Terracing School To Be Held On Friday Night and Saturday

All plans have been completed for the terracing school and demonstration school to be conducted here on Friday evening and Saturday. The speaking on Friday evening will be held at the school building and the demonstration on Saturday will be held on the O. H. Hutchens farm midway between Munday and Goree on the north side of the highway.

This school is being conducted by A. K. (Dad) Short, representing the Federal Land Bank of Houston; M. R. Bentley, farm engineer of the Extension Service of the Texas A. and M. College, and M. Bruce Oates, agricultural agent of the Fort Worth & Denver Railway, and they will be assisted by W. E. Jones, county agent, and R. D. Rawls, teacher of vocational agriculture in the Munday schools.

Every farmer in this and adjoining counties is urged to be present at this meeting and demonstration. These gentlemen are out to render a service to the farmers. They have nothing to sell or to offer for sale, but are employed to render service to the agricultural interests of the state.

Melon Growers Meet and Plan For Year's Work

Pursuant to a call from R. D. Rawls, teacher of vocational agriculture and secretary of the Munday Chamber of Commerce, some forty-five farmers of the Munday country met last Saturday afternoon at the Farmers Union hall and discussed plans for the planting of melons, and at this meeting it was decided that the melons should be planted from April 1st to 10th in order that all would be on the market at approximately the same time, which will facilitate the shipping and marketing.

The Tom Watson variety will be planted and from the number of farmers who have signed up to plant a given acreage and the number in attendance at the meeting it is safe to say that more than 250 acres will be planted in the Munday country this season, and with the good season we have to begin with, together with the cooperation of all members of the club in growing the melons of uniform variety this should prove a very profitable venture for the farmers.

W. T. U. Survey Optimistic Over Business Outlook

Ahliene, Texas, Feb. 25.—The potential yield of West Texas' 1931 small grain and feed crops continue to increase, and indications of a substantial production gain over previous years are reported from the forty-eight counties served by the West Texas Utilities Company, according to information received from the local offices of the company here.

The Utilities Company makes a regular monthly business conditions survey of the territory in which it operates, and in this manner makes available a concise report covering a territory some 15,000 square miles in area.

The report points out that although it is impossible to estimate the definite percentage of increase in production at this time, early figures indicate an improvement of at least twenty-five per cent over normal yield.

Throughout the entire forty-eight counties served, additional acreage has been planted to small grains and feed stuff, and unusually favorable soil conditions assure satisfactory maturation even if spring rains are but light.

Dallam, Hartley, Moore and Sherman counties report exceptionally good stands of grain. The fact that acreage under cultivation in that territory has been substantially increased will further augment production figures for the section.

An irrigation development near Texline has added greatly to the agricultural possibilities of the territory, and it is expected that the success of the test project will encourage diversification and stabilize the farming industry to a considerable degree.

The project was organized by a group of farmers to test the adequacy of water supply in the shallow water belt. A test well, recently completed, pumped an average of more than 1,000 gallons of water per minute from the third water strata at a depth of 111 feet. Approximately fifty property-owners in the territory organized the trial proposition—plan to drill their own holdings. The West Texas Utilities Company will build a high line into the section to furnish inexpensive power for pumping demands.

Although general business conditions in many parts of the territory served by the company show a decided improvement, the report points out that general trade and commerce will not be fundamentally sound until crops are actually harvested and sold.

The report is featured by a general note of optimism, and West Texas Utilities Company executives predict a period of further expansion and development for West Texas—styled in their literature and advertising—the "Land of Opportunity."

Road Slippery, But Preacher Makes Grade

Well, the road was a little slick last Sunday and of course we skidded around somewhat but the ride went over in good shape after all. I hear that some of the boys are feeling a little stiff over it but none of us will be bothered about it a hundred years from now. Of course we could not expect everybody to be feeling specially spry after riding thirty two hundred and fifty miles in one day.

But any way, we now have a supply of new song books and next Wednesday there will be the most interesting mid-week program you ever attended or heard of before. Yes, that's putting it pretty strong but any time we fail to live up to what we say then it will be time enough for you to call us down. Come and see. That's the stuff.

