Farm Implement Lines Of Munday Important Role in Aiding Farmers

Munday Has Four Of Such Dealers To Serve Farmers Of This Trade Area

(Editor's Note: This is the second in a series of articles that will appear in the Times in the nature of business surveys and functions of leading civic and city organizations and their value in the building of a greater Munday.)

Farm implement business in the city of Munday is one of the largest business enterprises in this section. Four local dealers in farm implements serve probably the largest trade area that any city can boast of in this sector. Without doubt, no neighboring city has as rich or large an area.

Farmers within a radius of 25 miles have access to Farmall, Allis-Chalmers, John Deere, and J. I. Case farm machinery and implements. Several other lines of equipment are also stocked in this city. Each of the four large dealers, W. R. Moore, Broach Implement Co., Mansell Bros, Hardware, and Guinn Hardware Co., have large stocks of supplies and well equipped work shops.

During 1937 the above dealers sold 129 tractors, 26 combines and two threshers in this immediate trade area. Those farm machines together with other implements represent an approximate $275,000 dollar business in this city during 1937.

It has been roughly estimated that something like 600 tractors in this area, which represents an investment of $825,000 by Munday farmers. Local farmers have an estimated 75 threshers and combines, or an investment of about $140,000. It is considered a conservative estimate to value farm equipment of Munday's immense trade area at a million and a half dollars.

As farming is the chief resource and revenue of business to this city, it is important that Munday have well established business firms that deal in the farmers most important necessities to produce crops—farm implements.

With the past year being a successful one, in comparison to past years, and crop conditions better than normal, Munday's four implement dealers are expecting a larger volume of business during the coming twelve months. In building up a greater business, Munday's implement dealers automatically build up a greater Munday.

Commander Jim Reeves Reminds Of Legion Feed

The Lowry American Legion Post No. 44, of Munday will have their "big feed" in celebration of the highly successful annual membership drive, Tuesday, January 11, at the Legion Hut, Jim Reeves, commander reminded this week.

Hon. John Lee Smith of Throckmorton will be the principal speaker for the occasion. He is an able speaker, and it will be worth your while to hear him.

Post cards, with return addressed cards attached, were mailed last week end to the 71 members of the post by Adjutant Ardell Spelce, in an effort to determine how many would attend. Those who plan to attend must have the return cards mailed by Wednesday January 5, Spelce stated.

The feed will be put on by the Legion members, and the family of each member is expected to take part in the affair. The price for each legionario and his family is 75 cents, Spelce said, regardless of how many are in the family.

Music for the nights entertainment will be furnished by the official Knox County American Legion band, the Lone Star Band of Rhineland.

Local Citizens to Hear Talk Monday

Several members of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, of this city, are expected to attend the lecture to be delivered next Monday evening at Abilene.

The lecture, entitled "Christian Science, the Government of Divine Law," will be given by Judge Samuel W. Greene, C.S.B., of Chicago, Ill., under the auspices of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Abilene, in the city auditorium in that city at 8 o'clock. The public is cordially invited to hear the discourse.

The lecture will be broadcast over Radio Station KRBC, Abilene.

Chamberlain To Make Race Again For County Clerk

In a statement to this paper today, Marvin Chamberlain Knox County Clerk, made known his announcement for reelection to that office for another term, subject to the action of the Democratic primary, July 23.

A pioneer resident of this county for the past 36 years, he has been a resident of Goree and Benjamin. In his youth he resided with his parents on a farm southeast of Goree.

Through duties of his office he keeps a complete record of all court procedures and other county records and administers his duties in relation to county citizens with courteous and efficient service.

He will be glad to talk to any person regarding his duties and operation of his office.

E. L. Covey Seeks Re-Election For Knox Judgeship

In a formal statement to the Munday Times today, E. L. Covey, county judge of Knox county stated his candidacy for reelection to that post for another term.

A resident of this county for the past 24 years, Judge Covey is well known to the public of this county. He was a Goree resident at time of his election.

As county judge, he is automatically chairman of the Commissioners Court, through which body the business of the county is administered.

In reference to the Commissioners court Covey pointed out that the keen cooperation shown by all members of that body have made possible a record of which he invites personal inspection by any person of the county. 23 miles of hard surfaced highway have been constructed, bridges built, 50 miles of county highways improved and made into all weather roads, the county bonds were refunded in the amount of $150,000 which will afford a great saving to county residents.

He is subject to call day or night, and has responded to duty, regardless of the hour. Judge Covey will appreciate any opportunity to talk over his past work with county voters.

TWO PERSONS GET THEATER PASSES

Robert Young, Joan Crawford and Franchot Tone will furnish entertainment for two persons Sunday or Monday at the Roxy Theatre, who will be guests of the Times.

"The Bird Wore Red," will be the title of the production. Search the Want-Ads.

Haskell Man is Employed by Moore

Riley Lewellen, former deputy sheriff and later in the farm implement business at Haskell, recently accepted a position as salesman for W. R. Moore, Allis-Chalmers and Moline dealer of this city.

Lewellen assumed his new duties here last Saturday, January 1. His territory will include all adjacent towns to Munday, it was stated.

Childhood Education Leader

DENTON, Texas—Miss Epie Young, second grade supervisor in the N. T. S. T. C. Demonstration School here, has been named State President of the Association for Childhood Education. The election is considered a tribute to a leader in primary education in Texas and an honor to the local Teachers College.

A. C. E. boasts a Texas membership of 1,500 and is fast becoming one of the leading educational organizations in this country, according to its new State president. It is composed principally of teachers in the lower grades and was formed by the consolidation of the International Kindergarten Union and the National Primary Council.

Chas. Moorehouse Enters Race For County Treasurer

Charlie Moorehouse, pioneer resident of Knox County, today announced his entrance into the race for County Treasurer in a formal statement to this paper.

A resident of Benjamin for the past 30 years, Mr. Moorehouse has been one of the influential personalities of that city in civic affairs and has taken an active lead in county improvement projects.

For years Mr. Moorehouse was in the cattle and mercantile business and for the past five years has been associated in the cattle commission business.

He has served his city for years on the school board of trustees and has been a member of the county school board. For years he has been active in the Democratic Executive Committee for Knox county.

In the future Mr. Moorehouse will make a campaign throughout the county

New Member Is Added to Staff Of Knox Clinic

O. J. Emory, M.D., now retained by the Terrell Laboratory at Fort Worth, will be added to the Knox City Clinic staff and be situated at Rochester, according to announcement made this week by that institution.

Dr. Emory was formerly a practicing physician at Knox City and is quite well known in that section. Through his addition the Clinic staff will be increased to four members. Others being Dr. D. C. Eiland, of this city, Dr. T. P. Frizzell, of Knox City, Dr. T. S. Edwards of Knox City.

Weinert Ginnings From New Crop Show Huge Gain Over Average Of Years; Over 9,000 Bales Ginned

New Crop Ginnings Surpass 1936 By 7,000

Ginnings from the 1937 cotton crop as reported at Weinert last week broke all previous average year records, ginnings and cotton men reported.

An average run by the Weinert gins will turn out an estimated 5,500 bales of cotton it was estimated, while last year the crop ginned out only 2,600 bales due to the drought.

The last report on this year's crop sent the figure soaring to 9,200 bales, nearly 7,000 more than was ginned last year and nearly double the average year's ginnings.

However, a great deal of the increase can be attributed to the high price that some Weinert gins and cotton men paid early in the season, which caused a great influx of cotton into that city to be ginned. Some men have estimated that an approximate 2,500 bales were lost by Munday ginnings due to the price.

ELECTION DATE ANNOUNCED FOR NFL OF MUNDAY

Farm Loan Group To Meet January 11 In Munday

CAPITAL STOCK OF $1,000,000.00

Total Membership of Organization Is 275

Annual election of officers of the National Farm Loan of Munday was announced this week for Tuesday, January 11, at the Jones and Eiland Insurance office in this city.

The loan association, which operates under federal laws, has a membership of 275 with a capital stock of about $1,000,000, John Ed Jones, secretary-treasurer of the organization, stated.

