

Commerce Meet
Pardue Wildcat
Hitler in Rome
Chinese in Gain
To Washington
Governor Candidate
Hilburn CC Prexy

MUNDAY—The Munday Chamber of Commerce will meet in regular session next Thursday noon, Tom Bengé, president announced this week. All members are urged to attend the meeting.

HASKELL—The J. W. McMillen No. 1 Pardue developed a small amount of water in swabbing through two-inch tubing after the hole had been cleaned, and operators were preparing to set packer and lift tubing about ten feet in the hole to determine the source. Acidization of the wildcat discovery has been postponed. Saturation was in the Adams Branch line from 2,810-47.

ROME—The eyes of world powers were focused on Rome today with an undercurrent of uneasiness noted as the two powerful Nazi leaders, Hitler and Mussolini, conferred.

Hitler was given a pompous welcome by Il Duce on the Fuehrer's arrival in Rome. Italy has been uneasy in their attitude towards Germany since Hitler's triumphant march into Austria.

SHANGHAI—Chinese authorities sent word Wednesday that the second major Japanese offensive was on the verge of collapse in Southern Shantung, "big front" of the China-Japan conflict.

The Chinese hurled back the first big drive of the Japanese, to hand the invaders their worst defeat in modern Japanese army history. China was ready to send 800,000 troops against Japanese lines.

ANSON—A motorcade of Ansonites left last week end for Washington to participate in the National Folklore Festival and make two appearances over the National Broadcasting hook-up. The Anson citizens will give demonstrations of the original Cow-boys' Christmas Ball, square, waltz, and schottische dances.

HOUSTON—Joseph King, prominent Texas business man, this week announced his candidacy for the governorship of Texas with a twelve point platform. King is a native Texan, 50 years of age, and a former railroad employee.

WICHITA FALLS—Herbert Hilburn, Plainview publisher, was named new president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce at the final business session of the annual convention held in this city.

Milcom Meek, of Abilene, was elected treasurer to succeed C. M. Francis of Stamford, and D. A. Bandeen was re-elected as secretary-manager of the organization. Abilene was unanimously chosen as host city for the 1939 convention after Sweetwater and Big Spring withdrew their bids.

THROCKMORTON—John Lee Smith, prominent Throckmorton attorney and outstanding worker in American Legion circles, will launch his campaign for Lieutenant Governor of Texas at a large political rally in his home city May 7th.

Weinert F.F.A.
Boys to Sponsor
Boxing Tourney

Amateur fight fans of Weinert and surrounding territory will have the opportunity to view a series of boxing matches to be staged in a two-days tournament in the Weinert gymnasium Friday and Saturday night, May 6 and 7th.

Weinert FFA boys are sponsoring the two-days tournament, and proceeds realized from the meet will go into the chapter treasury. Amateur boxers from surrounding towns have been invited to take part in the tournament and teams from Weinert and other towns entered will compete for a set of boxing gloves to be awarded the town winning the most fights.

Bouts are being arranged to include competition in every weight division, from junior flyweight up, sponsors announced, and several bouts between colored fighters will be presented on the two-days card.

Sebo Britton of Haskell will serve as referee for all bouts.

CORRECTION
In the story appearing in last weeks issue of The Times headed, "Coates Cafe Air Conditioned Last Week", it was stated that the West Texas Utilities Co., installed the conditioner. The statement was incorrect and should have read, Guinn Hardware installed the conditioner.

Obtains Funds For the County Schools

J. LYNDAL HUGHES

TRANSPORTATION
FUNDS OBTAINED
FOR DISTRICTS

$1218.70 Adjustment
Secured by Hughes
From Auditor

County Schools Superintendent, J. Lyndal Hughes, this week reported an adjustment of $1218.70 from the state transportation fund and an additional $327 obtained for county schools following a trip to Austin last week.

The above amount rendered for adjustment to county schools was made to comply with original application made at the end of the first five months of school.

County superintendents of schools will appear in the state auditor's office in Austin to file claims for their amounts and secure adjustments for any discrepancy in the payment of the original fund as set out by the first application.

Every district in the county will receive the benefit of the increased aid, Hughes said.

Pioneer Weinert
Woman Died From Cancer Thursday

Mrs. Martha Marr, 61-year-old Weinert pioneer resident, succumbed to cancer ravages last Thursday night at 8:30 at the home of her son-in-law, Preston Weinert, with whom she had made her home in recent years.

Actual death was attributed to hemorrhage, attending physicians reported. Burial was made in the Weinert cemetery following funeral rites conducted from the First Methodist church of Weinert with Rev. Vernon Henderson delivering the funeral oration. Holden's of Haskell was in charge of the arrangements.

She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Preston Weinert, and three grandchildren. She had resided at Weinert for the past 18 years.

Mrs. D. C. Eiland is in DeQueen, Ark., at the bedside of her grandmother who is seriously ill. Mrs. Eiland left from San Angelo, Texas, last Monday morning where she was visiting her mother, Mrs. J. A. Wood. Mr. and Mrs. Wood also made the trip to DeQueen.

FAYE MARIE PARTRIDGE IS ANNOUNCED AS

Sunset Valedictorian

In a recent averaging of the grades for the past four years, Superintendent T. W. Harber of Sunset announced the honor students of the graduating class of Sunset High School of 1938. Faye Marie Partridge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Partridge, was named as valedictorian with an average of 88.87 for the past four years.

Foyd Frost was named as salutatorian with an average of 85.76 and Frances Gray ran a close third with an average of 85.57.

An election was held among the seniors recently and several students were elected to fill various positions in the class. They were elected as follows:

ONE-VARIETY CROP MEET SATURDAY
Child Health Clinic is Success

85 PER CENT OF
STUDENT BODY
IS VACCINATED

Tuberculin Test is Also Given Student Body

The free child health clinic sponsored by the Munday Parent-Teachers association assisted by the Munday Lions Club in cooperation with Doctors D. C. Eiland and R. L. Newsom, was declared the most successful ever attempted in this city. L. M. Palmer, grade school principal stated this week.

Response of the students and their parents was so great that 85 per cent of the students were either inoculated or declared immune from diphtheria and smallpox. Twelve per cent promised to have needed vaccinations this summer while about 3 per cent failed to take advantage of the free clinic.

The two physicians with two registered nurses from the Knox county hospital assisting, gave students the tuberculin test and the Schick test for determining immunity against diphtheria and last Friday gave students that inoculations the preventative injections. Another check up on the results of the clinic will be held the last week of school, Palmer announced.

A majority of the students that were given vaccine for diphtheria prevention will need another injection of the vaccine, and it will also be given the last week of school.

The clinic was declared by the two local physicians to be an advantageous factor in keeping future health conditions of children far above the average for other communities. There is some talk of putting into effect next year a compulsory vaccination program, to prevent possible epidemics which would practically eradicate diphtheria and smallpox in this community since such a large majority of the student body is now immune.

Mrs. P. V. Williams, president of the P.T.A., and the Munday Lions Club along with school officials, have expressed gratitude to Doctors Eiland and Newsom, local druggist who assisted. Dr. Joe Davis, local health officer who secured free vaccines and the county hospital for offering services of the nurses.

FINAL SIGNUP
DATE FOR '38
SET ON MAY 15

Work Sheets Will Not Be Acceptable Later

May 15 has been set as the final date for accepting farm work sheets and application for range inspection under the 1938 AAA program, according to Geo. Slaughter, Wharton, chairman of the Texas Agricultural Conservation Committee.

The work sheets constitute a record of various acreages on farms while the range applications are requests for inspection. These two forms are the first steps farmers take if they want to take part in the Agricultural Conservation Program, and farms and ranches will not be eligible to enter the program unless these forms are filled out, signed, and tendered to the offices of county agricultural agents or to committeemen prior to the final signup date, Slaughter said.

May 15 was selected by the state committee in a recent session at Texas A. & M. College and the date has been approved by I. W. Duggan, director of the Southern Region of AAA.

Slaughter emphasized that a farm covered by a work sheet in 1937 or since did not need a new work sheet unless the ownership had been changed or the farm divided. Ranches which will be entered in the 1938 range conservation program must be covered by a 1938 application regardless of the 1937 status.

