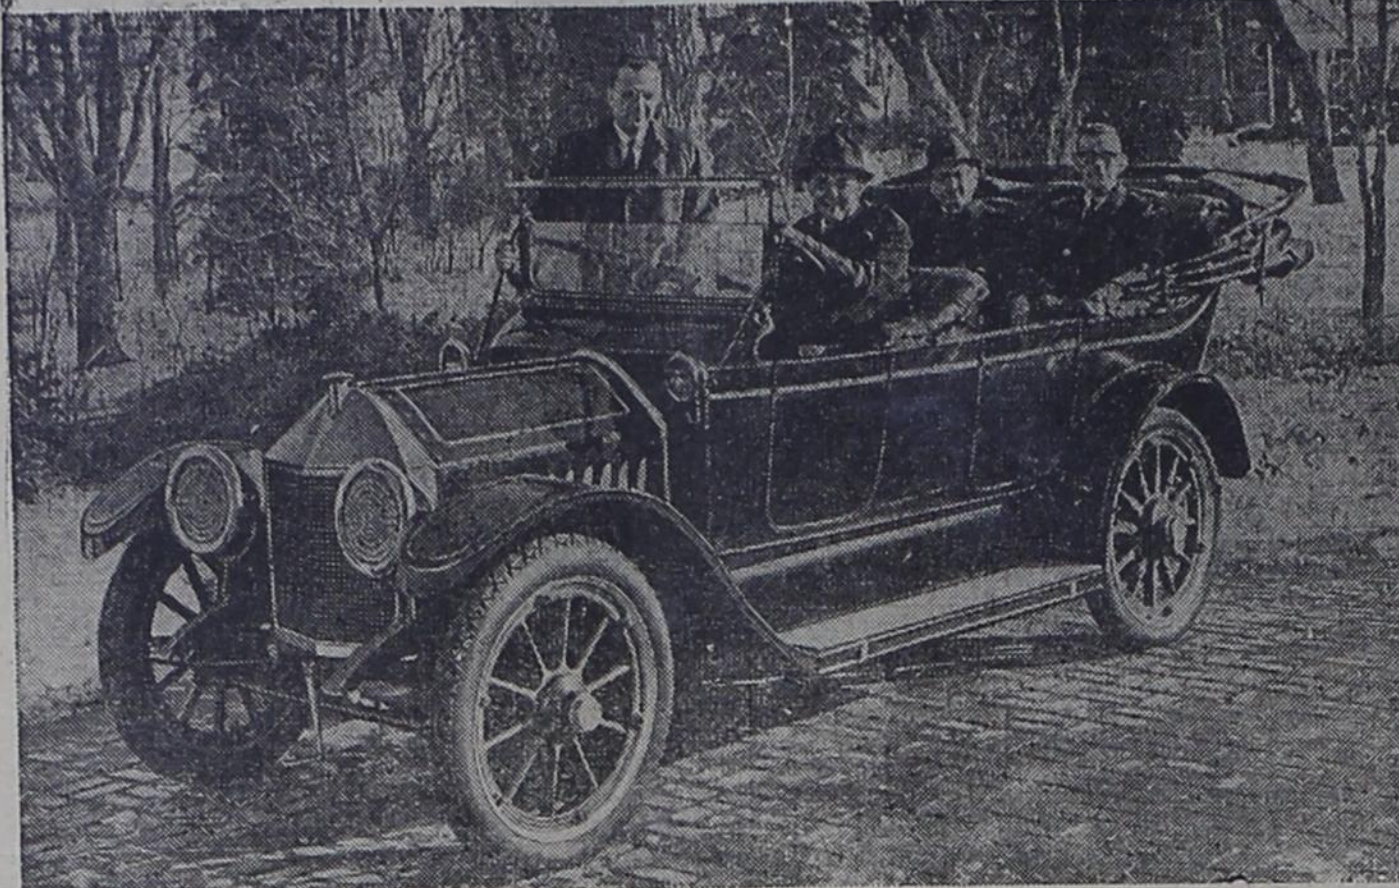

Refreshments, including a birthday cake for Mrs. Isbell, were served to 14 members and one visitor, Mrs. Chas. Haynie, Sr.