President of the association is G. R. Eiland, Sr., and the board of directors is composed of G. R. Eiland, Sr., A. J. Bunts, E. B. Bowden, C. A. Eiland, and John B. Reneau, Sr.

Hour for the meeting has been set at 1:45 p.m., and should the crowd be too large to be accommodated in the Jones and Eiland offices, the group will have the meeting in the Roxy Theatre.

School Heads of County Attending Annual Convention

Dr. J. H. Bass, Superintendent of schools in this city, left Wednesday afternoon for Austin, Texas, where he will attend the annual Audio-Visual Education convention for city, county superintendents and state school deputies.

Bass was accompanied by J. Lyndal Hughes, county superintendent, and T. W. Harber, Sunset superintendent, and they met Mr. Breedlove, superintendent of Haskell schools at Haskell.

The meeting is conducted by the state department of education.

Lions Club Hears School Heads In Meet Wednesday

The Munday Lions Club enjoyed a very lively meeting at the Eiland Hotel Wednesday noon in regular session with seventeen members present and three guests.

Dr. E. M. Roberts, third vice-president of the club was relegated to the first chair for the day. Although the regular program that had been planned failed to materialize much fun was enjoyed by the members.

Lion J. H. Bass presented two guests to the club, T. W. Harber, superintendent of Sunset schools, and J. Lyndal Hughes, county superintendent, and both men made short talks. Hughes commented upon the general condition of the county schools.

Honorable Tailtwister, Lion Bill Moore, furnished entertainment aplenty with a pair of scissors which was used to sever ties from the throats of ill-fated Lions. When the day's session had ended he had paid a 20 cent fine himself to set a new high for fines which totaled $1.75. Some fun . . . ?

NURSES HOME IS NEAR FINISH WILL RELIEVE CROWDED CONDITION OF HOSPITAL

The nurses home now under construction for the Knox County Hospital at Knox City will be completed within the next week to ten days, it was believed by officials.

The home is a five room house of stucco finish on the exterior, and will have a reception room, two baths and all modern conveniences, according to the original plans of the structure.

The county commissioners court recently appropriated money and let contract for the home, which will relieve the crowded condition of the hospital when the nurses move to their new quarters. The hospital now has a staff of 6 graduate nurses, two maids and an office girl.

HUGHES MAKES ANNOUNCEMENT FOR SAME JOB

Seeks A Second Term As County Supt. Of Schools

J. Lyndal Hughes, present Knox county Superintendent of Public Schools, formally announced his candidacy for election to a second term to the same office this week.

Mr. Hughes, a Knox county man by birth, is 31 years of age and has had much experience in school work, both from the administrative and instructors side of school duties.

He is a graduate of the University of Texas, holder of an A.B. degree and is at present completing his masters degree in "School Administration," a course that fits him better for the type of work he is now engaged in, county school superintendent. He attended North Texas State Teachers College during his first two years of higher education.

A native of the Vera community, J. Lyndal Hughes was an instructor in the Sunset school system, west of this city, at the time of his election to the office he now holds. The office is a four year term.

Mr. Hughes made no statement as to his policies, for the future, but stated that he would make a formal personal statement to the voters of Knox county at a later date. He is making the race for a second successive term on the merits of the term he is now serving, he pointed out.

Infant Daughter Of J. C. Elliotts Dies at Seymour

Death came to the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Elliott about 6:30 p.m., Wednesday in the Seymour Hospital at Seymour. The infant lived only a few hours after birth.

Brief funeral services were held Thursday morning at 10:30 a.m., in the chapel of the Mahan Funeral Home of this city, with Rev. W. H. Albertson officiating. Burial was in Johnson cemetery.

Surviving are the parents, who reside near Goree, and the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Elliott, and Mrs. Ora Collins, of Munday.

Mrs. Donnie Trott Succumbs at Home To Serious Illness

Funeral services were conducted Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock for Mrs. Donnie Trott, resident of this city for the past 25 years, who died at her home Wednesday.

Mrs. Trott passed on following a short serious illness at 9:25, and was 77 years, and 19 days of age at death. She had been widowed twice, both husbands preceding her in death in this city.

A native of Louisiana, Mrs. Trott was born in Marion, Louisiana in 1861.

The funeral rites were conducted from the home with Minister J. E. L. Harrison, pastor of the Church of Christ, Holliday, Texas, officiating and Rev. W. H. Albertson, pastor of the Munday Baptist Church assisting. Burial was made in Johnson cemetery with the Mahan Funeral Home in charge of all arrangements.

Pallbearers were John Reneau, John Spann, W. J. Swain, Fred Broach, Lee Haymes and Leland Hannah.

Surviving are the following sons and daughters: Ben Guinn, Munday; L. C. Guinn, Munday; George Trott, Santa Fe, N. Mex.; Valeta Bentley, Huffman, Texas; Maude Galloway, Olney, Texas; Lucy Mills, Roswell, N. Mex.; one sister, Mrs. Maud Dunks of Georgetown, Texas, and 28 grandchildren and 23 great-grandchildren.

VISITS SISTER DURING RECENT HOLIDAY SEASON

R. L. Newsom, M.D., of this city spent the past week end in the home of his sister, Mrs. L. C. Miller and Mr. Miller visiting over the New Year holidays at El Paso, Texas.

Jack Freeman of Goree, Route 1, was a business visitor in the city Thursday morning.

Political Pot!

The Knox county political pot started to boil this week.

Most of the men who are considering tossing their hats into the political ring for the forthcoming election next summer are making preparations to announce or have done so.

Most of the present county office holders who will seek reelection will probably have their announcement in within the next two weeks, it has been intimated to The Times.

Candidates are advised that two rules will be adhered to in a strict manner by the Times: First, all announcements and printed matter for candidates will be strictly cash; Second, announcements must be turned in not later than Wednesday morning of the week it is to be published.

BULLETIN!

Admitted to Hospital

The son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Jones, farm residents one mile west of the city, was admitted to the Knox County hospital Thursday morning suffering from a serious ruptured appendix. His condition at time of going to press was considered critical.

Ed Jones Asks For Re-Election As Commissioner

Ed Jones, county commissioner of Precinct No. 4, which embraces Munday, Rhineland, Goree and Hefner communities, today announced his candidacy for reelection subject to action of the Democratic primary, July 23rd.

Mr. Jones in completing the present term as commissioner of this precinct pointed out the work that has been done on the county roads of this area as the basis of his claim for another term in office. He has improved lateral roads in all sections of the district, and is keeping them in as good condition as possible.

He is also a member of the commissioners court and points to the record compiled by that body with pride and invites inspection in the administrative work sponsored by that group which was accomplished through his cooperation as well as other members of the board.

Recently the county highway from Munday to Benjamin was made a state highway and all maintenance is now under state supervision, thus making it possible to expend more money on lateral roads to better county highways, reaching all points of his precinct.

Mr. Jones is a farmer of the Hefner community and has resided in this county for more than 36 years.

Local Chamber of Commerce Meeting Is Held Thursday

In their first meeting of the new year the Munday Chamber of Commerce heard reports of various committees on recent projects sponsored by that organization and discussed new business.

It was disclosed in the report of the annual Christmas tree sponsored by the organization that 1053 gifts were given out to kids at the tree.

Miss Maude Isbell made a report on the Cemetery Association and announced a plan to enlarge the plat, build a new fence and stated that a drive for funds will be inaugurated Saturday of this week.

Other discussions were heard on getting the 4-H club boys calf show here this year and the annual banquet and election of officers which will be held next month. It was decided to retain membership in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce organization.

New Pharmacist Employed at Rexall

A. L. Smith, manager of the Rexall Drug Store of this city, announced a new addition to the personnel of his firm this week.

C. J. Jeter, formerly of Cooper, Texas, began his new duties here last Saturday as pharmacist and clerk for the Rexall store.

JACK WILLIAMS PRESIDENT FOR SCHOOL GROUP

Includes Classes Of Munday School From 1930

ANNUAL MEETING EACH CHRISTMAS

Virginia Smith Named First Secretary-Treasurer

At the annual class reunion of the 1934-'35-'36 senior classes of the Munday High School held last Thursday night in the Terry Hotel, the Munday High School Alumni Association was announced.

