MEXICO CITY—The Mexican government Wednesday ordered fresh troops into San Louis Potosi state and acted to cut off retreat of the rebel chieftain, Saturnino Cedillo.

At the same time President Lazaro Cardenas issued a proclamation asserting the "revolution lacks justification," and urged rebellious Cedillistas soldiers lay down their arms under full guarantee of citizenship if they returned to a "life of honesty."

SEATTLE—Angry Alaskan fishermen were ready to arm today to fight encroaching Japanese boats in one of the world's richest fishing areas.

The Pacific Coast Codfish company announced it would dispatch high-powered rifles and plenty of ammunition to its crews aboard two American ships in Bristol Bay area of the Bering sea in response to wireless appeal for arms.

The Alaskan fishermen's union announced it send immediate reinforcements to crews aboard two American ships for southwestern Alaska.

Japanese cannery boats have their nets stretched out for miles in the Bering sea and were operating within eight miles of the Alaskan shoreline.

WASHINGTON—The revamped wage-hour bill which swept through the House Tuesday by a combination of northern democrats and republicans, encountered last-ditch opposition of southern senators Wednesday.

The bill was passed by the House by a vote of 314 to 97. It was a smashing victory for the New Deal, a bill backed by the White House.

DUBLIN, Ireland—Harold L. Ickes, secretary of the interior was married to Miss Jane Dahlman, 25-year-old Milwaukee girl, Tuesday. The marriage came as a complete surprise and was kept secret for hours after the ceremony was performed, when it was announced in Washington.

"America's social security program will be outlined in three addresses over the national hook-up of the Columbia Broadcasting System on May 26, June 2, and June 9. An invitation is extended to all Texans interested in unemployment compensation to tune in any CBS station for these programs. "The fifteen minute programs will begin at 6:45 p.m., central standard time, and the first and last will be interviews."

Miss Bell Places
In State Poster
Drawing Contest

Winners in the annual fire prevention poster contest sponsored by the State Fire Insurance Commission were announced today. Prizes, which go to public school students preparing the best fire prevention posters, aggregate $105.

Miss Bell's poster, which she entered in the contest some time ago, placed fourth in the intermediate division, in a five-way tie. She is a student of the Munday school system.

Other winners were: high school division, second, Gladys Weilbacher, South Park, Beaumont; third, Felix Billingsley, El Paso; five fourth prizes to Girton Prince, Amarillo; G. Ramirez, San Antonio; Gwynna Marie Greene, Wichita Falls; Margaret Garver, Amarillo; and Elaine Marek, San Antonio.

Intermediate division: first, Preston Hatcher, Texarkana; second, Walter Saucedo, El Paso; third, Glen Hall, Dallas; fourth prizes to Vera Bell, Munday; Ruth Nina Rau, Galveston; Sarah Louise Morrison, Center; J. W. Irwin, Wichita Falls, and Alejandria Lopez, El Paso.

Primary division: first, James Hardwick, Mineral Wells; second, Phyllis Drake, Temple; third, Lionel Winans, Brownsville; fourth prizes to Mary Wilhite, Dallas; Paul Hickman, Franklin; Carroll Jo Pope, Navasota; August Richter, Schulenburg, and Jamiel Aryain, Brownfield.

Miss Shelley Lee has as her house guests this week, her sister and niece and two children.

LOCAL GRAIN HARVEST TO OPEN SOON

"If you could spend an hour with me in the accident ward of the large hospital where I am stationed, you would understand why I don't see anything smart about speeding. "Figures released by The Travelers Insurance Company indicate that nearly 37 per cent of all fatal accidents are caused by exceeding the speed limit. My experience has taught me something that these figures do not indicate—that the worst accidents, those involving almost hopeless injuries, nearly always result from accidents where high speed was a factor."

Community Committeemen Responsible for County Cotton Acreage Increase

The cotton allotment for Knox county which was originally set at 68,918 acres under the 1938 AAA farm program has been raised nearly 2,500 acres, W. W. Rice, county agent made known this week.

The community committeemen of the county are directly responsible for the acreage allotment being raised Rice stated, as they made an individual survey of each district to determine the actual acreage planted last year.

Station. The work of the men resulted in the raising to 71,353 acres, the amount of cotton acreage for this year.

Harvest Should Open
Within Two Weeks
Farmers Say

The wheat harvest in the Munday area is expected to get under way on a large scale within the next two weeks with fair weather prevailing, according to opinions of grain men and farmers.

The rains during the past few weeks have sent the grain estimates higher than those given following the extremely late freeze in April. It is believed that the grain crop has recuperated to such an extent that the loss from the freeze will be smaller than the predicted 50 per cent.

Should fair weather prevail, the farmers will be unusually busy, as they are in most instances, far behind in their spring planting, plowing and harvest operations. Many farmers have had to re-plant cotton three and four times, it has been reported.

Hefner Schools Is Closed With Program Friday

Hefner schools closed last Friday afternoon with a program given by J. Lyndal Hughes, county superintendent of schools, following serving of a lunch to those in attendance at the school grounds.

Special numbers, both musical and readings, were by students during the program and Hughes gave a showing of pictures of various schools in the county and machine.

The pictures were taken from permanent picture library of the county superintendent's office. A humorous film was also shown to the public.

MHS EXERCISES

GERALD C. MANN
TO GRADUATES

Lion Awards Announced at Monday Exercises

Probably the largest audience to attend a commencement exercise in several years saw 25 seniors receive their diplomas Monday night following an inspirational address by Gerald C. Mann, prominent Dallas attorney.

The commencement season of the class of '38 opened Sunday morning when Rev. H. A. Longino, pastor of the Munday Methodist church delivered an impressive sermon to the candidates for the diplomas.

In the processional of the Sunday morning program the seniors marched to their section while the choir sang "God of Our Fathers." Rev. W. H. Albertson, First Baptist church pastor, offered the invocation, followed by another selection by the choir, "Come Thou Almighty King."

Rev. Longino then read scripture for his text to be used in the sermon and commented on the importance of the text in relation to the future lives of the seniors. The choir then rendered an anthem, "In Shadow, In Sunshine."

At this point the sermon was delivered by Rev. Longino, who stressed the relationship that must be had between God and the individual in order to live a successful and happy life, which should prove beneficial to both man and the individual.

"Give of Your Best to the Master," selection by the choir closed the program, and the audience was dismissed by Lee Haymes, who gave the benediction.

Mrs. H. A. Longino directed the song service of the mixed choir and Mrs. Jim McDonald served as pianist.

Graduation Exercise To open the graduation exercise for the class Mrs. Jim McDonald played "Largo" by Handel, for the processional as the seniors made their entrance to the auditorium.

Rev. Longino offered the invocation, which was followed by the salutatory address by Miss Lorain Finley, who held absolute attention of the audience as she very ably issued salutations to those in attendance.

Mrs. Jim McDonald offered a piano solo, "Malaguena," by Lecuna, which interspersed the salutatory and valedictory address. Miss Mary Moore then offered the valedictory which more or less compared the life of today with that of yesterday, as seniors faced the future. Her address was well received, and unlike most valedictorian talks, dealt strictly with modernistic trends of life, from an individual standpoint to a national scope.

R. R. Davenport was introduced to the audience, and in turn introduced the commencement speaker, Gerald C. Mann, prominent Dallas attorney, and an outstanding state political figure. "You are here to live happy, successful lives," was the theme of Mann's address. (For a summation of his talk see page eight.)

Lion Awards Made Two beautiful loving cups of the Munday Lions Club, which was to be made to the outstanding boy and girl were made known at this point, when R. R. Davenport, president of the Munday Lions Club, called Miss Margaret Tiner and Joe Albertson to the stage.

OLD SHOE
Is Believed Lost By
Coronado; 1539

G. W. Rucker, farmer residing northwest of the city, displayed a steel shoe that was believed to have been lost by the Spanish exploration party of Coronado in 1539.

Rucker discovered the old shoe on Wild Horse creek near his home where an old Indian village once existed. He has discovered several various kinds of cutting stones and arrows and tools used by the Indians at the diggings.

If the shoe was lost by the exploration party it is now 399 years old.

Second Pardue
Well is Flowing

HASKELL, Texas, May 25—A second producer was added to the Pardue pool in southern Haskell county when Forest Development corporation No. 2 Pardue flowed 152 barrels in two hours and 17 minutes through seven-inch casing Wednesday afternoon from heavily saturated Adams Branch limestone encountered at 2798 to 2811 feet, hole bottom. Casing was cemented at 2794 feet. The well has been shut in to await storage.

The producer is a north offset to Forest-McMillen No. 1 Pardue, discovered well given a daily allowable of 100 barrels.

Location of the second producer is 1200 feet north and 550 feet from west lines M. Collum survey 4, abstract 685.

J. W. and A. E. McMillen, developers of pool, will stake locations this week for four offsets west and east of the No. Pardue. Forty-acre protective spreads in the vicinity are owned by Humble, Shell and Amerada.

