Funeral Services For Mother of Mrs. Haymes Tuesday

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the First Baptist Church of Plainview, Texas, for Mrs. F. M. Willis, 64, mother of Mrs. Lee Haymes of this city.

Mrs. Willis succumbed to a stroke of paralysis at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. M. Wyatt, Sunday night at Midland, Texas. She was known to several local citizens as she had visited quite often in the Haymes home during the past few years.

Funeral oration was given by Rev. J. Pat Horton, pastor of the Plainview Baptist Church, assisted by Rev. Joe Haymes, presiding elder of the Amarillo district, who is a brother of Lee Haymes. Burial was in the family burial lot in the Plainview cemetery.

Surviving include the following children: Mrs. Lee Haymes, Munday; Mrs. A. W. Wyatt, Midland, Texas; O. R. Willis, and Mrs. Ace Cain, both of Hollywood, Calif.; and Mrs. Otis McClain of Plainview, Texas.

Remodel Building For Holder Grocery And Meat Market

The store will be remodeled and redecorated for the Holder Grocery and Market, which will move into the building by July 1st, D. E. Holder, manager announced this week.

County Agent Rice Urges Farmers To Fight Grasshopper Plague

With grasshoppers increasing in numbers daily in Knox county, W. W. Rice, county agent, called for wholesale cooperation of all farmers in a county-wide war on the destructive insects. To date they have done most damage to oats, with wheat coming in for some of the ravages of the insects, but they are now beginning encroachments into young cotton where most damage is feared. Acreage loss has mounted during the week, some estimating that 2,500 acres had been laid waste by the insect horde.

Poison, bran and cottonseed hulls are free to farmers for the asking, Rice stated, and he urged that they take advantage of the poison to combat the hoppers. The poison and bran are furnished by the federal government and the hulls are donated by the county. Broadcast of the poison was declared more successful in putting it out, as piling the poison in piles will prove fatal to livestock if they eat enough. Some livestock have already died from the hopper poison.

The Sale will open Friday, June 17, and run for 15 big selling days. You are referred to their circulars for their many bargains that are on sale during the event. The circulars were printed by the Times Commercial department.

Beautification Winners

PROGRAM WAS SPONSORED BY MUNDAY LIONS

Higginbotham Home Makes Most Improvement

The city beautification project sponsored by the Munday Lions club during the past four months was completed with the final judging of the 31 homes entered, last Friday by the Munday high school home economics class under the supervision of Mrs. Elizabeth Dillon.

Upon scoring the contestants, first place on the event was awarded to Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Higginbotham, for improvements made on their home and yard in the southwest part of the city. Second was awarded Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Tiner and third place went to Mrs. Mae Spelce. Only three prizes were awarded in the contest.

The Higginbotham home was easily adjudged the winner. Before the contest started they had no porch, the house was not painted, and there was no grass or flowers in the yard. Today, Munday's prize winning beauty spot has a beautiful lawn, well trimmed, that runs well down the street from the home, trees have been planted, shrubs set out, the back yard has been sodded and completely covered with grass, flowers have been planted, a porch built and the exterior of the house painted. You are urged to drive by the Higginbotham home and see for yourself.

The Tiner home to the passerby will not show such vast improvement at present, but was given second place, it was pointed out, due to the fact that they had planted so many kinds of shrubbery, flowers, bushes and made other improvements that cannot be appreciated from a beauty standpoint until they have had time to grow and develop in size and beauty.

The Spelce home has been sodded to grass, kept well trimmed, trees planted, flowers set out, and several kinds of shrubs planted to transform the home into a beauty spot.

The Higginbotham initial rating was 29 per cent which was placed at 89 at the close of the contest. Tiners was from 40 to 83 and the Spelce rating was 46 to 84.

At least 20 of the remaining homes entered in the contest have made considerable advancement towards establishment of permanent beauty in yards, and that was the main point stressed by the club in sponsoring the contest. Probably the next-best dressed up home in the city brought about by the contest was that of Mr. and Mrs. Joe McGraw. The McGraws have a well covered lawn in front and back, trees planted, some shrubs and many flowers. An old car in the back yard that was a sore spot was eliminated by planting growing vines that have nearly covered the machine. You will appreciate the efforts of the McGraws if you will visit their yard.

Other homes that have made much improvement but did not receive one of the contest awards deserve much credit for their work in making Munday a beautiful city are W. A. Baker, W. R. Cabaness, Austin Caughran, W. R. Moore, H. A. Pendleton, Sebern Jones, Carl Jungman, J. J. Keel, S. E. McStay and Mrs. Bess Neff.

The Lions Club is well pleased with the results obtained by the contest and will notify the winners within the next week of their prizes. Cash was named for first place and shrubbery second and third prizes. The Lions committee in charge of the program was J. H. Bass, chairman, Grady Roberts and Chas. Foyt, since moved. Mrs. Dillon and her Home Ec girls are due much credit in assisting to put over the program.

Hub Store Starting Harvest Sale Friday Morning in Munday

The Sale will open Friday, June 17, and run for 15 big selling days. You are referred to their circulars for their many bargains that are on sale during the event. The circulars were printed by the Times Commercial department.

SCHOOL MONEY PAID TO CITY

Hood and Washburn School Contracts

A $2.00 per capita apportionment was paid the Munday school this week by J. Lyndal Hughes, county superintendent, on students of Hood and Washburn who are contracted to the local system. The Hood payment was $98 and Washburn's was $124 making a total of $222. Hughes also announced that the last half transportation aid payments were received making 94 1-2 per cent of the total set aside for this program by the state paid. The county was cut 5 1-2 per cent.

Salary aid was paid on a basis of 69 per cent being cut 81 per cent from the amount set aside by the state. The transportation payment was $3791. However, Hughes pointed out that the $327 he secured on a special trip to Austin more than offset the loss in the transportation fund.

Work Started on Munday Football Field This Week

The Munday Lions Club project to light the Munday grid field was under way this week when the gridiron was plowed up for a new sod coat.

The field, which was rough, and full of holes and weeds, will be leveled and the new sod will be watered and kept in good condition in order that there will be a good grassed field for the fall season. The lights will probably not be installed until some time in July or the first of August. It will take only about six days to install the lighting system.