The annual class meeting was started by the class of 1934 and the class members of '35 and '36 were asked to join in the annual meeting. Out of this series of meetings the foundation was laid for the alumni association.

Unlike most associations the local group will not include graduates from the first senior class until the present graduating class, but will include each class from 1933 to date. Each year in the future, the graduating class will be initiated into the association.

Following adoption of the plan, Jack Williams, class of 1934, was named president for the first year. Other officers are Jerv Kethley, vice-president; Virginia Smith, secretary-treasurer; and Sylvia Barnes, reporter. Time for the annual banquet of the MHS alumni has been set for the first of the holidays. Exact date will be announced until a later date.

At the banquet last Thursday night, Jack Williams served as toastmaster, delivering the welcome address. Miss Virginia Best Atkinson led the group through several songs to add zest to the evening's program. At the close of the affair, R. R. Davenport, guest speaker, through request of the class of '34, made an impressive address prompted by the untimely demise of Vinton Tiner, president of the 1934 graduating class in their junior and senior years. The talk was an expression of gratitude for his life as they knew him. Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Tiner and daughter, Margaret, were honor guests.

THE FIRST VOTE (The Semi-Weekly Farm News)

The casting of a first vote is a major event in the life of almost every adult—and rightly so. It marks the beginning of participation in civic and political life in a country in which the people rule themselves through chosen representatives. But in Texas and seven other States, casting of the first vote requires a preliminary that must be attended to months before the election. The man or woman who goes to the polls without a poll tax receipt or exemption will be entirely out of luck.

The First Voters League of Texas is waging a commendable campaign to induce Texans who recently have come of age, or who will become 21 before next year's primary, to make themselves eligible for voting in 1938. Those past 21 must pay the poll tax by January 31. Those who will be 21 next year, before the primary election, can obtain exemption certificates by applying for them by January 31. Franchise of half a million potential Texas voters between 21 and 25 years of age is involved in this campaign. Pride and forethought will induce many to make themselves eligible for voting without being urged. Many others, it is hoped, will profit by the reminders to be given by the First Voters' League in the next month. Successful democracy depends largely on getting out a large, representative and intelligent vote.

"The REST of the Record"

BY JAMES V. ALLRED
Governor of Texas

Item in the Sunday, December 26, issue of the Dallas News is of tremendous interest to Texans.

Church men and law enforcement groups have issued a call to arms against vice. Sunday from every pulpit in Dallas, good citizens, irrespective of political views, were urged to pay their poll taxes at once. The paper makes the statement that this movement was launched in answer to a direct challenge earlier in the week when "Pay Your Poll Tax Now" signs appeared in beer and liquor stores. The News article says, "Such signs were accompanied by a whispering campaign among those favoring return of the open saloon, horse betting and slot machines."

For some time now I have known that the underworld in general is extremely dissatisfied with the fact that my administration has enforced the law; with the fact that the Public Safety Commission has made a campaign on "big shot" gamblers and racketeers. These elements are talking it up that they want to elect what they call a "liberal" governor and perhaps two other offices. The truth of the matter is they don't want to elect someone who will not molest them.

There are many "liberals" who do not believe in open saloons and in "big shot" gamblers, but all of my depend upon it the fight for clean, decent government is on in Texas.

We had better beware of soft talking, back-slapping pretenders who are trying to play both sides of the fence. No man has the right to receive the support of the church people and the better citizenship in general, and at the same time the quiet but enthusiastic vote and assistance of the underworld.

All over Texas we had better organize for the fray just as they are organizing in Dallas. Regardless of whom we expect to vote for, I appeal to all good citizens to pay their poll taxes early.

When the issues are clearer, when we know who is running and how they stand on these issues, we will be in better position to cast our ballots; but it is essential that all of us pay our poll taxes, or secure our exemption certificates, so as to be ready to vote and offset the organized underworld.

Mrs. Louise Ingram and son, Preston were in Wichita Falls last week end visiting. Preston went to College Station to resume his studies in Texas A. & M. College.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Blanton left for Dallas last Sunday morning from where Mrs. Blanton went on to visit her parents. They were accompanied to Fort Worth by W. R. Moore, Jr., and D. E. Holder, both of this city, who were to Texas A. & M. College.

State Health Conditions Better

During the past year the general health condition of Texans was improved greatly, a bulletin issued by the Texas State Department of Health reports.

The State Bureau of Vital Statistics secured and filed permanently a record of 196,619 births as compared to 68,882 deaths, for an increase of the birth rate over the death rate of 127,737.

Community sanitation and malarial control came in for a lion's share of the 1937 health program sponsored by the state department. New sanitary toilets built totaled 9,492 and an additional 803 were repaired. Eighty-five septic tanks were built for rural schools. It is estimated that the project protected 222,000 people from malaria, typhoid and dysentery.

Dental health was seriously endeavored during the year through cooperation of the State Department of Education and the Texas State Dental Society. Tuberculosis control was again one of the leading battle fronts of the health department, with more than 2,000 persons examined and X-rayed for tuberculosis of the lungs. It was found that one of every five examined had the dreaded disease.

Veneral disease control, industrial hygiene, maternal and child hygiene, pure foods and drugs and other branches of health improvement showed material gains during the year. All in all, 1937 is a memorable Health Year.

STILL SHE WAVES

A New York minister is out after "The Star Spangled-Banner" because it is too warlike. History indicates however, that the national anthem is no more warlike than were the fighting Americans who at the time it was written, were seeking to maintain the liberties that our pugnacious pioneers had achieved.

To one who sets the proper estimate on the value of freedom, and the debt of gratitude, we who live today far removed from the crash of war machines and the horror of armies in action, owe to our battling ancestors, there is nothing repugnant about "The Star Spangled-Banner." It's really too bad that more of us do not know it.—Haskell Free Press.

PAY YOUR POLL TAX—YOU HAVE UNTIL JANUARY 31st TO BECOME ELIGIBLE TO VOTE IN THE COMING STATE AND COUNTY AND CITY ELECTIONS

A burglar smashed 3,000 eggs in a produce commission house in Chicago when he was disappointed in his search for money.

CONGRESSMAN J. D. MCFARLANE

Anti-Trust Laws
Mrs. Robert Jackson, Assistant Attorney General, radio broadcast on last Sunday and Thursday nights was apparently the opening gun answering the campaign of big business, which seems to be determined to completely sabotage the New Deal program and repeal all laws conflicting with their special privileged rights. The subsidized press continues to show its teeth, and some critics ask for specific proof, when if given in detail they would be the first to howl, as shown by the reactions to Mr. Jackson's speech which gives sufficient proof to satisfy those who know these facts to be true.

Economic Trends
Brookings Institute figures, given out by Dr. Moulton in his last book, "Income and Economic Progress," points out that during the peak year of 1929, of the fifteen billion dollars accrued that thirteen billion dollars accrued to ten per cent of the population; that sixty thousand families at the top saved as much as twenty-five million families at the bottom. Certainly Dr. Moulton writing for Brookings Institute, is known to be very conservative. Mr. Stuart Chase, another recognized economist, analyzing the Brookings report points out that during the same peak year, 1929, that the five hundred odd families with incomes over a million dollars each, spent as a group only eighty-seven million dollars, leaving more than one billion dollars of their combined incomes for saving and investment.

All record evidence from all record sources reveals that during the past five years the pump priming operations of this Administration to force money back into trade channels and to place buying power into the hands of the people has seen the efforts of the Federal Government largely nullified by the same hoggish group who takes the lions share of the profits due to their monopolistic set up and their powerful hold on the country and they offer nothing in return but criticism and abuse. There is a limit to the patience of the people as to how long they will stand this kind of treatment.