Official Board Meet: Listen, fellows, Tuesday evening at 7:30 is the time. The meeting will be behind closed doors. Executive session. Full attendance expected and must be had. Don't ask the reason. But come, and come on time, Hear?

W. C. Howell, Pastor.

Faculty-Student Games On Card Monday Night

On Monday night at the community auditorium the men of the faculty of the Munday schools will play the senior boys team, and the lady members of the faculty will play the senior girls team. No admission will be made for these games and a full house is expected.

PLANT GARDENS

A representative of the Red Cross was here last week and in conference with Mrs. W. P. Farrington, local chairman, stated that at the present time everything possible would be done to relieve the needy, but that this aid would be withdrawn as soon as the people have had sufficient time to grow gardens.

With the abundant rains that have fallen over the Munday country during the winter months there should be no family without a good garden. Vegetables of a wide variety grow here with a favorable season and there should be no need of anyone going hungry with the coming of spring.

B. H. Owsley, 84, Pioneer of West Is Called by Death

After an illness extending over a period of several months B. H. Owsley, 84 years of age, died at his home in this city on last Friday evening, and funeral services were conducted at the home on Saturday afternoon, with the Rev. W. H. Albertson, assisted by the Rev. E. G. M. Elland, conducting the services. Following the services the remains were conveyed to Haskell, where interment was made.

Some six months ago Mr. Owsley was stricken with paralysis, and his condition was very grave for several days at that time, however, he rallied from the attack, but has been partially paralyzed since that time. Up until he was stricken he was exceptionally strong and active for a man of his years.

Burch Hicks Owsley was born in Johnson county, Missouri, on November 3, 1846, and was married to Miss Hardie Snelling on November 15, 1866, hence his death brought to a termination a happy union that had existed for more than sixty-four years. Mr. and Mrs. Owsley moved from Missouri to Palo Pinto county in 1873, and came to Haskell county some forty years ago, where they resided continuously until some few years ago, when they moved to Munday. They were among the first settlers in Haskell county, and witnessed the transformation of this section of the state from a vast uninhabited area to the rich agricultural section that it is today.

In addition to his wife he is survived by three children as follows: G. W. Owsley of Stamford; Mrs. P. B. Broach of Munday and Miss Dora Owsley of Munday. Six children were born to this union, three of them dying in infancy. There are nine grand-children and twenty-one great-grand-children.

Mr. Owsley was converted in the summer of 1894 and was baptized into the fellowship of the Baptist church by the Rev. R. G. M. Elland, who has been an intimate friend for more than thirty years.

Active pallbearers were Jack Whitaker, Rufus Hogue, D. T. Mauldin, Dr. Joe Davis, Grady Beck and Dave Elland. Honorary pallbearers were Henry Michels, O. W. Lee, J. F. Clayborne, W. S. Bailey, C. M. Brown, C. L. Mayes, J. E. Reeves, M. H. Reeves, Alex. Jones, U. S. Rogers, Eugene Milam, Carrol Hopkins, J. C. Campbell, E. E. Akers, H. H. Langford, and Roy Aycock, all of Munday; F. G. Alexander, T. E. Ballard, Tom Lemons, Jim Bailey, Henry Post, Mike Perry, R. D. C. Stevens, Charlie Jones, Rust Debari, Virgil Hudson, Mike Watson, Joe Lee Ferguson, Charle Connor, Al Cousins, Albert English, Jack Baldwin, Theodore Jones, Burl Cox, and Dr. L. F. Taylor, of Haskell.

In the passing of this good man this section has lost one of its best citizens. A pioneer of the type that has made West Texas one of the best sections on earth in which to live. A man who dared to do always the things which he believed to be right, and he has left his mark on this section that will remain to react for the betterment of those who are here and who are to follow.

