SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

It seems almost unbelievable that the authors of the Declaration of Independence and the Bill of Rights could have produced such guides for freedom in the comparatively short space of time involved.

Governments themselves do not produce freedom. People have to wrest freedom from governments. After they secure freedom, it is an endless task to retain it.

But unless the people are constantly on the alert, their hired public officials tend to expand their powers in ways that cause government to little by little encroach on individual freedom and opportunity.

HOW MUCH LONGER

In the words of the Citizens Public Expenditure Survey, Inc., the federal wartime excise taxes "...burden consumers and hamper economic progress. They should have been repealed a long time ago."

These taxes constitute a 10 per cent impost on handbags, luggage, cosmetics, toiletries and various other items, few of which can be considered luxuries in a high-income economy.

There is small doubt that most of the taxes will be repealed at long last, and others reduced. The Administration has called for that, and congressional sentiment seems highly favorable.

The questions is "When"? And it is not a small question. For consumers will delay their purchases of the affected items while awaiting repeal.

This is a case where Congress should move without delay.

WELCOME VISITOR

What interests the readers of weekly newspapers?

The Suburban Press Foundation conducted a survey to find the answer to that question, and Editor & Publisher has printed the results.

As one would expect, local news led the field in readership, with 92.9 per cent of those polled saying they always read it; 6.5 per cent saying they read it sometimes; and only 0.6 per cent confessing they never read it.

Next—and close behind—came editorials and local columns. A mere 0.7 per cent said they never read these.

Third in reader interest was advertising. Only 2.7 per cent said they never read it. All the rest said they always or sometimes read it.

Actually, the whole weekly paper is very thoroughly read. Even the poorest read classification—sports news—drew a combined "always" and "sometimes" readership of 89.1 per cent.

The weekly paper is one of the most welcome of visitors to rural homes. It stays for seven days, not just one. And the whole family has a lasting and hearty appetite for just about everything in its columns.

TIME IS OF THE ESSENCE

Representative Byrnes of Wisconsin urges that Congress quickly vote repeal of the four retailer excise taxes and not wait for consideration of all the excises as a package.

The excises concerned are those on luggage, jewelry, toilet preparations and furs. Each adds 10 per cent to the cost of the article. In Mr. Byrnes' words, "I think we will inflict irreparable damage to many small retailers and manufacturers if we delay the repeal of the retailer excises while we consider recommendations of the Johnson Administration with respect to other excises."

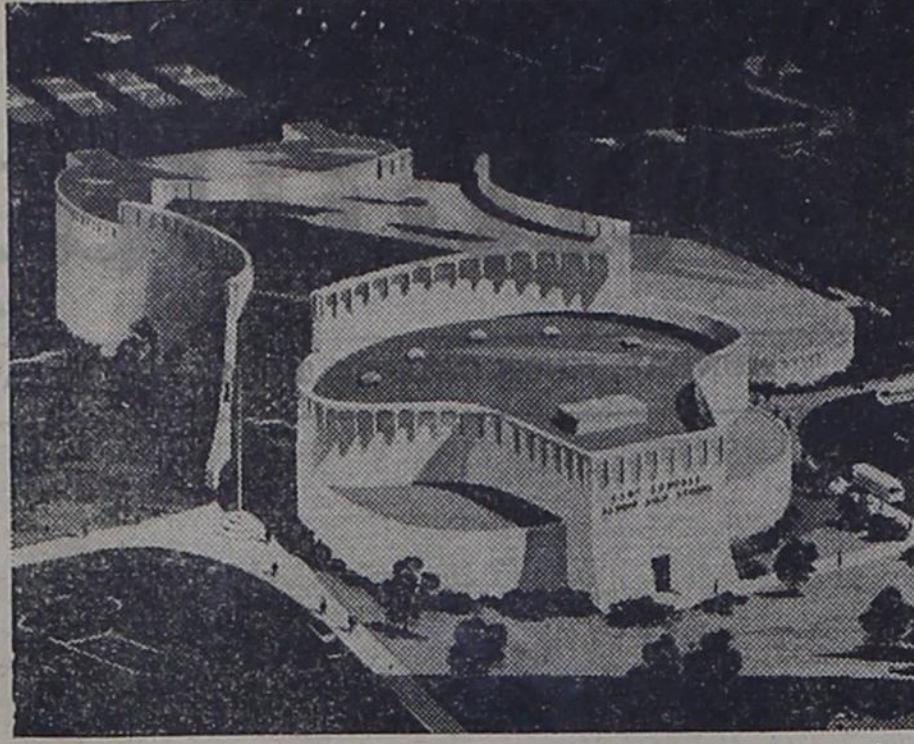

This is a wholly logical point of view. There is little doubt that these excises will be repealed—the only question is when. And, unless they are acted upon separately, there could be long delay while differences of opinion as to what should be done in the case of other and very different types of excises—those imposed at the manufacturing rather than the retail level—are ironed out.

