SUNSET WHIPS WEINERT FIVE TO GAIN TITLE

Herbert Partridge Is Brilliant With 23 Points

FINAL SCORE IS 40 TO 23, EAGLES

Seymour Wins Consolation Over Mattson

Herbert Partridge and company, basketball sharpshooters of Sunset, won the Knox City invitation basketball tourney last Saturday night by decisively whipping Weinert 40 to 23, in the finals.

Fighting their way through a 14 team tournament the Eagles, coached by Kimbrough, encountered little trouble in the elimination rounds of play. However, expected a tough battle from the Weinert five, the only team to pin a defeat on the Eagles this year, Sunset turned on the steam with Partridge scoring enough points to win the game.

Sunset led at the end of the first period 4-0 on two baskets by Partridge and continued the slaughter to have a 15-0 lead before Weinert scored a free toss registered by L. Leflar. They led 18-7 at half time.

The Eagles ran their lead up on both the remaining periods with the third quarter score showing 28-12. Crouch had 6 points for Sunset while Johnson registered 9 to lead W. Leflar both of Weinert for top scoring honors for his team. Strickland, Sunset forward, was a power with his steady floor work and defensive play.

Seymour's Panthers, a victim of the Eagles, came through to win the consolation flight with an easy victory over Mattson by the score of 32-14. The winners lead at half time 18-5.

McReynolds, Seymour forward, with 11 points and McClesky, center, with 9 points led the Panther attack while Mayfield offered the best for Mattson with 6 points.

Bowden and John Reneau.

G. R. Eiland was again named president of the local organization and John Ed Jones, secretary-treasurer of the association since its removal to this city in 1929 was retained in that capacity.

Judge E. L. Covey of Benjamin was in the city Wednesday afternoon attending to official matters.

Munday Bank Statement Reveals Condition of Area Much Improved

Editor's Note: This is the third in a series of articles in the nature of business surveys and functions of leading civic organizations and their value and importance in building a greater Munday.

A comparison of the financial statement of the First National Bank in Munday as of December 31, 1937, to the same statement of a year ago shows a substantial increase in deposits for citizens of this area.

The bank statement can be used as a barometer for business trends of this immediate sector, and indi-ushered in with the New Year came the curtain raiser to the premiere of Texas' big show, "Election Year," in the way of announcements for various political jobs.

The election this year will be the long ballot, with voters selecting new state officials as well as county, precinct and city officers. Congressmen also come in for their share of campaigning this year.

At this time 8 candidates have formally announced their intentions to campaign for public offices in this county and W. D. McFarlane, present congressman of the 13th district which embraces Knox county has come out for re-election.

Candidates who have announced for county offices include J. Lyndal Hughes, reelection for county superintendent; Louis Cartwright, reelection for Knox county Sheriff; Marvin Chamberlain, reelection as county clerk; E. L. Covey, reelection as county judge; Ed Jones, reelection as county commissioner of precinct No. 4; Charlie Moorehouse and G. W. Moore, candidates for county treasurer, and Earl Sams, candidate for re-election as assessor-collector.

McFarlane is up for re-election for Congressman and Grady Roberts has announced for state representative.

He has attained a record of high efficiency in discharging the duties of his office and points to his record as a county official as his campaign platform for the coming elections.

Should any person in the county care to investigate or ask questions regarding his duties and the manner in which he has functioned during his past tenures in office he will be glad to talk at length with them.

He is placing his name before the public subject to the merit of the voting public subject to action of the Democratic primary, July 23, and asks due consideration you go to vote.

Cartwright To Seek A Second Sheriff's Term

Louis Cartwright, present sheriff of Knox County, today authorized the Munday Times to make his announcement for re-election to that post for another term.

A native of this county, Cartwright was born and reared on a farm between Munday and Goree, and has spent all of his 43 years in this county. He is now completing his first term as sheriff of Knox county.

Mr. Cartwright in making his announcement, pointed out that he had served in this capacity the best he knows how and would make the race for his second term on his past record as an office holder.

He believes that he will be better fitted for his second term, should he be re-elected, and will again give the best that he can toward law enforcement coupled with a sound reasoning judgement towards law violations.

Cartwright will conduct his campaign at such times as his duties as present sheriff allow him to be free from the office and he will probably make a personal statement later in the campaign. Action on his candidacy will be subject to the voters in the Democratic primary, July 23rd.

Mr. Cartwright expressed his appreciation of the unusual cooperation accorded him by other county officials and citizens in carrying out enforcement and other duties of his office.

Main Speaker is Judge John Lee Smith

More than 250 persons attended the American Legion banquet held last Tuesday night at the Legion Hut here. The affair climaxed the most successful membership drive in the history of the local post.

The Rhineland Lone Star Band, directed by Supt. John J. Hoffman, furnished music during the fore part of the evening. Following the band concert, all the men and boys were fed, army style, in one part of the hut and the ladies were served in another section of the building.

After the turkey feed had been enjoyed and the guests and Legion members were seated in the main hall and the meeting was called to order by Jim Reeves, commander, who welcomed the group to the Hut. During his remarks, Peter Loran was introduced, and made a short talk followed by a short talk by J. J. Hoffman, band director from Rhineland.

The remainder of the evening was turned over to the main speaker of the evening, Judge John Lee Smith of Throckmorton, who was also introduced to the crowd by Commander Reeves.

Smith talked at length on the World War, delving into the horrible side of the great war, and bringing in humorous incidents that he experienced. His talk was well received by the audience and he held their full attention throughout his discourse.

The Munday Boy Scout troop were also guests of the Legion with their Scoutmaster.

STRIP IS LAST GAP OF NORTH-SOUTH HIGHWAY

County Relieved Of All Cost For Highway

PROJECT TAKES NINETY LABORERS

15 Inch Gravel Base Will Be Topped With Asphalt

Construction was started this week on hard surfacing the last gap of the Benjamin-Crowell highway it was announced by Judge E. L. Covey, chairman of the Knox County commissioners court.

The road will be a seven mile stretch and will complete the hard-surfaced highway running from south of Knox City to the county line to the north county line.

Cost of the new road will be $66,000 and will be a WPA project employing approximately 90 men, it was said. Forty per cent of the cost will be paid by the State Highway department and the remainder by the federal government, thus, relieving the county purse strings.

The road will have a 15 inch gravel base and will be surfaced twice by coats of asphalt and chat, to give an all-weather highway.

Times Publisher Announces For Representative

In years past I have had the pleasure to write political announcements for both politicians and statesmen, and never did give either much more than a thought, but in making this announcement, I do it with a feeling of responsibility and realize at the same time what a huge job it will be to give this district the representation it has had in past years.

After sincere solicitation by many friends, and very careful consideration, I have decided to offer my services as representative of the 114th district, which is composed of Knox, Foard, King and Hardeman counties.

This district is so immense and because of business responsibilities, it will be impossible for me to meet each voter face to face and talk over legislative matters, so I would be glad for you to investigate my record as to business ability and sound judgement. I have lived in this district more than fifteen years, most of which time was spent at Chillicothe, Hardeman county, where I published the Chillicothe Valley News, and I still own that publication.

It will not be my purpose to bring you a bag of promises, because I know one man cannot accomplish miracles. My one promise to the people of this district, if I am elected, is that I will give you an honest, conscientious and business-like representation.

I sincerely thank you for your consideration and earnestly ask for your vote on July 23rd.