Terracing Of Farms Important

Will your field get a "Million-Dollar Rain" this year? A properly designed and installed terrace system on your land could mean the difference. Terraced fields cause runoff water to be held and spread over the field where the crops can use it. On unterraced fields runoff water is carried down the slopes to the turn rows. Only weeds and fence row trees can use it there. The "Million-Dollar Rain" is lost and it takes the soil with it.

Design and layout of terrace systems, according to a Conservation Plan, is the job of Soil Conservation Service technicians assisting the Wichita Brazos Soil Conservation District. Reducing the amount of runoff water by

Oldest Chevrolet Known to Exist

The oldest Chevrolet known to be in existence—a 1912 touring model—is destined for an honored place in the city that produced it. One of the first Chevrolets made in Flint, the car was purchased by the Industrial Mutual Association for donation to the Alfred P. Sloan Panorama of Transportation in the city's College and Cultural Center. Seated in the car (l. to r.) are Allen J. Dillon, IMA president; Dr. Roger Van Bolt, Sloan museum director; William Crick, IMA managing director; and Gregory Fauth, a Flint insurance man and antique car buff who located the car.

one inch can increase cotton yields by 20 pounds of lint cotton per acre, according to Arche Lieb, Work Unit Conservatist for the SCS at Knox City. A 12-inch high terrace will hold nine times as much water as one four inches high. Low terraces can be raised with a regular disk plow or moldboard. Maintenance need not be an extra operation but part of regular tillage. Scoops and blades mounted on tool bar can be used for making end fills and patching breaks.

Each cropland field requires individual terrace design and layout due to differences in soil and slope. Vegetative outlets, natural drains, or rangeland, are necessary to provide outlets for most terrace systems because they are slightly graded and must have a place to empty excess water.

Parallel terrace systems are a necessity on cultivated land where terraces are needed to fit modern multi-row farm equipment. They eliminate point rows and unnecessary turning on crops as well as wasted time. They can be built where there is an even number of rows between each terrace.

Parallel terraces cost more than regular terraces to construct because more earth moving is involved to cut the high places and fill the low places to be certain they drain or can be drained of excess water. The extra cost is more than offset by the convenience and increase in production.

Cost share assistance is available through the Great Plains Conservation Program and Agricultural Conservation Program to construct a terrace system on your farm.

CHOPPER NETS BETTER COUNT OF RARE SHEEP

Parks and Wildlife Department personnel, riding in a light helicopter, reported encouragingly on recent experimental efforts to count wild barbary sheep in the Palo Duro Canyon southeast of Amarillo.

The helicopter was flown slowly among rugged canyons and cliffs to permit a tally of both deer and barbary sheep in selected areas.

Because there had been no mention, in the contract, of a cornerstone for the Texas State Capitol, Gus Wilke, the contractor, paid for it out of his own pocket.

The sun travels through space in a spiral path with other members of the Milky Way system.

TRIAL-WATCHING

What has become of the ancient and honorable pastime of trial-watching? In old England, where it was known as "attendant at court," people of all classes indulged. But today, except at a few well-publicized spectacles, there is often no audience at all.

True, we watch plenty of make-believe trials. On T.V., in movies, at the theater, the trial scene is the cornerstone of countless dramatic thrillers.

But the real courtroom adds something vital. That grim young man on the witness stand is no actor earning his weekly wage. He's really afraid he may be found guilty of burglary and sent to jail for three years. The aging widow, seeking damages for the death of her husband, really needs the money to give her children a respectable upbringing.

Perhaps you feel that trial-watching is a form of idle curiosity. Surely it shows curiosity. But is such curiosity idle? The law itself doesn't think so. The silent spectator, there only to watch, is not just tolerated but welcomed. In the eyes of the law, he serves two useful purposes:

1) He helps justice. His show of interest tends to put all of the participants on their mettle.

Tax-Man Sam Sez:

The good tax folks want you to put your Social Security number on your tax return this year. Be careful to get your correct Social Security number.

The tax folks are establishing a master file on all the tax data pertaining to you at their electronic data processing centers. Giving the tax folks the correct number makes sure that you get all the credit due you.

Of course you'll get all the bills for taxes that you may owe—but you'd probably get these anyway.

ter Brooks, superintendent of the Iowa Park Experiment Station, until his retirement last year. He carried on work with guano for many years before anyone else became interested in it.