Munday Fireboys Attending State Meet in Amarillo

Three members of the Munday Fire Department and city fire marshal Jim Isbell were in Amarillo the first of the week attending the annual state fireman's association and school.

At a special meeting last Friday night the department named the following delegates to the convention and school: Chas. Massey and Ernie Parchman, who accompanied fire marshal Isbell and assistant chief Ardelle Spelce. The fire marshal and fire chief are automatic delegates but Spelce made the trip as Fire Chief Clint Hawes was unable to go.

Old Age Fund Wage-Hour Bill

AUSTIN—Funds for old-age assistance were scheduled to be increased $294,748.35 by proration of liquor revenues for May.

The available school fund was to get $88,276.99 as its share of the same revenues, and $264.83 was to go to the general revenue fund.

With prorations from May revenues, the total amount of liquor revenue distributed to State funds since the Liquor Control Board was organized in November 1935, will be $14,226,433.52.

The following questions and answers are designed to clarify the operation of the wage-hour bill approved by congress Wednesday.

Q.—What is the purpose of the new legislation. A. It is designed to increase purchasing power and employment by (1) placing a 40 cent "floor" under hourly wages within a seven-year period; (2) by erecting a 40-hour "ceiling" over the work week within a three-year period, and (3) by outlawing child labor.

Q.—What industries are affected? A.—All which operate in, or affect interstate commerce. Specifically exempted are executives, professional workers, administrative officials, workers in local retailing, fishery, agricultural and dairy enterprises; seamen, aviation employees; workers on weekly or semi-weekly newspapers with circulations of 3,000 or less, local trolley or bus line employees, and others.

Q.—How many workers are exempted to benefit from the bill? A.—Its sponsors estimate from 2,000,000 to 2,500,000 will obtain improved working conditions, but many leading industrialists contend that it will add heavy financial burdens to industry and thereby increase unemployment during the current recession.

Q.—When does the measure go into effect? A.—Major portions of the bill become effective within 120 days after the president signs it.

Q.—What are the wage and hour scales? A.—A rigid 25-cent an hour minimum wage will be fixed for the first year, and a 30-cent level for the second. A maximum work week of 44 hours will be established for the first year, decreasing to 42 in the second year, and to 40 in the third.

Q.—How will the proposed 40-cent minimum wage level be reached? A.—A series of industrial boards, like the 750 NRA code authorities, will be appointed by a

VERA MAN TAKES LIFE SATURDAY

Was Prominent Knox, Baylor Farmer

W. H. Blackburn, prominent pioneer farm resident of the Vera community was the victim of self inflicted gunshot wounds last Saturday at his home east of Vera. The act proved fatal.

His health, which was gradually becoming worse, was given as the cause for the suicide act, according to reports by friends of the man. Blackburn was a well-known farmer of that section, having extensive land holdings in the Vera area and also in Baylor county. He was considered one of the county's most successful farmers, and had resided in the county since 1905.

One of the largest throngs of friends to gather for last rites to a neighbor gathered at the First Baptist church Sunday afternoon for the funeral oration, which was delivered by Rev. J. R. Balch, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Seymour, assisted by Rev. J. E. Evans, pastor of the Vera Baptist church. Burial was made in the Vera cemetery.

Surviving are the widow and nine children, all of whom were present for the service except one son residing in California.

Gossett Attacked Farm-Gin Trusts In Talk Saturday

During a speech here last Saturday, Ed Gossett, candidate for congress from this district, hit gin and farm machinery trusts in a caustic attack. He spoke to the largest gathering of citizens assembled in this city during the present political campaign, on the city hall lawn.

During the week-end Gossett, candidate for congress, made four candid speeches in Wise county, in all of which he attacked farm and gin machinery trusts.

"These monopolies are hurting the farms in this country more than any others," stated Gossett. "We must bust the farm and gin machinery trusts and prevent profiteering in such machinery. Our country cannot be stable or secure, until the farmers of our country are stable and secure. We must have a 'back to the farm' program in America. A program that will enable farmers to live on the land in security, and to rear and educate their families decently."

In addition to an attack on farm and gin machinery trusts Gossett also condemned dishonest political practices, and the abuse of patronage.

Gossett further stated, "Government must protect small business men; small merchants and small farmers from unfair competition and ruthless extermination, and that all discriminations against them must be prohibited. It is not the function of government, however, to monopolize your business, but simply to write the rules of fair play, and then enforce them."

Candidates Names Must Be Filed By Saturday, June 18

All candidates for county and precinct offices must file their applications for places on the official ballot on or before June 18th. Application blanks may be secured from LeRoy Melton, Benjamin, secretary of the County Democratic Executive Committee without cost to other candidates. All candidates should file now and avoid the chance of overlooking the final filing date.

The County Executive Committee will estimate the cost of the primary elections on June 20th, and assessments against the candidates must be paid by June 25th.

EXTENSION SERVICE IS PRAISED FOR WORK

WHILE Texas is experiencing the worst grasshopper infestation in its history, and a great amount of damage is being done by the hungry insects, Texans may thank entomologists that the damage is not many times as bad.

Federal and state entomologists warned six months in advance of the hatching of the grasshoppers that the severe infestation was on the way and would affect more than 100 counties. A grasshopper control committee was formed and, with the entomologists, plans were matured well in advance.

The Federal Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine allotted to Texas 7000 tons of bran and 140,000 gallons of sodium arsenate. These are being made into a poison mash which is distributed to the farmers through county agricultural agents and county grasshopper control committees. The farmers themselves match the amount of mash contributed by the government. The poison mash is scattered around the places where hoppers hatch out.

Such work on the part of the entomologists illustrates the need for the service they render. The visitation of similar grasshopper hordes in the past, particularly in states just north of Texas, has resulted in total crop failures as well as great damage in other respects.

The saving in crops in this one instance of the service of public entomologists more than repays the cost of the service over a long period.—ACCO Press.

Both Are New Dealers

It cannot be denied that Relief Administrator Harry Hopkins gave a published interview in which he stated that if he were a resident, instead of an emigrant from Iowa, he would have voted for Congressman Wearin against Senator Gillette in the Democratic primaries.