Man Given Five Years In Murder
Count Last Week

C. L. Martin, Houston man charged with the murder of Austin Cochran, young Knox City farmer, was found guilty and given a sentence of five years in the penitentiary by a jury in Judge I. O. Newton's 50th district court in Seymour.

The case was brought here on a change of venue from King county, where a hung jury resulted in the first trial Martin's defense was a plea of self defense.

He claimed that Cochran was trying to cut him with a knife when the homicide occurred in a tavern on the Knox-King county line last August.

The jury required almost three hours to reach a verdict after hearing the arguments of Lewis Williams, district attorney, C. C. McDonald, Wichita Falls, special prosecutor; Bill Combest, Paducah, and Mr. Pepper of Houston, defense attorneys.

Return From Trip Mr. and Mrs. Sebern Jones returned to their home here Wednesday from Mineral Wells where he has been recuperating from a foot ailment. Although much improved Mr. Jones will not be able to return to his store, here the Clover Farm Grocery, for another week or two.

Moffett to Talk
Saturday on Race
For State Senate

The Times is in receipt of information that Representative Geo. Moffett of Chillicothe, who represented this district in the House of Representatives for the past eight years, will speak in Munday, Saturday afternoon, May 28, at 4:30 o'clock, in the interest of his race for the State Senate.

Mr. Moffett's long and favorable record at Austin is well known to the people of his home district. He gained considerable statewide prominence as the author of the "Moffett Amendment" to the state constitution, which limits the numbers that any one county may have in the Legislature, thus keeping the larger cities from gaining control of our state government, and preserving adequate representation for the small towns and rural districts.

He has long been the leader in efforts to find new uses for cotton and other farm products.

There are nine counties in this senatorial district, and it is a big job to campaign in all of them, but George Moffett has the reputation of trying to see the folks, and we predict his many friends in Knox County will be glad to hear him discuss the issues of the campaign Saturday afternoon.

Most Instructors of Munday School
System Will Spend Vacation Period
Out of City; Bass, Cobb Will Teach

Only One Will Enroll in Summer School

The summer vacation period will find the instructors of the Munday school system occupied at various positions, some working, teaching, visiting at home, and one furthering her education by enrolling in summer school.

Here is the list of high school instructors and where they will be during the summer:

Supt. and Mrs. J. H. Bass will spend six weeks, beginning June 3 at Denton where Mr. Bass will fill a position as instructor in the North Texas State Teachers College.

High school principal and Mrs. L. S. Hardegree will spend the summer in Junction, Texas, where Mr. Hardegree will be employed in a grocery store.

Miss Mary Darnell will be at home at Overton, Texas, during the summer and also visit friends. Miss Mary Couch will be at home in Haskell with her parents.

Mrs. Elizabeth Dillon, home economics instructor, will spend another month here, having classwork with the home economics girls. She is undecided as to what she will do from then until the opening of school in September.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cobb will be in Tyler, Texas, this summer where Mr. Cobb will join the faculty of Tyler Commercial College. Mrs. Cobb is an instructor in the grade school and will be with her husband.

Bill Cooper, newly elected coach of the Munday Moguls, could not be reached for a statement as he is still in Cisco where he will finish this school term as an instructor and coach. He will probably visit in Munday a few days after the closing of school.

In the grade school Principal and Mrs. L. M. Palmer will spend the summer in this city. Mr. and Mrs. John Ingram will also spend the summer in Munday, and Mr. Ingram will begin conducting his campaign for the office of County Superintendent of Schools, for which he announced recently.

Miss Nina Spencer will remain here and on June 5th will become the bride of Mr. Paul Pendleton. Munday is pleased to take Miss Spencer from Pittsburgh, Texas, (Continued on Page 8)

210 CHECKS RECEIVED IN INITIAL PAYMENT
210 Checks Received

County Agent W. W. Rice announced this week that 210 checks on the 1937 AAA program had been received in his office and that he expected the remainder of the checks any day.

The first payment to county farmers totaled 40,409.13, while it is estimated that approximately $100,000 will be paid.

Farmers are notified when their checks arrive and they must secure them at the county agent's office in Benjamin. Rice stated that if farmers have not received notice of their checks having arrived, to not come to Benjamin expecting their checks.

WHAT FLOYD COUNTY FARMERS THINK OF ONE-VARIETY CROP

FURTHER proof that the Farmers of Munday made a move towards greater economical independence in their recent one-variety cotton planting movement can be ascertained by action taken by Floyd County farmers this year.

In 1937 the 20,200 acres which were planted to one-variety cotton production in Floyd County has caused so much comment that the county agricultural agent is of the opinion that there will be close to 50,000 acres planted to one-variety in the county in 1938, with practically every gin in the county participating. It has meant "more money" to Floyd County farmers, and at present it is referred to as the biggest and finest movement that has ever been undertaken by the Extension Service.

It is believed by many that next year instead of a small 4,000 acres of one-variety here, there will be at least triple that amount and possibly more.

Burrus Jackson, president of the Texas Cotton Association, in the recent state cotton farmers meeting at Dallas, made the statement that "Texas farmers must improve the quality of their cotton or quit raising the product. Statistics to bear out his prediction were given as follows:

"The world is consuming about 8,000,000 bales more of foreign cotton now than it was 10 years ago, while it is consuming 2,500,000 bales less of American grown cotton.

"If American exports of cotton had kept up with the growth in world consumption of cotton the need for finding new uses for the staple in this country would be far less than it is. And, one of the current reasons for the business recession is the failure of the cotton South to participate in the advance consumption of cotton throughout the world."

SOMEONE MUST WORK

The price fixers on wheat are enjoying the usual spring festival of ups and downs and the consequent selling commissions. The farmers in the Chicago wheat pit get earning buying and selling commissions, all on account of a trifle of rain that sprinkled the corner of Uncle Sam's grain garden. No rain on Monday, so the speculators announced, threatened the winter wheat crop. The next day the rain came and immediately wheat was due for an attack of rust. Of course the "bid and calls" fluctuated. That meant commissions on "future" sales. Mr. Wallace's Bureau of Markets holds this so called futures market is necessary for the wheat business. Someone has to make money out of wheat and it appears to be fated for the "margin boys" to do this. All the farmer is supposed to do is raise the wheat.

Weekly Health Letter!

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, M.D., State Health Officer of Texas

Transmission of Disease Through Servants Cited

AUSTIN—"Servants in the home can be a potent source of disease transmission," states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, "unless they are examined periodically by a physician so they can be rendered non-infectious of the communicable disease should such diseases exist."

"There is a state law requiring food handlers in public places to have health certificates but this law exempts domestics. So the responsibility falls upon the employer.

Persons of all races are employed in Texas as cooks, maids, nurses and landresses. As such they come in intimate contact with the grown-ups and children in the family. If the servant harbors any communicable disease the health of the employing family is endangered.

Diseases transmissible in this manner are: tuberculosis, syphilis, typhoid fever, dysentery, diphtheria and other acute contagious diseases. A typhoid carrier can easily infect an entire family. A syphilitic cook or nursemaid can transmit the venereal disease by contact with food, sterilized dishes and in playing with children. Tuberculosis is very easy of transmission.

"The Texas State Department of Health recommends that all employers have their family physician examine their house servants from time to time to eliminate any danger of contracting these diseases. Treatment should be instituted promptly when the servants are diseased. The cost is negligible when compared to the cost of illness and family death," said Dr. Cox.

THE PRESIDENT'S CABINET

Perhaps you read the other day of a terrific rift in President Roosevelt's cabinet. The story had Secretary of Commerce Roper resigning, and the Vice President and practically all the rest of the cabinet and various under-secretaries participating in the great row. The hostilities were supposed to be provoked by a proposal to let the consular officers of the State Department take over the work of the commercial attaches connected with the Department of Commerce on the theory that just now the two departments were stepping on each other's feet in that field. Linked up as an additional cause of war was the suggestion that former Under Secretary of the Interior West should be named as Comptroller of the Currency in the place of J. F. T. O'Connor, who resigned to run for the governorship of California.

There was nothing the matter with that story except that it didn't happen. The papers which had not published the story later carried the White House denial of Secretary Roper's resignation, and I don't think any us saw anything else about it in the papers issued thereafter.

Cabinet fights are really the rarest occurrences in any administration. On the other hand Cabinet disagreements are just as natural as they would be among any group of ten or a dozen men in similar positions. I dare say that the directors of the Steel Corporation have many debates over policies and that the heads of the various departments of J. Pierpont Morgan & Company have held conflicting views—notably in the recent case of Richard Whitney.

Well, what happens then? The big boss at the head of affairs decides what is to be done or what is not to be done, and nobody designs or calls his fellow directors or colleague department heads names. That is just the way these things are conducted in the Cabinet of the President of the United States.