Dr. C. M. Patterson, Extension Veterinarian, has passed word along that Federally inspected packing plants have received new instructions in regard to inspection of meat for chemical residues. Chemicals and drugs covered in this memorandum are divided into pesticides, metallic elements and veterinary drugs. There will be a sustained monitoring program at each station, to be sure the meat processed is in compliance with the meat inspection Regulations.

All this means is, if the meat you sell to the packer contains too much of a chemical which the Meat Inspection Service says is harmful, then the meat is condemned. It can then be sold only for something other than food. Now wouldn't that be a real disaster to any farmer or rancher?

How to prevent it? Be sure that only pesticides and drugs are used that have been cleared. Be sure the exact amount of chemical is added to a known amount of water in spraying animals for parasites. The 1965 Texas Guide for controlling External Parasites of Livestock and Poultry is now available for distribution. It gives complete directions for use of all recommended insecticides and safety restrictions. Get your copy today.

R "THE LANGUAGE OF DERMOTOLOGISTS"

Empetigo, ecthyma, syosis vulgaris and paronychia are not words that you would ordinarily hear during your average day. But, they are part of the everyday language of a physician. These particular words refer to specific skin conditions that must have a certain type of treatment.

There are many products a dermatologist can prescribe to help a person with a skin condition. We carry them in our pharmacy. Some pharmacies will not compound a dermatologist prescription, sometimes the reason is because they do not carry the items called for in stock. Sometimes it is because its too time consuming to be profitable. We fill all prescriptions regardless of how long it takes. And this is why we say "OURS IS A COMPLETE PHARMACY".

. . . is the new approach to a time-tried method of bill paying. Each month you pay one-twelfth of your annual electric service charge. West Texas Utilities Co. makes an estimate of your total electric use for one year, based on your past record, or, with new accounts, records of similar requirements. They divide the total into 12 equal, even-dollar payments. Monthly and yearly review of your account keeps the estimate as close to the actual metered usage as possible. If this review shows a material change in your use of electric service . . . up or down, due to unusual weather or the addition of some major appliance . . . you will be notified that a change of estimate is in order. Your 12th payment will be adjusted to balance your account for the Equal Payment Plan Year. ** Equalize your monthly payments for electric service now. ## Knox Prairie Philosopher Takes A Big Look At The Latest Viet Nam Situation, But He Sees Very Little

J. A.

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek takes another look at Viet Nam this week. Anything to get the spotlight off his farm.

Dear editor:
I would like some information. According to an article I read in a newspaper this morning, and I hope you will answer quick as the situation may be totally changed by tomorrow morning. Gen. Khanh has been removed as head of the South Viet Nam military forces is what the newspapers call a coup and the television announcers call a coo and is being sent to New York as a United Nations observer.

What I would like to know is, is this a reward or a punishment?
I had thought that the United Nations was supposed to be watching what went on in Viet Nam, both North and South, but what they have been seeing is hard to understand. You reckon the South Vietnamese, having been unable at ground level to understand themselves what they're doing, figured the view would be better from New York?

Or do you figure Gen. Khanh was getting bored with the limited confusion in Viet Nam and figured he could get a broader taste of it in the United Nations? Like going from a sideshow to the main tent?

I'll admit I don't know anything about what's going on in Viet Nam, but I don't want this to leak out as Washington might want to send me over there as an observer. I've got all the confusion I can handle at home.

And speaking of the United Nations, as I understand it, the U.N. has a rule that if any country is behind two years in its dues, it loses its membership, but is afraid to vote on whether this rule is still in effect on the grounds that if it does, there won't be enough major powers left in the outfit to operate it. This is like a hard-pressed bank declining to call in its past-due loans on the grounds it would alienate its customers.
It's possible that after Gen.

Apples: Holland (tops for our area), King David (needed as a pollinator for Holland), Red Delicious, Yellow Delicious. Figs: Texas Everbearing, Cleste. Grapes: Fredonia, Delaware, Seibel 9110. Peaches: Cardinal, Coronet, Dixigem, Ranger, Red-glove, Redskin, Keystone. Pdums: Bruce, Methley, Sapa. Blackberries: Early Wonder, Dallas, Brazos, A u s t i n (dewberry). Strawberries: Gem Everbearing, Blakemore.