Confederate Veteran Here Has Newspaper Published in 1862 Containing President's Message

Mr. J. J. Baskin, who on last Monday celebrated his 89th birthday, has in his possession an old issue of the "Whig and Observer" bearing the date of August 28, 1862. The paper was published at Eutaw, Alabama, and carried on the front page a message of President Jefferson Davis to the Senate and House of Representatives at Richmond.

Unlike newspapers of the present day, the newspaper carried no display advertising with the exception of a few professional cards which are carried on the first column of the front page. The issue is well preserved, considering its age.

In his address to the Senate and House of Representatives, which is reproduced on the front page of the paper, President Jefferson Davis charged the soldiers of the north with many atrocities, and among other charges made by him are, "Rape and wanton destruction of private property by the troops of the United States; war upon non-combatants; murder of captives; bloody threats to avenge the death of an invading soldiery by the slaughter of unarmed citizens."

Munday Baptist Church Is Host To Association

The Munday Baptist church entertained the Haskell Baptist association workers' conference here on Monday, with the following churches being represented: O'Brien, Goree, Gillespie, Rule, Weinst, Haskell, Rochester, Knox City and Munday. The program was in charge of Mrs. L. M. Kay.

The ladies of the Rochester church carried off the attendance banner by having the largest number of delegates and members in attendance.

One of the most enjoyable messages of the day was that delivered by the Rev. King following the ladies' meeting.

Look For Red Tag On Certified Seed

Austin, Texas, Feb. 25.—Persons desiring state certified planting seed were warned by R. V. Miller, seed certification chief in the department of agriculture, to demand that each bag bear the red tag, showing the imprint of the state seal and signed by state officials.

Report received here were that seed has been offered for sale and designated "Registered Seed," "First Year from Certified Seed" and other phrases apparently intended to confuse the purchaser and create the impression that the seed were state approved. Miller said a list of certified breeders may be obtained from him.

THINKING OUT LOUD

BY J. A. K.

TOL is an optimist. He may be in for another disappointment, but just the same he believes all this dope the experts are putting in the papers about times getting better.

Of course the presiding elder of this column hasn't missed any meals during this depression, despite the fact that most of them have been cut rather short, he is of the opinion that the greatest part of the depression is due to the state of mind of the populace.

When this thing first started we rook-ribbed democrats got a big kick out of it, for it gave us an opportunity to tell you Hoover democrats some things that we wanted to get off our chest.

But now we are looking forward anxiously for this thing to come to a sudden and abrupt close, in fact, we're even so concerned in the return of prosperity that we're perfectly willing to give the republican regime all the credit for it—if they can bring it about.

For all these many years the republicans have boasted of the fact that Grand Old Party was the sole source of prosperity, and since it isn't so long until we have another general election, it's getting about time the boys who hold the reigns of prosperity headed it in the general direction of the common herd.

In the hearing on the proposed utility bill down at Austin the other day Mr. Carr, city manager of Fort Worth, stated that the press of the state was not in sympathy with the proposed regulation of utilities because of the fact that the utilities companies have much advertising to hand out. Mr. Carr's salary is said to be $18,000 per year.

Perhaps if the newspaper folks had their clutches on the purse-strings of some municipality as has Mr. Carr over at Cowtown, they wouldn't be so easily influenced by a few measly dollar's worth of advertising.

But Mr. Carr is "all wet" on his theory that the newspapers are controlled by this patronage. We have advocated the utility bill in this paper, and shall continue to advocate a regulatory body for the public utilities, whether the utility companies want it or not, and we are not contemplating the loss of any business by reason of our views on this subject.

It is independence of thought that makes any newspaper worth while, and we know of no newspaper that makes any money without it. (Continued on back page.)

Pendleton Urges Planting Long Staple Cotton

In our meanderings around town this week we cornered H. A. Pendleton in his office, and in conversation with him regarding things in general it wasn't long before Hap launched out on a discussion of cotton—and better cotton, and he called our attention to an article published in the daily papers this week showing what Soviet Russia was doing toward the production of cotton, and the following figures were published showing the decline in the export of cotton from the United States to Russia during the past three years: In 1928 the United States exported 429,339 bales, valued at $44,536,918; in 1929 the United States exported 289,161 bales, valued at $29,492,530; in 1930 the United States exported 80,545 bales, valued at $7,749,616. Hence it will be found from the above figures that the decline of exports gives us something to think about down here in the south where cotton has been and will likely continue to be the principal money crop.