The retailer excise taxes are a hang-over from the war. They should have been stricken from the books many years ago. It's high time and then some that we got rid of them—and fast.

Ralph T. Moore writes in the Oregon Voter: "...the key to success in this war on poverty venture will be none other than the self-help and degree of cooperation exerted by those we wish to help. Indeed, this is true of all such ventures just as it is of teaching. The pupil must himself find the will to learn and follow up the efforts in his behalf with all the diligence he can muster. We have not prepared our people too well of late by conditioning them to this purpose. We have preferred, instead, the short-cut of the greased palm with the implications of political support."

A bill has been introduced in the Senate designed to eliminate the confusions that come with daylight saving time. But those choosing it would have to observe it from the fourth Sunday in April until the fourth Sunday in October.

The nation's gas industry, which includes distribution and transmission companies, increased the gross value of its plant by 119 per cent from 1954 through 1964. This boosted plant value to $27.6 billion.

FALLOUT SHELTER at no extra cost is inherent in the basic design of the $2.8 million East Central Senior High School now under construction at Tulsa, Okla. The nearly-windowless building's concrete floors and heavy masonry double walls not only make for better air conditioning and muffling of nearby airport noise, but also result in excellent fallout protection on three floors of the central core and the ground floor of the far wing.

FARM and RANCH Notes by JOE W. DOBY, COUNTY AGRICULTURAL AGENT. Includes a small portrait of Joe W. Doby.

We would like to continue our discussion on guar production this week. We covered the adapted areas, uses, markets, land preparation, planting fertilizing and weed control in last week's column.

Texsel and Groehler, the most widely grown varieties, are highly susceptible to the major guar diseases in Texas. Stems, leaves and pods are pubescent. Seed pods are closely spaced on stems and basal branches, starting near the soil surface.

Texsel was selected by Wichita Valley Experiment Station personnel in 1944. It is generally nonbranching and ranges from 28 to 54 inches in height. The central stalk is heavy but hollow.

Groehler is a single plant selection of Texsel made in 1946. The plants are basal branching, forming one or more side branches arising from the lower nodes on the central stalk. Maturity usually is somewhat later than Texsel.

Brooks is a new disease-resistant variety selected from a natural hybrid in Groehler. The original selection was made at the Wichita Valley Experiment Station. A branching plant type, first pods are set higher above the soil level than with Texsel and Groehler. Leaves and stems are smooth. It is resistant to Alternaria leaf spot and bacterial blight. In experimental trials, seed and forage yields have been higher than Texsel and Groehler.

Diseases known to attack guar in Texas are Alternaria leaf spot, bacterial blight, southern blight and top necrosis virus. In years of adequate rainfall, which should result in high yields, diseases usually are more severe and may cause lower production than in years of deficient rainfall.

Alternaria Leaf Spot may become severe during periods of heavy dew and high humidity or similar conditions. Symptoms are expressed by a brown zonate or target-like lesion on the leaf. Lesions enlarge, join and cause the leaf to drop off.

Bacterial blight is a seed-borne disease causing loss of plants from the seedling stage until maturity if environmental conditions are favorable. Symptoms include large angular lesions at the tops of leaves which cause defoliation and black streaking of the stems which result in death of the affected branches or entire plant.

Southern Blight is a fungus disease in which whitish fungus growths are at the base of the infected plant. Small seed-like structures are found in these fungus growths which turn dark with age and resemble radish seed. The disease usually causes rapid death of the plant and is suggestive of a wilt disease.

Guar is resistant but not immune to cotton root rot. What can you expect in the way of returns per acre from guar? If your land does not need fertilizer, then about 400 pounds of beans per acre would let you break even.

The price for No. 1 beans this year is $3.90 per hundred. Production usually runs from 600 to 1000 pounds per acre in Knox County with few yields in the 1200-1400 group. The return from beans is not the only ones realized from guar, however. Mr. J. C. McGee, Knox City, who has grown guar for many years, will testify to the increase in cotton on land that has been in guar. The fact that it is a deep rooted legume accounts for this increase in yield.