Undistributed Profits and Capital Gains Tax Appeal

Instead of being satisfied and offering to cooperate with the undistributed profits tax law, which no one can fairly point out has done more than to require big business to distribute their enormous surpluses and profits to their stockholders rather than retain them, which permits their officers and directors to pay themselves large salaries and bonuses. These officers and directors of big business are mad and they do not want to be forced to give up their large accumulated surpluses for their own private benefit. Naturally we can't blame them for that, but as representatives of the people it would be very unfair for Congress to let these captains of industry get by with any such program. Outside of giving the smaller corporations a little more liberal exemptions, the undistributed profits tax is fair and should be continued. This law is of much more benefit to the stockholders of the corporations than it is in raising additional revenue for the Government.

The Calendar
The President will open the session January 3rd by personally delivering his message to the joint session of the Congress. It is believed that the President is thoroughly dissatisfied with the results accomplished at the recent special session and is determined to show a more militant attitude in legislative matters during the coming session. It is well that he should for on the results of this session will largely depend the future policy and success of Democratic government in America.

We are at the crossroads. The time is here when we must either, legislatively speaking, turn right or left. Will the Congress legislate for all the people or will it fold up, back track and cringe to the whim of the privileged group.

Meanwhile campaign machinery of Thompson and McCraw was being oiled and organization work is under way. Formal announcement probably will be made in late January by Thompson, and in February, after he returns from court estate tax litigation, by McCraw. They followed the light of the Holy Star
As it led them in the eastward way;
They traveled o'er hills a distance far
To the lowly manger where Jesus lay.

The new-born baby was a gift from God
To man. He came to set us free;
To be our Guide, our life, our rod;
That through Him we might see.

Scatter the love of this Holy One
At Christmas time, and live each day
So others may see God's Son
In you, and find the better way.
—Millard F. Willis, Dallas

CHRISTMAS GIFT

What do I want for Christmas?
Last summer's moon will do—
A rose that we picked together—
A path through the gass and dew.

What do I want for Christmas?
A kiss neath a willow tree—
A stick of pink striped candy—
A smile that you gave to me.

What do I want for Christmas?
A little dream or two—
A little kiss—some of your love—
Tied with holly—from you . . .
—Elsie Smith Parker, Dallas

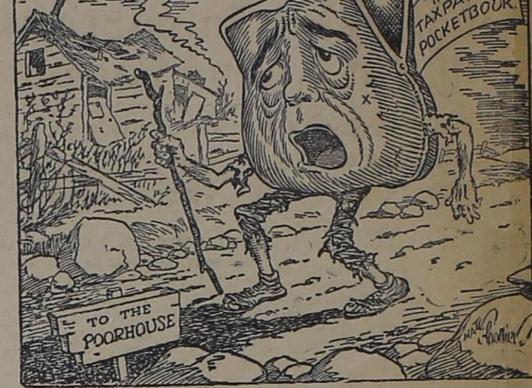

WINGS

My son, with gentle brown eyes,
Left to try his wings yesterday.
'Tis not modern if one cries,
Yet—I wonder what hearts can weigh
When a lad, beloved, has gone?
Calmly I go about my work.
The household pulse ticks smoothly on,
But mine—skips and shirks.

THE POCKETBOOK'S LAMENT

OH, I'M OLD AND I'M WORN, I HAVE TROUBLES GALORE, VISITORS
I'M SO EMPTY I ECHO INSIDE;
AND THE TAX POISON'S EATING MY HEART TO THE CORE,
AND MY SOUL FEELS AS IF IT HAD DIED.

BUT I'M TRUDGING ALONG WITH THIS LIFT OF A SONG
TO THE LITTLE OL' POORHOUSE—THAT'S WHERE I BELONG!

The WEEKLY CONSTITUTIONAL

by MAX BERNS
Our Balance-Wheel

How do our Courts provide a safeguard for the people and the government?
In his book on Constitutional Government, Woodrow Wilson says: "Our courts are the balance-wheel of our whole constitutional system, and ours is the only constitutional system so balanced and controlled. Other constitutional systems lack complete poise and certainty of operation because they lack the support and interpretation of authoritative, indisputable courts of law."

"It is clear beyond all need of exposition that for the definite maintenance of constitutional understandings it is indispensable, alike for the preservation of the individual, and for the preservation of the integrity of the powers of the Government, that there should be some non-political forum in which these understandings can be impartially debated and determined. That forum our courts supply.

"The constitutional powers of the courts," concludes Wilson, "constitute the ultimate safeguard alike of individual privilege and governmental prerogative. It is in this sense that our judiciary is the balance-wheel of our entire system."

Pneumonia Is a Seasonal Disease

Austin, Texas.—Pneumonia is a seasonal disease, in that the incidence and mortality is much increased during wet, cold weather, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. It is more prevalent and serious in towns where contacts with people are more common. Pneumonia is always dangerous but it is especially so to persons in a rundown condition. This accounts for the number of cases following illness with some other disease.

The germs that cause pneumonia are spread by careless coughers, sneezers, spitters, and the things that they thus infect. The first symptoms are usually a severe chill and fever, a very sick feeling, and a heavy sensation in the chest. Sometimes coughing brings up blood from the inflamed lungs. Any of these signs should be the signal for going to bed at once and sending for your doctor.

The familiar rules for the prevention of other respiratory diseases apply to pneumonia. These rules should become personal habits and not be put on or off at times of prevalence or absence of disease. Persons should avoid careless coughers and sneezers, even if you have to be rude. Wash your face and hands thoroughly before each meal. Keep your hands, pencils, money and other such things away from your mouth and nose. Get plenty of fresh air day and night. Exercise and eat in moderation and wear clothing suitable for the weather.

Pneumonia ranks second as a cause of death in Texas. In 1932 almost six thousand persons died of this disease. It should be remembered that contagious and infectious diseases cannot be decreased or eliminated without the cooperation of the people and that means that people who are sick with contagious and infectious diseases should be isolated and visited as little as possible by relatives and friends.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

BY JULIAN CAPERS JR.

Austin.—Gov. Allred's luncheon with President Roosevelt in Washington, and his conferences with Vice President Garner and Attorney General Homer Cummings, brought a revival of the Federal Judgeship talk in Austin this week. There was also a rumor that the Texas governor, who has something of a reputation as a "trust-buster" himself, as the instigator of the anti-trust suit against the major oil companies in Texas four years ago, might be enlisted in the pending anti-monopoly drive which the New Deal chieftains are cooking up in Washington. But close friends of the Governor insisted he wouldn't be interested in an appointment as special assistant attorney general, or anything less than the judgeship. These friends professed to believe that Allred's chances for the Federal Judiciary were excellent after his visit with Roosevelt and Garner. If the regular session of Congress passes a judiciary bill, providing for additional judges, with one for Texas included, observers here believe the appointments will be made immediately. Should Allred receive one of these coveted posts, it is regarded as virtually a certainty he will resign as Governor, and let Lt. Gov. Walter Woodul finish out his unexpired term.

Allred Might Step Out
Woodul, meanwhile, is campaigning for Attorney General, and would his race for that office, even should he fill out Allred's term. If he should get to serve six months or so as Governor, it should give him an almost unbeatable position against the large field of candidates, and prospective candidates for Attorney General.

Incidentally, if Allred had good luck in Washington with his bid for the Judgeship, the lobbyists here feel sure there will be no more special sessions of the 45th legislature. Allred couldn't help his bid for the judgeship with another session, and a political session at this time might do him considerable damage. Woodul, it is believed, would favor letting the state's problems remain in status quo, calling no session and letting the new governor tackle the situation with the new Legislature, at the regular session January, a year hence.

Crowley Announces
One of the strangest political announcements in Texas' history this week carried in its wake a lot of comment, some sarcastic, some humorous, virtually none serious. The announcement was that of Carl Crowley, former Fort Worth lawyer, who is now solicitor general for the Postoffice Department. Crowley declared he didn't believe the people of Texas were satisfied to choose between Col. Ernest O. Thomson and Bill McCraw in picking their next governor, and so, if neither Gov. Allred nor Jim Ferguson would enter the race, he (Crowley) would enter the race. The Fort Worth Star-Telegram, in Crowley's home city, carried a facetious editorial which is being read and re-read all over Texas as one of the finest bits of sarcasm

Keeping Tab With The Juniors

The Juniors have recuperated completely since holidays. Although a few of us sound rather sleepy, as a whole we are glad to be back and are really going to do our best to make a half credit on all of our subjects at mid-term.

