MUNDAY'S NEEDS FOR 1948

1. A modern and up-to-date high school building, to care for the present and future educational needs of our children.
2. A waterworks system that meets all requirements of health, sanitation and supply.
3. A street sweeper that will keep our pavement clean enough to be recognized as pavement.
4. A clean-up campaign of lasting effect; yea, one that extends even across the tracks.
5. Completion of our drainage and paving program, which will probably be accomplished this year.
6. More activity among our civic organizations, looking forward to, and planning for, a better Munday in the future.

FOR THE CONSUMER

It is probable that never in its long history has American retailing given so much thought, and devoted so much hard work, to the problems of the consumer.

It is doing this for various reasons, most of them obvious. First of all, protection of the purchasing power of the masses of consumers is vital to its existence. Secondly, retailing is always on the firing line in the debate over inflation. And, thirdly, the American economy is dependent on preserving our unique system of mass production and mass distribution—the system which has given us more goods and better goods, for a smaller part of our earnings, than any other people enjoy.

Retailing's contribution to the fight against inflation has been partly obscured by the fact that prices remain high. This does not mean that fight has been a failure. In the opinion of those who have studied the situation, prices would be substantially higher than they are now had retailing done nothing and simply passed the boosts along to the consumer. Instead, by shaving profits, by increasing efficiency, by keeping a tight rein on inventories, and by other economies, retailing has saved the people of America enormous sums of money.

"Resist further price increases to the limit" is the policy retailing is following now. It may or may not be successful—most of the basic factors that control the price level are beyond its reach. But, regardless of the future trend, it will work with every weapon in its armory to save the consumer dollar from more depreciation.

NO PLACE FOR EDDIE

The Evening Banner, of Greenville, Texas, recently told, in an editorial, the sad story of Eddie, an inefficient and discourteous clerk in a store. One day a customer noticed that Eddie wasn't present and asked about him. "He's just not working here any more," the proprietor said. "Got anybody in mind for the vacancy?" the customer responded. "Nope," said the proprietor. "Eddie didn't leave no vacancy."

As the Banner added, "There's no place for the Eddies because the days of competition have returned and customers want to be waited upon . . . they want to see clerks take an interest in their requests, give them courteous, attentive service and try to make them feel at home. That's just human nature."

During the war, many a store had to employ poor and disinterested help, because nothing better could be had. But we're getting back to normal now, and we're seeing again that retailing is a career, that it calls for very special talents and mental attitudes and capabilities, and that it isn't a job that anyone can do. Many of the larger stores carry on highly developed training programs for their employees, and these are of service to small stores as well, by raising the standards of retail service in general.