After sorghum has emerged, spray Atrazine to control weeds and grasses.

The idea is to spray Atrazine 80W herbicide right after sorghum has emerged, but before weeds are 1/2 inches high.

Control of weeds and grasses in sorghum with Atrazine can greatly reduce the need for cultivating.

The results of weed control in sorghum are higher yields and lower production costs... giving you more profit per acre.

Contact your local supplier now for Atrazine 80W herbicide. Geigy Agricultural Chemicals, Division of Geigy Chemical Corporation.

Rhineland Ladies Aid Cancer Drive

A film on breast cancer was shown to the ladies of Rhineland on April 14th by the chairman of the American Cancer Society drive, Mrs. Robert Friske, and co-chairman, Mrs. William Redder. A short discussion was held after the film.

The eight ladies took up money for the cancer drive on May 2. Money collected was $49.40, though not much it helped Knox County to nearly reach their goal.

Ladies helping in the drive were Meses. Robert Brown, William Redder, Robert Friske, and Misses Mary Alice Kuehler, Dorothy Edrington, Betty Jean Herring, Judy Bruggeman and Suzan Kuehler.

Mrs. Friske and Mrs. Redder express their thanks to the Rhineland people for what they gave and that every dollar was appreciated.

Caring For Car Means More Money At Trading Time

AUSTIN—A special study to aid automobile owners in getting more money when they trade in their cars on new models has been completed by the Texas Automobile Dealers Association, H. C. Pittman, executive vice president of the Association, said this week.

This is the first of a series of studies to help owners make their automobiles more serviceable and valuable, Pittman said, and the results will be reported when the Association holds its 48th annual convention in San Antonio, Sunday through Tuesday (May 9-11).

Briefly, these are the recommendations of the Association to car owners to get the best deal possible when trade-in time comes:

1. Buy seat covers immediately upon the purchase of a new car so that when trade-in time comes, the upholstery will have a fresh, clean look.
 2. Also buy a tube or bar of touch-up paint to cover scratches and stone necks before unsightly rust appears.
 3. Wash the car at least every two weeks, and wax every three months.
 4. Avoid drag-strip starts, screaming stops, hard cornering and other bad driving habits.
 5. Just before trading in, vacuum inside of car, clean out the trunk, check floor covering, replace torn mats, remove dirt and stains from upholstery, check car's ceiling, clean and wash interior chrome and metal parts, wash exterior and check radio, air-conditioning and other extras to see that they are working.
- "The dealer wants a presentable car that can be put on the lot immediately," Pittman said. "The more time you save a dealer on refurbishing, the more money you'll get on your trade-in."

Why today's brides choose modern gas cooking...

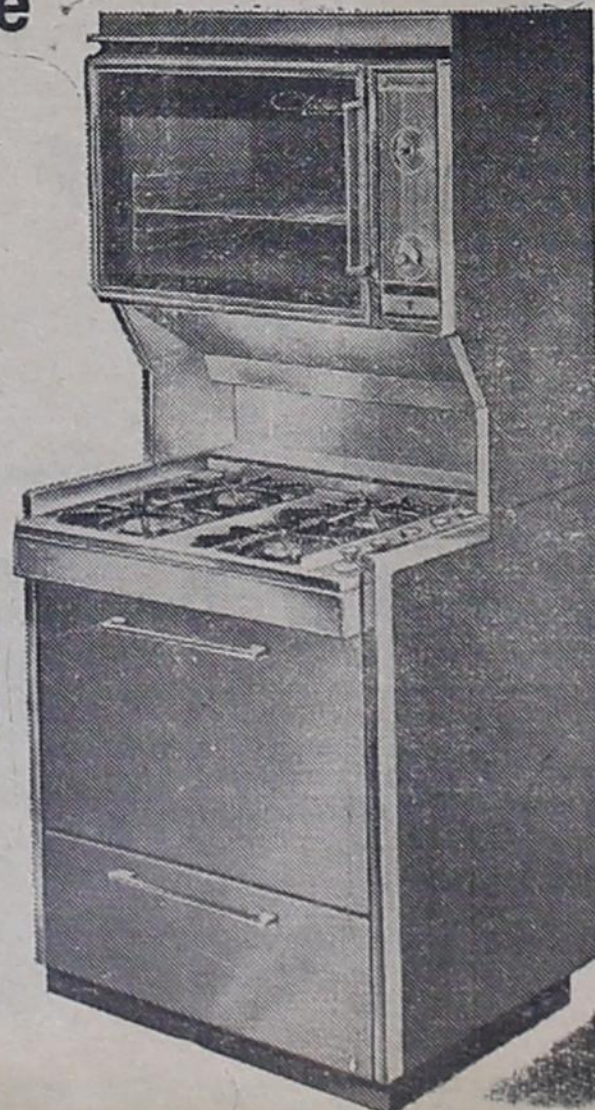

Mrs. David Bronstad cooks on a new gas range.