According to the impassioned senators who pilloried Harry Hopkins for expressing such a preference, his utterance meant that every emergency employee and every beneficiary of the Government relief spending would feel that his job or his subsistence check was in peril unless he obeyed the implied edict.

It is of record that James Roosevelt referred to Wearin as his friend in a letter correcting the statement that he had cancelled a speaking tour to Iowa in Wearin's behalf. The speech-making excursion was wholly fiction. For that or for some other rather vague reason, both candidates claimed that they had the White House accolade.

It was a funny campaign any way you take it, with the Congressman asserting his complete fealty to President Roosevelt and the Senator insisting that he was a better New Dealer than his adversary. According to the record, Senator Gillette voted with the administration 13 times and Wearin 14 times. The Senator voted against the administration four times and Wearin five times.

Now, down in Florida, when Senator Pepper prevailed over Congressman Wilcox, the administration critics pointed out that this result was due entirely to the White House influence. Just why the White House influence was enough to give Senator

LISTEN TO THIS

By TOM FIZDALE

With the coming of Summer radio listeners will get a new deal in entertainment—and while many of the winter favorites will vacation, you may be certain that the program builders will have some new surprises in top-notch features.

Scheduled for a summer breathing spell are Fibber McGee, the Monday Radio Theatre, Eddie Cantor, Gang Busters, Al Jolson, Edward G. Robinson, Al Pearce, Kate Smith, Jack Benny, Fred Allen, Hollywood Hotel, the Andre Kostelanetz-Grace Moore musical, Joe Penner, Burns and Allen and Phil Baker.

Sponsors have some brand new ideas and the networks will try out a crop of their own. CBS is planning a Monday evening series which will originate from cities around the country and another idea to be given a trial is a series of plays produced in rural districts that never reach New York. Looks like anything but a dull summer.

Les Tremayne, NBC leading man who grew a beard in the great mustache race of 1938, is in a predicament. His girl likes it so well that she won't let him shave it off as he had planned. . . . Gale Page, recently heard over NBC kilocycles from Chicago, is definitely a click in her first Warner Brothers flicker, "Crime School." . . . A wag tossed Phil Baker a dime after Baker's accordion solo on the recent Ben Bernie show, and Phil cracked: "Heigho, Silver!"

The Bernie show, by the way, is reported due for a fadeout with the broadcast of July 6. . . . President Roosevelt will be heard over all major networks June 30 in an address in connection with the National Education Ass'n. convention in New York, and on July 3, when he will speak as a feature of the 75th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg. Both speeches will be heard throughout the world via short wave.

Donald Novis, radio's top tenor a couple of years ago, who retired to improve his voice, is staging a comeback from Hollywood. . . . Bayard Vellier, who pens "Valiant Lady" on NBC, has another script ready for fall production. . . . Alice Hill, star of "Betty and Bob," is sporting an early season tan and strong arm as result of doing her own reconditioning of her sail boat. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Cantor celebrated their 24th anniversary June 9, setting a mark for screen folk to shoot at.

Fibber McGee's fighter, Milt Aaron, climbing that welter-weight ladder. . . . Scored seventh straight victory last week. . . . Bill Stoess, music director of those crack "Vocal Varieties," writing new song, "When Day Begins." . . . Benny Goodman and Hoosier Hot Shots of "National Barn Dance" form a mutual admiration society. . . . They're fans of each other. . . . Dolores Gillen, pretty NBC actress, thrilled over prospects of younger sister, Elizabeth, training for radio.

Arrival of King George VI and his entourage in Paris on Tuesday, June 28, and the British Sovereign's address three days later, Friday, July 1, when he unveils an Australian war memorial in France, will be heard in this country over the NBC-Red network. . . . ### FARMERS SHORT COURSE IN COUNTY

Announcement was made that a farmers short course would be held over Knox County the next week. Meetings for the short course were held in Knox City, Truscott, Vera, Goree and Munday. County agent at that time was W. O. Logan, and the home demonstration agent was Miss Mamie Maxwell.

Outstanding farm leaders from the extension service department and other prominent farm leaders appeared on the program.

A protracted religious meeting was in progress by the Church of Christ of Munday on the Jackson farm near Munday.

Announcement was made that the Anderson-Clayton Cotton Company purchased the Munday Cottonoil plant, and planned to enlarge the local plant. The plant was owned by H. A. Pendleton and Fred Pendleton who purchased the plant in 1911. T. G. Bengel, manager for the four previous years was retained in that capacity and H. P. Hill was retained as cashier.

At a meeting of Knox Lodge No. 851, A. F. & A. M., Austin Caughran, was elected W.M., J. D. Kethley, S.M., John Spann, J.W., C. A. Eiland, treasurer, Lee Haymes, secretary and D. E. Holder, tiler.

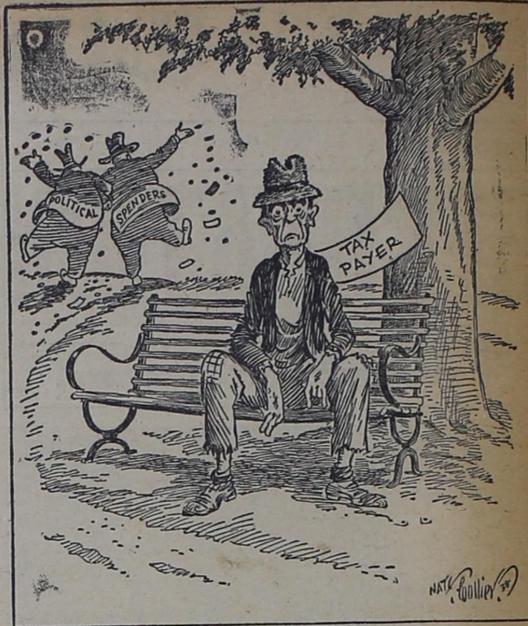

Knox and Baylor county 4-H girls attended a two-day encampment at Cartwright pasture June 17-18. The program outlined was recreational and educational.

C. D. White and Miss Cora Whitacre were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Whitacre, with Rev. W. R. Land reading the ceremony.

Under a plan just adopted by 37 states, a worker who goes from work in one state to work in another, may draw any out-of-work benefit earned in any state by filing his claims in the state where he loses his job. He need not return to a state where he worked in order to establish his claim.

According to reports by the 25 benefit paying states, Texas is ahead of most of them in the promptness of benefit payments. After an unemployed man registers for the first week he is eligible for benefits, it is usually eight days before he receives his check.

Crime in News

Jimmy Cash, 5, of Princeton, Fla., was kidnaped May 28. His father paid $10,000 ransom, rewards totaling $5,000 were posted and President Roosevelt asked Congress to provide $50,000 to press the investigation.

Hundreds of men had searched for Jimmy in vain and had about given up hope. Then, early Thursday morning, G-men said the body of the boy and the ransom money had been found not far from the Cash home.

And, FBI chief J. Edgar Hoover added, a 21-year-old truck driver was being held as an alleged participant in the kidnaping. He was said to have been a member of the posse and to have confessed he had written the ransom notes and collected the $10,000.

The boy's body, badly decomposed, was found in some underbrush. The ransom money was found in an orchard. And the shoebox in which Cash had delivered the $10,000 was found torn up and hidden under a stone.

U. S. Farm Export Gain Noted in Corn and Wheat; Imports are Decreasing

COLEGE STATION—The United States is now exporting over 300 times as much corn and over 8,000 times as much wheat as it is importing, according to figures just received from Washington by W. E. Morgan, economist of the Extension Service of Texas A. & M. College.

In April alone corn exports were more than 20 million bushels. Imports of corn during the same month were 55,000 bushels. April wheat exports were above 8 million bushels while 1,000 bushels were imported. Wheat exports from July 1, 1937 to April 30, 1938, were in excess of 76 million bushels and imports during the same period were 696,000 bushels, Morgan said.

Only 529,000 bushels of corn were imported during the six month period prior to April 30,

Nice Work if . . .

Charles Beckers, of Liege, Belgium, died of "indigestion" in 1932. A Beckers tenant died in '33. A man to whom Beckers' widow was betrothed died in '34. A "friend" of the widow died in '35.

By '36 people were saying these and other deaths had left the "Widow Beckers" (Marie Petitjean) better off financially. She went on trial this week in Belgium for disposing of 11 persons with poison.

TUBERCULOSIS!

A series of articles dealing on the disease and the Texas hospital for Tubercular Patients.

By DOROTHY GARRETT

NOTE—This is not an article on Tuberculosis, but for Fathers Day. FATHERS

How much thought do we give to our fathers? They make us a living while we are growing up; but I wonder how many of us appreciate it. How many of us do little kind deeds and say nice things when our fathers come home from a hard day's work? Some men pay little attention to these little acts of kindness; but inwardly it gives them a thrill. Many times our fathers become discouraged and blue about something, and I think an older child can help a lot by saying and giving little words of encouragement now and then.

I think all children, rich or poor, should be taught to mind and respect their parents. I fully believe that many times a child, through his own selfishness, can wreck his parents' lives.

Walking down the street today or tomorrow, you will meet young, middle-aged, and old men. Most of them are on their way to work, going to make a living for his family. Perhaps you will see an old, gray-haired man, bent and stooped with age. You wonder if he is homeless, and if he isn't maybe his children have passed him by for younger people, for newer and more glamorous things.

Personally I feel sorry for those who do not realize the beauty of a couple growing old together. In a few years they will reach the end of life's path, leaving room for their children. They have toiled through the years together, doing for their children, never once stopping to think of themselves.

So here's to the fathers of the world—may they never forget that they hold a big place in our heart.

PEEP SHOW

FOR LADIES ONLY
—BY—
MIGNON

I didn't get to the roundup
I didn't get to the lunch
For papa's reaping wild oats
He musta sowed a bunch!!!

Was I heart sick not to get off to the Folk Festival at Edmund where old timers squatted on their haunches and remembered back when? I even soaked my corns at night so I could throw a mean left foot in all those "Skip-to-my-Lou's" and play party games of early Oklahoma. But they probably got along without me in the three thousand folks who did go to the revel. Me??? I was riding herd on a wild horse who bucked all over the range for two solid weeks trying to unmount a posse of boils.

Anyway, I bet I could write a Western now that would lay "Black Devil of Wild Horse Mesa," in the shade.

I suppose his next theme song
Is "Rock-a-bye wee tot."

When a mad dog runs riot in a village he is hunted down and put out of his misery before he does any more damage than can possibly be averted. . . . When a kidnaper takes an innocent little boy from his bed, kills him, throws the body in the bushes, and then walks the streets for ten days talking about how smart the fellow must have been to have planned such a clever crime. . . . what do you think? With J. Edgar Hoover on the job, folks knew it would only be a question of hours until the perverted criminal mind would be found, but now what? Will they drag the case along in court. . . . have his sanity proved and then spend a few more thousands before he is finally punished? Nothing can restore the dead child to his mother's arms, nothing can bring back the happy laughter, nor the clatter of little footfalls on the stair. Nothing can be said nor done to bring ease to the mother's heart so torn by this fiendish crime. But something can be done and quickly to protect other small sons. After all a mad dog is a mad dog whether he travels on four feet or two.

It is impossible to lose a true friend, for friendship, like gold, does not change its quality. A stained nugget is no less valuable from some unfortunate association with contaminating influences; its glittering brilliance returns for the polishing.—Doug Meador.

The wisest thing I've read this week is this, by W. S. Gilbert: On fire that glows with heat intense, I turn the hose of common sense, And out it goes at small expense!

***

A small magazine of verse "Silver Star," containing sixteen pages is on my desk this week. Volume 1, Number 2, a lusty infant published by Emory C. Parr, at 1607 Eye St., N.W. Washington, D.C. It is purely poetry, without any prose whatsoever. There are no addresses either, so you just take the poetry at its face value and conjure up for yourself how the poet looks, whether he or she is from the north, east, south or west. The verse has a singing quality that is a real poet loves. No theme seems to be barred and there is variety enough to please anyone who reads poetry at all, and most folks do. Such lines as "Yours is the quiet of a wooded path, the sureness of the shade that will not tire," and "Flickering in the darkness a thin candle of flame, Giving light in the darkness: Hope is thy name," are purest poetry. A poem by the editor, called "After the Drought" is presented:

"God is in the rain
Devil in the drought.
Rose is in the rain
Life is in the grain.
Daisy has come out.
God is in the rain,
Devil in the drought."

Teresa Druley Black has launched her "Silver Ships" and I hope to take you on a voyage of loveliness in the next Peep Show you read. For Teresa is a poet who writes for the love of writing and because of the urge from within.

Cooking in Hot Weather Made Easy With an Electric Roaster

All kinds of foods are "cooked to a turn" in an electric roaster.

By IRA MILLER
Rural Electrification Bureau

UNLESS she has an electric range, the farmer's wife probably looks with dread to the arrival of the hot days of summer and fall. For they mean long hours in a hot kitchen preparing dinner and supper for the men folk of the family and, frequently during harvest, for many extra hands as well. However, if she has one of the newer electrical appliances—a roaster—she can avoid most if not all of the discomfort of hot-weather cooking.

Strictly speaking, this appliance should be called a portable oven instead of an electric roaster—for the latter name implies uses chiefly for meat, whereas it actually has over 100 uses from baking bread to canning fruit. Undoubtedly, its name is one of the principal reasons why the electric roaster—so common in city and suburban homes—has as yet not come into widespread use on the farm. For it is moderate in price (about the same as one of the cheaper vacuum cleaners), attractive in appearance, easy to use and to clean, has a long life and requires no more current to operate for an hour than does an electric iron.

Although the electric roaster will do perfectly every oven job that comes within its size, it must not be assumed that it will entirely replace the range. But, by doing the heavy baking and cooking in the regular oven early in the morning of a hot day, and with a little careful planning, it is possible to complete the day's cooking with the roaster, in comfort.

Electric roasters come in either oblong or oval shapes, each having its particular advantages. Several makes have a removable unit that can be inserted in the cover or top plate for broiling. For ease in cleaning, inside the roaster is a close-fitting pan, called the well, which holds three inserted pans, the large one capable of cooking enough meat for six or seven people, the smaller ones holding vegetables for an equal number. If the inserted pans are taken out, a 20-pound roast and vegetables—or even a 15-pound turkey—can be cooked. The roasters also are provided with racks for baking, as well as automatic heat control.

One of the questions most commonly asked by those who are getting high-line electricity for the first time is, "What appliance should we buy first?" The electric roaster should be high on the list because of its economy as well as the comfort and convenience it brings.

"Reddy Kilowatt" Introduced by West Texas Utilities Co.

With the announcement in today's issue of The Times introducing "Reddy Kilowatt," Wm. R. Cabaness, local manager of the West Texas Utilities Company, made this explanation of the new addition to the company's staff:

"For a number of years, we've been seeking some way in which electric service could be pictured to the public. Practically everyone knows about electricity. But to many persons it is a mysterious force which they believe comes out of the sky. In fact, however, it must be generated at a high voltage, then subduced and more or less served on a platter in homes and business where it may be safely used at a mere turn of a switch.

"In Reddy Kilowatt we believe we have a figure which illustrates electric service in an unmistakable manner—one which immediately suggests electric service."

In order to help acquaint WTU customers with "Reddy" Cabaness said that five balloons bearing Reddy's picture and small paste-board cutout figures of the little fellow will be presented to all children, accompanied by an adult, who visit the local office Friday.

"We preferred a character such as Reddy Kilowatt because we regard our service as friendly and helpful," Cabaness declared. "We felt that our sentiments could best be expressed by a real, lifelike electric servant. That's how Reddy came into being. He typifies modern electric service as it is available in every home."

ACCOMPLISHMENT

Never a sun has sunk from sight
Beneath horizons rim
But that some worthy thought or deed
Gave light when things were dim.

Never a time so cold and bleak
But that bright days were waiting,
To burst forth with their dazzling light
To worthy contemplating.

Never a grief so fraught with woe
With grief and pain and sorrow,
But that the word of some kind friend,
Brought courage for tomorrow.

Never a day has come to end,
But that great things were done
In thoughts, or words, in deeds or acts,
God grant there ne'er will be one.

—Claude D. Perry, Willis Point

IF I HAD NOT DREAMED

If I had not dreamed—
If I had not listened and believed
And become like these
Who harbor only the worst,
I should have lost my faith
And on this other world I found a life.

Above the sordid sense of things,
Where no mist of worldly judging
Could mar the beauty of existence
—And all because—I dreamed!

—Loree Pitts Doak, Cleburne

Electric Hay Hoist Is Convenient Labor Saver

This small and compact set-up readily permits a single electric motor to power both hay hoist and grain elevator.

EXPERIENCE has proved that the farmer who receives the greatest income and at the same time has the most leisure, supplements his own efforts with the sensible use of power-driven equipment. And, with the rapid and continued march of electricity into rural areas, the use of such appliances on the farm has become not only more universal but also cheaper and more practicable.

One of the more than 200 uses of electricity on the farm and in the farm home is for hoisting hay into the barn. Although the illustration shows a power hoist driven by a fixed motor (which, however, can be belted to the drive-shaft of a grain elevator), the ideal arrangement where only a single motor is available is to have it portable. In that way, it can be used to operate many other pieces of equipment such as an ensilage cutter, buzz saw, feed grinder and the like, thus not only gaining a lower power rate but also distributing the fixed cost of the motor over several operations.

The electric hay hoist will eliminate the pull-up team and driver and, where a saddle horse and boy is necessary to pull back the fork or slings in large barns, also will replace them. In smaller barns, it will make the use of a gravity pull-back more workable as the carriage can be slowed or stopped immediately, thus avoiding breakage due to excessive speed of the return.

By a simple arrangement of switches and rope pulls, all the hoisting and return operations can be conveniently and satisfactorily controlled from the hayrack. Also, as it can be lowered into position on the load largely by the aid of the electric hoist, a larger fork can be used.

Although an electric hoist cannot elevate the hay faster or in larger loads than is possible with a team without danger of breakage to the carriage or track—it does save appreciable time in setting the fork, starting, stopping and pulling back.

Exclusive of the motor, a good power hay hoist may cost from $50 to $100, depending upon its type and size. With a 5 hp. motor, it will require approximately 1/3 kw.-hr. per ton of hay hoisted. Thus, at the present rate, the power cost will be about one cent per ton, certainly much less than the services of an extra team and driver.

SCHOOL RATE IN 1938 TO BE $22 PER SCHOLASTIC

Rate Cannot Be Set Higher, Board Member Says

The scholastic apportionment for the school year starting Sept. 1, will again be set at $22, in the opinion of Ghent Sanderford, member of the State Board of Education, which fixes the amount. The board will meet at Austin Monday and probably will set the date for deciding the apportionment. Sanderford said, besides transacting a large amount of routine business.

The $22 apportionment paid the last two years was the highest in the history of Texas and Sanderford does not believe the income will permit that figure to be exceeded. He said that on Sept. 1, 1937, the available fund had a cash balance of $3,874,458 whereas next September it will be approximately $900,000 or even $3,000,000 less. Not only will the balance be appreciably smaller but some of the income sources will not be as prolific as they were during the current year.

Schoolmen have clamored for the retention of the $22 amount and some of them have asked that it be raised, which Sanderford thinks improbable. He said the board is anxious to give the schools as much as the income will permit and that $22 now appears to be the outside.

It is probable the board will wait until the State Automatic Tax Board canvasses the prospective income as well as the new assessed values, Sanderford said. Under the law, the tax board cannot fix the State rate before July 20. The law requires County Tax Assessors-Collectors to file estimates of their valuations with the Comptroller not later than July 15 and the tax board is supposed to meet five days later to fix the State rate for the general fund, the school fund and the pension fund.

Little change is expected in the total number of scholastics on which the apportionment is based. The increase will not exceed 5,000 it was said Friday at the Department of Education. The number for the current year was 1,566,652 and a renewal of the $22 per capita would carry a minimum total of $34,426,344 of available school fund to all the schools plus the $5,500,000 of rural aid or educational equalization appropriation given the schools by the Legislature which will bring the total State money to almost $40,000,000 for the ensuing year.

Unless the present 7c school tax rate is raised the schools may not get even $1 payment of apportionment in September and the $22 may not be paid in full by Aug. 31, 1939, is the opinion in some quarters. Therefore it may become necessary for the present law to be raised somewhat. Once the tax board acts, the Board of Education will know the answer as to the promptness or delay in making the payments. However, if the school board acts first and sets the per capita amount, the tax board will know how much is needed to pay it and set the new rate accordingly and, if the present prospects continue, it will be an increase over the current 7c.

The available fund now has enough to pay another $2, making $19 on the current year, leaving $2 to be paid in July and the final

Last month the board bought some $75,000 worth and still is trying to find desirable securities. There is no hope that even half the balance will be invested.

Senator Connally Of Texas Active

SEN. TOM CONNALLY

Senator Tom Connally of Texas, was instrumental in securing unemployment aid for farmers during the present session of Congress. See story left.

CONNALLY WINS FIGHT FOR THE NEEDY FARMER

Part Time Work is Made Possible Thru Relief

Part time work for needy farmers was made possible under the relief set-up by an amendment offered by Senator Tom Connally and adopted by the Senate last week. Farmers, who have met with crop losses and other misfortunes and who are in need, will be permitted to supplement their farm incomes by working part time on rural relief projects without being put on the relief rolls.

"We all know," remarked Senator Connally, "that the great bulk of the relief money in the WPA goes into the industrial areas, to the cities. Out in the extreme drought section, a portion of which is in my state, up near the Colorado and the Kansas lines, we have the condition that when there is plenty of rain it is a very fertile country, and the farmers make good crops, but in recent years they have been suffering from a terrible drought. It ought to be the purpose of Congress to keep such a man out on the farm and let him carry on his own business; but many of them are going to leave the farm unless they can supplement what they are making by working short periods of time on the WPA. Under present rules a farmer cannot be hired to work on a country road for a single day unless he is on relief rolls. This amendment will remedy that situation."

Senator Connally was active also in obtaining the passage of the "Russell Amendment" in the Senate to the Relief Appropriation Bill which provides $21,000,000 to apply in bringing the price of farm products toward parity. Under this amendment those farmers who are taking part under the 1938 Farm Act will receive from the government ten cents per bushel in the case of wheat, two cents per bushel in the case of lint cotton, five cents per bushel in the case of corn, one cent per pound in the case of tobacco, and one-fifth cent per pound in the case of rough rice.

Open Campaign to Sell Juice From Texas Grapefruit

WESLACO—Grapefruit growers in the Lower Rio Grande valley of Texas are starting a nation-wide campaign to introduce grapefruit juice into more breakfast tables. First step was to ask chain stores over the nation to feature the refreshing drink during summer months.

The Texas Grapefruit Growers Stabilization Committee was organized at a meeting called here to figure out how to go to market with a bumper grapefruit juice pack, which increased from 2,500,000 cases for the previous year to a record harvest and juice pack of 4,700,000 cases—more than 100,000,000 cans.

R. W. Lindsey of Mission was elected chairman and Glenn C. White of Weslaco secretary of a committee of 33, members of which attended from Brownsville, Los Fresnos, McAllen, Harlingen, Donna, Pharr, Edinburg, LaFeria, Alamo, Edcouch, San Benito, Santa Rosa, Mission and Weslaco.

Get Vaccinated For Vacation Cox Urges

AUSTIN.—No matter how busy you are just now planning your vacation, looking up road maps, camping sites and equipment stored since last summer, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, advises all Texans to add one extra item to their list of things to be done before vacation starts.

The advice: "If you have not been vaccinated against typhoid within the last year or two, go to your family physician and have him give you the three 'shots' that will protect you against the disease. It takes several weeks for the protective treatment to establish itself throughout the system, so it is an undue risk to wait until just before starting your vacation to attend to typhoid vaccination. Begin the treatment without further delay," Dr. Cox admonished.

"Typhoid fever is much less of a menace than it was a number of years ago. But still it is the cause of much unnecessary sickness. Typhoid fever is contracted through the mouth. You either eat or drink the germs. Typhoid is transmitted through the use of water, milk or other foods that are contaminated by typhoid germs passed on by someone ill with the disease or someone who has had the disease. "Vigilant protection of public and private water supplies from pollution, pasteurization of milk, protection of food supplies from contamination and such sanitary precautions have reduced greatly the incidence of typhoid fever in Texas.

SANDWICHES AND COFFEE

Let me say right now before we go any further that these sandwiches are designed particularly for those affairs where the men are present. You know how it is. Men are not content with the decorative little morsels you pass out as sandwiches at a woman's tea—or coffee-party. They want more robust food—while you as a hostess with an eye on the women's reactions, too, want your sandwiches to be different—extraordinarily beautiful to behold—uncommonly good to eat and, of course—substantial enough to satisfy the men. You check over all the sandwich combinations you know. Not one measures up to these exacting specifications. You rummage through cook books and clippings you've saved. "Why, oh why," you ask yourself dejectedly, "are all these sandwich ideas either too commonplace or too fantastic?"

To save the day in just such a situation, I'm offering you this new version of our old standby, the Sandwich Loaf. For I don't believe the sandwich was ever invented that could surpass a Sandwich Loaf in being spectacular and delicious and everything else an all 'round sandwich should be. This particular loaf is built around the idea of the ever popular Club House Sandwich—chicken, tomato slices, crisp bacon, lettuce and mayonnaise. But at this season of the year I suggest that you use tomato preserves or a bar la due combination of soft white cream cheese with currant jam or jelly if the fresh tomatoes aren't available. Can't you see the men gazing over a slice of this handsome Sandwich Loaf? Here is the recipe:

Remove crusts from a day old loaf of bread (small loaf of sandwich bread is best).

Slice bread lengthwise, into four long slices. Trim loaf if necessary so slices are not more than 2 1/2 inch thick. Keep slices in original order. Lay bottom slice to one side; spread with softened butter and cover with slices of cold chicken, then lettuce; spread next slice lightly with mayonnaise and lay on top. Press together. Butter this second slice of bread. Cover with sliced tomatoes. Spread next slice lightly with mayonnaise and lay on top. Press together. Spread this third slice with butter. Cover with slices of crisp broiled bacon and then with lettuce. Spread next slice lightly with mayonnaise and lay on top. Press together.

This makes 4 slices of bread, with first filling chicken and lettuce, second filling sliced tomatoes, third filling bacon and lettuce.

Cover top and sides of loaf thickly with a dressing made of a combination of boiled and mayonnaise dressings modified with a little stiffly whipped cream and with hard cooked eggs cut up coarsely and mixed through the dressing. Dressings and cream must be very stiff to hold up well. Use about 1/2 cup of each dressing, 1/2 cup of whipped cream and 3 eggs, for a small Sandwich Loaf.

Place the completed Sandwich Loaf on a platter and garnish with sections of hard cooked eggs, radishes, celery and olives. Or, with preserved figs filled with white package cream cheese and placed in lettuce cups. Serve loaf in slices.

Betty Crocker Advises

Question: Can you suggest the proper vegetables and salad to serve with roast veal or pork for an anniversary dinner?

Answer: Of course, you want vegetables that will add a different food element, color and contrasting flavors and textures to your meals.

With this in mind let's consider the roast pork first. Pork is a rich meat with a high proportion of fat and a pronounced flavor. It requires bulky vegetables of low food value, rich in minerals and vitamins, and of distinct flavor—such as tomatoes, turnips, onions, spinach, cabbage, cauliflower, broccoli. So with a pork roast I'm suggesting browned potatoes, broccoli or brussels sprouts or spinach, and a Cinnamon Apple Salad.

Roast veal on the other hand is a mildly flavored meat which isn't especially rich. Therefore it is appropriately served with vegetables of a rather delicate flavor—such as peas, creamed asparagus, green beans, succotash and creamed mushrooms. So let's have mashed potatoes, peas, or green beans, and an Orange or Grapefruit Salad with slices of avocado on crisp lettuce.

Question: What is the proper way to serve a Sandwich Loaf?

Answer: The loaf may be set on a buffet table where it is sliced with a sharp knife by whoever is serving. Each slice is helped onto a plate with a serving fork or spoon and handed to the guest for whom it is intended. Of course, the guest should be provided with a fork for eating the sandwich

"But there are certain other sources of danger that cannot be reached by public precautionary measures. Certain persons who have had typhoid fever continue to pass it along long after they have recovered from the disease—these persons are called typhoid "carriers." When they are careless in their habits they are likely to leave typhoid germs on any food they touch. In recent years some of the more serious outbreaks of typhoid over the state have been due to careless carriers.

"There are other sources of typhoid; a stream or spring along the highway may be clear and sparkling but that is no guarantee the water is free from contamination. Milk may be a source of danger. If unsure of the safety of your milk or water supply, it is a good health practice to always boil them before using. The Texas State Department of Health can warn you against sources of infection—but vaccination is the only sure way to guard against contraction."

Huge Reduction Fire Rates For State Announced

AUSTIN.—Marvin Hall, State fire insurance commissioner, today announced reductions in fire insurance rates in Texas that will save the insurance buyers of this State some $2,500,000 annually.

The reductions, effective July 15, 1938, average something in excess of ten per cent and apply on those classes of property which affect the greatest number of people and provide the largest part of the premium volume of the State. These include dwellings, mercantile buildings and stocks of merchandise, farm property, garages, public buildings, churches and others.

In connection with the publication of this order, Commissioner Hall said: "The current reductions together with others previously ordered in 1936 and 1937 have the result of reducing the premium level in the State by approximately $4,000,000; or, in other words, insurance in the next twelve months will cost the premium payers of Texas some $4,000,000 less than they would have paid for the same protection eighteen months ago. The extent of the reduction may be visualized when it is noted that no actual increase in number of dollars collected has resulted from the enormous amount of new construction and new values created."

During 1937, the first year of Hall's term, the cost of dwelling insurance was reduced by about $1,000,000 per year by the removal of charges in the rating schedule.

"These reductions are still in effect and the premium payers still receive the benefit of them. Adding those to the reductions effective June 15, the net result is a reduction of twenty per cent in the cost of fire insurance to home owners in two years," Hall said.

"Also, in March, 1937, and again in March, 1938," Hall pointed out, "orders were issued increasing good fire record credits in various cities and towns of Texas to produce a reduction in premium costs aggregating $500,000."

"In the current order reducing fire insurance rates, a reduction of ten per cent or more is made in windstorm or tornado insurance on dwellings in the Seacoast territory. The good experience there, due to the absence of a hurricane in the last few years, has justified the reduction," Hall said.

"It is too often overlooked," he said, "that insurance rates depend entirely on the losses sustained for which the insurance is paid. When losses are reduced it is possible for rate making authorities to reduce rates, but when the losses are high the rates must be correspondingly increased."

"The present reductions, which are a result of a public hearing recently held, are based largely on the favorable fire loss record in the State during recent years. The work is not completed, however, as many other phases of the rate problem still are being studied by the Board."

Mrs. Herbert Sams of Benjamin was a visitor in the W. R. Cabaness home Tuesday morning.

• While a newspaper is a marvel of mechanical efficiency, there are limits on what can be done by a given force of printers, stereotypers and pressmen in a short, crowded period of stress.

• There is plenty of time to give every advertiser good service when early copy is sent in.

• The Times believes that its advertisers desire to be fair to the printers, stereotypers and pressmen who serve them as well as to be fair to themselves.

• Visitors to the mechanical department are invited so that the process of handling advertising may be thoroughly understood and the mechanical problems fully realized.

• Your co-operation will be greatly appreciated by the entire personnel of The Times.

How Wage and Hour Law Will Affect You

$10,000 a year administrator, who works under the labor department, to determine the speed at which it can be imposed.

Q.—What are the powers of the boards? A.—The boards, which will consist of industrial, labor and public representatives, will collect data and hold hearings to determine when to impose the new standards. The administrator must approve their recommendations before their orders can become operative but he cannot personally impose the standards.

Q.—Is there a definite time limit for placing the 40-cent minimum wage into effect? A.—The bill specifies that the level is to be universal within seven years unless an industry can prove that it diminishes employment or is otherwise detrimental.

Q.—Can the boards impose levels below the 25 and 30 cent rigid levels? A.—No. But they must consider numerous factors in determining the higher scales.

Q.—What are the factors which will determine the scales and exemptions? A.—Competitive conditions such as transportation, living and production costs, wage standards set for similar work under collective bargaining agreements, and wages paid by employers working voluntarily under minimum-wage standards.

Q.—What are compensation provisions for employees working more than the prescribed limits? A.—An employer must pay time and one-half overtime compensation.

Q.—Are there exemptions from this? A.—Yes, in cases of collective bargaining contracts if employees do not work more than 4,000 hours during 26 consecutive weeks; under annual agreements if there are not more than 2,000 work hours during 52 weeks, and in seasonal occupations ranging from 12 to 14 weeks, if working conditions do not embrace more than 12 hours per day or 56 hours per week.

Q.—How will the bill propose to stop child labor? A.—Manufacturers, producers and dealers cannot ship goods in interstate commerce made by this type of labor.

Q.—What child labor standards are fixed? A.—The children's bureau of the labor department may permit children between 14-16 yrs to work in non-hazardous industries if it does not interfere with schooling and their health, otherwise, the minimum age is 16. In cases of mining and other hazardous occupations, the limit is from 16 to 18.

Q.—Are there exemptions from this? A.—Yes. Child actors in the movies and theatres, and youngsters on farms not required to attend schools.

Q.—What are the penalties for infractions of the law? A.—A $10,000 maximum fine and six months imprisonment or both may be imposed. The jail sentence however cannot be imposed except on a second offender.

Q.—Has the employer any right to challenge the orders? A.—Yes. He may apply for a review in any federal circuit court of appeals within 60 days after issuance of an order.

Q.—Do employees, if affected by an employers' infraction of the law, have any redress? A.—Yes. They can sue the employer in court for unpaid compensation.

SEVEN-HOUR BROADCAST FROM KRLD

DALLAS, Texas, June 15—Originating from the Band Shell Amphitheatre in the State Fair Park in Dallas, the "Singing Convention of the Air," under the direction of V. O. Stamps, promises to make history on the night of June 22, when it "takes the air" at 11 p.m., from a seven-hour broadcast, over radio station KRLD.

More than 500 pupils of the Stamps-Baxter School of Music, now in session in Dallas, will take part on the program. In addition to the pupils, visiting quartets from many sections of the Southwest will be presented. More than 6,000 people are expected to see and hear the broadcast in addition to those who hear it through their loudspeakers.

This is said to be the longest broadcast of sacred songs ever attempted in America.

(Several from this section are attending the Stamps-Baxter School in Dallas and invite their friends to turn their radio dial to KRLD at 11 p.m., June 22.—Editor.)

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bengt returned to their home here Wednesday night from a weeks trip.

$2,000,000,000 Buried in Vault At West Point

Uncle Sam started lugging a couple of billion dollars worth of silver to West Point, N.Y., June 1, the Treasury disclosed.

On the army reservation where the military academy is situated the last of many tons of concrete are being poured into a one-story warehouse for the white metal.

Behind its foot-thick walls are 23 cubicles which hold 2,000,000,000 ounces of silver—approximately all the silver bullion and coin owned by the Treasury. By act of Congress, that much silver is worth $1.29 an ounce or $2,580,000,000, but its world market value is only 43 cents an ounce or $860,000,000.

The silver is now stored mainly at the Government's mints at San Francisco, Denver and Philadelphia.

Vault Above Ground
Unlike the gold vaults recently built at Fort Knox, Ky., the West Point building will keep its metal above the ground. At Fort Knox more than $5,000,000,000 worth of gold is buried in subterranean strong boxes.

Silver is so bulky to handle that the Treasury arranged for delivery trucks to drive right into the vaults at West Point to unload.

The unloading will not be visible to outsiders for more reasons, however, than the shutting of doors behind delivery trucks. This modernistic treasure house has no windows. Light and air enter only through skylights.

Intruders would have to pass armed guards and penetrate at least three doors to get to Uncle Sam's wealth, including the master vault door which is a mere 12 1/8 inches thick and built of drillproof and flame-proof metals. The opening and closing of those doors will be recorded automatically on a timing mechanism.

Well Guarded
A three-foot corridor between the exterior wall of the building guarded from watchtowers in the four corners.

Although it will be difficult for ordinary persons to get at all this silver, millions of Americans can display pieces of paper entitling them to pieces of it. These pieces of paper are the currency of various denominations which have the words, "silver certificate" printed on them.