The character of cotton produced in Russia is of a short staple variety, and of a kind that we do not have to produce throughout this section, and if a better quality of staple were produced in this country the above figures would not be so alarming. A better staple is the only method by which the cotton farmers of the south may combat the short staple and cheap labor of Russia.

Mr. Pendleton showed figures which revealed the wide spread during the past season between the short staple cotton and the long staple, and just what this difference meant to the farmers. In the early fall, according to his records, he paid from $15.00 to $17.00 per bale more for cotton of one inch staple than he did for cotton of 3-16ths or shorter, for the staple alone. He has been a strong advocate of a better staple for years, as he buys cotton on staple alone, paying the farmer for the staple if he has it, and he sees that it pays, as the prices paid netted the farmers from $1.00 to $3.00 more than was being paid for the staple in the square bale. Some days the prices were even greater, according to his records, due to the fact that he would get a run of the longer staple cotton.

Hap is also strong for the idea of diversification, and while not so strong for the planting of any great acreage in watermelons, he is an advocate of the Spanish peanut, and states that he has made an investigation of the average price of these peanuts over a period of ten years and finds that they have averaged around $1.00 per bushel to the grower. Figuring an average crop at a price of 75 cents per bushel, Hap states that the peanut would net the farmer from $50.00 to $75.00 per acre, and he and C. A. Elland, who operate and own a number of farms in the Munday section, will plant approximately 100 acres to peanuts this year.

Geo. Salem, Rule Merchant, Buys Grissom's Stock

A deal was consummated last week in which George Salem, Rule merchant, purchased the remaining portion of the stock of dry goods of the Grissom-Robertson Co., Inc., in Munday. He also purchased the fixtures in the store and will continue to operate the store in the same building. The Grissom-Robertson Co. is discontinuing a number of their stores, and the Munday store is among them.

Mr. Salem has been in the dry goods business in Rule for the past three years; in 1928 he was a very fine business in that city. He will continue the store at Rule, but will move to Munday with his family and will have active charge of the store here.

Mr. Salem states that Saturday will be the final day of the sale of the merchandise purchased from the Grissom-Robertson Co., and after that date the store will be closed until new merchandise can be received for re-stocking. He will leave the latter part of the week for the markets where he will purchase a complete new stock for the store here.

Mr. Salem is not altogether a stranger in Munday, having visited here upon numerous occasions when his brother-in-law, C. S. Amen, was a citizen of Munday. He comes highly recommended as a citizen and business man, and we are glad to extend to him and his family a cordial welcome to Munday.

Moffett Has Bill To Limit Large Counties In House

Austin, Texas, Feb. 21.—Representative Moffett of Chillicothe will introduce a constitutional amendment resolution Monday to limit representation in the house of the Texas legislature.

Under Moffett's plan, no county would be permitted to have more than five representatives unless the population exceeded 500,000. They would be allowed a representative for each additional 100,000 population.

Moffett said under his resolution a more equitable representation would be assured. A bill has been introduced by Representative Metcalfe of San Antonio to redistrict the state on a straight 38,000 population basis. This would permit Harris county to have nine representatives, Dallas eight, Bexar six and Fort Worth five.

Moffett stated president for the provision of his resolution has been set in several other states, the representation being based on a pro rata apportionment rather than on straight population. Notably among the states was New Hampshire and Rhode Island.

In New Hampshire, each town of 600 population is entitled to one representative, while the town must have a population of 1,800 or more. In Rhode Island, Providence has 40 per cent of the population and 25 per cent of the representation in the house.

Here he was interrupted by the oil man who almost shouted at the preacher: "And don't forget the Gulf."

