FEDERAL AID TO EDUCATION

The new federal aid to education bill—a measure which, of its kind, is unprecedented in scope, cost, and purpose—is now law.

It remains to be seen how much further the federal government will go in its invasion of the educational world—and what effect there will be on local responsibility and authority. But, looking at the statistics, it is difficult to see what need there is for the federal government to play a Big Brother role in the educational scheme of things.

In the last decade, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States reports, spending on public schools increased 157 per cent, while enrollment rose only 43 per cent. About 95 per cent of the increased spending came from local and state taxes and bonds, and only 5 per cent from the federal government. Every sign indicates that during coming years states and communities will have the resources to meet educational needs and demands.

Federal aid to education, on a big scale, is simply part of the trend toward giving more and more authority to the central government. It is a trend that is gradually and surely destroying the traditional concept of the division of powers and responsibilities among governments.

TAX BOOSTERS AT WORK

The typical American county, like other units of government, is searching, in some cases desperately, for new sources of revenue.

Yet, if some groups should ever have their way, the counties, like those other units of government, would lose one of their largest and most dependable existing sources of revenue.

As an example, a California gas and electric utility recently completed a record payment of $87,303,674 in local property taxes in 49 of the state's 58 counties. It also announced that its total federal, state and local property tax and franchise payments for 1964-65 amount to $168,924,000. That tax bill, incidentally, is 1½ times as large as the $99,112,000 in wages and salaries paid to its operating employees.

All over the nation, other investor-owned utilities, large and small, are making proportionately large contributions to government at all levels. The amounts vary greatly, of course, but the principle is the same. And it is these enterprises which the public power groups want to socialize—and remove from the tax rolls.

You, as a taxpayer, would have to make up for the enormous tax loss that would follow socialization.

Our country was not founded just so more people could get rich. It was founded for ideals, for such ideals as equality, equality of men, equality of opportunity, liberty, religious and political freedom for the individual—Sargent Shriver.

ST. CLOUD, FLA., NEWS: "Many people consider the things which government does for them to be social progress, but they consider the things government does for others as socialism."

Drive Safely! Spend a little more time with us.

EDUCATION AND EMPLOYMENT

Unemployment remains at worrisome levels. Yet, in many fields, there is a serious shortage of workers.

That seeming paradox is easily explained. "Education" and "training" are key words in today's labor market. And great numbers of people, including the young, simply aren't qualified.

The Labor Department has issued a revealing report listing the 70 occupations in which demand is greatest and detailing the requirements. In only four of these groups is a high school education not demanded, and even in these, two years of high school plus special training is a must.

The largest number requires completion of high school along with additional training. The next largest calls for a college degree or equivalent, plus further education or training.

The moral is plain enough. There is small room in this technological economy for the untrained, the ill-trained, or the little-educated. Sylvia Porter struck the right note when, in summing up the Labor Department findings, she wrote: "The warning to you, America's youth, couldn't be clearer. Your whole working life tomorrow will depend on the amount of education and training you get today. Don't doom yourself!"

BEDFORD, IND., TIMES-MAIL: "Our American way is due process of law—not defiance, not demagoguery, not violence. Continuing strife and violence in Selma, Ala., add emphasis to the fact that breakdowns in law and order do not aid the cause of justice or resolve differences. Neither side in the turmoil in Selma is to be praised. . . The nation now has a strong Civil Rights Act. That law should be given an opportunity to work. Those who seek the protection of the law should respect and support the law and order."

COLUMBIA, MISS., COLUMBIAN-PROGRESS: "There is a rank due the United States among nations which will be lost by the reputation for weakness. If we desire peace, it must be known at all times that we are ready for war. The same man also counseled: 'Avoid the accumulation of debt, not only by shunning occasions of expense, but by vigorous exercise in the time of peace to discharge debts which wars have occasioned.' If that sounds like the voice of a latter-day conservative on Capitol Hill, guess again. George Washington said it 175 years ago in his farewell address as the nation's first President."

WALTHAM, MASS., NEWS-TRIBUNE: "Faith is vital to any individual and to any society, and whether we realize it or not, every one of us—man, woman or child—uses it every day. . . Without faith, there would be no religion. Or any happy family life, or pleasant business relations. . . Never did this troubled old world need faith as it needs it today—faith in the inherent goodness and integrity of our fellow man, faith in the strength and future of our country, faith in our God."