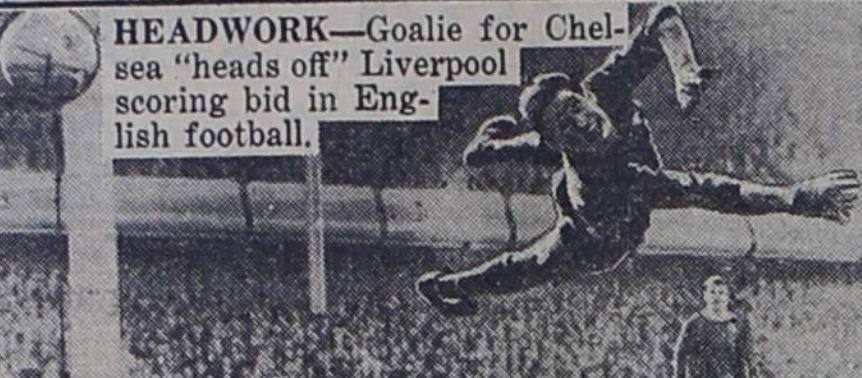

Gas broils cleanest and coolest (no smoke...the broiler door stays closed!)

Some range manufacturers suggest an open broiler door. Gas is different. You close the broiler door and let "the little blue flame" eat up the smoke. No smutty, hot kitchen for you—just savory, flame-kissed broiling without smoke! Like today's smart young brides, you'll cook cleaner and cooler with an automatic '65 model gas range. Now's the time to buy it—at gas range dealers and Lone Star Gas.

Skunk Chow Crisis Hits Honey Bees

AUSTIN—This piece is strictly slanted only for those worrying about the present status of the polecat population, specifically the diet angle.

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department field men report that skunks in one area have become so hard up from a scarcity of ordinary nourishment that they have had to bulwark nocturnal routine by daytime forays for food.

One extreme case involved a puny polecat that raided a bee hive and was devouring the little buzzers, stingers and all, when exterminated. The animal was in very poor physical condition.

The specific cause for the brazen food efforts is given as an unusual shortage of skunk chow such as mice, rats and such.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by the State Health Department

What parent wouldn't insure his child good health for life... if he could?

Although no parent can guarantee his child good health all ways, a parent plays an important role in the health of a child.

A parent can teach his child the basic principles of good health. Certain fundamentals, learned early and continued through life, can do a great deal towards promoting the health of the child.

Good health can become a habit. And this is where the parent comes: teaching his child good health habits early in life.

A habit is an action you've done so often you don't even think about it, you just do it. Help your child develop good health habits.

Hand washing is a fundamental in disease prevention. Teach your child to wash his hands after he visits the toilet. Teach him to wash his hands before he eats.

Little hands—or big one for that matter—go many places. They may carry out the garbage, handle a fly-swatter, or touch many potential germ sources.

Hot soapy water can wash many disease-causing germs off hands before they enter the mouth and body where they can grow and cause the most harm.

Teach your child to make hand washing a habit.

Tooth brushing after meals is important to good dental health. Otherwise, bits of food lodge on and between teeth allowing bacteria to grow and eventually cause decay. Teach your child to rinse his mouth with water if he can't brush his teeth right after eating.

A daily bath and clean clothes are important, too. Hair should be washed often, and combed with your own comb. Head lice are no respecters of persons and can easily travel from person to person on a "borrowed comb."

Borrowing towels, lipstick, or sharing food or drinking glasses is a good way to borrow trouble—or other people's germs.

True, you may neglect to wash your hands one time, or you may skip a bath one day. But remember to teach your children the good health habit.