Franklin D. Roosevelt has been in office for five years—five strenuous years, during which more controversial questions have come up, perhaps, than during any similar period in any past administration. Up to this date, his Cabinet has remained intact, except when death created a vacancy to be filled. That harmonious history continues. I am able to give the assurance that Secretary of State Hull is not challenging Secretary of Commerce Roper to a duel; that Attorney General Gurnins is still friendly with Postmaster General Farley; that there has been no mobilization of either the army or the navy to visit the wrath of either upon the other, even though each service may regard itself as more entitled to special consideration than the other. The President is still "Boss" in Vice President Garner's conversations with him, and the Vice President is still "Jack" when the President addresses him.

Most colorful radio story of the week is the ride of the Ranch Boys, singing cowboy trio of the "National Barn Dance," who started their horseback trek from the Pacific to the Atlantic just to prove that they can ride and that the American pioneer spirit is not dead.

Their long stretch in the saddle will take them across valley, mountains, deserts and plains, back-trailing the early pioneers. They will be picked up each Saturday night, when possible, on the Barn Dance broadcasts and send telegraphic reports of their progress on other Saturday nights. Headed by Jack Ross, they're carrying a white Stetson and chaps to Uncle Ezra which will be autographed by mayors of towns en route. They figure it will take them twelve weeks to ride to Chicago for the first break in their journey—which seems strange in this day of streamlined travel.

MUNDAY AND CANTON TIE FOR STATE BASKETBALL TITLE

The Munday girls and the Canton high school girls basketball teams, coached by W. A. Wilson, now of Sulphur Springs, Texas, battled to a 28-28 tie for the state high school girls championship on the Canton floor. The game was played at Canton because Munday did not have an indoor court, as they now boast.

Munday trailed Canton at the end of the first half, 11 to 13, and during the second half score was tied seven times before the final tie score.

TUBERCULOSIS!

A series of articles dealing on the disease and the Texas hospital for Tubercular Patients.

By DOROTHY GARRETT.

I think the State of Texas is doing a great thing for the welfare of their people. I had not realized what a marvelous place this is, until I came here. We should be grateful to the State for providing us a place to come, where we are given the best of care and attention for tuberculosis.

It is hard for us to leave our homes and loved ones; but we are doing a much greater deed by coming instead of staying and endangering the lives of our companions. I lost my only brother a few months ago and I could not bear the idea of leaving my mother and father for six months. Then I came here and saw the torture many go through. As the editor of this paper quoted, "Adversity is often a stepping stone to success."

a man who had no feet." We meet many new and interesting people every day; but I want to tell you about one woman that I felt very sorry for. She was brought to our porch about two weeks ago, so weak she could hardly walk. She was a middle-aged woman, and had left a husband and two small children at home. A few days after she wrote for money to go home on. She said, "I only came here because my husband insisted that I do. I am not sick because God has healed me." How I longed to tell her that the best way God could cure was by giving her a chance. We should all have faith in God; but after we get here, it is left up to us. This is something that cannot be cured overnight.

Adversity, such as illness, gives us time to take stock of ourselves and our lives, and to shape our future. It brings out the best or worst in us. We can't see the wisdom of God's ways but we try to feel it is all for the best. I will close with this thought, "Adversity is often a stepping stone to success."

IT TAKES COOPERATION TO CONTROL THE PROCESS

WHO HAS THE RIGHT TO SPEND YOUR MONEY?

LIFE INSURANCE consists of TWO THINGS: WHAT YOU PAY, AND WHAT YOU ARE PAID. If you pay more than justly needed, someone else is spending YOUR MONEY. IF YOU FAIL TO GET what you have already paid for, someone else will SPEND YOUR MONEY.

IN BUYING LIFE INSURANCE YOU SHOULD CONSIDER (1) The amounts you pay, (2) The convenience for you to pay, and (3) the time it will take to get settlement when it is needed.

THE MOMENT A POLICYHOLDER DIES

THE BENEFICIARY IS DUE THE INSURANCE MONEY. If the COMPANY and the MONEY are near, and they have a reputation for paying quickly, it makes the policy worth more to you by virtue of you having CASH WHEN MOST NEEDED.

THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN OUR RATES AND OTHERS IS YOUR MONEY. You make your payments to our company at the First National Bank in Munday, and save postage and money order fees, which is YOUR MONEY. When a DEATH occurs, you have someone telephone us COLLECT, and we pay quickly. The saving you make by having CASH QUICKLY, will also be YOUR MONEY.

Will Conduct Caging Coaches School

CLIFF WELLS

DENTON.—Nationally known high school basketball coaching wizard, Coach Clifford Wells of Logansport High School in Indiana is to conduct the summer coaching school for the Texas High School Basketball Coaches Association at North Texas State Teachers College the last week in June.

Wells won wide recognition, beginning in 1930, through his use of a slow set style of screen plays. In 1934 he won a state championship with a figure 8 offense and a combination man-for-man and sliding zone defense, styles that have been copied by many Indiana teams.

The Logansport High athletic director was the organizer and first president of the Indiana high school coaches association. He was appointed chairman of the high school group of the National Coaches Association at Chicago last April.

In 22 years, in Indiana high school basketball, Wells has produced teams which have won 75.1 per cent of all their games, 21 district championships, 16 regional championships, and 3 major championships.

Frosh Ideas of History Answers Are Humorous

LUBBOCK, Texas.—A freshman student at Texas Technological College wondered if his examination papers were read after all, so he wrote at the end of a paper:

Twinkle, twinkle, little star
How I wonder if these are Ever read.

... That one was.

Modern dances have their influence on the thinking of the college youth. One wrote that the Spanish Armada was a "dance somewhat like the rumba, which originated during the time of Queen Elizabeth." Other answers found in freshman history exam papers indicate resourcefulness:

"Mohammedinism is an island in the Mediterranean sea on which a monastery was built."

"The Boston Tea Party was the first social gathering of women in Boston at which tea was served, and the custom has come down to the present day."

The Pilgrim Fathers settled at Plymouth Rock because the winters were very cold, and the rock was big enough to give protection from the icy north wind."

"Martin Luther started drinking a lot in order to forget his troubles which was mostly a sickly, nagging wife."

"The navigation laws were passed to forbid people raising certain crops which navigated to the government."

"When Louise XIV invaded Holland the Dutch cut the dikes and erdrom flooded the country."

PEEP SHOW

FOR LADIES ONLY
—BY—
MIGNON

Such clever writing pals that I call mine
Such clever pens and quips
Such oh—la las for girl friends
And boy friends who are pips.
I owe them all the greatest debt
For pinch hitting for me
I wish I could have taken them
To Washington, D.C.

It's the truth. I went off gallivanting as happy and carefree as a lark, feeling sure all these grand columnist friends of mine would do a swell job of pinch hitting . . . And did they? . . . In capital letters!

There was first of all . . . that feminine Will Rogers, Helen McMahan, who deserves a gold plated harp strung with strings from a Persian Kitty . . . There's Douglas Meador . . . who has been responsible for most of my poetry of the last many months . . . whose lariat of shining words roped my heart entirely and keeps it corralled along with his other mavericks . . . Then that dainty and airy bit of fluff, Mary Elaine, who can think of the cleverest doodads I ever read and her one time boss and my old friend Harry Jolly who knocks a home run every time he comes to bat . . . There's my singing band master, who we all know as Dusty . . . No dust lay on his pen, if you ask me, when it came to doing a stint for a country gal gone to town. There's Alta Heacock who has ever been a shining light in the writing world and yet takes time out of her too busy world to put in a wedge for me every time she gets a chance. There's Juanita Thrower who must be busier than Dr. Dafoe on the night the Quints were born, and yet she writes so beautifully and inspiringly that we all wanted to hold our chins up and realize what beauty was still in this old world after reading her stint. There's Moody Wallace who stopped putting his home town on the map long enough to add his clever bit for a meandering pal . . . They're all swell folks . . . I'm glad my friends who read this column got to know them . . . You'll be seeing them in headlines some of these days . . . My greatest thanks however, and my lasting gratitude go to Dr. Winnie Sanger of Oklahoma City, for making the trip possible, There's a pal for you, a trail mate you'd love to take with you when you go over Doug Meador's Trail Dust . . . Could I close this paragraph of my gratitude without mentioning that little half-pint size sidekick of mine whose desk backs mine, Lois Ferris? That's why she's almost a runt, having to do my chores and her's too. Then she has to act like the mamma . . . the bill payer-outer, the clothes layer-inner and I'm afraid she has to look after pappu . . . But shucks . . . I can trust her . . . she's known him too long.

Where will I start
What will I say
To tell you all?
For every day
Was filled with fun
And swell surprise
For I stepped out
With high-toned guys.