The Junior class had quite a thrill awaiting them Tuesday, December 28 at one o'clock when, as they entered the study-hall, they saw the face of a former classmate, Peggy Eiland. We are certainly glad to have her here among us again, and we're happy to know that she had not forgotten dear old Munday High.

The Juniors want to express their appreciation for the lovely social given Friday evening, December 31. It was different but extremely pleasant to all. We really feel that we have an A-1 senior class this year.

Most of the Juniors at this time are studying diligently, because, remember mid-terms are just around the corner. Perhaps after mid-term we will be doing more and naturally have more to tell you about. Until then, we bid you... A Dios.

Freshman Party at Home of Dr. Bass

The Freshmen were favored with a party Friday night in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Bass. Several games were played; the most interesting of which was Bingo. Refreshments of Tuna fish and Pimento sandwiches, cookies and cocoa were served. After the enjoyable entertainment most of us guests went to the midnight show.

Everyone seems a little bit drowsy after keeping late hours for the week-end. Here's hoping I'll pep up soon.

Seniors Entertain Juniors With Chili Party

The Seniors entertained the Junior Class with a chili supper Friday night at ten o'clock. After the chili supper, the party went to the midnight show as a group. Later, bad dreams were had by all.

Louis Cartwright, sheriff of Knox county from Benjamin, was in the city Monday night on official business.

Sophomore Class Has Party Friday

Members of the Sophomore class attended a very enjoyable party Friday night in the Stodghill home. Bingo, forty-two, towel, newspaper, spinning the bottle, and several other delightful games were played. Delicious refreshments of pineapple pie and coffee were served, after which everyone went to the midnight show.

MEDITATION

By ANN ATKEISON

Sportsmanship

Playing the game right and for the fun of it is a lesson every boy and girl should learn in the pre-school age. When the rule is learned early in life, the life will be fun to live. Treating every one fairly and giving him the benefit of the doubt without hurting one's own rights is an aid to his or her personality and in making a success. This game or rule is called "sportsmanship." A person willing to take a chance and be cheerful when he loses, possesses some of the desired qualities.

Most people think of "sportsmanship" in relation to field sports, hunting, fishing, and all kinds of games pertaining to athletics. Probably the reason for this is that most boys and girls learn the principles by participating in some sport or sports while in school. But this word will have a much deeper and more valuable meaning in later years when one is trying to do the job of living well.

I heard Switzerland is so hard hit by the absence of British visitors that many of the inhabitants have decided not to yodel this winter.

Another lesson you can learn right at home is that you can trust only one end of a tube of dental cream.

"We should make the same use of a book that a bee does of a flower—she steals sweets from it, but does not injure it."

When you started reading this you thought it was a poem. Isn't it funny how people will go on reading when they know they're being fooled!

Superiority: That feeling of knowing the correct spelling of the word a high-school sophomore falls down on in a radio bee.

TODAY'S RECOMMENDED RECIPE

LAST CALL FOR FRUIT CAKE

What, Christmas less than a week away! It can't be! Why, it seems only yesterday that you were getting ready for Thanksgiving. Where have the days flown to! You haven't done any of the baking you planned. There's not even a fruit cake stored away to mellow. And Christmas isn't Christmas without a fruit cake! But at this late day — wouldn't it be risky to try to make one?

Not at all. Here's a recipe designed for just such an emergency. It's called "Last Minute Fruit Cake" because it doesn't require a long mellowing period to develop its luscious fruity flavor. It's ready to eat as soon as it's made. Here's the recipe:

- | | |
|---|-------------------------------------|
| 1/2 cup shortening | 1 tsp. soda |
| 1 cup granulated sugar | 1/2 cup water |
| 1 egg | 1/2 cup almonds, cut fine |
| 1 cup unsweetened apple sauce, strained | 1/2 cup walnuts, cut fine |
| 2 1/4 cups all-purpose flour | 1/2 cup raisins |
| or | 1/2 cup dates, cut fine |
| 2 1/2 cups cake flour | 1/2 cup candied cherries, cut fine |
| 1/2 tsp. nutmeg | 1/2 cup candied pineapple, cut fine |
| 1/2 tsp. allspice | 1/2 cup lemon rind, cut fine |
| 1/2 tsp. cinnamon | |
| 1 tsp. salt | |

Cream shortening, add sugar gradually and cream thoroughly. Add well beaten egg. Add the cooled apple sauce. Sift flour once before measuring. Sift together flour, spices, salt and soda. Add flour mixture to the creamed mixture alternately with the water. Add fruit and nuts which have been mixed with the last addition of flour. Pour into greased and floured pan and bake 45 minutes in a moderate oven, 350° F. Size of Pan: One 9-inch square pan.

Betty Crocker Advises

Question: If a recipe calls for dark molasses, and I use a lighter color will that make a difference in the baking of a cake?

Answer: Your cake will be lighter in color.

Question: Why are egg yolks sometimes beaten until lemon colored, and others just lightly beaten. What effect does this have upon the recipe?

Answer: Slightly beaten egg yolks are used to thicken custards or fillings—or for coating mixtures—such as croquettes. The slightly beaten egg yolk is better for these purposes. But in a sponge cake, it is imperative that the egg yolks be beaten until thick and lemon-colored if a light, full volume cake is to be had. The egg yolks alone, of course, will not make the cake full volume and light. But if the egg yolks are under-beaten, the cake will develop a streak at the bottom, it will be heavy and under-sized or gummy.

Question: Do I measure baking powder level when I'm going to sift it with the flour?

Answer: Baking powder should always be measured level. Rounded or heaping teaspoonfuls would result in dry, coarse cakes.

If you worry about what to serve, if you dread to start the next meal, just drop a card to Betty Crocker in care of The Munday Times and ask for this week's menus. Complete menus for the week with recipes for the main items will be sent you at no cost. Please enclose 3 cent stamp to cover return postage.

PEEP SHOW

FOR LADIES ONLY

Another mile post traveled
Past joys and laughs and ills
But New Year peace, now don't forget,
On this post, Post no bills.

Isn't it strange that all the nice new shining resolutions we make on New Year only to find by the end of the first week that some of the shine is a bit dulled and at the end of the second week tarnished, and who ever remembered what they were by the end of the third week? Anyway, one of mine is to write little notes ever so often to all those I love and just tell them so. Who knows what the next year will bring? And by that I'm not meaning anything pessimistic, but only that if you love a friend, tell him so now. That's my creed.

Speaking of telling them so, here

New Year Psychology

New Year resolves are not so much the fashion they once were, but the desire to take account of ourselves, to weight our strength, and to measure our progress once in so often is too deeply founded in human nature to ever go out of fashion.

It was not long ago that psychology introduced intelligence tests. Such tests have been of immense value, because daily we are developing more accurate means of measuring human values. Through a study of psychology we are learning better to understand our own power.

For instance, we have learned to understand the great law of self-preservation, we are able to gauge whether we are behaving wisely or unwisely according to this law—whether the fire of stubbornness or discouragement where by we try to preserve ourselves against the encroachments of a stronger nature, is a wise or foolish way of defending ourselves and our best powers. Or, once we understand the law of growth, we can gauge whether we are growing in desirable or undesirable ways.

Once we know the laws, behavior is for us no longer a chance thing. We know that our own behaviors can be improved and we set about improving them. With these newer viewpoints in mind we wish each of you a happy New Year, full of a better understanding of human nature. As to resolves, I cannot think of a sounder one than the resolve to try to understand oneself and other better.

Ask yourself each day, "Am I progressing in tolerance, courage, faith, and reasonable behavior?"

A few simple books, daily practice in impersonal observation of other's lives and of one's own; a notebook in which to jot down the truths as you learn them; these and the resolve to progress will make a beginning of a richer, happier, more efficient life.