POETS SING OF THE CALL OF THE SEA

Poets sing of the call of the sea,
Of the hearts deep cry, as a ship sails by.
But give me a home on the prairie land,
Where nature is drowsed in sleep,
A cottage white, in the sunset light,
Where life is calm and sweet,
Let me hear the wail of the western wind,
Somewhere there is a great lure
To the sand that blows, filling eyes and nose,
Till you think you can stand it no more.
I'll always love the Lone Star State,
Out there where the sandstorms howl,
My home in the land, God gave to man,
And the prairie dog, coyote and owl.

The class tournament is now a thing of the past, but it will not be forgotten soon, not only because of its outcome, but also because of its physical effect upon everyone. The games and their outcomes were as follows:

Freshmen girls

Every class had a good team, and the Seniors certainly had to fight for the victory.

The new system of teaching physical education is meeting with good results, and everyone seems to enjoy it. The pupils are divided into several groups, each group playing a different game on each day. Some of the games played are volleyball, baseball, field ball and soccer ball. On Friday the period is given over to health, each teacher having charge of a certain phase of health. Every student is required to take the health part, but those entering in track or athletic games are exempt from the physical training part.

Mr. Harrell had charge of the health program last Friday, and the subject was "The Care of the Eyes." Mr. Kethley gave a very interesting talk along that subject, and every student is held responsible for the content of his talk.

Many preparations are being made for the county track meet, and everyone is doing his best, since all events will be dual events between Knox City and Munday, now that Knox City is also classified as a class A school. Knox City has won the cup for three years in succession, so Munday High is going to do its best to keep them from winning it again. Many students are coming out for tennis, track, volleyball and literary events, with able teachers as coaches, so Knox City is certainly going to have plenty of competition this year.

The Freshman Science class gave a very interesting program on Friday morning, which was enjoyed by everyone. All were trying to do something different at

We will challenge you to anything you ever thought of playing! (When you accept this, you better think what you are saying!) Call it your duty, or call it your aim, Name the rules, and we will call it our game. "If you win or lose, takes it like sports, "Play the game fair, and we will keep it from the courts." —The Junior Class M. H. S.

We had a very interesting program at home room meeting last Tuesday. Although this was our first meeting, we managed to have a successful program. Eleanor Jungman was responsible for the program rendered since she is one of the group leaders. We had plenty of fun playing the games, which were about important events that have taken place in February. All of the program was about "Patriotism", and poems and sketches of the lives of men were given by certain members of the group rendering the program. We plan to have many more of these interesting programs, in fact we feel that some of them will be even more enjoyable, since the subjects for the programs will be of a different nature. (Some will suit the responsible Juniors better than the above mentioned.)

Say, readers of this column, you were asked last week to watch our smoke in the class basketball tournament, and if you were there you will agree that there was some smoke raised. We made those poor Fish flop as they never before had to flop for victory. Though we were defeated, we feel that we played an important part, because they could not have played without us.

My lengthened vocabulary does not furnish me with enough words to tell of the appreciation we owe to the Sophomore girls. As you know, they too, were defeated, but not by the Freshmen! These beautiful spring days that we have been having have left the Sophomores with a very serious attack of spring fever, which, seemingly, comes to all students about this time of the year.

FRESHMEN

Classes, you had better watch our boys in basketball. They are right there when basketball is mentioned. We are happy to say that our boys defeated the Sophomores, and that it was a job for the Seniors to defeat them. We wish to say to Earl Nickels, Ralph Blanton, Albert Aycock, Arnold Bates, O. C. Edwards, John West and Jeff Henderson, that we certainly enjoyed the wonderful games they played last week. We enjoyed the talk that Mr. Kethley gave on "The Care of the Eyes". We Freshmen are wishing for a pretty day next Saturday, for we are planning to have a jolly good time on a picnic. We are glad to have Grady Sutton, a new pupil, in our class, and we wish a worthwhile Freshman year to him. We enjoyed the home room program given last week. Our next

Farmers of West Texas To Profit By Census Bill

Austin, Texas, Feb. 25.—That vast grain and livestock section which has achieved picturesque and distinctive unity under the name of "West Texas" would perhaps be the greatest beneficiary of the Form Census Bill pending in the legislature, according to its sponsors.