It must be remembered that apples and pears are extremely susceptible to cotton root rot. Peaches are moderately susceptible.
If one or two year old peach trees are set out, then they can be pruned to the foundation limbs at that time. If three or four year old trees are planted, then top the tree back to within 20 inches of the ground. After growing the first summer, the four foundation limbs can be then selected the next winter.

These four foundation limbs should be growing in four different directions. They should be two or three inches apart on the trunk and growing at a 45 degree angle from the trunk. These then are the main limbs of the tree its entire life so one can see they should be selected with care. All others should be cut back to the trunk.
The pruning done each year there-after consists of tipping back all branches to keep the tree close to the ground for easier picking. Peaches are borne on two year old wood. If the limbs are not cut back, all the new growth will be on the ends of the limbs and so will the fruit. This weight on the end of the limb causes breakage of the limb from wind. It also leaves the bark open for sunscald and later insect damage.

Apple tree pruning consists of pruning limbs that rub each other and to shape the tree. Do not tip back the limbs as for peaches.

Mrs. Bob Cude and Brand of Lubbock visited Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Cude and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hutchinson during the week end.

Gardening Contest For Youngsters Announced

KANSAS CITY — Youngsters interested in gardening will have a chance to compete for a varied list of 100 cash and other prizes, in the 1965 Young America Gardens Contest just announced here by Fower and Garden Foundation. This year the top awards are a free trip to Disneyland for older contestants, and deluxe bicycles for the younger ones. A long list of cash prizes will also be given.

More than 15,000 children and teen-agers have participated in these contests since they were started. Flower and Garden Foundation, sponsor of the annual event, is a non-profit organization set up to promote greater public and private interest in gardening. It has concentrated its efforts on young people.

This year's contest will require those who enter to plant eight packets of seeds furnished to them in the contest kit, and later in various ways report on the results obtained. Zinnias, marigolds, alyssum, celosia, tomatoes, and radishes are among the seeds to be distributed. The youngsters are to work out their own planting plan in a 200 square foot area. Those from age 6 to 19 may enter.

To enter it is necessary to send 25 cents in coin (postage and handling for the seeds and kit), name, address, and age to: Fower and Garden Foundation, Box 357, Rosedale Station, Kansas City, Kansas 66103. The name and address of an adult who will sponsor the entry should also be given.

As usual, the contest will be divided into three regional sections (East, Mid-America, and West) and teen-agers will be judged separately from the younger group.

$10,000 Reward For A White Marigold

PHILADELPHIA, PA. — There's a man anxious to give you $10,000 — in exchange for pure white marigold seeds! So far, over the past 10 years, nearly 4,000 gardeners from all 50 states and 19 foreign nations thought they had one. But the search continues.

David Burpee, shown above in a field of a brand new nearest-white marigold introduction for 1965 called "Hopeful", has repeated the standing cash offer to gardeners anywhere in the world every year since 1955. "Hopeful", a creamy white, fully double carnation type flower that measures up to 3 inches across, is the closest thing yet to a pure white marigold. It is new for 1965!

As head of the W. Atlee Burpee Company, Philadelphia, Pa., one of the nation's largest and oldest growers of seeds, Mr. Burpee is convinced that the long, almost legendary trail to a pure white marigold is getting very warm.

"Some gardener, somewhere", he claims, "is soon going to find a pure white marigold".

The winning white marigold, Mr. Burpee notes, would have to have flowers that measured at least 2 1/2 inches wide.

Men Major In Home Economics

Men students are majoring in home economics, too. Approximately 700 male students are currently enrolled as undergraduate home economics majors in 65 United States colleges and universities.

This information is contained in a survey report in the March issue of the Journal of Home Economics. The survey, conducted by the American Home Economics Association, shows that men students are most likely to choose food service management as their area of specialization within the home economics major. This specialization will lead to careers with hospitals, hotels and restaurant chains.

Applied art is the second choice, leading to futures in interior design and housing. The third most popular area of specialization is institutional administration. Along with other home economics majors, these male students are preparing for professional careers in today's broad field of home economics.

Although the number of men choosing the home economics major is on the rise according to the survey, women still dominate the field with 98.5 percent of the 40,000 estimated total number of current undergraduate majors.

There are 450 colleges and universities offering the home economics major with 390 in the educational category. Areas of study include art, family economics, home management, family relations and child development, food and nutrition, housing and household equipment, and textiles and clothing.