Mrs. Ralph Weeks returned home last Monday from a two weeks visit with her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hargrove, and grandson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hargrove and David, in Lubbock. Other visitors in the Hargrove homes were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hohertz and Cathy of Fountain, Colo., and Mrs. Ted Wallace of Plainview.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Davidson of Olney spent Sunday night with Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Almanrode. Mr. Davidson is District 13 Commander of WWI Barracks, and Mrs. Davidson is Auxiliary President. Plans were completed for the District meeting which will be held in Seymour, Sunday, May 16th, at the Veterans Hall.

SURPRISE HOUSEWARMING

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Rister were very surprised on Monday night of last week when a group of their friends gathered at their new home for a housewarming.

Mr. and Mrs. Rister purchased the house formerly owned by E. V. Shackelford on 13th Street and moved from Sunset to their new home a few weeks ago.

YOUNG TEXAN OF THE MONTH—Electronics is one of the many hobbies of Bert Garrett of El Paso, who has been selected Young Texan of the Month, and winner of the Troy Post Award. Bert, 17, is a senior at Austin High School in El Paso. He is an "A" average student, a member of the high school band and football team, and is active in all school and church activities. The monthly award is sponsored by the Optimist Clubs of Texas and Dallas businessman Troy V. Post, through the Troy V. Post Foundation. As Young Texan of the Month, Bert automatically becomes eligible for the Young Texan of the Year award, which goes yearly to one of the monthly winners of the honor. Both monthly and annual winners of the Young Texan award are selected from nominees from all over Texas, by a panel of Texas leaders headed by U. S. Supreme Court Justice Tom C. Clark.

Gems Of Thought

"The Sabbath"

I feel as if God had, by giving the Sabbath, given fifty-two springs in every year.—Samuel Taylor Coleridge

The Sunday is the core of our civilization, dedicated to thought and reverence.—Ralph Waldo Emerson

Sunday is the golden clasp that binds together the volume of the week.—Henry W. Longfellow

To my sense the Sermon on the Mount, read each Sunday without comment and obeyed throughout the week, would be enough for Christian practice.—Mary Baker Eddy

Sunday clears away the rust of the whole week.—Joseph Addison

As we keep or break the Sabbath, we nobly save or meanly lose the last best hope by which man rises.—Abraham Lincoln

CARD OF THANKS

Words alone simply can not express our heartfelt thanks and deep appreciation to all our friends who have been so good to us while in the Veterans Hospital in Big Spring for surgery.

Thank you for your prayers, visits, phone calls, the lovely cards and letters and beautiful flowers, which I shared with three other patients. Special thanks to our daughter, Lou, for her ceaseless prayers, nice letters and beautiful orchid mums, and to our son who took me to the hospital, my brothers who brought me home, and to my beloved wife, for their beautiful flowers and cards; also the Doreas Class for their prayers and cards.

Also my good Eastern Star "big sisters" and my beloved Masonic Lodge brothers for all their beautiful flowers and cards.

I say thanks again to my good doctors and nurses in the hospital, especially Dr. Hernal, who did my surgery, assisted by Dr. Longino, my worthy brother, Dr. Zimm; also Dr. Fish and Dr. Tipton for their faithful service and a job well done.

I must thank our good family doctor, R. L. Newsom; Mrs. J. W. Massey and Leona. Also we will never be able to repay our next door neighbors, the T. H. (Doc) Clarks for all they have done for us, as we both feel so unworthy.

My daily prayers shall be that life will be a continuous world of sunshine for each of you, and may God richly bless you in all the days to come. Yours in sunshine,

O. V. Milstead 1pt

Corpus Christi from Monday through Wednesday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Benton and sons of Lamesa were visitors here last Sunday.

Tax-Man Sam Sez:

The good tax folks report that a lot of people have last minute income tax filing trouble every year. They find that a lot of taxpayers just don't keep good records. These fine folks cost themselves on their tax bill. Not having records also costs them in all their other personal financial problems.

A good midnight April 15 resolution is to keep better tax records during 1965.

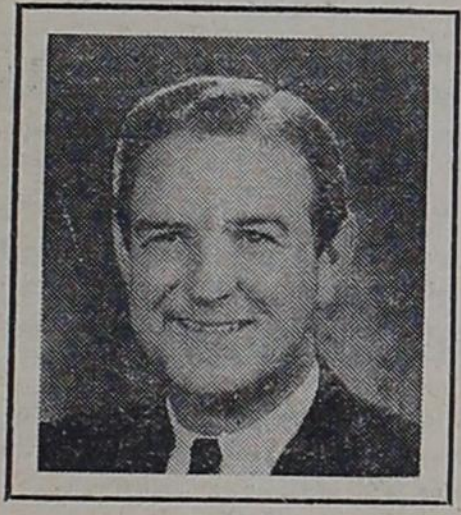

Dr. and Mrs. David Eiland were in San Antonio last week, where Dr. Eiland attended the Texas Medical Association annual meeting. Mrs. Eiland attended meetings of the woman's auxiliary.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Reid visited relatives in Greenville over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Gaylon Allred of Wichita Falls were week end guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dee Allred.