It was pointed out that an annual census of natural resources such as is planned would be of special value in the industrial and commercial development of this area of potential great value as farming and ranching sections. The census would furnish authoritative statistics to railroads planning to penetrate new territory; to flour mills seeking a new location; to a hundred other industries whose interests are closely tied to the land.

Texas now has no means of collecting data annually on crop acreage, prospective acreage, production of principal crops, numbers of livestock, and other vital farm and ranch data by counties. Cities in the new country, seeking to induce business to locate with them, must make extensive agricultural surveys, or depend upon the federal census. This census is highly unsatisfactory, as it is taken only every five years and does not keep pace with a country developing as rapidly as West Texas.

Officials of both the state and federal departments of agriculture, the University of Texas and Texas A. and M. college are cooperating in seeking enactment of the measure. Support was drawn from an unexpected quarter when officials of the state department of public health gave the bill their approval, since pertinent health information might be included in the bulletins to be sent out under government frank by the term of the bill to disseminate agricultural information.

Every new Ford is equipped with four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers

ONE of the fine things about driving the new Ford is the way it takes you over the miles without strain or fatigue. No matter how long the trip, you know it will bring you safely, quickly, comfortably to the journey's end.

The seats are generously wide, deeply cushioned and carefully designed to conform to the curves of the body. Every new Ford has specially designed springs and four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers. These work both ways — up and down. They absorb the force of road shocks and also provide a cushion against the rebound of the springs.

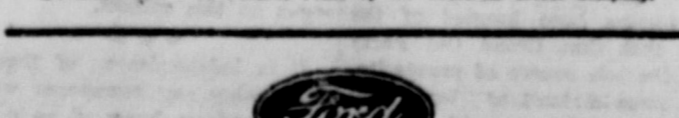

Other features that make the new Ford a value far above the price are the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield, silent, fully enclosed four-wheel brakes, more than twenty ball and roller bearings, extensive use of fine steel forgings, aluminum pistons, chrome silicon alloy valves, torque-tube drive, Rustless Steel and unusual accuracy in manufacturing.

In addition, you save many dollars because of the low first cost of the new Ford, low cost of operation and up-keep, and low yearly depreciation.

Announcement...

Saturday Will Be Final Day of Sale of Grissom-Robertson Stock of Goods

We wish to announce that we have purchased the remaining portion of the Grissom-Robertson Co. stock of goods in Munday, and will continue the sale of this merchandise until Saturday night, February 28th. After that date the store will be closed until we have re-stocked with new merchandise complete, and opening announcement will be made later.

We urge you to come in and get some of the big bargains that remain in the store, including shoes for men, women and children, work clothing and numerous items that remain from the Grissom-Robertson stock. Never again will you be able to buy merchandise at these low prices—far below actual wholesale cost.

Within a few days we will open with a complete stock of new merchandise—Dry Goods, Clothing, Shoes and complete furnishings for the entire family. We believe we know the needs of the citizens of this section, having been engaged in the Dry Goods business at Rule for the past eight years, and we shall strive at all times to carry the goods that you want at prices that are in line with the quality of the merchandise.

New Freedom of Women Raises Standard of Music

BARNEY RAPP

Night Club Also Marks A Step in Social Advancement

New Haven, Connecticut.—The passing of the dance hall and the advent of the night club marks a step in social advancement which is reflected in the present day music, asserts Barney Rapp, musical director of the Terrace Restaurant here.

"The new freedom of women demanded that all places of amusement be open to them and the standard had to be raised to meet their demands," says Mr. Rapp. "This step also raised the moral level of the boys. They are better behaved than they used to be in the so-called dance hall.

"The effect on music has been equally for the better. The standard of the ballad type instead of the former popular 'hot' tunes. The sweeter the tune and the music the more requests. 'Since Maggie became Marguerite,' the waltz song asked for by everyone, gets the biggest band and often I have to play it a half dozen times an evening."