CUERO, TEXAS, RECORD: "Going to church regularly may not be your habit, but it would be a mighty good habit for you to have."

What They Wore...by PHYLLIS JOYCE

THE MODERN KILT OWES MUCH TO THE SCOTTISH ARMY AND VICTORIAN MODESTY. THE LATTER DEMANDED THE NUMEROUS PLEATS; THE MILITARY COMPROMISED BY PUSHING THE UNPOPULAR PLEATS AROUND TO THE BACK AND MAKING THEM ORDERLY AND REGULAR.

THE LINK BETWEEN THE FASHIONS OF ALL CLASSES IN 17TH CENTURY SCOTLAND WAS THE PLAID (KIND OF A SHAWL), WHICH WAS MADE OF SILK, OF WOOL LINED WITH SILK, OR MERELY OF WOOL, DEPENDING UPON THE SOCIAL POSITION OF THE WEARER.

THE RENOWNED ORIGINAL TARTAN PLAIDS (THEY NUMBER 96) WERE FIRST ADOPTED AS A CLAN DRESS AS FAR BACK AS THE 10TH CENTURY.

R How To Accomplish Nothing

Strict adherence to the principles of this Greed is guaranteed to produce nothing; alienate nothing; solve nothing; and contribute nothing.

1. Never speak out on controversial issues—you may find an agreeable compromise.
2. Never propose solutions—something may get solved.
3. Never consider constructive changes in the status quo—progress may be made.
4. Never show interest in community activities—someone may ask you to participate.
5. Never become involved in professional, trade or union business—you may learn something.

The rewards are great. Nobody can accuse you; nobody can blame you; nobody can pressure you; nobody can sue you. The end result—nothing.

LONE STAR AGRICULTURE

June Food Specials

Foodwise, June will be a bonanza for Texas families. Seasonal foods which have been in short supply such as tomatoes, asparagus, snap beans and others, will be back on the market in force and at a right price.

June, of course, is traditionally "Dairy Month". Milk production makes its annual production jump and all dairy products usually become "good buys". There will be a bounty of whole milk, buttermilk, skim milk, butter, yogurt, cheese, dry milks, cream, etc. It is an opportunity for Texas housewives to herald their menus in eye-appealing and taste-tempting ways.

The array of seasonal vegetables can be likened to a rainbow. Keep a close watch on your local market during the month. Nature can create an abundance of vegetables or reduce their availability—but this June is expected to produce a lot of sweet corn, tomatoes, celery, cucumbers, carrots, green peppers, cabbage and lettuce.

Broiler-fryers are expected to appear on the market in bigger supply also—a good product just right for the outdoor barbecue fan.

And don't forget Father's Day, Sunday, June 20th. If Father is an outdoor cook specialist, give him this exotic recipe and let him work it on a fryer:

ALOHA BARBECUED CHICKEN (In the Hawaiian fashion). Split one or more 2½ pound broiler-fryers into halves. Remove wings and save for other uses. Remove tail piece and break legs so pieces lie flat. Place pieces skin down on broiler pan and broil 10 minutes. Turn chickens skin side up, brush generously with melted butter and broil for 10 minutes.

To prepare barbecue sauce: Combine 3 measures of crushed pineapple for a single measure each of tomato paste, brown sugar, pineapple juice and lemon juice. Add just a dash of ginger and liquid hot pepper and bring mixture to boil over low heat.

Place broiled chicken halves in roasting pan, in single layer with skin side up. Top each chicken half with a generous portion of the barbecue sauce. Bake in a pre-heated oven, 350 degrees for 20 to 30 minutes or until chicken is tender.

Bond Sales For April, $9,909.00

W. E. Braly, Chairman of the Knox County Savings Bonds Committee, reports that Series E and H Bond sales in the County totaled $9,909.00 in April. Sales for the first four months of 1965 were $61,181 and 41 per cent of the year's goal has been achieved.

April sales in Texas totaled $12,300,751. Sales for the first four months of the year were $51,586,943 which represents 34 per cent of the 1965 goal.

"During this time of year I am sure many people are searching for a suitable graduation or wedding gift. Savings Bonds make the ideal gift for every occasion for they are the gift that keeps on giving. The Savings Bonds Division has supplied banks with a special gift envelope when bonds are being used as gifts," Mr. Braly stated.