There was Dr. Homer C. House and his beautiful song writing wife to entertain us in their cultured home. To introduce us to all the literati of that part of Maryland. There was our Louis Goodyear and Dr. Susan Harmon . . . that stick out in my mind as real folks. But of course all of Dr. House's friends would be. There was Bob and Joy Farrington and their young daughter June, who simply backed their ears and showed us the city, the surrounding history-making country and the swellest time one could ever imagine. They were home folks and didn't act embarrassed as slipped around zig-zaggy over all those marble floors . . . gaped at the gold domes . . . awed and aghed at all the beauty and grandeur of our National Capitol. It is the capitol of the world . . . At last I found out that D.C. means Dear Country, and you feel it every minute you are there. It is ours . . . even the poorest of us feel a perfect right there for it is for us, the people.

Perhaps the most outstanding glimpse of Lincoln Memorial. We had driven around the cherry blossom basin. Just as the lights came on in the city we stopped. There in his great chair of marble sat Mr. Lincoln . . . On his face was that look of tender compassion . . . framed in the reflecting pool just in front of this was the Washington Memorial and just back of that in direct line, was the white dome of the capitol. The cherry blossoms were reflected as the frame for this unusual picture in the reflecting pool . . . The Father of our Country and the savior of our country and the perpetual going forward of our country . . . I was blinded by quick tears, I was weak from the beauty of this scene, and it was one of the many wonders of our City Beautiful.

I listened to Congress
Sat with our Sam
Saw Jack Garner
Meek as a lamb.
I dined at the White House
Supped with Josh Lee
Rode on the tram
In the Big Teepee.
I teached with my friends
I lunched every day
In the loveliest places
In the usual way.
I felt proud and happy
I threw out my chest
For the swellest folks there
Are all from the West.

Yes siree . . . our western folks made them all sit up and listen out there at the white house . . . I was proud as a peacock to claim the most outstanding statesmen as my particular friends . . . The Mas-tingales have made an enviable place for themselves there . . . the Jed Johnsons were swell and all the delegation from Oklahoma made me feel they were glad I came. I met Murey Maverick and his pretty little wife from Texas too . . .

I found all my boy friends with open arms . . . that is their arms were under glass . . . out at Mr. Hoover's G-Men Headquarters . . . There was Pretty Boy who lead the line of famous Oklahomans . . . There was all the artillery of Bonnie Parker and Clyde Barrow . . . Wheewee . . .

I cannot close my Peep Show
I've much too much to tell
I met that sweet voiced Ted Malone
Who made me feel like—Well
Just how his voice effects you
There ain't no one can say
But when he called my name right out

It was my gladdest day.
Shhh, I must tell you this secret. I was trying to be so cityfied. I'd watched how everybody else acted and tried my best, but murder will out . . . Right on my place card the evening of the biggest banquet when Carrie Jacobs Bond was there and Ted and all the other notables this is what the place card said:
Vera Holding fresh from the hills
A country gal plum fulla thrills.
Bye . . . It's great to be HOME.

Graduation exercises will be held Friday night, May 27 at the school auditorium with the Rev. W. H. Whately of Haskell delivering the address.

NO CHICKS ON 75 THOUSAND TEXAS FARMS

COLLEGE STATION—A total of 75,126 Texas farm families, or 15 per cent of all farm families in the state, do not have a poultry flock, according to Geo. P. McCarthy, poultryman of the Extension Service of Texas A. & M. College. McCarthy's statement is based on the 1935 agricultural census.

Among the southern states, only Florida, with 30.7 per cent of her farms without chickens, and Mississippi, with 15.4 per cent poultry-less farms, rank below Texas.

Texas compares favorably with other southern states with her average of 48 chickens per farm on the farms that have poultry. Only Oklahoma, with an average of 50, exceeds Texas in the list of southern states. Representative states from other sections of the nation show Kansas with an average of 97, Oregon 61, Ohio 87, and Maine 55. These figures, McCarthy has stressed, include the commercial flocks.

"I Made a Meter Test of Electric Cookery and it ACTUALLY SAVED $1.14 A MONTH on Fuel and Electric Bills Over a Three-Month Period"

..Proof that Electric Cookery Costs Less

Interview with Mrs. McFall:

Q. First of all, Mrs. McFall, are you pleased with your electric range?

A. Indeed, I am!

Q. Would you recommend it to other women as the coolest, fastest, cleanest and most economical method of cookery you've ever used?

A. Yes. During the 14 years I've been keeping house I've used most of the other types. After making this test, I know that electric cookery is cheaper as well as cooler, faster and cleaner.

Q. With five in your family, how many kilowatt-hours did the meter show your range used on a monthly average during the test period?

A. 109 kilowatt-hours per month.

Q. You get a special low electric cookery rate on this current, don't you?

A. Yes. All over 50 kilowatt-hours cost only 2 1/2c each. Since this same low rate applied to lights and refrigeration, too, we actually reduced our average previous fuel and electric bills by $1.14 a month.

Q. You mean, then, that by using electric cookery, with its lower rate, and by reducing your consumption of other fuel, you had a cooler, cleaner kitchen by far and it actually cost less money?

A. Believe it or not, that is true!

Q. Were there any other savings you noted?

A. Well, during the test period my records showed an average-per-month saving of $3.83 in groceries and incidentals connected with cooking. I give the electric range credit for that, too.

Q. Then your savings totaled $4.97 per month—practically enough to make the monthly payments on an electric range?

A. Yes. But I am prouder of the fact that cooking has been made easier for me and that my kitchen is so cool and clean!

Thirteen Seniors Left Tuesday For Carlsbad Caverns on Annual Outing; Return From Trip Thursday Night

Class Sponsors Accompany Class On Tour

Thirteen members of the '38 senior class of Munday high school left Tuesday morning for Carlsbad, New Mexico where they will visit the Carlsbad Caverns. The trip will be the last time that the class of '38 will be together as a part of the Munday high school.

The students of the class have been raising funds to make the trip for several months and finally reached their goal a few weeks ago. They plan to make their last party as a senior class the most enjoyable one of the year.

Making the trip in one of the Munday school buses were the following students: Joe Albertson, Helen Brown, James Carden, Lorraine Finley, Edith Henslee, Travis Hunter, Mary Moore, John Phillips, Margaret Tiner, DeTroy Trammell, Laverne Eiland, Charles Haynie and Rupert Williams. Williams finished at mid-term.

The class will be accompanied by class sponsors, Miss Mary Couch and Principal L. S. Hardegree and Miss Georgia Dorsey. The party will return Thursday night.

MRS. JOHNSON IS HOSTES TO NEW DEAL PLAYERS

Mrs. Ralph Johnson was hostess to members of the New Deal Bridge Club at her farm home east of the city Wednesday when luncheon was served at the noon hour.

Following the luncheon, the club members played contract bridge, with Mrs. E. M. Roberts receiving the high score prize.

Seated at the luncheon and playing in the bridge games were Mrs. Wade Mahan, Mrs. Jack Mayes, Mrs. E. M. Roberts, Mrs. J. C. Harpham, Mrs. Ike Huskinson, Mrs. Harold Leathers, Mrs. Lawrence Kimsey and the hostess, Mrs. Johnson.

The children played games during the afternoon and gifts were presented the honorees after which refreshments of cake and punch were served the guests.

Attending were: Larry Kimsey, Ralph Cabanes, Donald Waheed, Billy Mitchell, Lyndal Smith, Ray Longino, Patsy Bryan, Gwyndalee Smith, Patricia Blanton, Charlotte Williams, Jean Green, the honorees, Paul and Joe Rayburn and the host, Jackie Mayes.

MUNDAY GIRL IS NAMED REPORTER FOR DAPS CLUB

WACO, Texas.—Lucille Neff of Munday, has been elected reporter for the Baylor university DAP club, a social organization on the Baylor university campus. Miss Neff will serve during the next fall quarter when Clar Mae Borroum of Beville is president.

The DAPS voted to contribute to the Baylor Centennial foundation Union building funds that will go toward construction of the new Union building for students and alumni on the campus of the Baptist school.

PERSONALITIES IN MUSIC

LEOPOLD GODOWSKY, A. S. C. A. P.

By Daniel I. McNamara

SEVEN years ago, at the age of sixty, with world fame as a piano virtuoso and composer of hundreds of works for piano, Leopold Godowsky, A. S. C. A. P., started to pioneer in a new field. Not content to live with memories of success as artist, composer and editor, his restless genius spurred him to new endeavor.

In seven years he has done an amazing work, creating a rich library of pianoforte compositions for the left hand only. In this hitherto neglected musical realm, he has disclosed to pianists an astonishing development of the possibilities of the left hand.

Had Godowsky done nothing else, his fame would have been secure through these recent compositions. Now that he has rounded out his impressive collection of this new type of work, he has returned to his earlier compositions, and is devoting himself to their revision. It was on the basis of these earlier works that he was elected to the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers and the rights of public performance for profit of his copyrighted works were made available to ASCAP licensees.

13, 1870, a son of Dr. Mathew and Anna Lewin Godowsky, Leopold Godowsky was a concert pianist at the age of nine. He entered the Berlin Hochschule at fourteen, and later studied in Paris under Saint-Saens. Before he reached his teens, he toured Russia, Poland and Germany as a concert pianist, and at fourteen made his first American tour, playing in many American cities between 1884 and 1886.