How the Savings Bonds you buy help our State grow

—a message from our Governor

Chances are you live a little better because of the U. S. Savings Bonds program—because so many people in our State buy Bonds and eventually redeem them to buy things for which they have saved.

During the last 24 years, many billions of dollars have flowed back into the economy of the State and the Nation in this way.

These dollars have benefited our merchants, manufacturers and builders. And in so doing have created jobs and improved earnings for countless workers—in our cities and farming communities alike.

The people of our State and America today hold a record total of over $48 billion in ways and help us grow further.

I urge every one of you to help your future and the future of our State by investing regularly in U. S. Savings Bonds.

Water Adds 24 Victims In Outdoors

Water sports fatalities added another 24 Texans since the last compilation of 13 victims was made by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department two weeks ago.

J. Weldon Watson, Executive Director of the Department, said publicity is being given the tragedies as a means of encouraging greater safety during the outdoor recreational season now gaining momentum.

Ten of the latest persons to drown were fishermen, seven were swimmers and three were boating. All of the latter, three Bryan youths, perished in one accident when their boat overturned.

The Bryan incident marked multiple tragedies. Two Austin men drowned when their motorized 12-foot flat-bottom boat sank. Two children escaped. Three Houston men, caught off shore in a sudden storm, were swept to their deaths by high waves.

Two persons drowned vainly trying to save another, in separate accidents. One was from Abilene and the other from Houston.

Among the swimming victims, one man suffered fatal leg cramps and a youth slipped from a barrel that became detached from a sinking raft.

A boy perished when he jumped into the water to retrieve a pole jerked from his mother's hands by a fish.

A five-year-old slipped from rocks while watching his father fish.

A man disappeared while seining in shallow Gulf waters; Two youths drowned while wading;

A 14-year-old girl was killed on Lake Waco while water skiing behind a boat, piloted by her father, when she swung wide and collided head on with another boat.

Swimming alone accounted for one victim.

Mrs. Austin Tomlinson, Karen and Austin, Jr. visited her sisters and families, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Sommerville and son and Mr. and Mrs. L. E. McCoy and sons, in Wichita Falls last Sunday. Mrs. Tomlinson's mother, Mrs. M. L. Jacobs, of Lubbock was also there.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Moore, Sr. visited their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bernard, in Lubbock the first of this week and attended the annual Maid of Cotton Festival on Tuesday night. Their granddaughter, Nancy Bernard, of Texas University, Austin was a participant in the festival.

Mr. and Mrs. Garry Hardin and daughter of Abilene visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Rayburn, over the week end.

Mrs. Jeff Anderson and Andy and Miss Linda Brown visited Mrs. Anderson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. McMurray, in Merkel over the week end. Mrs. McMurray returned home with them for a week's visit.

Mrs. Emma Mayo returned home last Thursday from two months visit with her daughter, Mrs. Agnes Mayes, in Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Eiland of Lamesa visited relatives here last week and attended the funeral of Will Campbell.

Catholic Youths Hosts To Deanery

The Rhineland Catholic Youth Club hosted the second Annual Deanery Meeting at Rhineland on Sunday, April 25.

Activities for the day began with registration at which time members from Electra, Seymour, Bomarton, Jacksboro, Scotland, Windthrost, Bridgeport, Decatur, and Megargel clubs in the deanery registered.

A business meeting followed registration with Larry Berend, president of the district deanery council presiding. Reverend Father Herman Laux, O.S.B., pastor at Rhineland welcomed the various clubs and officiated at the Benediction immediately following the business meeting.

A volley ball tournament was then enjoyed by the competing teams. First place winner was the Rhineland C.Y.C., second was Scotland and third was Windthrost.

The enjoyable day was brought to a close with a dance by Rick and the Keens.

The next deanery meeting is to be held at Electra, date pending.

Doyle Sollock, 44 Rule Native Dies

Doyle Sollock, 44, a Rule native, died at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday in San Diego, Calif., following a heart attack suffered at the airport there.