Mr. Rapp is a famous broadcasting artist and his brother is Lou Rapp, former captain of the Yale water polo team and all-American water polo player for three years, who sings with the band.

FIGHT LOW PRICES BY FEEDING YOURSELVES FARMERS ARE TOLD

Austin, Texas, Feb. 25.—Farmers who feed the world and sometimes starve themselves are urged by J. E. McDonald, commissioner of agriculture, to try to feed themselves first this year.

"More than ever before in the recent history of Texas agriculture," McDonald said, "the need should be impressed upon the minds of all thinking persons that farmers must raise their own food-stuffs in preparation for the coming winter."

"There is no occasion to be optimistic over the agricultural outlook. In Texas we start with surpluses of grain and cotton, and with practically all major crops sub-normal in price. Few enterprises promise the farmer a profit.

"Regardless of what may develop during this year, farmers should judge future conditions by the present and make ready for the winter in the way closest at hand. The best preparation the farmer can make is to store up food—potatoes, canned fruits and vegetables, cured meats.

"Should farm prices stage a comeback, these efforts will not be amiss. I venture that every can of fruit or vegetables, every jar of pickled meat, every cured ham, every keg of sauerkraut, prepared this spring, summer and fall will be eaten and relished next winter, regardless of the general condition of agriculture.

Germ-Processed Oil
won't fail you
these cold days"

The multitude of motorists who have switched to Conoco Germ-Processed Motor Oil know what a great oil it is for summer use. Maybe they are wondering how it will act in cold weather at zero and below. The makers of Conoco know. Better still, thousands of users know, from their experiences of last winter. In Canada, Montana, the Dakotas . . . in Denver . . . with temperatures far under zero, Conoco Germ-Processed did not congeal. It remained fluid and continued to furnish efficient lubrication.

This accomplishment is no surprise. Conoco Germ-Processed is easy starting, non-congealing at sub-zero temperatures, because it is a thoroughly de-waxed paraffin base oil. The Penetrative Lubricity of Germ Process makes certain an ever-present lubricating film in your motor, even after long periods of idleness . . . particularly valuable at starting time, when 40% to 60% of motor wear occurs.

Save this wear on your motor . . . your battery . . . your nerves. Drain and refill now with the proper grade of Conoco Germ-Processed oil at the sign of the Conoco Red Triangle. All grades, 35¢ per quart.

Changes Are Made In Rules For The Essay Contests

Radical changes in the Essay Writing rules of the Interscholastic League have been made this year, according to Miss Lena V. Lair, who was elected Director of Essay Writing in this county.

Heretofore subjects for the Essay contests have been selected from certain prescribed magazines. This year, however, the subjects will be furnished from the State office of the League within the range of the average pupil's study, observation, and experience. Thus it will not be necessary for pupils entering this contest to be prepared on current news, as in the past, but much practice in actual composition will be necessary for those who expect to compete successfully. This change in the rules was made in accordance with the recommendation of the committee in the English faculty of the University of Texas which has charge of the grading of essays in the state contest. Less emphasis on amassing of information and more emphasis upon practice in composition, this committee believes, will give better results.

HOWARD PHILLIPS

Orchestra Leader Advocates Physical Training for Artists

New York City.—When Howard Phillips decided to become a singer instead of a golf professional, one of New York's most popular bands was thereby founded. Mr. Phillips made such a success singing with various bands that he is now at the age of twenty, a leader of his own band at one of the largest hotels in the city.

"I have always loved athletics and held several championships in tennis and golf, so that I had about decided on a golf career," he explains. "Then I had the opportunity to sing after school for a band."

"I think every orchestra leader should be an athlete because the physical strain is so great that one needs every ounce of vitality to play modern dance music."

"The conductor must really feel each separate number and there is a great emotional drain."

"So Sympathetic," most popular fox-trot song now, though very soothing and sentimental, requires as much vigor as practice for a championship. I generally play numbers like "So Sympathetic" at the close of the evening."