In 1895, he became director of the piano department of the Chicago Conservatory of Music, remaining in that position until 1900. Several years of concert tours and intensive composition followed.

In 1909, he was created Imperial Royal Professor of the highest rank by the Emperor of Austria and named director of the Imperial Royal Meisterschule for Piano at the Imperial Royal Academy of Music in Vienna. In 1912, he was made editor-in-chief of the Art Publication Society of St. Louis. Godowsky's studio in Riverside Drive, New York City, is the scene of frequent impromptu concerts of chamber music directed by the maestro. Sometimes Albert Einstein, distinguished mathematician and warm friend of Godowsky, is first violinist at these musicales.

Godowsky keeps abreast of the latest developments of physics and chemistry, delights in discussions of scientific trends.

Godowsky is an aviation enthusiast. He flew before passenger carrying had reached the commercial stage. One of his first flights was from Paris to Morocco fifteen years ago, when flight over the Mediterranean was accompanied by hazards.

He likes to fly today, he says. In the air his mind is composed—and he can think out the intricate arrangements of his compositions for the left hand.

Two Births Reported

Dr. A. A. Smith of this city, reported two births this week. Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Guinn of this city became the parents of a baby girl Tuesday, May 24, at their home here; and Mr. and Mrs. L. Pierce announced the arrival of a baby girl at their home west of the city.

To Wichita Falls

Jack Mayes, manager of the Graham Mill & Elevator Co., of this city, was in Wichita Falls Monday attending to business.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Harpham of this city were in Wichita Falls last Friday attending to business.

W.M.S. MET IN PENDLETON HOME MONDAY

The Methodist Missionary Society met in the home of Mrs. H. A. Pendleton Monday evening with Mrs. S. E. McStay acting as assistant hostesses with Mrs. Pendleton.

At the opening of the program Mrs. Lee Haymes gave the devotional and Mrs. Giddings led the group in prayer.

Mrs. J. C. Campbell gave a chapter from the society study book, "The Life of Paul."

Following the program a business session was had and then refreshments were served to 18 members of the society. Mrs. Ed Lowe was introduced as a new member.

Monday night following the graduation exercises, Miss Mary Couch and Mr. L. S. Hardegree, sponsors of the senior class entertained the seniors and several guests at the Tiner Drug Store.

Each of the seniors and the following additional guests were seated for refreshments of ice cream and cookies: Gerald C. Mann, commencement speaker, Mr. Pulliam, press agent for Mr. Mann; Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Davenport, Mr. and Mrs. Jim McDonald, Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Bass, Boyde Carley, Miss Mildred Kennedy, Miss Georgia Dorsey and the host and hostess.

James Carden, Joe Albertson and John Phillips were each called upon to make impromptu talks. Each of the boys were Mogul gridsters and were presented with gold footballs Monday morning.

To Fort Worth

Mr. and Mrs. Riley B. Harrell spent the past week end in Fort Worth where Mr. Harrell attended the Texas League of Municipalities. They left Saturday for Wolfe City, Texas, where they visited Mr. Harrell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Harrell.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Holder, Sr., visited Mrs. Cretia Brooks last Sunday at Haskell.

GOREE HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB MEETING

The Goree Home Demonstration Club had an all day meeting Tuesday, May 17, in the home of Mrs. J. E. Becknell. A surprise birthday dinner was prepared for Mrs. H. E. McMahan, each member bringing a covered dish. To her surprise she found her chair full of nice gifts from the club members and the cake was the center of attraction, decorated for the occasion.

Immediately after lunch our agent, Miss Astin, began the demonstration, which was on making sponge cake. She prepared an angel food cake and iced it. While the cake baked the club had its business meeting. Those present were: Mesdames H. E. McMahan, J. W. Laningham, Will Couch, Floyd Conwell, Mack Tynes, John Ed Phillips, J. T. Murdock and Mrs. J. E. Becknell and Miss Nina Astin.

Miss Merle Dingus visited her sister, Miss Maxie Dingus, in Fort Worth last week end.

Mrs. Joe Bailey King spent Monday in Abilene visiting.

Don't Blame the Car

Less than 10 per cent of the fatal and non-fatal crashes on our highways last year were caused by mechanical failure, according to The Travelers Insurance Company's analysis of the 1937 automobile accident experience.

In more than 90 per cent of the accidents, the vehicle was found to have been in apparently good condition. The trouble lay in human failure.

In the vast majority of cases it is the driver or the pedestrian and not the car that causes accidents.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

By JULIAN CAPERS JR.

AUSTIN—Whenever the State of Texas won a court victory in one of the innumerable lawsuits which have grown out of the regulatory authority exercised by the Railroad Commission, there has been a rush to claim the credit for the victory. The Commission, whose most active member is Ernest O. Thompson, originates the regulatory orders. The legal defense of the orders fall under the jurisdiction of Attorney General Bill McCraw. Both Thompson and McCraw have been more or less openly running for Governor for the past two years. The State has won a lot of law suits during that time, and there have been a considerable variety of claims and counter claims for the credit for these victories.

But this week, when the Supreme Court of the U.S. handed down a decision reversing the court of civil appeals at Austin, which had upheld a Commission order reducing the rate charged by Lone Star Gas Co. by 20 per cent in 275 Texas cities and towns, and directly affecting the pocket-books of well over a million Texans there was an impressive silence in official quarters at Austin.

The Supreme Court opinion, as quoted in Washington press dispatches apparently upheld the procedure followed by Thompson and the Railroad Commission in the long drawn out valuation proceedings at Fort Worth, and ruled that McCraw and his staff had erred in the subsequent court procedure, when they urged and the Texas appeals court accepted "in response to the State's pressure," and "untenable standard of proof" in the attack upon the Commission's orders.

What Happens Now?

But regardless of who gets credit for the legal defeat, chief interest in the towns whose gas bills are affected, centered upon what the next step in the five year fight will be. Some lawyers have believed that the Supreme Court ruling would send the fight back into the District Court at Austin, others that it might have to back track no further than the Austin Court of Civil Appeals. The Supreme Court decision, following well established legal precedent, used five words where one would have sufficed. So that it will doubtless take several weeks study by attorneys to determine and translate into English that a newspaper reader can understand, just what the Court did decide. Meanwhile, State officials were so busy campaigning for votes that they have not had time, at the week-end, to give the opinion study and to outline a future course of action.

HOME EDUCATION

"The Child's First School is the Family"

By Dr. James E. Pope

How Can We Educate for Peace?

THE CHILD AND A SENSE OF VALUES

A child cannot be expected to have an instinctive understanding of values. Take the case of little Ann, whose mother owned two vases. One of these was a pretty affair from the ten-cent store, the other a priceless thing from the Orient. Ann thought the ten-cent vase with the dragons painted on it was perfectly beautiful, and she was delighted when she was permitted to fill it each day with flowers. She was very careful, but accidents just will happen, especially among children. One day she dropped the vase, shattering the lovely dragons and birds. She was stricken with grief, and hurried to tell her mother. And, O, the relief the child experienced when Mother said reassuringly, "Never mind, darling, we will get another one when we go to town. Just try to be more careful!"

Ann did try to be careful, as carefulness goes in the child world. It really had been her fault that the dragon-vase was broken, and she knew it. But a few days later when the vase from the Orient was shattered, it was not through any actual fault of Ann's. She had never handled the valuable vase, having one of her own which suited her perfectly, but neither had she been forbidden to handle it. But as her own flower-container was gone, she one day lifted the vase from the table and started to her mother to ask if she might put roses in it. The dog tripped her, she fell, and the vase was broken.

Mother, heartbroken over the loss of her treasure, scolded unmercifully. Poor Ann could not understand it. Of course, she was sorry about breaking the vase, just as she had been sorry before. But why was her mother making such a fuss and scolding so about this, when she was unconcerned about the other, and to Ann, much more beautiful, vase? It seemed inconsistent to her baby mind, and a child cannot understand inconsistency.

Ann was bewildered and hurt at receiving so severe a scolding when she had committed no deliberate wrong. How much better it would have been, had her mother, refraining from harsh words, admitted the child freely into her grief and disappointment and explained to her carefully the difference between the two vases. The incident, then, instead of driving a separating wedge between the mother and daughter, would have formed an additional bond of sympathetic understanding.

bring a new day in the life of the church. Should you be disturbed early some morning by callers don't be disturbed, it more than likely will be a friend asking you to give the church part of your time on Sunday.

Can we give two good reasons why Munday should not arouse herself spiritually and start a new program for God and her people? It might be a lifesaver for someone. Very few people really put their best self out at any task. "Few persons have courage enough to appear as good as they really are." Who is it that is getting capacity returns from their inner being. Let's move into a new day within our own being.

Two Mundayites In McMurry Will Receive Diplomas

Largest graduating class in the history of McMurry College will hear the commencement address by Rev. W. H. Mansfield, pastor of the Trinity Methodist church at El Paso, at the college auditorium. The service will be held Thursday, June 2, at 10 a.m.