THE POLL-TAX REVOLT

In the presidential election of 1936, the Poll-Tax Group included 9 States—Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia. With a combined electorate of 12,472,245 citizens 21 years of age, these 9 poll-taxed States in 1936 cast only 3,005,177 votes for all candidates for President and Vice President.

They polled only 24 per cent of their potential electorate—the lowest voting record on the civilized globe—as compared with a 72 per cent vote as the average of 39 States free from poll-tax ban.

The action of Florida and Arkansas reduces the Poll-Tax group to only seven States—Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia. Popular revolts, supported by the State press, are now developing in these States—notably in Alabama, Tennessee and Virginia.

Repeal of the ancient "two-thirds" rule of the Democratic National Convention, and the fear that the 1940 apportionment of delegates may be based on the votes of the respective states, puts the Poll-Tax group in a "tough spot."

The combined vote of the present seven poll-taxed States, (revised by 1937 acts), for President Roosevelt in 1936 was only 257,000, or less than 10 per cent of the President's 27,751,000. It is plain, then, that on this as a basis or representation in future Democratic National Conventions, the so-called "Solid South" would quickly pass into partial eclipse as a power in the Democratic party.

New York State alone in 1936 cast 3,293,000 votes for Roosevelt, or nearly a million votes more than the combined States of the poll-tax group.

Illinois in 1936 polled 2,283,000 votes for Roosevelt, or as large a Democratic vote as the seven remaining poll-tax States after the revolt of Arkansas and Florida.

With the vote polled in 1936 as a basis for party representation, even the former "rock-ribbed Republican" State of Pennsylvania, which gave the President a popular vote of 2,353,788, would count for more in Democratic councils, than all of the present poll-taxed South.

California, Indiana, and Ohio, each polled for Roosevelt double the vote of Texas. Massachusetts gave the President more votes than did Alabama, Georgia and Virginia combined. The North Central State of Wisconsin gave the President 803,000 votes, which not only exceeded the 734,480 votes of Texas but exceeded the combined vote of South Carolina, Mississippi and Virginia.

Today there are 40 of the 48 States without poll-tax ban on the right to vote, and Arkansas soon will make 41. Of the seven remaining States of the Poll-Tax Group, there may be in 1940 several which will follow the example of North Carolina in 1920.

North Carolina had been a member of the poll-tax group until in 1920 an extra session of the State Legislature was called repealing the poll-tax ban. Note the effect of this repeal on the North Carolina vote for President. In 1936, North Carolina polled 839,462 votes, compared with the paltry 115,437 cast by South Carolina for all presidential candidates—margin of over 7 to 1 against the poll-tax ban.

The plight of Texas, the one-time "banner State of Democracy," is not much better than that of Virginia, the one-time "mother of Presidents."

Texas, in the last census, had 2,335,555 native white and 94,878 foreign-born white citizens of voting age, or a total white electorate of 2,430,433 which by 1936 doubtless exceeded 2,500,000.

Total vote of Texas for all presidential candidates in 1936 was only 843,482 of which the President and Vice President received 734,485. That is to say, 70 per cent of the whites of poll-taxed Texas are non-voters.

PAY YOUR POLL TAX—YOU HAVE UNTIL JANUARY 31st TO BECOME ELIGIBLE TO VOTE IN THE COMING STATE AND COUNTY AND CITY ELECTIONS

A PENNY SAVED!

It was Benjamin Franklin who once advised taking care of the pennies and said the dollars would take care of themselves. But of course Mr. Franklin wasn't aware then of our current complications in government—red tape, so to speak.

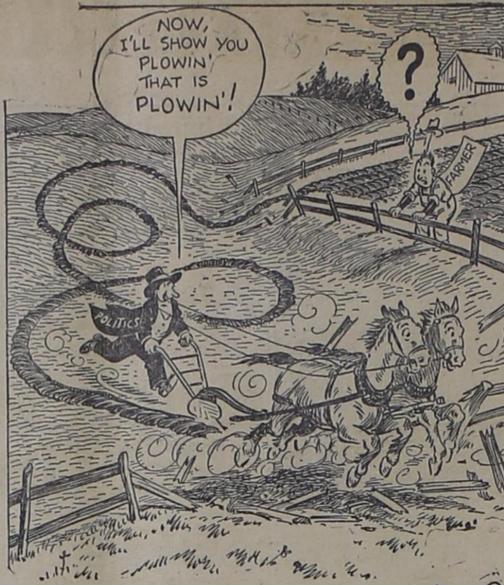

For example, the United States Treasury in Washington recently received checks for one cent each from two small cities, the one cent representing in each case, the unexpended portion of PWA grants of several thousand dollars. The honesty of these two city governments is laudable, to be sure, but—

If the two pennies had been spent, perhaps for penny pencils, the taxpayers of these United States would have been saved the several dollars spent by the Treasury to record the transaction.

The National Broadcasting Company has forbidden the use of Mae West's name in its scripts, and thereby the irrepressible Mae has secured some more of the kind of advertising that made her famous.

THE NEW HIRED HAND

state confers no rights upon the corporation and is not within the rule of comity between states which permits corporations chartered within one state to transact business in another.

At the present time a total of approximately 300 "tramp" corporations are now doing business in Texas. Under the policy invoked by the Secretary of State, such corporations will be requested to surrender their permits and organize corporations under the laws of this state. Since these corporations had paid their franchise taxes up to May, 1938, they will not be expected to surrender their permits and form as domestic corporations until the end of the present fiscal franchise tax year. It would be an unfair demand upon these corporations to request the change to be made at a time which would cause them to pay a double franchise tax for a part of the taxable year.

Under this new policy, the Attorney General will be requested to file suits against those corporations which fail to comply with the law or which may be exempt from the "tramp" corporation rule and any money which may be tendered by such corporations to the Secretary of State for 1938 franchise taxes will be held in suspense pending disposition of such suits.

It is expected that this new policy will not only eliminate the present discrimination against domestic corporations and bring the corporations under closer jurisdiction of the state courts, but it will increase the revenues of the state by the additional incorporation fees under Texas laws.

Doubtless the policy will arouse some opposition on the part of those who have been operating under the old rule, but its invocation should be received with favor by the stockholders of domestic corporations who have had to comply with the capital stock requirements of this state while in a sense competing with those of the "tramp" corporations who escaped the requirements of the Texas law.

Predict 1938 to Be Active Year Of Home Building

1938 will be another year of active home-building. F. F. Kueny, Dallas manager of the Home Owners' Catalogs division of F. W. Dodge Corporation, looks to the new year for a construction volume of more than 475 million dollars in homes to be occupied by the owners.

"The housing needs of about 65,000 families will be accommodated during 1938 in the homes they will build for themselves," Mr. Kueny comments. "The continuation of this year's interest in home owning clearly shows the healthy trend of The Great American Family toward better homes for better living."

In a grouping of all types of family dwelling units, the Dodge Corporation estimates that approximately 210,000 will be built during 1938. This includes apartments, two-family houses, developments, houses for owners' occupancy and those built for sale or rent. All of this work will cost more than a billion dollars.

Program Plans Set 66 Million Acres to Wheat

A resume of recommendations made by program planning com-

Families planning to build their own homes, in this vicinity, may obtain personal copies of Home Owners' Catalogs, a guide to the selection of home building materials, equipment and furnishings, without cost or any other obligations. This book is not offered for sale and the publishers restrict the distribution to the families who need it most at this time. It is available to all those who will build homes within twelve months, for their own occupancy, east of the Rockies, at costs of more than $4,000 exclusive of land. Readers of The Times who qualify can secure their copies by writing to the publishers, F. W. Dodge Corporation, Dallas, giving such information about their new homes as location, cost, short description and architect's name. The books will be sent postage-paid.

mittees over the nation's wheat belt shows that they recommend 66 million acres as the ideal wheat acreage, according to W. E. Morgan, economist in program planning of the Extension Service division of Texas A. & M. College. The recommendation is based on past acreages, yields, consumption carry over, and land use, Morgan said.

If in 1937-38 farmers seed 81 million acres to wheat, as they did last year, and if yields are average, they will produce a crop of 950 million bushels. This, with the estimated carry over, will give a supply of more than a billion bushels.

A billion bushels supply would be some 350 million bushels more than we ordinarily use for domestic needs, Morgan pointed out.

Exports of American wheat have declined for the past 15 years, and there is little likelihood that the export market will absorb any considerable part of a carry over that large. This situation probably would depress domestic wheat prices to an unfavorable level, according to Morgan.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

BY JULIAN CAPERS JR.

Austin.—The groundwork of a hot political contest over the office of State Land Commissioner was laid here this week, when Gov. James V. Allred launched a vigorous offensive against Bill McDonald, present incumbent. Allred climaxed weeks of criticism of the conduct of the land office by asking the Attorney General to file suit to invalidate the renewal of a lease on State-owned riverbed land in the KMA field, Wichita County. The renewal, issued to the Venmex Oil Company, was issued by McDonald December 7, after the company had failed pay rental for six years. Two members of the State Mineral Development Board—Allred and Railroad Commission Chairman C. V. Terrell—had previously overruled McDonald's action in renewing this lease, holding only the board, of which McDonald is the third member, had power to renew leases, instead of the Commissioner alone. Allred retained Everett S. Looney as special counsel for the State in the suit filed by McCraw at Allred's request. Meanwhile, Allred also refuses to sign a land patent issued by McDonald on another tract, claiming the valuation placed on it was too low, and had been changed from the surveyor's recommendation of $5 to $1 per acre. McDonald cancelled the Venmex lease renewal, after the suit was ordered, stating he would let the courts decide the matter. The lease, according to Allred, is worth a million dollars.

Teachers Are Aroused

H. L. Mills, chairman of the permanent school fund land committee of the politically powerful State Teacher's Association, wrote Allred, urging legislation to change the method of leasing State lands now used by the Land Office. He claimed the school fund has lost $1,250,000 through McDonald's policy of accepting low cash bonuses and high royalties, instead of high cash and minimum royalties, as formerly was done. Mills also commented on the activity of "vacancy hunters," which was reviewed at length in this column recently, and expressed the fear that aroused public sentiment might force a change in the present law that permits trial of vacancy suits in Travis county, as was recently evidenced when the Senate passed a resolution asking the attorney general to transfer vacancy suits in Polk county to the courts there. Hue urged the State employ surveyors, do its own "vacancy hunting," and give the holders of vacancy lands that are discovered the preferential right to buy such land, sharing the mineral wealth with the State school fund, rather than giving the private "vacancy hunter" all the advantage against the farmer or land-owner who believes he owns the land. The Senate investigating committee, headed by T. J. Holbrook, has indicated it will probe the Land Office administration in the near future.

Thompson Announces

Formal announcement of Ernest O. (Red) Thompson, railroad commissioner, as a candidate for Governor let the bars down in this race, and made certain that the Texas voters will learn a lot in the next six months about a native son who has had a varied and successful career of public service. The Railroad Commissioner and chairman of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission began his public service as schoolboy mascot of a national guard company. As a Texas University student he earned his way as secretary to the late and revered Chief Justice R. R. Gaines of the Texas Supreme Court. He left University to enter the World War, and became the youngest Lieutenant Colonel ever commissioned, being promoted for distinguished service. He returned to practice law and take a leading role in building his home city of Amarillo. Twice elected mayor of the Panhandle metropolis, he gained statewide notice as the "fighting mayor" who really reduced public utility rates there. This won him appointment as successor of Pat Neff as Railroad Commissioner. In Austin, Thompson's record in bringing the oil industry out of chaos into orderly production and prosperity has won him national recognition as an administrative official, whose largest single contribution has been increase of millions of dollars in the public school funds from the state's oil resources. An affable personality, ability as a public speaker, and a rare political courage are assets which will enable Thomson to render a real contribution to the campaign for the governorship this year, during which the voters should have opportunity to learn much about the affairs of their state and its tremendously important business and financial aspects.

The strange anomaly of a state that has 18 million dollars cash on hand, and yet is "broke" to the tune of over $17,000,000 was presented by State Treasurer Charley Lockhart's figures at the end of the year. Despite a cash balance of $18,266,057 in all funds, the important general revenue fund was "in the red" to the tune of $17,727,061.

The REST Of the Record

BY JAMES V. ALLRED Governor of Texas

The Secretary of State recently invoked the "tramp" corporation doctrine, the effect of which is to discontinue the policy of granting permits to "tramp" corporations for the transaction of business in the State of Texas. "Tramp" corporations as defined by Edward Clark, Secretary of State, are corporations whose charters have been obtained in a foreign state by citizens of the State of Texas for the purpose only of transacting business in Texas and with no bona fide intention of transacting business in the state from which their charter was obtained. It was felt that the practice of granting permits to foreign corporations of such nature was a discrimination against those corporations incorporated in Texas because the stockholders of the "tramp" corporations are not required to comply with the capital stock requirements as prescribed by the Constitution and laws of this state for domestic corporations. Such foreign corporations also found it easier to evade the jurisdiction of the state courts. Under the "tramp" corporation doctrine a charter obtained under such circumstances from another

SUNSET SENIORS WILL PUBLISH A HIGH SCHOOL YEAR BOOK THIS YEAR

"The Eagle's Echo" Is The Title For Book

For the first time the Sunset High School will have a high school year book this year. It will be called "The Eagle's Echo," and it will be published by the Senior class. The Cass, with Mrs. Cash and Mr. Kimbrough as sponsors, made a contract with the Interstate Press of Kansas City for supplying material for a novel annual much of which is to be printed in the high school by the mimeograph process.

The following students have been elected as staff officers for the 1938 "Eagle's Echo": Nell Nix, Editor-in-Chief; Frances Gray, Assistant Editor; Dorothy Gammill, Business Manager; Dorothy Garrett, Art Editor; Inez Vernon, Production Manager; Buddy Bumpas and Faye Marie Partridge, Sports Writers; Nettie Griffith, Society Editor.

Every class in school will be represented in the book. Also, all athletic teams and clubs will receive recognition.

Early in the term Mr. Kimbrough suggested making the annual as a project in civics. The class became interested and wrote for information. The representative came, and the contract was signed. This annual will be an invaluable keepsake. With the school's mimeograph, the annual will be turned out with little expense. The books are now being sold for $1.50 each. Now is your chance to buy one. It has not been decided whether or not the pictures will be in cuts or pasted in. There will be pictures of the building, faculty, classes, from eleventh to first, basketball teams, track, volleyball, baseball teams, music department, and most popular boy and girl.

Herschel Kimbrough Had Natal Party Last Wednesday

William Herschel Kimbrough, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Kimbrough, and mascot of the Senior boys' basketball team, was given a birthday party by his mother at her home at the teacherage Wednesday afternoon, January 5. Due to the fact that William Herschel is only one year old January 5 was his first birthday party. Those attending were Royce and Ivena Harber, Gerald Ray Myers, and Roby Lee Walling, accompanied by their mothers.

The children were entertained with various games until time for the refreshments to be served.

William Herschel made a great attempt to blow out the one candle on his cake, but he did not have any success.

Refreshments of cake and ice cream cones were served to those present.

Just before the group separated to go home, Mrs. Kimbrough took pictures of them.

JUNIOR REPORT!

It is hard for some of the Juniors to decide whether they are just dumb or whether Mr. Kimbrough is just good to them. (He let them read their History lesson the other day before they began the discussion.) However, they do not think that they are the only ones that have been napping on the job. Just ask some of the Seniors about some of their civics grades.

The Junior class is very glad to have their old classmate, Ralph McBeth back in school with them again. Ralph has been a student in the Weinert school since 1936, but he moved back to Sunset this year to be with the "Old Bunch" again.

Traphene Wren and Winters Groves are back in school with us after an extended visit to South Texas where Traphene visited her relatives during the Christmas holidays.

KEEPING TAB ON The Eagles

By BUDDY BUMPAS

SUNSET CAGERS VICTORIOUS IN KNOX CITY TOURNAMENT

The Eagles have had the fighting spirit for the last week. Their first game was with Mattson last Wednesday night. The Eagles won very easily with a score of 27 to 13. Then Thursday night they played Benjamin in the first game at the invitation tournament given at Knox City. This was another Eagle victory, and Sunset's little men, Floyd Frost and Howard Payne Shannon, showed their ability to make goals. Friday night the boys took a game from O'Brien with a score of 29 to 16. Bomarton was next to fall into the Eagles' clutches. Although the other games had begun to show their effects on the Sunset lads, they came out of the game with a twelve point lead.

The Eagles went into the finals with the Weinert Bulldogs, and they really went to town. Herbert Partridge chalked up eleven points before any of his teammates or opponents had a chance to throw one through the lace. The Eagles played a defensive game as well as an offensive one.

It was well in the second quarter before Weinert scored, and they probably wouldn't have then if Orville Strickland, one of Sunset's most valuable players, had not come out of the game with a wrenched knee. This seemed to slow up the Sunset boys.

Strickland went back into the game after the half, and with the passing and shooting combination of Couch, Partridge, and Strickland, the Sunset boys made the Weinert lads look sick. Partridge scored more points than the opponents made. Stogner and Shannon, Sunset guards, did a swell job of guarding and they made a good many points. The game ended with scores of 40 to 22.

Coach Kimbrough and his Eagles want to thank Knox City for their swell hospitality and sportsmanship.

GIRL'S BASKETBALL

The Sunset girls let another week pass with two defeats in basketball. Tuesday night, January 4, the girls went to Mattson. The teams were evenly matched and both teams were working hard. No one could tell who would win until after the final whistle blew. The Sunset girls led with a margin of one point until the last three minutes of the game when Mattson made a field goal. This gave them a one point lead, and the game ended with the score

Sophomore Jingles!

The Sophs have been told that they are the "rowdiest" class in high school. We don't know whether they are or not, but the teachers said we were; so we must be. (We all remember that what the teacher says is always correct.)

We don't think that this is a very "swell" compliment, so we are going to try to be "better children." (I hope.)

We also hope that we can have a Valentine Party. We may be getting ahead of time; but they say, "The sooner the better."

YEAST BREAD CAN BE PREPARED AND SERVED IN HOUR AND HALF

Contrary to the traditional belief that hours must be spent in preparing hot rolls, the Home Economics girls at Sunset School prepared and served hot rolls in one hour and thirty minutes.

Following a demonstration given by their instructor Miss Spraggins, they undertook the attempt to make the rolls in the designated time. They began at 10:30 and at 12 o'clock the rolls were ready to serve.

Every attempt at the project was successful. Each girl judged her rolls and all of them compared favorably with the characteristics of a student product.

eight and seven in Mattson's favor. The Sunset girls are going to try to show Mattson how they can play ball on their home court Wednesday night, January 12, when Mattson is due to play at Sunset.

Friday night, January 7, the O'Brien girls paid the Sunset Eagles a visit, and they left in high spirits, as the game ended with the scores of 27 to 17 in O'Brien's favor. O'Brien made the first goal, and remained in the lead through the entire game. The Sunset girls began working hard during the last quarter, and they got within three points of the O'Brien team. O'Brien started some of their fast playing and soon gained the lead again. The Sunset girls play O'Brien Tuesday night, January 10. Come on, girls, show the Sunset fans what you really can do!!

New Use For Raw Cotton Will Aid Export Markets

Demand for raw cotton in the final analysis, results from the facts that it can be made into commodities which satisfy wants, and that the products made from cotton are cheaper than satisfactory substitutes made from other materials, it was declared by Dr. A. B. Cox, director of the Bureau of Business Research of the University of Texas and internationally known cotton economist.

"This suggests that the huge demand for cotton has been built on its desirable qualities as a raw material for manufacture, and because of its cheapness," Dr. Cox said.

"Raw cotton itself is used for manufacture and for nothing else. Almost 100 per cent of the raw cotton must be spun into yarn before it is usable and a very large per cent of the yarn must be woven into cloth. Since this is the case it is a universal custom to measure the demand for cotton by the volume of cotton spinning mill consumption. All spinning mills do not use the same amount of cotton per spindle, as that is determined largely by the fineness of yarn made and the hours per day the mill is operated. In the main, however, the locations of the cotton spinning spindles of the world locate the world's demand for raw cotton.

Demand in foreign markets for United States cotton fell tremendously during the depression and as yet is showing no signs of recovery. Average exports of cotton from the United States during the five years ending August 1, 1928, were 8,514,000 bales, compared to an average of 5,404,000 bales during the last three years. Where has this loss in foreign demand occurred? During the five years ending August 1, 1929, Europe took an average of 6,858,000 bales of United States cotton; Asia, 1,330,000 bales, and all other countries 326,000. During the three years ending August 1, 1937, Europe took an average of 3,512,000 bales of United States cotton; Asia, 1,571,000, and all other countries, 321,000 bales.

OUR SPECIAL SANTA CLAUS

We got a special Santa Claus down here.

He doesn't laugh at our old shack And the clothes we have to wear. And though we live across the tracks He doesn't seem to care.

Mother says the real old Saint Forgets such kids as us. But we ain't got no complaint— He can forget us if he must.

For every Christmas, right on the day, Our Santa comes in his car And brings us clothes and things we need— He likes us just as we are.

And then he laughs with tears in his eyes, And gets in his car in front of our shack, And we wave good-bye to him, And he waves back.

He lives on the hill above the town And he is so good and kind. I don't care if the real Santa Claus isn't around— We've got one just as fine. —Dalton Linder, Corsicana

Paralysis Victim Now Active Sports Enthusiast, Thanks Citizens of Texas

That medical science and surgical skill can almost always win in battling the crippling after effects of infantile paralysis is evidenced by the case of Doris Harrell, Denton college girl, who is one of the leaders in the campaign to make the President's Birthday celebrations successful throughout Texas on January 29.

Ten years ago Doris Harrell, age 7, was strapped to a board and lying on a cot at the Texas Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children in Dallas. She was regarded as a hopeless case with the entire right side of her body from shoulder to toes paralyzed. In the epidemic of 1927-28 her sister died as the result of the dread disease and she was left with her limbs tortured and twisted as one of the victims of this mysterious scourge.

Money raised in Texas to combat infantile paralysis ten years ago was used to her benefit. The most modern discoveries in medicine and the best surgical skill available were at her service. It took long weary years to win the fight but Doris Harrell has finally won it.

She is now 17 years old and is considered one of the prettiest and most vivacious of the freshman class at the Texas College for Women at Denton. She plays tennis, is a good rifle shot, rides horseback, draws a good bow in archery contests, and plays the piano with merit. She is now one of the popular girls in her class and memories of the suffering she has undergone and the dreary months in a hospital bed are quickly fading into the background.

Miss Harrell came to Dallas from Denton last week to buy the first ticket to the President's Birthday Celebration from Vice Chairman George Waverly Briggs.

"I want the people of Texas to know that I and thousands of other girls and boys of the State who have been saved from misery and deformity by the organizations fighting infantile paralysis, am grateful," Miss Harrell told Mr. Briggs. "If it had not been for organized work against poliomyelitis my case and thousands of similar cases would have been hopeless."

NEWS FROM WEINERT

Weinert P.T.A. Broadcasts

Thursday January 13 approximately twenty-five members of the Weinert school and P.T.A. took one of the six buses with Mr. Aubrey Swales at the wheel and journeyed to Wichita Falls where they broadcasted a very unusual program on KGKO of songs and skits which was sponsored by Mrs. Perry Mason of the public speech department and Mrs. Carl Palmer of the primary department with Mrs. James F. Cadenhead accompanying for the choral club. The word picture which Mrs. T. L. Hawkins, president of the Weinert P.T.A., and announcer for the program gave a very good word picture of the school buildings and grounds. The public speech class and choral club represented the high school and the first, second, third and fourth grades represented the grades. And last but not least was the two numbers sang by Philip Cadenhead, youngest son of Dr. and Mrs. James Frank Cadenhead who sings and plays cowboy songs, and is known as the "Singing Cowboy" and his friends are justly proud of his accomplishments.

Mrs. Johnson who had charge of the P.T.A. broadcasting at KGKO Wichita Falls, expressed her appreciation of the originality of the program as it was the first of its kind to be given and was something new and unusual. The efficient and genial bus driver, Aubrey Swales, was complimented for making the trip pleasant and in such good time, arriving thirty minutes before time for the broadcast.

Those making the trip were: Mesdames Perry Mason, Carl Palmer, J. F. Cadenhead, T. L. Hawkins, and Mr. LeRoy Leflar, Alpha Mary Monke, Earnestine Howard, Anna Belle Hawes, Doris Tolliver, Margaret Tolliver, Helen Thomas, Mattie Louise Chatwell, Johanna Goody and Aetha Liles, Miss Alice Palmer, Philip Cadenhead, Josie Mae Brown, Bethelaine Raines, Billie Joe Cooley, Keith Wren, Russell West, Durwood Forehand, Roderick Duff, Gene Howard, Otis Hawkins, Gale Howard, and perhaps others whose names we failed to get.

FUTILITY

Yesterday—
Your arms were around me,
I was sheltered from the winds by your love.
Beauty in every flower—music in the falling of every autumn leaf.

Today—
You are gone from me.
The cold wind of dreary autumn tears at my heart
As petals drop wearily from drooping stems.
In my ears the chill blasts that wait the dirge of my Tomorrow.

Miriam G. Beard, Dallas

DROSS

I pity the aged, fumbling after
The fat purple grapes of laughter.
With half blind eyes, they grope and find
Naught but a rotten lemon rind.

Natalie Boulton, Jacksonville, Texas

ATTITUDES

Young, joyous,
Full of life and hope—
Yesterday.
Yesterday.

Old, content,
Living in memory—
Tomorrow.

But stay!
I must be on my way—
'Tis yet today.

—Margery Lang, Laredo, Texas

I SHALL RETURN

I shall come back to you some day
And lie beside you in the ground;
Be covered with the same cool clay
And find the peace that you have found.

No matter where I go I shall return,
Though near or far—this is my request:
When here is finished my sojourn
My dust with dust of you to ever rest.

—Maude E. Cole, Abilene, Texas

SUNSET

The golden sun has gone,
But her rays linger still,
Gold, blue, purple and crimson,
They kiss the farthest hill.

Slowly now they fade
Into a purple light,
The hour of misty memories
That comes before deep night.

—Mrs. Jess A. Bata, Bristow, Ok.

Cast for Senior Play Entitled "The Haunted Castle" Has Been Selected

Cast Begins Rehearsals First of This Week

The cast for the Senior Play, "The Haunted Castle," was selected after holding tryouts before Christmas.

Tommy Barksdale, the hero from America is portrayed by Thomas Rigby.

Johnny Nolan, Tommy's best friend, also from America, will be played by Johnny Phillips. Aunt Martha, Tommy's old-maid aunt who enjoys her health will be played by Genevieve Smith.

The Duchess of Saxonburg, a stern lady of thirty-five, completely void of any sense of humor, will be played by Geneva Smith.

Patricia, the heroine of the play, and also the princess will be played by Mary Moore.

Eloisa, Patricia's servant, and a champion giggle-box, will be played by LaVerne Eiland.

The Baron, the princess's father, will be played by Burl Meers.

Miss Lake, an American newspaper woman, inquisitive, thorough and polite, will be played by Margaret Tiner.

Malissa, a servant in the Haunted Castle, will be played by Edith Henslee.

A peasant, Johnny's slave, will be played by . . .

The guard, a native of Saxonburg, will be portrayed by Joe Isbell.

The Earl of Saxonburg assumes the character of the villain and will be played by Joe Albertson.

Watch next week's Tom-Tom for more about the "play of the year."

NO EXAMS—SO, TEACHER LIKED BY THE JUNIORS

We are all studying diligently for our mid-term exams, but we are very thankful that after this week we need not worry for eighteen more weeks, and the majority of us will not hurt ourselves. The Juniors certainly do wish that all of our instructors were like Miss Dorsey. If some of our readers are wondering, it is very simple—she doesn't give exams!! We are glad to have Maxine Eiland back with us after several days of illness.

The Junior girls who take third year home making have decided they like the job of rearing children. A nursery school was held at the cottage Monday, and we had nearly as much fun as the children while observing them and their habits.

We all enjoyed the Sing-song last Wednesday and hope to have a similar occurrence soon.

Haughty Seniors Report Bright Side of School

Has anyone beside the Seniors ever heard of Chaucer? We can tell you all about him and any of his companions. For the past week we have been studying the beginning of English Literature in the world. This has all taken place in the English IV class. We have also had the pleasure of writing a "detailed summary" (as Miss Couch so lovingly puts it) of each chapter as we read it. Of course, we don't mind a little matter like a ten page English theme every other day. Oh, no!

The 10-24 Club held its regular meeting at the home of its president, Ann Atkinson, this past week. It was a candy supper, except we also made pop-corn balls, or rather we tried to. All of the members except two were present including the sponsors. The next meeting will be a waffle supper.

I think we should declare this an unofficial Senior Week. First, we had the honor, or was it?, of having our picture made Tuesday at the school building. Then, after exams Friday afternoon, we are going to have a picnic. Nobody knows where, but those are the plans now.

Play practice is another one of those things as far as the Seniors are concerned. It was a lot of fun, especially when Thomas tore his pants, and Miss Couch played ghost during Ghost's absence.

Friday morning in Civics II class, Mary Moore and Thomas Rigby will debate against LaVerne Eiland and Dewey Laney on the Unicameral System of Legislation, question, "Should Texas Adopt the or Keep the Bicameral System?" We hope the debate will not end with the usual hair-pulling contest that results when these four argue on a question. Dr. Bass will also be present to offer his criticisms.

The VALTER VINGHELL COLUMN

By . . . ?

The lightning bug is a wondrous beast. But he hasn't any mind; He travels through the universe With his headlight on behind.

The class was studying magnetism. "Mann," asked Miss Darnell, how many natural magnets are there?"

"Two," was the surprised answer. "Blondes and brunettes."

J.B.: "What part of speech is woman?"

Winston: "Woman isn't any part of speech, my son, she's all of it."

Mr. Hardegree: (to pupil a half hour late) "You should have been here at nine o'clock."

Geneva: "Why, what happened?"

Graduation exercises will be held this week end for Rupert and Donald Keith. There will be many weeping students to bid them goodbye. They have been with us so long, they're now a part of the fixtures.

Johnny, you had better slow down! We think you're swell, but don't disappoint us!

Why does Mary keep stringing Jo-Jo and Ted along? The Gold-Digger!

Jean and Winston are acting very unusual lately. Jean, why not make a change in your life and try not to be so possessive?

Orville, better watch out—those bones can't always bring you luck. You should have been there when the Seniors had their pictures made. The photographer said, when Mr. Hardegree stepped into the picture, "That's okay, I have a good camera."

Have you seen the new fixture in Thomas' get-up? His long-strayed Senior ring.

Rupert, on second thought, there will be a group of senior girls that will be glad when you are gone—at least they will have a place to put their coats.

Soph Home Ec Girls Selected A New Project

The Home Economics II classes have spent several enjoyable periods during the past week. Selection of kitchen equipment was studied, and plans of our own kitchen were drawn. The best type of material for the equipment was chosen and the best finish for the interior. During the next week we intend to draw the floor plan of our ideal kitchen. The front and side views of our ideal home will be drawn later.

The members of the English II classes are looking forward to the study of business letters. During the next few days the content and form of the letter will be written. Maybe we shall be expert stenographers someday, who knows?

Freshman Report Class Activities

Most of us have been dreading the mid-term exams which come this week. Some of us would make far better grades if we did not have to worry with these exams. Mr. Hardegree has already made out our exam schedule.

We have been in a hurry to finish our dresses in Home Economics. They were due Thursday, but it seems rather doubtful as to whether we had them finished or not.

Mr. Hardegree taught our math classes while Dr. Bass was away on business in Austin. We all agree that he is an expert teacher.

We are pleased to have a new freshman, Bobbie Reese, to enter our class. He hails from the "dear oldtown" of Knox City. We are sure he will be a star pupil and help make our class a success.

Northwest Texas Farmers Filled Over 1,300 Trench Silos During Past Year

Home Ec Club In Study Child Care

Little boys and girls showed off their curls Monday morning. The third year Home Economics girls are studying child care. Therefore, a few children were invited to be our guests; while with the help of our instructor, Mrs. Dillon, we exhibited some of the rules on child training.

In one corner of the Cottage a toy shop was constructed. Games were played and stories told. The smaller children seemed to tell more interesting stories than we girls were able to imagine.

A delicious lunch was served, and the children indulged in eating their vitamins in the good old fashioned way.

lege, and Texas' No. 1 trench silo disciple, says about the trenches that farmers and ranchmen of that section are filling.

A good grain sorghum crop in the Panhandle and South Plains is resulting in a big increase not only in the total number of trench silos there, but in the tonnage stored. "The number of trench silos in Dallam county has increased from 13 in 1936 to 30 this year, but the total amount of feed put down as silage has more than tripled," County Agent Frank M. Stubbs, Jr., recently reported to Eudaly.

Evidence of the increasing popularity of trench silos can be seen in many instances. In Dallam county, Cecil C. Jones, farmer-stockman of Textline, put down a 200 ton trench silo in 1933 the first in the county. Jones this year has 2,200 tons of silage. R. C. Johnson of Dalhart, is filling six trenches, each of approximately 500 ton capacity.

"The 65 counties in Northwest Texas last year filled 1,360 trench silos," Eudaly recently said. "The district agents who serve this area estimate that the 1937 total will be between 3,000 and 3,500."

County agricultural agent J. T. Stovall has reported 129 trench silos in Castro county, of which 80 were dug in 1937. The silos have an average capacity of 100 tons.

A total of 32 trench silos, with an average capacity of 185 tons, have been filled in Stonewall county as of November 1, according to I. L. Sturdivant, county agricultural agent.

"The cost of digging and filling these trenches is very small as compared to the cost of building upright or pit silos," Eudaly has commented. "When I conducted a demonstration on the Joe Englebrecht place in Sherman county in October, Mr. Englebrecht told me that the cost of digging his 80 ton trench silo was only $7.85."

"Feed stored in a trench silo cannot be damaged by wind, rain, fire, insects, or rodents," Eudaly pointed out in the course of a meeting last October on the D. U. Hardin farm in the Gem community of Hemphill county. He brought out the fact that feed from one acre, when fed as silage, usually equalled that from two acres, fed as bundles. "The feed in this 400 ton trench will be as good 10 years from now as it is today," he explained.

The farmers with a few animals finds the trench silo as practical as does the ranchman with hundreds of cattle, according to Eudaly, who pointed to the success of a one ton trench that was filled at the Plainview fair grounds last year. In Gaines county 50 farmers recently attended a demonstration at Seminole, staged by the county agricultural agent, at which a two ton trench was filled. This will be opened next year during the county fair, Eudaly said.

TEACH SCIENCE FOR TINY TOTS

DENTON, Texas.—"Number, please," request the youthful telephone operators at the switchboard built by members of the third grade in the Demonstration School at the North Texas State Teachers College at Denton. The board, shown above, really doesn't work, but it has taught the children the secrets of a telephone exchange.

Texas 39th State In Proportion Of Industry Workers

Dallas, (Special)—Texas, the nation's fifth ranking state in population, ranks only 39th in percentage of workers gainfully employed in manufacturing and mechanical industries, and, although it is the leading state in value of mineral production, is only 15th in ration of persons engaged in mineral production industries.

These are two of the more significant items illustrating Texas "occupational characteristics" compared in a recent Dun and Bradstreet survey of "resources and development of the 48 states," says a report of the All-South Development Council. While the survey deals primarily with debt-paying abilities of the states, the analysis of economic characteristics directly affecting these abilities naturally reveals comparisons useful in charting industrial expansion possibilities, the report pointed out.

Instead of identifying the various states economically by their totals of production in the three principal production divisions—agriculture, minerals, and manufacturing—the survey identifies them by the proportions of working population engaged in each. This method minimizes much of the dominance which Texas, by virtue of its great size, has seemed to have in various agricultural tables. It is outranked by 13 other states in percentage of population engaged in agriculture.

In a tabulated analysis of proportionate "gainful employment" for all the states and the country as a whole, Texas' percentage of workers in manufacturing, 15.6, shows a much greater deficiency from the U.S. norm of 29.3, than in any other division.

Among the 38 states ahead of Texas in the manufacturing and mechanical industries table are: Louisiana, whose progress in the last year has drawn nationwide editorial comment on the effectiveness of its "welcome to industries" program with 18 per cent; California, which is nearly Texas' size and has impressive agricultural and mining production, yet has 24.7 per cent engaged in manufacturing; and Alabama, not generally regarded as a manufacturing state, 18.1 per cent. Rhode Island, the smallest state, is far in the lead with 55.1 per cent.

The Texas percentage of 2.4, of persons engaged in mineral production, is exactly the same as the national percentage, although Texas, on the basis of 1935 figures topped all states, including Pennsylvania, California, West Virginia, Oklahoma, Ohio and Louisiana in mineral values with a total of $528,000,000. Oil, natural gas, sulphur and natural gasoline were the dominant Texas mineral products, none of her other mineral resources constituting appreciable employment sources despite many surveys showing their potentialities.

The survey showed Texas ranking seventh in farm cash income behind California, Illinois, Ohio, New York, Wisconsin, and Indiana and gave an interesting breakdown of the state's relative sources of farm revenue. It showed that gauges, barometers, and weather maps. Other doors of science are being swung wide by members of five other grades in the Demonstration School, where youngsters are among the first to benefit by the new state course of study for science in the elementary grades. The Demonstration School is one of several laboratory schools over the state selected by the State Department of Education to carry out the curriculum experiment.

cotton, as would be expected, accounted for 51.7 per cent; cattle, 11.2 per cent; milk, 4.5; poultry and eggs, 3.8; and sheep and wool, regarded as major Texas products, only 3.7 per cent. The preponderance of cotton, and the relatively minor part of milk, in the Texas farm income picture, are significant when it is noted that, nationally, milk accounts for 17.9 per cent of total farm income compared to only 11.9 for cotton. Cattle was second nationally, at 12.5 per cent. Except for the "shortage" in manufacturing, the Texas figures in the comprehensive table showing percentage of gainfully employed workers on all classes of employment compare favorably with the United States average. They are shown as follows: Agriculture, Texas 38.1, U.S. 21.5; mineral production, Texas, 2.4, U.S. 2.4; manufacturing and mechanical industries, Texas 15.6, U.S. 29.3; transportation, Texas 8.7, U.S. 9.1; trade, Texas 13.9, U.S. 15.4; professional and public service, Texas 8, U.S. 9.2; domestic, Texas 10.2, U.S. 9.9.

No Circulars For Great Merchant

From the "Coming West," December 13, 1900

John Wanamaker, the great Philadelphia merchant, and considered an authority on such a great success as an advertiser, is quoted as saying:

"I never in my life used such a thing as a poster, or a dodger, or a handbill. My plan for 15 years has been to buy so much space in a newspaper and fill it with what I wanted. I would not give an advertisement in a newspaper of 400 for 5,000 dodgers or posters. If I wanted to sell cheap jewelry or run a lottery scheme I might use posters, but I would not insult a decent, reading public with handbills.

"The class of people who read such things are poor material to look for support in mercantile affairs. I deal directly with the publisher. I say to him: 'How long will you let me run a column of matter through your paper for $100 or $500,' as the case may be. I let him do the figuring, and if I think he is not trying to make more than his share I give him the cov.

"I lay aside the profits on a particular line of goods for advertising purposes. The first year I laid aside and spent $40,000. I have done better this year, and shall increase the sum as profits warrant it. I owe my success to the newspapers, and to them I shall give freely a certain profit of my yearly business."—Exchange.

The Ludlow Resolution By the time you read this you will know the outcome of the Ludlow Resolution and whether the question of whether or not the respective states will have submitted to them for a vote of the people the question: "Shall the United States Declare War on...?" Should another war occur with some foreign foe the question this resolution raises is: Should the United States become involved in such a foreign war without determining the view of the people on this important question?

William Jennings Bryan, while the World War was still a national tragedy wrote: "If there is any merit at all in the doctrine that governments must derive their just powers from the consent of the governed, surely the governed ought to have the right to decide for themselves, by popular vote, a question as important as going to war. No other subject comes so near to the people.

"It has long been the custom to submit constitutional amendments to a popular vote, and in cities bond issues and grants of franchises are submitted to popular vote. If the people have the right to be heard on such questions, how much greater is their right to be heard on questions that involve their lives and the exciting of the taxing power as it is employed in time of war.

"A referendum on war would give greater assurance of peace than any other provision that could be made."

The Ludlow Joint Resolution reads as follows:

"Proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the United States to provide for a referendum on war.

"Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled (two-thirds of each House concurring therein), That the following article is proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the United States, which shall be valid to all intents and purposes as a part of the Constitution when ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the several States.

"Section 1. Except in the event of an invasion of the United States or its territorial possessions and attack upon its citizens residing therein, the authority of Congress to declare war shall not become effective until confirmed by a majority of all votes cast thereon in a Nation-wide referendum. Congress, when it deems a national crisis to exist, may by concurrent resolution refer the question of war or peace to the citizens of the States, the question to be voted on being, Shall the United States declare war on...? Congress may otherwise by law provide for the enforcement of this section."

Please drop a post card in the mail today giving me your views on this important question.

The President's Speech Speaking to the Joint Session of Congress, the Members of the Cabinet and high dignitaries of the United States, the President delivered one of the most courageous and important speeches ever delivered by a present President to the Congress. The speech was translated into seven different foreign languages and broadcast throughout the world. The message fully covered the many perplexing questions now pending before the Government.

On Foreign Affairs the President in part said:

"In spite of the determination of this Nation for peace, it has become clear that acts and policies of nations in other parts of the world have far-reaching effects not only upon their immediate neighbors but also upon us."

On Agriculture and Industry the President remarked:

"Our national life rests on two nearly equal producing forces—agriculture and industry—each employing nearly one-third of our citizens. The other third transports and distributes the products of the first two or performs special services for the whole."

"I gladly note that measures which seek to initiate a government program for a balanced agriculture are now in conference between the two Houses of the Congress. In their final consideration I hope for a sound, consistent measure which will keep the cost of its administration within the figure of current Government expenditures in aid of agriculture. The farmers of this Nation know that a balanced output can be put into effect without excessive cost and with the cooperation of the great majority of them."

"To raise the purchasing power of the farmers is, however, not enough. It will not stay raised if we do not also raise the purchasing power of that third of the Nation which receives its income from industrial employment."

On balancing the budget the President laid down these conditions:

"The first, we continue the policy of not permitting any needy American who can and is willing to work to starve because the Federal Government does not provide the work.

The second is that the Congress and the Executive join hands in eliminating or curtailing any Federal activity which can be eliminated or curtailed or even postponed

Supreme Court Principles

How does the Supreme Court work?

1—The Court confines itself to the judicial duty of deciding only upon cases brought before it. It does not originate cases, or advise the Executive or the Congress as to pending legislation or laws already passed.

2—The Court will not deal with questions purely political rather than judicial.

3—The Court, if possible, decides a case so as to save its constitutionality. Out of over 24,400 laws passed by Congress in 150 years, it has found only 76 such acts, or parts of acts, unconstitutional.

4—The Court will not review questions of legislative policy. It does not decide whether acts of Congress are wise, arbitrary or unnecessary. This is a legislative function of Congress. Similarly, as to the motives of Congress, Mr. Justice Brandeis said in a court opinion: "No principle of our constitutional law is more firmly established than that this Court may not, in passing upon the validity of a statute, inquire into the motives of Congress." The Court invalidates a law not in regard to the policy or motives of Congress, but only when it finds that Congress has exceeded the powers granted it under the Constitution.

The Supreme Court is not advisory, legislative or political. It is exclusively judicial. (Copyright 1937 by Max Berns) without harming necessary government functions or the safety of the Nation from a National point of view. The third is to raise the purchasing power of the Nation to the point that taxes on this purchasing power—or, in other words, on the Nation's income—will be sufficient to meet the necessary expenditures of the National Government."

Texas Weekly Health Letter

Austin, Texas, Dec. 12.—"Trichinosis is a disease caused by eating raw or partly cooked pork which contains the trichina worm. This disease caused several deaths and an undetermined amount of illness in Texas in 1937," states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

Definite symptoms and signs of said: "First, the total sum to be derived from the Federal Treasury must not be decreased as a result of any changes in schedule. Second, abuses by individuals or corporations designed to escape tax-paying by using various methods of doing business, corporate and otherwise-abuses which we have sought, with great success, to end—must not be restored. Third, we should rightly change certain provisions where they are proven to work definite hardships, especially on the small businessmen of the Nation. But speculative income should not be favored over earned income.

"It is human nature to argue that this or that tax is responsible for every ill. It is human nature on the part of those who pay graduated taxes to attack all taxes based on the principle of ability to pay. These are the same complainants who for a generation block the imposition of a graduated income tax. They are the same complainants who would impose the type of flat sales tax which places the burden of government more on those least able to pay and less on those most able to pay."

illness are associated with trichinosis. In the beginning there are abdominal pains, nausea, vomiting and diarrhea, lasting about a week. Migration of the embryos in the blood stream causes fever and severe muscle soreness, especially in the diaphragm and the muscles of the arms and legs. The third stage, during which cysts surround the larvae in the muscles, is the critical one. If infection is severe, there may be edema, or swelling of the eyelids and elsewhere, marked loss of weight, weakness and delirium.

The prevention of trichinosis depends primarily upon the thorough cooking of all pork. Most cases follow the indigestion of weiners, sausage or other pork products, eaten in raw or partly cooked form. The hazard of this disease is greater in connection with home butchering, unless safeguards are exercised. Rats should be exterminated because they play an important part in the spread of infection among swine. Prolonged refrigeration, as carried out under federal regulation, destroys trichina larvae. Thorough cooking and the use of meat which bears the stamp of federal inspection are safeguards against trichinosis.

Honor Roll For Rhineland High School Is Announced For The Past Six Weeks

Twenty-Four Students Placed on Roll Of School

The honor roll for the past term has been completed and contains a very high percentage of our enrollment. Over fifty per cent of the high school students made the roll the past period. The grade school also has a good record.

We wish to congratulate the following:

Room I. Alphonse Kuhler, Bertha Stengel, Angelina Decker, Teresa Birkenfeld.

Room II. Genevieve Herring, Catherine Homer, Ethel Stengel, Florine Williamson, Geneva Wilde, Rosa Lee Chandler, Bernice Decker, Rose Brown, Georgette Claus, Helen Homer, Alma Schumacher, Regina Wilde.

Room III. Theresia Andrae, Florine Decker, Albert Brown, Bernard Kuhler, Mildred Stengel, Lucille Schumacher, Bernadine Homer, Rosa Lee Andrae.

Room IV. Rayford Gene Chandler.

Senior Report!

The Senior boys are very glad that they have met the requirements in poetry. We are now preparing for mid-term examinations, as the end of the first semester is approaching.

We would like to know where the one and only Senior Girl has been keeping herself. If she is sick, we wish her a speedy recovery, and hope she will be back in school soon.

We are progressing very nicely in Civics, with Mr. Hoffman teaching us. As we progress, we have come to appreciate, among a great many other things, the statement: Education is the guardian genius of Democracy.

Junior Report!

Since the midterm exams are rapidly approaching, the Juniors are buried deeply in their book-keeping books, it seems as if they do not have time to see if it is a cloudy day or fair weather. But we will keep our heads up, even though our shoulders drag.

Once again the Juniors have been cooperating to obtain some lines of poetry. We know the poem printed below will have an affectionate touch to all of the readers.

"The Junior girls are like a lump of gold,
Hard to get and hard to hold;
But the Senior boys are like a dip of snuff.

Just one dip and that's enough."
Bertha, Lucille, Angeline, what was your reason for being so wound up Friday afternoon? You looked sort of dignified when one o'clock came.

Sophomore Report!

The Sophomores are rather quiet and busy these days. We wonder if they are thinking about mid-terms exams as everyone else is.

A certain young lady from the Sophomore class has been having a lot of fun lately. For further information see Mary.

It seems that we simply cannot resist publishing a report on three of our Sophomores. Helen, Clara and Regina have been acting rather grouchy. We have been trying to cheer them up, but it seems that our efforts are in vain.

If you knew that Bernice didn't like English, especially essays, would you be surprised?

We were very sorry, when we came to school Friday morning, to know that Miss Walsh was ill, but we were glad to know that she would be back in the afternoon.

Geneva Mills, who left us last week, came to our school Friday. Tina Belle Kashburn, who is a Leonide Massine, above, is featured in the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo, which comes to Hardin-Simmons University auditorium for one night's performance Tuesday night. The ballet topped all box office attractions last year in receipts.

Freshman Report!

Some of the pupils were affected with grief Friday morning when they came to school and heard that their teacher, Miss Walsh, wasn't feeling well and would not be at school. Some looked happy, because they thought they would get out of lessons, but Mr. Hoffman took care of that. Miss Walsh returned to school Friday afternoon.

Dorothy's pet phrase on the volleyball team is, "The ball goes unusually well this morning."

Had Been Missing Since Last December 31

Eight days of wandering, apparently a victim of amnesia, ended Saturday for Frank Welch, 36, of Abilene, who was turned over to relatives by Sheriff Carter.

A coincidence by which Carter received a letter about the missing man, coupled with the sheriff's memory for names, aided in establishing identity of the man.

Welch, formerly a filling station operator in Weinert, and highway worker in Haskell, disappeared from Abilene Dec. 31, after turning his automobile back to a finance company. His wife waiting at the home of relatives a few blocks away heard no more from him.

The wife wrote the Star-Telegram, asking that the story of his disappearance be published. The letter was turned over to the sheriff's office after the story was written.

Saturday afternoon Welch walked into the sheriff's office, still suffering from "dizzy spells" and unable to tell where he had been. He told Carter he came to himself near Arlington.

The man complained of having had a bad headache. He had no identification papers on him, but said his home was in Abilene. Carter recalled the letter and asked if the stranger's name was Welch.

Under questioning, the man said the last thing he remembered was signing papers for the automobile. He went to sleep while the sheriff was telephoning to a brother, L. W. Welch of Abilene.

The brother drove to Fort Worth and got him.

Meeting Place—Legion Hut

Monday night 23 Boys Scouts and their assistant Scout Master met in the Legion Hall. They were honored by two guests, Joe Bowden and Rupert Williams.

During the past week several street lights have been shot out by boys using air guns and rocks. The Scouts were asked by the West Texas Utilities Company to use their influence in stopping this destruction of property.

Several weeks ago the Scouts put on a program for the American Legion members. In return the American Legion invited the Boy Scouts to a banquet Tuesday night.

About 8:00 all lights were turned out and ghost stories were told after which meeting was adjourned until next Monday night, at 7:00 o'clock.

Those who attended were Sargent Lowe, Grady Beck, Jr., J. C. Conwell, Clifford Pippin, J. C. King, Harold Longino, Frankie Boone, Dick Harrell, Lamoine Blacklock, David Eiland, Willard Reeves, Charles Baker, Joe Dean Clough, Mac Haynes, Jimmie Lee Haney, Howard Payne Shannon, Jack Pippin, J. Postmaster Lee Haymes was a business visitor in O'Donnell, Texas last Friday and Saturday.

NEW HOMES

Based on population estimates for the next fifteen years, experts figure that about 5,000,000 new homes will have to be built in the United States to care for new families.