Mrs. Kethley Hostess to Bridge Club
The Monday Bridge club met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Kethley Monday evening. Bowls of flowers were throughout the entertaining suite gave a spring time atmosphere to the rooms. A lovely refreshment plate of strawberry mousse topped with cream, cake and mints was served to the following, Messrs. and Mrs. H. A. Pendleton, T. G. Bengt, T. R. Hane, E. S. McCord, W. R. Moore, E. Duval, W. H. Chapman, W. H. Atkinson, E. H. Bauman, and Mrs. H. T. Maples.

Following a custom since organization of observing the anniversary of the birth of George Washington with a party, the Munday Study Club entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Langford Friday evening, with Messdames Langford, W. E. McGlothlin, J. D. Kethley, Jack Mayes and A. A. Smith hostesses.

Eighty-four was the diversion for the evening, with the patriotic theme used in game appointments and reflected in the refreshments. Miniature silk flags were plate favors.

The guest list included Dr. and Mrs. E. M. Ammons, Messrs. and Mrs. B. D. Atkinson, H. F. Barnes, J. C. Borden, Chester Bowden, W. H. Chapman, F. L. Woman's Missionary Society Baptist Church Entertained
Messrs. Chester Bowden, H. A. Oliver and Zack Gray were associate hostesses to members of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Baptist church at a business and social meeting held at the home of Mrs. Chester Bowden Tuesday afternoon. Song by members, devotional by Mrs. A. U. Hathaway, followed by prayer by Mrs. H. H. Riley.

Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served. Messrs. W. H. Albertson, R. L. Blacklock, F. O. Cooney, Leland Hannah, W. E. Reynolds, H. H. Riley, J. O. Bowden, Walter Plunkett, A. U. Hathaway, A. C. Brock, Parker, J. E. Reeves, John White, Geo. Hammock, Perdue, Harold Davis, Bates, Broughton, and the hostesses.

A Correction—
In reporting the business and social meeting held at the home of Mrs. T. Phil Lowry, with Mrs. J. E. Reeves and Mart Hardin as associate hostesses, we stated that the Woman's Missionary Society was entertained, which should have read "Sunday School Class". The error was ours and not that of the one reporting the affair to us.

KEEPING THE BALANCE OF POWER IN THE RURAL SECTIONS

Representative George Moffett has introduced a resolution in the House of Representatives at Austin proposing an amendment to the constitution providing that no county shall have more than five Representatives unless the population of said county shall exceed 500,000.

Mr. Moffett states that a surprise developed when the matter of re-districting the state for membership in the lower house came up for consideration, for if the apportionment should be followed that has been followed in the past Harris county would have nine members; Dallas county would have eight members; Bexar county would have seven and Tarrant county would have five. In other words, in the near future six or eight of the large counties of the state would have a third of the membership in the lower house.

Mr. Moffett in a letter to The Times states: "Believing it desirable that the balance of power remain in the smaller counties of the state, I have introduced the amendment, and I have assurance that it will not be killed in committee, but likewise, there is a strong assurance that it will be fought on the floor of the House, and since it takes two-thirds of the Legislature to submit a constitutional amendment, it may not pass. However, it only takes a majority of people to adopt an amendment at the polls, and if we can get this amendment submitted there is a fair chance that it will be adopted by the vote of the people."

Mr. Moffett faithfully represents the rural populace of the state. He sees the grave danger ahead when representation in our law making bodies from the large centers of population will far over-balance that of the rural sections, and it is the dangers that might arise from this situation that he hopes to remedy by an amendment to our constitution.

Here's hoping that Representative Moffett is successful in getting his amendment over to the people. If Texas is to continue to prosper the agricultural interests of the state must be safeguarded and these interests will not be safeguarded by representation from the larger cities.

We hear much about a fair deal toward capital. We are told repeatedly that unless our laws are favorable to capital that progress of the state will be retarded, but seldom do we hear anybody who has a yearning to render a service to the agricultural interests of the state and it's upon agriculture that Texas must depend. Capital is accorded by most everyone the right to a fair return, but agriculture must trust to hard work and luck.