Fifty-eight degrees will be conferred to the June class, while 22 others, to receive degrees in August, will be in the audience.

Baccalaureate sermon is slated Sunday, May 29, at St. Paul's Methodist church, with Dr. C. A. Spraggins, pastor of a Wichita Falls Methodist church, in the pulpit.

Also on the day's schedule will be an art exhibit at the college's art studio from 3 to 6 p.m., and a musical concert at the auditorium at 5 p.m.

CHURCH NEWS.

MUNDAY METHODIST CHURCH

Now that our schools are out and we have more freedom from daily routine service and fewer outside attractions it occurs to me that the church might do some profitable work by contacting the youth in various type interest groups.

The Young People's Assembly meets June 6th, at McMurry College, Abilene, and our Christian Culture Camp is to be held at Lueders July 11-15, but only a few of our B.Y.P.U. will be able to attend these. We hope to have the Vacation Bible school for the children again this early Summer, then our regular routine services. This will leave a lot of leisure time on the hands of the youth of our community; what shall we do about it?

We invite you to our services Sunday 11 a.m., and 8 p.m. The theme for Sunday morning will be "Removing the Cellophane." Will you pray that this service may

Gas Company Wins Biggest Rate Case; Wins Nine Others

Lone Star Gas company's victory in the famous gate rate case decided in its favor by the United States Supreme Court is the climax to a long series of court victories by the company, according to company officials. Since 1929, the company has won nine cases that have reached final decision.

In the present case, after six years of exhaustive investigation by the Texas Railroad Commission and the Courts, the company has established the fact that the railroad commission's order reducing its rate from 40 cents per 1,000 cubic feet to 32 cents was unjust and confiscatory. The Supreme Court sustained the verdict of a jury in the district court at Austin which held that the rate ordered by the commission was unfair and has returned the case to the Court of Civil Appeals for judgment accordingly.

This case, started by the railroad commission in 1932, was the one in which the commission assailed the company's advertising, laying down a policy which virtually would have prevented the company from advertising had it been upheld. While the commission did not eliminate the advertising expense in this case, it inferred that most of its advertising was for political purposes and stated as a positive policy that only the local distributing companies should advertise and not the Lone Star Gas Company.

The Supreme Court, according to company attorneys, in effect held that since the jury as the trier of the facts found the Commission's order confiscatory upon the conflicting facts, the Court of Civil Appeals could not overturn the jury's verdict on the ground that the company had failed to properly segregate its Texas and Oklahoma property. The High Court further held that the evidence was sufficient in support of its claim that the commission's rate was confiscatory.

The court held that the gas company had by appropriate evidence shown the commission's order to be confiscatory, that the jury so found, that under the State practice are Court of Civil Appeals was not empowered to substitute its findings for the jury and trial judge upon conflicting evidence, and that therefore the case should be remanded to the Court of Civil Appeals for a judgment accordingly.

The other major cases won by the company since 1929 involved rates in Fort Worth, Royce City, Wichita Falls and Oklahoma, and regulatory issues in Sherman, Wichita Falls and Fort Worth.

"Gambling With Souls" Scene

Film Will Show Saturday Night At Roxy Theatre

What is said to be the real low-down, laid bare and tearing the lid off one of the most amazing sin syndicates in the nation, will be seen at the Roxy Saturday night May 28th, 11:30, when "Gambling With Souls," one of the year's most daring pictures that has been seen in a long time. "Gambling With Souls" promises to amaze its audiences with its daring expose of the "call girl" racket and what went on behind the sinful scenes of a great metropolitan city until the forces of law and order called a halt and wiped out one of the most shameful blots on the escutcheon of that city.

Advance reports on this picture describe it as a powerful indictment against crime, vividly depicted in an unexpurgated manner, revealing the devastating influences that hang over every unsuspecting woman who is foolish or weak enough to seek riches and luxury that lie beyond her normal reach. An imposing array of screen names fortify the cast of "Gambling With Souls" including Martha Chapin, Bryant Washburn, Wheeler Oakman, Gaston Glass, Ed Keane, Florence Dudley, Robert Fraser and Vera Stedman.

World's Tallest Human Visited Here On Friday

Robert Wadlow, tallest human in the world, was an unexpected visitor in this city Friday morning last week, when he paid the Fair Store a visit.

Wadlow was accompanied by his father and a representative of the Peters Shoe Company. The youth, 20 years old, is now 8 feet, 8 and one-half inches tall, wears a 27 shoe, and weighs 467 pounds.

Tall... well, he stood beside his seven-passenger car and his waistline was higher than the car top... his head was above the awning on the block the Fair Store is located in, and he practically got down on his hands and knees to crawl into the Fair Store and Eiland Drug Store. The youth is still growing.

Sixty of the 627 students continuing their education at Texas A. & M. College through part-time employment on NYA Student Aid jobs are assisting in developing a 75-acre Community Park. Four picnic units have been completed, a 5-acre tree nursery developed and roads and trails established. J. C. Kellam, State Youth Director, has been advised.

A Youth Community Center at Clarksville, built under an NYA Work Project, will soon be completed offering recreational facilities for youths in Red River County.

Cotton Allotments Are Set For 133 Counties of Texas; Release 8 to 10 County Allotments Daily

$27,000,000.00 is Paid Texas Farmers in 1937 Program

New Home Ec Head At College

Cotton acreage allotments have been set for all cotton farms in 133 Texas counties, according to Geo. Slaughter, Wharton, chairman of the State AAA committee, who pointed out that the state AAA office at Texas A & M College was releasing the allotments at the rate of 8 to 10 counties a day.

Meanwhile the bulk of the payments under the 1937 Agricultural Conservation Program have been completed. The state office has certified 160,218 applications for payments totaling $27,012,603.66. The state committee expects that approximately two hundred thousand applications will be received, and that total payments will be in the neighborhood of 35 million dollars.

Payments in many counties have been held up pending the approval of deduction factors for administrative expenses within the county. This factor must be determined before any payments can be made. Slaughter said that the deduction factor had been approved for all except 7 counties in the state.

Payments under the 1937 program are dependent upon the volume of soil conserving crops and practices carried out on the individual farms, Slaughter explained. Such crops include legumes for soil improvement, while the practices feature terracing to hold soil and rainfall.

CHOPPING COTTON 4 Acres an Hour

with SCHARBAUER'S TRACTOR-DRAWN DIXIE COTTON CHOPPER

What Farmers Say...

"We used the machines to chop 600 acres, and they were operated with colored labor. The machines were far better than hoe hands in leaving our stands. Where we used them we had to hoe only once with the hoe, but where we used hoe help we had to go over it three times... the machines saved at least $1,000 in hoe help."—L. L. & J. J. Walker, Highland, Miss.

"I bought 2 cotton choppers and think they are wonderful. I chopped at least 200 acres of cotton with them at a cost of 10 to 12 cents an acre."—C. C. Moore, Ita Pena, Miss.

"I am fully pleased with the cotton chopper. We used it on 70 acres and it was operated by my son. The machine chopped cotton to a stand better than the average hoe hand."—Frank Reddick, Richardson, Texas.

"I am well pleased with the work the machine does. It saves from 50% to 75% of the hand labor required to grow cotton and leaves the drill in a good state of cultivation."—J. W. Jennings, Plainview, Texas.

"I chopped 100 acres with the machine last year and will chop all my crop with it this year. One man can cultivate twice as much cotton with the chopper as he could without it. I would recommend this machine to anyone who has as much as 40 acres in cotton."—A. R. Tarvin, McKinney, Texas

"I operated 4 Dixie Cotton Choppers with tractor power. I reduced my hoeing bill at least 50%, and by thinning the cotton out as rapidly as it did, and cultivating the drill, it is hard to calculate its value to me."—R. P. Chaney, Sheriff and Tax Collector, Greenville, Miss.

"I chopped 160 acres with my Dixie Cotton Chopper and like the work fine."—S. N. Reed, Cotton Breeder, O'Brien, Texas.

"I operated my chopper myself and enjoyed it. I am farming about 400 acres and chopped every row of it. I would not take $500 for my Dixie Cotton Chopper if I could not get another like it."—Will Papendorf, Ohio, Texas.

"The Dixie Cotton Chopper will save the farmers a lot of money. It did everything I claimed for it... cultivated the drill and chopped the cotton to a stand."—M. V. Anderson, Sugarland Industries, Sugarland, Texas

BRUCE BARTON SEES RETURN TO "MIDDLE ROAD"

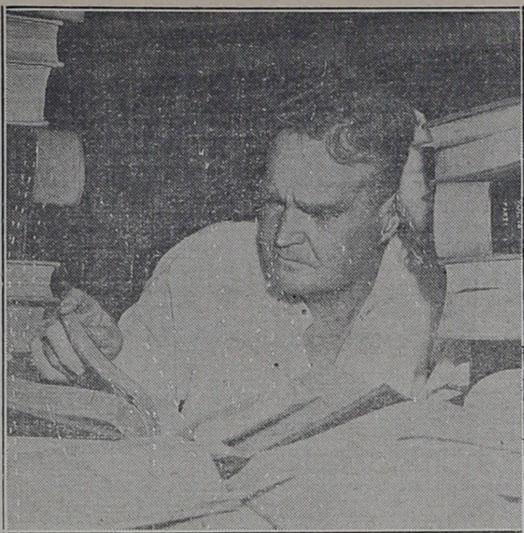

Writer, Now Congressman, Says "Business Must Learn to Get Along with Government."