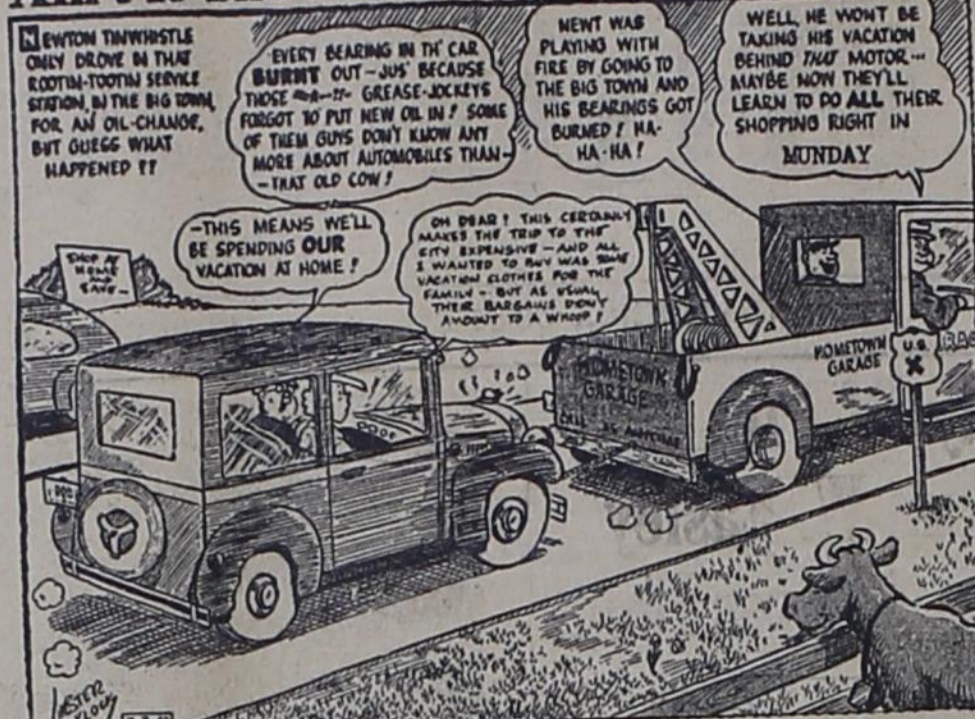

The customer is entitled to interested and intelligent service, whether he's after a pound of hamburger or a complete spring outfit, and retailing is giving it to him. That small percentage of stores which takes no interest in this basic form of public relations won't be in business long. And, like Eddie, they'll leave no vacancy.

"Hippocrates would be surprised to learn that there have been more doctors convicted of tax evasion than any other group except professional gamblers."—Fortune.

Political note: Some of the professionals now think that, with Eisenhower out of the running, Taft and Dewey will deadlock at the convention, and open the way for Stassen or Warren. There is also more and more talk of the merits of Vandenberg.

This is the age of speed. Messages that sell merchandise should be set in such a way that the story can be gasped at a glance.

Ain't It The Truth by Chester Klock

just raked and cleaned up yesterday.

And if you leave your trash fire unattended, and it sets fire to your neighbor's fence, then there's another bunch of unhappiness.

And we'll close with the reminder that a general, honest-to-goodness cleanup would probably bring all of us more happiness—if happiness is what we seek.

But if we want to be pestered with flies, mosquitoes, gnats, flying ants and wasps, and general unsanitary and unhealthy conditions all summer, then let's just sit steady in the boat and let it rock itself!

Soil Depth Is Important In Production

What is your farm's dimension? It may be a big farm a mile and a half long by a mile wide or it may be just a small farm several rods long by a few rods wide but more significant than the length and the width is the third dimension—the depth.

In this way, Emmett Partridge, chairman of the Knox County Agricultural Conservation Committee, calls attention to the most valuable dimension of the farm—the depth of the topsoil.

He points out that some large farms—200,300 or 500 acres—may be so thin that little can be produced either to give the farmer an income or to supply more food or fiber for consumers. Other farms, although small in acres are "large" in the crops produced—their soil is deep and rich. Not all large farms are "thin" and all made the other two dimensions worthless. The primary purpose of the ACP Program is to help farmers hold this third dimension. Through locally farmer-elected committees and recommendations from farmers and their elected committeemen, the program is adapted to meet local conservation needs.

Freezer locker plants are located in all 48 states, with the greatest concentration in the corn belt and the Pacific northwest.

REA recently approved a loan of $150,000 for 136 miles of electric line for Hidalgo county, Texas.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Finds 1941 Copy Of Paper; Says World Or The Newspapers Are In A Rut

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek is in an odd mood this week, his letter reveals.

Dear editor: Due to a high wind out here the other day which blew all kinds of newspapers on to my farm along with a few pieces of sheet iron, corn shucks, barrel staves, chickens feathers, etc., I been doin lots of readin lately, thought not much cleanin up as I figured the same wind that brought all this junk to my farm also took a lot of stuff off at the same time, leaving things about like they was to start with, which is the way they suit me, and it seems to me the newspapers is back in a rut again.

One of the papers that turned up out here must have come off of somebody's pantry shelf or off some country newspaper editor's desk, as it was dated 1941, but I was two thirds through it before I discovered it wasn't no current paper, which I caught by remembering one of the comic strips. Wasn't no different though from last week's Wichita daily. Trouble in Europe . . . prices goin up . . . Congress debatin a loan to defend democracy . . . war loomin up . . . people arguin over the draft . . . new weapons of destruction being planned . . . I tell you, people can talk about sorry farmers gettin in a rut, but if the world ain't in a rut, I don't know one when I see it, which I ought to as I been in one myself all my life.

Ordinarily, you could count on at least twenty years between wars, and things used to get normal of a year or two at least before they started bein affected by war talk, but here we got war talk startin up again even before the formal peace treaties is signed for the last one.