Anne Bryan McCall

is a sentiment I received on the sail of a little silver ship which must have been a treasure ship for it was designed and set from Teresa Dudley Black of Enid, "God gave me great pleasures Joys without end; And best of all treasures The heart of a friend."

A beautiful card from Our Jennie of the Long Red Hill saying, "May fame, love and happiness be yours, reminds me of another little friend I am fortunate in having who handed me this: "May the Christ, this year, mean to me More than wealth or heights of fame May I live that each day through He may glorify His name."

That was penned by Cornelia Middlecope who writes just because a small voice in her heart keeps singing and refuses to be stilled, and not for any other returns but the joy she finds in the singing.

From all my writing friends have come such clever, original greetings, how can they expect a poor newspaper gal to think up anything to even answer them? Then there has come some hifalutin ones, even one from the Governor, himself, with a picture of the statue of the pioneer woman which I shall treasure. One from Jessie Wiley Voils, and that blessed Octavia Moore sent me a lovely new Anthology of Oklahoma Writers compiled by Aletha Conner who is a neighbor to Jennie Harris Oliver at Falls. Octavia has two perfectly lovely poems in it and they are perfect examples of her versatility as a poet, her strength which comes from quietness and a thinking through of things. Then another one, "The old fireplace" which should have been mine. It is just the kind of poem I wish I could have written. One of those ache in the throat poems which draw a picture of something old and dear and about to be lost forever. Yes, Octavia is one of those writers who have the real something. Not defined as yet but that something which is a "must" with a real poet.

A happy surprise was to find a Christmas card from my favorite columnist (always excepting Mrs. Walter Ferguson and Odd) Douglas Meador out Matador way. But the surprising thing of all was that he is not a lone cowboy riding back over the trail of dreams where once all silver spurred and booted he had slung a rawhide in dizzy swirls. But on the small card was a Mr. and Mrs. I had him pictured with his boots propped up on the office desk using for his lariat a string of shining words roping in friends, who, like himself, love to sit remembering while the camp fires burn low and the herds of long ago are but shadows on a ravaged prairie. But I know the "little woman" must be the top foreman on the ranch and while Doug is pounding out "Trail Dust" I bet she is out rounding up ad-

Senior News

When we came back to school Monday we had made only one resolution. That resolution was to work hard and diligently, but we think we should have resolved never to be late for history recitation.

We Seniors have been overhearing some talk of the Juniors which has made us very inquisitive. We wonder what the following designate: "L.W.," "J.H.," "E.A." If anybody can identify this shorthand, please notify the Seniors, as it is a mystery to us.

Sophomore News

The Sophomores came back to school Monday resolved to study and try to be better students. As the holidays are over we are getting down to some real work.

We are very sorry that Geneva Mills has left us, but we welcome Tina Belle Washburn to our class. Dorothy doesn't take New Year's resolutions seriously. She has resolved to cause Miss Walsh's talking and not behaving.

Georgen has been having trouble with her classmates. Why, some of them have been calling her names! They seem to think she and your reporter act too smart, but we know the real reason.

The Science Club held another interesting meeting Wednesday. The following discussed scientific topics: Geneva Wilde, Catherine Homer, Ethel Stengel, Genevieve Herring, Bernice Decker, Dorothy Koenig, and Alma Schumacher.

Junior News

The Juniors were surprised on Thursday morning when they discovered that they have made the best grades in geometry for a good many years.

Our classmate, Josephine, has been absent for several days on account of the illness of her mother, but has returned to school Tuesday. We are hoping she will continue with her school work.

The Juniors have been working hard memorizing poetry for the English class, although we are progressing we will rejoice when it will come to an end.

Wilma, when a ball comes to the back line where you are, what is your idea of running up to the front and yelling 'here!'?

Freshman News

The eighth grade students enjoyed the talk that Mr. Hoffman gave them the other day. We hope that it will be a lesson to them during their future life.

We will discuss our history topics Wednesday, and we hope the Sophomores and our teacher, Miss Ruddy, will be pleased with what we have to discuss.

Ethel was surprised Monday night when she opened her history book and found a nice little present all wrapped up and it even had her name on it. We wonder what she thought about this. Maybe someone put it there because they wanted her to remember them by it.

We were wondering why Geneva was so sleepy Monday morning. Maybe she was having a good time somewhere Sunday night.

Willard Bauman left Sunday morning for Lubbock, Texas, to resume his studies in Texas Tech college.

Hospital Dismissals

Patients discharged from the Knox county hospital at Knox City during the past week included the following persons: Miss Marilyn Jean Bowden, Munday; Mrs. W. W. Austin, Texas.—The library of The University of Texas purchased 17,785 volumes in 1936-37, a 26 per cent increase as compared with the 14,054 volumes acquired by purchase in 1935-36, according to Donald Coney, librarian.

"It is gratifying to observe that the number of gifts increased from 3,500 in 1935-36 to 5,111 in 1936-37, an increase of 43 per cent," Mr. Coney continued. "No library ever becomes great through purchases alone. It is only through the continued and generous support of its friends that it acquires many scarce or expensive books."

The total additions to the library for 1936-37 were 22,327 volumes compared to 18,782 for the preceding year. No small proportion of this increase was due to the generous grant of the General Education Board of New York City to the University of $66,000 for the five-year period beginning February 1, 1936.

The University library with over 531,000 volumes is well on its way to becoming one of the greatest libraries in the country, Mr. Coney said. On August 31, 1937, the University Library contained 531,454 volumes.

"The University library gives every promise of passing the 550,000 volume mark by September 1, 1938," he added. "Already the largest and most important library in the South, it will, with the continued support of the Legislature and the citizens of the State, be able to hold its place in this respect without difficulty. Continued growth of the library is necessary to support the expanding program of research at the University, and to provide study materials for the rapidly increasing undergraduate student body."

Mr. and Mrs. I. R. Williams went to Dallas and Fort Worth over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Harber spent Christmas visiting his kinfolks in the Sunset community.

First-of-the-year-moving has begun. The Vernons have moved north of Munday. They will farm there this year.

The Stricklands are moving to Graham. Due to the fact Sunset is losing three excellent high school students and ball players, their parents were persuaded to let them stay until mid-term.

The Griffiths are moving, but will stay in the Sunset school district. They are moving where the Gates lived.

Thursday morning the entire student body was pleasantly surprised to hear the report that our third grade teacher, Miss Virginia Curry, was married to Mr. I. R. Williams. Mr. Williams is beginning early in paying his part as Santa Claus; for he presented his wife with a really good looking '38 Buick. The faculty and the student body of Sunset School wish the couple much happiness in their married life.

The Shannons are moving west of Sunset on the Farrington place. Mrs. Davenport: Take this to Mrs. Williams room. Do you know where that is?

Small Child: Yes. (But she pointed to Mrs. Reed's room. Mrs. Reed was formerly Miss Gladys Williams and is still Miss Williams to many of the smaller children.)

Mrs. Davenport: No, that is Mrs. Reed's room. Mrs. Williams' room is Miss Curry's room because Miss Curry changed her name during the holidays and now she is Mrs. Williams.

Small Child: Oh me! Now we don't have any girl teachers.

Miss Lorene Parker of this city returned to Dallas on Tuesday of this week where she is employed.

Dr. and Mrs. E. Y. Cornelius of Dallas, spent the recent holidays here visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Whittemore, Mrs. Cornelius' parents.

Visitor Here Judge Clyde Grissom of Eastland, visited in the Dr. T. P. Frizzell home in Knox City during the past week. He also visited friends here during his stay in this section.

Mrs. Claude Reed spent a quiet Christmas at home at Knox City.

Why Newspapers Ask For "Early Copy"

The Advertiser Is Unfair to Himself When He Sends His Advertisement to the Newspaper Office Just Before the Dead-Line

Early "Copy" Late "Copy"

- 1. Better position. Risk of poor position.
2. No errors. Risk of typographical errors.
3. Time for store corrections. No opportunity for store corrections.
4. Good typography. Risk of poor typography.
5. Prompt delivery to reader. Risk of late delivery.
6. Fair to mechanical staff. Unfair physical and mental strain.
7. Advertisement well written. Advertisement hurriedly written.
8. Advertisement inserted. Risk of omission.
9. Overhead normal. Often cause of rate increase.
10. Illustrations correct. Risk of misplaced cuts.

While a newspaper is a marvel of mechanical efficiency, there are limits on what can be done by a given force of printers, stereotypers and pressmen in a short, crowded period of stress.

There is plenty of time to give every advertiser good service when early copy is sent in.

The Times believes that its advertisers desire to be fair to the printers, stereotypers and pressmen who serve them as well as to be fair to themselves.

Visitors to the mechanical department are invited so that the process of handling advertising may be thoroughly understood and the mechanical problems fully realized.

Your co-operation will be greatly appreciated by the entire personnel of The Times.

Prevalent has been the belief that Unemployment Compensation is a relief program. Many persons that that social security is relief, but the national plan for social security attempt to alleviate present needs and obviously permanent needs, such as aid to the crippled, aged and blind. It also looks to the future in a program of planned economic security for all who work. So unemployment compensation is not social security in the commonly accepted meaning of the term, but is rather economic security.

KEEPING TAB ON The Eagles

By BUDDY BUMPAS

SUNSET CAGE TEAMS WIN THREE GAMES

The Sunset loop teams looked swell after the holidays by taking two games from the Munday teams. The junior boys marked up the final Eagle victory by taking their game with a score of 36 to 12. Victor Thomas, Sunset center, was high point man, and it looks as if Victor is headed for a swell basketball career.

The Sunset girls played a team of the former players of Sunset. The school girls won with a score of 28 to 21. Loveda Cheek starred for Sunset by making 22 points. Nell Nix also played a nice game by holding Margaret Shannon, former Sunset star, to eight points.

The senior boys easily took their game from the Moguls. Coach Kimbrough substituted freely throughout the game, and each of the boys played as much as a half. The Eagles have an improved team by their fast-breaking and their accurate passing. The boys will attend a tournament at Knox City this week-end.

The three Sunset teams will play host to the O'Brien teams Friday night, January 7th.

Senior Girls Home Ec Club

The senior girls are still interested in their Home Economics Club, and they are working. Last Thursday and Friday they made salads, (fruit and vegetable), and everyone who saw and tasted them said that they were very attractive and tasted better than they looked.

The week before Christmas they made Christmas candy. They enjoyed learning to make so many different kinds of candy.

Dorothy Gammill

Exams Snap the Seniors Awake

Well! The Seniors were suddenly brought to the realization that school had started when Mr. Kimbrough and Miss Spraggins presented them with tests soon after the holidays. After all, that is one way to wake them up and make them realize that Christmas holidays only last a week. Mr. Harber announced that there was a great improvement the last six weeks in the grades made throughout the school. It seems that the seniors have had their part in making the improvement. They seem to be taking a great interest in both their studies and their outside activities. They are working hard to keep the slice of honor they have earned in the past activities, and they seem to have faith that the future will bring them still more honors. They have spent two weeks in civics making talks. Everyone seems to have spent much time in preparation, and, they have all been very interesting and educational. Every one except Herbert reports a grand time during the holidays. Of course I wouldn't be knowing for sure, but it seems that someone failed to arrive as Herbert plans called for her to. The Seniors regret to report the absence from school of their regular reporter Floyd Frost, the first part of the week.

Le Roy Henderson

Lowdown on Seniors

Well, it seems as if the seniors had a very pleasant Christmas and New Year. We'll just give you the lowdown on them.

Buddy Bumpas spent the holidays going from home to Herbert Partridge's and on to Munday. I wonder what's so attractive at Munday.

Lennel Clarke spent his time going over to see Loveda Cheek. As well as we know, Nell Nix didn't spend any of her holidays at home. She really did her celebrating. I don't think she has stopped, yet.

Some more of our cupid couplets, Faye Marie Partridge and Le Roy Henderson, spent holidays with each other.

Frances Gray was an extra good girl. She stayed at home and helped mother, as she should.

Dorothy and Maurine Gammill visited in Lubbock Christmas and did they celebrate!

Marguerite Jarvis, as we heard, roamed around from place to place, eating where there was anything to eat.

Lillian Hackney, our business lady senior, spent her nice quiet holidays working at Perry Bros., in Munday.

You have already guessed, I suppose, where Askalon Stogner and Fuller Shannon spent the holidays. Well, since you do not

We are taking an imaginary trip around the world.

We are in Alaska where the Eskimos live.

We are learning about the Eskimos.

We are going to have a play, "An Eskimo Picture Letter."

Questions

1. What do Eskimos eat?
 2. What kind of clothes do they wear?

3. What kind of summer homes do they have?
 4. What kind of winter homes do they have?

5. Do the Eskimos wear their clothes with the fur inside or outside?
 6. What kind of oil do they use?

7. How do they cook their food?
 8. What is blubber?
 9. What does pudgy mean?

The Third Grade pupils are working hard since the holidays. They are glad to have Bonnie Lou Jordan as a new pupil. She comes from the Munday school.

SCHOOL SPIRIT!

School spirit is entering into all school activities with zest, vim, and sportsmanship. For school spirit and sportsmanship are akin. We do not consider our individual interests, but what is best for the school as a whole. One should forget pettiness, his own likes and dislikes, and work with the student body and teachers for the betterment of the schools.

A little word here or there against our school can so readily tear it down; but that same little word for our school can build it to a greater height.

It isn't always the one that makes the biggest "ballyhoo" that has the most school spirit.

Misquoting a famous quotation, "Unto our own selves be true, and it will follow as the night the day, we can't to our school be false."

Dorothy Garrett

know, it was somewhere in the residential section of Munday.

Another of our quiet girls, Inez Vernon, spent Christmas wherever she found herself.

I didn't get anything on La Dean's Christmas holidays. Although she did miss school Friday.

Last, but not least, our dignified senior, Floyd Frost. I haven't seen him since the holidays so I don't know what he did. (He wasn't at school today.)

SEWER PLANT CLEANED BY CITY LAST TUESDAY

The City of Munday had a crew of men at work on the city property east of the city last Tuesday cleaning the sewage plant and doing other needed work on the city owned lands.

Jack Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. V. Williams of this city, left Sunday for Fort Sam Houston near San Antonio, where he is a student in the preparatory school for West Point.

This whole long year to fill.

We're Different

I passed through Emporia
 I saw Potato Hill
 I stopped at Topeka
 My gas tank to fill
 But Nelson Antrim Crawford
 And William Allen White
 Didn't know I was about
 Now isn't that a sight
 If they should come to my town
 I'd hire the city hall
 And all my friends and neighbors
 Would hurry up and call.

Here's hoping the New Year brings you what you want most of life and that if it does hold any wallops you can take them standing on both feet.

METHODIST CHURCH

Now that we have it what are we going to do with 1938? It would be a source of solid comfort if each person could answer for himself this simple question. The fact is that we are not guaranteed but one week and that is the one that is now history. What have we done with it? No one can answer fully, for the influence of our life has a subtle way of causing many things that we had not purposed. Wise indeed is the person who has been enabled to fulfill Ps. 37:1-9.

Let's think as much of our soul this year as we do our chickens, cow or hogs. We see to it that they have food. "Man does not live by bread alone." If the church services are not meeting your soul needs tell us about it and the menu will be adapted to the needs of the sincere soul.

Services Sunday, 11 a.m., "Facing Three Ways." 7 p.m., 2nd

Psalm. The content of this Psalm is like an editorial from the pen of an outstanding Christian Statesman, picturing the world conditions of our day. It is that and more. The other services are; Sunday School 10 a.m., Hi-League 5:30 p.m., Senior League, 6:15, W.M.S. Monday, 8 p.m. Socials and business meetings frequently. In other words the church is here to serve, and stands for the better things of life. We welcome you to all services and insist that you become a part of the forces for righteousness.

Taxes To Be Issue

Taxation will be one of the leading issues in the campaign, with Thompson making his already recorded declaration that there is no necessity for any new taxes on business in Texas as one of the cardinal planks in his platform. There has sprung up in Texas during the past year a widespread sentiment to halt further tax imposts and stop waste and extravagance in State government—of which there has been plenty. Thompson believes that business, if not strangled to death by taxes, can and will produce additional revenue for the State, and go a long way toward solving some of the social problems, such as unemployment. He thinks business can put people back to work, but only if it is permitted to make a profit for itself in doing so. And he intends to advocate that policy, citing the oil industry as an example.

Miss Wanda June Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. V. Williams of Munday left last Sunday for Denton, where she will resume her studies in C.I.A. after spending the Christmas holidays in the home of her parents here.

"Uncle Billy" Brinson, aged resident of this city, was the victim of an accident Tuesday in which he suffered a leg fracture. He is living in the Ed Johnson home here.

Miss Bessie Womble, who has been employed in Perry Bros. store for the past several years, is now a student in Wyatt's School of Cosmetology in Dallas.

Texas Supplies Stock for New 'Store'
Run by Uncle Sam, Helium Merchant

Largest Helium Plant in World Located At Amarillo

Amarillo, Texas. (Special)—Our Uncle Sam, helium merchant, is opening up a new store in Washington, selling helium gas to the world for non-military aviation and scientific and medical uses, but his "factory" is here on the Panhandle plains—and it's by far the largest of the only three commercial scale helium plants in the world.

By authority of the Sheppard-Hill bill signed by the President on September 1, the Bureau of Mines is empowered to produce and sell helium to citizens and corporations of the United States and even to export it, with the reservation that any export quantities deemed of "military importance" must be specially licensed by the President.

Already the State Department has approved the application for 17,900,000 cubic feet of helium for the German Zeppelin Company, leaving the way for resumption of dirigible flights between Germany and the United States next Spring. Originally planned to start January 1, inauguration of sales and exports of helium now awaits only completion of final steps in the purchase of two privately-owned manufacturing plants at Louisville, also authorized by the Congressional act and expected shortly, when government control of all helium will be absolute. The government has gas rights to 50,000 acres in the Panhandle, and also owns reserve fields in Utah.

The story of development of this rare and precious, non-inflammable gas goes back to the winter of 1916-17, when England appealed to American for helium. Her urgings were referred to a man who, seven years before, had shouldered responsibility for accepting another English proposal which revolutionized automobile transportation in America. Arthur Hudson Marks, now vice-chairman of the board of the B. F. Goodrich company, in 1908 had said "yes" to a British proposition which gave America the cord tire that had been pioneered in England.

Then in 1916-17, as a civilian volunteer in the service of the Bureau of Construction and Repair of the Navy Department, Marks, with government experts, studied through a 12-year accumulation of government files and within 48 hours had given the go-ahead for intensive development of America's helium resources in Texas, obtaining an initial sum of $750,000 from the War and Navy departments.

From this grew experimental helium extraction plants at Petrolia and Fort Worth, in 1918, which produced 200,000 cubic feet—not enough to help either the United States or England in the war, but enough to establish the possibilities of production.

The first permanent plant was established near Fort Worth by April, 1921, and produced 46,000,000 cubic feet before January 1929, when operations were removed to Amarillo, where the "Cliffside structure" had been proved to contain gas about twice as rich in helium.

In the Amarillo plant, now capable of turning out 24,000,000 cubic feet a year, production costs have been rapidly reduced. In contrast to the $2500 per foot cost of helium when it was first produced in 1895 from minerals after laborious experimentation—the plant here has a record, for the month of January, 1932, of $4.93 per thousand feet on big scale production, and of $7.10 per thousand for the whole fiscal year ending July 1.

Natural gas was first found to be a possible source of helium at a shallow well near Dexter, Kan. The Texas fields, however, proved to be much richer, and it was found that the natural gas can be used, unimpaird, for fuel purposes after the non-inflammable helium has been removed.

Helium has not only the transcendent advantage of absolute non-combustibility, but also, in the final analysis, is more economical than hydrogen, despite higher initial cost. Bureau of Mines officials point out.

This is because helium can be withdrawn from an airship, purified, and re-used, an operation impossible with hydrogen because of the extreme danger of explosion. Also the helium required for "replacement losses" is much less than is the case of hydrogen.

Besides the boon of world-wide development of lighter-than-air aviation inherent in helium's new availability, it is likely that many new uses will be found for it in chemical science and medicine. Recent research has proved it a life-saver in extreme cases of asthma, reports Dr. A. L. Barach of Columbia Medical Center, New York. Other experiments indicate increasing uses of helium in food preparation, refrigeration and other chemical process industries.

Register Births Of 1937 Free

According to a statement issued by Judge Bryan of this city, all persons who wish to register births occurring in 1937 may do so this month without charge.

Should persons wait until a later date to attend to this matter, which is of much importance it will cost the person 50 cents for each registration, he stated further.

He can be found any day in his office at the city hall in this city.

Income Tax Forms Will Be Placed in Mail January 5th

Income taxpayers will be interested to know that on Jan. 5, 1938, and not before, all income tax forms for the year 1937 will be placed in the mails, except partnership returns, form No. 1065, which will be distributed as soon thereafter as received from the printer. It is of the highest importance that all tax returns should be completed and filed at the earliest possible moment after receipt of blank forms. Deputy collectors cannot possibly render highly efficient service during the usual last minute rush.

Extension of time for filing returns positively will not be granted except in cases specifically set out in the law and regulations. Purely accommodation extensions will in no case be granted. Accountants and others making returns for the public should begin at once so as to avoid emergency requests for extension.

Curtis Coates, owner of the Coates Cafe of this city, was a business visitor in Paducah last Sunday.

Hill Allen, successful farmer of the Goree section was a business visitor in the city Monday.

Unemployed May File Claims For Benefit Checks

After January 1, all unemployed persons in Knox county and who are eligible for unemployment benefits, may file their claims with the Texas State Employment Service according to announcement released from that office this week.

All persons making claims for benefits under the Texas Unemployment Compensation Act are required to be registered with the Employment Service for work before their claims can be accepted. They must have been in the employ of a covered employer for a certain period of time before they are eligible for benefits.

The employment services does not interpret the provision of the act nor does it pass judgement upon any claim for benefits.

The facts concerning the severing of relations with his last employer are accepted from the claimant, and such statements are forwarded to the Texas Unemployment Compensation Commission at Austin. That body makes all investigations of claims and checks to those eligible are mailed direct from Austin.

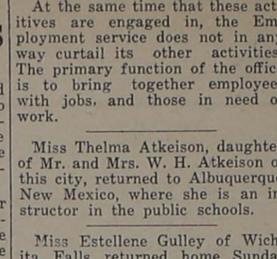

At the same time that these activities are engaged in, the Employment service does not in any way curtail its other activities. The primary function of the office is to bring together employees with jobs, and those in need of work.

Miss Estellene Guley of Wichita Falls returned home Sunday after an extended visit in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Guley of this community.

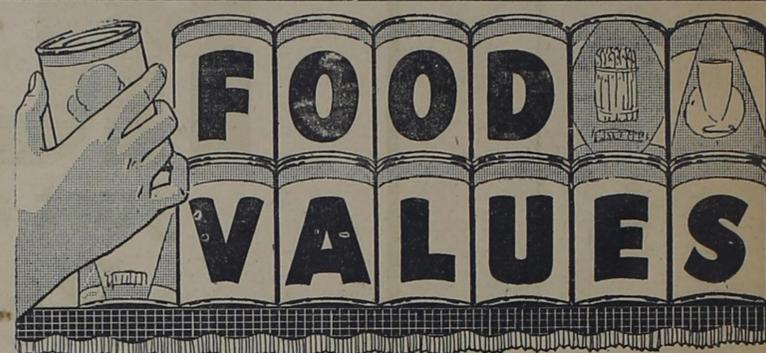

J. C. Nelson of this city left for Houston, Texas, last week where he will be employed as a pharmacist in the Walgreen system of drug stores.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Goode returned last week end from Arkansas, where they had spent the Christmas holidays visiting friends and relatives.