FEELING that conditions have reached the lowest possible point when youngsters converge on Washington and unashamedly demand three-and-one-half billions of dollars to keep them in comforts and provide them with educational, and openly threaten governmental representatives with "the consequences" if they don't hand over the money, Bruce Barton, prominent business man and writer who last year launched a career in politics, has declared that the time has come for America to take a middle road back to economic sanity.

"With business and government both doubting their own infallibility," said Barton in a Cosmopolitan Magazine article published today, "what is the next step? People obviously are getting tired of undigested legislation, name calling and hullabaloo. They are impatient with Big Business and Big Government alike. The left wingers are losing their lure, and the tough nuts on the right are being cracked. The country is about ready to swing back to the middle of the road."

In his article, Mr. Barton severely criticizes both Big Business and the New Deal. "Big Business," he said, "took more than his share; and when the people began to criticize him for it, he clung to tradition and his rights until the slow process of law actually threw hurdles in his way." "Business," says Barton, "so capable and ingenious in improving and selling its product, was far less progressive in its human relations. Much of the time it was behind public opinion when it should have been ahead."

Concerning the New Deal, he says, "We may fairly say that the major problems which the New Dealers promised to settle are still far from settlement. There were at least ten million persons out of work in 1933. More than forty billion dollars have been spent, and the public debt has reached a terrifying total. But some ten millions of willing workers are still out of work. Now let business neither sulk nor exult. Now let it humble itself and step into government and say: "Together we shall serve—you with the power that must be supreme, and I with all the science, skill and resources which I have learned to

Mr. Barton is resigned to the fact of unemployment. He says: "Unemployment is world wide. Unemployment is the biggest business in the United States. Government and industry merely add to their burdens and expense by trying to blame it on each other." Although Mr. Barton has long been a regular contributor to many national magazines, the story appearing in the June issue of the Cosmopolitan is his first political article since assuming his duties last January as Congressman from the 17th Congressional (silk stocking) District in New York.

Knox City Ends Successful Year As 14 Graduate

In one of the most successful years in history of the school, Knox City high school had fourteen graduates in this year's senior class that received diplomas.

Graduation exercises were held last Monday evening in the school auditorium and commencement sermon will be delivered Sunday night, May 29, by the Rev. U. S. Sherrill, pastor of the Methodist church of that city.

A. M. Whitis is completing his first year as superintendent of the schools, and announced that additional units added this year now gives the school a total of 25.

Football will probably be inaugurated into the school again next year, and the high school band has been fitted out in uniforms this year and will be larger and play a much better type of music next year, Whitis predicted.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Our summer meeting will be held two weeks following the seventh of August. Dr. J. Pat Horton, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Plainview, will do the preaching. Rev. Virgil Reynolds will lead the music. Reynolds is one of the best musicians in Texas. More to say later.

Next Sunday's Sunday School lesson is "Liquor's Effect Upon Working Efficiency." Whether we consider it from the physical, mental, moral, or spiritual the effect is continuously evil and destructive. "The old open saloons were run exclusively by men and patronized in the main by adult men. Then a saloon keeper was too decent to prostitute the home by employing girls and women as barmaids, or to lure men into a 'grog shop.' In 1937 there were 1,350,000 girls and women thus employed." God speed the day when we will arise in the strength of our manhood and womanhood and save our boys and girls from the debauchery of the liquor traffic. Let's not sell our virtue, and honor for a few paltry dollars.

SCOUTING THE SCOUTS

MUNDAY, TEXAS, TROOP
Cecil Cooper, Scoutmaster
Robert Greene, Assistant
Henry Dingus, Reporter
Meeting Place—Legion Hut

The parts for the Scout plays weren't given out at the Scout meeting last Monday night. This was due in part to the fact that there were only sixteen Scouts present, and partly to the fact that the plays haven't been typed yet. However, we are planning to go to work on them soon, so watch out for them.

The reason there were so few members present was probably because of the baccalaureate services which were being held on our meeting night. We have decided to change the time of our meeting from seven forty-five to eight o'clock.

We still haven't changed our meeting place to the school building as we plan to; but, more than likely, we will get to go there next Monday night after we finish our business meeting at the Legion Hall.

One thing which the Scouts notice with anxiety is that we have slightly more than a month to finish preparing for our next first class tests, if we are to receive our badges at the next Scout Court of Honor, which will be held in Seymour the last Thursday in June.

The Scouts attending the last meeting were Dick Harrell, J. E. Reeves, Jr., Harold Longino, Hugh Longino, Charles Baker, Bobbie Haymes, Willard Reeves, D. P. Morgan, Jr., Jimmie Lee Haney, Wayne Blacklock, David Eiland, Sargent Lowe, G. C. Conwell, and Howard Payne Shannon.

All Scouts are especially urged to be at the meeting next Monday night at the Legion Hall. We will probably go to the school building after we meet at the usual place. (P.S.: I heard something about a treasure hunt in the near future, so be there and find out about it.)

A National Youth Administration Work Project has been approved employing youths assisting in constructing a bandstand at Stephen F. Austin State Teachers College in Nacogdoches.

T.C.U. Students Select Favorites In Campus Voting

FORT WORTH, May 24.—When it comes to current literature, the Joe College and Betty Coed of Texas Christian University will take "Come With the Wind" as their favorite book and "Esquire" as their favorite magazine. The latter, although calling itself a "gentleman's periodical," is a wide favorite with both sexes on the campus.

"The Buccaneer" was the best recent movie, according to Froglund. "Of Human Hearts" as a close runner-up. Spencer Tracy and Myrna Loy won the favorite actor and actress honors, with Frederic March, Dorothy Lamour and Loretta Young not far behind.

The favorite movie short of the T.C.U. show-goers is Donald Duck by a wide margin. Pete Smith shorts are rated next best.

Popeye and Lil' Abner ruse as comic strip favorites, with Popeye the winner. Favorite campus color is blue, food, steak; flower, rose; sport, football.

The most admirable trait in the opposite sex is sincerity, with personality close behind. The most objectionable trait is conceit.

300 FINISH AT C. I. A. COLLEGE EXERCISES SOON

DENTON, May 24—Class reunions, receptions, programs, banquets, and in conclusion—graduation exercises, will fill the calendar at Texas State College for Women from June 3 through June 6, when Homecoming and the thirty-fifth annual Commencement Exercises are combined.

More than 300 girls have applied to receive degrees, the largest number in the history of the college. Bachelor of Arts diplomas will be awarded to 80 students, bachelor of science to 211, and master's to 16. Dr. L. H. Hubbard, president of the college will make the commencement address.

Homecoming on Saturday, June 4, to which over 9,000 exes have been invited, will include a Reunion Breakfast, business meeting, club luncheon, administrative tea, banquet and president's reception. Baccalaureate sermon Sunday will be given by the Right Rev. Harry T. More, Bishop of the Diocese of Dallas. Commencement is at 9 a.m., Monday.

A crew of National Youth Administration rural youths have assisted the Randall county agricultural agent in measuring 18,200 acres for soil erosion control work, conducting field and pasture surveys on 17,270 acres, constructing 100 check dams, and surveying 780 acres for irrigation ditches.

To Guarantee Dr. Pepper Perfection WE SEAL OUT EVEN THE CORK

Look for this WHITE SPOT inside every crown

Plus-protection

FOR EVERY BOTTLE NOW WITH "PANASEAL"

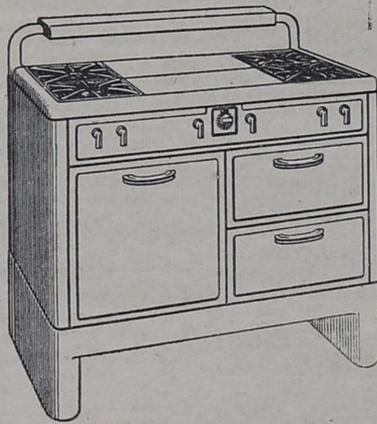

When you buy your Dr. Pepper today, look inside the crown. In addition to the cork lining, note the new, film-like, white disc. Note the round imprint of the bottle's lip. See how this impervious new seal has sheathed the liquid from contact, even with cork. Sparkle stays in. Even faint cork tastes, odors and cork-crums stay out.