Now I ain't offerin no solution und ain't been able to find no politician who's got one either, other than the feelin that if we elect him things won't be as bad as they would if we elected somebody else, but the next time somebody comes around offerin help to us poor farmers out here in the woods in a rut, I think I'll review the world situation for him and tell him to start throwin some gravel in the rut if he ain't got nothin else to do.

Why, I imagine some folks even hint now and then that you and the Munday Times is in a rut, you're pioneers blazin a new trail compared with the world leaders, which makes the world leaders in pretty bad shape, don't it? Yours faithfully, J. A.

Shrubs Injured By Freeze Should Be Pruned Now

Early flowering shrubs which were injured recently by the late freeze should get their annual pruning at this time, says Miss Sadie Hatfield, extension landscape gardening specialist of Texas A and M College.

If the roses, jasmine and other shrubs injured by the frost March 10 and 11 have not been pruned back yet, take comfort in knowing that the injury has not been increased through neglect. Most injury in Texas takes two forms: killing of the outer twigs and frost cracks along the larger limbs and sprouts.

Twig injury is easily removed on roses, other shrubs and trees. By this time it is easy to decide how far back the twig needs to be cut in order to remove the dead part. Choose a healthy bud and make a slanting cut about one-half inch above the bud. It is important that the cut be made in the right place. If the cut is made too far above the bud, a dead stub will be left. This may cause a dead streak or "black heart." On the other hand, if the cut is made too close to the bud, it will die.

Most of the time it is hard to see frost cracks, especially when they are on the lower branches of a shrub. These cracks or ruptures, which may be one inch to one foot in length, run in the same general direction as the limb. Usually it is best to cut off the entire limb if the frost cracks are especially large. However, if the cracks are small and few, the limb may wall-over this injury on the limbs and sprouts remain unthrifty and unattractive for years.

Sometimes the frost cracks are not discovered until summertime, when the plant is examined to find out why it has an unhealthy appearance. It is pretty late to do much about it then, so remove the damaged parts now for a vigorous tree or shrub this summer. Here is a point to remember: it is better to remove a great deal than too little on such shrubs as spirea, jasmine, vitex, oleander, geranium, poinsettia and crape myrtle, says Miss Hatfield.

The 847 million pounds of fat salvaged by American women and the army and navy during the past five and one-half years would supply every family in the U. S. with a six months' supply of soap.

THIRST-QUENCHER

A cool drink of water is always close at hand in a new cotton drinking water bag which keeps the liquid cool by an evaporation process. The bag is handy for a working man, for it's designed with a handle that attaches it securely to a tree or a truck door, the National Cotton Council reports. The bag is made of lightweight cotton canvas.

The production of fat calves is a method of beef production which requires plenty of good pasture and roughage and small amounts of concentrates.

Sorosis Club Of Benjamin Meets Last Thursday

The Benjamin Sorosis Club met in the club room at 3:00 p. m. April 8th. After roll call, a short business meeting was held in which the Club voted to give $25 for the purpose of assisting in fencing the City Dump Grounds; and then the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Bobbie Fial who had charge of the program of music.

She discussed the "Aims and Objectives" of music, and ways in which the club could promote better music in the community; such as Glee Clubs, and group singings, and the encouraging of all children and young people the importance of good music and singing. Then she introduced Mrs. E. Q. Warren, who presented some of her pupils, and also Mrs. Ross Griffith, who sang several songs, among which were the following:

"The March", Mary Beth Waldrip; "Mighty Lak' A Rose", Julie Frizzell and Carol Ann Armstrong; "Edelweiss Glide", Zana Hamm; "The Shallows", Jo Ann Thomas; "Austrian Song", Carol Ann Hitchcock; "Homing"; "In The Time Of Roses"; "In The Garden Of Tomorrow", Mrs. Ross Griffith; "To Morning", Mrs. E. Q. Warren; "He Smiled On Me", "The Holy City", Mrs. Ross Griffith.

The hostesses, Mmes. A. E. Ball, J. D. Redwine, O. W. Driver and G. H. Beavers, served ice cream and Angel food cake to the members on the program, Mrs. A. M. Armstrong of Knox City, and twenty two members.

The next meeting date, April 22, 1948, will be "A Federation Tea" in the home of Mrs. L. C. Melton, with Mrs. L. M. Williams and Mrs. Herbert Sams as Co-Hostesses.

Mrs. Pruitt Gives Book Review For Munday Study Club

The Munday Study Club gave one of the finest programs of the year, Monday, April 12th from 3 to 5 p. m. when they offered a guest day program with Mrs. Paul Pruitt as a review artist.

Mrs. Fred Broach, Jr., president, was director of the program and Mmes. J. C. Borden, J. B. Stevens, T. G. Bengé and D. E. Holder, Jr. were hostesses.

Mrs. T. G. Bengé greeted guests and Mrs. D. E. Holder, Jr. directed them to the library where Mmes. Borden and Stevens served frosted punch and cookies at a linen covered table centered with a punch bowl surrounded by coral honeysuckle and fern. In the living room, a large bowl of japonicas graced the speakers desk and lilies were used to complete the decorations.

Greeting guests and directing the program, Mrs. Fred Broach, Jr. spoke of the Districts Convention in Breckenridge and presented Mrs. Pruitt as the reviewer of "Years of the Locusts" by Loula Grace Eldman.

Mrs. Pruitt gave a brilliant and interesting review and was unanimously acclaimed one of our outstanding artists of the club.

Each year the club offers a guest program and these programs are not only of a social nature but are outstanding in literary value.

Miss Louise Speigelmier, who is attending T. C. U. in Fort Worth, visited in the home of M. and Mrs. Lee Haymes over the week end.

Mahlon Boggs, R. J. Walling, Minister D. L. Ashley and C. O. Scott spent the first of last week fishing on the San Saba and Llano rivers.

THE WINNER!

A classic one-piece frock of white cotton pique designed by Miss Louise Temple was named the best fashion design from a group of 1,000 sketches made by students at Southern Methodist University School of Design. The dress features a yoke effect and old-fashioned gold collar buttons used as studs to accentuate the bodice. A kid trimmed belt repeats the gold motif. It is modeled by Miss Elizabeth Ann Stollenwerk, alternate Maid of Cotton.

Guild Members And Guests Enjoy Book Review On Monday

The Wesleyan Service Guild met last Monday night, April 12th at the First Methodist Church.

This was an open guest night program. Mrs. Robert Green, president of the Guild, introduced the speaker of the evening, Mrs. Travis Lee, who gave a very interesting book review on "The Wet-back". This book fitted in very nicely with the course of study the Guild has just completed, "Committed Unto Us." At about this time each year, a book review is given by some member of the Wesleyan Service Guild.

Miss Donita Davidson gave piano selections before the program began.

Some one hundred people were present and everyone expressed a very enjoyable evening.

The next meeting of the Guild will be held Monday, April 26 in the home of Mrs. Dan Billingsley.

Equipment hungry farmers, faced with record production goals for this country and Europe, got a major boost with the announcement of a new combine manufactured by Wood Brothers, Inc., Des Moines, Iowa. The new combine has a full six-foot cut, is powered by a 20 horse-power engine, and as the above picture indicates, is the "straight through" type with low, streamlined design. The new combine will be distributed through Ford Tractor dealers.

Joe Morrow Shoots Sub-Par Golf;
Golfers Matched For Ladder Play

(By Wade T. Mahan)

Oh listen! to the birdies sing! Yowsar, they were trilling to the tune of sub-par golf as played on the hot sticks that Joe Morrow was swinging last week. He set a course record of 31 for the Munday Muny golf course. This displaces the old mark of 32 made by Winston Blacklock last year.

Joe came up to the par-three number 9 needing a birdie two for unbelievable 29. Sho' nuff that was the spot he added a bogie instead. Joe was long and true with his tee shots all the way and those playing with him credited the splendid round to his woods.

Just to show that that round was no flash-in-the-pan, Joe turned in a hot 68 to lead all players in the ladder positions for the club. Forty-four players turned in scores for rounds on the ladder and this will make up three ladders of ten players each and there will be fourteen rounds on the last ladder. (At least I will be on the longest ladder of all).

Ladder positions for the forty-four qualifiers are listed below. In first matches the even rounds on the ladder challenge the odds.

Ladder One

Ladder Two

S. G. Hampton, H. H. Bledsoe, N. A. Chastain, Rupert Williams, each 78; Ray Holcomb, Jerry Kane and Carl Maples, 79; Barton Carl and A. A. Smith, Jr., 80; Travis Lee, 81 (obviously a typographical error).

Third Ladder

J. B. Graham, 83; Weldon Smith, Paul Pendleton, E. B. Littlefield and Casey Nebhut, each 84; C. H. Clark, C. E. Williams, Steve Harrison, J. C. Harpham and Don L. Ratliff, each 85.

Hook 'n Ladder

Joe Duke, 86; J. K. Jackson, 87; Troy Lindsey, Charles Roden, Wade T. Mahan and I. V. Cook, each 90; A. E. Richmond, 92; Charles Baker (yeah, he's the one), 93; Oates Golden, C. J. Reece and M. L. Wiggins, each 93; H. H. Partridge, Gene Harrell and J. C. Shockey, each 94.

It's Cheaper with a Cleaner!

It is, too, when you figure in time and energy and general wear-and-tear! As a matter of fact, with one of the new electric vacuum cleaners now available at your local dealer, one cent's worth of electric service will clean a large rug and five others like it in less time than it takes to drag them into the yard for beating! Let Reddy Kilowatt, your electric servant, lighten the work of your spring housecleaning.

FOR ONE PENNY, YOU CAN

Light a 100-watt bulb almost 3 hours, or run a radio for a whole evening, or have the correct time for about a week, or wash 3 full tubs of laundry.

Reddy does dollar duty for penny prices, not only for rug-beating, but for countless other household tasks. It costs much more to make and deliver today, but the average family still gets twice as much electric service for its money as it got 20 years ago.

Yes, the rate for electric service is still low—but not by accident. That's because you're using electricity for more and more tasks. Moreover, the people at your service company have used their skill and experience to make electric service the biggest bargain in your budget.

If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove surplus fluid, excess acids and other waste matter that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding of why the whole system is upset when kidneys fail to function properly. Burning, scabby or too frequent urination sometimes warns that something is wrong. You may suffer nagging backache, headaches, dizziness, rheumatic pains, getting up at night, swelling. Why not try Doan's Pills? You will be using a medicine recommended the country over. Doan's stimulate the function of the kidneys and help them to flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Pink Boll Worms

Can Be Controlled By Kemgas Delinting and Grading Methods.

The Kemgas Process is the only Method that can delint and at the same time sterilize Cottonseed to comply with the regulations of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine for the shipment of planting cottonseed from Pink Bollworm Quarantine Areas.

Pink Bollworms, their eggs, and larvae are sterilized, and infested cottonseeds culled out by Kemgas delinting and grading Methods.

In Pink Bollworm quarantine areas, Kemgas delinting plants sterilize planting cottonseed at 140 degrees F. instead of the 150 degree temperature required by the USDA of Gins, Oil Mills, and seed breeders who sterilize Cottonseed.

Now It's Neckties Made of Milk!

Fellow in Andy Botkin's Tavern was boasting about a trick necktie he was wearing made out of a by-product of milk. "Took 33 pounds of milk to make this tie," he says.

Bill Webster was unimpressed. "Personally," he says, "I'd rather have the milk to drink. Just as I wouldn't change one glass of good American beer for a necktie made from thirty barrels of it!"

Yes, modern science being what it is—seems like you can make "anything out of anything" these days. But in the case of milk, well

I guess drinking it is still a whole lot better than just wearing it.

Of course there are lots of other ways of abusing goods and beverages—like a fellow who doesn't appreciate good beer enough to drink it slowly and in moderation.

But from where I sit, most people who enjoy a wholesome beverage like beer or ale are moderate—because beer itself is a beverage of moderation.

Johnson Says Steps Taken To Prevent War

Washington—Congressman Lyndon Johnson said today the President's order halting the reckless sale of usable defense plants was "our first victory in the home front battle to prevent World War Three."

He asked support of Texans in winning these other goals:

1. Fast Congressional approval of expanding our air forces.
2. Immediate enactment of selective service and universal military training.

"I know that Texans," Johnson said, "are far ahead of the nation in awareness of the international tension. The people originated my campaign to call a halt to the senseless demobilization of our war plants while we talked of mobilizing our men."

The President issued his stop-order last week after a sharp exchange of letter with Cong. Johnson and a visit to the White House by the tenth district congressman. On his visit, Johnson gave the president a list of vital plants which had been sold off without a clause in the contract, allowing the government to recapture them in case of an emergency. Within 24 hours, the stop-order was issued.

"It's late, but better late than never," Johnson commented on the Presidential order.

"Now it's time to move along. Two times, in two crises, we tried to keep out of war by lowering our guard—by unpreparedness, by trying to sit it out, by following the advice of those who thought things would cool off. Those experiments cost many lives and many dollars.

"Sitting on my hands would be more pleasant and much easier than leading the campaign for the draft and UMT. But I believe preparedness will prevent another war; and I believe another war will destroy our form of government and possibly our civilization. And I believe the people of Texas agree with me in a program of action.

"These hours are critical. I think no other question is important alongside the question of preventing another war."

The city people should be just as concerned about the soil erosion problem as the food-growing farmers. Whether you eat to live or live to eat, everybody eats.

February crushings, 124,467 tons, were 16 per cent below January, and stocks on hand February 29, totaled 257,006 tons, or 30 per cent below January 31.

Bigger And Better Santa Rosa Round Up Opens At Vernon Tuesday, May 4th

"Bigger and Better" is again E. Paul Waggoner's promise for the Santa Rosa Roundup, and the 1948 edition, to be staged May 4-9 at the Santa Rosa Rodeo grounds near Vernon, will be an impressive fulfillment of that pledge.

While it is still three weeks before the first chute gate slams open and the first "plumb mean" bronc comes sun-fishing out into the arena to launch the third year of Vernon's spectacular rodeo, the offices of John Biggs, the big show's manager, is already tightening its cinches for the big opening day.

Yes, it'll be bigger and better in many ways this year. Take that from Mr. Biggs. The prizes will be bigger attracting the nation's best rodeo talent. They will total $5,750, plus entry fees.

The bucking broncs will be tougher and meaner—and there will be more of them.

There will be more clowns—and they will be funnier.

More wild steers and mad bulls will come roaring out of the chutes; and the trick and fancy riders will be more numerous and their stunts more breath-taking.

In addition to all this, the first American Quarter Horse Association Show will be staged here as part of the great spectacle, bringing some of the nation's finest horses to Vernon. One of the big hangers from Victory Field has been moved to Santa Rosa to house this added attraction, and there will be facilities for 150 fine horses.

First move to improve the Santa Rosa Roundup—and make it bigger and better than last year—was to roof the grandstand so that the spectators can shout themselves hoarse in dry comfort, rain or shine.

The Roundup has a new producer this year, the Beutler Brothers of Oklahoma. Ramrodding the show will be Lynn Beutler, one of the famous Elk City, Oklahoma, brothers who own the greatest aggregation of rodeo stock in the business.

Reeves Motor Co. Is Cooperating In Scrap Metal Drive

Reeves Motor Company of Munday, Texas is among 4,000 Dodge dealers who are participating in a national scrap metal drive to help increase production of cars, trucks, farm implements, and household appliances and equipment.

E. C. Quinn, general sales manager of the Dodge Division, Chrysler Corporation, launched the national campaign with an appeal that dealers help speed the movement of scrap iron, steel, lead, copper and brass to mills and foundries.

He pointed out those metals are urgently needed to keep industries operating and so maintain employment. Adequate stockpiles of the important metals also are needed for national defense, he pointed out.

All Dodge dealers were urged to clean out any accumulated scrap metal and see that it is delivered to those scrap dealers who will agree to move it along at once to mills and foundries. They are displaying large window posters which urge the public to turn in scrap metal.

Employees of the local dealer also are participating in the drive by gathering up scrap metals at home to donate to charitable organizations or sell to junk dealers.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

Austin—It is a tragedy that Texas parents continue to allow their babies to suffer and die from that painful and killing disease diphtheria. This is the opinion of Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, who says "It is up to the parents. If they protect their children with immunization, they need not have diphtheria."

Dr. Cox said it is amazing that this disease should be allowed to take its toll of young lives when it can be entirely stamped out by proper immunization. Yet in the past week, 33 cases were reported in this state.

"Babies should be immunized by the age of eight or nine months," Dr. Cox advised. Authorities on the care of infants recommend a first dose by the age of eight or nine months, and sometimes as early as six months. A second dose is usually given later."

To maintain complete immunity, Dr. Cox said that a reinforcing dose of toxoid is advised when a child is old enough to enter school if a Schick test reveals the need of one. Children who have never been immunized certainly should be protected without any further delay, the State Health Officer declared, and added that it is the responsibility of the parents to save the lives of their children.