Two Births Recorded
Two birth announcements were made from the office of Dr. R. L. Newsom this week. Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Pippin of this city became the parents of a daughter, born Friday, April 29 at the Knox county hospital, and Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Decker, who reside four miles north of Munday are the parents of a daughter born April 25 at their home.

WHEAT ACREAGE
ALLOTMENT SET
FOR '38 PAYMENT

Kansas Has Largest Allotment For This Year

The Texas 1938 Wheat acreage allotment of 4,146,240 acres, recently announced, will determine the amount of the wheat part of the AAA payments which Texas farmers can earn in the 1938 program, according to Geo. Slaughter, chairman of the state Agricultural Conservation Committee.

The amount of the wheat part of the payment will depend on the yield per acre, as each farmer's wheat payments will be computed on the basis of 12 cents per bushel on the normal yield of his acreage allotment. The remainder of each farmer's payment will depend upon his general soil-depleting acreage allotments, and on any other special allotments made for his farm.

The wheat acreage allotments are not intended to affect wheat plantings for this year's crop because winter wheat had already been seeded when the new farm act was passed. Seedlings of wheat and other soil-depleting crops, however, need to be held within total acreage allotments of an individual farm in order to qualify the farm for full 1938 payments.

Wheat acreage allotments ranging from 84 acres for Mississippi and 118 for Vermont to 12,519,879 for Kansas were announced for 42 states. North Dakota with 9,413,355 acres received the second largest allotment, while Oklahoma, in third place with 4,291,784 was given a slightly larger allotment than Texas. Other states which received allotments in excess of 3 million acres were Montana, Nebraska and South Dakota.

Sams Announces
For Attorney of Knox This Week

The Munday Times is authorized to announce Herbert Sams as candidate for County Attorney of Knox County, subject to the action of the democratic primary.

Herbert is a member of one of the old pioneer families of Knox County, that have done a great deal in the advancement and the settlement of Knox County. After attending the Benjamin High School he then attended Wentworth Military Academy, Lexington, Missouri, and later returned to Texas and attended one of our Church Universities.

He returned to Knox County and was engaged as a court reporter in the District Court for approximately ten years, during his work as a court reporter he had opportunity to take down all of the proceedings of the trials in the District Court and was associated with many of the most prominent lawyers in Texas and while doing this made up his mind that he would make a lawyer so put in his spare time reading law and was admitted to practice in the Inferior and Supreme Court of Texas some four years ago. His services as court reporter gave him much profitable knowledge as to court procedure and the first of this year he resigned his position as court reporter and came back to Knox County to engage in the practice of law and associated himself with Judge James A. Stephens since which he has tried several cases unassisted and has assisted in trying many important cases and if elected County Attorney he promises the citizens that he will conduct the office in a fair and impartial manner and enforce all of the laws to the best of his ability and will appreciate the support of the voters of Knox County and the consideration of his qualifications for the office.

He will undertake to see every voter in the County before the election. He has never offered or been elected to any office before this time.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Rector and son Millard, returned Tuesday to their home in Sudan, Texas, after a visit in this city in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Rector.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Goode and Miss LaVerne Eiland were in Wichita Falls Wednesday afternoon on business.

W. W. Rice county agent, was in the city attending to business last Saturday afternoon.

McDonald Announced
For Re-Election

State Land Commissioner Wm. H. (Bill) McDonald, of Eastland county, formally launched his campaign for re-election to a second term today. He pointed out in his record, that he collected about $10,000,000 his first year in office, or about 50 per cent more than any other one year in history of the office.

BANNER ICE IS NOW OPERATING
HAMMETT STATES

First Ice Is Pulled
From the Tanks
Monday

The Banner Ice Company's new improved plant in this city has started operation and the first ice pulled from the freezing tanks Monday night.

The property was operated last year under the name of Roberts Ice Company and was under receivership. The newly constructed large meat packing vault is nearing completion with only meat bins needed to start operation, and George Hammett, manager stated that he believed it would be ready for meat storage within two weeks.

The ice cream hardening vault will not be put in use until the meat storage vault is completed.

The firm is now employing eight men at the plant here and six others are operating ice routes out of the city, Goree, Weinert and Bomarton.

You are referred to their advertisement appearing in this week's Times.

Matinee Show at
Roxy as Courtesy
Of Phelps Ice Co.

Phelps Ice Company, local distributor for the Coolerator refrigerators, announced this week that they have arranged for the showing of a dramatic motion picture, "Husbands are Good For Something" at the Roxy theater Wednesday afternoon, May 11, beginning at 2:30 o'clock.

No charge will be made for admission, according to Ike Huskinson, local manager. Persons desiring to see the show may do so by merely securing tickets free of charge by telephoning the company office.

The film attraction, produced in Hollywood at a cost of $40,000 is a 4-reel feature motion picture appealing particularly to women. It has a dramatic and entertaining plot, interesting throughout the four reels. Interwoven are valuable suggestions on cooking and homemaking.

In addition to the motion picture, other entertaining and worthwhile features will be provided for all women who attend, Huskinson stated.

Ice House Built
The company has just completed construction of an ice house and dock on main street, first door west of the Reeves-Burton Motor Co., and is now open for business.

Huskinson announced that city delivery will be made daily and special orders will be filled promptly.

W. W. Rice county agent, was in the city attending to business last Saturday afternoon.

FARMERS WILL MEET SATURDAY
IN UNION HALL

Union Gin Wants A Guarantee Of 3000 Acres

ACALA VARIETY
WILL BE USED

Seed Available at The Cottonoil Mill
Here

Possibility of starting a one-variety crop plan for the farmers of Munday will headline business at the regular meeting of the Munday Farmers Union Saturday afternoon in the Union Hall at 2:30.

Emmett Partridge, manager of the three Farmers Union Gins in this city, stated in calling attention to farmers of the one-variety meeting, that if members of the organization will guarantee as much as 3,000 acres of land planted to California Acala cottonseed that one of the Union gins will be used exclusively for the one-variety planters.

A large number of local farmers now have Acala seed, a great deal of which was planted last year, and some have purchased the seed this year.

Seed at Oil Mill
The Munday Cottonoil company has a supply of the Acala-seed at their oil mill here, Tom Bengé stated, and they are selling at $1.15 per bushel, or farmers may swap 300 pounds of common seed for a sack of Acala.

Partridge believed that enough farmers would cooperate in the one-variety movement to assure it's being inaugurated.

Higher returns on the seed and more dollars per bale of lint were predicted for farms who cooperate.

P.T.A. and Lions
Club to Sponsor
Open House Here

The Munday Parent-Teachers Association and the Munday Lions Club will sponsor an open house at the elementary school auditorium Monday evening, May 16, beginning at 8:00 o'clock and conduct an "84" tournament.

Details of the tournament and program and refreshments to be served were worked out by representatives from the P.T.A. and Lee Haymes, representative of the Lions Club Wednesday afternoon.

Purpose of the open house is to raise funds for a summer recreation program which is in keeping with the main projects of the two organizations, care of underprivileged children.

A charge of 25c will be made and the public is cordially invited to attend to make both the program and the summer recreation project successful.

Duff Re-Elected
Supt. of Weinert
Schools For '39

The board of trustees of the Weinert school district in a meeting last Monday night re-elected I. J. Duff as superintendent of schools.

Other instructors elected included the entire faculty now employed with W. D. Hinson to serve again as high school principal and Earnest Ingram as elementary school principal.

The board also announced contracts with three adjoining school districts for next year. They were: Lone Star, Pleasant Valley, and Ferris Ranch. All of the schools were contracted to Weinert this year.

Supt. Duff announced that the present school term will close May 27.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Sams of Benjamin, were in the city last Sunday at which time Mr. Sams made his announcement for the office of Knox County Attorney.

Judge Dennis Ratliff of Haskell was a visitor in the city Wednesday morning.

DEATH COMES TO THE CHILD IN TEXAS

The year 1937 in Texas saw 4,000 children born dead; 8,000 children under one year of age die from diseases mainly preventable; 142 children under 14 years of age killed on our Texas highways; and 1,320 more children injured in automobile accidents. These appalling figures show the constant menace children face.

Munday Parent-Teacher Association and the Munday Lions club have greatly enhanced the future of local children with reference to health through results of the child health clinic conducted with the cooperation of Dr. D. C. Eiland and Dr. R. L. Newsum, and a staff of nurses. An estimated 95 per cent of all students were given Schick and tuberculin tests, and nearly 100 per cent of those who needed inoculation against diphtheria and smallpox were given vaccine.

Munday is fortunate in having two service organizations that make possible such outstanding work in sustaining good health among the city's children.

OUT WHERE THE WEST BEGINS

Out where the handclasp's a little stronger
Out where the smile dwells a little longer,
That's where the West begins.
Out where the sun is a little brighter,
Where the snows that fall are a trifle whiter,
Where the bonds of home are a wee bit tighter,
That's where the West begins.
Out where the skies are a trifle bluer,
Out where the friendship's a little truer,
That's where the West begins.
Out where a fresher breeze is blowing,
Where there's laughter in every streamlet flowing,
Where there's more of reaping and less of sowing,
That's where the West begins.
Out where the world is in the making
Where fewer hearts with despair are aching,
That's where the West begins;
Where there's more of singing and less of sighing,
Where there's more of giving and less of buying,
And a man makes friends without half trying,
That's where the West begins.

MR. PROUD CITIZEN SAYS . . .

When you are asked by citizens of other cities where you are visiting where you live—do you say "Between Abilene and Wichita Falls," or do you say "Munday, Texas, in the Heart of the Famous Knox Prairie."

Shallow men believe in luck, believe in circumstances. It was somebody's name, or he happened to be there at the time, or it was so then, and another day it would have been otherwise. Strong men believe in cause and effect.—Emerson.

HISTORY OF KNOX COUNTY

Taken from the files of THE MUNDAY TIMES

(Editor's Note: The following items were taken from a special edition of the Times, published in 1907, brought in by Miss Shellie Lee. The Times will appreciate any persons bringing in papers published before 1927, as that is as far back as our files go. Thanks.)

BUSINESS FIRMS OF MUNDAY IN 1907

Some of the many business firms of the city of Munday in 1907 as taken from a special edition of the Times were as follows: Ledbetter Bros., real estate; Gray & Grady, grocery; Dave Eiland's Barber Shop; Beatty Bros., harness shop; R. Dunn & Co., Orville Bullington, Atty.; Cousins Drug Store; Campbell & Campbell; Fisher & Clark, Druggists; Baker-Bryant Co.; Clark & Bell and Smith & Wadlington.

NUMBER OF CITY'S LEADING CITIZENS NAMED IN PAPER

Some of the leading civic minded citizens of the city listed in the paper were as follows: Dr. Thos. G. Eastley; J. M. Terry; J. J. Switzer; R. S. Ragsdale; J. N. Campbell; E. J. McClendon; Chas. H. Mayes; W. C. Sherrod; Walter H. Cousins; E. E. Akers; Thomas A. Layner; Rev. R. G. M. Eiland; Dr. A. A. Smith; P. B. Broach; one time publisher of the Times; Dr. W. P. Farrington; W. A. Earnest; Dr. J. R. Smith.

MRS. V. J. BAKER DIED AT SONS HOME

Mrs. V. J. Baker, 60, died at the home of her son, W. A. Baker, August 23, an account read in the Times. Her son was away on a trip to St. Louis to purchase merchandise for his store here at the time of death.

CITY NAMED AFTER R. P. MUNDAY

R. P. Munday, the man for whom Munday was named, was a Kentuckian by birth, and came to Knox county in 1887. At that time Munday was an unfenced open prairie, as the pioneer stated, with thousands of cattle, hundreds of antelope, coyotes, rattlesnakes, prairie dogs and few people claiming it as their home.

In 1900 Mr. Munday gave the first business lot for a store in Munday, which was accepted by the Alexander Mercantile Company which was the first firm to open for business on the prairie. A large portion of the city was built on the farm of Mr. Munday and thus derived the name of our city, "Munday."

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

By JULIAN CAPERS JR.

Austin.—The political pinwheel, set off by the Governor's race, whirled merrily on in Texas, and the week-end found these news-worthy developments: Meetings of Ferguson supporters, demanding full payment of $15 pensions to everybody in Texas over 65, regardless of need, carefully staged in San Antonio and Dallas, had caused several hundred letters and telegrams to be sent "MA," seeking to draft her, but spokesman Jim repeated she "is not a candidate" . . . best guessers here believe the build-up was to place Jim in position to throw his support advantageously to some other candidate, and did not think the Fergusons would switch their decision not to enter "Ma." . . . Gov. Allred told reporters he wouldn't get in, even if the Fergusons did, and said he would be enjoying Gulf breezes at Galveston during the summer while other candidates were perspiring and belaboring each other . . . Tom Hunter had not yet produced his promised platform . . . Karl Crowley, the Washington candidate, is NOT being supported by the national Democratic party organization in his race for Governor of Texas, according to a telegram which Bob Barker, secretary of the Senate, sent Jim Farley, asking the direct question, which Farley promptly answered in the negative . . . Ernest Thompson was out of the State to attend an interstate oil compact commission meeting at Wichita, Kansas . . . Bill McCraw resumed campaigning with talks in Northeast Texas . . . Welly Hopkins, former Senator from Gonzales, and lately a special assistant U. S. Attorney General in Washington, resigned to accept appointment as first assistant attorney general, under Bill McCraw, succeeding Scott Gaines, who becomes Texas University's legal representative.

Road Development
Congress has authorized $200,000,000 for road improvement and grade crossing elimination for the next fiscal year. Approval of primary construction programs have already been granted to 25 States and 17 others for secondary roads, both to be matched by States.

The AAA announced that Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation has made awards for the purchase of 91 cars ($3,642,000 pounds) of roller process skim milk under the dairy products purchase program. These awards are in addition to the awards granted early in March for the purchase of 5,000,000 pounds of spray process skim milk. The milk will be allocated to relief agencies.

Relief and Taxes
The Appropriations Committee is now hearing testimony on relief needs of the country. The President has already stated clearly his views on this important question. From the testimony we are hearing, it is evident the President's views are very conservative concerning the relief needs for the immediate future.

The conference committee will report the compromise tax bill this Thursday. The agreement reached retained practically the House provision on undistributed profits and the Senate provision on capital gains, together with additional

Wage and Hour

The Wage and Hour Bill, Senate 2475, was reported by the House Labor Committee by a vote of 14 to 4 and after a bitter debate the Rules Committee refused to give this legislation a rule by a vote of 8 to 6. Five Democrats and three Republicans constituting the majority against granting a rule. Unless the Committee favorable reports this legislation by Thursday, a discharge petition will be filed to force this legislation before the House. It is believed the required signatures will be had within a short time should this procedure be necessary.

Anti-Trust Monopoly

The President sent one of his strongest messages to Congress Friday, clearly setting forth his views regarding monopolies and suggesting a very definite remedy to correct same. The message was well received throughout the nation and practically all are in accord except the monopolies themselves, that the remedy suggested should be speedily enacted into law and of course carried out. The writer has spoken many times on this important question and has offered legislation to correct the known existing evils. It is to be hoped we can enact legislation in the near future correcting these abuses. It will require favorable public approval to get Anti-Trust enforcement the same as all other law enforcement. Such a program of education should be carried on.

The Calendar

The House last week considered unanimous and consent calendars bills on Monday and Tuesday, Naval Construction for the West Coast on Wednesday and amendments to the Merchant Marine Act on Thursday and this week we will consider the consent calendar, additional Federal Judges and conference reports and perhaps road legislation.

The Senate last week continued their debate on the Naval Expansion program. This measure will be pending business this week.

YOU CAN TRY ME 10 DAYS FREE!

I KEEP FOODS FRESHER . . . I WASH THE AIR

YOU CAN HAVE ICE CUBES IN 5 MINUTES

You want a BIG refrigerator . . . a MODERN refrigerator . . . a LOW-COST refrigerator. Coolerator gives you all three. It's roomy . . . holds the food of a big size family. It's air conditioned—keeps foods fresher because it prevents rapid drying out—washes, cools, humidifies, and maintains constant one-way circulation of the air that touches your food. It uses ice in a new way, so that one filling lasts ordinarily from 4 to 7 days. Best news, though, is Coolerator's amazingly low cost—as much as $100 less. Junior Class News

Last Thursday evening the Juniors motored to the river north of Munday to enjoy the picnic they have been looking for a long time. We climbed hills and explored until dark. Then we ate a picnic supper and built a fire. Miss Darnell told us interesting facts about the stars and Peggy Jo told of a true happening which made the hair on our heads stand on end. We are planning for another picnic before school is out, and we plan for an even greater time for this picnic than we had Thursday. The days seem to be passing quickly now, and we realize that we have only about ten more days of school after this week. Most of us are very glad to think we have only a short time; however, some of us who are subject to loafing are thinking that we need more time to make up back work if we intend to sit at the rear of the study hall next fall.

The members of the English III classes are working diligently on their autobiographies which are due Friday. This seems to be taking quite a bit of time, but really it isn't so hard and we are enjoying it immensely.

Freshmen News

"Only a few more weeks until the end of school," seems to be a favorite quotation of the Freshmen. This is a very true statement and we are all dreading the final exams. Some of the boys and girls in our class seem to think we might persuade our sponsors to take us to the lake on a fishing trip. Others have their doubts. This is only a bit of gossip that I picked up, so I don't know just how true it is.

Senior Class News

The Senior class wishes to thank the Baptist Missionary Society for the very good time that we had in Abilene all day Saturday. The trip was enjoyable and interesting. We learned many helpful things about Hardin-Simmons, and we are very proud to say that several of the members of the Senior class are planning to attend Hardin-Simmons next year.

pride to her husband's garden, as the poet says. So nobody can tell, and nobody has the least right to point accusing fingers and prophesy anybody's future." I wonder what we Seniors of '38 will be doing ten years from now. Will our boys be successful business men, or will they be on relief? Will our girls turn out to be fine women, or will they be taking in any kind of work just to make a living for their families? Let's be sure we get the right training these next few years, and then perhaps we can be the successful type. Then the ol' home folks will be surprised at us!

News and Views

By WINSTON BLACKLOCK

Mr. Cooper, the new coach for next year, was here last week and talked to most of the prospects for next year. He got their measurements for new suits, which we expect to have black or dark purple with gold stripes. A few of the boys who will be out next year as new material are Bill Yates, Doyle Thompson, Gene Thompson, Willie Floyd, Lamoine Blacklock, Joe D. Clough, Grady Beck, Mac Haymes, Raymond Phillips, D. P. Morgan, Lewis Warren, Mann McCart, and Dan Billingsley.

RUBY LEE YEAGER
Ruby Lee was born near Shamrock, Texas, on March 24, 1919. She lived there until she was one year of age, when she moved to her present home, which is about 2 miles south of Munday. Ruby Lee started to school in 1926 and has been attending the Munday schools ever since. Her ambition is to attend Draughon's Business College in either Dallas or Wichita Falls. She wants to be a secretary. Favorite color—Light blue. Favorite teacher—All of them. Favorite subject—All of them. Favorite song—Goldmine in the Sky.

THOMAS RIGSBY
Sir Thomas was born in Strawn, Texas, on August 6, 1920. He moved to Munday when he was one year of age and has been here ever since. Tom is the President of the Senior Class. He showed good dramatic abilities in his acting in the seventh grade and in the Senior play. Thomas has been on the high school tennis team for the past two years. He won County in both years. In 1937, he tied for 3rd place in district. In 1938, he won last place. In the Graham Invitation Tennis Tournament, he won second place. Thomas and Joe Albertson won the County meet debate this year. He was also on the arithmetic team in grade school. He is a member of the Swing Club and the Apple Blossom Crew. Favorite color—Blue. Favorite sport—Tennis. Favorite subject—Study hall. Favorite teacher—Miss Kennedy. Favorite girl friend—Blondes preferred, but anything in a pinch (Sounds bad). Favorite hobby—Sleeping.

DO WE NEED EXPERIENCE?
"It just seems that human nature craves experience, and if you don't get it early you'll take it later on. Perhaps to get it later is better, because you're supposed to have more sense as you grow with the years. Although somebody said there's no fool like an old fool—but why be a fool at all? Many people who were considered impossible when they were young, turned out to be model ladies and gentlemen when they grew up. There used to be in a business school to which I went when a boy, a fellow who was the biggest cut-up you ever saw. Everybody in the school including the teacher had made up his mind that he would turn out badly—maybe hang—at least land in jail. Well, the years went by, all of us good boys and girls graduated and went out into the world to show them how it was done. He graduated by the skin of his teeth. I think he got his diploma because the school wanted to get rid of such a nuisance. Well, he went out to fail miserably in the world, we thought, but lo and behold, a few years later find this pest a fine young gentleman, with a big job, working every day as hard as he can, married and settled down happy. While some of us goody-goodies are knocking around the world not knowing what it's all about. So it goes, too, with the girl who is a tomboy, and does many things to shock the village. Surely she will go wrong and wind up in some house of correction. But the years unveil a picture that is the surprise of the times. This girl makes the finest pie-crust in the neighborhood, and points with

Marriage Makes Career Says Woman Conductor

By Daniel I. McNamara

Gena Branscombe, A.S.C.A.P., conducting a chorus rehearsal.

MUSICIAN, author, composer, educator and organizer of choral groups, clubwoman — and yet time to be a wife, and mother of three daughters. That is Gena Branscombe, one of over a hundred women members of the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers.

"Marriage did not halt my musical career, which began really at six and which has been the driving force of my life," says Miss Branscombe, who is Mrs. John Ferguson Tenny when the Lucy Stoners aren't looking. "Life is big enough for both," she added. "I was determined to be known, not merely as the wife of a New York lawyer, but as an entity in the world of music. I was born in Picton, Ontario, but did not remain in Canada.

"To pursue my musical career I studied first in America, then in European countries under Humperdink (composer of the opera 'Hansel and Gretel') and others. Twice I won the gold medal of the Chicago Musical College.

"Marriage, and a family, mean everything to me, as an individual, but I feel that music makes me part of the world, and I want to do my part." At first Miss Branscombe specialized in composition; then began writing lyrics and music together. Now there are more than one hundred published works of her creation, and even more in manuscript, many of the latter having been used in public performances. Her compositions include widely varied types of choral works, pieces for piano, for violin, for orchestra and for the stage. Her "Festival Prelude" for orchestra, written for a MacDowell program in Peterborough, has been performed in New York and San Francisco. Her "Pilgrims of Destiny," a large work for solo chorus and orchestra (Music Features & Photo Syndicate)

CHILD STORY

Seeking a new, catchy name for its 40-acre Amusement Zone, the 1939 Golden Gate International Exposition is offering $1000 cash for the best three-word suggestion.

Los Angeles and Miami tied with it for the fifth position. Continuance of favorable conditions in business charts by Texas metropolitan centers and the state as a whole could play an important part in attracting more and more industrial enterprises to the state, the Council's report said, especially if there were official reassurance of the state's receptiveness to industry, lending needed support to vigorous efforts in that direction being made by commercial groups and leading resident industries.

received its first performance as the final event of the biennial convention of the National Federation of Music Clubs at Boston in 1929. Her elaborate choral work "Youth of the World," a cycle of chorus of women's voices, has been acclaimed not only for its musical qualities, but for its implications of cooperation for world peace, a theme dear to her. She has been guest conductor of the performance of this work in London and in Chicago, where it was performed to the accompaniment of the Chicago Women's Symphony Orchestra.

Miss Branscombe is organizer and conductor of the Branscombe Choral, made up of seventy New York business women with whom music is an avocation. They are a standard radio attraction.

Miss Branscombe is an active clubwoman, vice president of the National Association of Conductors and Composers, a member of the Musicians' Club and of the New York Altruists Club. She was National Chairman of American Music in the General Federation of Women's Clubs from 1930 to 1935, and for two years was president of the Society of American Women Composers.

Of her three daughters, her name sake and first, Gena, is carrying on the musical tradition. She was the first American student to win the Foll scholarship in composition at the Royal College of Music in London. Vivian is an honor student and prize winner at Cornell University School of Medicine. Beatrice is president of the Junior class at Barnard.

Although born in Canada, Miss Branscombe is of ancient New York lineage, dating from 1640. She has an attractive summer home on the ancestral acreage in Mahopac Falls, Putnam County.

Grade School Operetta Will be Given Friday Night

70 STUDENTS OF GRADE SCHOOL TO APPEAR IN PLAY

Program Will Start At 8 o'Clock In Auditorium

"The Cruise of the Trundlebed," an operetta in one scene is to be presented by the first and second grades Friday evening, May 6, at 8 o'clock, in the elementary auditorium. About 70 children will be used in the operetta.

Synopsis of the operetta concerns two little boys who are put to bed too early and they pretend that their bed is a boat and that they are going to make a visit to every country. They fall asleep and the Queen of the Fairies waves her magic wand and transports them to foreign lands.

Miss Dennis, kindergarten teacher, will present her pupils in a short recital before the operetta begins.

Also another important part of the program is the awarding of the medals to students that won a 1st, 2nd or 3rd place in any event in the 1938 Interscholastic League meet. The receiving of these medals is an important item in the lives of these boys and girls and lets all come out and give them a big hand.

As was done before Christmas, when the 6th grade presented their program, a student will be at the entrance to receive any admission you might want to give up to 5c for school children and 10c for adults. Nothing will be accepted over that amount. "Please do not stay away from the program because of the admission charges," L. M. Palmer, principal, stated, "As you do not have to pay a cent." There are always expenses to be met in giving these programs and especially these medals have to be paid for, so all of above expenses of the program will go to the fund for purchasing of the medals to be awarded.

Following is the program for the evening:

Tap Dance—Three First Grade Children.

Numbers—Kindergarten.

Operetta—First and Second Grades.

Awarding of Medals—Mr. L. M. Palmer, principal.

REQUEST

I've never done much praying
Asking favors from above
But I beg that Heaven help me
Hold the man that I love!
He needs me in the morning,
All along his busy way
And he needs to know I'm waiting
At the close of day.
I'll never be untrue to him,
No matter what may come,
But if he should stray away,
Lead his footsteps home.
To help him when he's troubled,
Be a comfort if I can,
This is all I'm asking, Lord!
Please, help me hold this man!

The primary room failed to turn their news in to us this week, but we know that they have been very busy taking field trips and mounting butterflies. They brought in some tadpoles for our rooms and for themselves. It seems that there is always a new source for us in our nature study.

We had our weekly Audubon Bird Club meeting this week. We gave reports of our own choice. Each one gave original stories, poems or reports on interesting birds of our country. Neoma Norwood's story and original poem on the oriole was voted as the best this week. Last week Fay Cornutt had the best story and poem. Fay was second this week.

We are going to have our picnic Friday in Hudson's pasture. We hope to have lots of fun roasting weiners, eating and playing games.

The third, fourth and fifth grades are having last set of six weeks exams Wednesday and Thursday. The last roundup comes just two weeks from now. Our teacher says that some will fail to be branded with a new mark, but we are all hoping to see "Passed" written on our cards.

TUNA FISH THAT'S DIFFERENT

Here's a fish dish with real spirit and character! But before I go further I want to assure the conservative-minded that it's not too fantastically "different." It's an excellent "scaloped tuna fish" combination even without the suggested Anchovy paste if your family shy at unfamiliar flavors. Your tuna dish still has real "snap and git" to it. For there's a dash of Worcestershire and onion and lemon juice. Doesn't that sound like a savory, worthwhile fish dish to serve on a Friday night? You can obtain a complete dinner menu built around it by sending for the Week's Menus offered below.

Norwegian Scaloped Tuna Fish

- | | |
|------------------------------------|--------------------------------|
| 2 cups tuna fish (one 13 oz. can) | Anchovy Sauce |
| 2 tsp. chopped onion | 2 tbsp. butter |
| 1/4 cup lemon juice | 2 tsp. all-purpose flour |
| 1 tsp. Worcestershire Sauce | 1 cup milk |
| 1 cup Anchovy Sauce | 1/2 tsp. salt |
| 1/2 cup soft bread crumbs (packed) | 1 tsp. Anchovy paste—from tube |

Flake tuna fish and add the onion, lemon juice and Worcestershire Sauce. Mix thoroughly. Make Anchovy Sauce by melting butter, then adding flour and blending well. Add the cold milk and salt. Remove from heat and stir well to prevent lumping. Return to heat and cook until smooth, and all the raw taste is eliminated, about 10 minutes over direct heat, or 20 minutes in a double boiler. Blend in the Anchovy paste and remove from heat. Place soft bread crumbs in a layer on the bottom of a well buttered baking dish. Cover with some of the tuna fish mixture and pour a little of the Anchovy Sauce over it. Continue using alternate layers of crumbs, tuna fish and Anchovy Sauce, having crumbs on top of dish when it is filled. Dot with butter and bake 30 minutes in a moderate oven, 350° F. Amount: 8 servings.

Betty Crocker Advises

Question: The other night when I was invited out to dinner at a friend's house she served scaloped fish and then ice cream for dessert. I refused the ice cream because I had been taught that it would be very harmful to eat fish and ice cream at the same meal. Was I right?

Answer: It's hard to understand how the old notion about fish and ice cream—or milk—being harmful ever got started. But many people have believed it. However, modern dietetic science has disproved the idea completely. There is no reason why you shouldn't have enjoyed your ice cream dessert after eating the fish.

Question: The other day I bought some tuna fish that looked much darker than what I had been buying. I was surprised because I didn't know there was any difference in tuna fish.

Answer: There is white tuna fish, light tuna fish which is slightly pink in color, and the darker pinkish tan tuna. The white tuna fish is from the Albarcore or long fin variety. The yellow fin or blue fin varieties of tuna contribute what is known as the "light" tuna with a decidedly pinkish cast. The darker meat is from the striped or skipjack tuna.

Question: What are anchovies?

Answer: Anchovies are a very small fish of the herring family, growing about 6 inches long. They are put up both in brine and olive oil. Also they are potted and used in the form of paste and table sauces.

Question: When I have company I always like to dish up the meat and things in the kitchen and have it on the table when everybody sits down. The other day some one told me this was all wrong. I should bring the meat in on a platter and have my husband serve it. But he hates to carve and serve. Do you think I should make him do it anyhow? I hate to think of all the company dinners I've served the wrong way. I do all my own work—but I like to have things nice when I entertain.

Answer: No, I do not think you need to compel your husband to serve at the table if he doesn't like to. Since you are doing your own serving—manage it the way that's easiest for you—that will cause the least amount of jumping up and down and that will give you the most time to visit with your guests. Avoid confusion, and concentrate on making your guests feel at ease. That's all that true etiquette demands of you.

If you worry about what to serve, if you dread to start the next meal, just drop a card to Betty Crocker in care of your newspaper, and ask for this week's menus. Complete menus for the week with recipes for the main items will be sent to you at no cost. Please enclose 3 cent stamp to cover return postage.

MOTHER

What a sweet name, and how much it expresses. It spells care and tenderness and all of an understanding and sympathy are there. God's voice is heard in such a brief and gentle name. Common things of life are wrapped in those six letters. Home and a sheltering roof and food come to us. But greater than that is a mother's love. How much they try to help us and how much they take from us. Yet, no matter what we do, they are always there, patient, ready to lend a helping hand. What a job mother's place is, what problems she faces, still she never becomes discouraged, but tries to do things for our good.

Friends? Do you have them? We all, but our mothers are the greatest friends we have. Why is it, they never think of themselves but of their loved ones first? My heart goes out to those who are motherless. As for myself, I wouldn't know which way to turn. We may think of ourselves as independent of our mothers, but imagine yourself without that great person, and then you'll see how much you rely upon her.

So, my friends, speak the word reverently, and never forget for what it stands.

I should like to quote a stanza of a song here. I think you'll never forget it because since the first time I heard it, it has lingered with me. I think it expresses much and it holds a special place in my memories:

"M is for the many things she gave me
O is only that she's growing old
T is for the tears she shed to save me
H is for her heart of purest gold
E is for her eyes of moonlight shining
R is for the right she's always done.
Put them all together, they spell MOTHER, the word that means the world to me."

SENIORS ATTEND SENIOR DAY AT H-S-U

Saturday was annual Senior Day at Hardin-Simmons University, and the seniors of Sunset attended. Everyone had an enjoyable time, for they were entertained royally from 10:00 o'clock until five. The famed Cowboy Band gave a musical show, followed by the tumbling team, the choral club, trick roper, and many other interesting amusements. Lunch was served at 12:00 o'clock at the pit.

The evening's activities were equally enjoyable. There were many educational benefits to be derived from the Fine Arts building, and from the Science building which showed tests in chemistry, science, etc. At the Corral there was skating for those who were interested.

At three-thirty another main event of the day came off. The H-S U Cowboys of next year divided as nearly equally as possible and played football for the benefit of their guests.

The Sunset Seniors enjoyed the day to the fullest extent, and who knows, it might have changed someone's mind about the college he is going to attend?

The Sunset Seniors also enjoyed having the Munday Seniors accompany them on the bus to Abilene for Hardin-Simmons Senior Day. The entire group of thirty-nine seniors and sponsors made a congenial, pleasant crowd.

(Note)—While Mignon is galavanting in Washington, D.C., at the National League of Pen Women's Meeting, Douglas Meador, editor of the Mator Tribune and author of "Trail Dust" has kindly contributed a very special column. Next week a number of columnists from "round about" will contribute.

TRAIL DUST

Tottering in the wake of a youth-spurred world, an old automobile waddles through the streets with pebbles thrown from the wheels of younger vehicles clattering against the broken windshield. Decay is eating through the wrinkled, tin hide and a consumptive pallor covers the chapped paint. A torn, rusty fender sways like the futile wing of a monstrous bird trapped in the net of despair. Fumes of burned oil cling to the faded upholstery as sinister smoke from a crematory blown into purple dusk of evening twilight. The motor like a tired heart, pounds against metal ribs and drives faltering energy to the stumbling wheels.

Not many license plates ago the automobile throbbed with an eagerness that is the heritage of youth. Impulsive strength and majestic beauty swept by as it passed with the grace of a swan on a mirrored lake. The upholstery was soft, gray plush then and the instrument panel was polished ebony trimmed in silver.

So much that is beauty is only decay in transit.

Every spring new leaves come to an old trellis of memory as I recall the atheist's flower garden with its red, red roses and blue violets beside the row of lemon trees. He lived in a small white house on a quiet street, a thin, smiling man, possessed of bonhomie, who smoked a fragrant pipe and watched the galaxy of color in his flowers. Strangers often paused to admire the garden and children sometimes played on the thick carpet of grass near his door. Perhaps I should pity his pagan soul for never a glimpse of paradise instead of remembering the red roses dozing in the sun. After the wick of youth has burned to the last pool of rapture marooned by star dust in a summer, moonlit night, and the strangled flame glows red before it is gone, then, perhaps men find unwanted tranquility growing as a parasite through the peeled, dead branches of adversity.

Forlorn as they wait the ashes of time to bury them from the sun with that truculence that destiny prepared for the things men's soft hands build, a pair of shoes is left by the side of the road. Side by side, the broken laces askew as if the owner might have suddenly been given wings, or stepped into a chariot rolling swiftly on the smooth slab of pavement. Dust covers the stiff leather shaped by walking feet, and a tattered piece of sole lies out of place. No polish has ever adorned these discarded sandals left by one who had journeyed close to labor. Two old friends by the side of the road, perdu and useless, receiving the seathing atrocity of being forgotten.

Hanging with the faded designs many secret desires, in a littered studio of unfinished dreams, is the longing to wear a red cummerbund drawn tightly over snow white shirt and white flannel trousers. Perhaps to stroll in an assiduous gait through mysterious shops in some far tropical port while enchanting music drifts past the jungle and echoes on shadowy peaks. It seems now that my waistline has grown tired of waiting for the anchorage of my skiff of fantasy, and that the length of a window drape might soon be required to accomplish the delayed idiosyncrasy.

Glary may fawn the favors of peace, but it is a philanderer's attention designed to secure added gain acclaimed for conflict.

Contentment is often a serene following one's best efforts and speaking sincere thoughts.

Weekly Health Letter!

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, M.D., State Health Officer of Texas

Hazards Are Cited For Summer Sport Of Swimming

Austin, Texas, May 3.—May is the month when most Texans take a look at the thermometer, make a dive for their bathing suits and hunt the nearest swimming pool or lake. Swimming is a fine sport but it does involve certain hazards. It is tragedy enough to have a drowning accident, but far greater tragedy if no one present knows how to save life by artificial respiration.

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, advises that the "Prone Pressure Method" is the accepted one for restoring life from drowning. The method involves the following steps:

Place the patient stomach down, one arm stretched above, the other bent with face resting on it.

Rescue measures should begin at once and continue rhythmically until natural breathing is established. This may take four or more hours. The procedure is as follows:

1. Kneel, and straddle the patient below the hips, placing hand on small of the back with fingers over the lowest ribs (tips of fingers just out of sight).
2. With arms straight, while counting one, two, swing forward bearing weight on body firmly but not violently.
3. Swing backwards while counting one, straightening up and thus relieving pressure. This allows air to be drawn into the lungs.
4. Rest in this position for two counts.
5. Repeat these movements rhythmically, forward and backwards, without interruption, about twelve to fifteen times a minute, until natural breathing is restored.
6. Meantime if assistance is at hand, a physician should be sent for, patients tight clothing should be loosened at neck, chest or waist, and patient should be kept warm. Patient should not be moved from this spot until he is breathing naturally and then should be carried in a lying position to a place where he can be kept warm and receive expert medical attention.

HOME EDUCATION

"The Child's First School is the Family"

By Dr. James E. Pope

How Can We Educate for Peace?

INFERIORITY

"Oh, those Fleming children are all so painfully slow to learn! Why the two older boys remained in one grade in school for two years, and this fall the little one, Bill, has just started!" Mrs. Todd was indulging in a talk across the fence with her neighbor, Mrs. Burt.

"Very likely he'll be just as stupid!" responded Mrs. Burt. There was a sound on the path and Bill Fleming darted past.

But six-year old Bill trotted on school with a vague ache in his little heart. The Flemings couldn't learn—he himself was like the rest. It was something sad that couldn't be helped.

He'd heard similar remarks before and the "hoodoo" hung over him, making him shy, self-conscious, afraid. How different was Cyril Small, the bright boy, who always jumped to open the door for Teacher. He was always chosen to run errands, to go to the store-room for a supply of pencils, or up the principal's room with a note.

But today there was a new teacher, a substitute, in place of Miss Strong, one Bill had never seen before. She was a pretty girl, with kindly eyes. She looked straight at the lad and said, "Will you work those examples on the board, so that the rest may correct theirs by your answers?"

Bill looked around in bewilderment—not that he was afraid of the task—number work was his hobby, although he seldom bothered to complete his exercises in school. He hesitated. Cyril Small jumped to his feet. "Please, Miss, Bill isn't very good at numbers. He always gets D!"

"Id like Bill to try," she answered, looking confidently at the boy and smiling. Bill walked up and quickly worked the whole set correctly. He had not worked them in his book. What is the use—when you're the prize stupid in the school?

Silent surprise spread through the room. Bill had been asked to do something and had done it well. A vague sense of self-esteem was at that moment awakened in Bill's breast. The attitude of his fellows toward him changed.

"Give a dog a bad name—might as well hang him," are words as true today as when they were first uttered. To have someone believe in us is a tremendous help. And this surely is the loving privilege of those at home. If our families have no faith in us, who will have? Genuine praise, honestly given, is to a timid child as fresh coals to a dying fire. In fact the realization of one's own ability is the beginning of success in life.

Of course there is the other extreme to guard against. We all know the mother's darling who is called to show off on every occasion. This child gets an exaggerated opinion of his importance, honest praise for anything well done or even bravely attempted, may be given unstintedly.

One mother whose little girl was doing well with music tried to show her daughter that this gift should be used to serve others. So Mona was called upon to play at her party while her guests carried on a game. Here was a new idea—no one listening or admiring the girl at the piano, but the game and the pleasure of others depended upon her playing well. So she patiently kept on, with pauses between her selections, for a full half hour, though she would have liked to stop and join the game herself. Outstanding ability, even in small things, brings with it the joyous

CHURCH NEWS

MOTHER'S DAY AT THE METHODIST CHURCH

Our superintendent of Sunday School tells us that there was an increase of twenty-five in attendance last Sunday. Just how near we are to the two-hundred mark, who knows. It won't be long if the present increase is kept up. We all want to be present when that happens.

Subject for the morning service, "Mothers Place in God's Kingdom," Sunday, 8 p.m., "God Conscious Men." This is Aldersgate Month and all services are converging around the commemoration of this all important experience in Wesley's life. May we be much in prayer that God will re-invigorate our inner spiritual natures to the end that we too may be possessed of God.

The General Conference now in session in Birmingham, Ala., will probably be the last such conference ever held by this church. When the union is effected there will doubtless be Regional Conferences instead of the General as now had in the churches to be merged. Seven new Bishops have been elected and four retired. See the list in the bulletin Sunday at church.

Why not the entire family attend church in honor of Mother on this her national day. Bring flowers, wear flowers, and make it a day of gladness. Come to Sunday School and help reach the 200 mark this Sunday. We'll be looking for you at church Sunday bright and early.

H. A. Longino

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Next Sunday is Mother's Day. Next to the inspiration which comes from meditation on God is to meditate on "Mother." Someone said that God could not be everywhere so He made mothers. Our mothers went down into the valley of shadows for us. They built air-castles, laid plans, sacrificed for us. They believed in us when we were bad, and doted over us when we were better. None of us have ever been good, but we were like the negro said, "we were not as bad all the time, as we were some of the time." It was mother who watched for the first tooth, listened for the first word, and guided the first step. Whatever good there is in any of us we would give our mothers credit for it.

Let's all go to Sunday School and church next Sunday.

opportunity for service, and this thought should be planted very early in a child's mind. But the boy or girl who is made to feel inferior is hindered in self-expression. In this way he is retarded in development and so prevented from making his best possible contribution to society.

MOTHER'S DAY

Mother's Day was first suggested in 1907 by Miss Anna Jarvis. Both house of Congress passed a resolution, commending the observance of Mother's Day. The American flag is displayed on all public buildings on this day, and on many private homes.

Mother's Day has been set apart every year—the second Sunday in May—in honor of Motherhood. The wearing of a carnation—white for the dead, colored if one's mother is living—is the visible manifestation of the event. On this day everyone shows kind devotion to the best mother in the world—his own.

Senior Class News

The Seniors have enlarged their vocabulary greatly the past week. Our English workbooks have compelled us to use the dictionary very often. We are progressing rapidly in them and hope to finish them before the close of the school term.

Since this is our last year as students we are studying hard and are trying to make the last few weeks of school not only enjoyable for ourselves but also for our teachers.

Junior Class News

The Juniors are looking forward to a holiday Wednesday. This is nothing unusual, because we are always wishing for them.

We wonder why Wilma came in the room one morning and said, "I wish I would go somewhere so that I could get my name in the paper, once."

It seems that this statement has some truth in it, especially for the Juniors: "Young people ought to be paid to go to school."—Henry Ford.

The eighth of May is Mother's Day. We are all thankful that our mothers are living and guiding us in the pathways of life:

Here is a poem of May:
I feel that in the heavens above,
The angels, whispering to one another,
Can know, among their burning
terms of love,
None so devotional as that of
"Mother Love."

Sophomore Report

The Sophomores really hate to see school close, but sometimes we wonder what if that is what bothers them or if it is the final examinations they dread.

After witnessing the great Walt Disney production of Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs we were inspired by the way seven of our sophomores so closely resemble these little men. The seven dwarfs of the sophomore class are as follows:

Grumpy—Dorothy
Happy—Regina
Dopey—Helen
Bashful—Margaret
Doc—Georgene
Sneezy—W. B.
Sleepy—Bernice
These descriptions fit them perfectly except for their size.

Right Beauty; Wrong College

Chosen as "the only beautiful girl" at the University of Chicago, Miss Joy Hawley, graduate and former beauty of Texas State College for Women, turned out to be enrolled in Northwestern University, where she has already been named a 1938 beauty.

The mix-up began when a Chicago U. magazine stated, "There hasn't been a really beautiful woman around here since Little Egypt reared her skirts on the World's Fair midway in 1893." To debunk the article, Chicago U. boys went down to the photographers and with the help of three prominent judges selected what they thought was the picture of a Chicago co-ed.

Great was the chagrin of the C. U. student body when their triumphant choice turned out to be a Northwestern girl, Miss Hawley is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Hawley of Denton, Texas.

Governor Allred Declares Texas Bread Week

GOVERNOR JAMES V. ALLRED by special proclamation calls upon the citizens of Texas to observe the week of May 9th as TEXAS BREAD WEEK by serving bread, toast, sweet rolls, cake, and other baked wheat foods. The Governor points out that this program is important to the agricultural and industrial welfare of Texas because the increased consumption of bakery products increases the consumption of wheat, flour, milk, butter and cottonseed-oil products. These products all are important to the prosperity of Texas agriculture. Farmers, millers, bakers and grocers are cooperating to put the proclamation into effect.

Former Mundayite Opens Palace Cafe At Holliday, Texas

The Palace, one of the nicest cafes in the new oil field, will open at Holliday, Friday with a specially prepared Chicken Dinner. The new place is large enough to accommodate 75 to 90 people nicely. The meals are to be served in plate lunch style or family style, each being prepared of the choicest of foods.

The menu consists of everything anyone would wish to eat, chicken dinners each Sunday and Wednesday, special fish dinners each Friday, giant size steaks and trimmings, all kinds of sandwiches, cold drinks and ice cream every day. The salads and vegetables served each day are of those good "Home Cooked" flavors. The plate lunches are a large meal, but if you prefer a heavier meal the family style lunch is especially prepared for you.

The Palace is owned and managed by J. G. Swaner of Munday, Texas, and E. R. Rose of Wichita Falls.

Some thirty days have been spent in making this De Luxe eating house ready for the public and on your first visit there you will appreciate the effort that has been spent to give Holliday this new business.—Holliday News.

Weinert Woman Takes Life At Home Thursday

Mrs. Bennie Lou Garrett, 19-year old bride of Cleve Garrett, young Weinert farmer, took her own life last Thursday at her home near that city. Mrs. Garrett died enroute to Stamford hospital in an ambulance.

The suicide was apparently in good spirits the previous night and early the next morning. When Garrett returned to the house after tending chores, he heard the fatal shot and rushed into the bedroom where his wife had slumped to the floor. Motive for the tragedy could not be advanced by members of the immediate family and relatives.

Funeral services were conducted from the Gilliam Four-Square Baptist church with Rev. Thompson officiating, Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. Burial was in the Johnson cemetery of Munday in the family plot.

Born January 8, 1919, the deceased had spent most of her life residing with her parents and in her home near Munday and Weinert.

Fullbearers were Neil Mathison, Henry York, Henry Vojkufka, Jim McKinnon, Ike Furrh and Dewey Pennington. Funeral arrangements were under direction of Holden's, Haskell.

Surviving include the husband, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Ford of Haskell, four brothers and two sisters.

Funeral Rites For Knox City Man Last Thurs.

Services were held last Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock for Hubert Pilly, 36, who died at his home in Knox City at 3 a.m. April 28.

Pilly had been in ill health for some time and died from effects of his lingering illness. The services were held in the Methodist church with Rev. C. E. Cogswell, pastor of the First Christian Church officiating. Burial was in the Knox City cemetery.

He is survived by his widow and four small children.

Small Electrical Appliances Add to Comfort of Farm Life

Corner of model kitchen on 200-acre farm of Herman Bues, R. F. D. No. 2, Tiffin, Ohio, showing electric toaster, food chopper and mixer.

ALTHOUGH true that such electrical equipment as a range, refrigerator, water system and the like are the greatest time, labor and money savers in the farm home, it also is true that numerous small appliances—whose cost is but a fraction of those just mentioned—can contribute much to the comfort, ease, convenience and pleasure of rural life.

Thus, for the kitchen, there is an electric clock, mixer, ventilating fan, screen door, hot plate, cooker, roaster, ice-cream freezer, small radio receiver, food chopper, juice extractor and many other devices.

In the dining room, an electric waffle iron, chafing dish, grill, percolator, toaster and like equipment make meals easy as well as fun to prepare.

For the living room an electric clock, corn popper and motion-picture projector are among the smaller pieces of equipment that make life more pleasant.

Electric tie and pants pressers, burglar alarm, door latch, electric blanket, "fever" machine, heating pad and reducer, all are useful and convenient accessories of the bedroom.

A portable heater, electric razor or razor-blade sharpener, hair clipper, curling iron, immersion water heater, hair dryer, massage machine and vibrator add to the utility and comfort of the bathroom.

To many farmers, some of these electrical appliances at first glance may appear as unnecessary luxuries, unless "gadgets" or suitable only for city or suburban dwellers. But if they will talk to their neighbors who have some of them, or gradually—as funds permit—install them themselves, they will learn that they are indispensable necessities. With the coming of electricity, rural life has assumed all the comforts and conveniences of the city—and the advantages now are with the farmer.

"Can Do" Regiment Leaves China and The Flag is Down

Written on the eve of the departure of the famous "Can Do" Regiment, otherwise known as the 15th Infantry, U.S. Army, from Tientsin.

In the courtyard of a regimental barracks at Tientsin, China, an American regiment lines up in proud and tense mein, company by company, stern, solemn and sad. They are formed for their last Sunset parade in China, the land of the mysterious Orient, inviting, repelling, lovable but totally incomprehensible China.

Over the administration building the flagpole raised by United States soldiers has witnessed the daily ceremony of morning and evening "Colors." Could it but speak, what stories would it unfold of tradition, glory, conquest and peace brought to its shade by the splendid deeds and daring of that famous regiment—the "Can Do's," such as is handed down from the oldest veteran to the youngest recruit.

There they stand, smartly at attention, their spic and span olive drab uniforms and shining equipment, reflecting credit and efficiency 'neath the rays of the setting sun of the East.

A trumpet blows "Attention," swords flash as the command bravely rings out, "Present Arms!" then the assembled musicians sound the "Retreat" as the colors are slowly lowered for the last time.

The last note dies away as the flag is received into the hands of the guard. God help them if one fragment of that precious bunting touches the soil. A vagrant breath of wind catches a loose end and it flutters a little, as if in protest that its tour of duty is uncompleted.

The flag is down, down for the last time. The tall stately mast is bare. It has lost its individuality and importance now. It seems terribly lonely and deserted now that the flag is down. It belongs to another organization now, and maybe, perhaps soon, another country. It will no longer see the familiar sight of "Can Do's" crossing back and forth in the old compound. The flag is down. It is folded up and the guard awaits orders.

"Order Arms" commands the colonel, "Company commanders dismiss your companies and prepare for embarkment to the United States."

The guard takes the flag to the guard house, soon the parade ground is left clear as the companies are dismissed.

Forlorn soldiers pass to and fro between the buildings but none of them glance in the direction of the flagpole.

Trucks are loaded, the last bit of baggage is placed aboard, troops fall in heavy marching order and the barracks are finally cleared.

As the last "Can Do" passes through the old familiar gate, past the canteen and the old Post Exchange, he looks back and waves a last farewell to the surroundings he has lived in so long. The water tower, the theatre, the gymnasium and brig. He doesn't look at the flagpole, so lonely and bare, he doesn't because he was one of the gang that helped raise it many years ago and the place holds too many memories for him as it is. He shakes his head, furtively brushing a dewey eyelash. He squares his shoulders and marches out. There can be no more looking back for him. "The Flag is Down."

BEAUTY SPOTS IN MUNDAY

Written by 3rd Year Home Ec Girls of Munday High School

After a period of charming weather it seems that summer is here indeed, for everything is green and lovely.

Those who really deserve mention in this column are Mrs. Bengge, Mrs. Broach and Mrs. Carl Jungman who show us examples of lovely and well kept lawns, and a variety of colorful flowers.

Mrs. Houser has a lovely bed of poppies at the back of her home and a bed of colorful petunias on the south side of her house.

The L. A. Jungmans have taken a deep interest in their cactus beds on the east side of their home. They have enlarged it with a fine collection of tasteful cactus plants.

They have also planted flowers on the east side which will lend color to the cactus bed.

The trees and flowers Mrs. Bill Speece has planted add to the beauty of our Munday homes.

Many of the vacant lots where weeds are growing could be plowed and planted with garden or some type of grass.

Mrs. A. M. Huskinson also has a lovely cactus bed in her yard which contains a variety of different cactus plants.

Speaking of beautiful gardens take notice to the W. F. Hutchins A. N. Myers and J. R. Nelson gardens.

They all show the work of experienced hands.

Mrs. Lee Haymes has a lovely bed of California poppies, which add to the attractiveness of her yard.

Mrs. Austin Caughran's home sets for us an example of an attractive Munday home, with its lovely lawn and colorful array of flowers.

DOROTHY PEYSEN, and MARIE SWAIN.

Dr. and Mrs. D. C. Eiland and Miss LaVerne Eiland were in San Angelo and Abilene over the past week end visiting relatives and friends.

Mrs. Louise Ingram left today for College Station where she will spend "Mothers Day" visiting her son, Preston, who is a student at Texas A. and M. college.

CLIFT P.-T.A. TO SPONSOR A PLAY GROUND TOURNEY

The Clift Parent-Teachers Association will sponsor a playground ball tournament for both men and women at the Clift school, Saturday, May 14, Thomas B. Roberson, announced this week.

The tournament will be part of the closing of school exercises, with the last day of school ending Friday afternoon, May 13.

Opponents will draw for bracket positions at 9 o'clock the morning of May 14 and play will be started immediately following. Eats and drinks will be served on the ground, Roberson stated.

E. L. Derr of Chillicothe, was a business visitor in the city last Tuesday. Derr is working in the interest of George Moffett's candidacy for the state senate.

C. E. Phelps of Haskell was a business visitor in the city Wednesday morning.

Indian Relics Owned by Rucker

S. W. Rucker, farm resident living west of the city, displayed a nice collection of Indian relics at the Times office Wednesday morning.

Several arrow heads, boring stones, and other pieces of flint rock used by Indians were in the collection.

The relics were taken from an old Indian village site on the farm of Mrs. J. R. Smith near Wild Horse creek.

Seventh Grade Music Students and High School Students of Munday Will Present A Program in Two Parts Friday Night

Miss Mildred Kennedy Is Directing The Operetta

On Thursday night, May 12, at 8:00 o'clock in the elementary auditorium, Miss Kennedy's 7th grade music students and the High School Chorus will present a program divided into two parts, as follows:

PART I. "The Childhood of Hiawatha." Longfellow's famous poem set to music. In Indian costumes and with an Indian stage setting the 7th grade chorus will sing this poem. The music is colorful and the words, lovely as a poem, are lovelier still with the musical background.

PART II. The High School Chorus presents "Medley." Against a moon-lit Hawaiian scene the girls sing a group of well known songs, interspersed with special numbers.

Intermission numbers will be a reading by Evelyn McGraw and a piano solo by Margaret Tiner.

R. R. Davenport In Commencement Talk at Dumont

Aristol Thompson, graduate of Munday high school, and instructor of the Dumont, Texas, school system this year, has been named superintendent of the Dumont schools for the 1938-39 school year.

The present school year was closed last Friday night with the annual commencement exercises at which R. R. Davenport, local insurance agent, and former school executive, delivered the commencement address to graduates of the seventh and eleventh grades. Need of ways to pursue higher education, was cited by Davenport in his address.

Program for the exercises follow: Processional; welcome song, graduates; Eleventh grade salutatory address, Truitt Smith; seventh grade class will, Elden Reedy; seventh grade valedictory address, Inajo Smith; eleventh grade valedictory address, Estelle Park; introduction of speaker, Aristol Thompson and commencement address by R. R. Davenport; presentation of diplomas, Mr. Doolen; Farewell song, graduates; and benediction, Rev. Adams.

Miss Geraldine Burnison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Burnison of this city was an instructor during the past year. Davenport was accompanied to Dumont by Mrs. Davenport and Boyd Carley.