When only plain, cork-lined crowns were available, we always bought the best. Now, that the former-best has been improved by the "Panaseal" patent-crown, we buy them ... at much greater cost. The container, at whatever cost, is none too good for a product that can't be improved.

Do you know that the taxes paid by your gas company last year amounted to about 72 cents per meter per month? So summer bills of a dollar or two hardly cover taxes—an operating cost over which we have no control.

Fresh Vegetables TASTE BETTER ...LOOK BETTER WHEN COOKED WITH GAS

FOR rounding out a healthful, well-balanced meal there is nothing like the first tender vegetables of early summer. How you cook them is all-important if their healthful vitamins and minerals, their natural flavor and color are to be retained. A 1938 gas range excels in boiling vegetables as they should be—with controlled heat, little water and in covered utensil.

Time, gas and food values are saved with the improved gas simmer burners. They provide the most flexible and accurately controlled cooking heat yet devised in a cooking appliance. At the click of a valve they give you the exact shading of heat required for any cooking job. Because of this exact temperature control, kitchen heat and humidity are held to minimum. See these new gas ranges and learn all about their many improvements that make cooking surer, cooler and easier.

Only the improved gas simmer burners on 1938 gas ranges give an accurately controlled boiling heat at the "click" of a valve. They save gas... keep kitchen cooler.

Ford Exhibit At New York World's Fair

THE theme of the Ford Motor Company's exhibit building at the New York World's Fair in 1939 will be prophetic of the advances America may expect in transportation in coming decades, according to an announcement by Edsel Ford, president of the company.

Based upon an exposition of the institutional character of the Ford company and the fundamental policies which have directed its growth during the past 35 years, the fair exhibit will reach its climax in "The Road of Tomorrow," an elevated highway more than half a mile long, rising upon a series of spiral ramps, traversing the borders of a patio and finally circling the main building on a deep setback at the top of the walls.

The exhibit, in four rather distinct parts, will include an entrance rotunda facing the main west gate, a spacious Manufacturing Hall, a patio, with pools, playing fountains and large rest areas, and the elevated road. From the west side of the patio, steps will rise to a broad mezzanine. There Ford V-8 and Lincoln-Zephyr cars will load passengers for the ride over "The Road of Tomorrow."

From the loading platform the cars will pass to the south, enter the spiral ramps, climbing to the upper level and following the elevated highway as it passes over the mezzanine, west along the south wall of Manufacturing Hall, through a tunnel lined with photomurals; thence circling the top of the building, through a glass tunnel high in the Rotunda; down the ramp to the second level, around the patio and back to the starting point.

At night flood lighting will fall upon the cars as they circle the highway high on the walls of Manufacturing Hall, playing moving shadows on the building walls, in full sight of the whole fair grounds. The building will occupy the highest location on the grounds. It will be decorated in white, red and blue and will be floodlighted at night.

48 GRADUATED IN ELEMENTARY SCHOOL FRIDAY

L. M. Palmer Presents Students Diplomas

Forty-eight students of the Munday elementary school were given diplomas last Friday evening in the elementary school auditorium by L. M. Palmer, principal, in the graduation exercises for the seventh grade.

After the invocation by Rev. W. H. Albertson, pastor of the Munday Baptist Church, James Paul Nelson gave the welcome address to the large audience that witnessed the graduation.

Remainder of the program follows: Essay, Miss Patricia Hannah; Quartet composed of grade students, "Follow the Glean"; Reading "Tom Sawyer's Love Affair," by Cora Jean Martin; class oration delivered by Jane Alexander.

Class pessimist was Frankie Boone and his remarks were very witty and well received; Octet, "The Call of the Sea," by grade students; Awarding honor students, by Supt. J. H. Bass; Presentation of diplomas, L. M. Palmer; Presentation of perfect attendance certificates, L. M. Palmer; Farewell song, class, Rev. H. A. Longino, pastor of the Methodist Church offered the benediction.

Class motto is "Onward, never backward," and the class flowers are the same as the school colors, Purple and Gold. White rose buds is the class flower.

Inspect School Plant

Mr. Thomas, superintendent of the Spur schools, and four members of the Spur school board, were in Munday Wednesday inspecting the new elementary school building of Munday. R. A. Taylor, secretary of the board, and a former Goree and Vera man, was one of the members here.

Gerald C. Mann's Address To the Class of '38

Gerald C. Mann, prominent Dallas attorney, in the commencement address, told the members of the graduating class of the Munday high school Monday night that they were here to live happy, successful and worthwhile lives and pointed out how they should strive to attain their goal.

"The present is important," Mann declared. "We are now enjoying God's gift to man—life. Let us live our lives completely and fully. The time to be happy is now—today."

Urging the graduates not to consider the grass greener in the other fellow's yard, Mann stated that there are the same opportunities in Munday that may be found in other cities.

"Don't think you have to go afar to make a success," he said. "Whether you live happy, successful, worthwhile lives depends not on where you are but on what you are. This community is calling for good merchants, good farmers, good housewives. It is up to you to fill the bill."

"To live worthwhile lives, get the proper perspective on success. We are constantly comparing ourselves with the wrong people. If you wish to measure yourself then compare yourself with people of your own age, your own opportunities, your own type of work, and your own native gifts."

"One of the greatest things we all can learn is to get a sense of values. When we are able to distinguish between those things which are veneer, sham and camouflage and those fundamental virtues and attainments that are enduring—then we will have laid the foundation for a successful, happy and worthwhile life."

"Learn to get along with other people," Mann also stressed. "More than half the failures in the business world today are due to the fact that those involved had not learned to get along with other people. The things that determine your daily happiness or your daily misery, your success or your failure, are going to be simple things. Don't overlook the trifles."

"Learn to get along with other people. To do this we must recognize that we are all human beings and are going to behave like them. Put yourself in the other man's shoes and see his problems through his eyes for a better understanding of human relationships."

"And finally, to love happy, contented, worthwhile lives, resolve to put your trust in a Supreme Being—someone to whom you can turn for guidance, and help when all others have failed. It is not the mark of a weakling to believe

Lions Not Gents! At Least Not Some Lions!

Anger, anguish, embarrassment, throwing of dishes at each other, brick tossing, ungentlemanly insinuations towards fellow members and various other "low-brow" stuff featured the regular Lions Club luncheon Wednesday noon at the Eiland Hotel.

The Eiland Hotel lobby was really the only major casualty when debris after the storm was surveyed. No, you're wrong—it was just merely the program, which Lion Jimmy Harpham, assisted by Lions Davenport, Mahan and Carley participated in. In short, it was a sham fight over the fact that there was no program, and yet it was the program. Figure it out for yourself.

During the saner moments of the meeting the Lions passed unanimously that they would bear half the cost of the recent child health clinic from the club treasury. The club was more than pleased with in God. It is not the mark of a coward to follow his way. Read the pages of time. Observe the men whose works and lives have endured. They have been those who followed the dictates of an educated and enlightened conscience."

Possum Kingdom Project

On May 20th the Federal Power Commission authorized the issuance of a major license to the Brazos River Conservation and Reclamation District to construct, operate, and maintain an hydro-electric project on the Brazos River known as the "Possum Kingdom" project. This project consists of a dam, a water power plant, and a reservoir having a storage capacity of approximately 750,000 acre feet. The dam and power plant are to be located on the Brazos River, approximately 18 miles northwest of Mineral Wells, Texas, and will be 154 feet high, as measured from the bed of the river. The Power plant will contain two units each of 10,000 kilowatts capacity with provision for an additional unit of 10,000 kilowatts making a total ultimate installation of 30,000 kilowatts, equivalent to about 40,000 horsepower. The dam will be financed in part by a government grant of $4,500,000 the remainder of funds will be raised through the issuance and sale of bonds. Thus endeth another fight lost by the Power the results of the clinic, with practically 100 per cent of the patients being vaccinated, and they feel that the organization and the P.T.A. have accomplished considerable in that the board of trustees has passed a resolution requiring vaccinations of children before they enroll in the system.

Reports were also heard from E. W. Harrell, chairman of the committee to work out a program of recreation for the children of the city in cooperation with the Munday Chamber of Commerce. W. V. Tiner also talked on the subject.

All in all, the meeting was very enjoyable—after the program was over, at any rate.

Trust, through dissolution of an injunction by the Supreme Court, on the decision rendered in January of this year. Cities desiring cheap electricity for their citizens should place themselves in line and communicate with the Brazos river authorities at once.

The heart of the 1938 farm bill made two principal changes in existing law, outside of simplifying procedure and giving the small farmers more benefit payments. First, payments of benefits for diverting a per centage of their acreage from cotton to some soil building crops, and second, imposing drastic marketing quotas on cotton, tobacco, wheat, corn and rice with a penalty for planting above the acreage allotment. Marketing quotas under the law were not effective until approved by 2-3 of the farmers. It will be remembered that the cotton belt voted on their marketing quota March 12th, with an overwhelming per cent of the cotton producers favoring the imposition of marketing quotas. The vote by counties in my district was as follows:
